CHAPTER 101

Chapter 101 -CLARA- I sat down on Damon's mother's bed and smiled down at her. She had woken up not too long ago and to say the Alpha King was happy was an understatement. He refused to leave his mate's side and was always peering down at her even while I was giving her the medicine. "Thank you dear. I feel so much better already" She murmured and I smiled. "Well Damon made this medicine along with me. He was worried about you" I murmured and I knew that made her happy because of how wide her smile got. "I cannot thank you enough. Because of you, Damon's attitude towards us isn't as bad as it used to be so thank you" She murmured and I smiled. "Your son always cared about you both. He just has a hard time showing it. Today's medicine wasn't that harsh but y tomorrow's own. It's bitter" lattered and she grimaced which made me giggle. t you won't like I stood up from the bed and the Alpha King escorted me out of the room. "Thank you for helping my wife and for helping my son as well. I know deep down you hate me but I'm not that bad. My son just needs a firm hand to handle him but despite that, he still does whatever he wants. He may be my son but I'm the Alpha King and I cannot be partial with him because he's going to take my place one day and I want him to be a better Alpha King than I was" He uttered and I paused in my steps then turned to him. "I'll admit You're not my favorite person but I understand why you do what you do. I'm married to Damon and even I want to throw him into the Abyss some time" I joked and he chuckled. "You are the perfect woman for Damon. You'll be a great Queen Luna. Now, I have to po attend to my Queen Luna" He murmured then winked at me before walking away and I couldn't help but notice how similar Damon is to his father. I smiled slightly then walked away. When I walked out of their mansion, I found Damon waiting for me at the foot of the stairs. "You have been waiting?" I questioned as I walked up to him. He turned to me and a smile appeared on his face before he opened his arms and I immediately ran into it. "Yes" He uttered dimply before placing a kiss on my forehead. "Why didn't you come in? Your mother would have been happy to see you" I murmured and he frowned before scratching the back of his neck. "I'm not good with sappy stuff so i'd rather wait out here for you. Enough of that, I want to take you out on a date tonight" He murmured and I furrowed my eyebrows. "Oh? Why all of a sudden? Because you found out I can make medicine?" I joked and he rolled his eyes at me. "Because tomorrow, we'll start planning our wedding. You'll go shopping for your wedding gown. I want to make you my Luna as soon as possible so i want to go one last day with you as my contracted wile" He murmured as he pushed my hair behind my ear and my eyes widened before I let out a piggle. "You can't wait to wed me again huh?" I murmured and he pulled me close and slammed his lips on mine. "I can't wait to call you my Luna and I cannot wait for our honeymoon" I murmured and I giggled before letting him carry me back to the 12:10 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 101 mansion.. M Delilah came to my room later to help me get ready for the date and she updated me on everything that has been going on between her and Luca without me even asking. "He said he'll try to talk to Damon but knowing my brother, he's going to make things difficult for us" She murmured then plopped down on the bed.

"Do you want me to talk to Damon? I'm sure I can talk some sense into him. I don't think it's right for him to control Luca that way. Heck, he should even be happy Luca and you are in love because he trusts Luca the most" I uttered. "Right? My brother is unbelievable sometimes. He's so pig-headed, I don't think even you can change his mind and even if you can, I don't want you to. I want Luca to fight for us, that's the only way he can show how serious he is about me. I just hope I don't get heartbroken again Anyway, what are you going to wear?" She questioned as she stood up from the bed and walked into the closet. Damon had given us space because he said he wanted to be surprised when he saw me. I wonder where he was at the moment. Delilah picked out a green sparkly short gown that complimented my eyes. Green wasn't my favorite color but the dress on me was starting to change my mind about that. After that, Delilah helped me with my hair and makeup and by the time she was done, like always, I couldn't recognize myself. "You did a better job than those professionals if I'm being honest I murmured as I couldn't stop staring at myself. I wasn't saying the professionals own wasn't good but Delilah's own looked more natural. "Well I am perfect in every way, you don't have to tell me. Let's go down so I can get Damon's expression on camera" She murmured then wiggled her phone at me and I chuckled. She led me out of the room and I took a deep breath as we walked down the stairs, knowing fully well that Damon was waiting for me at the foot of the stairs. As soon as my eyes met his, we both held our breath at the same time. He looked absolutely dashing in his outfit and his laid back hair. How could one be so handsome? He reached out a hand to me and I immediately took it. "If this is how beautiful you're going to look on our wedding day then I might as well marry you tonight" He murmured and I giggled. "I can guarantee you that I would look better than this on our wedding night" i murmured seductively and a low growl escaped his lips making me know he approved of my words.

I was just about to say something when a female voice uttered from behind. "Damon?" She called out and I saw Damon freeze with his eyes wide. He slowly turned around and at that moment, I was able to see the owner of the voice and damn, she had to be the most beautiful girl I had ever seen. Her blond hair flowed down to her waist and her blue eyes were so bright and unreal. She was wearing a loose gown but even they couldn't hide how curvy she was. She was absolutely breathtaking. "A. Alicia?" He called out her name in shock and a bright smile immediately appeared on her beautiful face. She threw the luggage she was holding and ran towards us. I stood there frozen as she jumped into Damon's arms and hugged him tightly.

Chapter 101 "I've missed you so much" She murmured and a growl escaped my throat before I could stop it. My wolf didn't like her one bit...

Chapter 102 -CLARA- Hearing my grow, Damon immediately detached himself from the girl and turned to me with guilt in his eyes like he had done something I just smiled at him then turned back to the girl who was glancing between us with a frown on her face. "What are you doing here Alicia?" Delilah was the one who asked. "I came back for Damon but it seems he has moved on" She murmured and as soon as she said that, Her eyes rolled to the back of her head and she stumbled on her feet Damon was last on his and was able to catch her before she fell to the ground. "Get the doctor, Luca" He ordered, then carried Alicia in his arms and took her to one of the empty rooms downstairs. I was about to follow them into the room but Delilah pulled me aside. "What are you doing?" I questioned and she sighed. "You know who she is right? She's the girl my brothers fought over" She pointed and I rolled my eyes. Obviously I had figured that part out. "And I questioned, not able to keep the irritation out of my voice. "She's obsessed with Damon so you should be careful around her. She seems nice but personally, I think she's a bh" She muttered. "And that's why I need to be in there with them" I muttered before yanking my hand out of her grip and walking into the room. The doctor came in after me and did a check up on her. Meanwhile, I made sure to hold onto Damon's hand arm tightly and he must have noticed my growing possessiveness because he reached down and placed a kiss on my lips. "I love you" He murmured and I smiled before saying it back. The doctor said Alicia was fine and must have fainted due to exhaustion.

