I had to apologize to the manager and promise to replace the table Damon had broken before leaving the shop that day. I know for sure that I was going to be the topic for the whole week.

I took a deep sigh before climbing into the car and Luca smiled at me from the driver's seat.

*Hey Madam Clara" He greeted and I acknowledged him with a smile before stealing a glance at Damon who was staring up ahead.

Yes I know I overreacted but anyone in my shoe would have reacted the same way... right?

Luca started the car and as we drove back to the house, Damon didn't say a word to me and I was started to feel nervous for some reason,

"Why didn't you accept it? That's why we are doing this in the first place right? If you accepted it the we'll both go out separate ways just like you wanted, right?" questioned while staring at him and he turned to me with a raised eyebrow.

"So you're saying you want me to become the Alpha King now? Okay then" He uttered then turned and I scoffed before glancing out the window with a frown.

"See? You're angry again" He pointed out and I shook my head.

"Why would I be angry? I have no reason to be angry" I muttered then shrieked when he dragged my hand and pulled me towards him so I was resting my back on his chest.

We stared into each other's eyes for a while and I tried reading what he was thinking but couldn't.

"Why didn't you accept it?" I questioned softly while still staring into his eyes. I didn't know what I was expecting him to say but I wanted any form of assurance at that point.

I

"Because I'm not ready for that responsibility yet" He muttered and I furrowed my eyebrows at him.

"That's a lie, just say you're not ready to give me up yet" I uttered and he rolled his eyes but I could see the smile on his lips.

"Think whatever makes you happy, Clara" He murmured and I smiled before wrapping my arms around his shoulder and we stayed in that position till we got to the house.

got out of the car first then waited for Damon. He got out of the car and immediately grabbed onto my hand.

I smiled up at him then leaned into him as we walked into the mansion. My body tensed up when I noticed Alicia staring at us from a distance but I pretended like I couldn't see her. She wasn't going to spoil my mood right now.

"You'll work for me starting tomorrow" Damon uttered as he turned to me and my eyes widened.

"What? Why?" I questioned and he let go of my hand to grab onto my cheek.

"Because I have to keep an eye on you and this mood swings if yours. Why are you acting like you don't want to be by my side all the time?"

He muttered and I scoffed.

"That sounds like torture, I'd rather yank out my my own throat"

"As much as I'd like to fuck the truth out of you, I have a meeting to attend to now and I'm already late because my wife loves throwing tantrums" He murmured against my lips and laughed out of embarrassment.

“When will you be back?” I questioned as I grabbed onto his hand before he could walk away and he tilted his head at me.

“I thought you hated my company? Tsk Clara, don’t get obsessed with me now” He murmured then winked at me before walking away and I let out a sigh as soon as he disappeared from my sight.

He was right, I was getting obsessed with him. I wanted him near all the time and I hated the feeling.

“Ughh! Why am I falling in love with him? This is all your fault” I muttered as I blamed my wolf but I knew this wasn’t just her but the both of us. What had I expected? That I won’t fall in love with someone like Damon? Except for his unfiltered tongue, he was perfect.

“This isn’t good” I told myself befirdleting out a groan,

“I see you are very happy being cozied up with Damon right? Acting like a wife and all. It makes you happy huh?” I turned to the voice and watched as Alicia walked up to me with a sneer on her face.

“What do you want now witch of the west?” I uttered as I folded my arms and she glared at me.

“You think you’ve won right because Damon is showing you a little bit of attention? He does that to all his other sluts and you’re no exemption. When he’s done, he’ll throw you away like the trash you are” She muttered with a smirk and I would be lying if I said her words didn’t hit too close to home.

“And you’ll still remain irrelevant to him. Always watching him from the side and never an option” I replied smugly and I must have struck a nerve because she nearly popped a vein on her forehead with how hard she was glaring at me.

“Distance yourself from him now or I’m going to tell the world that you’re just a fake wife and he’ll never get the chance to become Alpha King again” She murmured and I frowned.

“You do know if Damon finds out about this threat, you’ll get seriously hurt right?” I muttered and she smirked.

“I knew you were going to say that but you won’t tell him so he won’t find out” She uttered and I raised an eyebrow.

“And what makes you think I won’t tell him?” I questioned and she tilted her head.

“Because I know your secret. I know what happened to you. Do you think Damon would still want to touch you when he finds out?” She uttered and my whole body froze.

