Chapter 66-80

Chapter 66

Lola's POV

Wow this is so cool, I thought as I looked at my hands in amazement. I did not mean to harm Adrian at all, he just happened to walk up to me when I was not aware of my surroundings.

He looked really hurt and my observation was confirmed when he tried to move and winced in pain. I just wanted him to be fine, I wasn't thinking when I placed my hands on his broken ribs. I was responsible for hurting my mate and the guilt weighed me down.

I was surprised when I felt a surge of electricity run through me and white light shone from my palm. Adrian looked shocked before it changed to a look of pride.

Oh jeez, I just unlocked my powers.

I looked at my hands in amazement and looked up when I saw Adrian get up without showing signs of pain. He offered his hand to me but I hesitated in taking it.

"I don't wanna hurt you again", I whispered and he chuckled. "Baby, you were able to get me because I wasn't prepared to be attacked", he gave me a reassuring smile and I put my hand in his.

"You're really improving, baby. Not any wolf can easily overpower me even in my relaxed state. I'm so proud of you, baby“, he said once he pulled me up.

“I learnt

from the best, so what did you expect?” I flipped my ponytail and we both laughed. The sound of his laughter made me want to jump his bone. He’s so perfect and amazing and I suddenly wanted to complete the mate bond.

Just because the fate of the werewolf world is in my hands doesn’t mean I can’t have a little time with my mate, right?

He must be feeling the same way too because his eye colour suddenly became a tad darker and filled with lust. He pulled me closer to him and I noticed his eyes kept going to my lips, making me lick them in anticipation of what’s to come.

“Don’t do that“, he whispered huskily. “Do what?” I questioned like I did not know exactly what he was talking about. “I’m going to kiss you now, you don’t mind right?” Unable to answer because my voice betrayed me, I nodded my head.

He did not waste anymore time before he locked lips with me. This time around, it felt different. The rush of electricity running through me increased and I moaned into the kiss. I did not have anything to blame this time, not the heat, not Jasmine. I was purely acting on my instincts and I was loving every moment of it.

He pulled me impossibly closer while I held onto the back of his neck to deepen the kiss. We broke the kiss after a while but he still held on to me.

“That was different“, he whispered and I nodded. I feel strange. I looked at his face and they were strange indeed. I could see hints of the blue of my eyes in his hazel one and hints of gold in his green one.

“Your eyes are strange“, I told him and led him towards a nearby mirror. “Look closely and you’ll see“, I told him. He peered into the mirror and seemed surprised when he finally saw what I saw.

“I think this was what Selene meant when she said we would grow together“, I said. He suddenly broke into a smile and turned towards me. “I now have something to always remind me of you when I look into the mirror“, he said excitedly and I got excited from his excitement.

“Mother must be wondering where I went too. She was worried when I told her I couldn’t find you when I woke up“. He said. “I told you I was going to start working out in the morning before I slept, didn’t I?” Maybe it was my imagination.

“You did“, he pouted, “I was just alarmed when I did not see you beside me nor with Mom in the kitchen because I forgot you said so for a while“. He pulled me back into him and sniffed my hair, “please, write a note for me next time and also“, he pulled back from me a bit, “you should wash your hair“.

With that, he ran towards the door and I ran after him. “Hey, stop right there. I washed it yesterday“, I shouted as I ran after him making him laugh too.

We ran into the kitchen and met Rose and Jayden sitting at the dining area. Rose looked at us with her eyebrows raised and my cheeks became red from being caught acting like a child.

“It was Adrian“, I rushed out before she could talk and she just shook her head at me. “Go and freshen up and come have a bite“, she dismissed me. I went up to my room, hearing Adrian laughing after me.

I took my bath, washed my hair, definitely not because of what Adrian said, and dressed up in a cute playsuit. I left my hair down to dry and went downstairs to eat.

I was surprised to see that Adrian did not eat until I came down to eat. We ate in silence, only exchanging glances and smiles. After cleaning up, he said he was going into his office to work on some papers and I followed after him.

His office had a library so I took a walk around and looked for books to read. I was about to give up when a book caught my attention. “The Prophecy of the Moon Wolf“, was written boldly on it. I picked it and sat down on the floor to read it.

I was amazed to learn a lot of things about myself and the prophecy that I was supposed to fulfill. How come I knew nothing about this before? I asked myself. “You were deprived of schooling after a while, durhhhh“, Jasmine responded.

I sighed and continued reading until I got to a part that made me very excited. I placed the book back on the shelf and went to where Adrian was working.

Adrian looked up when he sensed me and gave me a smile. "Bored?" He asked but I shook my head.

"I want you to mark me, Adrian".

Chapter 67

Lola's POV

"I want you to mark me, Adrian".

He looked at me like I had grown another head and I started thinking it was a bad idea: "Did you just ask me to mark you?" He asked and I shook my head. "Forget I said anything, it was a bad idea. Just forget it", I rushed out before turning in the direction of the library aisle that I emerged from, my cheeks on fire.

What was I thinking asking him to mark me? I knelt down with my back facing the direction I came from as held my head in my hands. I froze when I heard him behind me.

Please go away, please go away, I chanted over and over in my head but he did not go away. Why won't he go away?

"Baby", his voice came from behind me. I could also feel his body heat behind me, so I curled into myself more. "You can't see me, go away", my voice came out muffled and he chuckled.

"I see you perfectly well, baby. You don't need to hide from me", he said while pulling me into his body, making him fall on the floor while I fell on top of him.

"Why are you suddenly so shy, huh?", he chuckled and I hid myself in his chest, my cheeks flaming further. "What was that about marking? You can talk to me, baby“, he asked but I shook my head in disagreement.

“It’s not necessary, I just read it in a book but it was stupid to say it“, my reply came out muffled. “What did you see in the book? I wanna know, show it to me“, he asked but I did not move from where I was on his chest.

“You know you can’t stay like this all day, my queen“, he laughed at my sake and I sluggishly got up, hiding my face from him. I went to pick the book where I placed it, I opened it to the page that prompted me and handed it over to him.

His face changed from confused to understanding after he read through the page. “I actually thought it might be true since what happened with Fay happened after we spent the night together“, the memory of what happened during my heat hit me like a truck and my face heated up.

I did not need to look up at Adrian to see that he was trying to hold back his laughter. “And?” He asked after clearing his throat.

“Well, this morning I seemed to be stronger. I’m attributing it to the fact that we spent the night together yesterday“, I looked up and pointed at his eyes. “You also saw what happened to your eyes after we kissed this morning“, I finished.

“So, you want me to mark you so that we can reach our full potential quickly?” He asked me and I nodded my head. “No, I won’t“, he said with anger in his voice and went back the way he came. I dropped the book on a random shelf and followed after him.

“But why? We’re doing it for the people. The future of everyone depends on us. I don’t want to lose anyone if I can. I want to keep everyone safe, Adrian. Try to understand me“, I said after him.

He stopped abruptly, making me bump into his back. He turned around and made me look into his eyes. “Baby, I understand you. What I don’t want to understand is why such responsibility is on your shoulder“, he took a breath before he continued.

“I’m proud of your progress as a person, you’ve grown so much from the girl that came into this pack and while it hurts me that I am the reason for such growth, I’m super proud of you“, he said while rubbing my cheeks and I nodded. I wondered where he was going with his talks.

“Then I realized my mistake and I’m trying to make it up to you but all you’re worried about is the oncoming war. What about us, Lola? I hate the fact that everything is taking your attention away from me, I can’t help but be angry at everything“, he closed his eyes and took a deep breath.

“Now you’re asking me to mark you, not because you really want me to but because of the war. I don’t want to mark you for that reason, baby. I want to mark you because you really want it, not for any other reason. Please understand me too“, he finished and I felt like a jerk for asking him in the first place.

“I did not think about it like that, I’m so sorry“, I whispered into the air around us. “I’ve been so busy thinking about everyone, I forgot that we still have ourselves to work on“, I sighed as I removed myself from him and went to sit on the couch in the office.

“It’s just that I have a lot on the line right now. I feel pressured and it’s so obvious that whoever wants to take me won’t hesitate to keep hurting pack members until he gets me“, I tried to rein in my tears but they kept threatening to fall. “I don’t want to be the reason everyone dies, Adrian. I won’t be able to live with myself“, the tears that I had been holding in fell uncontrollably.

“Hey, I’m so sorry. I didn’t mean to upset you, I was too focused on wanting to have you to myself, I did not see the bigger picture“, he muttered as he held me to his chest.

We stayed like that for a while until I pulled back from him and looked him in the eyes. “You know what? You’re right. I shouldn’t allow myself to be so weighed down by the upcoming war“.

smiled at him as I said the next words that came to mind. “Let’s go on that date again. This time, no distractions, just us“.

