

Love So Sweet 617

Chapter 617 Eating Well

As they were leaving the doctor's office, the couple had bright smiles on their faces.

Zhang Li Xue recalled the small blurry image that she had seen on the monitor earlier. Although the shape was not clear, Zhang Li Xue thought that her baby was too adorable. She found that she could not wait to meet her baby.

Doctor Lin had given her a copy of the image and Zhang Li Xue was planning to show the photo to the future grandparents at home.

After a while, the couple left the hospital and headed to the noodle restaurant that was located nearby the restaurant.

Of course, Zhang Li Xue did not forget to buy another portion for Bai Xi Xi as noodles were her favorite food.

Zhang Li Xue looked at her husband and recalled that she had once run into him when he was with Zhang Yi Hai. At that time, she was still unaware that Doctor Bai was the same boy who accompanied her to play basketball in kindergarten.

Time flies so fast.

Who knew that now, they are a married couple and were expecting a baby?

The food arrived at their table after a while. Bai Qi watched as his wife ate her noodle and thought that after the pregnancy, his wife seemed to like eating noodles.

Noticing that someone was looking at her, Zhang Li Xue looked up and met her husband's gaze.

"It's good that you are eating well," Bai Qi spoke before his wife could say a word.

Zhang Li Xue smiled. "The dietician that we hired is really helpful. It's just that..." Zhang Li Xue heaved a sigh. "I have to drink nourishing soup every day."

When she had an accident and fractured her leg, her mother would simmer some soup for her to nourish her body almost every day.

Zhang Li Xue was relieved when her leg got better and she had no longer have to drink those soups. But now that she was pregnant, her mother made her drink more nourishing soups. Just the thought of those soups would make her shiver and her stomach felt a little bloated.

Bai Qi patted his wife's hand and smiled. "Be obedient. It's for the baby after all."

Zhang Li Xue nodded. Each time that the dietician explained that the soup would be good for the baby's development, she would force herself to drink a little bit more.

After accompanying his wife to eat a meal, Bai Qi walked her over to her car.

The couple looked at each other as if they were not willing to part. However, Bai Qi knew well that he could not stay too long with his wife.

Just now, he had asked his colleague to cover for him. He could not be away for a long time.

“Go on in.” Bai Qi motioned to the car. He leaned over and kissed his wife on the cheek. “Remember to text me when you get home.”

Zhang Li Xue nodded. “Un. I know.” Then, her lips turned into a smile. “Hubby, you have to work hard to make money for our child’s diapers and milk powder.”

Bai Qi laughed at her words. After kissing his wife one more time, he then watched as she leave in the car. Once he could no longer see the vehicle, Bai Qi finally turned around and entered the hospital building.

It did not take Zhang Li Xue a long time to arrive home.

The moment she entered the door, Zhang Li Xue found that her parents were already waiting for her in the living room.

Li Qin Yao saw her daughter and quickly went over to her side. “How was it?” She really wanted to follow her daughter to the hospital.

However, Li Qin Yao also knew that the couple would need their privacy.

“Mommy, it’s fine.” Zhang Li Xue took out the photo that Doctor Lin had given her earlier. “Uncle Qi Zheng helped us to have a consultation with Doctor Lin. He’s the best at the hospital. Doctor Lin said that the baby is developing really well.”

Li Qin Yao took the photo from her daughter and looked at it together with her husband. The baby was still small and there was not enough to tell.

“Mommy, Daddy, you both can stop worrying now,” Zhang Li Xue said. “Just go and attend Yi Hai’s graduation with ease. I’ll be fine. The Aunties would look after me.”

Li Qin Yao heaved a sigh. Worrying is what a mother does. No matter how old his daughter would be, Li Qin Yao would always worries about her.

After exchanging a few more words with her parents, Zhang Li Xue headed to her room, wanting to take a nap. Recently, she realized that she would often feel a little sleepy.

Zhang Li Xue had just changed her clothes when her phone rang. She looked at the caller ID and smiled when she saw that Fang Su Jin was requesting a video call.

Without hesitation, Zhang Li Xue slid her finger on the screen. Soon, Fang Su Jin’s photo appeared on the screen.

“Li Xue, how are you feeling?” Fang Su Jin asked when she saw her friend. “How was your check-up?”

Zhang Li Xue laughed upon hearing her friend’s questions. Knowing that there were many people who were worried about her made her heart feel warmer. “It’s alright. The doctor said that the baby is developing really well.”

As she continued to update Fang Su Jin about her baby, Zhang Li Xue realized that Fang Su Jin's background was a little familiar

"Su Jin, are you staying at The Orchid?"

Fang Su Jin had a shy smile on her face. "Un. It would be strange if your parents found out that I am staying somewhere else, right?"

Previously, the Zhang couple heard from the staff that Zhang Yi Hai had bought a girl to the hotel, and found out that the girl was Fang Su Jin.

There was a few misunderstanding and since then, Fang Su Jin had not stayed at The Orchid Hotel, especially when she was with Zhang Yi Hai.

This time, she was in Capital City to attend her boyfriend's graduation along with his parents. Fang Su Jin did not want to make the situation awkward.

"My parents will depart for Capital City in the evening," Zhang Li Xue said. "Su Jin, remember to pick them up at the airport with my brother."

Fang Su Jin's heartbeat accelerated when she heard what Zhang Li Xue had said.