How did she... even Liam didn’t know that because I never told him. I never had the heart to tell him.

“How did you...” I trailed off as I stared at her in shock but she just grinned menacingly.

“Distance yourself from Damon or not only am I going to tell him but I’ll tell everyone and how embarrassing would that be for you?”...

way to the meeting all I could think about was Clara. These days she was on my mind 24/7 and I didn’t hate it as much as I used to.

“You are smiling.” Luca suddenly pointed out and I frowned.

“No I’m not” I muttered and he scoffed.

“I’m just marrying her to get the Alpha King title but here you are fantasizing about her. You rejected the Alpha King’s title for her, didn’t you?” He questioned and I scoffed.

“I wasn’t ready and that’s why...”

“Sure. You can tell that to your father but not me. I know you Axel and you would jump at any opportunity to be the don’t want to get rid of Clara yet. Isn’t that right?” He uttered and I pursed my lips before glancing out the window.

“Sure, keep telling yourself that and you might believe it” He muttered and I glared at him but didn’t say anything else.

We got to the meeting spot and I couldn’t even focus on what was being discussed. I kept glancing at my phone like Clara was going to shoot a text or something but nothing popped up. We hardly texted one another but still.

“Are you listening, Alpha?” I raised up my head at the sound of Luca’s voice and the smirk on his face made me glare at him.

“What were you saying? I zoned out” I muttered and they stared at me in shock and I was shocked as well. I wasn’t one to z

I walked further into the house and paused when i saw her walking up the stairs. Had she not heard that I had arrived?

"Clara" I called out her hame and she halted before turning to me and the disinterest in her eyes made me frown..

"Welcome" She uttered, then turned around and walked away just like that.

I stared after her in shock and only snapped out of it when Luca placed his hand on my shoulder.

"Alpha" He called out and I turned to him.

"Did she just tell me welcome?" I questioned and he nodded slowly.

"She did, Alpha" He replied.

"Then she walked away?" I questioned and he nodded.

“She also did that, Alpha” He answered and I scoffed as I loosened my tie. She did not just pretend like I didn’t exist.

“I’m going to teach her a lesson” I muttered before going up to her room. I didn’t even bother knocking before barging into her room and she didn’t even flinch.

“What’s wrong this time?” I questioned and she turned to me with confusion etched on her face.

“I have no idea what you’re talking about” She muttered then turned away and went back to the book she was reading.

I scoffed then walked up to her, took the book and threw it out the window, “Damon, what’s your problem?! I liked that book” She screamed as she stared at me angrily.

“Fucking tell me why you’re behaving this way now” I muttered and she scoffed.

“Behaving what way? Oh because I didn’t throw myself at you this time or cling onto you like a leech? Nothing is wrong, this is how it’s supposed to be” She uttered and I frowned.

“What are you talking about?” I questioned and she sighed.

“I’m tired of trying to force myself to like you just so I could feel something for you so that my stay here will be bearable at least but I can’t stand you so let’s go back to the way things were supposed to be like. You mind your own personal business and I’ll mind mine” She muttered and I stared at her in shock,

“What did you just say?” I questioned softly and she tilted her head.

“What? You’re not used to a girl telling you they haven’t fallen for your charm? I can’t stand you anymore, Damon so leave me alone” She uttered then stood up from her bed and was about to walk away when I grabbed her hand and pulled her towards me so we were staring intently into my eyes and I was shocked by the fact that I couldn’t read what she was thinking.

She just stared back at me blankly.

“Stare into my eyes and tell me every emotion you have shown towards me up till now is a lie. Say those words you just uttered to my face” I muttered and she clenched her jaw,

“I don’t like you and I cannot stand your presence any longer. Let go of me” She muttered then tried pulling away but I held her tightly.

"I don't know what kind of sick game you're playing or whatever mood swings you're going through but it's starting to piss me off" muttered and she tilted her head.

"No" I uttered and she frowned.

"No? What do you mean no?" She questioned and I moved closer almost to the point that the tip of our nose was touching.

"I don't know what had gotten over you but I'm going to fuck the truth out of you tonight and you better be ready to beg me..."

