

Lucky Bride 434

434 Don't Be Muddle-headed (Part 2)

The heavens gave a chance to everyone in this world.

Whether it was good or evil, one had the chance to choose.

Old Madam Su was shocked. She looked at Liu Sanniang and said slowly, "Miss Liu, don't worry. I won't let myself continue to be muddle-headed."

It was painful to be a confused person. She had been so for many years because of her ignorance. It was enough already.

Old Madam Su sighed and looked at Liu Sanniang. It seemed to be true that where there was evil, there was Liu Sanniang.

At first, Old Madam Su thought that Liu Sanniang came to the Su Mansion to bring Su Xiaowu back, but now it seemed that Liu Sanniang was coming at her.

Old Madam Su calmed down before asking. "Miss Liu, have you seen Xiaowu?"

Liu Sanniang nodded. "Xiaowu is back. She misses you very much."

Old Madam Su's eyes turned red. "I miss her too."

In this world, the one person who could not tolerate Su Xiaowu the most was that vicious woman. She could not even tolerate a silly girl. Her heart was already black and rotten. Before Old Madam Su left Chuzhou, she had to clean up this mess first.

Otherwise, her poor son would be manipulated by that woman and eventually lose everything.

Old Madam Su stood up with difficulty. "Miss Liu, you are here to clean the evil. Please help me. My psychic power is not as good as before. I'm no longer her match."

Liu Sanniang. "Okay."

Old Madam Su shouted out loud. "Sunyang, come in."

Su Yuanyang had been waiting outside. When he heard the sound from inside, he immediately opened the door and entered. He looked at Old Madam Su and hurriedly went forward to support her. "Mother."

Old Madam Su forced a smile. "Once this matter is exposed, it will ruin your future. It will be difficult for you to raise your head for the rest of your life, but we have no choice."

Su Yuanyang realized something and his lips trembled. "Didn't you say before..."

As long as they treated him as their father, it didn't matter even if they weren't related by blood.

This was pure humiliation. If it was made public, he would never be able to raise his head again. Su Xiaowu was a fool, and he could not have another child in his life. Couldn't they just keep it a secret?

Su Yuanyang's eyes turned red as he gritted his teeth. "Grandma, I can take the blow."

Old Madam Su sighed. "My son, you have to remove the thorn in your side. It'll be fine after the pain passes. She can't even tolerate a silly girl. What else can she tolerate? I was foolish in the past to let her marry you. How can I let you continue to suffer more humiliation?"

Su Yuanyang's heart skipped a beat. "Is this Miss Liu's idea?"

Su Yuanyang looked at Liu Sanniang coldly.

Old Madam Su shook her head. "No, this is my idea. I know that you'll be in pain, but this is the reality we have to face. Call them all over. Today, we'll end it. Even if Su Xiaowu is forever stupid, no one can erase her existence. She is your only biological daughter."

If that woman could tolerate Su Xiaowu, Old Madam Su would never want to bring everything out to the open. This was related to her son's dignity. If a man's dignity was trampled, it would be equivalent to him standing naked on the street and being mocked by others.

There was an indescribable hurt in Su Yuanyang's eyes. He was in extreme pain. He wanted to say that they did not have to do this, but he could not say it. If he could even endure this, then was he still a man?

Su Yuanyang looked at Liu Sanniang and felt that everything was too unreal. When he woke up this morning, he was still the father of a few children. Everything was fine, but now, he was left with only one daughter.

Old Madam Su sighed. "Don't be afraid. I'm still here with you. I once told you that when I was young, I traveled through most parts of the world and saved countless people. However, what returned to me was all sins. I lived my entire life before I just realized that I was just a chess piece in someone else's hand. Even if I have to crawl, I will crawl to Kunlun to find an answer. If I'm not afraid, what are you afraid of?"

Su Yuanyang looked at Old Madam Su in shock. He could not believe his ears.

Old Madam Su was also in pain, even more so than him.

Su Yuanyang wiped his face. "I'll listen to you. I'll call them over now."

Old Madam Su nodded weakly. "Go ahead. I also have a few questions to ask her."

Su Yuanyang clenched his fists. He wanted to know what he had done to deserve to be humiliated by her to this extent.

Su Yuanyang stood up and walked out.

Old Madam Su sighed. Her heart hurt, but after the pain, she became more and more determined.

A wrong decision would eventually bring about a painful result.

Su Yuanyang left the temple hall and went to the main courtyard with a dark expression. As soon as he entered the courtyard, he asked coldly. "Where's Madam?"

The servant did not know what had happened, but he could clearly sense that Su Yuanyang was in a bad mood. He answered carefully. "Madam is in the room."

Su Yuanyang stopped in his tracks. "Let Madam go to the temple hall. Old Madam is leaving."

The servant's expression changed. Su Yuanyang had already turned around and walked out of the courtyard. He wanted to call the three children over. The eldest child was already ten years old. He remembered that the day Su Xiaowu got lost, she was playing with him. He cried and said that he didn't know. He was just a child. It would be fine if he really didn't know, but what if he knew?

Since Sun Yuanyang wanted to know, he had to know everything thoroughly. He could either pretend to be stupid until he died or ruthlessly get to the bottom of it.

Su Yuanyang did not even bother to go and get the children himself. He instructed the servants to bring the children to the temple hall. Just the thought of the children he had doted on for so many years not being his made his heart burn with pain.

Outside the temple hall, he saw a woman waiting outside. Su Yuanyang stopped in his tracks. The woman was already walking towards him. She had a beautiful face and didn't at all look like a woman in her thirties. Time seemed to have only added some charm to her as a mother. There were tears in her eyes. "Master, why all of a sudden... our mother is dying?"