Chapter 68

Lola's POV

“Are you for real?” He asked after I said what I said. I nodded my head, giving him a watery smile through my tears. He returned it with a real smile and hugged me again. After he pulled back, he wanted to look at my face but I looked away.

“Don't look at me, I probably look ugly with my tear stricken face. Like a broken tomato”, I covered my face with my hands. I was expecting him to laugh but he didn't. Instead, he pried my hands away from my face and gave me a serious look.

“You'll always look pretty to me no matter what. Don't ever call yourself ugly again, okay?” He said with so much emotions in his eyes and I nodded.

“We're going on the date tomorrow. No plans will be made. You'll be the one to choose where to go. My duty is to follow your instructions and make tomorrow a day you'll never forget in the history of our love”, he gave me a boyish grin and my heart melted.

“If only he hadn't been a jerk earlier”, Jasmine sighed dreamily in my head, “we'd have had the sweetest man in the wolf world to ourselves earlier”, she sighed and I totally agreed with her.

“I've always thought you were a meanic and proud person”, I blurted out without thinking and he looked at me with crease on his forehead, his eyebrows furrowed in confusion.

“Was it because I ignored you when you arrived and treated you the way I did?” He asked. He continued before I could answer him, “I promise you that all my actions had reasons. Looking back, they were st*pid reasons but I promise to explain everything. I hope you'll understand me after I explain to you”, he finished sadly.

I felt my heart breaking for him. He looked totally sad and regretful.

“I wasn't talking about what you did to me though”, I said in hopes of lifting his mood. “Oh, what were you referring to?” He asked while scratching the back of his neck adorably.

“I was talking about the other pack members. You barely relate with them and they do not have access to their future Alpha. I only said what I've heard them say about you", I finished and he sighed.

"I promise to do better", his eyes held so much sincerity and I nodded. I'm also going to do my best to make us work out. That further strengthened my resolve to make sure we win this war.

I can't lose this new life that promised me happiness. I waited eight years to have it and I won't let any psycho snatch it from me.

We stayed in the office until Rose mindlinked Adrian and we went to have lunch. The rest of day was uneventful and it went by. Dinner also went by without any major event.

When it was time to call it a night, I refused to go to my room and entered Adrian's room, without waiting for his permission.

"I see that you don't want to sleep in your room anymore", Adrian said with a smile on his face when I came out of his bathroom dressed in another one of his shirts.

"Do I hear you complaining?" I asked with my hands on my waist. He made the motion of locking up his mouth and throwing the keys away. That simple gesture elicited a giggle from me and I went to lay beside him on the bed.

He pulled me into his side and dropped a kiss on my forehead. This made me warm and fuzzy inside and I felt myself drifting off to sleep.

"Goodnight, my queen", was the last thing I heard before I slept off.

The next morning, I woke up in a happy mood. Yayyyyyy, date day. I looked towards Adrian's side of the bed to find him looking at me already. My face heat up and I hid it in the pillow.

"Looking like a ripe tomato, already? It's just 6 am, baby", he laughed lightly and I rolled my eyes at him. "I want Daxon, Daxon wouldn't be so mean to be". I said just to spite him and he stopped laughing immediately.

"Jealous of your own wolf?" I asked between fits of laughter at his face, he looked somewhat mad. I closed the space between us and dropped a kiss on his lips before trying to scramble away.

He was faster than me and grabbed my waist, making me shriek with laughter. "You're going to pay for what you did", he said before he started tickling me.

I was laughing so hard from the tickling, I almost peed my panties.

Suddenly, an image of little me being tickled by an older man while a baby giggled with joy in a woman's arms from across the room appeared to me. "Daddy", the little me shrieked happily. The scene suddenly changed and it was little me covered in blood, screaming for my parents and little brother. My breathing became laboured as the screaming got louder.

I felt myself being shaken but I couldn't get out of the memory. I heard Adrian's voice in a distance and I latched to it to bring myself to the present.

Chapter 68

"Hey, hey, you're okay. I'm here for you. Look at me baby", his voice became clearer as I calmed down. He looked worried and I hugged him immediately I was calm. It wasn't until my face touched his top that I realized that I've been crying.

"What was that about? Did I trigger a bad memory in you?" He asked and I sighed. "I seriously have no idea what just happened", I muttered into his chest.

"We're cancelling the date", he started, "we can go another time". I shook my head and sat back on the bed. "No, we're going on that date", I argued, "in fact, I've picked out the place I want to go. Be ready before 10 am", I stood up from the bed and made my way to the door.

I was about to open the door when he called out, "where exactly are we going?" He asked in confusion. "Human town", I answered, opened the door and closed it without looking at his facial expressions.

I needed answers and I was going to get it.

Chapter 69

Lola's POV

"Do you think Serena will give us an answer this time around", Jasmine asked once I reached my room, "you know how she's always vague with her answers".

I sighed as I pulled off my clothes. "At this point, she has to. I'm sick and tired of having no idea what's going on with me. It makes me want to pull out my hair". I looked at my beautiful hair in the mirror and that thought vanished. "Or maybe not my hair".

Jasmine laughed and that calmed me down a bit. I knew what I was going to do and it involved Serena. I went to work out for a while to relieve myself of the stress I was feeling.

I took my time to bathe and pick out the dress I wanted to wear. While I was going to the human town to get answers, I also needed to have fun with my mate, that was the reason the date was planned.

I picked out high waisted ripped blue boyfriend jeans out of the new batch of clothes that Lyla made me shop for the last time we went shopping. My skin was already getting clearer that time so I got a few items. I did not know I was going to be wearing them so soon.

I picked out a sleeveless black crop top with a black knitted crop jacket. I looked so pretty and I twirled for a while in the mirror, loving what I saw. I paired the outfit with a black sneakers and a black leather shoulder bag.

I had already packed my hair in a ponytail and applied minimalist makeup. I checked the time on my phone and it was 10 minutes to 10am.

I was about to leave when I realized that my dressing was missing something. I checked in my top drawer and picked a pair of hoops earrings to finish off my look.

I was about to open my door when a knock sounded on it. I opened it to see a hot Adrian standing in front of my door with Jasmine in his hands, again.

He looked mouth watering in his T-shirt that was paired with a cargo pant and a sneakers similar to mine. Strangely enough we were matching, his shirt matched my jean and vice versa. His hair was ruffled but it looked s*xy anyways.

“Hi beautiful”, he gave me a heart stopping smile that made my cheeks red. “Back at ya”, I replies shyly. “I’m beautiful?” He teased and I rolled my eyes at him. “You know that’s not what I mean, dum dum”, I made to smack his shoulder but he pulled me into him without crushing the flowers and placed a kiss on my forehead.

“Such a beauty shouldn’t be this feisty”, he murmured in my ear and a shiver went down my spine, making my nipples harden. I chose the wrong day to not wear bra.

I made to pull back from him but he held me in place. “Don’t run from me, my Queen. I want to know everything you’re feeling even though there might be evidence of it”, his eyes lowered to my chest area and that was when I realized that he was talking about my hardened nipples.

I became redder than I originally was and moved back to pull my jacket closer around me. He laughed at me and I gave him a mighty glare before joining him.

“Here, I got you these” he extended the jasmine flowers to me and I gave him a big smile. I loved them the first time he gave them to me and they’re fast becoming my favorite flower.

“You can’t help it, you just have to love jasmine”, Jasmine said in my head and I rolled my eyes at her through our mindlink. “D u m b a s s”, I retorted.

“I asked if you were ready to go”, Adrian’s voice reached my ear and I nodded enthusiastically. He held my hands and led me out of the house. Rose was in the living room when we passed. I greeted her and she answered before she continued what she was doing.

“Have fun and be careful”, she shouted once we were outside the door and Adrian palmed his face, making me laugh. “See you later, Rose”, I shouted back.

He led me to the car and opened the door for me: I entered after thanking him and he started the car once he was entered the car too.

“Are we going to see Serena first?” He asked and I looked at him in shock. “How did you know I was going to see Serena?” I asked him and he held my hand that was close to his with one hand while keeping the second one on the wheel.

“Baby, you decided on going into the human town after what happened this morning. It was so easy to assume that’s was why you wanted to go there. To get answers from Serena”, he finished. He gave me a small smile before turning his attention back to the road.

Oh. Of course he knew that was the reason already.

“No”, I responded. “No? I thought wrong?” He asked and I shook my head with a smile on my face. “I meant no, we’re not going to see Serena first”.

“Even if she answers me, I doubt it will lift my mood and we planned this date to get to know each other better so no, we’re not going to see Serena first”, i squeezed his hands that was on mine and he squeezed mine back.

