

Lucky Bride 347

Chapter 347: She Didn't Feel Guilty (Part 2)

When Liu Shun was talking to Liu Dashan and the others, he would occasionally glance at Liu Yinni-ang. Looking at his woman who was lost in deep thought, he smiled and nodded to Liu Dashan and Liu Zhongshan's requests.

Liu Shun smiled and said, "First Brother, Second Brother, Fourth Brother, changing jobs is easy, but you can't change jobs so frequently, right? Although the Crown Prince thinks highly of me, I'm by no means a powerful official. This is really the last time. For Yinni-ang's sake, I'll agree."

Liu Dashan, Liu Zhongshan, and Liu Xiaoshan smiled. They knew that Liu Shun would help them.

Liu Dashan smiled and said, "Shun, don't worry. We won't make any mistakes this time. We'll do a good job and become your capable assistant."

Liu Zhongshan also patted his chest and promised. "Me too. You will be assisting the emperor in the future. How can we be a burden to you?"

Liu Xiaoshan also chimed in. "Brother Shun, we'll do our best."

Liu Shun smiled. "I believe you. I know what kind of people you are."

Liu Dashan, Liu Zhongshan, and Liu Xiaoshan all had smiles on their faces. They stood up and said to Liu Yinni-ang, "Yinni-ang, don't tell Father and Mother about this."

Liu Yinni-ang nodded. "I won't tell them."

Liu Dashan, Liu Zhongshan, and Liu Xiaoshan also believed in Liu Yinni-ang. Their sister would not tell their parents about such a small matter. The three of them left in relief.

Liu Yinni-ang's heart tightened. Liu Shun walked up to her and raised her chin. Liu Yinni-ang's pupils constricted and her eyes revealed extreme terror, like a frightened lamb.

Liu Shun smiled. "Let's go to the study room. We can talk about it slowly."

Liu Yinni-ang trembled. The study was a place of extreme trauma to her. She had been tortured there to the point of despair.

Liu Shun smiled. "If Liu Sanni-ang didn't refuse me, you wouldn't have to suffer like this. Chu Yan is a blacksmith. If he could marry you, it would be a great blessing for him."

Liu Yinni-ang's heart ached. She did not notice the sinister look in Liu Shun's eyes. She could not help but think of what Liu Shun had said. Indeed, if Liu Sanni-ang did not refuse him, she would not have to suffer.

And Chu Yan would be her husband.

Liu Yinni-ang felt resentful and indignant. All of this was caused by Liu Sanni-ang. It was Liu Sanni-ang who stole her good marriage.

To her, every second felt like a day. She didn't know when the sky had turned dark and then bright again. She cried so much that her tear glands had dried up.

She sat in the study motionlessly for a long time.

In her mind, she recalled what Liu Shun said. He said that if she was indignant, she could go to Liu Sanniang. She could save her, but it depended on whether she was willing to save or not.

"If she saves you, pretend I didn't say anything and I'll let you off."

"If she doesn't save you, why are you still hesitating? It's all her fault that you're living like this now. Yinniag, I really want to let you go. After all, there are thousands of women in this world. I don't have to torture only you."

Liu Yinniag put on her clothes and went out. It was raining outside.

During this period of time, the weather was gloomy and rainy.

Liu Yinniag walked in the drizzle without an umbrella. She walked to the small courtyard and stood outside the door, but did not knock.

Raindrops rolled down her chin, mixed with her tears.

She stood very still.

Liu Sanniag sat in the main hall. General Black leaned against her feet and whimpered. Liu Sanniag sighed.

Chu Yan was making a wooden bowl. He looked up. "General Black, open the door."

Liu Sanniag knew that Liu Yinniag was here. If someone was here, General Black would remain vigilant. However, there was no knock at the door. Liu Sanniag guessed who it was. She told herself that if Liu Yinniag did not knock, then she'd just pretend she was never here.

As soon as Chu Yan spoke, General Black rushed out. Soon, the door opened and Liu Yinniag screamed.

General Black bit Liu Yinniag's dress and pulled her into the courtyard.

Liu Yinniag looked at Liu Sanniag and opened her mouth awkwardly. "Sanniag."

"Come in."

Liu Sanniag spoke calmly and did not look at Liu Yinniag again. General Black had already returned to her side. Liu Sanniag took a handkerchief and wiped the rain off General Black.

Liu Yinniag's heart tightened. She thought that Liu Sanniag did not recognize her the day before yesterday. That was why she did not chase after her. But now, when Liu Sanniag saw her, she did not feel any guilt or even sympathy. She was very cold.

Liu Yinniag couldn't help but think to herself that in Liu Sanniag's eyes, she was nothing.

Liu Yinniag walked towards the main hall. Although the courtyard was not big, it was clean. Chu Yan was also in the main hall, polishing the wooden bowl. When she entered, Chu Yan did not even look up.

Liu Sanniag took a handkerchief. "Sit down and wipe your face."

Liu Yinniag took it and sat on Liu Sanniag's right. This way, Chu Yan would be very close to her.

It seemed that sitting next to Chu Yan, she would feel some warmth and love.

Liu Sanniang did not notice anything, but Chu Yan stood up and left the main hall.

Liu Yinniag bit her lip. "Why did he leave?"

Liu Sanniang replied calmly. "He went back to his room. You'll fall sick in your wet clothes. Come with me to my room to change, if you don't mind my clothes."

Liu Yinniag quickly shook her head. "No, I don't mind."

Liu Sanniang brought Liu Yinniag back to her room and found some clothes for her. Liu Sanniang went out to boil some water.

Liu Yinniag had already changed and wiped her hair dry. Looking at the bowl Liu Sanniang was holding, she was stunned. Liu Sanniang handed it to her and said, "Drink it to warm up."

Liu Yinniag said, "Are you not sleeping with Chu Yan?"

Liu Sanniang frowned. "We're not married yet."

Liu Yinniag was stunned for a moment. Chu Yan was really good. Even when Liu Sanniang was out with him alone, he did not break the rules.

Liu Yinniag looked at Liu Sanniang and met her gaze. She smiled bitterly. "Sanniang, aren't you surprised to see me like this?"

Liu Sanniang's expression returned to normal. She said calmly, "Yinniag, I've said it before. Liu Shun is not a good person. I also told you the reason. This is your choice."

Liu Yinniag's heart ached. She reached out and grabbed Liu Sanniang's hand. "Sanniang, can you save me? It was my fault in the past. I know now that I made a wrong choice. Please save me."
