CHAPTER 111

Chapter 111 -CLARA- Before I could utter a word, Damon pulled me away from behind then landed a punch on Dimitri's jaw. "What the fk are you doing here?!" Damon growled and would have pounced on him if I wasn't holding on to him. "Damon!" I heard Delilah yell as she ran up to us and immediately helped Dimitri up from the ground. "You haven't lost your touch brother" Dimitri uttered then spat out blood before flashing Damon a smile which only seemed to make him angrier. Luckily Luca arrived and was able to hold Damon down with me. "Why is he here?!" Damon questioned as he turned to Delilah. "I know we have our differences but I'm your brother, Damon. You didn't think to tell me that you had gotten married to such a beautiful lady?" Dimitri said with a smirk and I frowned when my eyes met his. Why was he intentionally trying to pi Damon off? As if on cue, the Alpha King appeared and stood in front of Dimitri. "I gave him the permission to come, Damon" The Alpha King informed, earning a scoff from Damon. "And why in goddess' name would you do that? I specifically said he couldn't come back" He muttered through clenched teeth and my hold on him tightened. I knew he was this close to pouncing on not only Dimitri but the Alpha King as well. "You seem to be forgetting but I'm still the Alpha King till you assume the position so therefore, I don't have to go through you" The Alpha King replied, earning a threatening growl from Damon and everyone immediately shook with fear including the Alpha King which/surprised me.

"Look, your mother wanted to see him, I wanted to see him. He's our son as well and we know what he did was wrong..." Dimitri suddenly scoffed, interrupting the Alpha King's words. "I stayed away just like you asked and I won't have come back but I found out mother was sick so I had to come see her. When she's better, I'll get out of your hair alright?" Dimitri uttered with a bored tone as he wiped away blood on his mouth. Did you fg forget what you did? Aurora Is here and..." As soon as he said that, I glanced around a was nowhere to be seen.. 08:34 Wed, 17 Jul Chapter 111 "She's gone" I told Damon and he immediately glanced around. "St!" He muttered and I didn't miss the way Dimitri rolled his eyes. "I'll go look for her" I murmured as I detached myself from him. "Are you sure?" He questioned and I nodded. 99% +5 "Finish up here and you can come find us" I told him then placed a kiss on his cheek before running away to find her. I briefly turned around and could still see Damon arguing with them but luckily, Luca was still holding him down. I turned around and ran into the house, following Aurora's lingering scent. The maids told me she had gone upstairs and I didn't need to be told where she was. I walked into the room and the minute she saw me, a frown appeared on her face. "Are you okay?" I questioned but she ignored me and kept staring at the door which made me frown. I cleared my throat as I walked closer to her and sat down on the bed. "I know Dimitri's arrival might be triggering but..." Original from

"You do know we are not friends right?" She interrupted and my eyes widened slightly. "Excuse me?" "I don't like you because you stole my man" She revealed and I scoffed. Her man? "But I'm willing to tolerate it because Damon seems to like you so don't try to be buddies with me because I don't like you" She uttered and I was about to say something when Damon walked into the room. He was covered in dirt which made me believe he had thrown a few more punches at Dimitri after I left. "Damon!" Aurora cried out and I was shook when I saw her crying. The girl that had just been talking to me coldly now seemed so weak and fragile. She stood up from the bed and ran over to Damon, throwing herself in his arms. བ ་ ད ་ ག ་ མ ་ ་ ་ ་ ་ ་ His eyes immediately flew to me and I could see the panic in his eyes so I just smiled and nodded. He patted Aurora on the back slightly then pulled away. "Why is he here, Damon? What if he does it again? Can't he be sent away?" She cried and I almost began to feel sorry for her till I remembered how she had spoken to me earlier. 08:34 Wed, 17 Jul Chapter 111 99 "My mother wants him here but don't worry, He's not going to come close to you, okay? You don't have to be afraid of him" Damon assured her and at that moment, I realized how much he had changed. The Damon I first met would have been thrown off by her tears. "He came here because of me, I just know it. He's going to come for me again but if I'm close to you, he won't tr anything" She said and I frowned. "Let me stay here with you and Clara. I'm sure Clara won't mind right?" She questioned then turned to me and should have said no, I should have said I didn't want her anywhere near Damon but I found myself nodding befor

I realized it. "See? She doesn't mind" Aurora uttered as she turned to Damon and he stared down at her with a frown before turning to me. "She does mind and you can't stay here. This is my matrimonial home with Aurora and I don't intend on sharing it with you" He uttered and happiness swelled up in my heart. I smiled at him and he smiled back. "Ohh... can I at least be here during the day? I don't trust Dimitri. Please Damon" She pleaded and he sighed. "Okay. Now if you'll excuse me..." As he said that, he moved away from her and walked towards me. "I believe I'm owing you lunch, wife" He murmured then outstretched his hand and I smiled brightly. "I believe you are, husband" I responded as I placed my hand in his and stood up. Despite not looking at her, I could feel the sinister aura coming from Aurora and for some reason, I was starting to get scared... NOTE: I've changed her name back to Aurora and I know some of you are still seeing the mistakes but it takes time for the changes to reflect so please be patient with me. Things are about to get messy!

-CLARA-

After lunch, Damon had to leave to get everything ready for my ceremony. I had thought it was going to be postponed because of everything that was happening but luckily, it wasn't.

He drove me over to Delilah's house before leaving and Delilah and I have been searching for an outfit that I could wear.

Apparently, I was supposed to wear a white silk gown because it signifies being reborn but I didn't own a silk dress while Delilah owned thousands of silk dresses but not a white one.

"Ughhh! This is so frustrating. Damon had asked me to shop for a dress for you but I had been so busy with Luca that I had forgotten. He's going to kill me" Delilah mumbled as she paced around the room while I sat down on the bed watching her.

"Calm down, maybe we can hurriedly run to the shop and get something" I suggested and she glanced at the clock before letting out a sigh.

"Damon would already be here before we get back. He's coming to pick you up in an hour and half and oh!" She suddenly exclaimed as her eyes widened.

"What is it?" I questioned curiously and she squealed.

"Wait here, I know where to get a gown from. Don't move an inch okay?" Before I could reply, she ran out of the room and I sighed before glancing around.

The room was a mess so I decided to clean up while I waited for her.

Just as I was about to hang some of the clothes back in the closet, something glittering caught my eye. I should have ignored it but my curiosity was piqued.

I walked over to the drawer and as soon as I saw what it was, I let out a gasp. I knew this bracelet, it was the one Liam's father had given to his mother on their last anniversary together. She never took it off, not even when she was taking her bath.

