

Love Slave 65

65 He's an XXL

Ace closed his eyes as if in bliss and I knew that I was doing him right. Feeling a little bolder than before, I wrapped my fingers around the thick girth of his hot rod. His cock felt hot in my hand. I began stroking his cock up and down slowly yet firmly while I looked up at Ace to gauge his reaction. Ace stared down at me with intense desire in his eyes as I continued to pump his cock in my hand.

"Rina..." Ace groaned my name softly as his hips began moving, thrusting his cock into my hand.

I felt so proud that I could make him feel good too. The look of lust on his face turned me on and I began pumping my hand faster up and down his cock. His cock felt hotter in my hand, and I could feel him getting even bigger than longer than before. Just how big can his cock get?

If I tried to put this massive beast inside me, will it even fit?

"Stop, Rina..." Ace commanded suddenly as he grabbed my wrist.

I looked up at him in surprise as I wondered if I had done something wrong to displease him. That shouldn't be the case, though. From what I could see, he seemed to be enjoying my loving attention.

"Did I...do something wrong?" I asked in a small voice as worry flooded my mind.

"Not at all. It felt too good..." Ace replied with a gentle smile.

I stared at him as my heart skipped a few beats. His gentle voice and how he just smiled at me, it was all very new to me. It was like I was seeing another side of Ace that I had never seen before, and I found myself even more attracted to him. If we spend more time together, would he show me his other expressions like just now?

.....

"Can you put this on me?" Ace requested as he handed me a condom.

Oh...right. We should put this on before we...

In the heat of the moment, I had to admit that I had completely forgotten about protection. I blushed slightly before I nodded. My hand reached for the condom and took it from his hand before my eyes stared at the large XXL text on the package of the condom that he handed me before I smiled weakly up at him. Is this thing really going to fit inside of my dear littly pussy hole?

I truly appreciated the care that he put into making sure that our sex would be safe. It would be a problem if I got pregnant now and I wasn't on the pills either. However, it felt a little strange that he was asking me to put it on his cock. I didn't have a lot of experience putting a condom on a man because most of my lovers would do it themselves, but we can all learn, right?

Ace watched as I tore open the condom back before positioning it over the engorge head of his cock. I knew that he was very big but to have to use XXL sized condom is just on another level entirely. Carefully, I rolled the rubber down the long length of his cock.

"Good girl," Ace complimented in a deeply satisfied voice.

Before I could respond to him, Ace pushed me down onto the table and got on top of me. The gentle and smiling Ace was gone now and in his place was a version of Ace that raging with lust and desire. He kissed my lips roughly as his hand rove all over my body, squeezing my breasts, caressing the curves of my waist and hips before settling on caressing my inner thighs.

“I’m going to fuck you now. Are you ready, Rina?” Ace asked needlessly.

Ace quickly lifted my legs up and parted them widely apart. I moaned softly when I felt my pussy being stretched before my love juices started leaking out of my hole.

“Rina...” he called my name as if he wanted my full and undivided attention.

“Ace...” I whispered his name as I stared back deeply into his amber eyes.

The thick head of his cock lodged itself between my trembling pussy lips and I knew that Ace was ready to take me. He was massive and I knew that it would hurt even though I was nowhere near being a virgin anymore. I took in a deep breath before breathing out slowly while I tried to relax my pussy to accommodate his entry.

Ace reared his hips back and then his thick and hot cock stretched my opening before penetrating deeply into my wet hole. I cried out at the pain of his entry. Although I had prepared myself for this, it still hurt. He’s so big and so hard. Ace must have sensed my discomfort because he stilled above me as he looked down at my face.

“You’re very tight...Rina...” Ace groaned.

“I’m sorry...” I whimpered.

Ace stroked my hair before he smiled down encouragingly at me. His cock twitched inside of me, and my pussy clenched harder around his enormous shaft as the pain slowly started to subside. I don’t think my pussy was extra tight, but his cock was just abnormally large.

“You’re...very big...” I mumbled softly with a hint of complaint in my voice.

“Your body will get used to it after I do you a few times,” Ace said with a devilish smirk.

His mischievous expression made my heart skip a beat again. It was just so like him to be thinking of the next time even though we’re still in the middle of doing it. It was clear that Ace didn’t intend for this to be our last time indulging in this lusty pleasure between us while I wasn’t sure what I wanted for the future.

I nodded my head slowly at him to tell him that I felt fine now. It didn’t hurt anymore, and it seemed like my pussy had somehow adjusted to his massive thickness. However, the problem wasn’t over yet. Ace was only halfway in and there was so much more of his cock that I still had to take inside of me. Ace reared back his hips and his cock slid out of my hole a little before he thrust forward.