CHAPTER 43

Chapter 43 -DAMON- "Let go of me!" Clara screamed as she tried to get out of my hold but I held her firmly. "Why are you acting like I want to *g rape you? Calm down" i uttered with annoyance. What the fk was wrong with her? "I don't want you touching me. Leave me alone" She muttered then yanked her hand out of my grip and took several steps backwards, distancing herself from me. I frowned as I stared at her then let out a sigh. "You know what, I've had a long day and I'm in no mood for your tantrums right now. When you're ready to act mature, you know where to find me" I muttered then stormed out of the room and only paused when I heard her bang her door. "Bh" I muttered as I clenched my fist before storming to my room. "Everyone out now!" I thundered as I walked into the room and the maids and guards immediately scurried out and I closed the door behind me. Let's act like husband and wife she said. Is this how a wife acts? Huh? My mother has never acted like this with my father and they have been married for fg years" I muttered to myself before running my fingers through my hair. Did I do something wrong? Had I said something or had someone said something to her? "Ughh I fg hate this" I uttered then grabbed onto a case and threw it to the ground. It shattered into pieces immediately. "Alpha, are you okay?" I heard Luca's voice from outside my door and I sighed. "Get me tea, I need to relax" I uttered before going over to sit down on my /couch. "Clara" I muttered her name as a feeling of loneliness settled down on me. "I blame you for these damn feelings" I muttered to my wolf who whimpered in return. He was probably having it worse than I was. "I'll just let her sleep it off. Maybe she's just tired" I muttered to myself.

I've had sleepless nights before but tonight because all I wanted was to be with Clara "What the fk is this feelings?" I asked myself but I already knew the answer. As much as I tried to fight it and as much as I tried to hide it, I was falling for my wife. I tapped my fingers on the dining table as I waited for Clara. It was already breakfast time. She was usually out before me.. "Check up on Clara" I told one of the maids and she immediately went to Clara's room. She came back soon after and bowed her head. "Madam Clara wants to have breakfast in bed, Alpha" She muttered and I clenched my jaw. "I don't care what means you use, bring Clara down here now" I muttered to Luca who immediately nodded and left the dining room. I tried eating but I had lost my appetite the minute I stepped in here and Clara wasn't here waiting for me. 11:39 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 43 "Let me poll don't want to eat with him" I could hear Clara screaming all the way. Soon after, Luca dragged her into the dining room and made her seat. "I'm sorry" He apologized before standing beside me. down, eat" i muttered as soon as Clara was about to get up and leave "Sit down, "I'd rather eat in my room" She muttered and I glared at her. €69%% "Don't test my patience you are already on thin ice. Serve her food" I ordered the maids and they immediately did as they were told. Clara let out ait but made no move to run away again. We sat there in silence as she ate her food while I picked at mine because of no appetite. "Do you want to tell me why you're acting the way you are now?" I questioned and she turned to me. "How am I acting?" She questioned and I scoffed.

"Like a gc. What has gotten into you?" I questioned and she sighed. "I'm acting like a fg Lc all because I'm not clingy anymore? All because I don't like you? Can you please let me eat? I have work to get to soon" She uttered and I glared at her. I "If you keep speaking to me in that manner, you won't have a job to go to and you'll never leave this house" I threatened and she scoffed. "Threatening me won't still make me like you, Damon" She muttered and I clenched my fist. "Everyone get out now!" I boomed and they all hurriedly walked out including Luca. I stood up from my chair and walked over to Clara. are "What are you doing?" She questioned then gasped when I grabbed her hand, pulled her up and pushed her against the table. "What are you doing?" She questioned with her eyes wide then gasped when I opened her legs and settled myself in between her thighs. "I don't get what's going on with you but you're my wife and you're going to perform your wifely duties" I muttered and with that, I pulled up her skirt and pulled down her underwear before pulling down my pants and all this while she didn't fight, she just stayed still. I pulled her closer and without wasting any more time, I thrustured roughly into her and she groaned but didn't show any signs on her face. I quickened my pace and my breathing was getting heavy but the expression on her face remained stoic. I groaned then buried my head in her neck as my pace quickened. I couldn't stop the moan that escaped my throat. "Stop this, stop pushing me away. Stop this act" I pleaded into her ear before sinking my teeth into her neck and she whimpered but still no moan, no nothing. I came soon after and immediately pulled out of her before staring down at her with a her with a frown.

