

Luna & Joshua 2351

Chapter 2351

It never occurred to Luna that Father Samuel was so firm and resolute.

'Kicking Malcolm out of the city?'

All these years, Malcolm had built his network and reputation solely in Merchant City, and the moment he exited the city, he would have nothing left and would need to start from scratch.

Even if he had any leverage or information, ano-name like him would not be able to cause any big problem.

Having that thought in her mind, Luna sighed.

"After all the things he did, he deserved it. Let's hope he'll be a better person in the future."

Although it was cruel to kick Malcolm out of the city, it would be crueller to Luna and Joshua if Malcolm stayed.

"There's nothing to worry about anymore."

Joshua kissed Luna's ear.

"The Quinn family will make sure that Malcolm stays away from the city. We have a more urgent matter to deal with now— Butler Fred and Mickey."

Luna sighed again when Joshua mentioned those two men.

"Alright.I'll listen to you."

In the past, she had been getting herself to a dead end.She thought Joshua wanted to take revenge on Butler Fred and Mickey for himself and the Lynch family.

After everything that happened and deliberating things, she realized she could never be further from the truth.

Butler Fred and Mickey had been using the excuse of the greater good of the Landry family and secretly poisoned Granny Lynch, instigating the feud between the Lynch family and the Landry family.

Even Luna once believed that Rosalyn, her mother, was the one who poisoned Granny Lynch.

If they could frame Rosalyn for this murderous crime, what more would they do in the future? Maybe they would come out with a more outrageous plan.The loyalty that Butler Fred and Mickey had for the Landry family came with conditions.

Thus, whether it was for Joshua or the Landry family, Luna knew she should expose Butler Fred and Mickey's true colors.

"Good girl."

Joshua held her tighter.

"Thank you."

The two simple words had Luna feeling bitter.

There was no need for thank-yous between them. It was just that Luna was so adamant that Joshua was lying to her using her that Joshua started saying 'thank you' to her.

In fact, she was the one who owed Joshua an apology, and she just did not have it in her to say it out. She sighed and grabbed Joshua's hand lightly.

"If there's anything in your mind, anything at all, please tell me. I... I'm a stubborn girl. I won't understand if you don't tell me."

Joshua paused in surprise. He sighed and kissed Luna's earlobe.

"Okay. I will."

Luna and Joshua cuddled with each other until it was time for dinner.

After dinner, Luna received a message from Anne.

[Luna, are you in Merchant City now?] texted Anne.

Luna sent a nodding head emoji.

[Yes.What's up?]

Anne was particularly in an exciting mood as she texted back, [Hey, I just got news that my favorite international superstar, Thomas Gerald, is going to Merchant City! If you see him in the future, can you please get an autograph for me?]

Chapter 2352

While Luna was drinking the coffee that Joshua brewed for her, she was searching the internet about Thomas Gerald.

Luna asked, [When were you ever into superstars? How come I never knew about it?]

Luna had known Anne for over six years, and it was the same woman who helped with Luna's first plastic surgery.

After that, Luna required more and more plastic surgeries, and Anne's ability was limited.

Nevertheless, she was humble to seek advice.

From then on, she had been learning more knowledge and skills from the professional plastic surgeon in the industry with the excuse of taking care of Luna and as Luna's best friend.

Slowly, Luna's impression of Anne changed from a plastic surgeon to a girl who was willing to work hard.

During the darkest moment in Luna's life, Anne was there to give her comfort and warmth.

As such, Luna always thought that she understood Anne very well, which was why it puzzled her to hear Anne had started to admire Thomas Gerald, an international superstar.

Luna asked, [Didn't you only like those people who had plastic surgery?]

Other than John, Anne's boyfriend, the other men whom Anne liked were all from her imagination. She had many times described the man she liked to Luna; a well-sculpted face with a tall nose and a pair of deep and dark eyes.

All this while, Luna had thought there was no such man that existed in this world.

Anne replied very quickly, [You're right!]

