

The Light Moon Pack

Chapter 22

Lucian's pov

I leave early in the morning, taking Fred with me, making it look like a diplomatic visit to discuss pack matters and how they are getting on with their rogue problem.

We gain entry no problem, and Bernard is just as irritating and slimy as I remember him, his stuck up wife and daughter are not any better. The only one I can stand is his son Zander.

I am wary of him too now, as I dont know what went on with Aurora in this pack and who was involved.

They ask after everyone except Aurora, they really are a piece of work. Unless she is here so they know how she is. That thought is squashed in the next second when Zander speaks.

"How is my sister Alpha Lucian, I hope you and your pack are treating her well?" he says with a warning tone in his voice.

"yes yes how is my daughter" Bernard quickly adds.

"Aurora is wonderful. She is actually my destined mate. You should be very proud of her, my pack members think the world of her. She is already training the females of the pack and has beaten even my Beta in combat" I say, trying to rub it in as they look shocked while Zander smirks.

"I knew she could do it, Aurora has always surprised us when she was given the chance" Zander says proudly.

"But she's just a weak, worthless woless bi.tch" her little sister says with venom as her stepmother nods in agreement.

Fred, Zander, and I growl at the comment, making them jump. Bernard glares at Zander, then his Luna and daughter.

"I apologise for my daughters outburst. They have never gotten along well, and none of us were aware Aurora had a wolf" he says, trying to pacify me.

"I won't have anyone disrespect my mate. No wonder she doesn't want to visit here. I can tell you one thing her Aura is much more powerful than that weak daughter of yours. I don't think this one has even gotten the Alpha gene from you" I growl at them, making her blush, and the Alpha and Luna go red in embarrassment and anger.

Zander, on the other hand, is trying not to laugh.

"And how do we know your Beta is just not weak, and that's how she can beat him" he sneers.

"He is happy to challenge your Beta or Beta heir to prove his strength if you doubt my packs ability, or my ability to read aura strengths" I challenge.

"That won't be necessary. It is just a shock for us. I never thought Aurora would be so worthy" he says, still shocked.

"Why do you have regrets now?" I ask, an eyebrow raised.

"No Why would I? Aurora was always loved and treated well by us" he argued.

"If you say so, I wonder why she wouldn't want to be around any of you or have you at our pack then" I chuckle "well except Zander she seems to still like him" I add which causes him to smile.

"We should get down to business, Aurora is still upset that I moved on from her mum. That is all it is. We thought she would be over it by now" he tries to make up excuses.

"Right then, lead the way, it's just a curtesy call as we were passing by" I say casually.

Bernard leads the way into his oca as Zander follows behind. We chat informally about some pack matters, I check to see if his rogue problems are still sorted, or if he requires any more assistance.

At the end of the meeting, he looks at me curiously, "Were you telling me the truth earlier about Aurora?"

"Yes she truly is a powerful and remarkable woman. If I have a daughter like her, I would be very proud and happy" I say to him.

He sits there, looking confused and lost in his own thoughts.

"I will walk them out" Zander offers, and he just nods.

As we get to the car away from everyone, he decides to talk to us.

"Could you let Aurora know that I miss her and I love her. Also, keep her away from here and them. They do not deserve to be anywhere near her. She is not safe around them" he tells us.

"What did they do to her? I know she hasn't been treated well, and she has hid her wolf. Can you give me more information?" I ask

He smiles sadly at me "It's not my place to tell you. If she wanted you to know, she would have said herself. One day, she may open up, and it would do her good to trust someone and have people there for her. Just know she is not safe around them" he warns again.

"She has told my mum, and I think Shawn her Gamma, they have a strong bond" I admit.

"I am glad she has people she can trust. Keep her safe please" he says

I nod as I get into the car.

I feel like sh.it lying to him, letting him think his sister is happy and having a good life with her mate at my pack. I don't know how I am going to face him next time I see him.

"Well that was awkward and not at all helpful. It was good seeing the looks on their faces when they realised how fantastic Aurora is" Fred chuckles.

"Tell me about it, I have never felt so uncomfortable in my life. I felt like cr.ap lying to Zander. I have never liked that family now. I realise what my mum was going on about they are vile, totally vile. Then I went and treated like that too, fu.ck. What do I do now?" I shout.

"I don't know, man, I hate to say we told you so. We tried to warn you, and I really have no idea where she is. To be honest, she deserves better than you, I tried to stay out of it, but you went too far too often" he tells me.

I can't even be angry at him. Every word he has said is the truth as hard as it is to hear. Unfortunately, it doesn't really help me right now.

My phone starts to ring great, just what I need Jessica's dad, I groan before I accept the call.

"Jerry" I say.

"What the fu.ck have you done to my daughter? Why in the hell would you put her in the cells? I have been trying to get in touch with you for a day" he roars at me.

"Don't fu.cking shout at me, Beta. Not after what you and your daughter have done" I roar back.

"We have done nothing, boy. I want her out, or we are coming to your pack" he shouts, losing a bit of his bravado.

"Don't call me boy. I am a fu.cking Alpha, and you will respect me. We have proof your daughter set up my mate. We also have proof you were in on it, so if you step foot on my pack, you will be in a cell next to her" I roar.

"This is not the end of it" he says, hanging up

I am absolutely seething.

"I think you should call the Queen. This is a cross pack matter" Fred advises.

"You are right, I will do that now" I sigh.

I look up her number and press the call button, and she answers after a few rings.

"Alpha Lucian, I would say this is a surprise, but it is not, I did warn you. Now, who do you need me to deal with?" she says, getting to the point

"Do you know where she is?" I ask hopefully.

"I don't and all I was allowed to do is warn you the rest was up to you. She was made to be a Luna, she will have a second chance she only needs to reject you one more time and the goddess will let her sever it if you agree or not. You, on the other hand, will not. You won't deserve it after destroying her gift." She warns.

At least the message is much clearer this time. It's not totally lost. I still feel like I am fu.cked right now, I can't lose her to someone else.

"I can't lose her, I have totally fu.cked up, and I know I don't deserve her now" I say.

"Well I know this is not why you called so spill?"

"Yes well, a friend set Aurora up to take the blame for something to break us apart. She has been rather successful, her father has also been involved in it, and I am not sure how much. She is locked up, and he is threatening to attack my pack because of it. Now, because it is between 2 packs, I thought it best to involve you instead of dealing with him myself" I say.

"Thats for the best. I will have him picked up and held in our cells while we investigate it. Send me any proof through the phone or email. Keep a hold of the woman for now. I will let you know when we want her. Just try and keep her in one piece and record any interrogations. Now give me a name, pack, and position?" she says

"Beta Jerry Fuller, Red Forrest Pack"

"It will be done, I will keep in touch. Let me know any updates" she says, getting off the phone.
