

Luna Lola-The Moon Wolf by Park Kara

Chapter 101-110

Chapter 101

Lola's POV

The rogue king”

I looked at Adrian. Lyla and Avianca and they all looked shocked too. “B-but he’s dead. He’s dead, right?” I asked no one in particular as I sat on the floor with my head in my hands.

I did not know how I felt about the piece of information. Fear? Anger? Pain? I did not know which one was more prominent. I was scared that the man who killed my parents was still on the lookout for me and would do anything to get me for himself. I was angry that he was still alive after ruining my life and wanted revenge on him. Jasmine was growling with anger in my head.

“Where did you see him? How did you know he was the one?” I asked rapidly. Adrian placed a hand on my shoulder, trying to calm me down. “If he was bold enough to show his face and kill Jayden, it must be that he isn’t planning to hide anymore and the war will be upon us soon”. I said to Adrian and he nodded in understanding.

“I understand what you’re trying to say but let’s hear Mom out first. This might be a way forward for us. A difference from the dead ends we’ve always met”, he responded in my head.

“Mom, what exactly happened? How did you know he was the one? I need you to be strong and tell me everything, Mom”, he said softly to Rose. She took a while before she sniffled and sat up well.

“Well, we were on our way back from the Moonlit pack when I saw Lola’s call. She asked if there was anyone around us but I thought she was just being paranoid”, she said with so much emotion. “I’m sorry I doubted you”. she whispered to me and I nodded my head, “maybe we might have been saved if I had allowed him to speed up the way he did”. she sniffled again.

1 288 Moucher

“I was speaking before a figure jumped in front of the car, and that was why I shouted before the line disconnected. The figure seemed to be running from someone, so Jayden and I got down to check in out”.

“The figure seemed unmoving and we thought he was dead. I got my phone from the car to call for help from the pack since we were close to it but something shocking happened”, she paused to blow her nose into the tissue that Adrian was holding for her.

She took a while and I was starting to get impatient but I took deep breaths to calm myself. She finished blowing her nose and continued her story.

“It was a trap, Adrian”, she whispered, holding onto Adrian’s arms. He seemed shaken too and hugged her tightly to his body. That was when it dawned on me that I was so focused on the pain and anger of losing my family, whom I can’t really remember, to the motherfucker, that I forgot that others were grieving too.

I shifted close to Rose and placed my head on her lap, a subtle way to show my support emotionally and be there for her. She gently rubbed my head before she continued.

“Before I could comprehend what was going on, we’ve been surrounded by feral looking wolves but they had not just attacked yet. It was like they were waiting for command from someone, a rare sight among rogues since they don’t take commands from anyone”, she said. I looked towards where Lyla and Avianca were and they looked so shocked and comical. I almost laughed but the seriousness of the matter at hand kept me from doing that.

“Jayden was ready to fight and was even protecting the wolf that was on the forest floor. We thought it was being chased by the rogues until it transformed into a human and sat up. The strange thing was that when he transformed, he was fully clothed”, she said and we all looked bewildered

That was very strange indeed. I’ve never heard of a wolf turning back into human with clothes on except..... I looked towards Rose and she nodded. “Yes Lola, only black magic can enable that and we all know the only person that uses black magic”, she said.

“What happened next. Mom?” Adrian asked impatiently, anger underlying his words. “He looked so young and calm, yet there was something evil about him. Jayden, let the moon bless his soul, pulled me behind him to shield me from the motherfucker. He told us he was Damon, Elias’ son and asked us how we loved the gifts he randomly dropped for you”, Adrian growled at the mention of me and a shudder ran through my spine, and it wasn’t in a good way.

“He then commanded his wolves to tear us into pieces because we were going to be another gift for Lola”, she was crying again at this point “Jayden fought, he took down almost all of them and when he was about to go for the rogue king, he disappeared into thin air”.

Whew, that was a lot but I was still confused as to how she got her injuries even if it was the injury Jayden got that killed him. “How did you get the venomous wolfsbane in you?” Lyla asked the question that was at the tip of my tongue.

“When we turned to leave, he returned and shot both of us. He left as soon as he came. Jay was too weak to be able to fight off the venom so I had to drive us to the pack. He died before we could make it halfway”, she sobbed.

“I felt our mate bond severe when he took his last breath, he breathed his last with his hands in mine, his eyes on me”, she was sobbing uncontrollably but still managed to speak through her tears. “His last words were, “Lola and Adrian must bring an end to this”, he did not even get to tell me that he loved me”, she wept.

Chapter 101

H

Adrian hugged his mother as she cried, his jaw was rigid while tears ran down his cheeks. “I promise you that we’re going to put an end to everything he has been doing. I don’t care who he has on his side”, I swore to Adrian through our mindlink and he nodded.

It was time to finally put him in his place. Jayden’s death was the final strawChapter 102

Lola’s POV

“Nathan”, I called out to him through our mindlink. “Yes, Luna”, he responded almost immediately. “Meet me at the house in 20 minutes”, then I blocked off our mindlink.

Adrian looked at me in question, “Don’t look at me like that. Action. needs to be taken against this f ucker. I’ve allowed this to go on for too long. I can’t sit back and watch him tear through my pack anymore”, I told him before sitting beside Rose again.

She had moved back from Adrian and was now resting her head on my shoulder while I rubbed her arms. “What are you going to do?” Shr asked while yawning and I shook my head. “I don’t know, I really don’t know”. I whispered back.

“We’ll also do whatever we can to help”, Avianca said from where she was sitting. I looked towards them with a grateful smile even though I know I wasn't going to put them in harm's way like that.

Rose kept yawning so I offer to help her to bed. She argued at first that she did not need any help but I insisted and she finally gave in. She said she did not want to sleep in her former room so I took her into my room since I barely stayed there and it would be easier for me to check up on her While she took a shower, I arranged the room and cleared out the bed. I remembered that there was a time I got scented candles from the mall when I went shopping with Lyla, so I got the jasmine scented ones and lighted it for her so that he can sleep well.