"Aren't we going on our date anymore?" I questioned and before Damon could say a word, Alicia weakly called out his name. "Damon" She murmured and he turned towards her and I was happy he was still holding onto me. "Why did you come back here?" He questioned in his usual cold tone and she frowned. "I thought you'd be happy to see me because I'm very happy to see you even though you have another woman by your side" She murmured and I frowned. "She's not just any woman. This is Clara, my wife and mate" He told her and a proud smile appeared on my face while she had a shocked expression on her face. "Wide? you married her?" She questioned and he rolled his eyes. "Why are you back here?" He asked again and she sighed. "I caught a deadly disease, Damon and I've looked everywhere for the perfect herbs to use but the disease keeps coming back because I can't find the night herbs because they are rare but your father has all the rare herbs I could think of so I came here to concoct medicine for me" She uttered and I suddenly felt bad for judging her. She just came here to heal herself. "You do know everyone thinks you're dead right? How did you even get in here?" Damon questioned. "I felt bad for running away knowing I was treating your mother so I sent a letter to your father explaining everything to him. Why do you think he let your brother go so easily? I knew I was going to be back so I didn't want any bad blood between me and him. As for everyone else, well they can think whatever they want" She murmured and we all just stared at her. Me for one didn't know how to react to her arrival. Even though Damon told me he never loved her, I just couldn't shake off the fact that she had once been his best friend, his confidant. My heart wrenched with jealousy but I tried not to let it show.

"my father knew of your arrival?" Damon questioned and she nodded. "He wanted to take me to the pack house but I wanted to see you first. You still look as handsome as ever” She murmured and my fingers tightened around his. “Give her a room here to sleep for the night but find her a house tomorrow, she can’t stay here” He ordered and she frowned. “But why? We used to stay here together all the time in the past She murmured and I frowned. I didn’t know if she was saying that just to rile me up but if she was, it was definitely working. “Well I’m married now and this is my matrimonial home. Rest now, tomorrow we’ll talk” He muttered then took my hand and walked out of the room despite her calling out for him. As soon as we walked out of the room, he turned to me and grabbed his hand. “I’m sorry Clara, we were supposed to be on a date.” He murmured and I smiled slightly. “No worries, we can always go next time I murmured and he sighed before placing a kiss on my lips. “We’ll still start planning the wedding tomorrow okay? Her being here doesn’t change anything. You know that right?” He questioned and I nodded. He pulled me into his arms and I let out a contented sigh. After discussing a few things with Luca, Damon and I went back up to our room to freshen up. I was pretty upset we didn’t get to go on our date anymore and I guess Damon noticed because he wouldn’t stop hovering around me and placing random kisses on my face. He pulled me into bed and I placed my head on his chest, listening to his heart beat. “You don’t have to be worried about Alicia. She’s nice and she knows I’m with you so she’s going to back off, okay? Even if she doesn’t, I’m your husband and nothing is going to change that” He murmured and I smiled as he placed a kiss on my lips. His words gave me little reassurance but that soon faded because when I woke up the next morning, Damon wasn’t by my side.

Chapter 103 -CLARA- 59% All the sleep immediately disappeared as I jumped out of the bed and traced that sound of Alicia’s laughter. I walked down the stairs and straight to the living room where they were. I stood by the door and watched as Alicia laughed to goddess knows what was funny while Damon just stood there staring at her. Like I expected, he immediately noticed my presence. “Clara, you’re awake” He uttered and I pushed myself off the door frame and walked towards him. I gave Alicia a curt nod before turning to him with a frown. “Why did you leave without waking me up?” I questioned and he sighed. *Because you barely got any sleep last night so I didn’t want to disturb you and Alicia wanted to talk so I just decided to talk to her and ask her a few questions. Don’t be mad, okay?” He murmured and I sighed before nodding. I couldn’t be mad at him because technically he wasn’t doing anything wrong... yet. “Sorry I stole Damon away, I just wanted to catch up with him. We have a lot of years to catch up on so I thought I’d start early” She murmured and I frowned. What did she mean by stole him away? “That’s enough. Go get ready, I’ll be taking you to my father’s mansion so he can properly see you and authorize your stay back here” Damon uttered then grabbed my hand and led me away before I could say anything I turned around and Alicia had a big frown on her face. *Do you want to go on a date tonight or do you want to go wedding dress shopping with Delilah?” He questioned, turning my attention to him “You still want to get married?” I questioned and he paused before turning to me with a frown.

“Of course, why would you even ask that?” He questioned and I sighed. Because I was getting insecure. Alicia practically looked like a goddess while I was sure I looked ordinary compared to her. When I didn't reply, Damon sighed then grabbed onto my face. "We are already married, you're already my wife. I just want to give a proper wedding before I make you my Luna, okay? Nothing is going to change that. I love you" He assured me and I smiled before nodding "I love you" He sighed then wrapped his arms around me. "She just came, why are you so bothered about her?" He questioned and I too wanted to know why since she hasn't made a move on him yet but I knew it was coming. I just didn't want to give her a chance to be with him alone. Damon took me back to our room and we showered together which like always turned into hot sex. After we were done, we got dressed and went downstairs for breakfast. When we walked into the dining room, I was taken back when I saw Alicia there and not only that but she was seated on my seat which was next to Damon's. "You guys are finally here, I'm starving. It seems the cooks made my favourite. Come sit down let me feed you" She murmured and frowned. 12:10 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 103 M *You can't feed him, I'm his wife and I'll feed him. Plus you're sitting on my seat" I muttered and she frowned. "I was here way before you were and this is where I always sat so technically, you're inu spot" She uttered and I clenched my fist. "That's enough. Let's just eat, you still need to give my mother medicine right?" Damon questioned and I sighed then nodded. "Medicine? Your mother relapsed?" She questioned as we took our seat at the smirk appeared on mine.