[Thomas Gerald is exactly the type of handsome man that existed only after plastic surgery, but this guy's born naturally with that appearance without such surgeries!]

[He's the most handsome man in the world, except against John!]

Luna's search result appeared on the monitor as she received Anne's messages.

Well, she had to admit that Thomas Gerald was a fine and handsome man.

However, that was all. He was the type of man with a very cold and distant aura like a perfect ice sculpture from a piece of art—surreal without any trace of livelihood.

[Anne: Guess what?]

[Anne: His life is like a typical fictional novel, too.]

Anne was under the impression that Luna was interested in the international superstar, so she excitedly fed Luna with more information.

[Anne: He's a child born out of wedlock. A love-child!]

[Anne: He was more talented than his brother, but since he was born out of wedlock, he couldn't get a single cent from the family, he had no right to inherit any wealth from the family.]

[Anne: That's why he chose to debut as a celebrity, and he's now very successful!]

[Anne: Now that his family is in trouble, they begged him to help them, but he ignored them!]

[Anne: There's a popular saying floating around that said that unless his father and stepmom kneel and grovel at him and his mother's graveyard, apologizing profusely, he'll never forgive them nor help them!]

[Anne: That's so cool, isn't it?] Luna squinted and replied, [If you think that's cool, then it is.]

Frankly, Luna did not think that was anything to be proud of.

If Thomas truly hated his father and stepmother so much, he could just ignore them. He did not have to demand his father and stepmother to kneel and grovel.

Chapter 2353

Although Luna was unclear what was the situation between Thomas Gerald and his family, based on the information from Anne, she had no good impression of this international superstar at all.

As such, she silently closed the search result on the computer and changed the topic of her conversation with Anne, which she noticed.

She knew Luna was slightly older than her and had been through a lot more than her.

Thus, she did not force Luna to admire the same thing as she did.

However...

[Anne: I saw Shannon, Zayne, Samson, and your assistant, Arianna the other day.]

[Anne: They said they were ready to go work with you again in Merchant City, but it seemed like something happened at your end. That's why they didn't go and are still waiting for you.]

[Anne: When are you going to continue with your career, getting back on track?] Luna turned silent when she saw that message.

Anne was right.

When she went back to Banyan City, she wanted to get Shannon, Zayne, and Samson to come and help her.

She wanted to reinvigorate the jewelry company that the Landry Group had started for her, but too many things happened soon after.

Heck, she nearly forgot that she had promised Shannon and the others that she would pick up where she had left off in her career.

Luna took a deep breath and replied, [I'll ask them to come over when I've settled everything on my plate.]

Previously, she wanted to get Shannon and the others from Lynch Group to work for her.

However...

Since she had rekindled her relationship with Joshua, there was no need to be specific between Lynch

Group and Landry Group.

From this moment onward, she could be busy with her career and also take care of Joshua and the Landry family together.

Three birds with one stone.

After texting with Anne for a while, Nellie knocked on her door.

"Mommy, Mommy! It's time to sleep! We've banned Daddy from staying late, so we have to treat you the same, too.No staying up late at night!"

The sweet voice brightened Luna's.She bade Anne goodbye in their conversation left the study.

After tucking her three precious children to bed, she went to the room at the end of the hallway to look at Shelly.

Bonnie had stayed in the very room Shelly was sleeping in before she got into a coma.

Although Luna did not know much about Shelly, she treated her with care and tenderness since Bonnie and Jim treated Shelly as their daughter.

The nanny had just put Shelly to sleep by the time Luna entered the room. She quickly got to her feet when Luna came into the room and smiled.

"Ma'am, Shelly has been very obedient lately. I think she knew something was going on in the house, so she had been on her best behavior. Other than eating and sleeping the entire day, she just stared at the ceiling when she woke up."

Luna nodded and thanked the nanny for her hard work.

Then, she walked forward to take a look at Shelly. The infant was sleeping soundly and endearingly. She was so cute that Luna wanted to pinch her little cheek.

After all, she fell in love with the way an infant Nellie looked when she was sleeping.

"Ma'am."