She took her time in the bathroom and I knew she had been crying but said nothing about it. I knew how I felt when I got rejected by Grayson, how I felt when Adrian constantly broke my heart and I was sure it was nothing compared to losing a mate, the one you're supposed to spend the rest of your life with.
Chapter 102

11

"It smells so amazing in here, I love it", she said with a forced smile as she entered the room again. "I lighted some candles for you, anything for my favorite person in the world. Do not tell Adrian I said that", I said and she laughed slightly which warmed my heart.

I passed her the clothes I picked out for her and waited till she was done before I turned to face her again. She laid down and I made to leave but I held my hands. "I want you to stay till I sleep off, Lola", she said and I nodded my head.

"I lost my Anna to a rogue attack, also", she whispered. "Adrian told me. I'm so sorry that had to happen", I said but she shook her head with a smile. "No, you weren't the cause of the rogue attack and so, you shouldn't be sorry for what you did not do".

"But, they wanted the moon wolf, Adrian told me everything. I'm so sorry, Rose. If I had not been born, you'd still have your daughter with you", I said sadly. She'd have her mate too.

"Oh. silly", she said with a weak smile, "I might have lost Anna but I got you as my second chance daughter and if gladly go through the pain of losing a daughter again to find you. You're very amazing and strong that I sometimes envy how you could still stand despite having do much to carry on your shoulder".

She slowly sat up and cradled my face in her hands. "I'm so glad Adrian did right by you before it became too late. You're such a precious gem and I'm glad I took she spoke and I couldn't help but be emotional.

"I'm glad you treated me like yours. I wouldn't have been able to survive without your help and back up. You were the Mom I lost at a young age and I'd be forever grateful to the moon goddess for the gift of you". At that point, she was crying again.

Chapter 102
H 288 (Voucher

"I promise that I'd do whatever it takes to make sure that we get the revenge we deserve, Mom". I said. She looked shocked at being called that by me. "Mom?" She asked. "Yes, Mom. You've played that role perfectly". I answered her with a huge smile on my face.

She hugged me tightly and I felt her body shake with tears. "Thank you, thank you so much. pumpkin", she whispered, making me teary but I kept my tears at bay. "Now, you need to sleep. You've done. enough". I told her as I pulled back and she smiled as she nodded.

She laid down and within minutes, her breath evened out. I gently kissed her forehead before I stepped out of the room. It wasn't until I left her room that I allowed my tears to fall. I held onto the wall to support myself as all the emotions I had kept in while I was with Rose broke free. Adrian came up the stairs and saw me crying. Without saying a word, he held me till I stopped crying. He did not say anything nor did he try to stop me from crying and I was grateful for that. The reality of everything just hit me with Jayden's death and I was just grieving for him.

"Is Nathan here already?" I asked after I stopped crying and he nodded. "That's why I came to get you", he responded, "what do you plan to do? What are we going to do?" He asked. I sighed before replying him, "I don't know Adrian. All I know I'd that we've allowed this to go on for long and it's time to put a stop to it. Let's start by fishing out the traitor", I said as I pulled away from him.

We walked hand in hand down the stairs where Avianca, Lyla and Nathan were waiting for us. Nathan bowed slightly in respect when he saw me.

„****noddry of Juod si pya sōwōy vs.

Chapter 103

Lola's POV

It's been two months since we lost Jayden which means it's been two months since we've been trying to figure out who the mole in the pack is while trying to figure out we could bring down Damon.

Rogue attacks in the pack became rampant and every time, he'd always leave a note behind. We increased the strength of security around the pack but they still managed to get into the pack undetected. Serena did a spell on the pack that was supposed to keep intruders out but they still managed to enter the pack.

It was frustrating and at some points, I almost gave up on the whole thing. Yes, I almost killed myself. Infact, I tried to, by injecting myself with wolfsbane but Selene sent me back and said my time wasn't up.

Adrian almost went on a rampage and that was my wake up call.

When I was finally revived. I realised just how much damage I caused in a week. The pack was almost in ruins because Adrian neglected all of his duties even when the pack was attacked twice. Rose went into depression and I felt very bad for causing so much trouble.

After I fully recovered, Adrian was very obstinate about my decision to go back to training because he knew I'd be pushing myself harder than I normally would. Unknown to him, Selene already gave me advice on how to go about unlocking my powers, I guess my near death experience was the reason for that. According to her, she was breaking some laws of the universe but it was becoming unbearable for me and I refused to live if I would keep going through the same thing over and over again.

After a lot of conversation and deliberation, I was able to convince him.

Chapter 10

11

and I went back into training. Apart from being taught how to fight and practising self defence, Serena would come three times in a week to see how far I was doing with unlocking my powers and what other powers I had unlocked.

So far, I have unlocked 2 more powers apart from being able to shoot lightning and healing people. I could create a force shield around myself and I also learned how to use the weather to my advantage.

Everytime, Serena would say I had not reached my full potential and I knew it too but I knew how hard it was going to be to catch Damon if I didn't reach my full potential. Apparently, he needed me at my full power before he took me but we needed to get him first before he ruined everything.

Knowing that whatever the mole in the pack funds very useful will be relegated to Damon, we made an announcement that the war will be happening soon since all we needed had been put in place. Although we made it seem like it was a means to ginger the warriors, only Adrian and Serena knew the truth.

Through it all, I kept working on myself while also growing with Adrian. We've gotten closer than before and I felt his emotions and thoughts like they were mine. Things were not like that till he broke down over the death of his father after holding it for too long. I made a pact to protect my mate and the pack from whatever might threaten their peace and safety.

I had gotten stronger and faster on my legs too. When I first started physical training with others, it was hard for me because I was used to Jayden's way of training. These people held back because I was their Luna, making it difficult for me to be able to learn because they all treated me like a porcelain doll.

I have also been working on extending my force field to a larger area. I wouldn't be the only one fighting during the war and I will need to protect my pack members too.

"Lola", a voice took me out of my thoughts and I almost made a force field to shield myself, nearly hunting a nervous looking Lotana in the process. "You scared me, Tana". I placed my hands over my chest trying to calm my racing heart

"Are you okay? What scared you? Do you need me to come over? You know I don't like it when you're alone, especially in the woods". Adrian's voice rang in my head, bringing a smile to my face. He must have felt the change in my breathing. "I'm fine, Papi I just got startled by Lotana showing up here. I promise that I'm fine Adrian", I assured him.