other end of the table. A frown appeared on her lips while I didn't care if I was being salty, Damon was mine now and she needed to see that. "Yes, Clara has been treating her. She's very good at making medicine" He murmured then glanced down at me proudly and I smiled. "What? You're letting her treat your mother? Does she even know the right herbs to mix to help with her disease?" Alicia asked and frowned. "I was a healer back at my pack so I know what I'm doing" I murmured and she scoffed. "You know what, I'm back now and I'll continue treating your mother. She should be better in no time" Alicia uttered. "Clara is already treating her and is doing a good job so no need. My mother is already getting better" Damon uttered before I could say a word and I smiled. I was happy he was defending me against Alicia. She seemed surprised by his words but nevertheless said nothing else after that. That had to be the most awkward breakfast I had ever had. Alicia kept trying to engage Damon in conversation and make him reminisce on their past but Damon wasn't interested so he just gave her one word answers and tried talking to me instead but she'll talk over me before! even got a chance to speak. Fortunately, it was soon over and luckily, Damon had Alicia in a separate car from ours. "Give her time to adjust to the idea that I'm happy with you, okay? I have a feeling that the two of you are going to be good friends" He murmured and I scoffed. I highly doubted that. We got to his parents' mansion and his father was waiting outside for us. "Father!" I heard Alicia yell as she ran up to Damon's father and threw her arms around him. He hugged her back and let out a chuckle before pulling back to stare at her. "My my, you have grown a lot Alicia. Have you been well? He questioned and she nodded enthusiastically. "I've missed you and mother so much. Is she awake? I'd like to see her" She uttered and he nodded, "Yeah she's awake and she's expecting you" He uttered and she squealed before interlocking her arm with his "Good let's go see her then" She uttered then pulled him into the house while we stood there watching. Father? Mother? Yeah I didn't have a good relationship with Damon's parents because of everything that has happened between us still, jealousy gnawed at my soul seeing how close she was to them. I don't know but now why but deep down, I felt something bad was about to happen... 12:11 Tue, 2 Jul

Chapter 104 -DAMON- 59% I knew Alicia's presence was bugging Clara and I had no idea why. Couldn't she see that I only had eyes for her? I didn't know what else to do and I couldn't ask Alicia to leave because my parents loved her and actually saw her like a second daughter. I know how devastated they were when she was pronounced dead. I didn't want to admit it but I was glad Alicia was back too. She had been like a best friend to me and it felt great to know she had been okay all these years. I knew she and Clara could get along if they pushed aside their differences. I grabbed onto Clara's hand and placed a kiss on her cheek. "You have nothing to worry about. My parents may not show it often but they love you" I murmured. I didn't need to see to know how jealous she was because of the attention Alicia was getting from my parents. I didn't know if Clara knew this but I could feel all her emotions and I didn't know what else to do but assure her at this point. She smiled up at me then leaned into my arms as we watched Alicia interact with my parents. "I'm just glad you're okay dear. We were so worried about you but now you're back and look how lovely you look" My mother complimented and Alicia giggled. "Thank you mother. A very nice family took me in in the human territory so that's where I've been. Anyway, I heard you relapsed, are you okay? Do you feel any pain?" Alicia murmured worried as she placed the back of her palm on my mother's forehead, "I'm okay. Clara has been treating me and she's doing a great job" My mother murmured and I glanced down at Clara and smiled when I saw the smile on her face. "Oh it seems she is but don't you think I should just continue treating you? I'm the one that knows your disease best" Alicia uttered and Clara's smile was immediately replaced with a frown which made me frown but before I could say anything, my mother uttered. "Thank you Alicia but my daughter in law is doing a very good job. I feel so much better and she just started yesterday. By the way dear, aren't you here to give me my medicine?" My mother questioned, turning her attention to Clara. Clara was seemingly taken aback by what my mother did but nevertheless she smiled and nodded before detaching herself from my side and walking towards my mother and I had to admit, I missed her warmth. Fuck, what this girl was doing to me was illegal Alicia had to get up from the bed so Clara could sit down and she immediately came to stand beside me. She tried engaging me in a conversation but I couldn't hear her because my eyes were glued on my wife. "Today's medicine is going to be bitter, okay?" Clara murmured softly and my mother sighed then nodded. She grimaced as Clara fed her the medicine. "That's the worst thing I have ever tasted?" My mother uttered then reached out for my father who immediately came running to her. He placed a kiss on her forehead then gave her water. I never used to understand why my parents were so obsessed with one another even after being together for years. I knew being mates played a role in it but being with Clara has shown me that it's more than just a mate bond. I was desperately in love with my wife. 12:11 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 104 "The more bitter it is, the more effective the medicine is. Tonight's own won't be as bitter, don't worry" Clara uttered as she slowly stood up from the bed. I immediately walked up to her and pulled her into my embrace, purring at how well her body fitted into mine. "Good job" I murmured then placed a kiss on her lips and she smiled. owns © this.

Soon after, we said goodbye to our parents. "So can take my wife on a date tonight?" I questioned and she made a thinking face. "Only if you get to sing for me again" She murmured and I chuckled. "It's a deal" I uttered as we walked out of the house. "Damon, I'll like to speak with you" Clara and I turned around and found Alicia behind us. I glanced down at Clara and when I saw the hesitation on her face, I was about to tell Alicia no when Clara spoke. "I'll be waiting for you in the car. Be quick" She murmured then stood on her toes and placed a kiss on my lips before walking away. As soon as she was gone, I turned to Alicia. "What is it?" I questioned and she frowned. "You don't have to be so cold towards me, Damon. Did I wrong you? We were on good terms before I left. I tried reaching you several times but..." "I can't do this with you, Alicia. My wife is waiting for me and I've tried so hard to get us to where we are not and I won't let anything ruin this for me. We are on good terms but I'm not the Damon you once knew" I uttered and was about to walk away when she spoke. "You love her that much huh? Everything we went through in the past means nothing to you because you seem too happy to throw that all away. I never stopped thinking about you Damon and now that I think about it, I regret leaving because if I hadn't left, you wouldn't be with her" She murmured and I sighed. "Alicia I'm not having this conversation with you" I muttered and tried walking away when she spoke again. "Please don't go. I promise I'm not going to make any move on you anymore but at least can we be friends? I missed how close we used to be and I know we cannot be lovers anymore but I can still be your friend right? I'm more than willing to be Clara's friend too if she'd let me" She uttered and I stared at her for a while then nodded.