She didn't even say anything as she got down from the table, wore her underwear and pulled down her skirt while I stayed there, dk out, staring at her.. "Are you done?'ll take my leave now She uttered and I scoffed. 11:39 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 43 "I regret not accepting to become the Alpha King because of you” I muttered and she froze then slowly looked up at me.. 68% “I didn’t ask you to do that” She muttered and I laughed. I was laughing at myself and this stupid situation I had placed myself in because! had decided to indulge these useless feelings but not anymore. “Luca!” I called out as I wore my pants back. He walked into the dining room. He glanced between us before bowing his head. “Yes Alpha” “Gather Clara’s things and take her down to the coastal villa. She’ll be staying there from now on” I muttered and without saying anything else, I walked past her and out of the dining room without turning back.... Tue, 2 JulThis is from .

Chapter 44 -CLARA- 68%量 I sat down in the car and wrung my fingers as I tried my hardest not to cry. Luca and the guards were helping me pack my load into the car after Damon instructed them to and I didn’t say anything, I just walked towards the car and sat in. I was afraid if I stayed in that house any longer, I might break character and Damon would know something was wrong. “We’re doing the right thing, he can’t find out our secret. He just can’t” I uttered to my wolf when she kept whimpering inside me. I felt so disgusted with myself after the way I spoke to Damon yesterday. My woll even refused to talk to me after that but what could I do?! was afraid and I was protecting myself. I glanced towards the house and there he was standing by the door with a frown on his face as he watched Luca pack up my things. He turned towards me and I sucked in my breath. The windows were heavily tinted but it felt he could see me and it felt like he was pleading with me to stop with this attitude and I really wanted to. Just then, Alicia ia came out of nowhere and went to stand next to him. She had a frown on her face but I knew deep down she was reeling with excitement and I couldn’t help but clench my fist. She might have succeeded in driving me away but I know for a fact that nothing is going to happen between her and Damon so she was never going to win. The trunk of the car slammed shut and I closed my eyes. It was time, time to leave this place I had called my home for weeks now. Time to leave Damon. I turned towards where he was earlier but he was no longer there. I tried to hide the disappointment on my face as Luca got into the car so owns all © content.

he wouldn’t notice. “Are you ready to go, Madam?” He questioned and I nodded. “Yes” The car immediately started and I stared at the mansion till it vanished from my sight and I couldn’t stop the lone tear that slipped down my cheek. “You know if something is going on with you, you can always tell Damon. He has a sharp mouth but he’ll listen especially since it’s from you” Luca muttered after a while and I scoffed. “What? You can’t believe I don’t have feelings for him too? I just don’t want him, nothing is going on with me” I muttered and my wolf grunted disapprovingly. How was I able to lie so effortlessly? Years and years of practice. say so Madam” Luca uttered and said nothing after they ney and I didn’t bring up a conversation too. “If you say I was about dozing off mostly because I hadn’t slept a wink last night when Luca announced that we had arrived. I looked out the window and was pleasantly surprised at how beautiful the mansion was. It wasn’t as big as the one back home.... Home? I laughed at myself. After the way I acted with Damon, I doubted he’d want anything to do with me ever again. "Come on, Clara. I'll show you around and introduce you to everyone" Luca uttered then got out of the car, I followed suit and frowned at how huge the vicinity really was. "I can't stay here on my own, it's too big" I uttered to Luca and he raised an eyebrow. 11:39 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 44 "Sorry?" He questioned like he was trying to make sure he heard me right. 常 68% "I can't stay here, it's too big. Don't get me wrong, it's beautiful but I won't be able to stay here" I muttered truthfully. I didn't really like staying in a home alone, especially one as huge as this.

