Chapter 59

All of the arrangements were finalised for my Alpha ceremony, and the children to teen activities area was completed and looked fantastic. I also commissioned an obstacle course to be built. I thought it would be a fun addition to training.

It was tough to complete but still great fun and competitive. Two people could challenge side by side, to see who was fastest or just go by time completion. I decided to meet the visitors at the activity area instead of the front of the house, and I had refreshments laid out for people arriving.

I made it clear on the invitations that there would be activities for the kids and adults if they wanted to join in all day from lunch on the Friday so everyone knew they could arrive the day before even if they were closer.

A few omega's were at the front of the house to collect their luggage and escort them to us when they arrived. Zander was there first just after lunch, with Frank arriving shortly after both wanting to make the most of their time with us all together.

After the pups had got their hugs from everyone, they excitedly explored the new area as Frank and Greg walked around, taking pictures of everything.

"This area is fantastic. The pups love it" Lilly said to me.

"I was hoping it would be a hit with them. Wait until you see the other area. The big pups will love it. I can't wait to take on Zander" I say.

"What am I being challenged to" Zander asks.

"I have another area done. It's for the adults and bigger kids. I thought it would be a fun addition to our training and bring out a bit of friendly competition" I say

"Let's go then, the pups will be fine. You have plenty of people watching them" Lilly says before letting the pups know we will be back soon.

The men in particular love the course, Zander straight away asks me how much I have practiced, and Lucian tries to stop me having a shot because I am pregnant. He gets told straight away I am fine and the doctor has cleared me for it, and Zander is told we are the first ones to go on it as it is just finished.

The women are straight away cheering on my side along with some of the men Ella cheers for Zander, but gives me a thumbs up and wink when he is not looking. We get into our starting positions as Lucian does the countdown, and then we are off.

The course has loads of different things climbing rope, hand bars to swing along, crawl net, rope A frame, swinging hoops, balancing bridge are just some of the obstacles and it ends with a 20 ft climbing wall and fireman's pole to get back on the ground because they are fun to slide down.

Zander, as usual, starts off fast. I am pacing myself, keeping close to him, but not using all my energy straight away. As we get to 3/4 of the way through, I pick up my pace, and I easily catch him as he looks over surprised. We are even as we make it to the climbing wall as he goes all out at the start again. He will never learn. I still have loads of energy, and I can see him sweating now a lot as I pass him quickly, making it easily up the wall and sliding down the pole to cheers, barely sweating.

Zander is flushed and sweating as he comes down half a minute later, I could easily knock my time down if I went all out, I realise.

"How the hell are you always so quick up those walls" Zander says, panting slightly as Lucian and I laugh.

"That's exactly what I asked her" Lucian admits "she's like a damn spider monkey" he adds, laughing.

"I will tell you what I told him. You two always use all of your energy at the start. You need to learn to pace yourself. That's why I always still have energy at the end" I say, patting his sweaty back.

"I had better get back round to the pups just in case any more groups come. Stay and play if you want. I will send round more people if they want to check it out" I say.

The men stayed, and the women came with me, so there was no surprise there. We left them discussing who was going to be challenging who next. The pups looked like they hadn't missed us at all, and the women looking after them were having no problems as the pups were keeping themselves amused.

A couple more groups came, and the women stayed in the area with us and the younger pups. I showed the men and the teenagers to the obstacle course and told them they were free to have a shot at it if they liked. Lucian was excited to tell me he had won against Lee in his challenge. The teenagers were excited to take on their dads or each other if their dads were unsure about having a go.

I encouraged them to have a shot and told them I was the first one on and beat Zander even being pregnant. That managed to bring out their competitive side in them and even encouraged a couple of the Alpha and Beta daughters to have a go.

Loads of the Luna's took pictures of the kids' area and complimented me on it. They said it was so much more fun bringing the kids and doing this than sitting around while their mates talked business.

"Oh they are definitely not talking business today. I have managed to talk nearly all of them into having a go on the obstacle course" I said.

"What even Bart" Luna Gail asked, shocked

"Yes I told him I went on first and beat my brother, and I am pregnant" I laughed "your son looked like he really wanted to go against him on it" I said.

"Bloody male pride, challenge it, and it works every time" she rolls her eyes and laughs.

"I know they are so easy at times" I agree.

Talia comes with the pups and everyone else and immediately takes loads of pictures while I fuss over all of the pups, then let them run wild. I take everyone round to the obstacle course, Scott is hovering over Sally he still has 3 months until her birthday. I think he hates it when there are so many ranked unmated males around and wants to make sure everyone knows she is his.

As soon as Talia sees the course she is asking which of the twins is taking her on, and Sally is challenging Scott. Tristan is the more competitive one, so he takes her up on it, and Tyler and Ethan are going to go against each other.

Jayden's, Quinn's and Dalia's groups arrived just after that, and I was still in the kids' area as the other arrived so I could take them round together. Dalia opted to stay with the pups and women as hers is still small, and so did Natalie for now.

Luna Claire walks over with her two daughters that I hadn't met before, and she introduces us. They are both beautiful women who definitely have the Alpha gene. You can feel it off of them. Alpha Thomas walks slowly behind her in no rush to greet me.

After some required pleasantries where he complains that it is highly unusual to do it this way as many Luna's roll their eyes at him, I show them round to the obstacle course. The girls want a look too, Sydney is 20, and Rhia is 19.

As soon as I entered the area things kicked off, The Alpha from The Amethyst Pack grabbed Sydney shouting "Mate" for all to hear, while the Alpha heir from the Shadow Pack started shouting that she was his and trying to pull her away from him.

Luna Claire and Sydney looked shocked by the events and what they were saying while Alpha Thomas and his friend from the Shadow Pack Alpha Jacob, who was causing problems at the meeting looked pi.ssed off.

"We had an agreement, Thomas remember"
Jacob said warningly

"Yes yes we will get this sorted don't worry"
Thomas said

"Get your hands off of Sydney now Jack" Talia orders Jacob's son.

Jack let's go of her looking murderously at Alpha Nate. While Nate looks like he has won the lottery as he holds Sydney in his arms as she happily leans into him.

"I had better get my Luna. It has been agreed if I don't get her, I want Rhia instead" Jack demands.

"How will that work? Rhia is supposed to be mine. You can't just take my one because yours has been taken. I have a deal too" Dan, Jacob's other son says.

What the hell is going on here? Seriously, they are still making deals for mates. Rhia is now the one looking shocked along with a young Beta male from her pack.

"But I have met my mate" she says, upset.

"Shut up Rhia, you need an Alpha blood for me to pass my pack to. So just shut up and do as you are told" Thomas shouts at her.

"I think we need to talk about this in private don't you" Talia says

"This is none of your business" Thomas says.

"It is, and I don't think you should talk to me like that again. We will be discussing this, and you will not force your daughters to mate with people they do not want to" Talia says