"Sure we can be friends and I'm sure you'll get along with Clara and I would really like it if you do. I have to go now" I muttered then turned around and walked away despite her calling me back. I was away from Clara for too long. It was almost like her body had a magnetic pull with mine. As soon as I got into the car, I pulled her on top of my lap and buried my nose in her neck, inhaling her scent. My whole body immediately shivered with desire. She was going to be the death of me. "Are you ok ay?" She questioned softly. "Never been better."

Chapter 105 DELILAH- Since Damon was so tangled up with the arrival of Alicia, Luca had been spending more and more time with me and goddess, I loved every second of it. Not only did I love his company but the sex, the sex was heavenly. We had pretty much had sex on every corner of my house. I even had to give the cleaners and cooks a day off because we had scarred them enough. I whined slightly as Luca got off me and he chuckled as he pulled me close then placed a kiss on my cheek. "Aren't you tired?" He questioned and I shook my head before pressing my body against his firmly. "I can never get tired of you besides it's only a matter of time before you leave again. Have you been able to talk to Damon about us?" I questioned and he sighed then shook his head. "He has been so busy worrying about Clara that I haven't had a chance to even speak with him. They're going on a date tonight and I think he plans on spending the day with her tomorrow" He murmured and I scoffed. "So he can abandon you and be with his girl but you can't? He's unbelievable" I murmured and Luca chuckled before placing a kiss on my lips. "You used to dote on your brother. I remember you almost fought me one time because I called your brother's jerk so what changed?" He questioned and I pouted. "I still love him and I will still go to war for my brother but now I'm not so blinded by my love for him and can admit that what he does most of the time is wrong. I think I started realizing this after the way he treated Clara and now he's restricting you from dating me which is the height of it all" I uttered and he sighed. "Your brother is very protective of those he cares about and you are one of those people" He mentioned.

are you. Heck you're the person he trusts the most so I still don't see why he won't let us be together" I murmured and he sighed then pulled me even closer. "Let's not think about that now. Even if we cannot spend time outside your house or my house together then we might as well have our first date here, what do you think?" He questioned but before I could answer, his phone started ringing from the night stand. We both turned to it and our eyes at the same time when we saw the caller ID. Why was Damon calling? I reached out for the phone since I was the closest then handed it to Luca. "Alpha," Luca greeted formally. "Meet me at Delilah's house. I need you guy's help" Damon uttered and my eyes widened. "Erm when?" Luca questioned and that minute, we heard the door open up downstairs followed by Damon's voice. "I'm already in Delilah's house. Be quick" Then Damon ended the call Luca immediately detached himself from me then got out of bed and began wearing his clothes. I jumped out of bed as well and wore my clothes before turning to Luca with a sigh He could see the frustration on my face so he walked up to me to place a swift kiss on my lips. "It will be over soon, promise" He murmured and at that minute, Damon yelled my name again then we heard his footsteps climbing up the stairs. 12:11 Tue, 2 Jul MM. Chapter 105 Luca and I immediately walked out of my room and met Damon halfway. 59% "Damon, haven't I told you now to barge into my house unannounced?" I uttered, trying to deviate the situation but Damon just narrowed his eyes at us. "Why are you here, Luca?" He questioned and I turned to Luca thinking he was going to have a panicked look on his face but he remained calm.

"Delilah needed someone to fix her sink pipe in her bathroom and she called me to help" He immediately said without a stutter and I was stunned by how fast he was able to think of a lie. "And a plumber couldn't handle that?" Damon questioned and I scoffed. "Why should I call a plumber when I know Luca can do it and he lives down the street?" I questioned and I could see that Damon wasn't totally buying our explanation. "Anyway, what did you need our help with?" Luca uttered, deviating the situation. "I need you to start looking for a location for my real marriage with Clara and start planning it. She said she wanted it big so the hall should be as big as possible. Get the best interior designer you can find, I want the wedding to be as perfect as it can be” He ordered and Luca nodded. “Okay Alpha” “What about me? What do you need my help for? I would have loved to decorate the hall. Can I do it please?” I pleaded. “No, you have to follow Dahlia to go wedding gown shopping. I would have gone with her but I heard it’s bad luck to see the wedding dress before the wedding” He uttered and I nodded. “It is” “So you’ll go with her and provide everything she would need” He uttered and I nodded with a salute. “Copy sir. I’ll plan a bachelorette party as well so she can explore before she marries you again” I joked but the look on his face showed he was clearly not amused so I just chuckled nervously and had to admit that I was joking. “I’m going on a date with Clara tonight and probably tomorrow so clear out my...” Before he could complete his sentence, his eyes suddenly darkened and I knew someone was mind linking him. “For fuck sake” He muttered as his eyes turned back to normal. “What happened?” Luca questioned. “Apparently Alicia ate poison and is currently in this hospital. I have to go see her” He uttered then walked away and I was about to go after him when Luca grabbed my hand. “What is it?” I questioned and when I turned around, he had a frown on his face. “Damon knows” He uttered and I furrowed my eyebrows. “Knows what?” I questioned. “That we had sex. Our scent is potent with sex and he is very pd about it...