I picked up the bracelet and I frowned. It was exactly the same and plus, it had their initials on it. What was going on here?

I grabbed the bracelet then went back to the room and sat on the bed and waited for Delilah to get back. I needed to know why this was with her. A few minutes later, she came back breathing heavily with a silk short gown in hand.

"Oh goddess, I almost got caught by Damon. Anyway, my mother let you borrow her silk white dress but we have to return it in one piece though so try to be extra careful with it, okay? Get up and go have a shower while I prepare everything" She uttered as she placed the gown on the bed.

"Why do you have this?" I questioned as I pulled out the bracelet and showed it to her. Her eyes widened slightly then she gasped.

"Oh goddess, I had totally forgotten about her!" She exclaimed and I frowned.

"What are you talking about? Forgotten about who?" I questioned and she bit her lower lip.

"Why don't we talk about this later? Damon will soon get here and..."

"Now Delilah. What is going on?" I questioned and she let out a sigh before telling me everything and I gasped. So Liam's mother has been in the dungeon since then? She was probably dead by now.

"With everything going on, we forgot about her but it doesn't matter anyway, we wanted her dead in the first place" Delilah mumbled and I glared at her.

"I can't believe this," I muttered. Yes, Liam's mother and I never got along and despite what she did, I'd rather never have anything else to do with that family but if she was dead... Liam was never going to let it go.

I didn't speak to Delilah after that and I knew they had done it for me but still.

She still talked to me like nothing was wrong though and informed me that her aunt had sent Alicia away to live with their distant cousin and that piqued my interest.

By the time she was done dressing me up, I looked like a whole different person which was always the case when Delilah dressed me up.

I stood up and glanced at myself in the mirror in awe. It was so surprising that the gown fit just right and goddess, it was so ethereal. Even though I wasn't talking to Delilah, I couldn't help but commend her on what she had done to me.

She dismissed herself to go get ready and in those few minutes, Damon arrived and I wanted to be mad at him but goddess, when I laid my eyes on him, all that anger disappeared.

"You look like a goddess, Clara" He called out as I walked down the stairs to meet him.

"You don't look so bad yourself" I replied as he walked up to me and it took all my will power to turn my head away when he tried to kiss me.

"Is something wrong?" He questioned and I turned to glare at him.

"What did you do to Liam's mother?" I questioned and realization dawned on him.

"Clara I..."

"We'll talk about it later. I don't want to ruin my mood. Are we leaving?" I questioned and he stared at me for a while then sighed before nodding. "Let's go. The moon will soon be full, you have to be ready" He murmured then grabbed my hand and I wanted to yank my hand out but that would be too much so I let him lead me towards the car while I used that opportunity to study him.

This has to be the first time I was seeing Damon in all white. The shirt was kind of see-through as I could see his tattoos underneath the shirt.

He opened the car door for me and I got in before he rounded the car and got in too.

"Has everyone arrived?" I questioned as the driver drove towards the venue.

"Not everyone came but it was last minute so it's understandable" He informed me and I nodded slowly then we went quiet.

"I never forgot about her in the dungeon if that's what you think. I had one of my men watch over her because she can't die unless she has apologized to you. I just didn't tell you because of everything going on" He revealed and I frowned.

"Has Liam tried to contact you?" I questioned and he nodded.

"Yes but I ignored him" He told me and I sighed. I knew Damon was far more stronger than Liam but that was his mother. Liam loved his mother more than anything.

"After the ceremony, I'd like to see her," I said and he immediately nodded.

"Okay. Now stop frowning and give me a kiss" He murmured then pulled me closer and placed a kiss on my cheek and I sighed before placing a kiss on his lips. I was weak against him.

We got to the venue and my nerves began to eat me up when I saw how many people were there. This wasn't everyone? Goddess!

Damon suddenly grabbed my hand and when I turned to him, he had an assuring smile on his face.

"You shouldn't be nervous when you look this beautiful, sweetheart" He uttered and I smiled at him before taking a deep breath.

"I didn't expect so many people" I admitted and he pulled me closer.

"Just keep your eyes on me and only me" He murmured then placed a kiss on my cheek and I instantly felt better.

We got out of the car and he walked me into a little room.

"Wait here, okay? I'll be back when it starts. Don't be nervous, okay?" He said then placed a kiss on my forehead and I nodded then watched as he walked away before letting out a sigh.

I glanced around and luckily, there was red wine available so I just poured a little for myself and was about to drink it when Aurora walked into the room and a frown appeared on my face when I saw her wearing a white gown.

"You must be feeling very happy,

right? I remember when Damon had promised to make me his Luna once. We had gotten everything ready just like this but it hadn't worked out because Dimitri sabotaged it. I hope you don't mind me wearing white, I wanted to réminisce on that day" She uttered while staring at me with innocent eyes but behind that innocence was a witch and I was done being nice to her. Content belongs to

I walked towards her and poured the red wine on her gown.

She jumped back with a gasp and then turned to glare at me.

"You..."

"You must take me as a fool but I assure you that you don't want to mess with me. I've tried being nice. to you but you are not appreciating it so I'm done. Stay away from Damon or I'll show you how wicked I can be" I threatened then flashed her a fake smile and her eyes blazed with anger. Content belongs to

She reached for the bottle of wine and was about to throw it at me when someone grabbed onto the bottle.

"You wouldn't want to do that, Aurora" My eyes widened when Dimitri appeared behind her. She immediately let go of the bottle then turned to him with wide eyes while he just stared at her with disinterest.

"Get out" He ordered her and she pursed her lips then glared at me before running away.

He dropped the wine bottle then turned to me with a smirk.

"Who knew you had a backbone, peaches"...

Chapter 113

-CLARA-

"Don't call me that. Why are you here?" I questioned as I stared at him.

"Can't I come see my sister in law? My my my, you look beautiful in that dress" He complimented and I frowned. There was something odd about him, I just couldn't explain it.

"Aurora is not your friend, peaches. The sooner you realize that, the better for you" My eyes widened at his words. There was no smirk on his face and the seriousness in his eyes reminded me of Damon.

I didn't think Dimitri was capable of being serious.

"Why do you say that?" I questioned and he stared at me for a while before he smirked, that playfulness returning back to his eyes.

"As much as I'd like to stay here and chat with you, if your husband sees me here, I'm dead meat and I don't really feel like dying now so see you later, peaches" He uttered and before I could say anything, he walked out of the room while I just stood there staring at the door.

That was... weird. Now that I thought of it, Aurora's reaction to Dimitri was weirder but I just couldn't explain it.