Chapter 69

“I can’t go against anything my queen says”, he said with a huge grin which resulted in me laughing. “We’re going to have the best day ever”, he said before he stepped on the accelerator, speeding to our destination.

I was going to have a great day with my mate without allowing anything to mess with it. And that was exactly what I did.

Chapter 70

Lola's POV

The ride into the town was silent but comfortable. We did not need to talk to fill the void between us, our silence was peaceful. The only sound in the car was the one coming from the radio that was on.

His hand that was on mine did not leave till we got to the center of the town. We were almost there when my phone dinged. I opened it and it turned out to be Lyla.

“Yo, wanna hang out today? Feels like eternity since we saw your face“, the message read and I smiled. Adrian growled from beside me and I rolled my eyes at him before texting Lyla back.

“I'm out of town with Adrian presently. I'll let you know when we get back“, I replied to her before switching off my phone. Nothing was going to come in between my mate and I today.

“Who was that?“ Adrian asked when I dropped my phone back in my bag. “Jealous, are we?“ I teased him and he ground his jaw together making me giggle. I like this Adrian, he gives me butterflies in my belly.

“Of course not. I'm definitely not jealous of anything, I just want to know who you're speaking to that made you smile“, he grumbled out and I started laughing loudly, making him pout adorably

“Oh my goddess, you're so adorable. Of course you're not jealous, you're just curious“, I said to him and the tip of his ear became red.

Who knew he was so easy to mess with?

“So who were you talking to?” He asked after a while. “Lyla. She wanted to meet up but I told her I was out of town“, he nodded and concentrated on the road.

“We are here“, he said when we reached the mall I directed him to. He came to open the door for me and held my hand as I got out.

“Where to first, my lady?” He asked with a fake accent, making me burst out laughing. “What’s that accent?” I asked, still laughing and he joined me. We got glances from passers-by but I didn’t care, I was enjoying just being in the presence of my mate.

Just when I was about to answer, my stomach rumbled. I covered my face with my palms and he pulled me away from the car before he closed the door. “I know exactly where we are going“, he said as he pulled me to the mall. “How did I forget to feed you?” He muttered to himself as he kept moving.

“You were too excited for our date“, I said under my breath but his Alpha ears picked it up. He glared at me and I made the motion of zipping up my lips. It’s best not to poke a wolf on a mission.

He found a place for us and went to order food for us. I was amazed when he brought the food. There was so much food and I knew I couldn’t finish half of it. “Why did you get so much when there’s just the two of us?” I asked, still looking at the platter in amazement.

“I did not know what you’d like and you seemed pretty hungry so I got almost everything I saw“, he replied, scratching the back of his neck. “Well, I can’t fit all of these in my tiny body“, I gestured to my body as I spoke and he chuckled.

“It’s a good thing you have me to help you fit it in my body then“. he said as he came to sit beside me, “now, dig in“. I smiled at him before I started eating. The first bite tasted like heaven and I moaned a little.

Chapter 70

Adrian let out a groan beside me and I looked at him with a raised brow. “If you keep doing that, I might not be able to keep my promise of taking you only when you’re ready. You’re driving me insane and Daxon is barely holding on“, he whispered huskily into my ears and I involuntarily clenched my thighs.

I cleared my throat and stuffed my face with food to stop the heat from spreading across my face but it was futile and he laughed a little before he started eating too.

After we finished eating, I felt like I was going to burst and had to unbutton on my pants. Adrian did not seem to be affected even though he ate the majority of the food. I looked at him in awe and he gave me a boyish smile.

“How are you still functioning?” I asked with labored breathing. Okay, maybe I was exaggerating but I still felt so full and he was the one who forced me to eat so much so I was being a bit dramatic.

“You’re just being dramatic“, he chuckled and I glared at him. “I know what will make you feel okay“, he said and I sat up to hear him. “What’s that?” I asked eagerly.

“I saw a park on our way here. We should go there and check it out. It will be an avenue to get to know what you like and also burn the food you ate“, he said. I clapped excitedly and nodded.

He took my hands and led me out of the food court. As we entered the parking lot, I felt like I was being watched and looked around but I did not see anything out of place. I did not know I had stopped until Adrian tugged on my hand.

“Is anything the matter, baby?” He asked and I shook my head. It’s probably just in my head. I put on a smile and followed after him.

Today is all about focusing on my mate and getting to know him, not worrying about things that are out of place.

He drove us to the park and I was amazed by what I saw. The park was filled with a lot of people; they seemed to be having some form of party and the memories of coming here with Mom and Dad sparked in my head, bringing tears to my eyes.

I got out of the car before Adrian could open the door for me and we went into the park together.

Chapter 71

Lola's POV

I walked in front eagerly while Adrian followed behind me. I saw this huge ride that called out to me. I tugged on his arm and excitedly pointed to the ride.

“You wanna go on that?“, He asked and I eagerly nodded. “Let’s get you on it then“, he flashed me a smile before grabbing my hand and pulling me towards the booth where we got the tickets.

“Why do you want to go on the ride?“ He asked while we waited for the ride to stop so we could get on. “I just feel like I have memories connected to my parents on that ride“, I shrugged.

He nodded and did not say anything after that. The ride came and I happily got on. The ride was fun and it turned out that Adrian was scared of it, he just got on because I wanted to. He screamed out his lungs and was so quick to get down when the ride finally stopped.

While he was trying to get his composure, I was busy laughing at him. Who would have thought rides would make him scared? He glared at me the whole time I was laughing but I did not care at that moment.

After he calmed down, he stood upright and turned towards the large wheel, “I’m never getting on that again“, he mumbled and I covered my mouth so I won’t burst out laughing again.

“I can definitely watch that all day“, I said and he turned to glare at me but I pointed to a candy stand that got my attention. “Ouuuu, that looks good“, I said and turned to look at him with a big smile on my face.

His frown disappeared and he pulled me into him. "You're right, it sure looks good and I definitely need some sugar after that ride", he said and I giggled.

I took his hand and pulled him towards the stand. The man at the stand gave us a big smile when we got there. "What can I get t he lovebirds?" He asked and I pointed towards one big cotton candy.

"Or would you like to try our couple's special candy?" He asked and I nodded excitedly. He took different colors of cotton candy and started pouring it bit by bit into the machine while making heart shaped cotton candy with different colors.

I clapped excitedly when he finally gave us the giant heart on two sticks. I shared it into two and gave Adrian one half while I took the other half. I took the first bite and it tasted like heaven, Adrian also seemed to like it. He paid and we moved a way from the stand.

"I'm really glad you went on that ride with me despite your fear of it", I said as we walked around the park. "I'll do it again if it will make you happy, baby", he replied and I nodded. "Does that mean you'll go on it now if I want to go again?" I asked teasingly. "Oh, hell no. Definitely not the ride", he spoke quickly and I laughed which he soon joined in.

"Were you able to get memories of them on that ride?" He asked after a while. I nodded with a smile, "yeah, I was".

"For eight years, I gradually lost my memories with them until they became distant. Crescent moon changed that for me. I was able to feel like I belonged somewhere again, I wasn't treated badly and it has been a good experience for me", I finished with a sigh.

“And I was just like your old pack until recently“, he sighed sadly and I turned to face him. “You were a jerk, yes, you were a big jerk but you’re also the reason I grew into the girl I am now. I never would have imagined that I would be strong enough to defend myself not to talk of being the moon wolf”, I grabbed his face in the middle of the park and made him look into my eyes.

“What matters now is that you’re here and you’re trying to make up for our mistake and that’s fine by me so stop beating yourself up“, he nodded when I was done speaking.

“And for eight years, I thought I was an only child also. I wonder how I did not know that I had a sibling“, I continued talking and walking in front of him. I stopped when I noticed that he wasn’t following me.

“Adrian?” I moved towards him and shook him a little when I noticed that he was out of it. “What’s the matter?” I asked when he finally snapped out of it.

He led me towards a somewhat quiet place in the park and made us sit there. I did not like the silence that surrounded us, I felt like he was going to give me bad news or tell me something I wouldn’t like.

“I had a younger sister too“, he started and I listened with rapt attention, “she died eight years ago also“, he finished and my heart broke for him.

It must have been hard for him to deal with. At least, I had no idea I had a brother until recently. He knew his sister and it must have been a hard pill to swallow.

“If she were to be alive, she’d be around your age by now“, he said with a sad smile and I hugged him. “She’d have had my head on a plate if she could witness how I treated you, she was very fiery even at her young age“, he laughed at the memory of her.

“What happened to her?” I asked curiously. I never knew he had a sister, nobody in the pack has ever talked about it, not even Lyla and the girls.

“Rogues. She was killed by rogues. A rogue I trusted and believed to be my mate killed her in my stead“, he said and a lone tear rolled down his left eye.