I noticed that Lotana was acting differently. I mean, she's been acting differently since Jayden's death but today she looked sad and afraid. The Luna instinct in me wanted to shield her and protect her but the friend she suddenly switched up on kept me rooted,

Call me petty, I'll answer you prettily.

"Do you have a minute?" She asked, still wringing her hands and I nodded. "Sure, what do you want to talk about?" I asked her, cleaning the accumulated sweat on my forehead.

“Uhm”, she started, “I’ve been meaning to talk to you about this for a while but I did not know how to go about it because I f u c k e d u p royally”, she said. Thank goddess you know.

“I won’t say it’s cool that you decided to switch up but I’m sure we can move past that”, I said to her and she nodded. “Can we move a bit farther?” She gestured towards the guards that were in the distance. I gestured to her to lead the way and she led us deep into the woods, such that we were almost close to the border of the pack. I was getting uneasy with where we were and that was when she stopped.

“What do you want to talk about, Lotana? I need to get back to 117 training before Adrian before he starts getting worried”, I almost snapped at her but kept my cool. “Yeah, yeah, I’ll make it as short as possible, I don’t have all the time in the world either”, her tone changed, surprising me.

“What the f u c k are you talking about?” I snapped at her and she dared laugh. “Jeez, you’re so dumb, don’t you think?” She looked me in the eye before laughing maniacally. “What is going on Lotana? Why are you doing this?” I asked slowly. I contacted Adrian through our mindlink and he said he was on his way immediately.

“I know your mate is on the way so I’ll make this as quick as possible”. Before I could ask her what she meant, I felt something p r i c k my neck and I slowly lost consciousness, not before I said one last thing to Adrian. “I’m sorry and I love you”.

Chapter 104

Adrian’s POV

Her last words kept ringing in my head as I barked out orders to the warriors that came with me. I’m sorry and I love you. She was gone when I reached the pack border, the only evidence of her being there was the scrunchie I got for her that was on the ground,

The warriors that were with her at that time were all dead by the time I got there. The only thing that was keeping me from going on at rampage was the fact that I could still feel the mate bond. Even though it was fainter than what I usually feel, it was there.

Nathan came a while later, looking sad and I knew what he was going to say before he said it. “She’s gone man. We couldn’t find her anywhere in the pack”, he said. I howled loudly in sadness and soon the whole pack was filled with howls of sadness. Their Luna had been kidnapped after all.

When we got back to the pack house, everywhere was silent and the whole atmosphere was depressing. The last time the pack was like that was when we lost dad. Even the children must have sensed that something was wrong because they were quiet, very quiet. She was loved by everyone so it doesn't come as a surprise.

In my head, Daxon was surprisingly quiet which made me worried. He's always saying something, being silent when his mate was missing getting me worried.

was

"Buddy, why are you so silent?" I asked through our mindlink and all I got was a whimper. I was going crazy while maintaining a calm demeanor. "Mate. I need mate", Daxon was whimpering in my head and I just couldn't imagine what he was feeling. Usually, the wolf side connects more than the human side does so he must be feeling worse than I did and I felt like I was being teared up from the inside.

11

"Tomorrow, we will send out a search party to every unclaimed land and every human town across the country. No stone should be left unturned, am I clear?" I barked out my orders to Nathan and the warriors before leaving the silent pack house, Nathan following behind me.

"Are you okay, man?" He asked me after we walked some distance but I kept mute. I did not know how to respond to that without breaking down so I kept mute and just kept walking. He got the memo because he did not ask anything after that and we just went to my house.

We met Lyla, Avianca and Mom in the living room when we got there, they were comforting themselves. It was such a sad sight to see because Mom was having it worse than me. Lola had been her support since Dad passed, I never found out what happened when she took her to her room but I knew that it made them impossibly closer. They were so close that she became depressed after Lola almost took her life and she was just recovering from it. What happened now was surely going to make her revert back to being depressed and I didn't know how to stop that.

Lyla, who was heavily pregnant, was crying out her eyes too. They talked non-stop about how they were going to raise her baby together and I might have been a bit excited when I was told to be the godfather for the baby. Now, we might never see the baby because our only hope at bringing down the evil that was going to wipe us out was now gone. Nathan went to hug Lyla tightly to his chest when he met her crying and I felt a pang in my chest. I miss my mate. Mom looked up and broke down into tears again when she did not see Lola with us. She held on to Lyla tightly, I couldn't take it so I left the room and went to my study, signalling to Nathan to follow me.

He knocked once before he entered the study, closing the door behind him. "I need Jace and his mate here", he nodded and his eyes glazed over. "They're on their way", he said after a while and sat in the chair in front of me. I nodded before drifting into my thoughts.

Was she hurt before being kidnapped? How is she feeling right now? Will she be hurt when she finally sees that Damon guy? Does she miss me? Because I miss her so much. I could barely feel anything through our mate bond, it was like our connection was cut off by something. I wondered how she must have felt being betrayed by someone she trusted as a friend.

Just then. Jace walked in followed by his mate Greg, who also happened to be Lotana's sister. No one in the pack knew who kidnapped their Luna, they just knew that she was kidnapped.

I looked at Greg intently, making him move closer to his mate and hide behind him. Outraged by the presence of Lotana's relative, Daxon growled and tried to take control of my body but I tried as much as possible to rein him in. Nathan also stared the Greg pup down which added to the intensity in the room.

"You called for us, Alpha", Jace spoke up, breaking up the deafening silence in the room. "It's no news that your Luna got kidnapped today", I said looking at Greg intently, "it's also not news to everyone that we have a mole in the pack that works for the rogues", I added to which Jace nodded.

"We're well aware of that, Alpha. Tomorrow, we're also going on at search for her, we promise to bring the Luna back to the pack in good health", he said, not losing his composure. "Concerning the mole, your mate here should know a thing or two", I said and watched his reaction closely.