The nanny smiled serenely as she carefully said, "There's something I'm not sure if I should say, but...don't you think Ms. Shelly looks similar to Ms. Nellie and Mr. Lynch?"

Luna did not think much about what the nanny said. She gazed at the adorable infant sleeping soundly with her eyes shut, and a smile appeared on her face.

"They do look similar, but .."

She curled up her lips and looked at the nanny.

"Shelly is the daughter of a relative from my brother's side of the family."

Previously, Bonnie had tested Shelly's DNA when she brought Harvey to do the paternity test. Shelly's parents were related to Jim, but Luna did not know who they were.

Since Shelly was related to Jim, that meant Shelly was somehow related to her or Joshua, hence it was normal for Shelly to look like Nellie.

Maybe that was why Shelly also looked similar to Joshua.

Perhaps Shelly was related to Joshua, too.

The nanny was slightly disappointed with Luna's answer. She sighed and started to collect the toys on the floor.

"I've been hearing Nigel, Neil, and Nellie mention that not only do you and Mr. Lynch need to take care of Ms.Shelly, but you also need to take care of the little girl, Riley, who isn't related to either of you," said the nanny.

"Also, you had to search for your baby who got swapped."

After that, she subconsciously looked at the baby, who was sleeping soundly on the bed.

"Just by thinking about it makes me think you and Mr.Lynch are very tired.There are already five children in the house to take care of, and you still need to search for the lost one.If...and only if Shelly is your baby after all, how good won't it be?"

Luna and Joshua would not be so tormented if that was the case.

Moreover, Shelly would not have to feel self-abased because she was not Luna and Joshua's biological daughter.

Luna felt warmth spreading across her chest just hearing the nanny's words.Her lips curled into a smile as she took a good look at Shelly, and then the nanny.

"I know you mean well, but there aren't that many coincidences in this world."

If Shelly was hers and Joshua's daughter, why would Jim, who had yet to lose his memories yet at that point, tell Bonnie that this baby girl was his another woman's child? Why did not Jim tell Luna and Joshua that the baby they had been searching for was with Bonnie all this time? Jim knew how devastated Joshua and Luna were when they thought their daughter was dead.

As Luna's biological brother and Joshua's cousin, there was no reason for Jim to have done this.

Although Luna did not like the current Jim who had lost his memory, she trusted and liked the old Jim with all her heart. She did not believe Jim would purposely do something that could separate her and Joshua away from their daughter.

'He never will!'

Hence, when Luna knew that this baby was related to Jim, she suspected Shelly to be a daughter of Jim's distant relatives or one of the Lynch family's distant relatives. She would never think that Shelly was hers and Joshua's daughter.

With those thoughts in her mind, she sighed and looked at the nanny who was focused on picking up the toys.

"I'm fine to discuss this topic with you, but don't mention it to Joshua or the kids. Do you understand?"

The nanny was stunned and nodded when she understood Luna's intention.

"Yes.I'll keep my thoughts to myself from now on, Ma'am."

Luna felt sorry to have scared the nanny unintentionally.

After all, the nanny knew the pain she and Joshua were in, and that was why she made such an assumption and spoke out her thoughts.

Chapter 2355

It was rather mean of Luna to chastise the nanny for saying her thoughts as she had said it all with the best intention.

Thus, Luna cast the nanny a gentle gaze.

"What's your name? How long have you been working here?"

Lucas was the one who hired the nanny to look after Shelly and Riley.

Since every nanny was different and the children had their preferences, the nanny in their house constantly changed.

However, Luna vaguely remembered this nanny had been working in the house for quite some time.

"My last name is Flores, Ma'am, but you can call me Mrs.Flores.I've been working for more than a week," answered Flores.

Luna nodded and smiled at her.

"Mrs. Flores, you say? I'll remember that. I'll tell Lucas to give you a raise. You've done a good job."

Flores thought that she had upset Luna, but she was thrilled to hear Luna giving her a raise.

"Thank you, Ma'am. Thank you so much!"

