

Love Slave 80

80 Hot and Wet Pleasure

The jacuzzi was quite large and was probably made for a small group of people instead of just the two of us but that meant that we had more room to move around. I wished that I could say that that meant that I had private room to myself away from Ace because that wasn't the case at all.

Naked and in the water, I tried to use the water to hide my nakedness from him while Ace kept staring at me with an amused look on his face. He probably thought that my reaction was funny or entertaining to watch. Although he's seen me naked before, I still didn't feel comfortable to just hang around together with him in my naked form and the fact that he was also stark naked wasn't helping my poor little heart at all.

"Why are you hiding so far way over there?" Ace asked lazily.

His arms reached for me and soon I found myself settling back against him. The heat from his body along my back as he pressed my body back into his made me very aware of how close he was to me. I could feel his warm breath against the back and side of my neck as I sat with my back to him in between his legs. His arms wrapped around my waist as he whispered my name tenderly into my ear. My body trembled at the sweetness of his husky voice close to my ear.

"Ace..." I whispered his name although I wasn't sure what I wanted to say.

"Your skin is so soft and fine...I really like touching you..." Ace complimented my skin as his hands began stroking my arms.

A soft whimper escaped my lips when his hands changed its destination of his soft strokes to my waist and then the plain of my stomach instead. I sucked in a breath as he caressed my tummy before his hand dipped lower and began stroking my thighs. My body started feeling hot and it wasn't because of the warm water that I was sitting in.

"Ace...please don't..." I protested softly before I moaned.

Just as his large hands were teasing the soft skin of my thighs, his lips began kissing and teasing my earlobe. My body shivered at the sensation of his soft and warm lips playfully kissing and then nibbling on my earlobe. When his tongue snaked out and licked my ear, I let out a small cry that echoed loudly in the small room. My body writhed in his arms as his hands began its journey upwards along the insides of my thighs.

"Ace..." I whimpered.

"Shhh...just relax, Rina..." Ace coaxed seductively into my ear.

"Ahhh...please..." I moaned before pleading to him.

My impassioned voice giving away the desire that I felt for him as my core burned with the heat of my own need. His fingers slowly stroked their way up my inner thigh as my hips began moving about under the warm water. The temperature of the water seemed to make me feel even more sensitive than usual and I could feel his touch so much more on my skin.

“Spread your legs for me, Rina...” Ace whispered lustily into my ear.

His large hand helped spread my thighs wide apart as I whimpered softly at the sensation of my pussy lips being stretched open wide. After spreading my legs his hands went back to resume their torturously pleasurable caresses against the sensitive flesh of my upper inner thighs. I moaned as I imagined the pleasure of his touch against my most sensitive feminine spot. Leaning back my head against his broad shoulder, I closed my eyes and moaned passionately.

“Ahh...Ahhh...” I moaned lewdly before I bit down hard on my lower lip to keep my moans to myself.

Ace’s fingers finally arrived at their destined destination and began stroking the heat between my widely spread legs. I was certain that my love opening was flooded with my juices as my pussy continued to clench and spasm non-stop. His fingers stroking the folds of my pussy felt so good and relaxing.

“It’s very slippery here. Did you get wet, Rina?” Ace asked before he started kissing the side of my neck.

“Ahhh! Not...there...” I moaned loudly when his fingers found the swollen sensitive seed in between my legs and began stroking it.

His fingertips stroked my hardened clit in circular motions while I moaned my pleasure. My hips began moving lewdly as it thrust up and down, pushing my pussy against his playful hand. I grinded my clit against his fingers harder and harder for more pleasure.

“Let’s take it slow, Rina. We have the whole night...” Ace whispered suggestively as his fingers on my clit slowed.

“Ahhh...Ace...” I whimpered sweetly as the pleasure of his touch slowly flooded my entire being.

His slow and gentle petting of my clit felt so delicious. It was like a pleasure that was soft and easy to handle; however, it soon became addictive to feel him softly caressing me there. My body slowly relaxed against his as I let my body and mind enjoy the joy of his touch.

“What do you think are the most useful things that we learnt today that could be used for the commercial storyboard?” Ace asked me as his fingers continued to move against my swollen clit.

My mind was in a haze and work was the last thing on my mind right now. I moaned as my mind struggled to focus on the question that he had just asked me. Unlike me, Ace seemed fully in control of his desire, and he didn’t seem bothered about our intimacy at all. That’s right, he did mention that we should discuss work when we came back to the hotel.

Is this his idea of a late-night work meeting?

“I don’t...know...” I managed to reply in a strangled voice.

I could barely think straight let alone think of any ideas for the storyboard. What he was demanding of me felt so unreasonable. His fingers wouldn’t stop stimulating my clit. I could feel my pussy getting wetter and hotter from his seductive caresses. My hips began moving again, thrusting a little to rub my clit against his fingers.