My thoughts were suddenly interrupted when Damon walked into the room.

"Sorry I kept you waiting. I just want everything to be perfect" He said as he walked up to me and placed a kiss on my lips.

"It's nothing. Are we leaving now?" I questioned and he was about to say something when he glanced around the room.

"Aurora and Dimitri were here?" He questioned and my eyes widened. I didn't think he'd be able to sense them.

Before I could reply, Delilah walked into the room.

"Come on, everything is ready" She squealed and I smiled then took in her outfit. She was wearing a beautiful light pink gown that flowed down to her ankle. She looked beautiful and I was sure Luca wouldn't be able to keep his eyes off her.

"Let's go?" Damon uttered as he outstretched his hand towards me and I smiled before walking out of the room with him.

Damon and I were hand in hand as we walked towards the stage. Everyone's eyes were on us and even his mother managed to be there. She smiled at me and I smiled back. Original from

From the corner of my eye, I saw Dimitri and he flashed me a smile before turning to Aurora who was staring at me with anger and envy in her eyes.

I turned away from the crowd and took a deep breath as Damon and I stood face to face under the full moon.

"Don't be nervous, okay? Keep your eyes on me" He murmured while drawing assuring circles at the back of my palm and I smiled at him.

The ceremony wasn't as heinous as I thought it would be. As a matter of fact, all I had to do was repeat some words, drink from a chalice and swear an oath to be a good and just Luna of the pack.

After that, Damon had to renew my mark as he finally stepped and although I felt that was too intimate for everyone to see, it was tradition.

He pulled me closer and sunk his fangs into my neck and I tried my best not to let my body react to it. After I had calmed down, I bit down on his neck as well and I felt his body tense up underneath my fingers which made me smile.

At least, I wasn't the only one affected.

"I, Alpha Damon Donovan proclaim my wife, Clara Donovan as my Luna and future Queen Luna. Cheers!" Damon announced and everyone cheered in response.

"My Luna" He murmured as he caressed my face and I smiled before wrapping my arms around his waist.

"Can we go back home? I want to spend the night with you" I told him and his eyes immediately darkened with desire.

"Let's greet everyone quickly and then we can leave, okay?" He told me and I sighed but nodded.

We came down from the stage and his parents congratulated us first.

"Congratulations Clara" His father greeted with a smile then his mother grabbed my hand and smiled up at me.

"I'm happy to call you my daughter in law and my successor as Queen Luna. I know you and Damon are going to make your own legacy" She murmured and I couldn't help the tears that gathered in my eyes.

Damon's mother and I had grown closer because I was treating her sickness and despite all our differences, she was like a mother figure to me and her words meant a lot to me.

"Come on mother, don't make my wife cry" Damon said as he pulled me to him and wiped away the tears that had slid down my cheeks with his thumb.

"Oh I didn't mean to. I'm just happy. Your father and I always thought you were going to end up single and would have to rule the kingdom all by yourself" His mother admitted and his father nodded in agreement.

"That was my plan but this little devil had to come into my life and ruin all my plans" Damon joked and I rolled my eyes.

"You love me" I stated and he chuckled.

"I do" He replied then placed a kiss on my cheek.

"Congratulations on becoming Luna,

Clara" We all turned towards the voice and frowned when I saw Aurora. Fortunately, she wasn't wearing the white dress anymore and was wearing black this time which I found odd.

"Thank you" I replied, trying my best to hide the hostility in my voice.

"And you two look good together" She added then turned to Damon with a slight smile.

I frowned as I took in her appearance. Why did she suddenly seem so pale? Even her lips were turning white.

I was about to ask her if she was okay when her eyes rolled to the back of her head and she fell down. Damon made a move to help her but then stopped himself.

Everyone around immediately began to gather to see what was going on while some murmured to themselves.

"Luca, take her to the hospital now" Damon instructed and Luca nodded before walking over and carrying Aurora in his arms then running away.

I stared at them till they disappeared and couldn't help but think that it was another one of her schemes. Why did she suddenly faint and what was she up to?

I was about to turn away when my eyes landed on Dimitri. He was staring at Luca as he carried Aurora away.

As if sensing my stare, he turned to me and we held each other stare for some seconds before he smirked and walked away.

Something was definitely wrong. I had a feeling that Aurora's and Dimitri's sudden appearance wasn't a coincidence.

I needed to find time to have a conversation with Dimitri as soon as possible. I needed to know if they were in cahoots with one another and if they were, I needed to find a way to get rid of them.

I was done running away, if I was going to protect my relationship with Damon then I needed to be strong and put everyone in their place...

Chapter 114

-CLARA-

The stench of blood and vomit was the first smell that hit my nostrils as Damon and I walked into the dungeon. I could hear screams and pleas coming from down the hall and wanted nothing more than to turn around but I had to see her.

"Are you okay?" Damon questioned softly as he placed his hand on my shoulder and stared at me with worry in his eyes.

I tried my best to smile but I was sure it came out more like a grimace.

"The stench is very potent" I managed to say and he immediately pulled out a handkerchief and placed it over my nose.

I heaved a sigh of relief when his cologne invaded my nostrils and even though I could still smell the blood, I felt better. "Thank you" I murmured and he pulled me close before we continued down the hall.

I let out a gasp as a man banged his body against his cell gate and the dead look in his eyes made my skin crawl.

"Just kill me already! Kill me please!" He pleaded and I immediately turned away.

Soon we got to Liam's mother cell and I gasped when I laid my eyes on her. She looked not only malnourished but dead. She was laying on the ground and she didn't seem like she was moving.

"Agatha? Agatha!" I called out but got no response. I turned to Damon with fear in my eyes. Was she already dead? "She's alive, I can hear her breathing" He assured me and I heaved a sigh of relief before turning back to her.

"I didn't know you were here. Damon is going to release you now and..."

"Clara..."

"She has suffered enough, Damon. Call Liam and have him come pick her up tomorrow" I told him and he stared at me for a while then sighed before nodding.

"Anything for my wife" He replied and I smiled at him.

"Do you... do you have my bracelet?" Her voice was so low that I almost didn't hear it.

I turned to her and she was staring directly at me.

"Do you... do you have my bracelet? Can you give it to me? It's all I want" She admitted and I pursed my lips before pulling out the bracelet from inside my bra since that's the only place I could keep it.

I squatted down and outstretched it to her.

"Here, I know how much it means to you" I murmured and she slowly stood up then crawled over to the gate and weakly outstretched her wrist towards me.

"Help..." She trailed off and I pursed my lips before helping her wear the bracelet.

