

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 21

Chapter 21

Diana's pov

Avia kept increasing the force stepping on the bracelet.

I even heard the sound of pearls sticking into the carpet and rubbing against the ground!

I glared at Avia angrily.

“Don't get too far! Stop or you'd pay.”

“So what if I just go farther?” Avia laughed, “The more you cherish it, the more I will destroy it! Didn't you say this is your mother's legacy? Then let it disappear with your mother! This is the price you must pay for trying to steal Nathan from me!”

There was madness and viciousness in Avia's eyes.

I couldn't hold back the anger in my heart anymore, so much so that I didn't even hear the elevator door behind me open and someone come out.

I raised my hand and just was about to slap on Avia's face.

However, someone grabbed my wrist!

Then, Nathan's cold voice sounded behind me.

“What are you going to do to Avia?”

Avia immediately changed her face when she saw Nathan.

Her eyes quickly turned red and acted terrified like I was some demon taking her life. “Nathan, she's going to-”

Snapped!

Before Avia could finish speaking, I raised my other arm and slapped her hard.

Avia screamed, covered her face and collapsed to the ground.

I looked at the scene in front of me with cold eyes and turned to stare at Nathan, who looked shocked, with a furious expression on his face.

“I’m going to beat her, what are you going to do?”

“Are you crazy?” Nathan growled, gazing at me so coldly like knives shoving towards me.

He grabbed my wrist and threw me to one side, and hurriedly went to help Avia who fell to the ground.

My knees were still aching, and Nathan’s move almost caused me to fall again.

I barely managed to stand firm by holding on to the wall, but there was a “click” from my ankle.

Severe pain came and I knew my foot must be crooked.

I looked at Nathan and Avia angrily.

Nathan carefully lifted Avia up and was nervously checking her right cheek. “Are you okay? Does it hurt?”

Nathan’s eyes were filled with worry.

Avia threw herself into his arms and burst into tears.

“You’re finally back Nathan, I’m so scared!”

Nathan patted her back gently and asked, “What happened?”

“This woman...” Avia choked while pointing at me, “This woman came over to me and asked for a pearl bracelet. If I didn’t give it to her, she would beat me.”

Hearing this, Nathan frowned.

“I bought the bracelet for Avia. If you have any problem, come at me! Avia is innocent and knows nothing. Besides, she just had surgery, how could you do it?” Nathan’s questioning voice just made me laugh.

Innocent?

Know nothing?

An innocent who intentionally destroyed my mother’s legacy?

Who knew nothing but wore s*xxy lingerie to claim ‘No one can steal Nathan from her’?

How ridiculous!

“Then why don’t you ask Avia what she did first?” I yelled.

“I...I didn’t do anything. I wanted to go to sleep.” Avia shook her head in Nathan’s arms, looking pitiful.

Nathan patted her shoulder, “It’s okay, don’t be afraid. I’m here.”

Avia wiped her tears and nodded obediently.

However, from an angle that Nathan couldn’t see, she was raising the corners of her mouth proudly at me.

Suddenly I made up my mind.

Yeah, what’s the use of me arguing about the truth?

Nathan loves Avia, his eyes and heart are biased towards Avia.

No matter what I say, he will only believe Avia.

I closed my eyes.

When I opened it again, my mood had calmed down a lot.

“Forget it.” I endured the pain in my ankle and walked up to Nathan, “I only came here for one thing. I want to get back my pearl bracelet. Alpha Nathan, you took it away without my knowledge. Don’t you think your behavior is too despicable for something that belongs to me?”

At the mention of this, a trace of uneasiness flashed across Nathan’s face.

He was silent for a moment and then said, “I can give you a more precious bracelet. There will be an auction the day after tomorrow. I know there is one from –” “I don’t want it!” I interrupted his soliloquy, “I just want this pearl bracelet!”

“Impossible!” Nathan decisively rejected me, “This bracelet is a legacy of Avia’s mother.”

I was stunned.

“You said...the pearl bracelet is...a legacy of...Avia’s mother?”

“Yes. So even for this reason, you shouldn’t rob it. Diana, I remember that you were a compassionate person in the past.”

“Robbing?” I felt incredible, “That bracelet is obviously-

“Nathan...” Avia’s weak voice interrupted me. She tugged on Nathan’s sleeve and said, “My head is starting to feel uncomfortable again. Can we go back to sleep?”

Hearing this, Nathan half-armed Avia to enter the house.

“No! You can’t leave!”

I grabbed Nathan!

Avia tried to fool this into thinking that she was dreaming.

Why did she made up the lie?

“That’s obviously my mother’s legacy!” I shouted.

Nathan paused and looked back at me in shock.

“What did you say?”

“I said, that pearl bracelet is a legacy of my mother! Otherwise, why do you think I had to bid such a price for it? You don’t really think I’m jealous of Avia because of you, do you?”

“No. Nathan, don’t listen to her nonsense. I didn’t lie to you.” Avia cried.

“Really?” I sneered, “Avia, I’m going to teach you a lesson today. Before Iying, you must first remove all evidence against yourself.”

Avia’s face turned pale.

I raised my arm and pointed at the monitor facing this bedroom and said, “Do you think it can lie?”

“I...” Avia’s lips trembled, and her face became increasingly ugly.

Nathan looked down at her.

“Avia, is everything Diana said true?”

“No! It’s not true! Nathan, you know me, right? How could I lie to you?” Avia still refused to admit it, she frowned, “Nathan, I really don’t feel well, I want to rest.

“I think you won’t give up until you see the evidence.” I called the hotel manager. “I think you won’t give up until you see th “I’ll give you three minutes. I want all the videos from the first 20 minutes of the 1003 door surveillance.”

Almost

at the same time that I hung up the phone, Avia’s legs went weak and she managed to stand still while holding on to Nathan’s arm.

In less than three minutes, I received a new message on my phone.

I sneered, turned the screen on my phone, and clicked play in front of Nathan.

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 22

Chapter 22

Diana's pov

The hotel's monitoring could only record images and couldn't record sounds.

But Nathan was not a fool.

After about half a minute, he sorted out what happened exactly.

He first glanced at the pearl bracelet thrown on the ground, and then his gaze fell on Avia's trembling face.

"Avia, whose exactly is this bracelet?"

"I... I..." Avia trembled, unable to say a word.

Actually, there was no need to ask further.

If this bracelet was truly Avia's mother's legacy, how could she throw it on the ground like garbage and repeatedly crush it?

Nathan certainly knew it.

He just didn't want to believe that his beloved Avia would be so vicious, so he wanted Avia to tell him in person.

Seeing Avia refuse to answer, Nathan's eyes were gradually filled with disappointment.

Avia's face became increasingly pale.

She kept shaking her head.

I thought the truth was clear enough by now.

I was even wondering if Nathan would treat Avia like he did to Zoe.

But suddenly, Avia let out a deafening scream.

I was startled.

I saw her clasp her head with both hands like a lunatic.

"It's not me!" She shouted, "The person in this video is not me! How could I do such a malicious thing? It's not me! This is really my mother's bracelet! I haven't done this! How could it be me....

no!"

Nathan and I were both stunned.

Immediately afterwards, Avia exclaimed with a ferocious expression on her face –

"Nathan, my head hurts so much! My head hurts so much!"

Nathan's face suddenly changed.

He immediately stepped forward and held Avia, his emotions rapidly shifting from disappointment and anger to deep concern.

"Avia! Avia!"

But it was of no avail.

"It hurts so much, Nathan. I feel like there are two souls in my head... I don't know... I really didn't do the thing in the video, I didn't! That's not m e! It hurts so much... Nathan, believe me... it's my mother's bracelet... I don't know... it hurts! It hurts so much!"

"Okay! Okay!" Nathan hugged Avia tightly, "I believe you! I believe you! Calm down, Avia, I believe you!"

I looked at the one in front of me in shock.

"You believe her?" I asked incredulously. "The monitoring has already explained everything! Are you choosing to turn a blind eye?"

"Shut up!" Nathan shouted at me. "Didn't you see Avia hurt?"

I was stunned.

Because she "hurts", she can confound right and wrong at will?

Did Nathan mean it?

Avia continued to shout, "It's not me... Nathan... My head hurts so much! Medicine! Give me the medicine! I need the medicine."

