Chapter 3063

"I can help you escape!" John exclaimed just as the man was about the pull trigger. "I can help you!"

The man furrowed his brow and moved the gun away from John's forehead. "What do you have?"

John exhaled and said in a low voice, "Sir, have you forgotten about what I said? Whoever's searching for you right now is giving out ten thousand dollars to every person whose door they knocked on.

"There are many more tenants in this building besides you, and if you guys split up and sneak into the vacant units, you'll be able to pass off as tenants. Not only will you be safe, but you'll get some money in addition also.

"There are plenty of other people like me who've snuck in just to get the money. If you put on a good act, I'm sure no one will notice!"

With that, John glanced at the rest of the men in the room and added, "Sir, I'm sorry to say this, but you guys are no match for the people outside. There are carloads of men out there searching for you right now, and no matter how powerful you are, you won't stand a chance."

The man paused, glanced out the window, and fell silent.

He knew John was right. As skilled as they were, they were severely outnumbered.

There was no doubt that staying in this room would get them killed. Although Tyson was in power, all of them were still loyal to Luke and did not truly want to be Tyson's subordinates.

Therefore, none of them were willing to sacrifice themselves for Tyson's sake.

At the thought of this, the man with the gun glanced at another man sitting on the bed. "Did you manage to get through?"

The man shook his head. "I can't get in touch with Diablo nor anyone from Sea City."

He shot the man a worried look and asked, "Have they given up on us, Scarface? Have we been left for dead?"

Scarface exhaled and turned to stare at John. "Are you sure those people will leave after giving them money and won't investigate further?"

"Yes!" John nodded. "There are thousands of units in this building. Even if they have plenty of men, they'd never be able to finish investigating every household tonight. All they did was just ask some basic questions and leave. If that weren't the case, neither of us would even dare sneak in here.

"Besides, you can always just pretend to be annoyed residents and stir up a fight with them once they knock on your door. It's their fault for conducting such a search in the middle of the night, and surely they'll feel bad for doing so and won't dare to waste too much of your time, but..."

He glanced at the rest of the men and continued, "I still think you all should split up. With so many men in one house, they'll have to be idiots not to know something is up."

Scarface was silent after hearing this.

A split second later, one of the men on the bed stood up and declared, "Scarface, this man is right! We can't just sit around and wait for them to find us! We'd be dead once they lay their hands on us! We might as well just take the money for ourselves and leave that old geezer behind. If we do that, we might stand a chance of surviving!

"Even if we manage to survive all this, Tyson will surely be suspicious of us once we return!"

"He's right!" the rest all geared up to support him. "This is our best shot!"

Scarface was silent for a moment, then finally turned to glance coldly at John. "Perhaps you're just a spy that they sent over to trick us."