He looked genuinely shocked and I did not know whether I should believe him or not. "Wha-what do y-o-o-ou mean, Alpha? I don't know

H

mencocked cope before he entered the study, closing the door behind sad Ang

mood Jane and his mate here". he nodded and his eyes glazed Devic on their way" he said after a while and sat in the chair wild our of me I nodded before drifting into my thoughts.

miu sur four (beline being kidnapped" How is she feeling right now?

Madisonder hurt when she finally sees that Damon guy? Does she miss Japan Inis het so much. I could barely feel anything through beat draws Grate! I was like our connection was cut off by something. I www sow she must have felt being betrayed by someone she waves a a fiend

en door walked in followed by his mate Greg, who also pect to be Lolana's sister. No one in the pack knew who marionet tucar Luna, they just knew that she was kidnapped.

bang hently, making him move closer to his mate and hide and fun Outraged by the presence of Lotana's relative. Daxon grimugs and mod to take control of my body but I tried as much as growlithesão paan hun in Nathan also stared the Greg pup down which area 20 lab pritenity in the room.

Ad for us, Alpha", Jace spoke up. breaking up the deafening Aenean datoom. "It's no news that your Luna got kidnapped today". sut doorang at Greg intently, "it's also not news to everyone that we How the pack that works for the rogues", I added to which wipe well aware of that Alpha Tomorrow, we're also going on a care for her we promise to bring the Luna back to the pack in good tecili sand not losing his composure. "Concerning the mole, your k wa bure should know a thing or two", I said and watched his reaction

Accord penunck shocked and I did not know whether I should Ask bum or not "Wha-what do y-o-o-ou mean, Alpha? I don't know anything about the traitor, I don't know what you're talking about", he was visibly shaking at this point. I couldn't pinpoint if it was out of fear of being caught or fear of me.

"Your sister, Lotana, is the traitor and I'd like to know how you helped her achieve her goal of kidnapping your Luna", I said

"Lotana did what? I don't believe you at all. I'm sure she's somewhere in the pack crying over Lola being kidnapped. They're very close friends, my sister would never do anything like that", he kept rambling.

on and on.

I was about to speak up again when the desk phone in my office rang “Alpha Adrian of Crescent moon pack speaking”, I said into the receiver.

“I finally get to speak with you, Alpha”. The condescending tone with which he said the Alpha sent a shudder through my spine and I just knew who it was.

Damon. That b astard.

Chapter 105

Adrian's POV

“Who's this?” I asked just to be sure. He laughed mockingly before answering. “Oh. Adrian. I'm so hurt by your words”, I could imagine him with his hands on his chest, a very wide grin on his face as he spoke. He did not say anything afterwards so I remained silent too, a breathing competition ongoing.

“Who's that?” Adrian mouthed. “The b astard”, I replied to him and saw Nathan's eyes change colors before they returned back to his original color. Jace and Greg stood confused in the center of the room, looking from my face to Nathan's.

Daxon was impatient and wanted to take charge but I knew that the fucker was just trying to play mind games so I did not relegate control to him. “Fuck, let me out. I'm going to kill that motherfucker and bury him where no one is going to find him”, Daxon grinded out. “Let you out and then what? You're just going to ruin everything with your temper. He's trying to rile us up, so calm the fuck down”. For the first time, I was being the reasonable one.

“You're good”, he said but I still kept mute. “With your temper and reputation, I expected you to be tearing the whole world down right now on search of your mate”, he snickered. “Oh, let me rephrase that”, he went silent for a few seconds before speaking again. “I expected you to be tearing the whole world down in search of MY mate”, he laughed maniacally.

My blood boiled and I couldn't help the loud growl that escaped my mouth. “Listen here, you deranged son of a gun. You will not touch a hair on my mate's body not to talk of defiling her”, I gritted out, clenching my fists together to prevent me from bushing out at someone in the room.

“I'm so scared. Alpha Adrian”, he said mockingly “Good luck trying to find her. I'd be having fun with her beautiful body before I finally take you down, all of you". The line went silent after that I re-dialed the number but I was unable to connect In a fit of rage, I threw the phone across the room, barely mung Jace I slumped onto my chair almost in tears. If only I had been faster If only I had been wary about Lotana's sudden appearance. If only, just if I had been more careful, my mate would be by my side right now.

"I don't care how it's going to be done, I don't care how you're going to find her but I want to see my mate in this pack by tomorrow". I barked out at everyone in the room. Jace and Greg nodded.

"I need every information on your sister before the day runs out. Where she's been in the past few months, anything and everything that relates to her and your family too. Failure to get me that in an hour will lead to your execution", I growled at Greg. They bowed before they made their way out of the room, I was left with Nathan and a chaotic mind.

"What if we never find her again? What if she gets marked by that psycho? Will I be able to hold my mate in my arms again? I was broken and felt useless also. I had built my support system around her and now that she wasn't here, I was slowly falling apart. Deep down inside me, I knew it was a matter of time before I completely lost it.

"We're going to find her, man. She's Lyla's best friend and I know she'll be heartbroken if nothing is done about it", Nathan assured me and I hoped to the moon goddess that it would be possible.

"What of Mom and the girls?" I asked him after a moment of silence.

"Rose is asleep now, Lyla and Avianca are in the living room", he replied to me. I stood up and went to the sitting room. They should have some information regarding Lotana too even though they fell out at some point. They were all together in the pack before Lola came into the pack.

"Any new developments?" Lyla stood up immediately she saw us, her face fell when Nathan shook his head. I was glad he did not tell her what happened in the study. I wasn't sure they would have been able to take it. Everyone knows who took her but I doubt that they want to admit it.

"What information can you give me about Lotana?" I asked them as I took a seat. "Lotana?" Avianca asked, "we barely talk anymore, she just switched up on us after her coming of age and we've been distant since then"

"Yeah, she's right. We barely talk anymore. Why did you ask?" Lyla chipped in. I looked at Nathan, contemplating if I should tell them the truth or not. “Nathan, what’s going on? How did Lotana get thrown into the equation?” Lyla asked her mate with a stern face.