Chapter 106 – Π I packaged the large batch of cookies then turned to smile at the cook. “Sorry for invading your space. I’ve just been craving this” I murmured and she smiled at me. “It’s nothing ma’am. If you don’t mind, I’ll clean up now” She uttered and I nodded at her before walking out of the kitchen, reminding myself to tell Damon to have some of the cookies. As soon as I walked out of the kitchen, I glanced at the wall clock and a frown appeared on my face. It was getting late and Damon wasn’t back yet. Maybe he was planning a surprise. I didn’t know what to expect with him anymore. After I was satisfied with how I looked in the mirror, I glanced at the time again I decided to get ready with the time I spent waiting for him. After and It was getting really late. Where was he for crying out loud? I tried mind linking him but for some reason, I couldn’t get through to him so I tried calling him but still no answer. After a while I decided to calm down and wait for him. Who knows maybe he was really busy. Only the goddess knew how many hours had passed and how many times I tried reaching Damon but no answer. I decided to call Luca instead since he would surely know what was holding Damon up. “Hello Clara, is something wrong?” He questioned after picking up immediately “For some reason I can’t seem to reach Damon. We were supposed to go on a date tonight but he hasn’t gotten back and I’m starting to worry. Is he close by? Can you hand him the phone? I would like to talk to him” I murmured and Luca was quiet for a while before he let out a sigh. “I thought he told you” Luca uttered and I frowned.

“Told me what?” “Alicia apparently got food poisoning and he has been with her in the hospital. I thought he told you” As soon as Luca said that, my heart sank. He had stood me up because of Alicia? “Oh okay, thank you” I murmured. “I can go give him the phone if you want. Don't be mad at him, Alicia is probably the one holding him back. He must have forgotten... "About me, about our date? At least now I know where I stand. Goodnight Luca" I uttered then hung up and sat down on the bed for a while and I tried calming myself. He had promised not to make me cry anymore and yet here I was, I was sick of it. I immediately got out of the clothes, wiped off the makeup and got into the shower. I didn't know how long I stood there just feeling sorry for myself but I only snapped out of it when I felt Damon's presence behind me. "My love I'm sorry" He uttered but I ignored him and turned off the shower then walked out of the shower and grabbed a towel. "Baby, will you listen to me please?" Damon pleaded as he followed me around from behind, I ignored him as I walked into the closet, got dressed and walked out and towards the bed with him still following me around. 12:11 Tue, 2 Jul M M Chapter 106 59% A "Please don't be mad, I lost track of time. I never meant to stand you up, you know that right?" He questioned and I resisted the urge to scoff. He had no idea that his words were making things worse. "How is Alicia? I hope she's better?" I questioned nonchalantly and he pursed his lips. "She's better. The food poisoning was really serious. Clara, can I ask you a question? Promise not to be mad about it?" He questioned and when I didn't reply, he sighed. "Alicia told me she came over the house to him with disbelief written on my face. to see me and you offered her cookies, is that true?" He asked and I literally paused before turning "You better be joking. Are you trying to blame me for her food poisoning?" I questioned and his eyes grew frantic "No Clara, I..." "She came to the house looking for you, yes and you were the one who said you wanted us to be close so I tried to make an effort by offering her a cookie that I and the cook ate by the way and now you're accusing me of poisoning her?" I questioned and he frowned and tried to reach out for me but I slapped his hand away and stood up. "I'll be sleeping in another room. You should probably go back to the hospital and watch over your precious Alicia" muttered then turned my back on him and was about to walk away when he hugged me from behind... "I was wrong, I'm sorry. Please don't go, I don't even know why I asked you that. Of course you'd never try to hurt her. I'm sorry, don't be mad at me" He murmured and I could hear the plea in his voice but I was done with this. "Sorry won't cut it this time so please let me go" I murmured but his hold on me just tightened. "Clara..." "Please don't say anything, you're only going to make me angrier, I'll be in the other room" i murmured as I used all my strength to detach myself from him. "Clara please I'm sorry" He murmured behind me and I stopped in my steps. you care that much about her and if you still have feelings for her then tell me instead of hurting me this way" I murmured then hurriedly walked out of the room before he could say anything else, I walked towards the room they had been given to me when I first got here and decided to sleep there for the night. I tried my best to hold in my tears but as soon as I got into bed, the tears began flowing down my cheeks before I could stop them. I I was so attached to Damon's presence that I knew I wasn't going to get any sleep tonight without him by my side. It didn't take long before I heard the room door open. I didn't move an inch as Damon walked towards the bed and climbed in, pulling me closer to him. "I love you so much, Clara" He murmured then placed a kiss on the back of my head. I closed my eyes and silently cried, feeling sorry for myself. I couldn't even be angry at him for five seconds. I was so weak around him and i knew that was going to be a problem sooner or later...

-DAMON-

I was so afraid to leave Clara's side that I held onto her so tightly throughout the night and didn't sleep a wink..

Something must be wrong with me. Why had I even asked her that? Even though Clara could get hot headed sometimes, she would never try to kill anyone.

Even if she did, I didn't ask her because I was trying to scold her and protect Alicia, I just wanted to know. If she was so bothered by Alicia's presence then Alicia had to leave.

relationship with Clara was already on shaky grounds and I couldn't afford to let Alicia ruin what I was working so hard on.

"Damon, can you let go? I want to pee" I suddenly heard Clara's voice. She slowly turned to me to make sure I had heard her and i couldn't help but place a kiss on her lips.

I didn't know why I wasn't getting this right, I didn't know why I kept making her sad. I was seriously trying my best to be better, to show her how much I loved and cared for her.

"Be patient with me, Clara, Please?" I murmured against her lips and she frowned.

"Can you just let me pee? I don't want to pee on the bed!" She whined and I sighed before letting her go.

She scurried off to the bathroom and I slowly sat up, waiting for her. I wasn't good with this whole couples talk but Clara and I needed this talk.

I waited for her and some seconds later, she walked out from the toilet and stood by the door, staring at me with caution.

"Can we talk please?" I murmured and she frowned.

“No Clara, I’m sorry I even asked you that question. Can we just talk please?” I questioned and she stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh.

*Fine but be quick, I have to go give your mother her medicine” She muttered as she walked up to the bed and sat down next to me.

We were both quiet for a while till I grabbed onto her hand and gave it a little squeeze.

“Do you want me to send Alicia away?” I questioned and she huffed before turning away.