Medicine?

I couldn't help frowning.

Avia has already recovered! I examined her in person! I made sure every part of her body was fine!

What medicine does she need?

Before I could figure it out, I saw Nathan hurriedly carrying Avia into the bedroom and taking out a white medicine bottle from the bedside cupboard.

Then he poured out a green capsule from the medicine bottle and fed it to Avia.

A magical scene happened.

After taking the capsule, Avia gradually calmed down.

My brain briefly went down for three seconds.

Did Avia use drugs after recovering?”

Nathan was feeding her drugs?

God! Am I crazy? Is this world crazy?

I saw Nathan cover Avia up with a quilt and then lowered his head and said something to her.

It wasn't until Avia closed her eyes and fell asleep that he gently closed the door and came to me.

I raised my eyebrows and looked at him.

I didn't care if Avia was crazy or on drugs.

The only purpose I came here today was to retrieve my mother's bracelet.

“Nathan, I

“Avia got worse after the surgery.”

Nathan's voice echoed almost simultaneously with mine, and my words suddenly choked up in my throat.

“What did you say?” I blinked my eyes.

If Avia was schizophreniac, why don't I, her physician know?

“Not long ago, Healer gave Avia an examination. The Healer said that she hasn't fully recovered and needs to take medicine to maintain mental stability,” Nathan explained.

When did I say she hasn't fully recovered?

She couldn't be more healthy!

What kind of mess is all this?

I suddenly remembered the examination report that Avia had thrown into the trash bin a few days ago, and a guess formed in my mind.

Did Avia not want Nathan to know that she had recovered, so she deliberately pretended to be sick?

In this way, not only can she receive more attention from Nathan, but she can also find a perfect excuse even if she makes a mistake.

Just like just now!

I took a deep breath and suddenly felt absurd.

Damn it, my identity is Diana now, not Healer. I cannot expose Avia's trick.

I could only calm myself down first.

"So, why are you telling me this? Give the bracelet to Avia?" I asked.

"Avia said it was indeed her mother's legacy," Nathan said with a serious expression.

I couldn't help but sneer, "Isn't she mentally unstable? Perhaps she remembered it wrong."

"Diana, pay attention to your words," Nathan warned.

I rolled my eyes.

I don't know how dare Nathan ask me to pay attention to my words. A year ago, he said countless things that are more outrageous to me.

Did he mind his words?

But now is clearly not the time to argue with him.

After some thoughts, I took my mother's pearl necklace off my neck.

"Do you remember this?" I asked.

Nathan's eyes narrowed slightly.

At this moment, he probably remembered that he had once allowed Zoe to break my necklace in order to please her.

Later, I picked up the pearls one by one and strung them back together.

"This necklace and the pearl bracelet at the auction are the same set, and there is only one set in the world. I believe you can tell. Or... we can go to the institution for confirmation now. The institution won't lie, right?"

Nathan remained silent.

A few seconds later, he shook his head.

"No need. I can tell they're the same," he said, adding, "I'm sorry, I didn't notice in time and caused Avia to mistaken it for hers."

I can't believe my ears.

Alpha Nathan, who is aloof and contemptuous of everything, one day apologized to

1. me.

But I don't want his apology!

This is nothing to me.

I looked at him coldly and asked, "Now, can I take my bracelet?"

Nathan nodded and bent down to pick up the pearl bracelet in person.

I was about to stop him when I saw the pearl bracelet break the moment Nathan picked it up!

Time seemed to freeze at this moment. Everything has become incredibly slow. Time seemed to overlap with a year ago.

The pearls hit the ground one by one, making a continuous sound,

My body froze, and I felt my whole body's blood freezing to the extreme at this moment.

Nathan's face flashed a hint of confusion, and then he suddenly looked up at me.

"Diana, I don't know, I -"

"Shut up!" I shouted, close to emotional breakdown!

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 23

Chapter 23

Diana's pov

I squatted on the ground and picked up the scattered pearls one by one.

Many of them were worn and lost their luster due to being stepped on by Avia.

My heart ached deeply.

I held back my tears and put away all the beads, turning around to leave the place that made me nauseous.

Nathan grabbed my wrist, his eyes filled with regret.

“Diana, I didn’t mean to, I –”

“Don’t f**king touch me!” I shouted.

Tears could no longer be controlled, sliding down my cheeks.

I looked at the man in front of me, who I had loved with all my heart for two years, and smiled sarcastically.

I turned my head aside, trying to calm the inner turmoil, and then spoke to him in the calmest tone possible–

“A year ago, you broke my mother’s necklace for a woman. A year later, you broke my mother’s bracelet for another woman. I really regret... I really regret meeting you. Nathan, if there were another chance, I would never fall in love with you. I would transfer the money of the bracelet to you. 800 million. There won’t be a cent less. From then on, I have nothing to do with you!”

Nathan was stunned by my words..

He opened his mouth as if trying to explain something, but I no longer wanted to listen.

I shook him off with force and, in his shocked gaze, left the hotel without looking back

Returning home, I felt as if I had lost all my strength.

I nestled in the sofa in the living room, curled up together and didn’t want to say a word.

The sound of footsteps came from behind.

Someone touched my head.

“Are you okay?”

It was Marc’s voice.

I turned around and looked at Marc with watery eyes, shaking my head.

Marc sighed and sat down on the sofa, patting his shoulder and signaling me to come to him.

1

My nose twitched and I got into his arms.

Marc half hugged me and whispered, “I already know about the auction. You can totally tell me this and I will solve it.”

“That’s Mom’s bracelet. I can’t wait.” I choked.

“Mom also doesn’t want to see you suffer for her belongings,” Marc said. “Alright, now tell me, did you successfully retrieve the bracelet?”

“Hmm.” I nodded and took out the pearl from my handbag, “but-”

I couldn’t help but shed tears, “But the bracelet broke, and the pearls... the pearls were also worn.”

Marc took the pearl from my hand and looked at it for a moment before saying, “It’s a small thing. Mom won’t blame you. You’ve already taken back Mom’s bracelet. It’s the person who broke the bracelet to blame, and I will make them pay for it.” Marc called the butler and handed the pearl to him, ordering him to find the best craftsman to repair it.

I sniffed and asked, “What did you mean by saying ‘make them pay for it’?”

Marc's attitude clearly cooled down. "If Nathan dares to do anything to harm you with his little lover, he should be prepared to declare a war with Blade Moon Pack"

I was startled.

"Are you going to start a war against Nathan?"

"It was he who provoked me first and dared to touch my most precious sister." Marc's gaze was cold.

"No," I quickly dissuaded Marc. "I have already resolved this. Don't start a war because of me."

"But—"

Marc wanted to say something else, but the butler who had just left came back "Alpha, a few people arrived at the door. The leader claims to be Jack Chappel, the organizer of tonight's auction. He is clamoring to see you, saying..." The butler looked at me and added, "Saying that Miss Reist has cut off all the economic and goods sources of Chappel Group, causing their stock prices to drop to the bottom. They are going to declare bankruptcy tomorrow. How do we..."

Marc raised his eyebrows and looked at me with a playful expression.

"You did this?"

"I did it."

"Send them away," Marc turned to the butler and said, "Since it's the order of Diana, just carry it out."

"Yes."

The butler turned around and left.

I looked at Marc and said, "Why don't you ask me why I want Chappel Group to go bankrupt?"

“You must have your own reasons. I know my sister. You will never do anything unreasonable. Besides, they secretly resell mom’s bracelet. It’s already a felony.”

Just as Marc finished speaking, there was a sudden commotion outside the door.

The butler rushed in and said. “I won’t leave. He said if you don’t come forward and uphold justice, he will die in front of the villa.”

“Then let him die,” Marc said without a trace of emotion.

“Yes!” The butler nodded, “I have –

“Wait a moment,” I quickly stopped the butler. “Is ‘yes’ your only answer to Marc’s order?”

“I... I...” The butler looked confused.

I looked at Marc and said, “Let’s go meet Jack.”

“This is a waste of time, Diana,” Marc frowned.

“Perhaps. But we can’t let others say that our Blade Moon pack’s Alpha is biased towards his sister and unreasonable.”

Marc looked indifferent and said, “With my strength, you really don’t need to reason with others.”

