565 The Ye Family

Tang An sobbed and bit her lip. Even if she tried her best to hold it in, she still couldn't help but moan.

She grabbed Liu Dalang with her weak hands, hoping that he would finish as soon as possible.

She could not understand why Liu Dalang, who had worked so hard during the day, was still so energetic at night.

Liu Dalang hadn't had enough of it and said in a hoarse voice, "For some reason, I always want to love you."

He was crazily infatuated with her and couldn't resist the urge to love her.

Tang An could only beg for mercy.

After it was done, Tang An was already sleepy and weak. It was Liu Dalang who cleaned her.

"Niuniu, I like you so much..."

Liu Erlang was talking in his sleep.

Su Yanyu felt like crying.

Due to Liu Sanniang's return, Madam Liu was full of smiles all day. Madam Liu did not go out on this day because her clansmen had informed her yesterday that they were coming to see Liu Sanniang.

It was all thanks to her that the children in the clan could enter the school to study.

Everyone sat together.

Liu Sanniang looked at the clansmen and said with a smile, "Aunts and uncles, the Liu clan is a big clan. I believe if it were you, you would also choose to build a school for the juniors, so you don't have to thank me."

After sending off the clansmen, Madam Liu sighed. "I'm also happy."

It was a good thing that the clan was powerful.

However, the price was that she would not see her daughter for a long time, but there was nothing she could do about it.

Liu Sanniang smiled and hugged Madam Liu.

Madam Liu held Liu Sanniang's hand. "I really didn't expect the Ye family to move over. You'll be able to see your sister-in-law soon."

Liu Sanniang nodded. She had decided to stay at home for the new year.

When Madam Liu mentioned Ye Niuniu, she was smiling. Ye Niuniu was good-looking, and most importantly, Liu Erlang liked her.

Old Madam Ye said that she was worried about Ye Niuniu being bullied in the Liu family. The Ye family was full of males, which was why they treated Ye Niuniu as the apple of their eyes.

Thinking that it would be convenient to check in on Ye Niuniu whenever they wanted, they moved over.

Madam Liu smiled as she spoke. "Your second brother is on good terms with the boys from the Ye family. If not for the fact that Ye Niuniu's brothers agreed to this marriage unanimously, your second brother wouldn't be able to marry her."

Liu Sanniang hugged Madam Liu's arm and reassured her. "Mother, don't worry. Second Brother won't bully Second Sister-in-law. What you're worried about won't happen."

Madam Liu was worried that Liu Erlang would suffer in the future. If Liu Erlang treated Ye Niuniu badly, he would definitely be beaten up.

Although she felt that such a thing would never happen, what if it did?

Now that Liu Sanniang said so, Madam Liu suddenly stopped being worried. She felt that her daughter was very persuasive.

In late November, the Ye family moved to Yong County and bought a large courtyard in the back alley of Yong County. Old Madam Ye had a total of three sons. The eldest son was a merchant, and the second and youngest sons helped their brother do business. They were considered to be rich.

Old Master Ye had already passed away, and Old Madam Ye was the one in charge of the family.

The family was also harmonious. They had seven grandchildren, six boys and one girl. Ye Niuniu was the daughter of the third son. Old Madam Ye liked Ye Niuniu so much that she reserved all the good things for her.

On the day of the housewarming party, many people from the Liu clan went.

Liu Sanniang and her family also went early.

Old Madam Ye pulled Madam Liu into the house. The Ye family had hired a few female chefs on this day, so Old Madam Ye's daughters-in-laws were sitting in the house and chatting with them.

Madam Liu brought Liu Sanniang to sit down.

"This must be Sanniang, right? She's really good-looking."

Old Madam Ye looked at Liu Sanniang. As someone who had lived for half her life, she could tell at a glance if someone was good or not. When she saw Liu Sanniang, she really felt that Liu Sanniang was a good girl.

Of course, Old Madam Ye had already asked around about the Liu family. Initially, she thought that it was a pity that such a young girl had taken the path of a psychic. But now that she saw Liu Sanniang, she found her especially likable.

Liu Sanniang smiled. "Granny Ye."

Old Madam Ye smiled. "I always dote on young girls. In the future, we'll be a family. Do you want some candy?"

Old Madam Ye casually took out some candy from the cabinet behind her.

She took out two pieces and handed them to Liu Sanniang. "Niuniu likes it. She said that all girls like to eat this sweet food. It makes them feel good."

Liu Sanniang took it and nodded. "Yes."

Sweetness always made people feel happy.

"It seems like Niuniu didn't lie to me."

Old Madam Ye smiled and was gentle when she talked about Ye Niuniu.

Liu Erlang brought Ye Niuniu out to buy a headdress. When he returned, he took her into the house. When Liu Erlang entered the house, he greeted politely. "Granny, Eldest Aunt, Second Aunt, Third Aunt. Mother, you're all here."

The room was filled with women. Liu Erlang sent Ye Niuniu in and left after greeting.

Ye Niuniu blushed and walked to her mother's side. "Mother."

Madam Zhao smiled. "You're back."

Madam Qiu, wife of the second Master Ye, said with a smile, "Niuniu, sit down. You're about the same age as Sanniang. You two must have something in common to talk about."

Madam Geng, wife of the first master Ye, also echoed. "Your Second Aunt is right. In the future, you'll all be a family. Sanniang won't be at home often, so you have to seize the time to build up your relationship with her."

Ye Niuniu was even more embarrassed.

She looked at Liu Sanniang, her round almond-shaped eyes filled with shyness. She said, "Sanniang, how are you? Erlang often talks about you. You're not at all what I imagined."