Chapter 72

Lola’s POV

My heart broke more when I saw him in tears. Those motherf**king rogues! I pulled him closer and allowed him to rest his head on my chest while he cried. Every moment I saw his shoulder shake from grieving for his lost sister, the rage inside of me grew.

I have to put an end to their menace, they already took a lot from me. Not only did they deprive me of a good life for eight years, I had to go through heartbreak because of their actions. I lost my family and almost lost my mate too.

Jasmine kept growling angrily in my head and the weather suddenly changed. The sky kept rumbling and it looked like it was about to rain. I did not realize Adrian had stopped crying until I felt him rubbing my back to calm me down.

I gradually relaxed and the soothing touch on my back helped calm Jasmine also. “Hey, hey, it’s okay“, Adrian said gently and I hugged him tighter to me.

“That’s why you almost rejected me? Because I came into Crescent moon pack as a rogue?” I asked after he had already raised his head from my body. He nodded before sighing.

“I was such an idiot to believe that she was my mate. She came into the pack battered and beaten and I fell for her the moment I saw her“, he said.

Jasmine growled in my head and threatened to take over but I stopped her. “He fell for someone else on sight but it took a near death experience for him to acknowledge us“, she growled angrily in my head.

“That’s what he’s trying to explain. You have to calm down and allow us to hear him out. We're trying to make this work, isn't that right??" She calmed down and I was able to focus on Adrian that was in front of me. "I believed she was my mate but Daxon didn't. I was so sure I felt everything that Mom and Dad said I'd feel whenever I met my mate but Daxon didn't feel the same. I'd do anything she requested from me because she was my mate, or so I thought".

"No one liked her, not Ariana, Mom, Dad, nobody liked her and I thought they were all against us because she was a rogue so I became distant from everyone and wouldn't want to hear anything they wanted to say", he took a deep breath and I patted his back.

"A month after I met her, she started acting strange but I overlooked it, she was my mate after all", he continued. "What behaviors?" I asked curiously.

"She'd ask about the circumstances surrounding Ariana's birth", ohhhhhh, Ariana is the name of his sister. "She wanted to know everything about her which I found strange but I chalked it up to just wanting to get to know about my family", he answered sadly.

"Ariana called me one day and said she had something to tell me concerning Ennia but I refused to hear her out. I had been brainwashed into thinking that anyone that had something to say about her did not like her and would try to pull us apart".

"Daxon warned me repeatedly that he did not feel anything for her as a mate but I was so sure she was my ordained mate. It wasn't until I held Ariana's body as she took her last breath that I realized what stupid mistake I had made", he took a deep breath at this point and I understood that it must be hard for him to talk about the death of his 288 Wachers sister.

"How did she die?" I asked. I wanted to know just what was done to such an innocent soul.

"Ennia drove a knife through her heart", another tear rolled down his face and he rushed to wipe it. "She was caught in the action by Mom and was imprisoned. It was when she was in the dungeon that I came to know about her plans and how I fell right into it".

"She was sent to kill me as I was the next Alpha King. A witch made it possible for me to feel the mate bond with her but Daxon wasn't affected. If only I wasn't so desperate to get a mate, I wouldn't have lost Ari", he whispered sadly and I held him closer to my body.

“It’s okay if you want to stop talking about it. Adrian”. I said gently but he shook his head in disagreement. “I have to. I want to explain everything to you, baby”, he muttered and I nodded.

After a while, he continued speaking. “The plan was to abduct Ariana thinking she was the Moon Wolf because the moon wolf was supposedly birthed to a powerful family but it all changed when they found out that the moon wolf was birthed to another pack. Her mission changed from abducting Ariana to killing me”.

“How did she know that you did not have a mate initially?” I asked again. I was really confused at this point. “Everyone in the wolf world knew I was searching for my mate. It wasn’t a private matter, baby”, he answered.

“So who sent her? You asked her that much right?” I asked. At least they must have asked that before executing her. “We did but she couldn’t answer”, he answered. “Why?”

“She bled to death before she could answer. Some kind of magic forbade her from telling the truth”, he breathed out.

Chapter 72

“That was what spiked my hatred for rogues. They cost me my sister and I was on a rampage for a while. Daxon was out for blood and so was I”, he said.

“That was what made me react the way I did when I found out you were my mate in the dungeon. Even though Daxon said you were my mate, I did not want to believe it”, he finished sadly and I sighed.

I’d have been wary if I were him also. I totally understood where he was coming from.

I stood up and he looked at me quizzically. “We have to leave”, I said and he looked at me in question. “Why?”

“To see Serena”

The earlier I can get answers to my questions, the earlier I’d be able to put these motherf**kers in their place.

Chapter 73

Lola’s POV

We did not waste any more time in the park and drove back to the mall. It was already evening by the time we got there and I was starting to think that Serena would have left but her spa was still open when we got there.

She was sitting in the reception sipping tea almost like she was waiting for someone. "Serena", I called when she did not look up to meet our eyes when we entered.

She sighed and raised her hands towards the heavens like she was thanking them. "Argh, thank the Moon goddess. I almost gave up on waiting for you, what took you so long?" She asked as she got up to meet us.

"Adrian", she greeted him with a slight bow and he returned with one of his. "Please have a seat. I prepared tea for us, although I almost finished it while waiting for you to get here", she gestured towards the table I met her resting at.

"I'll take it that you already know what I came here for", I said but she ignored and kept filling our cups. "I think it's still good", she retorted after taking a sip from the cup, totally ignoring my question.

I marched towards her and she sighed before looking up from what she busied herself with. "Oh dear. You might as well take a seat since you're near the chair", she gestured to the chair behind me before she continued filling the cups again.

Adrian came to sit beside me. He put his hand on my leg that was shaking uncontrollably and gave it a squeeze. I smiled at him and he nodded reassuringly at me.

Serena took her time before she came to sit down. I sat up and she smiled warmly at me. “Now, now, Lola. Relax and be comfortable”.

“Serena, I need answers. I’m sure you already know why I’m here, let’s not waste anymore time and go straight to the point“, I started while she took a sip of her tea before she nodded.

“Why am I suddenly having memories of my parents and brother that I didn’t even know existed? Is this related to the war we’re about to fight? What am I supposed to do to fully reach my potential? When exactly is the war going to take place?” I fired rapidly at her.

“Wow, you sure have a lot of questions“, she said, making me roll my eyes. I wasn’t in the mood for all of her jokes. Adrian’s story had further fueled me to do something about the raging psycho that wished to make me his.

“I’ll start from the last question. The time the war will take place solely depends on you and what decisions you make in weeks, months or probably years to come “, she stated and I nodded even though I got more confused.

My decisions? Is there anything relating to this war that doesn’t come back to me being in the center of it all? Adrian must not have noticed my distress because he squeezed my legs again.

“To reach your full potential, it’s pretty simple“, she looked at Adrian as she spoke. “You have to mark each other“, she dropped and it seemed like all the air in the room suddenly vanished. Everywhere was still and we all seemed to hold our breath.

“Adrian, I know you don’t want to agree to that but it’s the only way. The only way forward is for you to grow stronger together and what other way to do that than marking your mate and becoming one with them“, she looked Adrian in the eye as she spoke. I heard him sigh beside me and it was my turn to squeeze his legs.

“Concerning your parent’s memories and suddenly remembering your brother, it’s a clue to who killed your parents which will in turn lead you to the person that’s out to get you“, she said and then sipped her tea. I waited for her to say more but she kept quiet.

“And what exactly might that clue be?” I asked after a while. “Your old pack“, she replied. “My old pack“, I asked again and she nodded her head.

What has my old pack got to do with my powers? They did not even know I had a wolf. The only reason they treated me badly was because I was the cause of Mom and Dad’s death, right?

“Or was it?” Jasmine asked in my head and I got more confused. Andrew and Natalie couldn’t have been in on all of these right? They were loyal to Mom and Dad, they wouldn’t have done that to them.

“Yet, they switched on us the moment they died“, Jasmine argued and I felt rage boiling through me. They’re going to pay dearly if they were ever part of the people that knew about what happened to Mom and Dad.

“I take it that we’re done here“, Serena said before she stood up and with a wave of her hand, the cups on the table disappeared. “Whenever you have any other questions, you can just summon me instead of going through the troubles of coming here“, she said with a slight bow.

Adrian bade her goodbye while I stepped into the already dark night. “Do you still want us to go back tonight or we could just find somewhere to stay“, he said when he came out and stood beside me.

“Let’s just stay around till tomorrow, I might have questions for Serena again in the morning“, I said monotonously and he nodded before leading me towards the car.

We drove around for a while before we found a hotel. We went in and booked a room for both of us. Throughout the whole process, I felt like I was being watched but I spoke it off. It was probably just me being paranoid.