“Can you please explain how you feel to me? I won’t be able to know how you feel unless you tell me how you feel. You are my wife, you should be able to tell me anything” I murmured and she sighed.

“It’s not about me telling you how I feel, are you going to listen? Are you going to validate my feelings?” She questioned and I frowned.

“Of course I am” | uttered and she scoffed and was about to turn away but my hold on her face was strong.

“Listen to me, Clara. You matter the most to me in this world and I’m dead serious. Fil always listen to you and validate your feelings so please, talk to me I murmured and she pouted and I could see the tears gathering in her eyes.

Chapter 107

“I don’t want you being close to her, I don’t want you talking to her, I don’t want you laughing with her, I just want you to be mine. You cannot be friends with her and I know that’s selfish of me since she probably knows more than I do but I’m a selfish person when it comes to you. I don’t want you being close with her” She revealed and with every word she said, she cried harder.

I immediately grabbed her and placed her on top of my lap then hugged her tightly.

“Do you know how I feel when I see her with you? I know the top of you have history together and it hurts more than anything to see you Laugh and be so friendly with her. You belong to me, you should only laugh and be friendly with me” She murmured and I chuckled before peppering her face with kisses.

“Yes I belong to you and only you so your wish is my command. I’ll smile, laugh and be friendly with only you so don’t cry anymore, I want you to smile” I murmured as I kissed away her tears and she sighed.

“I see you smile at her, I will be very pissed” She uttered and I grinned.

“I promise I will not even look in her direction ever again. I love you” I murmured then placed a kiss on her lips and she immediately leaned into me.

She stayed in that position for a while till she said she had to go give my mother her medicine.

After a hot shower sex, we had our bath,

To say I was shocked to see Alicia there was an understatement. I had left her at the hospital yesterday.

As soon as she saw me, her eyes widened and she came running with wide arms.

“Damon” She called out but I side stepped her and didn’t even spare her a glance as I turned to Clara.

“Shall we go meet my mother now? I questioned and she smiled then nodded. I smiled back at her then grabbed her hand and led her up to my mother’s room after she greeted my father.

She was beaming v good mood now.

After she was done treating my mother, we said our goodbyes and left the room only to find Alicia waiting for us in the hallway.

I glanced at Clara and was about to walk past Alicia when she jumped in front of me with her arms wide.

“Why are you ignoring me? Did I do something wrong? Is it because I said I got sick after Clara gave me a cookie? I didn’t mean anything by

I I it so please, please stop ignoring me” Alicia begged and I glared down at her.

“Get out of my way now” I muttered through clenched teeth but when she didn’t move, I pushed her away and she dramatically fell to the floor and walked in pain.

Clara stared at me with wide eyes, probably expecting me to go to Alicia but I just tightened my hold on her hand and dragged her away while Alicia screamed for me.

As we walked out of the house, she wrapped her arms around me and snuggled into my chest.

“I love you” She murmured and I smiled.

CHAPTER 108

Chapter 108 -CLARA- 59% My day couldn’t get any better. Damon took me out on not just any date but a yacht date. It was so fancy yet romantic. I didn’t even know he owned a yacht. After our spectacular date, we came back home and had the one of the best sex we have had in a while. It felt like a promise from him to me. He was promising me that he was going to change for the better and was promising to make me happy. I didn’t know how long my happiness was going to last but as I laid in his arms, his body heat warming up my bare back, all I could think about was how much I loved this man.. He scooted closer to me and I giggled when he buried his nose on my neck. I could feel how hard he was already. “You don’t know how much I want to be glued to you” He murmured and I giggled before turning around so I was facing him. “Me too. When would I be addressed as your Luna?” I questioned and he placed a kiss on my lips, “Tomorrow I have a very important meeting to attend to, so how about the next day? It seems I’d have to make you my Luna first before marrying you again because you’re already my wife and nothing can change that” He murmured and I smiled at him before wrapping my arms around his shoulders night to end because as much as Damon TWE talked about anything and everything that night, just living in the moment. I didn’t want that. He promised to make me happy, I could feel a greater storm coming. just fin thoped we’d be able to survive it. It didn’t take long before I fell asleep and by the time I woke up, I couldn’t feel Damon beside me anymore. I slowly opened my eyes and a frown appeared on my face when I didn’t see him lying beside me. I sat up slowly and was about to call out his name when I saw him standing in front of the mirror fully dressed. He was wearing a navy blue suit and his hair was slicked back with a few strands falling over his face. He smelt. I took my time to admire how good he looked and how delicious he “Good morning dear wife, do you like what you see?” He questioned without turning to me but I could hear the smugness in his voice. “I always like what I see” I replied and he chuckled before turning to me and goddess, I still couldn’t believe this hunk of a man was my husband. He walked towards me and I immediately opened my arms wide. He chuckled then climbed into the bed and hugged me tightly. “You are so sy baby, I wish I could just say in your arms like this and I have you whenever I want” He murmured and I moaned because of how good that sounded. “You don’t have to wish, stay here with me I murmured with a pout and he sighed. “I really wish I could but I’ve been postponing this meeting for too long. I promise I won’t take time and would be back in your arms before you know it” He murmured and with the way he was holding me, I knew he really didn’t want to leave.