“Despite this, I don’t want my brother to be gossiped about by others.”

“They dare not.”

“Let’s go, Marc.” I pulled Marc up from the sofa.

Marc might not care about his reputation, but I did.

Coming out of the villa, I saw Jack standing at the door with two staff members who had provoked me at the auction today.

As soon as he saw Marc, Jack immediately pointed at me and complained, “Alpha Marc, do you know what your sister has done?”

Marc looked disinterested and said, “If you’re here to ask me such boring questions, then you can leave.”

Marc turned around to leave, and Jack was in a hurry..

“Wait! Wait Alpha!” Jack chased after Marc, looking embarrassed.

Marc stopped and turned to look at him, saying in a disdainful tone, “You’d better figure out what you’re saying to me.”

Jack nodded repeatedly and summoned the two staff members, “Tell Alpha everything you’ve gone through tonight.”

“Yes!” The two staff members responded in unison.

Then, one of them pointed at me and said, “Alpha Marc, Miss Reist was at the auction today because she was jealous of Alpha Nathan’s girlfriend and wanted to auction off a pearl bracelet for 400 million! We all know you wouldn’t let her spend money so recklessly. She couldn’t afford the bracelet for 400 million at all. So our boss negotiated with Alpha Nathan and then resold the bracelet to Alpha Nathan. As a result, Miss Reist took revenge on the entire Chappel group and wanted us to go bankruptcy!”

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 24

Chapter 24

Diana’s pov

“That’s right! Alpha Marc, you didn’t see the scene at the auction today. Diana was a discredit to Blade Moon Pack! You must punish her!”

Another staff member even called me by name and accused me.

I sneered.

These two people are clearly deliberately shifting the focus of the incident.

In their description, I was completely an arrogant, capricious, and reckless woman.

And they, on the contrary, became the embodiment of justice who suffered my revenge for stopping me.

“What are you laughing at?” Jack asked after seeing my calm expression. “Are they saying anything wrong?”

I raised my eyebrows. Instead of answering their questions, I stared at two “just” staff members and asked-

—

“Aren’t you saying that you don’t believe I will make your company go bankrupt? Since you don’t believe me, why are you here questioning me now?”

“We...”

The two staff members choked up and couldn’t speak, with an awkward expression on their faces.

Jack walked up and pointed at me, shouting, “Don’t shift the topic! Does this matter?”

“You mean you are allowed to shift the focus, but I can’t?” I asked.

Jack blinked guiltily.

“What topic did I shift?”

“You didn’t? Then why didn’t you tell Alpha that you sold the pearl bracelet that already belonged to me to Alpha Nathan, even after I successfully auctioned it off? 800 million! Jack Chappel, you really have a big appetite. How dare you ask for 800 million?”

“I...” Jack licked his lips and explained, “I thought you couldn’t afford to give me the 400 million! Imagine, you’re just a divorced woman, how could you have so much money in just one year? You could only spend Alpha Marc’s money!”

Upon hearing this, Marc asked inexplicably, “What’s wrong with Diana spending my money?”

Jack immediately said, “We all know that you would never indulge Diana so much, Alpha. It’s impossible to spend 400 million to buy her a pearl bracelet.”

Speaking of this, Jack’s confidence suddenly came back, “We’re doing this to save you money.”

“For me to save money?” Marc repeated Jack’s words, “So, do I need to thank you?” “That’s not necessary,” Jack touched his nose as if trying to hide his proud expression. “We just hope you can punish Diana severely and give us justice.

Marc nodded.

Just as Jack thought he had won, Marc casually asked, “So in your view, I’m very poor. I don’t have the qualifications to compete with Alpha Nathan at all?”

The smile on Jack’s face was frozen.

“I... I didn’t mean that, I...”

“So why do you think Alpha Nathan can spend 800 million on a bracelet for his lover, while I can’t spend 400 million for my sister?”

“I...”

Jack’s eyes widened.

I saw his face almost turn pale in an instant.

Marc touched his chin and said slowly, “Also, there are a few things I need to correct

you. Firstly, although I am willing to spend money for Diana, I would like to emphasize that she earns all her money herself. Even the business center you held today’s auction was also established by Diana.”

Jack took a big step back.

Marc smiled and then his gaze became cold.

“Secondly, the pearl bracelet you auctioned today is a legacy of our mother! Diana just wanted to retrieve her mother’s belongings. I don’t understand why it became a jealous competition with another woman.”

As Marc finished speaking, Jack sat down on the ground.

The two staff members were also afraid.

“Legacy...” Jack muttered to himself, his pupils trembling violently.

After figuring it out, he immediately knelt down on the ground and begged, “I didn’t know that the bracelet belonged to your and Miss Dia... Reist’s mother! If I had known, I would have never done this! Please, forgive me!”

Marc looked expressionlessly at them.

Jack pointed at the two staff members and shouted, “Aren’t you going to apologize to Miss Reist?”

The two staff members regained their senses and all ran to kneel down in front of

1. me.

“We were wrong! Miss Reist, please forgive us!”

Jack walked awkwardly up to me and said, “I can fire them! Please don’t let my company go bankrupt, please.”

I didn’t respond to him.

Not everyone deserved to be forgiven.

Marc pulled me behind him and blocked me with his broad shoulders.

“All misdeeds should be punished.” He said coldly, immediately ordering the butler. “Ask people to drag them out, and from then on, they should never enter Blade Moon pack.”

“Yes!”

“No! No! I’m wrong. I’m really wrong.”

Several guards set up Jack and two staff members and dragged them out of the yard.

The world was finally quiet.

I breathed a sigh of relief and returned to the living room.

I saw Marc say something to the maid next to him.

In a moment, April walked downstairs with a medicine box.

Marc frowned and hurried forward, taking the medicine box with one hand and supporting April with the other.

“Didn’t I ask the maid to pick up the medicine box? Why did you come down? You’ve been pregnant for almost seven months now. Be careful.”

It was hard to imagine that the cold Alpha, who just helped me teach Jack a lesson, would become a chatterbox after seeing his pregnant wife.

I couldn't help but smile.

April and Marc loved each other deeply.

The happiness between them influenced me, making my mood much better.

"I heard the maid say someone is bullying our sister. Of course I have to come over and take a look," April said, looking around. "Let me see which bastard dared to bully our sister."

"Marc has already helped me revenge," I said, lying on the back of the sofa.

April sat on the sofa with Marc's help.

Marc told her about the fate of those guys, and April's face improved a bit.

"What do you need this medicine box for?" April asked Marc.

"By the way,

I also feel puzzled.

Marc looked at me and said, "Show me your feet."

"Hmm?"

I didn't understand at a moment.

"Just now I noticed that your foot is twisted, isn't it?" Marc asked.

I blinked and remembered the scene not long ago when Nathan shook me off.

I did twist my foot at that time.

My nose twitched.

Marc even noticed the things I overlooked myself.

I really didn't know why I was crazy enough to cut off contact with my family and wholeheartedly accompanied Nathan.

Marc picked up my injured foot and found that my ankle had already swollen.

He furrowed his brow and asked, "Who did it?"

I lowered my head without answering.

Marc looked up at me and said, "I know even if you don't tell me. Except for Nathan, who else could hurt you? Sure enough, I should have destroyed the Dark Moon Pack."

"What? It's Nathan again! Why is he still haunted?" April looked even angrier than me. "Fight! We must fight! I support you! He dares to bully our most precious sister. Is he looking for death? Bastard! Scumbag!"

I helplessly supported my forehead and sighed.

"It's just a small injury. There's no need to bring war to those innocent people," I said, turning to April and saying, "You're still pregnant. Don't be angry for me. It's not good for the child."

April pursed her lips and said, "Alright. Alright. I definitely have to comply with Healer's words."

Marc brought me an ankle fixator and said, "You're just too kind. You were kind when you were young. And still when you grow up. I remember when you were five years old, you saved a mother and her son from Rogue alone. Mom, dad and I were almost worried to death."

“You’re exaggerating too much,” I chuckled. “Didn’t I come back unharmed in the end? By the way, I’m wondering how the mother and son are doing now.”

Just as I was immersed in memories, the phone I used as Healer received a text message.

I clicked on my phone and it turned out to be Nathan.

The same question appeared. He asked me if I had time tomorrow.

