Luna Lola-The Moon Wolf by Park Kara

Chapter 134

Lola's POV

It was nighttime when I woke up. The room was eerily quiet and it sent chills up my spine. I automatically reached for Adrian but his space was empty and cold, indicating that he had left the bedroom for a while.

What if something had happened to him and he was suffering alone somewhere? The thoughts had barely formed in my head when I sprang up and ran out of the room, ignoring the fact that I wasn't wearing any shoes nor decent clothes..

I just wanted to make sure he was safe.

I rushed down the stairs hoping and praying that I was just being paranoid and he was fine. My heart almost stopped in my chest when I got to the base of the stairs and he was there in the living room, watching

TV on mute while sipping on a glass of whiskey.

My knees gave out beneath me and I fell to the ground in relief.

The sound seemed to jolt

him out of whatever reverie he was in and he rushed to where I was.

"Fuck! Lola, baby, what's wrong? What happened?" He asked rapidly as he held me to his chest like I was going to break anytime soon.

I heard a sound that seemed like someone was sobbing and it registered that I was the one crying. “Hey, what happened? Please, talk to me baby. I’m right here for you“, he pleaded.

He’s here. He’s here. That same word kept ringing in my head and I hung on to him for dear life. “It’s okay, my Queen. It’s okay I promise“, he kept repeating till I calmed down.

“What happened? Did you have a bad dream?” He asked me after I had calmed down and I shook my head. “You scared me, baby. What happened to you?” He gently probed me.

“You were not there when I woke up and the whole house was silent. I couldn’t hear anything either, so I got scared. I thought I you left me all alone, I thought you had been taken away from me“, I said and fresh tears ran down my cheeks. No one will ever take him away from me, not even the moon. god dess.

“I had to talk to Nathan about something and I did not want to wake you up. He just left a while ago so I decided to have a drink before coming back to bed“, he explained and I calmed down a bit.

I should have calmed down. The paranoia I felt dimmed all of my senses and I couldn’t hear his heartbeat nor properly smell him. I took a deep breath and his scent filled the entirety of my being, calming me down.

“I’m sorry I scared you. I’m never leaving you, I promise“, he reassured me and I nodded. I was about to open my mouth when

Adrian laughed loudly and I hit his chest. “Looks like your stomach is trying to eat itself, let’s get you fed, okay?” He said before standing up with me in his arms like I weigh nothing at all.

It wasn’t until I was in his arms that I realised how underdressed I was and I started shivering. “Are you cold?” He asked and I nodded my head.

“What were you thinking coming downstairs like this?” He looked at my feet, “and without slippers too?” I just batted my eyelashes at him.

In my defence, I wasn’t thinking. I just wanted to find my mate. “I’m sorry“, I whispered softly and held onto his shirt, feeling his body heat against mine.

He set me on one of the kitchen stools and removed his shirt. He placed the shirt on my lap before placing a kiss on my forehead.

“You’re so silly sometimes but I love you either way“, he said as he lifted his lips from my forehead and I glared at him.

“I am not silly, silly“, I hmped and crossed my hands over my chest like a petulant child. “Yeah, yeah. Just sit down and look pretty while I whip something up for us“, he patted my head and I made to slap his hands away from my head but his reflexes were faster.

I rolled my eyes at him before making myself comfortable watching him.

He moved around with the grace of a cat. His muscles contract nicely everytime he moves them. Even though I just had him that afternoon, I could feel myself getting turned on by seeing him do such tasks.

What is wrong with me??

"Our mate looks so hot right now", Jasmine said in my head, "I want to jump his bone", she squealed excitedly, making me chuckle.

"What's so funny, baby?" He asked me and I shrugged. "You know I can hear you right?" He pointed to his head and I immediately put my block up.

I shouldn't be so careless around him, not in crucial times like this. We could have talked about what the moon goddess said and he would have caught on. I can't have anyone interfere with my plans.

Soon, he finished cooking and served me food. It smelled heavenly and even tasted better. He watched me while I ate. I even offered him some of my food but he refused and made sure I ate everything he put on my plate.