Luna smiled upon seeing how happy Flores was.

Just as she was about to say something, however, the nanny's phone rang.

The phone screen displayed the name [Yannie].

Flores smiled at Luna sheepishly.

"It's time for me to retire for the day, Ma'am. My daughter is calling me to tell me that she's waiting outside."

Luna paused and looked at Shelly, who was still soundly asleep.

"Alright. Hurry up, then."

Flores responded and quickly turned to the maid's room to get the maid who was responsible for the night shift.

Then, she changed into her clothes and left the house.

When Luna returned to her bedroom from Shelly's room, Joshua was still attending a video conference on the table beside the bed.

Luna did not want to disturb him, so she changed her clothes and went to the balcony to have some fresh air.

At that moment, she saw the nanny, Flores in her casual clothes, walking toward a girl who was on a motorbike outside of the house. Her face looked very happy.

The girl had long hair with fair, glowing skin. She looked very slim but very gentle.

As Flores approached the young woman, she greeted her mother rode off with Flores on her motorbike.

Luna watched as they left and sighed.

"Jealous?" Joshua's voice from behind her, sounding as though he was smiling.

Luna felt his body temperature warming her back.

Joshua hugged her thin waist from behind and said, "If you like this, you can ask Nellie to take you on her motorbike when you're old."

Luna rolled her eyes and patted Joshua's hand lightly.

"I was just envying how close they are."

She was not envious of Flores but of her daughter instead.

Luna did not have a mother figure around her when she was growing up. Her stepmother from the Gibson family was never there for her and had never loved her as a mother.

Whereas for Rosalyn...

Rosalyn did love Luna a lot, and she, too, felt the love from Rosalyn.

However, it baffled her why she did not feel that strong mother-daughter bond that others have felt.

"You'll have it too,"

Joshua mumbled as he embraced her.

Luna sighed and closed her eyes.

"Butler Fred and Mickey were the most trusted people to my mother other than my father. What is your plan?"

Chapter 2356

Although Rosalyn had never specifically said it, Luna knew that Rosalyn trusted Butler Fred and Mickey a great deal.

Otherwise, she would never allow Mickey to manage the most precious warehouse where she stored her poisons in.

However, the things that Fred and Mickey did only placed Rosalyn at the heart of the fire.

There were times Luna felt that somehow, both men knew what Charlotte was planning all along when she had lied to her, wanting her to help locate the poison.

That was why they let her and Charlotte obtain the poison so easily.

Based on Fred and Mickey's level of perceptiveness, they could not have located the poison so easily.

However, Luna dreaded to know her baby's location and did not think carefully about the logic behind it.

Thinking back at it, maybe Fred and Mickey knew it all along.

They knew that Charlotte was using her and also knew that Charlotte wanted to get her hands on the poison to remove Jim's memory so he could be Charlotte's puppet.

According to Charlotte's dubious behavior, why would she relentlessly bully Roanne but never once punish or fire Fred and Mickey? When Charlotte had her influence on the Landry family, she fired many maids and bodyguards.

Those who were loyal to her got changed one batch after another.

However, Fred and Mickey, who claimed to be loyal to the Landry family, were never once Charlotte's target.

Back in the past, Luna thought it was just coincidental, but at this point...

Maybe Fred and Mickey had a deal with Charlotte.

Otherwise, things would be too odd, too coincidental.

"I know what you're worried about."

Joshua sighed and added hoarsely, "You're worried that Mother-in-law trusts them too much. Once we exposed their true colors, you're afraid her body can't handle the truth, right?"

Luna sighed silently.

She nodded.

"Mom had just recovered a bit, but her body isn't as good as it used to be. I'm afraid she'll be too frail to handle the truth."

Joshua closed his eyes and smelled the fragrant aroma of her hair.

"I think you don't have to worry about that," he replied, his voice deep.

"Although we don't know her nor have we spent a long time with her, from the things that she did, she's a person who has her own way of thinking. She's also a person who can tell right from wrong without being biased. Otherwise, she won't marry your father many years ago when she was scrutinized pressured. Am I right?"