“She’s the traitor”, I said plainly and they both gasped. “Tha-that can’t be true”, Avianca stuttered. “She can’t do that. Lotana is not that kind of person”, Lyla said too. She looked towards Nathan who nodded subtly. I was about to speak again when my phone vibrated. A message. popped up saying, “I hope you like what you see”, with an image attached to it. I quickly opened the message and I almost dropped my phone in shock. It was an image of Lola tied up with no clothes on, she had nothing on her and her whole body was on display. Another message came in and I read it almost immediately. “Isn’t she so pretty? I can’t wait for her to be awake so that I can have my way with her the way I want. I’m sure you’ll want videos of your mate moaning my name in pleasure”, the message read.

That was when I lost it I saw red and Dason took over my body. He ran out of the house in a fit of rage and ran into the woods destroying everything in his way I could not reason anything beyond the naked image of my mate. I wanted to burn the world to the ground just to find her before he violated her She was so innocent, she ran away from her old pack to avoid being defiled and that bastard is trying to take advantage of her again

I was suddenly surrounded by wolves at the pack border. They were blocking my way and the anger in me tripled. I charged towards the wolves that were blocking my path but I got hit by a needle halfway and fell to the ground, slowly losing consciousness.

No. I need to get to Lola. I need to save..... The world became black around me

Chapter 106

Lola’s POV

I woke up confused, my head banging like a thousand and one stainless plates were being hit together inside of it. I tried to remember what happened but my memory was fogged up and I felt dizzy.

“Jasmine! Jasmine!!” I shouted worriedly in my head when it was all silent and I could barely feel her presence in my head. “Ugh! Do you not know when to be quiet, Lola?” She asked irritably and I breathed a sigh of relief.

At least, she still has her sass.

“I don’t know where we are and why. I can barely feel Adrian in my head and my bond with the pack is weakened also. What’s going on?” I asked her with the hope that she was going to remember what happened to us but it was to no avail. “I don’t know what happened nor why. I just feel like I’ve been hit by a freight train”, she replied and it was obvious she was in a nasty mood.

I made to turn a bit to be more comfortable with my hands tied when I felt coldness deep into my skin. Wait, what? My skin? I looked down and that was when I saw that I was naked, stark naked. I started panicking and tried to get myself freed from the very uncomfortable position I was tied in.

I heard footsteps coming towards where I was and stopped struggling for a while. The scent of the person was familiar but I just couldn’t place who exactly it was. The door opened and I had to close my eyes briefly when the light shone on my face since the room I was placed in was very dark.

“Glad to see that you’re awake”, a female voice that I would recognise anywhere spoke up. Lotana. She switched on the light in the room and I could see her holding a tray in her hands.

“You!” I seethed. “Yes, meeeee”, she giggled in a very annoying voice and my rage surged despite the position that I was in. “How could you, Lotana? How could you do that to me? Why did you join cohorts with these losers?” I asked angrily, my eyes filled with tears that are waiting to set free.

She placed the tray she was holding on the floor somewhere and moved so close to me. I glared at her as she came closer. I was expecting her to say something but she hit me across the face instead.

I looked at her in shock and she smiled at me. “Yes, that felt great, I’ve always wanted to do that. And you mentioned something about losers when you’re the one that’s tied up. Such a pathetic b itch”, she smiled evilly in my face, shocking me to the bone. Lotana had always been the quiet one in the group, only talking when the need arises, I did not think that she would be the traitor at all.

“What are you doing? Why are you doing this?” I asked her in shock. It was like a movie was playing and I couldn’t phantom the whole thing. She laughed and did a little dance before picking a chair and she sat down beside me, her legs crossed.

“As your “friend”, I owe you some explanation or maybe I just want to rub my victory in your face. You might want to get comfortable. Just kidding, you can’t get comfortable, you’re tied up”, she laughed again before she started speaking.

“Well, I found my mate a day or two before you came into our pack even though it wasn’t my coming of age yet. I guess the moon goddess just liked me that much”, she grinned but it wasn’t a kind of grin Lotana would give anyone before. It was dark and seemed evil.

“But we couldn’t be together because your stupid egoistic mate doesn’t like rogues and my darling mate was one of them”, she looked sad before quickly masking it up. “I’d go to the human town under the guise of hopping but it was actually to see my mate”.

“Ile’d tell me how they planned to take over the whole wolf world and it excited me”, she clapped her hands excitedly. “Who wants to be bound by pack rules forever? Not me. And your beloved mate and his father suck royally”. She made a gagging sound and looked disgusted by the thought of Adrian and Jayden.

“How can you speak of the dead like that? Have you no shame?” I snapped at her and she laughed. “Oh, Lola. You seem to be forgetting that I am the one with the upper hand right now? I’ll suggest you keep your mouth shut or there would be consequences”, she warned before she continued her story.

“One day, he spoke about the moon wolf and guess who showed up in our pack the next day? You!” She laughed manically. “You came into our pack as a pathetic and weak bitch. The first time I saw you was when Nathan brought you to the pack house. The description my mate gave me fitted you perfectly so I decided to be friends with you”.

“We became close and I would have changed my mind but the moon goddess kept blessing you with every motherfucking thing so I decided that I was going to fuck you over”, she smiled at me and I was appalled. I never would have thought she would be the traitor.

“Then Fay caught me”, she sighed tiredly. “She went shopping also and saw me talking to my mate and then found out that he was a rogue. You know how she is, she decided to blackmail me about it. She was going to tattle to Adrian until I managed to convince her that you were going to be out of the picture and the stupid bitch agreed. It was fun to see her think that she’d be the Luna, she doesn’t even deserve to be human”, she laughed like she’d gone crazy.

“And she deserves to be human? She’s way worse than Fay”. Jasmine said in my head and I totally agreed with her Lolana had definitely lost it. “Well, all I had to do was provide information about you, your whereabouts and all. Fay was supposed to lay low until you were finally out of the picture but the bitch had to fuck up and show up at your coronation”, she rubbed her temples tiredly, “She was supposed to be killed alongside your former Alphas but she turned out to be Damon’s mate so she was saved. I couldn’t take your bullshit anymore so I separated myself from you and your friends till you reached your full potential and now we’re here”, she finished I just looked at her blankly. I had no idea what to do or say, I was at a loss for words and I’d never felt betrayal this deep. She looked at me with a sick satisfaction on her face which made me sick to my stomach She got up and passed the tray to me. “Make sure you eat, Luna. You’ll need the energy for what’s about to come”. With that she left the room leaving me to my tears and thoughts. This definitely took a different turn than I expected.