I sent him a question mark.

He replied, ‘Avia’s surgical sequela is very serious. She seems to be a bit mentally disordered. I need you to come and check it out.’

I rolled my eyes.

‘Who told you that Avia had a sequelae? How come the attending physician doesn’t know?’ I asked.

It was about half a minute before Nathan’s message arrived again.

‘Anyway, you must come. Avia’s current situation is bad.’

I couldn’t bear it anymore and retrieved Avia’s examination report from my phone and sent them to Nathan.

‘I am certain that Avia’s surgery was successful and she has fully recovered. This is the result of all her examination reports. You can look for any doctor you can trust, and you won’t find any problem. As for why she is mentally disordered, you should not come to ask me, but to ask her!’

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 25

Chapter 25

Diana's pov

But Nathan clearly had no intention of giving up.

Soon he sent the same message as last time.

‘100 million. Are you coming or not?’

I stared at my phone screen and sneered, once again feeling the importance of Avia to Nathan.

Unfortunately, Avia's illness was clearly a pretense, and I was not interested in wasting my time playing with them.

‘No.’ I replied without hesitation.

‘200 million, or you ask for a price.’ Nathan responded in seconds.

I sneered.

So, Nathan really thought I would change my mind at the sight of money?

I was too tired to talk to him for another word, so I simply blocked him.

“What happened?” Marc asked.

I shook my head and didn't want to say much.

“You look very tired, dear. Go to bed early,” April patted on my back.

“Okay, I'm going to sleep. And April, you should also go have some rest.”

I got up and went upstairs.

After returning to the room, I took a shower.

When I came out of the bathroom, my phone rang.

It was still the work phone I used as Healer. There was a polite man's voice coming from inside.

"Hello, dear Healer, I am Alpha Henry from Blue Mountain Pack. I take the liberty of calling you so late."

I remembered the preview exhibition not long ago when Henry mentioned to me in a chat that his brother was sick.

I thought that's why he called me,

Sure enough, after a simple and polite greeting, he mentioned his brother's illness and hoped that I could help to treat him.

His voice sounded a bit nervous when it came to the cost.

I directly waived his medical fees.

Henry was first shocked and then kept thanking me over the phone.

After finishing the call, I was ready to go to bed.

Just then, my phone rang again.

I thought Henry had something else to say, so I picked it up casually, but inside

came a cold male voice

came a cold male voice.

"Did you just take Alpha Henry's order for free?"

I frowned and then lowered my head to look at the phone screen.

I had to lament Nathan's shamelessness.

I put him into the blacklist and he simply changed a phone number to contact me.

“Yes, I did.” I deliberately lowered my voice to prevent Nathan from discovering my identity.

I was not curious about how Nathan learned about this news.

After all, Alpha Nathan’s tactics have always been formidable.

“I don’t understand.” He sounded angry. “I gave you 200 million, and you rejected my request! But you are willing to treat Alpha Henry’s brother for free! Healer, you take it too personally!”

“Alpha Nathan, I think you misunderstood something.” I relaxed and leaned against the bedside to say, “I’m not short of money. And every moment of my job saving others is precious, not something you can afford to pay for.”

Nathan sarcastically said, “You’re not short of money, but you asked me for 300 million before.”

“Is 300 million a lot? I just heard a gossip tonight. You spent 800 million to please Avia and bought her a pearl bracelet. I saved her life with just 300 million. Is her life less valuable than a bracelet?”

Nathan remained silent.

I smiled and continued, “Besides, I’m a doctor, not a scammer. I don’t have the ability to diagnose illnesses in healthy and normal people. I believe Miss Avia doesn’t want to see me either. She likes to pretend to be sick so much, why don’t you just find a doctor to accompany her to pretend?”

After speaking, I hung up the phone directly.

To prevent Nathan from going crazy and calling me again, I chose to turn it off.

I didn’t want to have any further involvement with Nathan.

I have wasted my time on him for two years, which was already foolish enough.

I got more meaning to fulfill in my life. Research in the medical field had more significance than Nathan.

The next day, I met Henry as Healer and cured his brother.

When I left, I received a text message from William.

He arranged for me to meet at a high-end restaurant nearby.

“How have you been lately?” William asked after gesturing to the waiter to serve.

“Not bad,” I shrugged.

“I heard that you were bullied at last night’s auction,” William said.

I pursed my lips.

“Do you need me to revenge for you? You know, most of the people who attended the banquet last night had business dealings with me. As long as I say a word, those who gossip about you will pay for their behaviour.”

William’s reaction was almost identical to Marc’s.

That moved me very much.

During the two years I spent with Nathan, no one cared about my feelings.

Everyone... Even a servant could dictate to me.

So much so that I even forgot that so many people had always cared about me.

“No need,” I shook my head. “I don’t care what those people say. Besides, if they really provoke me, I will revenge myself.”

William sighed.

“Diana, remember, I will always protect you. You know, I have always treated you as my daughter.”

Tears spun in my eyes.

When I was very young, my parents passed away due to the war.

In Marc's early years, he often fought around for Pack and had no time for me.

It has always been William and my teacher taking care of me.

I have long regarded him as a father.

During the meal, William brought up another topic.

"By the way, the director of a hospital under my name has recently retired. Are you interested in it?"

I was amazed.

"Director? Me?" I pointed to my nose, "I'm afraid I am not qualified."

"If you are not qualified, who else is? Don't forget, my dear Diana is the famous Healer." William had a hint of pride in his eyes.

"But..."

"Moreover, there is another reason I want you to be the director." William's expression became much more serious. "My sister, who was your lead professor, had her most important virology research project at that hospital. But because... she passed away, that project has been shelved. I think only you can continue to complete this project. After all, you are her best student."

My clenched my hand slightly, thinking about the project,

I actually had an understanding of the teacher's project, which was of great significance to the entire medical field.

In my early years, Professor Penny didn't involve me in this project because I was too young.

After all, research projects on viruses posed huge risks to researchers.

But now, the professor was no longer alive.

As her student. I must help her fulfill her last wish

“Okay, I’ll go.”

A week later, William personally took me to the hospital to announce my succession to the position of director at the meeting.

However, as soon as I arrived at the door of the conference room, I heard a man say,

“This time, the position of the director must belong to Claude.”

Someone immediately agreed with him, “Claude is Penny Reed’s student. He is the most qualified person to be the director.”

Upon hearing this, I was stunned for a moment.

I didn’t remember my teacher having a student named Claude.

The conversation in the office was still ongoing.

“Then let’s congratulate Dr. Claude in advance.”

“Yes, congratulations.”

“It’s a bit too early to say these things now. Let’s wait for William to announce.”

A man’s voice sounded, and I guessed he should be Claude.

William gestured to his assistant to push open the office door.

After seeing William, everyone instantly quieted down.

—

William took my hand and walked up to the crowd, then loudly announced – “Diana Reist, in the coming days, she will take over the entire hospital as the director.”

William’s decision caused the already quiet office to become noisy again.

A man with a square face and waxed hair vigorously patted the table and shouted, “I’m sorry I can’t agree with your decision. If I got it right, Diana is just a woman who has just been divorced and has a newborn child! Before that, she couldn’t even get recognized by Dark Moon Pack! Everyone knows she’s Alpha Nathan’s useless Luna! What qualifications and abilities does she have to be the director?”

I fixed my sight on the nameplate on the chest of the man’s white coat
Claud!

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 26

Chapter 26

Diana’s pov

It turned out that he was the protagonist that everyone was congratulating.

My gaze fell on Claud’s face, inexplicably feeling a bit familiar to him.

“Do you disagree?” William raised one eyebrow, his voice unchanged, but his tone became much colder. “Claud, there’s something I want you to clarify. I’m here to inform you, not to seek your opinion.”

But Claud didn’t notice his tone whether it was due to extreme anger or some other reason.

“Your decision was wrong. Of course, I have to say it. Anyway, it’s impossible for me to work with someone like Diana in the same hospital.”

Claud was threatening William. Either he or I should leave this hospital.

But William just smiled casually and turned to his assistant, saying, “Notify the finance department and settle Dr. Claud’s salary. Since he can’t stay, I won’t force him to stay.”

Claud froze instantly, his face awkward and ugly.