As soon as I was done, she slowly withdrew her hand as tears rolled down her cheeks. owns © this.

"Good. Now I can finally die in peace" She murmured and my eyes widened.

"You're not going to die, Liam..."

"I'm sorry for the way I treated you. My husband treated you better than he treated me and at a point, I began to think you were his mistress. He doted on you more than anyone and I was just a jealous wife. After he died, you and Liam got together and I thought you were just being a gold digger because you knew Liam was going to become the Alpha. I shouldn't have judged you based on my own insecurities and I have realized that I was wrong. You were the best thing that could ever happen to Liam. Tell him I was sorry for ruining his life by driving you away from him and that I would always love him no matter what" She murmured and I frowned.

"You can tell him yourself when he comes to get you. You..."

"I don't want to live again, Clara. I miss my husband and want nothing more than to be reunited with him, again. He must be waiting for me She butted in while caressing her bracelet before she crawled away and laid down on the ground with her back facing us. Content belongs

"Agatha" I called out her name but she ignored me which made me frown. Was she really willing to die?

"I forgive you" I murmured then slowly straightened up with a sigh.

"We'll still send a message to Liam" I murmured and he nodded before grabbing my hand and leading me out of the dungeon.

When we got back home, I immediately went to shower. I don't know why I was so affected when she hadn't ever been nice to me. I guess death was still death regardless of who it was.

I turned on the shower and let out a sigh as I let the water run down my skin.

I could already feel Damon's presence before he wrapped his arms around my waist.

"Hey. Are you mad at me?" He questioned then placed a kiss on my shoulder.

"No because I know you did it for me and our baby we lost" I murmured and he sighed.

"I'll send for Liam tonight so he can get here early tomorrow. Luca is already on it" He told me and I nodded before turning around his arms. Surprisingly, we didn't have sex and just bathed each other.

When we were done, we got dressed as Damon carried me to the bed.

"What was Dimitri's and Aurora's relationship like before everything happened?" I questioned as we cuddled each other on the bed.

"Did Dimitri say anything to you? Because if he did..."

"He didn't. I just feel like there's more to the story. Aurora acts weird anytime she's near him" I pointed out and he sighed.

"That must be because he raped her, Clara. She was pretty shaken up after what happened so it's understandable that she's afraid of him" He uttered and I frowned. Yes, she was afraid of him but there was something else.

"Why don't we talk to Dimitri? I feel..."

"I don't want you talking to Dimitri, Clara. Stay away from him" He interjected firmly and I sighed.

"But..."

"No buts Clara. Just listen to me, okay? Don't associate yourself with him" He uttered and I sighed.

"We'll go for our vacation soon okay?"

Just you and me. I have a lot planned for us, I'm sure it's going to make you happy" He informed me after we were quiet for a while and I smiled up at him before resting my head back on his chest.

Despite what Damon said, I was going to speak with Dimitri because I felt something else was going on.

If he didn't want to come with me then fine, I wasn't going to force him but I was going to speak with Dimitri tomorrow...

Chapter 115

-CLARA-

"If you need anything, call or mind link me, okay? I'll try my best to be back as soon as I can and when I get back, we can decide on where we are going for our vacation" Damon murmured as he wrapped his arms around me.

I smiled up at him then nodded.

"Okay, I'll be waiting for you" I murmured as soon after he left, I had my bath and got dressed before leaving the room.

Today, I was going to have a conversation with Dimitri and I had to tread carefully just in case Dimitri was actually the psychopath he was made out to be.

I didn't know where to find him but I had a feeling he would come to me if he saw me so I went outside and sat down in the garden as I waited for him.

"I almost didn't notice you because of how well you blend in with the beautiful flowers, buttercup" I heard his voice behind me and I smirked. He came faster than I expected.

"Were you waiting for me to leave the house?" I questioned as he came into my view.

"As much as I would like to say that was the case, I just happened to be passing by when you walked out of the house and you looked lonely so I came to keep you company" He told me and I nodded before folding my arms.

"Good because I came out here for you" I replied and he stared at me for a while before letting out a chuckle.

"I know I'm the handsome and better brother but I won't steal my brother's wife" He responded and I rolled my eyes.

"But you stole Aurora?" I questioned and I noticed the way his face turned serious but in a blink of an eye, he returned back to his usual bubbly self. "Well, I wouldn't say I stole her but whatever floats your boat" He replied and I frowned.

"I want to talk about your relationship with Aurora" I uttered and his smile faltered.

"Well it's just like they told you. I fell for her and raped her because she wouldn't give me a chance" He told me and I scoffed.

"I know that doesn't sound right to you as well. I know there's more to it and I would like you to tell me" I told him and he tilted his head.

"But there is no story to tell, Clara" He murmured and I raised an eyebrow. This was the first time he was calling me by my real name since we met, which meant he was starting to get serious.

"I'm suspicious of Aurora, Dimitri and I feel like she came here for a reason and you know what that reason is. It's not a coincidence that you came a week after she got here, is it?" I questioned and his eyes darkened.

"Telling you the truth might just get you in trouble, Clara so I think it's best you leave everything up to me and avoid Aurora as much as you can" He muttered and I stared at him for a while. How could the truth possibly put me in trouble?

"I would still like to know and I want you to tell me. I want to know" I urged him and he stared at me for a while then sighed before sitting down next to me.

"As you know, Damon, Aurora and I were inseparable. We did everything together and we're always together. I won't deny the fact that I fell for Aurora, as a matter of fact I liked her first but she never looked at me, all she wanted was Damon. Truth be told, Damon never liked her the way she thought he did. As a matter of fact, Damon was still sleeping With other women while he was still with her but nevertheless, he gave her more attention than the rest. I love my brother, I still do and when I saw that Aurora and him were getting close, I started distancing myself from them so my feelings for her would die. At first glance, Aurora was an angel to me. She was someone that could do no wrong in my eyes and everyone loved her. If only I had known how wrong we all were about her, maybe things would have been different" He paused then took a deep breath before continuing.

"Later on, Aurora started showing her interest in me. If she fought with Damon, she'd run to me and tell me how better was than Damon and L that she wished she was with me instead, was young and foolish so I believed her words and we started having an affair and I confessed my feelings for her and she told me she liked me too but I knew she didn't. As time went on I began to notice her obsession with Damon. She stalked everything he did and slowly, the ladies he slept with all got murdered one by one" He revealed and I gasped.

"She killed them?" I questioned and he nodded.Original from

"She didn't want anyone close to him. She tried to get rid of Levi but she had nothing against him because Levi never liked her and kept his distance from her but she managed to get rid of me" He uttered and my eyes widened.