Luna gave that a thought.

After a while, she nodded with vigor.

"You're right."

Back in the old days, Rosalyn was willing to cut ties with her family just to marry Charles. She knew that Charles did not like her, that the only person Charles loved back then was Lucy.

It was more than once when Charles had gone crazy because of Lucy, too.

However, Rosalyn relied on her perseverance and stubbornness and chose to marry Charles, taking on all the responsibility of the Landry family's household matters.

If Rosalyn was not that stubborn, the Landry family would have never gained the brilliance it had at this moment. Her mother, Rosalyn, was a person who could withstand pressure.

However...that did not mean she would not be upset and heartbroken.

Regardless, a person would still be upset when they found out the people she trusted the most had betrayed her.

"We have no choice."

Joshua sighed.

"If she doesn't know it now, she'd be even more upset when she finds out Fred and Mickey have done more absurd things. After this is settled, you and Jim need to comfort her."

Chapter 2357

"When it's necessary..."

Joshua paused.

"We could use our deadliest weapon."

Luna's eyebrows furrowed at this as she asked, puzzled, "Deadliest weapon?"

What kind of deadly weapon did she and Joshua have?

"The deadliest weapon to make an old person happy."

Joshua smiled lightly from behind.

His low, deep voice rumbled against Luna's back.

"Don't forget that we have three precious babies in the house, Harvey, June, and also Riley and Shelly."

Luna finally understood what Joshua was talking about.

"That's right. Mom said she hasn't met her grandchildren yet."

This was why Luna came up with a way to bring Neil and Nellie from Banyan City.

However, many things have happened in the past few days.

Plus, both Rosalyn and Charles' health conditions were not stable enough, so she had not brought the kids to visit them.

If Rosalyn was too upset with Fred and Mickey's betrayal, she could bring the three children along with Harvey and June to visit her.

Rosalyn would no doubt be thrilled to see those children.

If even this failed, that all five children could not make Rosalyn happy, two other babies were available, and this equated to all seven children in total.

This would surely distract her from thinking about Fred and Mickey.

With that idea in mind, Luna finally was not worried anymore. She reached out to grab Joshua's hands on her waist.

"You're very thoughtful."

Joshua had always thought for her, guessing her thoughts and choosing the best solution for her family.

What did she do for him? She never believed in him and doubted him. She had to admit that Joshua was better than her in many ways.

At least from the relationship aspect, she was too capricious and irrational, nowhere serious like Joshua was.

These had been her characteristics for many years. She did not think she could change it, but...

"You told me that you want another baby. You want to be with me through the labor, that you want to see the child growing up with your own eyes, wanting to take care of me during the pregnancy. Right?"

Joshua squinted, his eyes slowly turned red.

"Yes."

He kissed her chin and hoarsely teased, "What are you trying to tell me, huh? Had Mrs.Lynch made up her mind?"

He grabbed her waist tightly with both hands to press her body closer to his.

The light and soft breeze from the balcony was so comfortable that it could lull a person to sleep.

However, Joshua felt very much awake as he embraced Luna in his arms.

"The moonlight is looking good tonight," he huskily said, "suitable for us to form a new life here on the balcony.Mrs.Lynch, are you interested to join me?"

His voice was hypnotizing.

Looking into his eyes and listening to his voice made Luna feel weak in the knees.

She closed her eyes and kissed his lips.

"Yes, I'm..."

Chapter 2358

After a night in the throes of passion, Luna woke up from Joshua's kissing the next morning. He kissed her chin gently.

"You're awake?" he endearingly greeted her with his morning voice.

Luna's heart skipped a beat when she saw how close Joshua's angular face was to her.

She bit her lip and slowly closed in on his handsome face to give him a peck.

All in all, she had known Joshua for almost 10 years.

Although they had spent most time apart throughout the 10 years, her feelings for him had never changed. She still felt the same with him when they first met; the admiration and her love for him never changed.

"Are you hungry?"

Joshua softly caressed Luna's face.