He probably didn’t expect William to embarrass him in public, but now he’s putting himself in a dilemma.

I could tell from his expression that he didn’t want to leave the hospital.

After all, William has always been generous. The employee welfare has always been ranking at the top of the industry.

The so-called threat was just a threat.

After receiving William’s order, the assistant walked towards the office door. Claud panicked completely and quickly stopped his assistant, “Wait a minute!” “What’s up? Dr. Claud, do you have any other questions?” The assistant asked.

Claud swallowed and his face turned red.

“William, I have no intention of leaving the hospital. I will do my best to cooperate

Claud turned his head to me, his eyes suppressed, “with the new director.”

“That’s good,” William’s face showed a familiar and loving smile again.

He waved and a handsome young man who had been following him took a step forward.

“Additionally, I will have Ryley to be Diana’s assistant to assist her in all her work.”

As William finished his words, everyone took a cold breath.

“Ryley Shankles, William’s most capable right-hand man. It is rumored that one day he will inherit all of William’s wealth and business! But now William is only asking him to be a negligible assistant to Diana.”

In the restroom, through the thin door panels. I heard two female doctors discussing in shock.

“I’m starting to wonder who exactly Diana is.”

“Isn’t she Alpha Marc’s sister? She must have used her identity to force William to let her be the director.”

“How could it be that simple? Don’t forget that William dares to refuse Alpha Nathan. How could Alpha Marc’s sister threaten him? Moreover, William is brother of Healer’s teacher. Offending William is offending Healer. No one would be willing to offend Healer unless he can guarantee that he will never get sick in his lifetime.”

“So you mean...”

“Didn’t you see William holding Diana’s hand all day at the meeting today? I think Diana and William must be—”

Bang!

I forcefully pushed open the door of the compartment, interrupting the absurd speculation between the two.

The loud voice froze both female doctors.

They looked at me with a pale expression.

I washed my hands, dried my hair, and organized my hair expressionlessly.

Then, in their frightened eyes, I left the bathroom.

Ryley was waiting at the bathroom entrance.

Seeing me, he nodded slightly.

“Need I ask someone to kill them?” He asked, his voice cold and without any emotion.

It seemed that the lives of these two doctors were just insignificant existence that could be easily wiped away like dust.

Although Ryley had already lowered his head, he was too tall and I had to look up at him.

I couldn't help but twisted my eyebrows.

“I'm a bit curious. What does William usually ask you to do? Why are you always thinking about fighting and killing?”

“Killing people.”

A cold voice sounded, and I opened my mouth in shock.

I almost forgot that William was the leader of the world's largest gang organization.

“Okay, okay.” I didn't know what to say, but I could only advise, “Now you are my assistant. I have a request. That's not to kill until it's absolutely necessary! You'd better behave mildly in your daily life.”

Ryley's eyes seemed to flash with a hint of disapproval, but soon he respectfully replied, “I understand.”

Ryley led me to the new office.

When he was introducing the hospital's business to me, the office door was forcefully pushed open.

Claud angrily walked up to my desk and shouted, "What exactly did you do? Why did William appoint you to be the director?"

"I -"

I was about to speak when Ryley picked up Claud with one hand and dragged him to the window, intending to throw him down from the twentieth floor.

"Ryley!"

I quickly shouted and finally snatched Claud back from the hands of Death.

Ryley threw Claud onto the ground with an impatient expression on his face.

Claud was stunned.

After a long pause, he stood up trembling from the ground, holding onto the chair. "You! You've gone too far!" He pointed at me and cursed, his voice trembling with fear, "I tell you, Diana, you can't stay in the director's position for long! Don't think I don't know your relationship with William! Everyone has known that you are his lover! When William loses interest in you, you will have nothing! Shameless bitch. Divorced from Alpha Nathan, you now go to hook up with a man at your father's age. You're f**king disgusting! What ability do you have? You can just sleep with men!"

The speculation I didn't want to hear in the restroom just now came out of Claud's mouth.

To be honest, at some point, I regretted stopping Ryley just now.

Perhaps throwing Claud down from the 20th floor would be a better choice.

I have always felt that Claud looked familiar.

When he cursed at me just now, I finally remembered.

I have indeed met Claud.

He was my college classmate.

I remembered when I was in college, my teacher Penny gave a speech at our school. Claud was also present at the time.

Unexpectedly, just this speech made him shamelessly pretend to be Penny's student. Ryley let out an impatient curse behind me.

His hands hanging on his sides clenched into fists, making a sound of bone friction. This was a manifestation of his intention to kill.

Claud was so scared that he stepped back.

“Di... Diana, don't think you can do whatever you want with someone to support you! No one will obey you, a clumsy person with no skills! You are not worthy to be a director!”

After finishing speaking, he crawled out of the office.

Ryley looked mockingly, snorted disdainfully, and cursed, “Coward.”

In the afternoon, Ryley took me to familiarize myself with the hospital layout.

When we passed by the neurology department, I saw that one of the consultation rooms was surrounded by medical staff.

I casually stopped a female nurse who was hurriedly approaching and asked, “What happened?”

The nurse was so excited that she didn't even recognize me as their new director. “Alpha Nathan has brought his beloved woman to our hospital f or treatment! I need to see what he really looks like! Also, I'm curious about how beautiful the woman is to own Alpha Nathan's heart."

As soon as the nurse finished speaking, the crowd dispersed,

The one who led the way was Claud, with a flattering expression.

Immediately after, I saw Alpha Nathan with a stern face and Avia carefully held in his arms.

Claud hunched over and said to Nathan, "Come with me, I'll take Avia for an examination first."

However, Nathan did not answer him.

Because at this moment, Nathan was looking at me directly!

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 27

Chapter 27

Diana's pov

"Diana? Why are you here?"

Seeing me, Claud seemed to trigger a stress response. His face was extremely unhappy.

I glanced at him and asked, "What's wrong with my being here?"

"Of course, you -"

Claud choked up, as if he had just realized my identity as director and let out a cold snort of indignation.

I smiled and then looked at the crowd.

They might not recognize my face, but they definitely knew the name of the new director.

Everyone lowered their heads and quickly dispersed, starting to work.

I didn't want to deal with these people in front of me, so I turned around with Ryley and wanted to leave.

A deep voice came from behind me.

Nathan stopped me.

"Diana, we need to talk."

I stopped and turned my head.

I didn't understand what else Nathan and I could talk about.

Didn't he realize that Avia was already unhappy?

"Nathan, we still need to go for an examination." Avia hugged Nathan's arm and gently shook it.

"You go with the doctor first. I'll be there in a moment." Nathan pulled out his arm and walked towards me.

Avia's expression froze instantly.

She seemed to want to say something more, but Nathan ordered as he passed by Claud, "Take Avia for an examination first."

Avia was clearly reluctant, but in the end she didn't go against Nathan's intentions, just gave me a fierce look and left behind Claud.

To be honest, I didn't expect this.

I looked at Nathan who had already walked in front of me and calmly asked, “What’s up?”

Nathan didn’t rush to speak, but instead raised his eyes and gave Ryley, who was standing behind me, a look of disdain.

“I want to talk to you alone.”

I sneered.

“But I don’t want to. If you don’t have much to say, I’ll leave.”

I pretended to turn around.

Nathan grabbed my wrist.

At the same time, Ryley took a step forward and also clenched Nathan’s wrist.

“Let go of her.”

Nathan narrowed his eyes slightly and his face turned cold.

“Don’t meddle in my affairs.”

Ryley sneered, his eyes filled with disdain.

I was not sure if Ryley could overpower Nathan, but I’ve seen Nathan’s prowess on the battlefield.

He once twisted the necks of dozens of tall and strong soldiers in the hostile pack alone.

It was also because of that battle that he became the highest ranking Alpha!

I couldn’t let Ryley confront him. The risk was too high.

“Ryley, go ahead and wait for me.”

Ryley then released Nathan, gave him a cold look, and strode away.

“Can you let go of me first?” I asked, suppressing my impatience.

Nathan withdrew his hand.

I rubbed my sore wrist, and there were even red marks on it.

“You violent mania!” I muttered softly.

“Sorry.”

“What surprised me was that Nathan apologized to me.”

I was stunned for a moment and then smiled.