"She lied that you raped her?" I questioned softly and he laughed humorlessly.

"She drugged me and set up the whole thing. If anything, she raped and molested me that night and made it seem like I was the one. Damon immediately believed because apparently, she had been telling him I had been stalking her and all kinds of nonsense so he immediately shunned me and restricted me from coming anywhere near him or Aurora" He informed me and I nodded slowly, trying to take everything in.

So she had raped him and not the other way around? That was so sad.

I grabbed onto his hand without thinking and gave it a reassuring squeeze.

"It's okay. The truth will come out soon" I murmured and he stared at me for a while grinned.

"It will" He responded and I let go of his hand.

"By your words, it seemed Damon didn't banish you after that incident and I assume Aurora did something worse" I said and he frowned.

"Yes, she did a lot of bad things but the worst one was making my mother sick. Aurora was the one who gave my mother the sickness she has right now and why my mother almost died in the past"...

CHAPTER 116

Chapter 116 -CLARA I stared at Dimitri with wide eyes as I couldn't believe what he had just said. "How exactly is she the cause of your mother's sickness? I don't understand that" I voiced out and he sighed. "I didn't understand it at first so I got you. Aurora is very good with herbs and with those herbs, she was able to concoct a parasite which is practically killing my mother" He revealed and gasped. "Wait what? Why?" I questioned and he turned to me with a sad smile. "Because she's a psychopath who wants to always remain relevant in Damon's life. At that point in time, Damon was getting bored of her so he hardly spent time with her which got her angry so she had to think of a way to remain in his life and what better way than to make a sickness only she can treat? All the doctors and healers didn't know what was wrong and therefore couldn't help. She was the only one that could treat her... that is till you came along. You must really be special, Clara" He murmured with a smile and I sighed. "I won't say I'm special but I'm glad I was able to treat your mother. She must have timed it and knew the parasite was going to flare up anytime soon and wanted to use that medium to come back into Damon's life" I pieced two and two together and Dimitri nodded which meant I was right. "Yes, I believe that was her plan as well" He uttered and I sighed. "Why didn't you tell anyone immediately you found out? That would have saved us from a lot of trouble" I said and he sighed. "I was shunned by Damon and no one wanted to get on his bad side, not even our parents, so did you really think they would believe me? If you didn't know how vile Aurora was, you wouldn't have believed me as well. Like I said she was an angel to everyone and my parents loved her, they still do. No one would have believed me" He told me and I stared at him for a while. "You're lying. That's not the only reason you didn't tell on her You were in love with her so you didn't want her getting punished, am I right?" I questioned and he chuckled before turning to me. I could see the amusement in his eyes. owns © this.

"Well, you keep surprising me buttercup. I didn't expect you to be so sharp" He said and I didn't know if I should take that as an insult or not. "So I'm right?" I questioned and he nodded. "The only reason I found out it was Aurora was because she never did her dirty work alone. She had given the herbs to my mother's personal maid who had fed it to my mother out of fear Aurora has threatened her whole family and Aurora had enough power to carry out her threat so anyone in their right mind would be scared but the girl couldn't push aside the guilt and decided to tell me since I was already shunned anyway. She gave me enough evidence and said she would testify against Aurora even though that would cost her life. I just had to promise to protect her family. I know it was foolish of me but I didn't want Aurora to be killed. If Damon found out, he would have killed her on the spot so I went to Aurora and told her all that I knew and that I had proof then I gave her an ultimatum. She had to leave the pack and my brother's life if she wanted to be spared and she immediately agreed but only if I followed her and as a foolish love sick puppy that I was, I was willing to follow her. What I didn't know what that she went behind my back and told Damon that she was leaving because I tried raping her again so Damon banished me after she left and left and went to find her but we never got together. She did everything in her power to avoid me as much as she could but I kept a close eye on her just in case. If I had known she was coming here, I would have stopped her before she showed her face to Damon" He informed me and I sat down there for a while trying to take everything in. "Luckily, my father and Delilah reached out to me because my mother wanted to see me and I used that medium to get here. I knew Damon was going to be mad but i can let Aurora hurt anyone again especially you" He added then turned to me. 1/2 23410 Clipper 110 "Don't worry, I can handle myself, She can't hurt me I replied and he chuckled For some reason, I don't donkt fr. I questioned and he nodded slightly. "Yeah, why?" He questioned and I smirked. "I might have a plan but first, do you still love her?" 1 questioned and he paused before a smirk appeared on his face. "She is crazy but I never said I liked my girls sane".

CHAPTER 117

Chapter 117 -AURORA- On our way to the hospital, I couldn't stop fidgeting in my seat. If Damon found me with Dimitri, a battle was going to unfold and I didn't want any of that. I knew I wasn't doing anything wrong but still. I didn't want to have an argument with Damon, we were doing so well. We had to use one of Dimitri's cars because I didn't want any of Damon's drivers telling on me although I most definitely think they saw me leaving with Dimitri. Anyway, I would cross that hurdle when I got to it. It didn't take long before we got to the hospital and Dimitri led me towards Aurora's room. He had gone to visit her last night so he knew where her room was. As we stood in front of her hospital room four, I brought out my phone and turned on the recorder. I was going to try and get a confession out of her. "Smart" He mouthed and I flashed him a cheeky grin before we walked into the room. Aurora immediately looked up then glanced behind me, probably hoping I was with Damon but when she didn't see him, her face turned sour. "Why are you here? And why won't you leave me alone, Dimitri?" She questioned as she turned to him and he pulled out a chair and sat down with his arms folded. "Because I like staring at your face, sweet cheeks" He responded and she rolled her eyes at him before turning to me. "You're the last person I expected to visit me" She said and I nodded. "Be rest assured that I won't allow Damon to come visit you so if you're waiting for him, you're going to be waiting for a long time" I told her and she glared at me. "So you came in here to rub it in my face that you have my man now?" She questioned and I smiled. "He was never your man, you and I both know that and how do you think Damon is going to react when he finds out about all your dirty deeds?" I questioned and her face immediately turned white as her eyes glazed over with fear. "What did you tell her?" She questioned through clenched teeth as she glared at me and he flashed her a ck*y grin. "Only the truth babes" He replied and I could practically see the vein about to pop out from her head. "Did you really do all that? I can hardly believe it although he showed me proof but I just want to hear it from you. Maybe I could help in some way" I told her, trying to lure her out and get her to say something. Her face turned grave then a glint appeared in her eyes as realization dawned on her. "Really? Or you're just trying to record a confession out of me?" She questioned with the tilt of her head and I smiled at her. I knew she wasn't going to fall for this. Any real evil mastermind wouldn't fall for that but now I knew Dimitri wasn't lying to me. "You're right. Hknew you were too smart for us. Dimitri, let's go" I told him while keeping my eyes on her. 1/3 11:41/ Wed, Jul 24 GON. CHAPTER 118