When we got to the room, we took turns showering and then slept off in each other's arms after all. I had a restless sleep that night.

Unknown's POV

"They just went into a room at the hotel", a voice came in through the receiver and I nodded. "Keep me updated and let me know if there's a new development", I ordered before hanging up.

I just need her to reach her full potential. Once she does, She'll be mine and no one will be able to stop me. With a smile on my face, I continued sipping my rum till I blacked out.

Chapter 74

Lola's POV

I woke up in the early hours of the morning, way before Adrian did and kept thinking of how to get Natalie and Andrew to Crescent moon and find out their role in the death of my parents.

To be candid, I was scared of them. They played an important role in f**king with my self-esteem and person as a whole. If they had not given that order that I should be demoted to an omega, no one would have treated me like trash.

I trashed and turned until the sun rose. I was about to stand up and start lacing when strong hands pulled me closer by my waist and snuggled into me. I felt at peace and relaxed into his touch.

"What's got you worried, baby?" He asked huskily and even though my mind was troubled, I still found myself getting slightly wet. He sniffed the air and smiled against my skin.

I definitely wasn't slightly wet.

"Your arousal is driving me crazy. Now imagine what it's taking me to stop Daxon from being naughty with you right now”, I suppressed a moan. I made the mistake of moving closer to him and his morning wood poked me right in the my core.

“You’re making it so hard to not take you right now”, he groaned and slightly moved his lower body away from mine. I whined at the loss of contact and he chuckled slightly.

“Let’s talk about what was bothering you when I woke up. That’s not important right now, baby”, he said while he sat up, taking me with him.

I sighed before speaking. “I need to get in touch with Andrew and Natalie, the Alpha and Luna of my former pack but I don’t know how to go about it”, I confessed.

“We can just go to your former pack and talk to them”, he said but I shook my head vigorously. “Why baby?” He asked when I disagreed with him.

“I’m scared”, I opened up to him. “I don’t want to go back to that pack. The fact that they might be involved in my parent’s death makes me more scared. What if they hurt me again? I don’t ever want to go back there, that pack holds a lot of bad memories for me”, I finished and buried my head in his neck.

Adrian kept quiet for a while but I could hear him grinding his jaw in anger. “Adrian?” I called out when he refused to speak after a while.

“They’ll meet us at the pack. I need to make a call”, he stood up abruptly, picked his phone and went into the bathroom. I tried to listen to his call conversation but he turned on the water, distorting my hearing.

That sly wolf.

He came out a while later, water dripping down his body gloriously and what we discussed before he went into the bathroom vanished completely.

He looked like a Greek god and winked at me when I finally looked up at his face. I might have stared too long at his dick area, I became red with embarrassment when I realised I was caught.

I ran into the bathroom, slamming the door behind me. I took my time to do my routine and left the bathroom to find Adrian already dressed in new clothes while a bag was on the bed beside him.

Chapter 74

“We did not shop for anything yesterday so I asked that some be brought for you before we eventually go shopping my queen. I figured you wouldn’t want to wear dirty clothes”, he said and I smiled at him gratefully before entering the bathroom the second time to dress up. I wasn’t ready to be naked before him, my self control is not that strong. “Look who turned out to be the horny one”, Jasmine taunted and I would have smacked her if I could. “Oh, please. You can’t deny that he looked so mouthwatering just before”, I argued back. Just thinking. about how he looked made me want to go back into the room but I refrained from doing so.

I brought out my clothes hurriedly and got out to meet him sitting at the edge of the bed expectantly.

“We’ll shop for a while before we leave, we should eat first”, he said as he took my hand in his and led me out of the hotel room. We stopped by a restaurant and he ordered food for us. I couldn’t eat a lot so we left after he was done.

After a moment of arguing about shopping for clothes, we entered the car and headed towards our pack. My heart kept beating rapidly in my chest for no particular reason.

I slept off halfway into the journey, only awakened when we reached Crescent moon pack. I stepped out of the car before Adrian could step out to open the door for me, earning me a pout from him.

I was about to open the door when I was hit by scents that evoke rage in me. Jasmine kept growling incessantly in my head and I growled a little too. Adrian held my hands and I calmed down a bit.

I was met with faces I’d rather not see again immediately I opened the door. They had the guts to smile at me and my anger returned tenfolds.

“Lola, we missed you”, Natalie said. I ground my teeth so hard, it was a miracle they were still there. “Natalie, Andrew”, I acknowledged them. They looked shocked by the fact that I called them by their names but I didn’t care.

Andrew spoke up, “I found out what Grayson did after you left the pack. I promise that I had no idea what you had to go through”, he said softly and I laughed. I laughed so loud, and they looked at me in awe.

I’m going to kill these lowlives!

“What do you know about my parent’s death?”, I abruptly asked and the room went into a pin drop silence.

Chapter 75

Adrian’s POV

I watched her body shake with rage as she asked the fake people in front of us questions. Everybody looked at them expectantly and they must have realized that their secret has been leaked.

The woman looked pale but the man still maintained a strong front. He laughed tensely before giving a nervous smile. “Wha-what are you talking about, Lola? I treated you like family and loved you like my own daughter. I don’t get where this accusation is coming from. You’re being unreasonable right now”, he said shakily. I could hear how fast his heart was beating and I almost laughed at his pathetic trial.

“I’m so sorry, uncle Andrew. How stupid of me to think that you’d ever do such a thing to me. I must have lost my memories for a little while. Care to juggle my memory?” She said calmly and I saw fears in his eyes before he masked it.

She walked majestically towards an empty chair and sat down while we waited for them to start talking. Daxon made a sound that showed that he was satisfied and proud in my head. I smirked at them before going over to sit beside her. She automatically held my hand and I felt how much she was shaking despite her brave facade and I couldn’t be more proud of her.

“If you’d please”, Dad said after a while and he nodded before clearing his throat. He struggled with what to say for a while before Lola cut in. “I see that you’re having a hard time talking about that incident. It must have been hard on you. Am I right, Aunt Natalie, Uncle Andrew?” She asked and I could see that her rage was already trying to overcome her so I squeezed her hand to calm her down a bit.

Chapter 75

The woman wrung her hands together more and looked like she was about to cry but the man nodded.

“The nerves of the sly bastard”, Daxon growled in my head as I resisted the urge to growl out loud. “Yo Daxon, chill out. We need to calm down for Lola. She wants to do this by herself and should be allowed to”, I said but Daxon still wasn’t calming down.

I couldn't blame him because left to me, I'd have torn them apart the moment I set my eyes on them.

"I'd ask you questions to speed this up, okay?" She said with an air of authority and even dad looked proud of her.

"What happened to Mom and Dad?" She asked with a death glare. The man relaxed and seemed to have everything under control.

"Silly Lola. They were killed by rogues of course. This is a known tragedy in the wolf world", he replied. And he was right, that was the story everyone in the wolf world knew. It was during the time I lost my sister too so we were not able to look into it. Those bastards planned it well.

"Do I have a younger brother?" His eyes widened in shock at this question and it took him a while to recover. "No, no, of course not. You're an only child, Lola. How did you come up with these questions?" He said with a nervous laugh but Lola wasn't having any of it.

The wind around us changed and I knew Jasmine was in charge. They looked terribly terrified of the change in room and Natalie, like Lola identified the woman, started crying.

"Andrew, I'm going to give you another chance to redeem yourself and you better not waste it", she said, almost intimidating me but I knew it wasn't directed at me so I relaxed. "Now, I ask again, what happened to

Chapter

'my parents?" She asked with venom dripping from her words.

11 298 Workers

"Lola, I already told you all that happened. I already told you everything, what more do you want me to.....", he wasn't done with his words when Lola's hair suddenly started to spark and her eyes glowed brighter than they did the last time. Outside, the earlier sunny weather had changed to a thunderstorm and I was wowed. I have never seen her so angry before. He was about to talk again when suddenly he was hit with a spark of lightning causing him to cry out in pain. Lola was about to hit him with another one when Natalie began to speak.

"I'd say it. I'd tell you everything you want to know, please stop", she wailed and pleaded but Lola was still glowing and breathing really hard.

"Hey, hey, it's okay baby. We need them alive to be able to question them, remember?" I cooed to her and that was when she eventually calmed down.

"Speak!" She commanded, her voice echoing throughout the entire room.

“What about him?” Natalie asked, pointing to her husband that was writhing in pain. “He caused me pain for eight years, he should be able to withstand that for as long as your narration takes. If you don’t want to be like him, I suggest you start speaking now”, she said before she took her seat.

Natalie looked at her mate before she started speaking. “Yes, yes, we know about the death of your parents”, she sobbed out and I felt Lola stiffen with anger beside me. “And yes, you had a brother. He died alongside your parents in the rogue incident”, she confessed.