“Sorry? I don’t know what Alpha Nathan apologized to me for? For scratching me? Or-”

“For scratching you. And for the matter of the pearl bracelet a week ago. I owe you an apology.”

I turned my head and didn’t look at his eyes.

“You should apologize to me, but it doesn’t matter. Your apology won’t change anything, so I don’t need it either.”

Moreover, he owed me a thousand apologies except for these two.

Nathan frowned slightly. After a moment, he smiled lightly.

“Yes, you really don’t need my apology now,” Nathan said after a moment of silence. “What is your relationship with the man beside you just now?”

“None of your business,” I rolled my eyes.

“My business...” Nathan repeated these words, his smile unchanged, but his gaze became even colder.

“Do you have anything else to do?” I lost my patience.

Nathan cleared his throat and when he spoke again, his expression had returned to normal.

“I saw the 800 million you transferred to me. I have asked the finance department to transfer it back to you.”

“No need.” I refused without even thinking.

“Anyway, the incident was caused by me. If I hadn’t interrupted your plan, you wouldn’t have paid so much. Take it as an apology from me.” Nathan said.

I shrugged casually.

“At the auction, everyone relies on their strength. There is no such thing as overpaying or not overpaying. Moreover, it’s only 200 million. I can afford it.”

“Diana, don’t be so stubborn, I-

Nathan seemed to have something to say, but coincidentally, Claud came back with Avia.

“Nathan!”

Avia almost trotted into Nathan’s arms and tightly hugged Nathan’s waist.

She might have just cried, with tears still on her eyelashes.

“What’s the matter?” Nathan raised his hand and stroked her hair. “What’s the examination results?”

Avia choked up and couldn’t speak.

Claud told Nathan, “I just had Avia checked. The results confirmed that there was something wrong with her neurons. The surgery performed by Healer was clearly a failure.”

I looked at Claud incredulously.

He just said who failed the surgery?

Healer? Me?

My gaze moved back and forth between Claud and Avia.

My intuition told me that there must have been some kind of hidden agreement between these two people.

“Nathan, what should I do? What should I do now?” Avia tearfully said, “I didn’t lie to you. My illness really hasn’t been cured! That Healer is a scammer! She didn’t cure me. She was worried that you might blame her, so she lied that I didn’t have any problems.”

Nathan furrowed his brows and pursed his lips into a line.

I couldn’t help but snort softly.

Claud glared at me and said, “What are you laughing at?”

I wrapped my hands around my chest and raised my eyebrows. “I didn’t laugh. I just thought it was ridiculous,” “Ridiculous? What is ridiculous?” Claud demanded.

I really wanted to say that everything was ridiculous.

I really wanted to say that everything was ridiculous. My surgery did not fail, and Avia was also healthy.

However, my current identity was Diana. I couldn’t expose all of this.

I could only look at Nathan and hint, “As far as I know, Healer is a student of Penny Reed. Her surgery was always successful. Everyone knows that Avia woke up the day when Healer finished the surgery for Avia. It is enough to prove Healer’s ability.”

Nathan seemed to be thinking about my words.

Claud exclaimed, “What do you mean? Are you questioning my medical skills? Diana, though you are the director now, you can’t doubt my profession! Don’t forget, you know nothing about medicine.”

Claud’s loud voice quickly caught the attention of many people around him.

I looked at Claud expressionlessly and asked, “How dare you to say that I know nothing about medicine.”

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 28

Chapter 28

Diana’s pov

“I know what your major was in college. It’s not related to medicine at all. How can you possibly understand medicine?” Claude snorted disdainfully. “Besides, I’m a student of Professor Reed. Even if you really know medicine, are you sure that you are better than me?”

Because Claud mentioned Penny, everyone was clearly more convinced of him. “This Diana doesn’t understand anything. She’d better stay out of it.”

“That’s right. Does she really think she can do whatever she wants when she becomes the director?”

“If you ask me, she clearly doesn’t want Claud to cure Avia so she can win Alpha Nathan.”

“Is she daydreaming? Everyone knows that Avia is Nathan’s love, and she’s just the former Luna Nathan hated the most.”

I ignored the comments from the people around me and smiled nonchalantly. “Really? But I’ve never heard of Dr. Reed accepting you as a student before.”

“That means that you know too little!” Claud’s eyes flickered with a hint of panic. “After all, your thoughts were on men all the time! Otherwise, why did you make every effort to be Nathan’s Luna? You already knew that he didn’t like you. You are humiliating Blade Moon pack!”

Claud successfully shifted the focus of the topic.

The people looked at me with disdain.

Only Nathan stood there with a gloomy face and furrowed brows.

I guessed he probably thought that I wanted to harm Avia, like everyone else.

I didn’t bother to waste time explaining something.

The most important thing now was to tell everyone that Avia was healthy .

Otherwise, if I allowed them to deceive others, the hospital’s reputation would be tarnished.

“Not to mention your relationship with Prof Reed. As we all know, Healer is also a student of Reed! But you denied the results of Healer’s surgery.”

As soon as I finished speaking, the crowd once again engaged in heated discussions. “What? Is Claud questioning Healer?”

“Healer’s strength is evident to everyone. How could the surgery fail?”

“Yes, could it be Claud who made a mistake?”

Claud’s face gradually turned pale when he heard their discussion.

He simply started spreading rumors.

“Healer. Must Healer be right? You don’t even know, Healer often made mistakes while studying with Prof Reed. Heather is clearly the worst student of Prof Reed! She always acts in front of the public to make everyone admire her! I am the best student of Prof Reed!”

Everyone looked at him skeptically, clearly not buying his words.

Seeing this situation, Avia leaned against Nathan’s arms and whispered, “Nathan, I believe more in Claud. Can’t I feel if I have recovered? Perhaps Healer’s medical skills are indeed superb, but there will always be someone more powerful than her.”

“It makes sense. Can’t patients feel if they have recovered?”

“Healer is not omnipotent. It’s impossible to never make mistakes.”

“And we haven’t had any contact with Healer... maybe she really isn’t so excellent.”

Seeing more and more people support him, Claud gradually became proud.

“Diana, please mind your own business. If I cure Avia, it would be a great achievement for our hospital! Shouldn’t you be happy as the director? Or ... you are deliberately sabotaging, because you could deal with both of us at the same time! I admit that I shouldn’t have publicly criticized that you relied on your family background and William’s relationship to be the director. I can apologize to you. But Avia is innocent. You can’t watch her die just because you’re jealous of her.”

Claud’s voice was loud enough to be heard by everyone around him.

I had to admire Claud’s ability to confound right and wrong-

It not only demonstrated his kindness, but also highlighted my “malice“!

The expression on Avia’s face seemed even more helpless.

She hugged Nathan's arm tightly and looked at me timidly, saying, "Diana, I didn't mean to compete with you for Nathan. I beg you to give me a chance to live, okay? I just... I just want to live. I don't want to be a burden to Nathan..."

Nathan, who had been silent all along, finally spoke up after hearing this.

"Avia, you have never been a burden to me."

Avia buried herself in Nathan's chest, sobbing incessantly.

Upon hearing Avia's words, the crowd seemed to be stirred up by a sense of justice. Their criticism of me grew louder and louder.

Looking at the scene, I even felt a physiological discomfort.

I felt a faint pain in my stomach.

Suddenly, someone hugged my shoulder and I fell into his arms.

I turned my head in surprise and saw Victor.

"Why are you here?" I asked.

"It's your first day in the office. Of course I have to see if you can adapt to it." Victor smiled gently at me as if he hadn't seen Nathan and others. "Don't waste time here on useless people and things. Let's go see Lionel."

"Lionel? You brought him here?"

"Lionel? You brought him here?"

"Well, he's in your office." Victor moved his arm down and hugged my waist. "Let's go. Don't let Lionel wait too long."

I nodded and followed Victor away.

As I turned around, I saw Nathan's gloomy face.

“Oh by the way!” Victor paused and looked at the onlookers and Claud, saying expressionlessly, “Diana has a soft heart and rarely criticizes others. But I have a bad temper and I always seek revenge.”

Victor lifted his chin towards the guard next to him and said, “Go ahead. I’ll keep in mind the names of those who are spreading rumors here today. When I am available, I can invite them to the detention room so that they won’t forget Diana’s identity! Everyone from the Blade Moon Pack, you should know we never bear members who would trap our own people.”