Chapter 118 -DAMON- I had a smile on my face as Clara went on about her day. She was so cute, unbelievable. it was “It seems your day was not as boring as you said it was” I said then placed a kiss on her lips before pulling her closer. “Yeah I guess. What about you? How was your day?” She questioned and I sighed as I played with her hair. “Stressful. My father is really trying to push his Alpha King’s work on me” I told her and she slowly glanced up at me. “Since our relationship is no longer based on a contract, why don’t you accept the Alpha King title? That would lift off the load from your father’s shoulders so he can spend more time with your mother” She suggested and I have been thinking about it for a while. Becoming Alpha King was a dream I had since I was a child. At first I wanted it for power, I wanted to be above anyone but after meeting Clara, everything seems so different. As I stared down at her, I couldn’t help but smile. She has changed me so much without even knowing it. “What is it? Do I look funny?” She questioned and I shook my head at her before pinching her nose slightly. (“You’re so beautiful, I just want to eat your face” I replied before leaning down and peppering her face with kisses. She squealed happily before pushing me away slightly. “Stop, we are having a serious conversation here” She said before resting her head back on my chest. “I’ll think about that when we come back from our vacation” I replied and she glanced up at me with a pout.

“You don’t sound so enthusiastic to become Alpha King. The main reason we met was because of this” She pointed out and I nodded. 174 Chapter 118 “Yes but being the Alpha King means I’ll be busier than I am now and I want to spend time with you. I already hardly see you during the day and it’s taking a toll on me” I said to her and she giggled, a red tint appearing on her cheeks. “Who knew the big bad Alpha could be so desperately in love?” She teased and I sighed. “I think you might have cast a spell on me, Clara but I don’t mind it because I love being in love with you” I responded before placing a kiss on her cheek. “I love you” She said to me and the look in her eyes almost made my heart stop. I’m sure they mirrored mine. “How about you show me how much you love me by getting on your knees and sucking me dry?” I questioned softly while caressing her face and she frowned. “You’re so vulgar, leave me alone” She uttered and tried moving away but I only held her tightly and began peppering her face with kisses again while she giggled. Nights like this were the nights I would never forget. "Do you really have to leave?" Clara questioned as she watched me get dressed the next morning. I had an impromptu meeting with the board of directors at the company so I had to go. "I'll be back early, I promise" I responded as I walked up to her and placed a kiss on her lips. She stared up at me with puppy dog eyes and I was this close to giving in. "Don't look at me like that" I uttered and she sighed. "What am I supposed to do while you're gone?" She whined and I chuckled. "What you always do while I'm gone. Read a book or why don't you go spend time with Delilah?" I questioned and she scoffed. "She has been so busy with Luca these days that she..." Clara immediately stopped talking as her eyes widened. As her words slowly dawned on me, my once cheerful mood turned murderous.

"What do you mean busy with Luca?" I questioned softly and she immediately 2/4 95% Chapter 118 stood up then grabbed my hand. "Calm down, Damon. It's not like that" She said and I scoffed. +5 "Not like what exactly? What are you hiding from me, Clara?!" I yelled and she frowned. "Don't yell at me" She warned me and I calmed down for a second before letting out a sigh. "Clara, what's going on between Luca and Delilah? I'm your husband, you shouldn't be hiding things from me" I said to her and pouted. "It's not my secret to tell" She replied and I scoffed before detaching myself from her. "Fine then. I'll go find out for myself" I uttered then immediately ran out of the room and straight to Delilah's house with Clara calling me from behind. "Damon, stop!" She yelled and I halted in my steps and my eyes widened when I saw Luca and Delilah kissing in front of her door. A growl escaped my throat and they both turned to me with wide eyes, fear and shock evident in them. Luca immediately stepped forward as I stared towards them and was about to say something when I punched him across the face before pouncing on him. "Damon no!" Delilah screamed but knew not to approach me if she didn't want to hurt herself. "You bastard!" I screamed in his face while continuously punching him when suddenly, someone wrapped their arms around me and pulled me off Luca. "Damon, what are you doing?" I heard Dimitri yell and he tried pulling me off Luca but I just punched him across the face before turning back to Luca. I was about to land another blow when Clara threw herself on my back. "That's enough!" She screamed loudly and my fist immediately paused mid air. "That's enough Damon, you're going to kill him" She murmured and when I glanced down, I saw she was right. Luca looked like he was already on the verge of death. 09:30 Thu, Jul 25 A G Chapter 118 "How dare you?" I uttered as I glared down at Luca. 95% "It was me! I pressured him so please leave us alone!" Delilah screamed as tears rolled down her cheeks. +5 "If you keep screwing my sister then you better get ready to say goodbye to your position" I muttered, totally ignoring Delilah as I climbed off him. "Damon..." "I don't want to hear it, Clara," I interjected before she could say anything and I clenched my fist as Delilah immediately rushed towards Luca and placed his head on her lap. "You cannot control my life or his, Damon! I won't let you!" She screamed out of anger as she glared at me. "Fine then but he won't remain my Beta if he wants to fk you, Delilah so he better choose. You or me, make a choice or I'll make it for you"...

CHAPTER 119

Chapter 119 -CLARA- "I'm so sorry, this is my fault. I mistakenly blurted it out when we were talking about you. I feel so bad" I murmured as Delilah cleaned up Luca's wound. "Don't be. I'm happy he found out because we were both scared to tell him. I just wished he wouldn't have lashed out on Luca like that. Why can't he understand? Why does he want to control us? Who gave him the right to dictate for us?" Delilah uttered as tears rolled down her cheeks and the guilt I was feeling doubled in size. What couldn't I keep my big mouth shut? Luca suddenly reached out weakly and wiped away Delilah's tears. "Enough now. You don't need to cry because my wounds will heal in due time" He explained softly but that just made her cry more. "Why would he do this to you? Why would he give you such an ultimatum?" She questioned and he tried to smile but winced. "Because he cares about you and me. Damon is a child that doesn't want to be left alone" Luca explained and she scoffed. "He has Clara doesn't he? He spends most of his time with her anyway so what's the problem?" Delilah asked. "No one knows what goes on inside that head of his. Maybe you should just try to talk to him" Dimitri told them and Delilah frowned. "Damon is very stubborn, he wouldn't want to listen. He always does this" Delilah murmured and Dimitri nodded. "That may have been the case in the past but now we have someone who can get to him even in this state" Dimitri said then they both slowly turned to me and my eyes widened. "Me?" I questioned and Dimitri nodded. 5 All rights ©