Sure there would be maids, butlers and other staff but it wasn't the same. "Oh sure Madam, I'll make arrangements immediately. Excuse me Luca uttered as he brought out his phone and took several steps away from me. I glanced around and Damon immediately came to mind. If he was here, I wouldn't have minded staying here. Besides the fact that I couldn't stay alone, I knew everything here was going to remind me of Damon. His scent may still linger in the house just like it lingered on my body. Chills ran down my spine as I remembered our morning sex. It took all my willpower not to moan my brains out. "What do you mean she doesn't want to stay at the house?" My head turned abruptly to Luca when I heard Damon's voice from his phone. "She said it's too big and she can't stay alone here Luca responded. "She's not alone, she's with the fucking maids Damon replied and Luca sighed then said something in a hushed tone that I couldn't hear. "Okay take her to that house" Damon muttered then hung immediately. Luca let out a sigh then turned to smile at me before pointing at the car. "Let me take you to your new home" He murmured and I smiled slightly at him before climbing back into the car. The house he took me to wasn't as big as the one we just came from but it wasn't a small house, it was a duplex and it seemed cozy. It has simple white picket fences and the yard was decent. It was just right for me. The yard was so small that Luca couldn't park the car in so he parked it outside. "Is this place better?" Luca questioned and I nodded with a smile. "Much better, thank you" I uttered then climbed out of the car. The house didn't seem like it had been occupied by anyone for years which made me wonder if anyone had ever stayed here before. "Are you sure?" Luca questioned and I smiled then nodded. "Yes and I think it's closer to work. I can see my work place from here so I won't be needing a driver" I murmured and he frowned. "Damon won't agree to that, he'll get you a driver. Let's go in and don't worry about cleaning the house, some maids are already on their way. Just get comfortable, okay?" Luca uttered and I sighed before nodding. We walked into the house and all the furniture was covered with plastic. Luca turned on the lights and I almost choked on the amount of dust in the house. "Who used to live here?" I questioned as I glanced around. They were tea cups and girly toys scattered all over the floor and the walls were painted baby pink which was very pretty by the way. "No one, this used to be Delilah's playhouse" Luca uttered and I paused as my eyes widened. What? She was given a whole ass house as a playhouse? Jeez! 11:40 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 44 68% Π "It's a little small so I hope you can manage in here for a while till we find a better house. This was last minute and..." "I love it. I hope Delilah won't mind me decorating it a little bit?" I questioned and he smiled. "Go crazy. I'll have the interior designer here tomorrow. If you need anything at all, tell the guards outside or you can call Damon" He uttered and I frowned then took a deep breath before walking towards the window and I furrowed my eyebrows when I saw a car almost identical to Damon's outside the house but when I blinked, it was gone. I let out a sigh as I turned back to Luca. I missed him so much that my brain was starting to play tricks on me. "Shall we check out the whole house?"... 11:40 Tue, 2 Jul

Chapter 45 -DAMON- 68%%% "Has she settled in?" I questioned as soon as Luca walked into my office. "Yes, she seemed to really like the house. She also wants to decorate it so I'll have an interior designer there tomorrow" He muttered and I scoffed. So she really plans on staying there for a long time, huh? "Did she ask of me?" I questioned and he slowly shook his head. "Speak of me?" "Not even once, Alpha" He muttered and I sighed before resting my back on my chair. I was losing my mind. "I think there is something going on with her though, she seemed sad" Luca pointed out and I noticed that too but I can't know if anything is wrong with her if she doesn't say anything. "I don't even care anymore. Two can play that game and I am way better at it. She doesn't want me then fine, I've never begged to be wanted before. In fact, if I walk out now and announce I'm single, I'll be bombarded with women" I boasted and he scoffed. "Maybe your Narcissism is why she doesn't like you" He muttered to himself but I clearly heard him. I picked up my pen and threw it at him and it missed his eye by one inch. "Mind your tucking tone" I muttered and he bowed his head. "Sorry Alpha, won't happen again" Luca muttered and I sighed. "Son!" I suddenly heard my father tell and I groaned. Here comes the nagging, My father stormed into my office with anger in his eyes. "What is this I'm hearing? You sent your wife away? Are you serious?" He questioned and I sighed before sending Luca away. "We had a disagreement" I muttered and he scoffed. "Your mother and I have had countless disagreements but I've never sent her out of the house. That's the biggest form of dishonor, son" He uttered and I sighed. This is from .