Luna mumbled in return.

"Take your time to wake up and freshen up. I'll make you breakfast."

With that, he got out of bed.

By then, Luna realized that Joshua had already freshened up and changed to his loungewear.

That meant he did not wake up at the same time as she was. He woke up before her and did other things, only coming to wake her up by kissing her.

In fact, Luna had always thought she was a light sleeper.

After having to take care of the kids for many years, she did not have the luxury to be a heavy sleeper.

When she was taking care of the three children in Merchant City, she would quickly wake up and check the nursery room the moment she heard sounds.

Ever since she started sharing the same bed with Joshua, she did not hear the noise Joshua made when he woke up nor did she know the time he woke up. She strongly believed that she was still the same light sleeper.

Maybe Joshua deliberately moved lightly and avoided making a sound to wake her up. Her heart melted when she thought of that. She took a deep breath and looked at the tall, muscular figure. Her lips curled into a smile.

"Are you getting addicted to cooking?"

Yesterday, he baked little cookies for her and brewed a cup of coffee for her.

She thought he did it on a whim and wanted to apologize to her, but never had she thought he would offer to make breakfast for her.

"Well, that's not it."

Joshua looked at Luna with a condescending angle.

Her fair, long legs were showing outside of the blanket, there were red marks from his kisses and pinches last night.

"It's just that you worked hard last night too. I think you're more tired than me. You were practically crying and begging me to stop. Do you think I'm willing to let you prepare breakfast?" Joshua explained.

The way he looked at her and the way he spoke brought Luna back to last night. She had to give it to him...he was very zealous last night.

Even after bearing four children with him, she still could not handle his affection.

Until the end, she kept on crying and begging him to slow down, but he did not hear her at all. He even moved faster and faster without any sign of slowing down.

Luna's face reddened like an apple when she remembered this. She started to suspect the reason she did not wake up in time was not necessary due to Joshua's gentleness. It was most likely that she was too tired because of his fervent passion from last night.

Joshua curled up his lips into a smile when he saw Luna's rosy cheeks.

He approached her and lightly pecked on her cheek, pinching her long leg.

"I'm going to make breakfast."

With that, he paced off.

Luna continued to lay on the bed and watch him go off, all while warmth spread throughout her chest and fondness fluttered in her stomach.

Although her body was aching, she was happy.

After Joshua left the room, she continued to lay on the bed to look at her phone.

Chapter 2359

Luna's social media was full of Thomas' photos posted by Anne.

Her captions clearly showed how excited she was.

[This is what a perfect man should look like!]

[That face?! That's God's masterpiece, I swear!]

[What did he do to make God give him such perfect features?]

John liked every single photo that Anne posted and commented with the same sarcastic comment,

[Dr.Anne, I want to look like him too.]

Luna cackled when she saw this.

While she was enjoying the interaction between the couple, she clicked on Thomas' photo to enlarge it.She had to admit it; Thomas was a nice-looking man.

Although his face did not hold a candle to Joshua and Jim, he was a lot better than other men.

Most of the photos Anne posted were taken during events or programs.

Luna slowly looked through all of the photos.

The latest photo was taken in an airport, and Luna recognized the interior design of the airport.It was the airport in Merchant City.

Luna furrowed her eyebrows slightly.

'So this superstar is here in Merchant City after all'

She continued to flip to the next photo when a familiar face attracted Luna's attention.

In this photo, Thomas was smiling at the camera while opening the car door with his sunglasses off.

A few people were moving his luggage and stuff into the trunk.

One of the men who was lifting his things was looking at the camera, too.

Wait...that was Malcolm! That face looked downright like his, down to every feature! Luna widened her eyes with astonishment as she enlarged the photo to confirm it.

That face was identical to Malcolm's. She had been friends with Malcolm for more than six years, and he was once the pillar of support for her mental state.

Luna could not possibly mistake him for someone else.

However, she thought that Malcolm had been exiled from Merchant City and was never allowed to return.

'This person...isn't he Malcolm? Or is he just someone who looks similar to Malcolm?' Luna bit her lip and saved the photo.