Chapter 119 "You're the only one that can get to him so if you want to make up for telling their secret, you will talk to me. Now if you'll excuse me, the prodigal son has got to go" He said before turning around and walking out of the house. "You don't have to do this if you don't want to. I know how difficult my brother can be" Delilah said as she caressed Luca's cheek. I walked over to her and grabbed her hand. "I placed Luca in this mess and I'm going to try my hardest to get through to Damon. It's either he listened or I divorce him. I'll give him an ultimatum too" I told her and she giggled and that placed a smile on my face. +5 "Okay, I'm counting on you" She said and I remained there for a while, helping her out with Luca before returning back home. I was surprised to see that Damon wasn't home. He must have gone for the meeting without Luca. Was he really serious about replacing Luca? I freshened up and I fell asleep while waiting for him. I was awoken by Damon's soft touch as he caressed my face. "You are mad at me, right?" He questioned softly as I slowly opened my eyes. "You know what you did was wrong, don't you?" I asked as I slowly sat up and he sighed. "I didn't mean to hit him that hard" He murmured and I sighed before grabbing onto his hand and frowned when I saw the bruise on his knuckles. "Is this because of how you punched him?" I questioned and he shook his head. "I might have punched a wall on my way to the meeting. Everyone just kept pg me off" He revealed and I sighed before getting up from the bed and going to grab a first aid kit from the bathroom. "There's no need for that, it will heal" He said as I walked back to him with the kit. One glare from me and he shut his mouth. "You need to work on your communication skills and your anger issues" I told him as I cleaned his bruise and he scoffed. 90% Chapter 119 “They should have told me” “How will they tell you when they know you’re going to react that way, Damon? Luca and Delilah are in love, they have been in love for a very long time now but Luca pushed his feelings aside because he was putting your feelings before his” I informed him and he frowned. “How do you know so much?” He questioned and I rolled my eyes. +5 “Because unlike you, I’m actually very approachable. You should listen to them before you lash out. If you keep behaving this way, no one is ever going to come to you for anything and you won’t like that” I said to him. “I would actually...” “Damon” I called out his name with his scolding tone and he chuckled before pulling me onto his lap. I finished bandaging his fingers before resting my head on his chest. “I don’t want what happened to you to happen to either of them” He revealed and I froze. “They are not fated mates, Clara. What if Luca finds his fated mate one day and dumps my sister?” He questioned and I couldn’t help but smile. So all this time, he was just worried about them? I pulled away slightly then twisted my body to face him before grabbing onto his face. “Not everyone’s story will be like mine, Damon. Give them the benefit of doubt” I murmured and he frowned. “The mate bond is very strong, Clara. Even if they try to fight it...” “They are old enough to decide for themselves, you don’t have to worry about them. Yes, the mate bond is strong but true love is stronger. Just talk this out with them, okay? And don’t yell or try to fight when they’re trying to speak okay?” I told him and he smiled before nodding then placed a kiss on my lips. “I never said I was worried but I’ll do whatever you say my little devil” He

7 +46% Chapter 119 murmured and Trolled my eyes with a smile playing on my lips. He suddenly lifted me up and placed me on the bed before laying down next to me. Talking to him was actually easier than I expected. I thought he was going to continue being stubborn. CHAPTER 120

Chapter 120 -DAMON- I glanced at Clara who was seated on the couch in my study. She had insisted that she would wait to watch over me just in case Luca or Delilah came to talk to me. She didn’t trust me to be reasonable. “How are you so sure they’re going to come?” I questioned as I turned to her and she lifted up her eyes from the book she was reading and turned to me. “I’m not sure but just in case. I’m not going to let you lose your cool again” She told me and I chuckled before pushing my chair back, standing up and walking towards her. I took the book out of her and she glared at me. “I was reading that” She uttered and I chuckled before leaning down to place a kiss on the tip of her nose. “I can’t work properly because of your sy a I muttered and she squealed as I peppered her neck and face with kisses. 7 I stopped suddenly when I caught Luca and Delilah’s scent. seat. “They are coming” I announced as I straightened up then walked back to my As soon as I sat down, Delilah walked into the room and behind her was Luca. “Damon, we need to talk to you” Delilah uttered and I averted my eyes to Luca. His face was still bruised up but the majority of the injuries had healed. Did I punch him that hard? “What about? I’m busy” I uttered and Clara immediately cleared her throat and when I turned to her she was glaring at me which made me sigh. "What is it?" I questioned as I turned back to Delilah. "Your actions towards us haven't been fair, Damon. You cannot give Luca such a ridiculous ultimatum. Why are you doing this?" Delilah questioned and I tilted my head at her.

"Well you weren't the one I gave the ultimatum, were you?" I questioned and she 1/4 Hareil at me. "So what's it going to be, Laica? My sister or your position?" I interrupted her as I turned towards Luca who hadn't said a word since he got here, "But Damon..." "It's okay, Delilah" Luca interjected before she could say anything else then smiled at her before moving closer to my desk. We stared at each other for a while before he bowed his head. "Giving up Delilah was never an option I'd rather lose my position than lose her, Alpha" He said and Delilah gasped before grabbing his hand. "But Luca..." "It's okay. Having you is more than enough for me" He replied before placing a kiss on her forehead and I frowned. It felt so weird seeing them like this although I always suspected it, I just never gave it much thought. I turned to Clara and she had a frown on her face so I smiled at her to put her at ease. "And when you find your fated mate, what then?" I questioned as I turned back to them and they both seemed shocked by my question. "What? Cat got your tongue?" I questioned earning another glare from Clara. "The love Luca and I share is so much stronger than a mate bond" Delilah said and I scoffed. "And how would you know that when you haven't found your mate?" I questioned and she frowned. "I would know because I've met my mate but I rejected her" The whole room fell silent as soon as Luca said that. "When?" I questioned, not being able to believe him. "She was at the retreat you had sent me to last year. She was the daughter of Alpha Magnus. I was already madly in love with Delilah at that time but I knew you 2/4