It was so surprising that no matter how many times we have sex or how long we stayed with each other, it just made our hunger for one another worse. “Okay but you can’t take too long okay? I’ll be waiting here for you” I murmured and he smiled before pulling back and crashing his lips on mine. I kissed him back with the sand amount of hunger and hknobdgwb grinding against his already hardened dk. “Baby please” He pleaded then let out a strained groan I reluctantly pulled away from him and he sighed as he pulled away as well. “I’ll be back before you know it okay baby” He murmured and I nodded with a pout then sighed as he walked out of the room, closing the door behind him. I was about to shed a tear when he barged into the room while removing his tie “The meeting can wait for a few more minutes, I need to taste you” He uttered hurriedly and I giggled as he walked towards the bed and pounced on me Soon enough, Damon had to leave and like always, loneliness dawned on me. I had decided I was just going to lay in bed all day and wait for him when my phone rang I groaned slightly before reaching for the phone. “Hey Delilah” I murmured into the phone as soon as I picked up. “I miss Luca so much” She whined and I pouted. miss Damon too whined and we dramatically started crying. After we calmed down, Delilah suggested that it was better we wallow had a little girl’s date to get o agreed As soon as I got off the phone with Delilah, Damon called me. get our mind off the boys and I immediately “I’ve been trying to call you but y your line has been busy. I was starting to get worried” Damon uttered before I could complete my sentence and I smiled. was on the phone with Delilah, I miss you” I murmured and he sighed. “I miss you too. The meeting has started okay? I’ll be home before you know it. i can’t be on the phone during the meeting but I’ll keep texting you okay?” After that, he hung up and I got ready to go over to Delilah’s. Like he p promised, Damon immediately began sending me messages about how he couldn’t wait to be with me again. To say I was happy was an understatement. I was ecstatic I felt like I was walking on cloud nine. 2,3 12:12 Tue, 2 Jul M Chapter 108 I had finished dressing up and was about styling my hair when I heard a knock on the door. “Who is it?” I called out.” 59%。 “It’s Alicia, can I talk to you?” She questioned and I tensed slightly with a frown on my face. “I have nothing to say to you. You tried to insinuate that I had tried poisoning you so no, I don’t want to speak with you” I uttered. “I know and I just want to apologize so please, can we talk? I won’t leave till you talk to me” She uttered and I sighed. I thought over it then reluctantly walked over to the door and as soon as I opened the door, Alicia fell to her knees and my eyes widened. *Alicia what... "Please don't stop Damon from talking to me. I need him"..Original from .

CHAPTER 109

Chapter 109 ~CLARA- I reluctantly let Alicia inside the room after watching her cry for over a minute. We walked towards the table and sat there in silence for a while before she spoke; "My life has always been centered around Damon. Did you know he saved me from some rogues while we were younger?" She questioned and I shook my head. "Damon and I don't talk about you" I murmured and I knew my words were insensitive because she was already in a depressed mood but I needed her to know her place. Surprisingly, she just smiled sadly. "Yeah I didn't expect him to. Damon wasn't really one to show or talk about how he felt but I understood him and I still do" She murmured and I sighed. "What do you want, Alicia?" I questioned and she pursed her lips then turned to me. "I'm dying" She uttered and I scoffed. "You can't be serious right now. See if this is your way of trying to trick me..." "I'm not trying to trick you, Clara. Why do you think I came back in the first place? When I left, Damon asked me never to come back all the pack members had already mourned my death and I really wasn't going to come back but then I caught a very rare disease that has no cure and now, I have just some weeks or a month to live. As A healer, I tried everything and anything to heal myself but I still don't know what! have so I don't know what to do about it. All I can do is relieve myself of the pain" She murmured and I frowned. Could she really be telling the truth? As if she knew I was doubting her, she raised up her shirt and I gasped when I saw the dark glaring marks on her stomach. "It used to be just a dot but it's spreading rapidly now. When it reaches my heart, I'll die" She murmured and I frowned. So she was telling the truth after all.

"What do you want from Damon?" I questioned after a while and she smiled sadly. "Every night, I would sit out and stare at the sky, thinking of how it would be to feel loved and be taken care of by Damon. I know I can't ask him to love me anymore since he obviously loves you now but can he take care of me at least till I die?" She questioned and my frown deepened. Even though I felt pity towards her, I still didn't trust her in the slightest. Hell she had tried to insinuate that I poisoned her. "I know we didn't get off on good terms but this is all I ask of you. I just want his company, I just want my best friend back" She murmured and immediately began to cry. I sat there, shifting uncomfortably before placing my hand on her back. "That's okay, I'll speak with Damon" I murmured and she immediately stopped crying as she turned to me with wide eyes. "Seriously? Thank you so much!" She shrieked then threw her arms around me and hugged me tight. She left almost immediately while sat there for what felt like hours as I thought over what had just happened. Had I made the right choice 1/3 Chapter 109 by agreeing to let Damon be with her? Suddenly, I heard someone walk into the room. I didn't need to turn around to know that it was Damon. His presence immediately filled up the room. I immediately melted into his arms as he wrapped it around my body. "What are you thinking about? I called for you" He murmured then pressed his nose against my neck. "I was thinking about you" I murmured and he growled approvingly. "What a coincidence, I was thinking about you too. I missed you” He murmured as he placed kisses on my neck. “I missed you more. How was your meeting?” I questioned and he sighed. All rights © .

“It was insufferable. I wish you went with me, it would have been more fun. Luckily though, we were able to come to an agreement” He murmured and I nodded. “That’s good to hear” I murmured. We were silent for a while as he basked in each other’s presence and company. “Something is bothering you” He pointed out and I sighed. He knew me so well. “Can we talk?” I questioned and I felt his body tense up immediately. “I don’t like the sound of that” He murmured and I turned around slowly in his arms to stare at his face. I raised my hand and caressed his face lightly before placing a kiss on his lips. “Don’t worry, it’s nothing too...” Before I could complete my sentence, he smashed his lips on mine. He bit my lower lip slightly and as soon as I gasped, he plunged his tongue into my mouth. I moaned into his mouth as he gave my breast a little squeeze. Just when he was about to sneak his hand underneath my shirt, I stopped him. “Let’s talk first please” I murmured and he sighed. Without saying anything, he picked me up from my seat and took me to the bed before placing me down gently. Immediately, he sat down next to me and took a hold of my hand. “What do you want to talk about?” He questioned and I sighed before turning to him. “It’s about Alicia” I muttered and his eyes immediately darkened. “What happened? Did she say anything to you?” He questioned and I pursed my lips. “I want you to continue talking to her” I murmured and he stared at me in shock before it turned to confusion. “I don’t understand” He uttered and I sighed. “She’s sick, Damon. She said she has just a couple of weeks or a month to live and she wants you to be by her side to take care of her” I murmured and we were silent for a while. “Are you sure she’s sick?” He asked softly and I nodded. 08:17 Mon, 8 Jul Chapter 109