A thought suddenly occurred to me. "Are we still going on a date tomorrow?" I asked him and he nodded his head. "Of course we're going. I will never pass up a chance to spend time with you", he replied with a smile that made my heart race.

Lola's POV

The whole night, I barely got any sleep. My brain was in overdrive and all I kept thinking about was how to get over this phase as quickly as possible.

As much as I wanted the war to be over and done with because it will mean peace and safety for everyone else, it will mean my end.

"Why are you wide awake?" Adrian asked in his sexy, sleepy voice. "Why are you awake also?" I asked him back to deviate from the fact that I wasn't getting any sleep and he caught me.

"Your steady heartbeat calms me down and helps me to sleep well but you seem worried about something. It's been beating wildly and pulling me out of my sleep", he said and my mouth opened in a silent 'o'.

"I definitely wasn't expecting that answer", I mumbled and he pulled me close to his chest. "I like to surprise you", he said with a kiss to my forehead, making me blush slightly.

“So, tell me. Tell me what has been worrying you. I’ve noticed that you’ve been acting weird since yesterday morning “, he said with a hurt voice and I felt bad tears sprang to my eyes. I couldn’t tell him what was going on with me. He can’t know what the outcome of the war will be, he will make sure that my life is replaced by his.

“Did I upset you?” He asked worriedly and I shook my head with a watery smile. “No, no you did not upset me. I just feel selfish for making you worry about me“.

“It’s the oncoming war that has me jittery and worried. I’m scared Adrian“, I whispered to him. “What if I fail? What if everyone ends up dead and I’m left all alone in this world again?” I said weakly.

“I have nightmares about everyone getting wiped out. I’m scared. I’m really scared“, I bunched his shirt in my hands as I whispered that last part.

“We’re going to win this war, my Queen“, Adrian said with a determination that had me worried.

Did the moon goddess tell him that his life will be taken in exchange too? Did he agree to it? Why is he so sure that we’ll win? A thousand and ten questions ran through my head and I lost track of what he said.

“.....and you’ll never be alone in this world“, the last part was what I caught on to. “How are you so sure? Did the moon. god dess tell you something when she came to you?” I asked,

“That’s a relief, I guess“, I said with a smile that I hope doesn’t seem fake to him. “I believe in you, baby“, he pulled me closer to him and placed a kiss on my forehead, “You’re going to do very well, I just know“, he said with so much certainty, it made my heart hurt.

“What’s that?” I asked him but he shook his head. “Now, now. It won’t be a surprise if I spill what it is about, will it?” He asked and I pouted.

“Why did you tell me then?” I asked with a frown and he laughed, his body shaking and

Yes, I should have noticed that he was faking it but everything has me on edge nowadays and I just can’t help being overly sensitive when it comes to him.

He tried to hold me but I moved away from his touch. “Oh, come on. I was just joking with you“, he said with a pout and I couldn’t help the small smile that graced my face.

“You’re so cute“, he tapped my nose before pointing towards the tray that was at the other side of the bed, “I brought you breakfast in bed“.

After taking my bath, I towel dried my hair and left it to dry before walking into the closet to pick something to wear. Nothing of mine seemed to be right for the occasion and I almost gave up and wore anything before an idea popped into my head.

I went to Adrian’s side of the closet and picked one out of his numerous shirts. I put it on and I was dwarfed by it. I remembered a brown corset top that I had lying around in my closet and paired it with it.

I rolled up the sleeves and held it with his cufflinks. Something felt amiss so I unbuttoned two buttons of his shirt to show a little bit of cleavage, just enough to make him drool.

I took out my brown knee boot that matched the corset I had on and I totally loved what I was seeing. I curled my hair to give it a wavy look, applied some mascara, a little bit of eyeshadow to make my eyes pop and finished off the look with a nude lip gloss.

I smiled at myself in the mirror and twirled happily, ready to go on our date. Just then, I heard the door open and strong, steady footsteps that I'd know anywhere came closer to the closet.

They stopped conversing when I walked into the living room and Lola had a mischievous look in her eyes and Mom looked at me like she was onto something.*