Chapter 107

Lola’s POV

I didn’t know how much time passed because I was wallowing in self-pity. I thought I had people I could trust. I thought I was loved by my friends only to find out that I was befriended by someone who wanted to see me fall.

I did not touch the food, not like I could if I wanted to, because I felt like she would have poisoned it. My hands keep aching from being bound above my head for so long but it was nothing compared to the ache in my heart.

I missed Adrian and Rose and Lyla and Avianca and Nathan and Dylan that barely spoke to me but makes me laugh anytime he does. I did not know I was crying until I felt droplets of water on my chest. I went to wipe it but the pain in my arms mocked me. I started laughing loudly while also sobbing, the two moving perfectly with each other. Anyone who saw me would have thought I had gone crazy.

I thought getting rejected by Grayson was painful but I felt the betrayal from Lotana more. We all laughed together, she was with me during my darkest times, we gave each other strength and energy to power through anything but she turned out to be the one to stab me in the back.

My mind drifted to Adrian and I wished I was back home in his arms. while we talked about random things. I missed the little touches and random forehead kisses. "I miss him too", Jasmine whimpered in my head. What would he be doing now? Is he fine? A lot ran through my head.

The door opened again and I closed my eyes. The scent of the person that entered the room was different and from the strong scent, I knew it was a man but I did not have the strength to hide my naked body from hum. I felt him come closer but I did not open my eyes and laid there.

"Do you think we can hypnotize our way out of this situation?" Jasmine asked in my head "Even if we get untied, we need to see that f ucker, we can't just escape like that. We need to be pitied for any of these to work". I told her "I'm about to da mn whatever we planned. Lola", she hussed and I blocked her out.

So hot-headed.

"I know you're awake, love. Your uneven breathing gave that away", the voice said while running his hands down the side of my face. I sighed before opening my eyes. I sighed before finally opening my eyes.

I was expecting to see a very ugly man but was surprised that he looked very fine, not nearly as gorgeous as Adrian but he was okay. He had blonde hair and hazel eyes with a scar running down his face.

"Luke what you see?" He asked coc kily and I resisted the urge to roll my eyes. He roamed his eyes over my body and I felt disgusted with myself but there was no way I could cover myself up. I felt like I was betraying Adrian by allowing another man to see my nakedness.

"I like what I see though, I'm sure we're going to have a good time together", he said in a very creepy way. I couldn't stop the retching sound that left my lips and he looked at me with a smirk. He was obviously having so much fun at my discomfort. "Don't worry, you're going to be begging for me soon", he said before giving me a pat on my checks. He stood up and walked around me, his eyes not leaving my body. He finally looked at my face and smirked at me. "Forgive my manners, love, I should have introduced myself first but your beauty blinded me. Jasmine made a retching sound in my head but I kept my face neutral. "I am Damon, the rogue king. I've been sending you gifts for a while now, I hope you liked all of them?" He asked with a big smile on my face and if my hands were not tied, I'd have slapped him.

"I see you're not going to talk to me, I like my feisty women. I'd have had my way with you but your pathetic mate needs to suffer before I share a video of us making love", he squatted in front of me again. He held my chin and made me look him in the eye while he grabbed one of my breasts.

A single tear rolled down my cheeks at being defiled by this vile man. His hands felt like I was being pricked by a thousand needles. Through our mate bond, I felt sadness radiating from Adrian or I could have been wrong. Apart from the tears streaming down my face, I didn't show any emotions at all. I did not want the bastard to see how much he affected me.

When he saw that I wasn't responding to him groping my boobs, he forcefully kissed me. I tried to free myself from him and kept moving my head sideways to escape his lips but he did not relent.

He forcefully held my neck and kissed me roughly, bruising my lips in the process. When he finally released me, I wanted to crawl out of my skin because I felt so disgusted and dirty with myself. I know how much it was going to hurt Adrian if he ever found out what happened.

He stood up in his eye. With a satisfying smirk on his lips and a mischievous glint in his eyes. "I will make you feel so much better than this when you're finally mine, love". He looked at the wristwatch on his wrist and whistled.

"Duty calls. I'll be back for more later", he turned to go but stopped in his tracks again. "I see that you haven't touched your food", he gestured towards the tray of food that was still on the floor where Lotana left it.

"It's advisable you eat it because you'll need the energy for what's about to come" With that, he left the room, turning off the light on his way

1110

My tears started streaming down my face afresh after he left. I wish this would be over soon, I need my mate

Chapter 108

Lola's POV

I didn't know I was asleep until I got jerked awake when a door slammed. I went to sit up quickly but I got pulled back by my hands. that were still in their uncomfortable position. I got dragged back by the chain and hit my head on the floor, biting the insides of my cheeks to prevent any sounds of pain from escaping.

The light was still off but I could make out two silhouettes in the dark, one of which belonged to Lotana. The second silhouette looked vaguely familiar and just when I was about to conclude who it was, the light came on revealing who it was.

Fay.

She stood beside Lotana and looked at me condescendingly. I looked at both of them and they actually looked like the perfect duo, bitches deserve each other after all. Fay stepped forward looking all pretty and dolled up in pretty dresses which reminded me that I was completely naked.

“This status suits you perfectly well. A lowlife like you shouldn’t be amongst important people anyway”, she snickered but I just kept staring at her, not allowing myself to be intimidated by her. Her eyes twitched in anger and I just knew that she was about to lose it.

When I did not answer her, she spoke again. “Every disappointment is a blessing, don’t you think, Lotana?” She asked Lotana, who nodded before going back to picking at her nails. “If I had been the Queen of the wolves, I’d have ended up in this position. I’m glad I got rejected by Adrian and I found love here”, she giggled and covered her face with her hands.