Everyone’s face suddenly changed.

Claud’s legs were so weak that he couldn’t stand steadily, trembling while holding onto the wall.

I quickly tugged at Victor’s sleeve and shook my head at him.

I didn’t want to make it worse.

Moreover, most people here were provoked by Avia and Claud.

Victor sighed.

“Since Diana has pleaded for you, I will give you another chance. If I hear disrespectful words about Diana again, you can ask for the blessing of the Moon Goddess.”

“Where’s Lionel?” I looked around the office, “Didn’t you say you brought him too?”

Victor sat on the sofa and smiled slightly.

“It’s just an excuse, otherwise how could you leave there so quickly?”

I pursed my lips.

“But I have to cope with this.” I said sternly. “Claud is a doctor in our hospital. If Avia’s fake illness is exposed, or if he really treats Avia, it will definitely damage the hospital's reputation."

Victor sat up straight and said, "I understand what you mean. But now that Avia and Claud are in a cooperative relationship, we can't find any evidence."

Victor was right.

Even if I had other doctors to test Avia to prove Claud's lie, it still required Avia's cooperation.

And Avia obviously wouldn't cooperate.

I

pinched my brow.

"Alright, I'll contact Nathan again using Healer's identity. Healer once made Avia wake up from a coma, and Nathan should still trust me. I can recheck Avia and confront Claud."

"Well, that's the only choice now."

To my surprise, when I took Nathan out of my blacklist and told him that I had learned about what happened today and was willing to examine Avia, he refused me.

'No need. I have found a more suitable doctor for Avia. I won't trouble you anymore.'

I sneered.

'Alpha Nathan, if she isn't sick and take medicine recklessly, one day she will have problems. Don't regret then.'

I sent out this message, being angry about Nathan would just trust Claud. However, the person who was blocked this time was me!

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 29

Chapter 29

Diana's pov

Nathan's behavior completely irritated me.

I rarely got so angry.

But perhaps because everything that happened during the day challenged my sanity and stimulated my nerves, I gradually lost control of the raging anger inside.

"Damn Nathan, it would be too late when you regret!"

I cursed in a low voice and couldn't concentrate on my work anymore.

I took out an unopened bottle of red wine from the refrigerator, roughly pried open the cork, and then took a few wild sips.

The office prepared for the director was always comfortable.

But due to the alcohol, I still felt heat and thirst.

After releasing the few buttons that bound my neck, I got up and went to the balcony.

The late night wind carried a coolness and was comfortable.

I almost forgot about everything unpleasant just now, if I hadn't seen Nathan on the next balcony the moment I turned around.

He should have just taken a shower, his hair still wet, and only a towel wrapped around his waist.

It seemed that he noticed the noise, turned his head towards me, and then a casual curve rose from the corner of his mouth.

My fingers clenched slightly as I gripped the bottle.

If I stayed in the hospital until morning to work overtime, what was this damn guy doing?

To make me more irritable and angry?

My alcohol tolerance was not good, but those few sips were far from making me lose my sanity.

At least until I saw Nathan, I was clear-headed.

But now, when I realized it, I had already dropped the wine bottle and jumped onto the next balcony, standing face to face with Nathan.

Nathan raised his eyebrows in surprise, and then a playful light flashed in his eyes. "You -"

He seemed to want to say something, but I didn't want to hear his voice at all.

Or in other words, what I would rather hear was his screams.

So, just as he spoke, my fist had already swung out.

Damn it!

This was the end of your foolish attempt to blackmail me!

11

My reason was no longer working and my behavior was completely controlled by the anger in my subconscious.

Nathan probably didn't expect me to hit him suddenly, so he couldn't dodge and was hit on the nose.

He snorted and took two steps back.

When he looked up at me again, the banter in his eyes had already receded by half.

"Are you drunk?" He asked, with a hint of embarrassment in his voice.

I curled up the corner of my mouth and gave a cold smile.

I didn't answer his question, but instead punched his right cheek again.

But this time, he was clearly on guard and dodged my attack

"Diana!" He grabbed my arm.

I shook it off hard and hit his chest with my elbow!

No surprise, he dodged it again.

After a few rounds, apart from his nose, I didn't even hurt him any more.

I stopped and looked at him panting, as if there was a fire burning in my heart.

Nathan frowned at me and asked, "Are you calm now?"

I still didn't answer.

Seeing this, Nathan walked towards me.

“What are you do-?”

Almost as Nathan took off his guard and approached me, I grabbed the towel from his waist and pulled it hard, throwing it directly out of the balcony.

Nathan widened his eyes and instinctively reached out to grab it.

I smiled, seized the opportunity, and mercilessly punched him in the stomach.

“Uh!” Nathan covered his stomach and retreated, his facial features twisted with pain, and clear blue veins appeared on his forehead.

I finally heard the voice I wanted to hear, and my mood immediately brightened up a lot.

I lifted my leg and kicked him between his legs!

I wanted this guy to experience extreme pain!

However, to my surprise, Nathan grabbed my ankle and stopped my attack.

“Are you crazy?” He growled softly.

I glared at him angrily, trying to break free from his grip.

Nathan grabbed my ankle and pulled back hard.

I suddenly lost balance and my feet slipped and leaned back.

I exclaimed in surprise and instinctively closed my eyes.

Just as I thought I was about to fall heavily to the ground, a powerful arm held me on the waist steadily

A heavy breath came to my ears

I tentatively opened my eyes and met Nathan's amber pupils.

Although I disliked Nathan, I had to admit that he had a perfect face that everyone.

envies

Sometimes I even felt that three years ago, I fell in love with him at first sight, not only because of Mate, but also partly because he was the most beautiful man I have ever seen in my life.

A drop of water dripped down Nathan's hair on my ear, and the coldness made me conscious

I pushed Nathan away and took a few steps back to avoid getting too close to him.

After a brief silence, Nathan spoke first.

"So, can you tell me now what the hell you're doing?"

"Why did you -?"

I almost blurted out, "Why did you blacklist me?". Suddenly, I realized that I was Diana at the moment, not Healer. So I could only forcefully shift the conversation.

"Why are you in my hospital?"

Nathan didn't answer my question, but walked expressionlessly to the chair, took the bathrobe draped over it, and calmly put it on.

I realized later that he was completely naked at the moment and looked a way awkwardly.

“Isn’t it a bit late to be shy? Weren’t you aggressive when you pulled my clothes?”

“I’m not shy!” I immediately retorted, whispering, “I haven seen it before .”

“So why don’t you dare to look at me?”

“I...” I hesitated for a few seconds, then suddenly remembered something and looked up at him without hesitation. “You haven’t answered my question. Why are you at my hospital?”

“To accompany Avia.” Nathan dropped this sentence and sat on the sofa. “Avia has already been hospitalized. I will stay in the hospital until she recovers.”

“What?”

I suddenly turned up my volume.

If Nathan lived in my hospital, I would have to see him every day!

What a nightmare!

Nathan raised his eyebrows when he saw my bewildered face and said, “What? Are you happy to hear that I’ll stay here?”

“Don’t f**king flatter yourself.” I rolled my eyes.

I really didn’t want to stay in the same place with him, so I asked, “You’re an alpha. What about those jobs in your pack?”

“My Beta will help me handle most of them. If he can’t, he will come and ask me.”

“Ah.” I chuckled, “I didn’t expect you to do so much for Avia. No wonder you were looking for a substitute for Avia everywhere.”

Nathan frowned slightly, but didn’t say anything more. Instead, he asked, “So you went crazy to beat me because I live next door to you?”

“Hmm...” I didn’t want to explain too much. I changed the topic and asked, “Do you really want Claud to treat Avia?”

“Why not?”

“So, do you really think there was a problem with Healer’s surgery?”

“I don’t want to doubt her,” Nathan’s expression became more serious, “but Avia’s performance told me that she hasn’t recovered.”

“You trusting Avia too much,” I said coldly.

“Avia is very important to me. I won’t doubt her, nor will I allow myself to doubt her.”

I didn’t understand what Nathan meant by ‘not allowed’, but his blind trust in Avia made me feel ridiculous.

I didn’t even bother to talk to him again.

But as a responsible director, I still advised, “I suggest you find a few more trusted doctors to check Avia carefully. There won’t be any loss.”

