

Show and tell

Chapter 36

After we had eaten, I was ushered out to a clearing as they were eager to see what I could do.

"So what do you want thunder storm, snow, or I could toss Frank and Greg about with my wind" I say, laughing

"Oh I would denitely like to see that" Lilly says

"Me too" agrees Corrine as they both laugh.

"Come on, then you two, let's make you y" I tease as their mates push them forwards

I lift them easily in the air and send them up and down several times before making them spin. When I put them down again, they are both rather dizzy and having trouble walking. As everyone laughs at them, stumbling around, looking drunk.

"OK that wasn't as fun as I thought it would be. You could have gone more gentle on us" Frank says

"Or I could have made you into a human tornado" I say, laughing

"No that was ne" Greg quickly replies

I next start up a storm in the distance away from everyone as the clouds darken the area and rain starts to pound. I turn the rain into snow and then hail, making them around the size of a tennis ball.

Damon manages to break free from his mum and runs towards the area, so I quickly reduce the hail and catch him in a gust of wind, bringing him gently back.

"Not so fast, little man" I say as he giggles, coming towards us.

"I'm ying" he shouts, laughing.

"See she can be gentle" Frank grumbles.

I start the rain up again and then bring on some lightening as I still have Damon gently bouncing in the air beside us.

"I wouldn't complain she might zap you" Greg warns, making me chuckle.

I let the storm die down and place Damon gently on the ground. The other 3 pups run to me, wanting me to make them y, too.

I gently lift them up in the air, making them move about not too far from the ground as the laugh in delight.

"Oh I think you are denitely going to be the favourite auntie from now on" Lilly says

I let them play in the air for 10 minutes to tire them out a bit. They all give me a big hug afterwards. They are adorable little pups.

"They denitely had more fun than we did" Greg laughs "that was pretty amazing. We are going to have some rather confused pack members wondering where the ice balls came from" he adds

"Yeah it may take them a bit to melt with it being the evening as well. It would be funny to see their faces" I say.

The kids are asleep before we even make it back to the packhouse, tired with all the excitement.

"We need you here every night. That is the easiest they have fallen asleep" Corrine jokes.

"I am at your service while I am here. They are great pups totally adorable" I say.

"They are not normally, especially at bedtime. They think you are a superhero because of their dad, so they were being extra good for you" Lilly says, chuckling.

"Poor things will be so disappointed when they nd out I am not" I say, chuckling

"You are as close as they will get. They have been telling everyone their auntie is a superhero hero" Frank laughs.

"As long as they don't expect me to wear a costume, they can call me a superhero, I suppose" I say, chuckling.

"Let's not give them any ideas. The guys probably have ideas in their heads. It is them that keep on winding the kids up about it" Lilly says

"Does that mean I get to go about saying my sister is a superhero too" Zander says, chuckling

"You could if you want everyone to think their Alpha has gone crazy" I tease laughing.

The next day, Uncle Frederick and Aunt Violet show us round the pack, making sure to go to all of mums favourite places from when she lived there.

Aunt Violet took lots of pictures of both of us and plenty of Zander with Ella to add to their collection. They took us to the lake for a picnic, and the kids all joined us, I can see where the pack gets its name from. The area is so picturesque, and the water is so clear you can see all the way to the brightly coloured stones on the bottom.

I can see why mum loved this place. It is not the biggest pack, but it is certainly beautiful. There are lots of nice areas to walk, have a run, or just relax.

Zander is getting on really well with everyone. He and Ella look totally in love already. This is how the mate bond is supposed to be, I can not wait for them to have pups. They will make beautiful pups together.

When we got back to the packhouse after we had eaten, they pulled out both families' photo albums and showed us all the old pictures of mum and the rest of the family.

The only problem that occurred was when we got to the cousins growing up, and there were lots of pictures of Lucian as he grew up being Greg and Ella's cousin. Zander wasn't happy about seeing him and then brought up about not inviting him to Ella's Luna ceremony, which made things really awkward.

"Look you can't not invite him. He is family and also an Alpha, Zander he has to be included" I say

"I have already banned him from my pack. After what he did to you, I don't want anything to do with him" he says stubbornly.

"It is ne, Aurora. I understand. I don't want to upset anyone" Ella says sadly

"No it is not ne. This is your day. What happened between Lucian and I is between us. I will not have anyone stopping his family from seeing him. This is ridiculous. We are all supposed to be adults here" I say, annoyed.

It is really not fair on Ella to have her put in this position. She has done nothing wrong and should be able to have her family around on her day.

"Is now a good time to mention I banned him from our pack after I met you and found out what he had done" Frank says sheepishly.

"Seriously what is it with you, men? You both realise I don't need anyone ghting my battles. His family lives here, so what everyone else can come and meet up, but they are never allowed to see their nephew or cousin here again. You know what it feels like to be separated from mum and us" I say frustrated.

"Sh.it ne. I will let him back in, but that does not mean I will be nice to him" Frank complains

"Fine as long as you do not make it too dicult and unbearable, think of your Beta and his family. I know you don't want to hurt them. And you as soon as you mark Ella, you will feel everything so much stronger, including her. Hurt, guilt, and upset about her pain. Then I hope you feel guilty putting your mate through that. I am a big girl, I can put up with him for an event" I say annoyed

"Sorry Ella, I should have thought about how it would make you feel. Aurora has suffered since she was a child, and I could do nothing about it, then I could not protect her from being married off. My guilt and worry over her being hurt further caused me to react without thinking fully. I just wanted to nally be able to make things easier for her. We will invite Lucian, you should have all of your family there as Aurora said this day is about you" Zander admits giving her a hug.

"it is ne. I understand. We all do. I appreciate you both being so considerate of my feelings. If it is too much for you, Aurora, I am happy not to include him" she says kindly

"I will be ne, Ella. Honestly, I can not go my whole life avoiding him" I tell her

"thank you Aurora" she replies.