“You’ll all be wiped out and I’ll become the queen of wolves like I originally wanted”, she said happily.

0.00%

I looked at her intently before I started laughing. I laughed hysterically until my stomach hurt. Lotana and Fay looked at me in surprise but I did not stop laughing. I laughed so much that tears came out of my eyes.

“What the fuck are you laughing at, bitch?” Fay asked, her voice angry and screechy. “I said, what are you laughing at?” Her voice went up and screechy: “I said, what a octave and her face was red. I managed to stop laughing and took a deep breath before speaking again.

“Fay, you’re so dumb and naive when it comes to things like this. One would think a warrior like you would know these things”, I looked her dead in the eyes before speaking again. “Even if you fuck your way to being the Queen Luna, you’ll not still have significance enough to be wanted like this”, I smiled at her.

I understood that I was being mean but if she goes low, I'll go lower. Being pushed around or looked down upon by someone who only covets my position is a no no.

"What did you just say?" She asked in a surprised tone. "Keep up, Fay", I smirked at her. She looked at me with anger and hatred in her eyes and I gave her a glare with the same intensity. "If I could take control right now, I'll show her just how much I hate her guts", Jasmine growled in my head.

"Do you not see it or you're just delusional because you're power hungry?" I asked her, allowing the question to linger in the air before I spoke again. "You're always the option, you were never the original plan", I told her.

From the corner of my eyes, I saw Lotana trying to hide her laughter behind her hands. Fay's left eye kept twitching and I knew it was due to being angry. I disregarded that and continued with what I was going Chapter 108 to say anyways.

"With Adrian, you were always the backup plan. He chose you in case he didn't find his mate yet he kept looking for his true mate all around the globe even though you were already chosen to be his", I said. "Now your mate wants me, which is why he kidnapped me. You're probably just a desire satisfying tool and nothing more and yet, you dare to compare us?" I asked, a mean look in my eyes.

She moved close to me and gave me a slap that made my head hit the wall in the process. I felt the metallic taste of blood in my mouth but I kept my smile on my face. She became more furious and tried to hit me again but Lotana held her hand.

"What are you doing? Let me go, Lotana", she struggled against Lotana who refused to let go of her hands. "You told me you just wanted to see her, why are you hitting her?" Lotana asked her but she kept struggling against her. "Damon is not going to go easy on you if he ever found out that you hit her", she shook her as she spoke.

Fay calmed down and stepped back from me, still glaring at me. "Tell Damon that I'm ready to see him", I told Lotana and she looked at me like I had gone crazy. "Why do you want to see my mate?" Fay piped up. I rolled my eyes at her and sat up slowly, taking my chained arms into consideration.

"That's between him and I, Fay. Lotana, can you tell your Alpha that I'd like to talk to him?" I faced Lotana, purposely ignoring a fuming Fay "What are you going to do when you see him?" Jasmine asked in my head. "It's time to start putting our plans into action" I replied to her. Just then, Damon entered as if he was summoned. Fay's body language changed and she became all sultry and nice. She smiled, pushed out her chest and went towards Damon. Damon pushed her to the side and walked towards me.

Oopsies. I was right.

"Why are you here?" He directed his questions at Lotana and Fay. "I only came to see a former friend, baby, it's not a big deal. I promise", she smiled but he did not return it.

He turned to me with a smile and I felt disgusted but I managed to return it with one of my own. "I'm ready to be yours, Damon", I told him which made his grin wider, "but on my own terms".

Chapter 109

Lola's POV

His smile faltered before he started speaking. "Sure, darling. I'm sure we can work out something while putting your terms into consideration". his smile returned to his face.

Behind him. I heard a sharp intake of breath before Fay spoke up. She walked up to where Damon was standing and stood beside him with a look of shock on her face. "Damon, you can't do that to me", she said. her voice raising with every word. Damon's smile vanished as soon as it came on to his face and I found it scary.

He held her by her neck and slammed her against the wall in an instant. Lotana instinctively took a step back and made herself smaller which made me wonder why they follow someone that disrespected them do much.

Even though Adrian did not like me when I entered Crescent moon pack, he never raised his hands at me. As much as everyone complained about him being aloof and proud, they didn't fear him like this which made me wondered why they still followed him despite all his wrongdoings.

"What did I tell you about knowing your place?" He spat in her face and I watched the way fear came over her face. She scratched at his hands that were around her throat but he did not let go. He tightened it further, almost cutting off her supply of air. "D-d-d-amo-on", she spluttered as she kept clawing at his hands and arms.

“You’ll know your place and respect me, slut”, he snarled in her face. his voice wavering between his normal voice and a deeper one. I did not need to see his face before I knew that his wolf was trying to take only reason you’re still alive is that you know how to suck dick real good. your pussy can’t even make me feel good because you’re a whore and you want to dictate what to do to me?” He growled at her and I shuddered where I was.

Dear goddess. How did all of these people ended up following such a vile and cause person?

“Do not speak until you’re spoken to. Do not look at me until you’re ordered to. You’ll not be around me unless I summon you. is that clear?” He asked to which she hurriedly nodded her head. He retracted his hands and she fell to the floor, coughing violently.

My heart was beating rapidly in my chest as I watched the scene. If he could do something so terrible to his mate, he wouldn’t hesitate to do worse to me if I pissed him off. “We’ve been chained up for how long now and you think he wouldn’t do worse? He’s a beast that deserves to rot in the deepest part of hell”. Jasmine said in my head and I totally agreed.

I looked towards Fay and my heart reached out to her. No one should be treated like that by their mate. If only I wasn’t put in a position where I have to tread carefully to execute my plans to save my world. I’d have damned all consequences and said something but like a coward. I kept quiet and watched.

He turned towards me with a creepy smile on his face and squatted in front of me. I instinctively moved back and he smirked. That psycho definitely gets some kind of high from being feared by people. “Did you just realized that? We would be living happily with our mate if his family did not have the knack for being feared”, Jasmine sassed in my head and I almost rolled my eyes at her.

