

Luna & Joshua 3067

Chapter 3067

Both Scarface and the man outside the door froze.

John turned to stare, wide-eyed, at the man next to him.

How dare he? Did he have a death wish?!

John could understand that the old man was probably excited to see someone coming to save him after being entrapped for so long, but this was not the right time to do so!

"Rats!" Scarface immediately whipped around and fired a shot toward Andy's head.

A split second later, someone grunted in pain, followed by the smell of burning flesh mixed with blood.

The man outside the door tackled Scarface to the floor. " Don't move!"

The rest of his crew stormed into the room and switched on the lights.

They realized that Andy was not the only one in the room. Next to him was a younger man bleeding from the gunshot wound in his shoulder.

Andy, on the other hand, was scared out of his wits. He clung to John's arm and yelped, "Are you okay? Young man! Are you still alive?"

"I'm not dead." John furrowed his brow. "Why are you so stupid? I'm surprised you even managed to survive so long."

The look of concern froze on Andy's face.

John chuckled at this. "Well, I guess I saved your life. Considering this, are you going to give me some kind of reward? I don't ask for much. Just a few hundred thousand.

I need to pay for my wife's surgery..."

Before he could finish, his eyelids fluttered shut, and he passed out.

"Father!" Gwen, who had been waiting in the car all this while, could not stop herself when she heard that they had found Andy. She broke free of the bodyguard that was keeping an eye on her, then stormed all the way up to the fifth floor and leaped into Andy's arms. "Father! Are you okay? I can't believe it!"

Her entire body was shaking. She thought she would never be able to see her father again!

The truth was, she had already braced herself for the worst when she first found out Andy had been kidnapped. Not because she wanted her father to die, but because she knew exactly how ruthless Tyson was.

Thankfully, they had kidnapped Andy to lure her. Because of this, they had no choice but to spare Andy's life.

She finally saw her father again, and all the worry and sorrow dissipated into nothing. With that, she burst into tears of joy.

Andy consoled her for a long time before finally saying,

Well, it's all thanks to this young man. if it weren't for him, I'd be dead by now."

Gwen froze, then finally realized that there was someone else in the room with them-a young man whom the men were tending to.

"What happened to him?" She walked over to see if she could help.

At that very moment, she caught sight of his face.

"John?"

What was he doing here? Was he the one who saved Andy?

"What's he doing here?" Luke and Joshua, who also arrived as soon as they heard the news, were both stunned to see John.

Andy shot them an incredulous look. "Do you all...know him?"
