Chapter 66

The past week and a half has flown by, and all of our pack members, new mates, and their families are moved in and settled in the pack. We have managed to find jobs or open buildings for them to open their own businesses for all of them.

I am now at my 14 weeks, so we are able to do our scan and find out the s*x of our pup. Lucian has been as excited as a child in a toy store the past few days waiting on today. He is really looking forward to finding out what we are having. He said he would be happy either way, but I know he does really want a little girl, I hope he gets his wish. I am happy with either, but I am hoping Lucian gets his girl.

Lucian is practically bouncing the whole way to the hospital it is absolutely adorable and contagious his excitement. As we approached the maternity area, we spot Lee and Suzie coming out of the ultrasound room. Lee has a massive smile on his face. I guess he hit the mark when she had her heat 6 weeks ago.

"I take it congratulations are in order sis" I say to her excitedly, giving her a hug.

"We just found out, I am almost at the 6 week mark" she says, hugging me back.

Lucian quickly hugs and congratulates Lee before doing the same to Suzie.

"Are you away to tell everyone now, or do you want to give them the news with us when we tell everyone the s*x of our little one" I ask them.

"We were going to wait a couple of days. We didn't want to take away your moment from you" she says.

"Don't be silly, this is great news, it just gives us more to celebrate, it doesn't take anything away" I say as Lucian agrees with me.

"Can we call Zander together afterwards to give him both our news" Suzie asks me.

"I would love that. I will let you know when we are done, and we can all get together. This is great all three of us having pups at the same time, Zander will be so excited" I say before leaving her.

Lucian is barely able to stay in his seat as the doctor squirts the gel onto my exposed stomach and places the doppler on to it. The room is soon filled with the fast heartbeat of our pup along with Luca's purrs hearing his pup. I can see the doctor doing all of her checks and taking all of the measurements, making sure everything is going well. The pup is looking much clearer now and like a proper little person.

"Everything is looking perfect with the pup Alpha's. It is right where we would expect it to be in terms of growth and development. The heartbeat is also nice and strong. Now I can see you are rather keen to find out the s*x, but the little one is hiding just now so I will see if we can get the pup to move" she says gently prodding on my stomach.

We watch our pup on the screen gradually shift its position.

"Ah there she is, a daughter for you both, I will print off some pictures while you get yourself fixed up" she says cheerily.

"We are having a girl, my love, I hope she looks just like you" Lucian says to me with his eyes filled with love.

He then cleans off my stomach before giving it a gentle kiss. "My beautiful little angel, daddy loves you so much" he says to her before covering me up.

As we walk back to the packhouse, he can not keep the smile from his face. He has already linked everyone, and they are waiting for us in one of the private family rooms when we arrive. I can see they are all excited to find out what we are having. I have already told Lucian he can tell everyone as he is so excited about it.

"The moon goddess has obviously been listening to me and has heard my wishes, I can now let you all know we are going to be having a beautiful daughter who I hope looks just like her mother" he says beaming.

Nadia, I think, is the most excited out of everyone. After having only boys herself, she is really excited about having a granddaughter to spoil. Once everyone has settled down, Lucian discretely nods to Lee, giving him the go-ahead to announce his news. Lee stands up with Suzie beside him, wrapped up in his arms.

"We also have something to announce, Suzie is almost 6 weeks pregnant. We just confirmed it today with a scan" Lee says, proudly kissing Suzie on the top of her head.

Nadia squeals excitedly before rushing over to hug Suzie, then Lee.

"Yeah now she has daughters. We are second best. You will get used to it" Lucian teases.

"Oh shush you, I have to make sure my girls are fine. Stop being jealous" she teases back, making us laugh.

Once everyone had congratulated them, Suzie and I made our way to my office to give Zander a call to tell him our news and find out how Ella is doing. She has a month left to go, and we know they are having a boy.

Zander is with Ella when we call, Ella let's us know her and the pup are doing well. I ask after Lucia as well, Ella tells me she is fitting in well, and her brother has found his mate there as well, one of their warriors. So the whole family is happy and settled in.

We tell them our news, they are both thrilled for Suzie and glad things are going so well for her here, Ella is excited we are having a girl so she can buy boy stuff for herself and girl things for me. I quickly talk to them about my choices of godparents, explaining to them why I have chosen the people I have, and assure them I will be having at least 2 more pups after this so they will both be godparents to our future pups.

After we finish up with our call, Suzie leaves me alone while I make the rest of my calls. The next is to my cousin Frank to let him know the latest, then I give Gina a quick call too and let her know both Suzie and I's news. She asks me to pass her congratulations on to Suzie and Lee for her.

The last call I make is to Talia, and she sounds totally stressed when she picks up the phone.

"Please tell me you are on your own" she says

"Yes it is just me" I let her know.

"You will never guess what those two bas.tards have done to me now. They have gone and got me pregnant again" she seethes

"I thought you were thinking about having another one anyway" I say gently, not quite understanding the problem. Is it pregnancy hormones.

"One I agreed to one, bloody twins just have to go overboard and put another two in there don't they fu.cking overachievers. This is why Diana and Daria put their feet down with Dean and James so they wouldn't have another set of twins. They didn't want to risk this sh.it" she rants as I giggle.

"It is not funny Aurora" she whines.

"Oh Talia, don't be upset. You will be fine and in a day you will be so excited about these two, besides you have loads of help it will be fine. How far on are you" I say gently.

"10 weeks, I don't know how I didn't notice, it was the twins when they saw me eating a pickle and peanut butter sandwich. They rushed me straight to the hospital this morning. Alina kept totally silent about it. Why didn't she tell me" she asks

"She was probably worried you would freak out and get stressed like you are now. Just think there are loads of us pregnant so the pups will have plenty of age mates. Suzie just found out today that she is almost 6 weeks gone" I tell her.

"Sh.it your scan was today. Sorry, I am a mess. Tell me what you are having" she says quickly, getting excited.

I am going to get whiplash with her moods today.

"We are having a girl, which brings me to my other reason for calling. We would like you and the twins to be one of our daughters' set of godparents, Shawn and Julia are also being asked" I say to her.

"Oh my goddess that's great. I bet Lucian is over the moon he was hoping for a girl. I would love to be her godmother, and so would the twins. They think of you as a sister now. Oh, and please tell Suzie and Lee that I am really happy for them" she says in a much better mood.

"Thank you Talia, are you feeling a bit better now" I ask cautiously, not wanting to set her off again.

"Yes I am. Bloody pregnancy hormones have me all over the place. Please keep the news to yourself for now. You are the first person we have told. The twins are too scared to say anything just now in case it sets me off. You can tell Lucian today and everyone else tomorrow. This chat has helped loads, and you and Lucian will definitely be one of the pups godparents" she says.

"Well obviously we would love to, now go and get your men and let them know it is now a safe zone" I chuckle.

"I will they will be excited to hear the news and relieved you have talked me down" she chuckles

We get off the phone and I send a quick text to Tara, Dalia and Natalie to let them know my news and ask them to pass it on to everyone then link Lucian to come to the office so I can tell him Talia's news. He was just next door, so he is here seconds after I link him. He is excited for them and let's me know he will send them a message tomorrow, he was surprised and happy we were asked to be one of the pups godparents and was happy they had agreed to be our pups one as well.