From the corner of my eyes, I saw Mom cover her mouth with her hands and Dad was rigid with rage. “How old was he? Why wasn’t he spared? Why, why did you do it?” Lola’s voice broke towards the end and I knew she was on the verge of breaking down.

“He, he was j-just si-six months”, she stammered out and the only thing that stood between her and death was that we needed to hear her confession. “You aided in the death of a six month old?” Mom asked. I did not need to look at her to know that she was crying already.

“If he had been spared, our secrets would have been leaked”, she sobbed harder. Lola started crying beside me and I held her to my chest.

These motherf**kers will pay dearly. I promise.

“I’m sorry, Lola. I’m so sorry. We’d have been killed, all of us would have been wiped out”, she kept repeating. “Why? Why did you do that? Mom treated you like a sister and that was all you could do?” She screamed in anger with tears streaming down her cheeks and my heart broke for her.

“We were threatened, Lola. There was nothing we could do. I’m sorry, I’m so sorry”, she kept crying.

“Who? Who threatened you?” Dad asked and we all listened carefully to hear her.

“Elias. It was Elias Stone, the king of rogues”.

Chapter 76

Lola’s POV

Elias who? What’s going on?

I looked at everyone’s faces and they looked genuinely shocked. I was thoroughly confused and everyone seemed to know this Elias guy except me.

“Who’s Elias?” I asked when it looked like no one was going to talk. “He was the rogue King”, Natalie managed to say from her position on the floor where she sat beside her husband who was still writhing in pain. I need to find out why werewolves seemed to not heal from pains inflicted by me, but that would be another day. Right now, I need to find out who Elias is and how we can track this person down.

“Where can we find this Elias guy?” I asked with rage burning in my veins. “Elias is dead, sweetie”, Rose said from where she was seated, “or so we heard”.

“Because if he’s dead, who would still be looking for the Moon Wolf?”

“Jayden inputted his own opinion. I sighed and put my head in my hands.

This just keeps leading to a dead end.

“Before this goes on, I need to know what exactly happened to Mom and Dad and why I can’t seem to remember memories from that day”, I said and Natalie began sobbing again, making me roll my eyes.

TIL

“It’s Drew that knows everything about it, he just let me in on some things because I would be part of the plan. He needs to be healed before we can get to the root of this”, she kept crying as she spoke.

I contemplated making him suffer a little more but I just couldn’t bring myself to do it. I wasn’t built like that. I made to stand up but Adrian stopped me. “I should help him if I want to get to the root of this as soon as I can”, I told him and he nodded.

I moved closer to where he laid but Natalie looked wary which made me roll my eyes. “I’m not trying to hurt your dear mate, so allow me to do my thing”. I snapped at her.

I could have killed him immediately or had him jailed if I wanted to. If they had treated me right, she wouldn’t be worried about anything right now

She shifted for me to kneel beside him and since I did not know where exactly the pain was coming from. I placed my hand over his heart and felt the familiar feeling I felt when I healed Adrian rush through me. When I finally healed me, everyone looked at me in surprise and that was when I realized that Jayden and Rose did not know that I have powers already Oops, I totally forgot.

“Wh-what was t-tha-t?” Natalie stammered out. I ignored her and went to sit beside Adrian, who hugged me to his side. “You were awesome just now”. he whispered into my ears and I might have turned a light. shade of red.

I turned to look at Rose and she gave me a look that said “we’ll talk later”. We all looked towards Andrew that could now move on his own. He looked amazed and so did Natalie.

“I bet they regret their actions now. Those sorry excuses for humans”, Jasmine seethed in my head. “I bet they’ve been regretting it since they set their eyes on me”, I replied to her.

“So, he’s healed now. Shouldn’t he start speaking?” Adrian spoke up from beside me. Natalie poked him to start talking and Andrew cleared his throat before talking.

“Ryan and Lillian really died by rogues but it was a planned attack”, he bowed his head in shame as he started speaking. Yes, you should be ashamed, you mother f ucking traitor, I thought as I clenched and unclenched my fingers.

“Elias had come to make a deal with Ryan and I was there. He wanted. to confirm the circumstances surrounding Lola’s birth. He suspected that the moon wolf must have been born to them since it wasn’t the daughter of the Alpha King, I did not know how he found that out”, he said.

“He wanted the moon wolf to himself once she comes of age and finds. her mate but Ryan disagreed. He wasn’t going to let his precious daughter be taken away by a rogue which I totally agreed with. But it started getting serious and I got anxious”, he stopped to catch his breath at that point.

“How? What happened?” I asked him impatiently. “He started killing pack members. Everyday, we’d find a pack member dead with a note threatening to kill us all if we did not give him what he wanted. I tried to reason with Ryan to agree till we find a permanent solution to the killings but he wouldn’t budge”, he narrated.

“I implored him to ask for help but he wouldn’t either. If he asked for help, he’d have to reveal the reason behind the killings and everyone would know that his daughter is the moon wolf. I got angry that he was protecting just one person at the expense of all of us so I met up with Elias to make a deal”.

“He wanted me to get rid of Ryan and Lilian and make sure I keep Lola till she finds her mate and grows into her power in exchange for the Alpha position of the pack and promise to never disturb my pack”, he finished.

I did not know I was crying until Adrian wiped my cheeks. “Why Mom and my little brother? They couldn’t have been spared?” I asked through my tears and anger.

“Lilian would have wanted to find out what caused the death of her mate so she had to be taken care of too. Your brother’s death wasn’t planned but it happened also. I’m so sorry, I’m so sorry, Lola”, he pleaded but I wasn’t having any of it.

“You did such a heinous crime and still blamed me for their death? You stripped me of my Alpha title and made me the pack servant for eight years and you’re sorry? You ruined my whole life and still made me feel like a failure for the rest of my life and you’re sorry?” I shouted. with tears running down my cheeks.

Adrian held me to his body and kept rubbing my back as I kept on crying. It was too much for me to handle, I couldn’t wrap my head. properly around all the information that I just heard.

“And my memories, what did you do to my memories?” I asked after a while. “We had to erase them because it was causing some controversies in the pack and you also saw Elias’ face”, he answered.

I stood up and made my way towards the stairs. I turned towards Jayden and said what I’ve wanted to do to them since the moment I saw them inside the house.

“Please, have them locked up in the dungeon till I decide what I’ll do with them”, and with that, I left towards my room.

Chapter 77

Lola’s POV

I did not wait to listen to what anyone had to say after I said what I said. I walked up the stairs and went straight into Adrian’s room. I think I might have gotten used to going into his room.

I sat on the bed staring into space when Adrian came in. “Are you okay, baby?” He asked as he came to sit beside me. I met his gaze and broke into tears again.

He held me closer and whispered sweet nothings into my ear. “It’s okay baby, let it out”, he said in between his whispering and I cried till I soaked through his shirt with my tears.

When I finally stopped crying, he passed me tissue papers from his nightstand so that I could blow my already clogged nose. I wanted to ask him why he had tissues on his bed stand but I refrained from doing so.

“Good call, girl. You surely don’t want to know what the tissues are used for” Jasmine said and I became redder than I was already.

“Do you think I shouldn’t have asked them to be imprisoned? I should be focused on getting to the root of this matter but I really want to see them beg for mercy now. Does that make me a bad person?” I hiccuped.

“No, not at all, baby”, he consoled me. “Are you sure?” I asked. I wasn’t going to be a weak person but I needed validation from my mate. To be honest, I was tired of bearing my burden myself, I need someone to always vent and rant to without being judged.

“Of course, I’m sure. You’re one of the most amazing people I know and that’s what makes you special to others”, he started. “A lot of people can’t go through what you went through and still be pure and as amazing as you are”, he pulled my face up to look at him.

“Left to me, I’d have their head on a pole and hang it at the pack boundary for everyone to see what happens when they touch my mate”, he gritted out. Jasmine whimpered in my head. “so sexy, so mine”. I blocked her out and focused on the fine specimen in front of me.

“I know you do not wish any harm to come to them”, he said and I was about to tell him how wrong he was but he shushed me, “nuh-uh. I know what I’m saying. You’re this way because you just heard what happened to your parents and brother Once you sleep over it, you’re going to find an excuse to not have them punished”, he said and I sighed.

He was right. I’d look for a way to just let them go. “You’re right, am I that predictable?” I asked and he smiled. “You just have a pure heart and an amazing soul. Anyone that takes that for granted is to be blamed, not you”, he said with so much emotion.

I did not think twice before I pulled him into a kiss, a fiery passionate kiss. Our tongues danced against each other with the fluidness of a professional ballerina, fighting for dominance which Adrian’s won of course, I didn’t know why I even tried.

