

The North Mountain Pack

Chapter 64

Matt's pov

The past couple of weeks since I have brought Gina home have been filled with ups and downs. I never even considered that I would one day be sharing my mate with someone else. We always thought that we would have separate mates all throughout our lives.

To my surprise, even Loki didn't feel jealous of Stuart and Titan sharing a mate with us. He said it was meant to be, and he just wants our mate to be happy. Loki and Titan have always been extremely close, just as my brother and I have.

I honestly thought it would feel strange to be with her together, I mean, we have never shared a girl before now, like some twins I know. I let them have some alone time on the first night to mate and mark each other before I joined them in bed to sleep for the night.

Her heat set in the day after we arrived back here, her wolf was obviously waiting for her other mate before her body was ready to go into her heat. When we both caught her heightened scent, there was no stopping us, and all awkwardness was gone.

She needed us both in that moment, and there was no way either of us could hold back long enough to take turns with her smelling so divine. I just hope we managed to put at least one pup in her, and I know Stuart is feeling the same way. He is just as ready as I am to settle down and have a family.

Gina has already started doing her Luna duties in the pack, Nadia and Aurora gave her training before she moved here and mum sent her books with the packs history to get her started on it so she was ready. She has already proven herself to the warriors since arriving, making sure they know that just because she is a woman, they should not underestimate her.

The pack really likes her and she has become really good friends with the new Beta's Katia and Hanna. The pack were a little surprised with the choice, but they quickly came on board with the decision. They are both well respected as warriors in the pack already.

There were a few upset men when they found out they were mates, so they had lost their chance with them. Katia's and Hanna's families were over the moon with our choice and really proud of their daughters.

After Aurora's ceremony, I got a play area commissioned straight away to get ready for our ceremony. I want our event to be just as relaxed and as much fun as theirs. I do not have enough time to do the assault course, but I will definitely be having one of those built in the pack as well.

It also turns out my mum doesn't like the thought of sitting around doing nothing now she won't be covering the Luna duties for me any longer. She hit it off with Gina's Mum May and Lucas' Mum Maria. Maria and May were already friends before. Now May's little bakery has grown wings, and the three women are joining forces. It is now going to be a bakery with a little coffee shop, they are just selling some fancy sandwiches and things in it, but they are all excited about working together and still having plenty of time for their grand babies when they come.

It is nice to see my mum having something to look forward to after so many years without dad. Her and Maria already share a grandchild through Layla, and I know she hopes to hear news of Gina soon. I hear her and May talking about it frequently.

Marcus Snr Lucas' dad keeps himself busy as an elite warrior in the pack, even in his 40's he can still give many of my men a run for their money with his Gamma blood, I found out he moved to his mates pack being the second born he didn't have a place in the pack and Maria had a lot of family in her pack do he moved for her. No wonder I could feel Lucas had more strength than his warrior status, Maria also has Beta blood running through her.

Unfortunately, while all of those things have been great, Kelly has continued to be a problem. She reacted badly to Gina going into her heat and tried to turn pack members against her while we were occupied. Luckily, my mum, Layla, and Lucas caught on and ran damage control until we could surface and deal with it.

She then again went off the rails when we announced Katia as the new beta and Hanna as the Beta mate, her parents tried to step in at that point to get her under control and to stop being so jealous of her sister. I think we had just about enough at this point, and she was on a final warning when she totally overstepped the mark.

Kelly thought it would be a great idea to turn up naked in the Alpha suite. She was obviously expecting Stuart to turn up, but instead, she got Gina. It came as a bit of a shock to the whole pack when she was dragged screaming her head off naked out of the room.

Gina challenged her right out if she wanted to fight her for her position and her mates, or she could just rip her heart out there and then to get it over and done with. Kelly's parents and Katia were livid with her behaviour. They had all tried to talk her out of her ridiculous behaviour.

Georgia begged Gina for mercy for her daughter. She knows her daughter stood no chance in a fight against her and asked for her to be banished instead. I was surprised by the suggestion, but I could see they had all had enough of her behaviour, but they didn't want her to lose her life.

Ad

i

Ads-free >

Gina agreed to their suggestion for the sake of the relationship she had built with the family but warned Kelly that if she came back, she would be killed on sight. Georgia got in touch with her brother straight away in her birth pack and asked if he could get her a place in the pack. Being the ex beta, he managed to get it sorted quickly, and Kelly was out of the pack within 2 hours.

Since she has gone, we have managed to have a quiet couple of days before the ceremony. Our Delta Graham had confided in us that he is gay and looking for his mate, he felt more comfortable coming out to me after he saw how accepting I as to Katia and Hanna's relationship.

So I decided to ask the packs to bring any unmated gay males to the ceremony with them as my Delta is looking for his mate. They were all happy to comply with the request.

Graham, Katia, and Hanna have already discussed the possibility of artificial insemination between them if his mate is up for it so they can have children together and share the parenting responsibilities. That means we will still have our Beta's and Delta's going down through the generations in the pack.

Gina thought my request was quite sweet and funny she has visions of all these Alpha's having meetings at their packs asking all the gay single men to step forward to go to the ball as she creases up. One Alpha is hoping his brother is his mate, he confided in me that he has been looking for years with no luck around the packs and he thinks it is great someone has just come out and openly asked as there are too many people still stuck with old fashioned views on the subject.

I extended the invite to gay women after the second pack I talked to asked about it, as the Alpha's sister is looking for her mate so I said I would invite exclusively gay pack members to try and let them find their mates. There were only two packs who noted displeasure in it, so I am not sure if anyone in their pack would even admit their s*l orientation to them if they asked. I hope they do so they can get the chance to move to a more accepting environment.

Graham and his parents were really touched by my gesture, and so were Katia and Hanna's, Katia told me she wished she had confided in me earlier about her sexuality. She just did not realise I would be so open and accepting about it.

It hurt a bit that she didn't trust me as we were so close in school, but we had drifted apart so much when I had to take up the Alpha position so she didn't know me any longer. She thought I had turned into a serious, rules driven person who no longer had time for his friends.

I hate that I neglected everyone in my grief and trying to live up to my fathers legacy. I was so intent on making sure I did everything right. I lost a part of myself that I have now started to get back since I met Gina. My family could still see that part of me at times when I managed to make time for them in my schedule.

I need to make sure I do not lose sight of the important things again in my life, things have become much easier now I have my brother and Gina helping me and Lucas is also a fantastic Gamma. It helps that Gina is already close to him, so they have a great relationship, and I can trust him with her life.

Layla is also back to herself. It is nice having my little sister back and not the self-centered cow who only cares about what others think of her. Her and Lucas have sorted most of their sh.it out, and I don't think it will be long before he finally marks her and let's her move in with him.

4

Comments

562

Vote

Watch videos get points (0/15) >