Blurb The Unknown Wolf (Talía's Story)

Talia has grown up always believing she is a human never knowing anything about the supernatural world, thinking it was something that was only in books and movies. Pretty much a lonely child struggled to fit in with the other children, her only friends being her cousin Jayden and his two friends who only visited on the holidays.

All of a sudden Jayden stops getting in touch and falls out of her life then her mother passes leaving her alone. She quits school to get away from the negative people in her life who have never cared about her and starts working.

There she finally meets two friends and her life starts to improve. All of a sudden she starts to hear a voice in her head talking to her, it even gives itself a name, thinking she is going crazy she keeps it to herself and puts it down to stress hoping that some time off work will stop the voice.

Out of the blue almost two years after he disappeared Jayden comes back into her life on the night she protects her girlfriend from four rogues telling her he is actually her brother and her real parents are alive and want to meet her. There is also the fact they are werewolves, so is she and she will turn soon.

She thinks they are as crazy as she is and living in some sort of cult until he turns in front of her making her accept the truth. As if that wasn't bad enough she is part of a prophecy that's why they had to give her up and now she has to lie to everyone she meets.

Then there are the twin alpha's that appear, which is the last thing she wants as they are her mates and she doesn't believe in love after seeing how humans treat each other. Tristan is happy with that at first until she starts to get under his skin and his thoughts on mates starts to change.

Tyler on the other hand has been waiting on this day and wants Talia more than anything. Throw in an arrogant, obsessed alpha who decides that Talia is the one for him and Tyler's jealous friend with benefits, will they finally be together?"

We pull up to the pack house and I can feel Blade acting strange what's up with this stupid mutt now. As I walk in the door all I smell raspberries and hibiscus it smells amazing before I feel myself being pushed back and Blade taking over.

He stalks forward towards a girl I have never seen before who is standing beside the Alpha's family

next thing I know he's pinned this gorgeous girl against the wall stuck my face in her neck and growled mine. I hear loud growls all around me then next thing I know I'm on my a.ss and my face is bleeding.

She hit me, I can't believe she actually hit me who
the hell does she think she is. 'How fu.cking dare
you I am no one's don't ever and I mean ever touch me again without my permission or you won't get off so easily next time' she roars at me. I am still a bit stunned from the hit and the audacity of this girl when I hear Scott

'Forgive my Alpha, I'm Gamma Scott at your service Luna'

'I'm not your Luna' she says shocked

'I think Blade would disagree on that Luna'

'Enough with the Luna, I have no intention of being anyone's Luna, my name is Talia' she says as she shakes his hand.

I have finally got myself together so I stand up 'I couldn't agree with you more, why would I want you as my Luna, who even are you some nobody. How dare you hit me' I growl, hearing more growls around me. As she just laughs like it's the most amusing thing she has ever heard, most she wolves try anything to entice me and this one has no interest who the hell does she think she is.
