Love Slave 171

171 Passionate Reconnection

"You like it, right? I figured that you love seeing views of the city like this..." Ace said knowingly.

"I love it..." I admitted honestly as I continued staring at the cityscape in front of me.

"It looks much better at night. I'm sure that you'll like it even more then. As for me, I've gotten quite bored of it," Ace said before he turned to smile at me.

"That's a shame..." I whispered as I turned to return his smile.

I felt a slight pressure of his touch against the small of my back before his arm wrapped itself around my waist and pulled me closer to him. He kissed the top of my head tenderly as I wrapped my arms around his body and held him close. He felt so warm and feeling his body against mine felt so comforting and right. Thankfully, I didn't have to let go of him just yet.

"I'm happy enough that you seem to enjoy it," he murmured from above before he kissed my hair.

"You'll be happy for a very long time because I'm not going to get bored of seeing it anytime soon," I told him confidently as I lifted my face to smile up brightly at him.

"Great to hear," he murmured as he placed his large hand on the top of my head adoringly.

"Where are you taking me?" I asked in wonder.

Ace took my hand in his before he pulled me softly along after him. His place was decorated in the modern luxury style that I quite liked. The dark tones of grey along with subtle lighter tones with some touches of gold here and there made the place seem luxurious yet simple at the same time. It suited Ace very well and he seemed very at home in this place. Unlike how he behaved back at his father's mansion, Ace seemed free and alive in this place. I didn't have much time to look around as Ace dragged me along after him.

He never replied to my question but soon I found out the destination that he had in mind. A large door opened in front of me before he ushered me in.

"I did say that the view from my bedroom is the best..." Ace said from behind me.

I sighed in satisfaction when I felt the warmth of his embrace surround me as he wrapped his arms around me from behind. He pulled me back a little against his hard and much larger frame. The heat of his body against my back along with his familiar smell made me feel at home even though I was at his place and not mine.

I didn't have time to focus on the view that Ace mentioned was so beautiful before I had to close my eyes to concentrate on his lips crushing down on mine. He kissed me roughly and so intensely that it felt like he was punishing me. His tongue sought entry into the depth of my mouth. I moaned softly against his lips before I parted my lips slightly for him. Ace did not hesitate to thrust his wet tongue boldly between my lips.

"Mhhhmmm..." I moaned louder when his tongue began teasing mine.

Our kiss got deeper and wetter in no time at all. He was demanding and very open about it. His hands moved to caress the curves of my body starting at my waist before progressing slowly upwards until his large hands cupped my breasts over my clothes. His arms wrapped around me tightly as if preventing my escape.

It seemed like I wouldn't get to explore the rest of this penthouse without dealing with his desires first. I began kissing him back urgently as his seductive teasing started to turn me on. His hands groped my breasts roughly over my clothes before I broke our kiss. Slowly, I turned around in his arms to face him before I offered my lips to him again. His hand held the back of my head steady before his lips crushed down firmly on mine and captured them in a hot kiss. His tongue quickly thrusted back into the wet depths of my mouth. Our tongues immediately knew what to do and I found myself moaning and whimpering into our heated kiss as our tongues danced wildly together.

His other hand dropped to stroke the side of my hip before it circled around me to grope and squeeze my ass. I moaned louder into our kiss as my body quickly heated up with my desire for him. Ace broke our kiss just long enough for him to change the angle at which his lips captured mine. Each kiss felt more intoxicating and addictive than the last. He kissed me as his hands caressed and fondled the sensitive curves of my body until my mind was lost in a daze. Desire and lust flooded my mind in waves as I panted from the aftereffects of his seductive kisses.

"Let me have you, Rina...I want you so badly..." Ace murmured seductively close to my ear.

I could hear the desire in his tone as he openly begged to have his way with me. My body felt like it was burning for him to touch me more. I wanted him to strip me so that I could feel the heat of his hands and then his body directly on mine.

"Ace..." I murmured his name sweetly.

Our eyes locked and I could see the desire burning deep within his eyes. When his hands reached for me again, they were not as gentle and patient as before, but I didn't mind. After the argument that we just went through, it felt like there was a need for us to reconnect to each other again. Although we didn't completely lose one another and everything was just a misunderstanding, I would be lying if I said that absolutely no damage was done to our relationship and the trust that we had for each other.

I didn't know that I wanted and needed him so desperately until he kissed me and caressed me. I could feel his desire clearly when he touched me, but I could sense that there was something more in his yearning this time around.