He pulled me closer and I kept moving until I was straddling him. I pulled at his hair, eliciting a sound that seemed to be between a moan and a groan from him. He did not pull back from the kiss so I continued tugging at his hair.

His hand left the back of my head where it was and wandered to my ass, squeezing and kneading until I felt the sweatpants I had on getting soaked. He placed one hand on my waist and pulled me impossibly closer, making my wet core come in contact with his clothed hardness.

Hard dick.

I couldn't hold it in and let out a loud moan of pleasure. I suddenly stopped moving and looked into his eyes to find lust and admiration swirling through them. His hair was disheveled and his lips looked swollen. His lips were slightly parted and that just added to his hotness. I was suddenly overcome by desires and smirked at him before I did what was on my mind. I looked at him seductively, slightly biting my lower lip before running my tongue over it.

He started panting slightly and his hard dick became harder and was directly against my clit. I reined in the sound that was threatening to burst out of my lips.

Without breaking eye contact, I took off my shirt and my boobs bounced out, making him widen his eyes like he'd never seen tits before. I couldn't blame him, they had grown bigger since the last time we had physical contact.

"Holy goddess", he breathed out, slightly panting. "You look so gorgeous and sexy, baby", he said before holding the right one in his left hand while he sucked the second one into his mouth.

I couldn't stop the way my body reacted to him and suddenly started rubbing my clothed pussy against his clothed dick. The more he sucked on my boobs, the more I rubbed myself against him till I felt like I was going to combust from inside.

"Adrian", I called out shakily and he looked up at me. He raised his head from my boobs and pulled my head down to place a chaste kiss on my lips.

He took my clitoris into his mouth and whispered sweet nothings into my ears pushing me towards the edge without giving me what I

He buried his face in my neck and kissed the point where my shoulder and neck met, sending a shudder through me. “Found it”, he whispered. Just then, he pierced my skin with his teeth at the same time I felt myself explode. As I came down from my high, he held me closer to his body and repeatedly said how sorry he was.

I wanted to ask him what happened but I kept getting pulled under by the darkness. Just before I completely went under, I heard the words I’ve waited for for eight years.

“I love you. Lola”, and darkness took over.

Lola’s POV

I woke up confused. It was nighttime outside and I sat up just to be pushed onto the bed again. I looked to where the push came from and it was Adrian, looking at me with a big smile.

He seemed so happy and while I was glad to see his smile, I was confused as to what was making him smile so widely. “You. You’re the reason behind the smile”, a familiar voice said in my head. I shrieked and buried my head into Adrian’s chest.

“What’s the matter, baby? You look like you just saw a ghost”, he said as he rubbed my hair and I nodded. “I hear a voice that doesn’t belong to Jasmine in my head and it seems to hear my thoughts too”, I whispered.

“A voice?” He asked again and I nodded.

“Too bad, there’s nothing you can do about it”, the voice said again and I almost entered Adrian. He suddenly started laughing and I looked at him bewildered.

Does he think I’m lying? Why was he laughing? Is something wrong with me? I looked at him with a glare and he just continued laughing which made my blood boil.

I was about to ask him what was so funny when his laughter died down and he pulled me closer to place a soft kiss on my forehead. “I’m so amazed you did not know my voice”, he said at the same time his voice sounded in my head, “you hurt me, baby”.

I looked at him in amazement and smiled before it suddenly turned into a frown. “You’ tricked me”, I huffed before crossing my hands over my chest. He laughed again and a smile crossed my face but I held it in.

“Hey, I’m sorry, okay? You’re just easy to mess with”, he said in between laughs and I finally allowed myself to smile. “Does that mean we’re mated?” I asked after a while.

“Not fully mated but were joined now. I can feel your thoughts and emotions but it will become stronger when we finish the mating process”, he replied.

“Oh”, I replied, even though I did not understand anything he meant.

“You don’t understand, do you?” He asked and I turned a light shade of red from being caught.

“We can feel each other’s emotions and hear each other’s thoughts but we’re not fully united as one”, he explained but I still wasn’t getting it.

“Oh, okay. So how do we complete the mate bond? Can we do that. now?” I asked eagerly.

I felt so complete and full of life and if I was just feeling part of what I’m supposed to feel normally in this stage, I wanna feel everything a hundred percent.

I looked up at him eagerly and watched his eyes filled with desire and hunger, and he wasn’t hungry for food, the tent in his already changed. sweatpants was a testament to what my question caused. I looked at my body and saw that I had been changed too.

I looked away from him but he held my jaw and made me look at him. I could feel myself getting soaked again. Oh, come on!

He pulled me such that my back was against his chest and caressed my hands which made me throw my head back on his shoulder in pleasure.

“The mating process will be completed once you mark me too”, he said gently. “We should do it now then, you can teach me all that I need to know and how to go about it”, I said lazily, far too gone in his touch.

“Let me repeat that, my queen”, he said with hints of laughter in his voice, “the mating bond will be completed when you mark me while you orgasm on my pulsing dick”, he finished and my eyes shot open.

“Adriannnnn”, I whined and he chuckled lowly. “You asked, baby. Is it a crime to answer you accordingly?” He chuckled and I glared at him. “So if you’re not ready to beg for mercy, the completion of the mating bond will have to wait”, he said softly and I felt like my face was about to burst from how hot it felt. I was about to open my mouth when my stomach growled.

“That wasn’t me”, I quickly said and he laughed loudly. “Yeah, yeah, it definitely wasn’t you. Let’s get you something to eat”, with that, he scooped me into his arms and went out of the room. He placed me on a kitchen stool while he whipped up something to eat.

He must have forgotten that he wasn’t wearing a shirt when he brought me downstairs. His bare back contracted as he moved with ease around the kitchen. Jasmine purred in my head and I almost laughed.

“Our mate is so fineeee”, she purred and I nodded in agreement. “I can’t wait to complete the mating process and make him all mine”, she remarked. “Jasmineeeee, I’m not ready for that yet”, I pouted in my head.

“I’ll wait till whenever you’re ready, baby. No pressure”, Adrian’s voice suddenly reached my ear and I shrieked. “Stop listening to my thoughts and conversations”, I glared and that man had the guts to shrug his shoulder at me.

“I’ve always been wanting to know what goes on in that pretty head of yours and you did not block me, how was I supposed to stop listening”.

he said with a mischievous look in his eyes. “Is that why I can’t hear your thoughts? You blocked me out?” I asked and he nodded.

That sly Alpha.

“Baby, you don’t want to know what goes on in my head. You’ll be permanently red”, he said and I became red making him laugh. He placed a plate containing a sandwich in front of me and my stomach growled again. “Yup, you should definitely eat”, he placed a kiss on my forehead before taking a seat.

Not giving much thought to what he said earlier, I dug into the food. and light have moaned a little on the first bite. “Baby, you have to stop doing that to me. I’m barely holding on”, he said, his voice lower and huskier and I gulped. “It’s not my fault you made the food taste so good”. I retorted before I continued eating.

He did not eat because he had dinner already. I asked him where Rose and Jayden were and he said they were probably asleep. We both cleaned up the plates and prepared to head back to bed together.

I was already thinking it might be a bad idea to sleep together, I did not know if I was going to be able to control myself. Adrian let out a string of curses beside me and I looked at him in worry.

“Is anything the matter?” I placed a hand on his chest to calm him. down a bit. After taking a few deep breaths, he spoke, “Another body. was found at the pack border”.

Lola's POV

Not again. This psychopath is really messing with me.

“You should go upstairs and rest, baby”. Adrian said and I looked at him like he's grown another head. “Is he f ucking with us right now?” Jasmine asked. “He must have forgotten why this is happening”, I replied to her.

“I should go upstairs?” I asked him incredulously and he nodded unsurely, “You've got to be kidding me. Adrian. Should I remind you why all these is happening again?” I asked, my voice rising with every word.

“It's already late and it might be a trap. I don't want you to.....”, I cut him off. “One word, Adrian. I dare you to say one more word”, he looked taken aback by my words and just kept looking at me in silence.

“If you've forgotten why all these keep happening, should I juggle your memory? Right now is not the time to be sentimental. People are dying, people you are supposed to rule over, that WE are supposed to rule over are dying because a motherf ucking psychopath wants me and you think now is the time to be protective over the one that's supposed to protect everyone?” I spat in his direction and he kept mute.

“Are you going to stand there or are you going to put on some clothes so we can leave?” That question seemed to pull him out of the trance he was and he broke into a smile.

I raised my eyebrow in question and he pulled me into a hug. “That was amazing, baby, You radiated so much power and I could not help. getting turned on”. he said after he pulled back and gave me a boyish grin.