He put forward his hand and moved my hair out of my face. It took all of my willpower to not flinch back from his touch. He smiled in satisfaction when he noticed that I wasn’t pulling back from his touch “Good girl”, he cooed. “we won’t have any problems if you’re submissive and do whatever I say”. he spoke, his hands leaving my face and roaming about my body. He roughly grabbed my breast as he practically eye-raped me. I felt disgusted with myself but I knew that I have to put up with it if I was going to make it out of there alive.

He stood up after he was gone assaulting me and he had the guts to smile down at me. "You'll be unchained and clothed in a while, we can then discuss your terms and conditions". he said with an air of authority. He turned towards Lotana that had been silently watching the whole scene. "Get her clothes that befits a queen".

With that he left the room. Fay looked at me with a tear stained face before leaving the room quietly, Lotana following behind her. I sighed when they finally left the room.

After some moments, Lotana came back into the room, followed by a buff guy that had a set of keys with him. He did not spare me any glance before he unlocked the chain that held my hands together. After unlocking the chains. he stepped out without saying a word.

I gently massaged my strained arms and almost cried with relief. Lotana threw some clothes at me begrudgingly and crossed her arms over her chest. "Dress up. princess. You get everything dropped into your laps again", she sneered at me to which I rolled my eyes. "You don't have to be bitter about anything. Lotana. We were friends before all of these, at least I considered you my friend". I said. "I hope it won't take too long before you realize that this side of the war is eventually going to lose. Good will always prevail".

Uncertainty passed over her features before she went back to being cold and distant. I stood up slowly, my body protesting from being in the same position for too long and slowly put on the clothes that was brought for me. It was a simple gown that reached below my knees.

"Follow me", she said and led me out into the corridor. I have to admit that I was amazed by how magnificent the building looked when we finally walked into the well-lit area. It was sparkling, almost everything was in golden colour. I did not take much in before Lotana led me into a big room

"The shower is over there", she pointed to the door on the left side of the room. "New clothes will be delivered to you, make sure you clean up well like a queen", she said monotonously "His orders, not mine". she left the room after that. leaving me with my thoughts

I slowly walked to the bathroom, a thousand and ten things on my mind but the one that stood out the most was my silent prayer to Selene
Guide me, moon goddess

Chapter 110

Lola's POV

I took my time cleaning my body. When I looked in the mirror before getting into the shower, I felt disgusted with my body. I remembered how he looked at me and touched me all over and bile rose to my throat. I emptied my stomach contents, which was nothing, into the toilet bowl. I was dry heaving for almost 5 minutes while crying profusely. When I finally had the energy to stand up from where I was, I stood under the shower and turned the water to a scalding temperature. I scrubbed my body vigorously while crying, I wished I could grow out another skin to present to Adrian because this one has been tainted by that bastard. When I no longer had the energy to scrub my skin, I stood under the shower, allowing the water to wash my shame away. I stood in front of the mirror again, hoping to feel better but I looked and felt worse. My skin was red, my hair had lost its shiny appearance, it just fell down my back lifelessly. I couldn't bear to look at myself in the mirror anymore so I hurriedly left the bathroom before I could have another mental breakdown.

When I entered the room, I saw new sets of clothes on the bed. Merely looking at the clothes, I knew they were humiliating and degrading and I was proven right when I finally put it on. The gown was blood red, and I would have loved it if I was actually wearing it for my mate but I felt so angry that he somehow knew colors that fit my skin perfectly.

That darn Lotana. She's the only one that could tell him what I wear. The color of the dress was the only thing good about it. It was barely covering my ass, the top half of the dress left nothing to the imagination. Apart from the fact that it was see through with a patch to cover my nipples, it was tight fitting which made my breasts almost spill out of it. It was also opened at the side which means that my skin was on display than I would have liked.

I knew he did it on purpose because it was almost like he was trying to degrade me. My mind went to what Adrian should have done if he saw but I refused to let myself cry or show weakness because it was supposed to leave him satisfied.

A knock sounded on the door followed by, "you should come out if you're done dressing up”. I looked at the door and looked at myself in the mirror again. The urge to remove the dress and wear the gown Lotana gave me initially, overwhelmed me.

We have to do this for our people, Lola. I’m sorry you have to go through this but it must be done”, she said sadly in my head. The knock came again, more forcefully than the last time. “If you do not come out now. I’ll come in and take you to the King regardless of the state you’re in”, he threatened.

I sighed, put on the ridiculously high heel that was placed by the bed and stood up just in time for the door to open and the buff guy from earlier entered. His jaw almost dropped when he saw me, his eyes raked over my body and he licked his lips.

I knew what that meant and I was further disgusted. Adrian would have poked out the eyes of anyone that looked at me like that. Moments like this are what makes me want to give up on my plan and run back to my mate.

“My eyes are up here”, I said with venom when he kept looking at me with hunger in his eyes. He shook his head before stepping out of the room and I followed after him. At least he was gentlemanly enough to stop staring when I pointed it out to him.

H

We reached a large set of doors and he moved to the side and gestured towards the door. “We’re here”. I took a deep breath before I pushed open the door. I almost fell on my face when I entered the room because I was startled by what I saw. The door closed behind me and I jumped before I started walking to the front of the room where Damon sat.

There were a lot of girls in the room and none of them wore proper clothes. I could say that I was the most clothed one in that room. They all wore some form of maid custom that hid nothing. Only their pussy was hidden by the apron that ended just below their vagina. Their breasts and butt were on display and the men there were groping and spinning myself and looked away, eyes on the bastard I was working towards.

I got a lot of stares from men and looks of disdain from the women as I walked, even those that were going at it like rabbits stopped at some point and looked at me.

Damon smiled widely like he had won a lottery and I wanted to smack the smile out of his face but my life was on the line. I finally made it to where he was seated and he stood up to greet me. He clapped once and the whole room became silent.

“I’d like to announce to everyone that the moment we’ve been waiting for is here”, he said to the crowd of men with a smile. He held out his hands and I took it because I didn’t want to be rude to him in front of the crowd lest he decided to punish me for being rude.

“I want you all to meet your future queen and the moon wolf we’ve been waiting for to fulfill our dreams. Give it up for Lola Ashton”, he raised his glass into the air and loud cheers followed.