"This is necessary for Clara and I and we are nothing like you and mother. We need this break" I I muttered and he sighed. "You and Clara fight every three business working days. If I didn't know better, I'd say you don't like each other" My father uttered and scoffed. That used to be the case and it wished it were still the case. "Can you just let me be? I'd like to be alone" I murmured and he stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh. "I hope you don't plan on living your married life like this? She can't be there and you here, Damon" He uttered and I slammed my fist on the table. "Do you think I like it this way? I'm slowly losing my mind, Father" i revealed, not being able to hold it back in anymore. I should have never agreed to have a no-string sexual relationship with her. These emotions, these feelings all started from that. My father said nothing else and just lyh. I retired to my room and tried forcing myself to sleep. I had an important meeting tomorrow with my stockholders and I dreaded seeing that bastard, Liam at the meeting. The maids brought out my morning coffee and I sat Luca was seated at the table with me. The maids served the both of us and immediately, Luca started eating. "Won't we wait for Clara?" I uttered and was immediately slapped back to reality. She wasn't here. "Erm Alpha..." Luca began. "Shut up" I muttered before angrily shoving the food down my throat. It just felt like I was forcing myself to eat. After a while. I got tired and stood up. Luca wasn't done eating but he had to follow me. We walked towards the car and I took the key from his hand. "I'll drive," I muttered before getting into the driver's seat. Luca got in seconds later and gave me a look before getting in as well I started the car and immediately zoomed off. "Where are we going?" Luca questioned after a while. "The office? Where else?" I questioned and he cleared his throat. "This isn't the way to the office, it's the way to..." I stepped on the accelerator to stop him from talking and it worked. Just like I expected; I arrived at Clara's house just in time. I parked at a corner so it wasn't obvious we were there and watched as she walked out of the house. She was dressed in a tight fitted jean and her work shirt. She looked absolutely beautiful but then again, she looked beautiful in anything. She was about to get into the car when she paused and suddenly turned towards where we were and my breath hitched. "She definitely saw us" Luca muttered beside me and it felt like we were both holding our breath. She climbed into the car and I let out a breath as the car zoomed off. "So this is what you have been reduced to? Stalking your wife?" Luca muttered and I glared at him. "I'm not stalking her, I'm just making sure she's okay" I muttered then started the car and drove towards the company. "By stalking her. Man, you're getting obsessed" He muttered and usually I'd deny it but there was no use anymore, it was quite obvious. I drove back to the company and to say I was not interested in anything was an understatement. I was about to walk into the company when my eyes landed on Liam as he got out of his car. He saw me and smiled then bowed his head at me before walking towards me. "Good day, Alpha Damon" He greeted me and I let my eyes trail down his body before going back to his face that I wanted to punch badly. "Good day, Liam" I uttered and he tried to keep the anger out of his eyes because of her informally I addressed him but I saw it and it made me smirk. I turned around and was about to walk away when he uttered. 11:40 Tue, 2 Jul M Chapter 45 "I heard there's trouble in paradise back home. I heard Clara moved out" I slowly turned towards him and he smirked. 68% "I'm thinking of paying her a visit right after this meeting. What do you think?" He questioned then smiled before walking past me and I clenched my fist. "I'm going to kill they mother fer"... 11:40 Tue.

~CLARA~

It has been three days since I packed out of the mansion and last saw Damon although I always feel like I see his car outside my house every morning and night but that couldn't be. My mind was playing tricks on me.

I've been feeling so lonely and had cried myself to sleep one time. How had I gotten so attached to someone in such a short time? I would never understand this mate pull thing.

True to Lu

Luca's words, the maids came that night and got everything done in seconds. The house was sparkling clean by the time they left and the house was stocked with food. If it were under different circumstances, I would have been ecstatic to be staying in a home as beautiful as this but it just reminded me of the fact that I was alone again.

The interior designer came the next day and I told him all I wanted and that night when I came back, it was all done already and I loved every bit of it. It almost began to feel like a home but was it my home? That question I couldn't answer.

"Dear I don't understand, is the secret that bad that you can't tell me?" Aunt Amelia uttered through the phone as I plopped myself down on my white couch with a bowl of cereal in hand.

"Yes, it's that bad and I don't want to talk about it. Anyway, Damon and I haven't spoken since then. I think he honestly hates me now" I murmured with a sigh before shoving a spoon of cereal into my mouth.

"Well you were rude to him" She pointed out and I rolled my eyes.

"Thanks for pointing that out" I muttered sarcastically and she chuckled.

"Just go out and have fun. Take your mind off him for a while. Don't you have friends?" She questioned and I pouted.

"I have you" I murmured and she laughed.

"I meant friends your age. No friends at work?" She questioned and I sighed.

"Damon's sister, Delilah is my friend but she has been out of the country for a while now. I have a few friends at work but most of them don't like me that much. They are having a work picnic tomorrow but I don't think I'm going to go" I muttered. owns all © content.

"You are going, you need to get your mind off Damon so you're going. Go look for a cute dress right now" She ordered and I groaned.

"No buts, do it" She commanded and I sighed.

"Yes Aunt Amelia" I murmured and she sighed.