She continued to enlarge the photo to confirm her suspicion.

At the moment, she could not confirm if it was Malcolm at all.

First of all, that person was obviously working for Thomas, Malcolm would never allow himself to do such a job even if he was down and out.

After all, he was the young master of the Quinn family.

Secondly, this was the first time Thomas visited Merchant City.

There was no connection between his life and Merchant City beforehand, so how could he know

Malcolm? Luna was baffled at all these thoughts, so she could only save the photo and left the room to go downstairs.

"Thomas Howard is so handsome!"

When she was on her way down, Luna overheard Nellie's childish voice ringing, "Daddy, do you think he's handsome?"

Joshua looked at the man on the television and smiled.

"You like this type of man?"

"No!"

Nellie pursed her lips.

"I'm just seven years old. I can't marry a man now! What I mean is this man is suitable to be the jewelry model for Mommy and me!"

She raised her head and looked at Luna.

"Am I right, Mommy?"

Chapter 2360

Nellie raising her head made an endearing sight.

Luna smiled and went to peck Nellie's cheek.

"You're right. He's very suitable."

Previously, all Luna thought of was how Anne worshiped and admired him.

After hearing Nellie's suggestion, however, Luna realized the possibility, too.

With the angular and sleek face, slender neck, and big hands with well-defined joints...he was a good fit to be a jewelry ambassador.

Many companies targeted the women's market, and the latest marketing trend was to hire a male celebrity to be their ambassador.

Joshua curled his lips and smiled. He looked at Nellie plainly.

You said you're just seven and not the age to marry someone yet, but should a seven-year-old consider who to hire to be the jewelry ambassador?"

Nellie pouted upon hearing her father's words.

She then lowered her head and took a sip of the warm milk from the glass she was holding.

Then, she raised her head to look at Thomas, who was still on television.

"Of course! Mommy said she wanted to reinvigorate her career and even went to Banyan City to look for Aunt Shannon and the others to help her! She's just been so busy getting back on track with her jewelry design career. As her daughter, I have inherited her talented DNA, so it's only natural that I need to help solve her problem so she can be happy. I need to help her to expand her career when she's busy!"

Neil, who was at the side, pursed his lip and was astonished by Nellie's declamation.

"Nellie, since when are you better than me at sweet talk?"

Nigel looked up from his notebook and looked at Neil in contempt.

"So you know you like to sweet talk?"

Neil rolled his eyes at his brother.

'Can you just continue reading and ignore me?'

Nigel sneered and continued to read his book, while Neil grabbed Nellie's hand smilingly.

"Tell me, where did you learn all of this?"

At first, Nellie insisted, "I thought all of it out by myself!"

However, her little lies could not withstand Neil's inquisitive spirit.

Thus, she sighed and told the truth, "Actually, Uncle Samson was the one who told me."

She looked at Luna conflicted.

"Mommy said she's going to hire them to further her career, but she has been so busy. Uncle Samson felt very bored told me to say all these when he was discussing the jewelry design with me."

Luna felt upset by Nellie's words.

She squatted and took Nellie into her arms.

"I promise you that when all the things are settled, Mommy will start to venture back into the career."

She knew Samson did not mean anything bad when he told Nellie these things.

At most, his intention was to let Nellie pass the message to her that it was about time for her to take care of her career.

Nellie must have known Samson's purpose and thought the same as he did, and that was probably why Nellie would bring it up on this day.

Otherwise, Luna believed that Nellie would not just repeat whatever Samson said without thinking twice with her high intelligence.

"I've given some thoughts about your jewelry company."

Since Luna was mentioning work, Joshua, while putting on the dishes he had cooked on the dining table, said, "I'll invest into the jewelry company so it'll become a company funded by the Lynch family and the Landry family. I've already asked Lucas to prepare all the necessary matters regarding the jewelry company, too. When we settle the issue with Butler Fred and Mickey, you can ask Shannon, Samson, and the rest to come to join in venturing out in your career."