||| I wouldn't accept my relationship with her so I try my best to fall for my mate and of course the mate bond was there but I at night, Delilah was the one I thought of so I rejected her to save her from the heartache so she could meet her a second chance mate if the moon goddess is kind enough to give her" He informed us and to say I was shock was an understatement. Even though Clara and I hadn't got off on the right foot when we met, no matter how hard I tried I didn't have the balls to reject her and now I couldn't even think of my life without her. For him to reject his fated mate for my sister, that meant... "I didn't know that. You didn't tell me" Delilah murmured as she stared up at him with tears in her eyes. "I didn't think there was any need to besides, it was a long time ago" Luca responded as he wiped away the tears that had trickled down her cheeks. "What if you find a mate, Delilah?" I questioned and she didn't even bother turning to me. "I'll reject him. I cannot love anyone more than I love Luca and if you want to come in between our love then we'll gladly get out of your hair" She uttered before turning to me and I rolled my eyes. Why did she have to be so dramatic? 9 "It was fun being your right hand man and friend, Damon" Luca uttered as he bowed his head again and I scoffed. "What? So our friendship didn't mean anything to you? You didn't even try to fight for your position" I muttered and his eyes widened. "But..." "Whatever. I don't want to ever see you guys making out in front of me, okay? And if Delilah distracts you from doing your work, I wouldn't be happy, okay?" I said and they both stared at me with confusion on their faces. "I don't understand what's going on" Luca voiced and Clara skd over to us and placed her hand on my shoulder.

"What my darling husband is trying to say is that he approves of your relationship with one another and you don't have to stop being his Beta because of that" She uttered and the surprised look on Delilah's and Luca's face brought a smile to mine. 3/4 I grimaced as Delilah squealed before she jumped into Luca's arms and at that moment, Clara wrapped my arms around my shoulders and placed a kiss on my cheek. "I'm so proud of you, Damon" She murmured and I grinned before turning to her. "How about you show me how proud you are in the bedroom tonight?" I questioned and she rolled her eyes. "When will you stop thinking with your dk?" She questioned and I tilted my head. "With you? Never"... NOTE: Now that that's over, who's ready for the drama? 9Original from Chapter 121 -CLARA- These past few days have been total bliss. Luca and Delilah no longer had to hide their relationship and although Damon pretended like he hated it, I knew he was secretly happy that Delilah had fallen for someone he trusted more than anyone. To top that, I hadn't seen Aurora since the day I visited her at the hospital. Dimitri told me she had been discharged and I had expected to run over and try to get in between Damon and but she hasn't come close to us since then which I was really happy about. Damon and I had decided to go to bora bora for our little vacation and I was ecstatic. I had never been to Bora Bora before and with the pictures and videos I saw, it looked like paradise and I couldn't wait to leave. "Why don't I go help the cook prepare breakfast?" I suggested as I stood up and walked over to Damon who was getting ready in front of the mirror. I wrapped my arms around his waist and he turned around in my arms and placed a kiss on my forehead. "Isn't that stressful?" He questioned softly as he caressed my face and I shook my head. "I love cooking for you so it isn't. Just tell me what you want and I'll prepare it" I told him and he chuckled, "If I tell you what I want, you won't leave this room" He uttered and I gasped dramatically before slapping his chest. "How many times do I have to warn you to stop thinking with your dk?" I scolded and as soon as he laughed, a smile appeared on my face. Damon was glowing these days. The grumpy man I had seen first was nowhere to be seen. "I'll be right back with the food" I told him then stood on my toes and placed a kiss on his lips before turning around and skg out of the room. "Mrs Donovan.." The Butler called out just as I was about to walk into the kitchen. "Yes?" I asked with a smile and he smiled back.

"Miss Aurora is here and she's requesting your presence" He told me and I let out a groan. I knew it was too far of a stretch to think she'd actually leave Damon and I alone now. "Where is she?" I questioned and he pointed towards the living room. I let out a sigh then decided to confront her before going to make breakfast for Damon and I. "I knew it was too good to be true to think you'd leave me and Damon alone" I uttered as I walked into the living room after dismissing the butler. I expected a comeback from her but she just stared at me like she was analyzing me or something. "If you have nothing to say then leave my house" I told her and was about to walk away when she chuckled. "Your house? Well yes I guess it's your house for now. There's nothing special about you, you know that right?" She uttered and I raised an eyebrow at her. "Excuse me?" I questioned as she slowly stood up from the couch. "I mean compared to me, you're practically dust so why did Damon settle for someone like you?" she asked like she was genuinely curious and I chuckled. 14:32 Tue, Jul 30 Gu Chapter 121 "Why don't you ask him yourself?" I questioned and she tilted her head. 1 @ + 74% +74%0 +5) "Well I would have but I know your jealous self won't let me hear him anymore" She uttered and I smiled humorlessly. "I'm glad you're self aware. As a matter of fact, you're no longer welcome in this house so if you don't want to be disgraced but being dragged out, I suggest you never step foot into this building any longer" I told her and her face immediately fell and the one innocent look completely vanished "You have no idea who you're messing with, Clara" She said and I raised an eyebrow at her tone. Was she trying to intimidate me? "Oh I have an idea because Dimitri told me about how devious you are. I will always be one step ahead of you but unlike you, I don't play dirty" I retorted and a slow smile appeared on her lips. "Oh really? Well unlike you, I have no loved one and I have nothing to lose and do you know what's scarier than a person that has nothing to lose? Nothing" She uttered with a crazy look in her eyes which was starting to scare me a little bit but I wasn't going to back down. "If you have nothing important to say then leave" I said and she giggled. "I happen to know that a lot of times you're alone when Damon is away for work. It would be a shame if something were to happen to you by accident right? Maybe you fell down the stairs, ingested poison or maybe got stabbed to death. Who knows?" She uttered and I frowned. Was she threatening me? "You're threatening me" I stated and she laughed. "Of course not, how could I threaten a Luna? The future Queen Luna at that? That's practically treason but you know, this world is a scary one so I suggest you watch your back even while taking your bath or sleeping because there are a lot of people who want you dead and gone" As she spoke, she got closer till she was standing directly in front of me. "Thanks for your concern but I can take care of myself" I told her and she shrugged. "Very well then. Goodbye, Clara and oh... aunt Amelia was it? She's the one who practically brought you up huh? She should watch her back too because the possibilities of her being killed are endless" As soon as those words left her mouth, I pulled back my hand and slapped her hard across the face. She fell to the ground with a loud scream then turned to me with a glare and was about to say something when I slapped her across the other cheek. She cried out as I grabbed her face digging my fingers into her skin as I stared intently into her eyes. “You can threaten me but you made a mistake threatening Aunt Amelia. Count your days because I’ll make sure you leave here alive”...