However, Nathan refused my proposal without even thinking about it.

“No need.” He said. “Avia’s can no longer withstand any stimulation. I don’t want to take this risk.”

I was silent and didn’t know what to say.

“Forget it,” I whispered a moment later.

I was probably crazy. I even thought that I had the ability to persuade him.

I turned around and walked towards my balcony.

“Diana!”

Nathan shouted behind me in a somewhat urgent voice.

I turned my head to look at him.

He had already stood up from the sofa, with a hint of reluctance in his eyes.

“What is he reluctant about?”

I didn’t delve into it, but found it ridiculous.

I crossed the balcony.

After returning to the room, I hastily tidied up the broken wine bottle and went to bed.

The next day, I got up late due to staying up late the night before.

Obviously, I missed breakfast in the hospital canteen.

Just as I was about to buy a loaf of bread, Victor brought me a delicate breakfast.

“I knew you wouldn’t get up,” Victor put the breakfast on my desk.

“Hmm?” I cast a puzzled look at him.

Victor, as if he hadn’t seen it, asked, “How was that Avia?”

I shook my head and said, “Nathan doesn’t want Avia to take the risk of checking again. I guess we’ll have to think of another way.”

Noticing my exhaustion, Victor didn’t continue to mention any topics related to Nathan and Avia. Instead, he asked, “There’s a car race in the Galactic Center tomorrow night. Do you want to go?”

I was suddenly ignited with enthusiasm.

“Yes! Of course I have to go.”

I haven’t touched a racing car for a long time, let alone participated in a race.

To be honest, I really missed the feeling of recklessly stepping on the gas.

The Luna Is Gone ( Angelique Quinn )

Chapter 30

Chapter 30

Diana's pov

The car race was actually a mountain rally.

The

real venue was the winding mountain path behind the Galaxy Center Building, But in order to let everyone have a great time, the organizers specially rented the entire Galaxy Center to hold a grand opening party,

And in the center of the grandstand on the first floor of the Galaxy Center, the sapphire brooch watched by dozens of bodyguards was the first prize of this race. "How beautiful!" Although I had seen many rare treasures, I couldn't help but sigh when I saw this brooch.

"Of course, it is a work of the world's top jewelry designer Nora Stern, with a rough estimate value of 50 million," Victor explained.

"Nora?" I was a bit surprised. "You said this was her work?"

Victor smiled slightly and said, "I didn't expect that the little girl who used to follow you every day achieved so much now."

It couldn't be said that I didn't expect it. I have always believed that Nora could achieve her dream.

I just suddenly felt a little emotional.

In these three years, everyone has been getting better and better.

Only me... wasted my time in the so-called love.

However, I was still very happy to hear about Nora's current achievements.

"I remember your birthday is in next month." I lightly bumped Victor's arm.

Victor nodded.

"Look, that sapphire brooch will be my birthday gift for you."

Victor paused for a moment and said gently, "Then I'll thank you in advance."

I smiled and said, "Are you so sure that I will win the first prize?"

"Otherwise?" Victor looked more confident than me as he touched my head. "In my eyes, you will always be the No.1."

His tone was so serious that when I stared into his eyes, I could hardly resist.

I quickly averted my gaze and disguised my embarrassment with a teasing expression, "Don't be so disgusting."

Victor didn't say anything more, just smiled with me.

But suddenly, his gaze paused, and the smile in his eyes gradually faded.

I found him staring at something without blinking, his face gradually showing irritability.

"Why are we so unlucky?" Victor muttered, "How could we meet these two people everywhere? Isn't it that Avia has some mental illnesses? Isn't Alpha Nathan afraid of scaring her on this occasion?"

I instinctively looked back.

Not far away, Nathan and Avia were walking together into the hall.

With Claud following them.

He wore a flattering expression on his face, saying something.

I only glanced at them and then withdrew my gaze.

“If you feel unpleasant, let’s go somewhere else,” I said to Victor.

However, just as I turned around, a maid bumped into me.

She happened to be holding a glass of red wine in her hand. And they was all spilled on my clothes.

The girl was startled and quickly bent down to apologize to me.

“I’m sorry. I was in a hurry. I didn’t mean to. Please forgive me.”

“Never mind. I –”

I was just about to tell the girl not to be afraid, she started slapping herself hard.

“I really didn’t mean it, please let me go.”

Her pleading voice and continuous slapping quickly attracted onlookers a round her. Everyone began to discuss what had happened.

At this moment, a female voice suddenly sounded, questioning with a sense of justice –

“She just accidentally bumped into you, you don’t need to punish her like this.”

Looking in the direction of the sound, I met Avia’s eyes.

Seeing me staring at her, she shrank and hid behind Nathan, carefully tugging at his sleeve.

“Nathan... I just want to help that maid. Can you persuade Diana not to punish her? Look, her face is swollen. She’s so pitiful.”

Avia’s voice was not loud, but it was enough for the onlookers to hear.

Everyone began to accuse me of being narrow-minded and malicious.

Upon seeing this, Victor took a step forward and tried to explain something for me, but I grabbed him by the wrist.

“No need.”

I shook my head at him.

Almost in the next second, I felt a cold gaze falling on me.

I knew it came from Nathan. Only he could make people feel so oppressive.

He, like those onlookers, probably believed Avia’s lies and felt that I was malicious.

I ignored his gaze and turned my head to look at the maid who was still slapping herself.

“Did I ask you to hit yourself?” I asked.

“I...”

“I...”

The maid paused, neither admitting nor denying.

But Avia said eagerly, “You must have forced her, otherwise why would she beat herself? Diana, although you’re Alpha Marc’s sister, you can’t punish others casually. Maids also have dignity. She also has parents.”

As soon as Avia’s voice fell, the maid seemed to be suddenly turned on some kind of switch, pointing at me and shouting, “You made me slap myself! You said I dirtied your clothes and made me slap myself until you are satisfied.”

“Did you hear that, Nathan? I didn’t wrongly accuse Diana! Save that maid. Otherwise, she will be tortured to death by Diana!” Avia looked anxious.

s and continued to add, "I didn't expect Diana to be such a malicious woman."

To my slight surprise, Nathan did not argue with me as Avia had hoped, but instead remained silent and stared at me.

I didn't bother to guess what he was thinking. I looked at the maid who slandered me and took out my phone from my pocket.

"You may not know. I have a habit of recording in real-time. I have recorded everything that happened just now. Do you want me to play it for everyone?"

The maid's face turned pale in an instant, her lips trembling and unable to make a sound.

I smiled.

"I'll give you another chance to explain everything to everyone. Otherwise, when I reveal the truth, you'll be charged with slandering Alpha's sister. Oh, by the way, do you know what kind of punishment will you face for slandering Sister Alpha?"

Victor smiled and said, "Your whole family will be expelled."

The maid collapsed to the ground with a thud.

A few seconds later, she cried loudly, "I... I slandered this lady. She didn't punish me.

I lied because I was too scared. I want everyone to sympathize with me. I was wrong... I really was! Please don't expel me and my family!"

The truth has been revealed, and I didn't intend to go into it. "Just leave," I said lightly

The maid immediately disappeared from my sight.

Seeing this, the onlookers showed awkward expressions and all lowered their heads and dispersed.

I glanced at Avia and noticed that she seemed to be getting angry.

But due to Nathan's presence, she could only hold back and blush.

I suddenly felt bored and turned my head to ask Victor, "I remember you had a spare shirt in your car."

The clothes were all stained with red wine, which made me uncomfortable.

"Hmm." Victor nodded, "I'll accompany you to change."

"So you really recorded it just now?" Victor asked me after leaving the hall.

"How's that possible? I don't have the ability to prophesy. I deliberately deceived that maid."

Victor seemed to confirm his guess.

"But did you notice that the maid was a bit strange, she –"

Victor wanted to say something else when his phone rang.

It was the officer under his command who needed to report something to him.

I signaled him to deal with his work first.

When Victor answered the phone, I returned to the car and put on the spare white shirt.

Just as I was about to get off the car, I heard a choking sound.

Accompanied by malicious curses.

I was stunned and walked to the direction of the sound.

Behind a Maybach, I saw the maid who had just insulted me, as well as...

Avia, who was cursing at her!