

Lucky 563

563 Sweet Dreams

Madam Liu asked Liu Sanniang to help start the fire. Almost all of them were in the kitchen.

Madam Liu's culinary skills were superb, making Hu Yu drool. They helped with what they could. If they couldn't help, they would just stand in the corner and watch.

When Mr. Liu and the others returned, the house was already filled with fragrance.

As soon as Mr. Liu entered the kitchen, he was a little stunned to see so many people. "Sanniang, you're back."

Liu Sanniang called out to Mr. Liu. "Father."

Mr. Liu nodded and left.

When Liu Dalang returned, he also went to greet them.

Liu Erlang entered the kitchen happily. "Wow, there are so many people."

Liu Sanniang said, "Second Brother."

Liu Erlang smiled. "General Black is back too, right? I'll go catch up with my brother."

Liu Erlang greeted them and left the kitchen. He went straight to General Black's bed and hugged him happily.

"I haven't seen you in a long time. I miss you so much. Do you know that I'm already engaged? When you see your future second sister-in-law another day, don't scare her, okay?"

General Black was dozing off on Liu Erlang's legs. It was unknown if he heard it or not.

However, General Black felt comfortable when Liu Erlang rubbed him.

He liked this family very much. Even though he had not been back for a long time, the atmosphere remained unchanged.

Liu Erlang held General Black's head. "General Black, did you hear what I said?"

General Black looked at Liu Erlang and nodded.

Liu Erlang was overjoyed. "I knew you could understand me. Hehehe, you are really a treasure."

Liu Erlang rambled on and on, and General Black listened.

At night during dinner, Mr. Liu took out wine and drank with Chu Yan.

Liu Erlang was thinking about General Black and went to feed him.

Hu Yu ate in satisfaction.

Liu Yuanyuan was not as gluttonous as Hu Yu, but she was also satisfied with the food.

After dinner, Chu Yan returned to the Chu family.

Liu Yuanyuan and Hu Yu went out, saying that they had booked an inn, but as soon as they were out of sight, they turned invisible and returned to the Liu family to rest.

At night, Madam Liu pulled Liu Sanniang into her arms and sighed. "This year is almost over."

Next year, Liu Sanniang will be 16 years old. Madam Liu and Mr. Liu's original plan was to arrange a marriage for Liu Sanniang and Chu Yan next year.

Before last year, her daughter was at home and she could see her every day. In the blink of an eye, her daughter had grown up.

Liu Sanniang leaned into Madam Liu's arms and nodded. "Yes."

Madam Liu was worried that Liu Sanniang would not be able to stay for long. Thinking that Liu Sanniang had yet to meet Liu Erlang's fiancée, Madam Liu said, "It's a pity that your second brother is not married yet. Otherwise, you would be able to see your second sister-in-law."

Now that the three children's marriages were settled, Madam Liu was even more worried about Liu Sanniang. In the future, when Liu Erlang and Liu Dalang had children, their children would be brought up by her. However, Liu Sanniang and Chu Yan were not around all year round. Madam Liu always missed her.

Liu Sanniang smiled. "When we become a family, I will meet my Second sister-in-law sooner or later."

Madam Liu thought that it made sense. When Ye Niuniu and Liu Erlang got married, they would be a family and would eventually meet.

It was late at night.

Liu Sanniang called her family's names softly. She had not created a dream for her family for a long time.

She leaned against Madam Liu, feeling at ease. However, she was not sleepy. She could not help but wonder if Chu Yan was asleep.

After spending so much time with Chu Yan, Liu Sanniang had already regarded him as her husband even though they had yet to have a wedding.

Unknowingly, Chu Yan had already become used to having her around. He would be by her side and would not leave.

As she thought about it, she felt sleepy.

Liu Sanniang had a dream.

She dreamed of the woman in red again. The noble man walked in front and she followed behind. The woman's voice was light. "How many siblings do you have? I'm afraid they haven't hatched yet, right? Hahaha... Every time you come back, you need to incubate the eggs, right?"

The man paused and said calmly, "You're so noisy."

The woman smiled. "If I didn't talk, you would not talk to me."

The man continued to walk forward.

Along the way, the woman was always chattering.

They went into the deep sea together. In the depths of the sea, there were a few eggs. The man went forward and checked each one.

The woman also reached out to touch them. She giggled. "You're so poor. Why don't you even have a place to live? Humans all like to live in a house but you don't even have a shed. How pitiful!"

The man said calmly, "I don't need it."

The woman was already used to his expressionless face. She reached out and touched a few eggs. "You don't need it, but what if they come out and it turns out to be a girl? Girls all like beautiful houses, beautiful jewelry, and shiny treasures. You don't have anything."

Perhaps convinced by the woman's words, the man said, "I'll build a dragon palace."

The woman jumped up happily and grabbed the man's sleeve. "When you're done building it, I want to stay there."

She went on talking as if she would not get tired. She told the man how to build a house and how to make it beautiful.

In the end, she asked coquettishly. "Can you let me stay there?"

The man seemed to be annoyed by the noise. "Sure."

After receiving the promise, the woman said happily, "Yay." Then, she went to knock on a few eggs. She put her ear to them and said, "Hello, are you younger brothers or sisters? If you're younger brothers, hit the egg with your tail. If you're younger sisters, hit the egg twice."

...

Liu Sanniang listened to the sound coming from inside the eggs. She listened more and more intently and then suddenly woke up.

This was the second time she had dreamed of that woman in red. In karma, people called this a previous life.

However, that world seemed to be very different. She did not know which previous life it was.

Deep sea, Dragon Palace, and dragon eggs. That noble man was a dragon.

Liu Yuanyuan and Hu Yu came over early. Su Yanyu and Liu Erlang shared the same bed at night, so the two of them did not sleep well because it was too cramped.

Su Yanyu had dark circles under his eyes and looked tired. Throughout the night, Liu Erlang kept having wet dreams and talking about shameless things... Su Yanyu felt really embarrassed.