“I’ll just put a shirt on then we can go, tomato checks”, he said and went towards the stairs, leading to our room.

Oops. I just said our room. I kinda like the sound of it.

It did not take long before Adrian came back with a shirt on, not that it made him less sexy. He held my hand we left the house.

Before we got to the place where the body was found, I already smelled the scent that supposedly accompanied the rogues.

“Adrian?” I called out to him. “Yes, baby”, he stopped in his tracks and turned to look at me. “It’s the same smell. And it’s stronger this time around”, I said low enough for only his ears. “Can you lead me in the direction where you sense it’s the strongest.

I nodded and led him away from where the warriors stood. They all looked at us in confusion but Adrian did not pay attention to them.

Nathan followed behind us, probably wondering why we were wandering when there was a body to check out.

Suddenly, I heard Nathan shout. “Adrian, to your left”. Without thinking about my next action, I pointed my hand in the direction Nathan shouted and a cry of pain was heard later.

I had released lightning on the intruder without thinking, my mate’s safety was the most important thing then. A couple of warriors ran over to the writhing body while Adrian shielded me with his body. I rolled my eyes at him and Jasmine laughed in my head. “You’d think he will realize that we can handle ourselves given the fact that we just took down a rogue”, she said with a soft laugh and I agreed with her. “I swear he acts like he has amnesia sometimes”, I replied to her.

“I can hear your thoughts and conversations, baby. Careful what you say or there might be consequences”, I heard his voice in my head and suddenly put up my wall. Oopsies.

“Take him to the dungeon and await me”, he barked at the warrior and they all bowed to him before they left with the rogue that was still in pain. “What if he dies before we reach the dungeon?” I asked as he was being taken away, “should I just heal him?”

“He should be able to survive it”, he replied. “Wait, we? What do you mean we?” He asked and I rolled my eyes at him for the nth time that night. I swear my eyes might become permanently glued in the eye roll motion with the way I roll my eyes around this man.

“Yes, we. We, as in, you and I. Try to keep up. Adrian”, I said. Nathan laughed behind us but covered it with a cough. “Lola, the dungeon is not somewhere you should be, try to understand me”.

“Do I need to remind you that that was where I spent my first night or two when I arrived in this pack?” I countered with my hand on my waist and that was what it took to shut him up.

And that’s how you win an argument, ladies.

We went to the pack member’s body and it was the same manner of death as the first one. He was stabbed in the neck before his heart got carved out. The heart was placed in a box with a note saying: “I see you’re already getting close to uncovering this. I can’t wait till you are mine, love”.

A shudder ran down my spine after reading the letter but I did but. allow it to show on my face. I did not want to give Adrian any excuse to make me sit out going to the dungeon.

We soon left for the dungeon again after a thorough check of the area was done and it was found clear. My heart was beating rapidly as we walked to the dungeon.

I felt Adrian trying to talk through our mindlink and put down my wall.

“I can hear your rapid heartbeat, it’s not too late for us to go back, baby”. he said tenderly but I was obstinate. I put up my wall after declining and we moved forward.

The air around the took a deep breath as we entered. We had not gone far when I sighted Andrew and Natalie but I did not get to look at them for long because Adrian blocked my view.

“You don’t need to feel bad for them. They’re getting a taste of their own medicine”, his voice rang in my head and I sighed deeply. “Were they at least given food?” I asked. I just couldn’t ignore them, they were good people at some points in my life. “I’ll see to it in the morning”, Adrian assured me and I nodded slightly.

We got to the cell at the last end of the dungeon and the rogue was there, still writhing in pain. He looked up when he heard us enter and his face lit up when he saw me even though he was in pain.

“I s-see th-the re-e-as-on he wou-wouldn’t st-stop loo-looking for y- you”, he managed to breathe out through his pain. “Yo-you loo-look so gorg-ge-geous’ ‘, he smiled as he spoke and Adrian growled loudly but I held him back.

“Who’s looking for me?” I asked him and he looked me straight in the eyes, “woul-wouldn’t yo-you 1-1-love to kn-know”, he said before groaning in pain.

This is going to be a long night.

Lola’s POV

Jasmine was starting to get annoyed and wanted to be let out but I reined her in. I need to hear what he has to say before any other step can be taken.

“You’ll need to calm down so we can get any information he might have for us out of him, Adrian. He’s just trying to rile you up so stop growling and let’s concentrate on the matter at hand”, I snapped at him when he kept growling at the rogue who kept laughing at him through his pain.

“Yes. I’d like to know who you’re talking about so why don’t you tell us and we’d spare your life”, I told him. “I’d have loved to tell you but I wouldn’t survive anyway so I’ll carry it to my grave”, he groaned.

Thinking he was talking about his pain, I moved towards him a bit and Adrian followed closely behind me. “If it’s about the injury. I can heal it. You’ll be fine eventually, I just need you to answer some questions I’ll ask you”, I said gently.

“You’re so thoughtful but I’m going to die either way”, he muttered. Adrian pulled me back from him and shielded my body with his huge frame.

“Adrian”, I started but he cut me off. “That’s enough, Lola”, he growled. out. “You shouldn’t be here in the first place. Nathan, see her out”, he ordered.

“Oh, no. He’s joking if he thinks he’s going to go all Alpha mode on me right now”, Jasmine said and took over my body before I could react.

“You’ll not tell me what to do in this situation, Adrian”, her voice boomed and everyone was shocked. Even the warriors looked taken aback but no one dared to speak.

“Jasmine”. Adrian called out but she held a hand up to silence him.

“Enough, Adrian. I think I can handle the situation pretty well and let’s not forget that I can protect myself if the need arises. Do you need any more proof?” She pointed towards the rogue that was writhing in pain. and Adrian relaxed a bit.

Argh. I just want to sleep in my mate’s arms, not argue inside a cell.

“What were you doing in the pack and how did you get in?” Jasmine asked the rogue directly, completely ignoring Adrian. “Like he-hell I’d t-tell y-you-u. Jasmine”, he said mockingly and I could feel the rage building up inside of her. I men tally facepalmed at the back of Jasmine’s mind that I was.

“Jasmine. being forceful wouldn’t make him speak. He already knows he’s going to die, we need him if we’re going to move forward”, I tried reasoning with her. “Allow me to be in control. I can handle this, please”.

I pleaded and that was when she finally allowed me to take control back.

“We’d make sure you’re safe, you need to help us for us to help you”, I tried reasoning with the still writhing rogue and saw the look in his eyes shift from being obstinate to trying to reason with me.

“I wanted to see what exactly the moon wolf he had been looking for looked like, so I hid in the trees after everyone left”, he breathed out.

“Who? Who exactly is looking for her?” Adrian asked from behind me and I turned to give him a glare. “Can you just allow me to handle this?” I pleaded through our mindlink. He ran his hands through his hair before he started pacing up and down the cell..

“How come no one was able to spot you?” I asked again, crouching to his level. “Wi-witch”, he barely managed to cough out, “we have a powerful witch on our side and she helps us to mask our scents when we are going into other people's territories", he said, his voice dropping with every word. Thank goddess for werewolf hearing

"Who? Who exactly is looking for me?" I asked him, hoping we'd be able to get something out of the whole situation. "I can't say", he wheezed.

"Why?" My patience was already running thin and Jasmine was on edge. She was more affected by this whole thing because a wolf feels more connection to its people than the human side.

"I wouldn't be able to mention his name anyways", I was wondering what he meant by that when he spoke up again. "But I can say this much" he breathed, "there's a traitor amongst you. Very close to you", he said. His breathing was getting more laboured and I started pitying him.

"I'm going to cure you now. You look like you're in so much pain", I made to put his hand over his body but he stopped me. "I really appreciate you trying to save me but I wasn't going to make it anyways. If anything. I'm glad it's happening in a pack", I became more confused at his words.

"We were made to believe that all pack members are evil, egoistic people, which was true in my old pack but you've proven me wrong", he gave me a weak smile. "I'm glad I got to meet the moon wolf before I died", he said and I felt broken.

Just what has these psychopath done to get people to follow him?

"I know you keep saying you can't say it but can you please tell me the name of the person in question and where they can be found?"

With a resigned look in his eyes, he opened his mouth to speak but an unexpected thing happened. It happened so fast and I wasn't able to do anything about it.

The rogue burst open and his insides splattered everywhere. Since I was beside him, I got his remains all over me. My whole body was covered in bits of the human body and I just sat down in it.

I was numb. I did not know how I got home, I did not know I got changed and cleaned. I couldn't sleep through the night, the image of his remains was stuck in my head and I couldn't get it out.

I did not cry. I did not sleep. I was wide awake while grieving the death of my kind that had been misled. If only we got his name, another life wouldn't have been wasted over a dead end.
