Lucky Collision ( Evans and Martin Robinson ) Chapter 19

Chapter 19 Am I Pregnant?

Evans had no idea what had happened to Ms. Watson.

Evans was eagerly waiting for tomorrow to arrive soon, so he could get an update on the market situation for the next day.

Ding!

The phone notification indicated that Mackenzie Realty Group stock was expected to rise briefly before dropping again, resulting in a 3.59% gain on May 23rd.

The stock of Ruby Pharmaceutical was expected to increase by 20.05%.

I guess I'm a lucky duck. It's like when I think of something, it magically happens.

However, the information presented Evans with a challenge. He pondered the fluctuations of Mackenzie Realty Group stock before it increased in the end.

Despite that, Evans was certain that Mackenzie Realty Group stock would rise by 3.59% the next day.

No matter how poorly Evans handled the situation, he would still have at least a 3% gain.

After reading up on the information, Evans made his plans.

Then, Evans patiently waited for the next day to arrive.

The following day, as it was getting close to 9.20 am, Evans seized an opportunity to sneak back to the dormitory.

Mackenzie Realty Group stock started the day with a 2.66% gain.

Ruby Pharmaceutical stock showed a 1.33% decrease at the market's opening.

Evans held his phone, and he stared at the interface.

Due to Mackenzie Realty Group stock hitting the trading limit twice in a row, there was a risk of a market pullback today.

Based on the information Evans had gained, the stock would experience a slight increase before dropping.

Then, Evans decided to make a bold move to sell his stocks at the upper limit.

Typically speaking, the stock would hit its upper limit before declining.

The stock market opened at 9.30 am.

Mackenzie Realty Group stock rose swiftly.

Evans was thrilled when he saw it. He had no idea how high the stock price would climb.

7.63%...

8.82%...

5.77%...

No way. The stock is already declining.

Evans was anxious, contemplating if 8.82% was the highest the stock could reach that day. He was unsure whether to sell, but the stock price continued to drop.

After hesitating for three minutes, a massive buying order came in to buy out a large bulk of the stocks.

Yes!

Seeing the stock reach the upper limit, Evans chuckled with delight.

It was a 10% gain for Evans.

Currently, Evans accumulated a whopping 3.47 million dollars in his total wealth.

Evans's personal fund amounted to 1.17 million dollars.

Yes, I'm finally a millionaire!

Without hesitation, Evans started buying stocks of Ruby Pharmaceutical in multiple batches.

Given the substantial funds at hand, making a single purchase of over three million dollars would easily arouse suspicion.

As a student majoring in finance, Evans knew what he had to do.

Out of nowhere, Evans had a new idea.

Evans would sell off his Ruby Pharmaceutical stocks the following day. Then, he would re-enter the market with a leverage ratio of ten times.

With over one million dollars as his personal fund, Evans could easily leverage it to secure a 10 million dollar loan.

By then, Evans's daily income would exceed a meager sum of a few hundred thousand but a million dollars a day.

Not long after Evans purchased the stocks, Ruby Pharmaceutical took off.

The stock did not perform as strongly as Evans had expected. Instead, it was a gradual upward trend.

Evans no longer paid much attention to the stock market as he had plans to secure additional financing tomorrow.

After getting ready to return to the classroom, Evans received Zoe's message, "Evans, I think I'm pregnant!"

What!

Evans was startled by the message.

Evans quickly made a phone call, but Zoe did not answer. Instead, Evans received another text message, "I'm currently in class. I've been feeling off since I woke up this morning."

"I feel like I'm going to throw up."

Da mmit! You scared the heck out of me. I didn’t even get intimate with you. How did you get pregnant?

Evans asked, “Who is the father?”

Zoe sent an emoji depicting rolling eyes.

“No matter who is the father, you have to take responsibility.”

“Let’s meet up. I’ll arrange a hotel room for you to get some rest.”

Zoe was speechless.

Evans is up to no good! He always tries to trick me into going to hotels.

After the class ended, Evans asked Zoe out.

Zoe held her stomach as she rested under a tree.

“I’ll take you to the infirmary”

Zoe nodded, and Evans accompanied her to the infirmary.

The doctor explained that Zoe was experiencing menstrual cramps as she approached her period.

Zoe gave Evans a wry smile in embarrassment. She picked up some medication from the infirmary. Unfortunately, she couldn't walk properly.

Evans suggested, "How about I send you home?"

"No!" Zoe hesitated as she looked at Evans. Then, she said, "How about we get a hotel room? I don't feel like going back to the dormitory."

After hesitating for so long, Zoe finally agreed to go to the hotel with me.

However, Evans could not find any joy in this situation.

Evans suspected Zoe had deliberately done it to torment him, but he still took Zoe out of the campus.

Evans hailed a taxi by the roadside and asked, "Could you take me to a nearby five-star hotel?"

The taxi driver smirked at Evans and Zoe. He drove them to the Elegance Hotel.

Evans wasn't trying to flaunt his wealth, but he didn't want to stay at those budget motels near the school that lacked cleanliness.

After Evans helped Zoe into the room, Zoe asked, "Why did we have to go all the way here?"

"I remember there are hotels near the campus.

Evans smiled, "Those places don't befit your status."

"I want to find the best place I can offer for you."

Zoe glared at Evans, "Don't overthink it. I'm not feeling well."

Evans was left speechless.

"Do you have to say that?"

"Besides, do I seem like that kind of person?"

"Alright! Can you come closer to give me a massage?"

Evans held Zoe in his arms, rubbing her stomach gently.

As Evans rubbed Zoe's stomach, Zoe blurted.

"Hey, what are you doing? Stop it."

"Don't do that."

Zoe was annoyed, "You're a naughty person."

Evans withdrew his hand, seemingly satisfied.

A group of managers gathered around a young lady in the hotel lobby. They escorted her to the front desk.

"Ms. Angelina, the hotel has been doing exceptionally well lately. We have put in a lot of effort."

"Our performance for this season has increased by 60%."

The managers followed behind the young lady respectfully.

The young lady approached the front desk staff, and she requested the guest check-in records for the day. She wanted to verify if the hotel's performance matched the managers' claims.

"Evans...?"

Upon seeing the name "Evans" at first glance, Angelina initially thought it was a coincidence.

Upon reading the age and the personal details, Angelina frowned, "Why is he staying here?"

"When did this guest check in?"

"He checked in 20 minutes ago with a girl."

Angelina frowned, "Can you get me the surveillance footage for the hotel lobby?"

"Sure, Ms. Angelina. Can you give me a second?"

Two minutes later, the staff retrieved the footage.

Angelina sneered before shaking her head.

I underestimated him!

When Angelina was about to leave, the elevator doors opened.

Evans was hurrying to fetch the remedy for Zoe's menstrual cramps when he unexpectedly spotted Angelina, who was surrounded by a group of people.

"Why are you here?"

Da mmit!The fact that I went to a hotel with Zoe is going to be exposed.

Angelina looked at Evans, baffled, "Why can't I be here?"

"This is my family's business. Since the first day I entered the university, my family entrusted this place to me to manage."

Evans's palm was sweating.

This is awkward!! I knew Angelina's family was wealthy, but this has surpassed my expectations. The family has entrusted the management of a five-star hotel to a young lady like her. Oh my god!

Evans waved his hand, "It's nothing. I'll be going!"