89% “I’m pretty sure she is. Look, I don’t want you near her but I’m willing to sacrifice my sanity over this. If she’s really sick then I wouldn’t mind you taking care of her. After all, she used to be one of the people you cared about... she may still be” I murmured and he grabbed onto my second hand, turning my body to him. “What I care about is you, not her. I only know how to take care of you” He murmured and I smiled before moving closer to him and placing my hand on his face. “You don’t have to take care of her then but if she comes to you, do not push her away again. Talk to her with kindness, see her as your sister” I murmured and his eyes narrowed. “I don’t like Delilah” He blurted out of nowhere and I giggled. “Deep down I know you do or you wouldn’t be so protective of her. Treat Alicia like a sister and keep in mind that she’s sick so you can not be rough with her okay?” I murmured and he stared at me so intently, I began to feel self conscious. “Is there something on my face?” I questioned and was about to wipe my face when he leaned down, placing his head on my shoulder. “You’re so perfect my love. What am I going to do with you?” He murmured and I smiled. “Make me your Luna tomorrow” I uttered. “Done”...

CHAPTER 110

Chapter 110 -CLARA- Damon's voice was the first thing I heard when I woke up the next morning. When I opened my eyes, he was pacing around the room with his phone pressed against his ear. "Invite everyone. If they can't come last minute then I don't really give a dn" He murmured and I furrowed my eyebrows. Who was he talking to? "Good morning" I greeted as I slowly sat up. He turned towards me with a smile then said goodbye to the person at the other end of the call before hanging up. "Good morning, Little devil" He murmured as he walked up to me and placed a kiss on my lips. "Little devil? It's been a while since you called me that. Who were you talking to on the phone?" I questioned as he sat down on the bed. "It was Luca. He has to send out invites to various packs so they can come for your title bearing" He informed me and I gasped. I hadn't expected that he was actually going to make me his Luna today. "But there are a lot of preparations and..." "Don't worry about that, my love. Everything is already being taken care of and by the time the full moon appears in the sky, everything should be ready. Everyone is helping out so you don't have to worry" He explained and I stared at him for a while before a smile appeared on my face. "So I'm officially going to be your Luna tonight?" I questioned softly and he nodded before reaching out and caressing my face. "Yes, then after that you and I will go on a little vacation. How does that sound?" He murmured and my smile brightened. Going on a vacation with Damon felt like a dream. We'll finally be away from all these drama even though it would be for just a little while. "I would love that," I replied. "Great. Now I want breakfast" He uttered then suddenly pounced on me and I shrieked as he placed kisses on my neck. "We have to go help out, Damon" I practically moaned out as he continued his sweet torture on my neck. "Do you want me to stop?" He questioned softly. "No" I replied simply and he chuckled. 1/3 08:49 Mon, 15 Jul Chapter 110 76% "Good, because I wasn't going to anyway" By the time we were done having our fill of each other, it was almost noon and my stomach was starting to grumble. We had our baths and decided to go out for lunch instead. I got into my comfy sweats and managed to convince Damon to match with me. He wore gray sweats and I wore a light pink one but as we walked out of the house, I instantly began to regret it because he looked too handsome in sweats. "What is it?" He questioned as we strolled towards the restaurant which was a private restaurant for the Donovans and important visitors. "I wished you were ugly. It would save me from wanting to rip out every girl's eyes that stare at you" as I glared hard at the women staring at him as we walked by and he chuckled. "How would you have fallen in love with me then?" He questioned and I frowned as I turned to him. "I didn't fall in love with you because of your looks, dummy. Your looks were just a bonus. Did you fall in love with me because I'm beautiful?" I questioned and he raised an eyebrow. "You're beautiful?" He teased and I huffed and tried storming away but he immediately wrapped his arms around my body and pulled me closer. "You're the most beautiful woman I've ever seen, Clara" He murmured then placed a kiss on my cheek. "But you didn't fall in love with me because of that right? You fell in love with me because of my character right?" I questioned and he shook his head. "I fell in love with you because of your smart mouth. Any time you cussed at me, it turned me on" He responded then peppered my face with kisses which made me giggle. "Now let's go fill that stomach with food" He uttered as he pulled away and as soon as we turned around, we saw Alicia coming from a mile away with a smile on her face. "Damon" She called out happily as she ran towards him. Reflexively I tried pulling my hand out of his grip but he held onto my hand tightly and glared at me before interlocking our fingers. Alicia threw herself into his arms, hugging him tightly and he hugged her back with one hand while he stared directly at me. "I've missed you. Good morning, Clara" She greeted as she pulled away and smiled at me which was a good sign. At least she acknowledged my presence. "Good morning. How are you feeling?" I questioned and she smiled. "I took my medicine so I'm doing good for now especially now that Damon let me hug him. Can I talk to you for a second alone, Damon? I promise it won't be anything inappropriate" She murmured then glanced at me and I pursed my lips before slowly yanking my hand out of his grip. "Clara..." "I'll go look for Delilah. When you're done, you can come find me. Don't worry, I'm okay" I assured him then stood on my toes and placed a kiss on his cheek before walking away.

I walked as fast as I could and when I was sure I had placed a little distance between myself and them, I slowly turned around and a frown appeared on my face when I saw the smile on Damon's face as he patted Alicia's head. I immediately turned around and took a deep breath. I trusted Damon so there was no need for me to feel jealous. He loved me. I took a deep breath and was about to turn around and leave when I bumped into someone and almost lost my balance but the person immediately wrapped his arms around me, pulling me back up. "You should look where you're going, buttercup" The male deep silky voice sounded above me. "I'm sorry, I..." My words got lost in my throat as I glanced up. What in the world? The man standing in front of me looked almost identical to Damon. Damon's features were just more sharp and intense while his were soft but nonetheless, the resemblance was there. Was this... "Dimitri" I heard Damon growl behind me and I gasped. This was Damon's brother and he had his arm around my waist! "Hello brother" He greeted Damon before glancing down at me. "What a beautiful wife you have"... NOTE: Sorry for all the mixed up names and misspellings. They would be rectified and I wanted to point out that this Alicia isn't the same as his cousin. Originally, her name was supposed to be Aurora but I've already used Alicia so I'm going to keep using it but they are different people. Thank you!
