

Love So Sweet 550

550 What Boyfriend?

After Zhang Yi Hai's announcement, Li Qin Yao could not sit still.

She called her husband to tell him that their son was dating someone and let him clear his schedule for a day to meet their son's girlfriend.

Zhang Yu Han could only close his mouth and continue to listen as his wife continued to talk about their son's girlfriend. His wife was still guessing about the girl's identity and he could not tell her that the girl was someone they know.

In the end, it was arranged for Zhang Yi Hai to bring back his girlfriend home on the weekend when everyone would be free.

Li Qin Yao was already planning the menu to prepare for this occasion. This was the first time that Zhang Yi Hai was bringing home a girlfriend and she could not help but feel anxious.

Meanwhile, as soon as Zhang Yi Hai went back to his room, he called his girlfriend to tell her about this news.

Fang Su Jin could not hide her shock upon hearing that Zhang Yi Hai had already announced to her mother about bringing her home for the weekend.

Previously, she had always visited the residence as Zhang Li Xue's friend. Thinking that she was going to visit the place as Zhang Yi Hai's girlfriend made her very anxious.

"You..." Fang Su Jin was speechless, knowing that the meeting would be sooner than she thought. "Why did you tell your mother so soon?"

"Why not? Didn't we already prepare ourselves for it?"

Fang Su Jin realized that Zhang Yi Hai was telling her the truth. But when she thought about meeting the Zhang couple again, Fang Su Jin thought that perhaps, she needed more time to prepare.

"Su Jin, are you going to tell your parents soon?"

Fang Su Jin chuckled as she heard his question. "Why do you sound impatient?"

Zhang Yi Hai looked at his girlfriend's face on his screen with a serious look on his face. "I like you. Naturally, I want the people around me to know about us."

He wanted to tell the world that he had a girlfriend from the day Fang Su Jin agreed to be with him. Now that the agreed time has come, of course, he would not hold back.

"This... I will talk to my mother first and see," Fang Su Jin said.

The couple chatted for a while before they ended their call. Then, Fang Su Jin stared at her phone with a dazed look on her face. She recalled her conversation with Zhang Yi Hai and finally heaved a long sigh.

After composing herself, Fang Su Jin finally came out of her studio to look for her mother. The smell of baked items wafted through the house. Fang Su Jin walked into the kitchen and found that her mother was baking some cookies.

Noticing her presence, Mother Fang looked up and waved her hand, motioning her daughter to come over. "Su Jin, come over quickly. Mom just baked some cookies. Tell me if it tasted good."

Fang Su Jin reached for a piece and took a bite. However, she could not tell whether the cookies tasted good or not. At this time, her mind was preoccupied with how she was supposed to tell her mother about Zhang Yi Hai.

"How is it?" Mother Fang asked.

"It's not bad."

Mother Fang heaved a sigh, knowing that she could not count on her daughter for her opinion.

Seeing that her mother was busying herself with the cookies again made her pause. Fang Su Jin stood there to gather some courage before she spoke again, "Mom, I have something to tell you."

Mother Fang continued to move her cookies to the cooling rack without looking up. "Un. What is it?"

"I wonder if it would be alright if I bring my boyfriend home and introduce him to you and dad."

Mother Fang nodded. "Sure. Just let him come over."

Then, there was a brief silence.

Mother Fang halted when she finally recalled what her daughter told her a few seconds ago. She stared at the cookies with a dazed look on her face before she finally looked up. "What boyfriend? Su Jin, you're dating someone?"

Her mother's reaction was too amusing. Fang Su Jin wanted to laugh but was afraid that she was going to offend her mother.

"Mmm... It has been a while."

"Who is it? Where did he live? What about his family?" Mother Fang continued to shoot her daughter with a lot of questions.

Mother Fang was always worried that her daughter has been single for a long time. Fang Su Jin's younger cousin was getting married soon, Fang Su Jin did not seem to be dating anyone.

After what happened between her daughter and Lin Fang, Mother Fang was prepared to watch her daughter stay single for a long time.

It was fine even if she did not get married. As long as her daughter could live happily doing whatever she wanted, Mother Fang would be contented.

Who would have thought that her daughter would suddenly mention a boyfriend? Moreover, she was already thinking about bringing him home.

Mother Fang was anxious.

She did not know whether she should be relieved or worried about this news. Mother Fang was worried that her innocent daughter might be tricked by some hooligan.

“Mom, you asked so many questions. I don’t know which one I should be answering first,” Fang Su Jin mumbled. “Mom, do you know when will my Dad be free?”

“Is this serious?”

Fang Su Jin looked at her mother helplessly. “I would not joke about such a thing.”

Mother Fang stared at her daughter for a while, examining her expression. After a while, she concluded that her daughter was not joking about this matter.

“How long have the two of you gotten to know each other?”

Fang Su Jin lowered her gaze. “We’ve known each other for a long time. It was just that, we only got together recently. After getting along for a while, we thought that we both should give it a try.”

Based on her words, Mother Fang thought that perhaps, her daughter was dating one of her former classmates.

“I will talk to your dad about this and ask when he will be free to have a meal together,” Mother Fang spoke as she finally was able to calm down. “That’s right. What is the name of your boyfriend?”

Fang Su Jin paused when she heard this question. She peeked at her mother’s face and spoke. “It’s Zhang Yi Hai.”