“Good. I have to go, my husband keeps pestering me. Sometimes I just feel like Killing him in his sleep” She uttered then—ended the call and I laughed to myself. That’s how I felt when I first met Damon, how quickly things have changed. I still feel like killing him sometimes though,

I let out a sigh then finished my bowl of cereal and was ready to go to bed. I stood up from the couch and had already walked all the way up when I paused, turned around and went downstairs. I glanced out the window and frowned. Damon’s car wasn’t out there

“I told you you were just losing y

Chapter 46

I was nervous as the driver drove me to the park the picnic was being held at. I told Jason last night that I was coming and he immediately sent me the address.

I thought he and his brother were going to hate me because it was quite obvious Damon was the one who got them fired but they acted like it had never happened. I was glad Damon gave them back their jobs though.

“I’ll be waiting here ma’am” The driver uttered as the car came to a halt.

“Oh you don’t have to, you’ll be bored. You can drive around and I’ll call you when I’m done” I uttered and the driver shook his head.

“No ma’am, I’m okay with waiting” He replied and I sighed before climbing out of the car.

I quickly spotted Jason and he waved me over with Job beside him. I could see the dirty looks the females were giving me but I decided to ignore them. Everyone knew that I was staying at Damon’s mansion anymore.

As a matter of fact, the headlines were “WIFE SENT OUT

UT OF HOMET

FOR VARIOUS REASON’

Different rumors were going around and the most frequent one was that Damon got tired of me and threw me out. I never stopped to correct anyone though. What could I possibly say?

“You look beautiful, Clara” Job complimented and I smiled.

One of the women, Jasmine, who I felt hated me the most because of the stink eye she always gave me, suddenly cleared her throat.

“Shall we start?” The picnic started and they all immediately began chatting amongst themselves like old friends. I just kept to myself because I had nothing to say and just enjoyed the cool breeze.

*50 Clara, since we are colleagues, can’t you tell us why you were sent packing?” Jasmine suddenly asked out of nowhere, turning everyone’s attention to me.

“I heard your husband got tired of you. Well you were never anything exciting so that doesn’t come as a surprise” She uttered and the other girls laughed along with her.

“Even if I told you the reason, you have already concluded in your mind your own reason and I don’t have the energy to correct you so think whatever you want. It’s a free world” I murmured and she scoffed.

“You’re just saying that because you know what I’m saying is true. I heard you’re living in an abandoned little house. He didn’t even care enough to give you a mansion of your own” Jasmine uttered and her friends laughed and agreed with her but I just smirked.

“But the house is ten times bigger than the little shed you call a home, ami wrong?” I uttered and everyone gasped.

“You...” Before I could react, She picked up a glass of wine and threw it at me.

“Jasmine!” Jason called out as I quickly stood up from the ground. My whole gown was stained.

ed” She murmured and I glared at her before letting out a sigh

“Opps, my hand must have slipped”

*Coming here was a mistake, I’m going home” I muttered then ran away even despite the fact that Jason and Job were calling my name from behind.

I wiped away my tears angrily. Why the fuck was I crying? I should be used to this kind of humiliation by now.

Upon reaching the car, I looked up and instantly froze.

There Damon was, parked at the other side of the road staring straight at me.

CHAPTER 47

Chapter 47 -DAMON- 68% My blood was boiling as I took in Clara's appearance. As if seeing the anger in my eyes, y eyes, she rushed towards me and placed her small hand on my chest to push me back but that small contact alone was enough to make me hard. "Don't cause a scene here, Damon" She uttered and my eyes dropped down to her soft pink lips. Goddess, I wanted nothing more than to kiss those lips. "Why are you drenched in juice, Clara?" I questioned and she pursed her lips. "I spilled it on myself while standing up and I... She paused when I placed my hand on her face and wiped away her tears. "You are lying straight to my face" I muttered angrily and she frowned. "Just go home, why are you here in the first place?" She questioned and I paused. How do i tell her I've been stalking her since she left and followed her all the way here instead of going to work? "I had work down the road and saw the car so I came to check out why you were here" I replied and it wasn't totally a lie. "Well leave, I can handle this on my own. I don't need your help" She uttered and I tilted my head as my body trailed down her body. "Seems like you're doing a very bad job at handling things on your own" i murmured and she glared at me. "Listen, I don't..." "Hey you two red heads" interjected her words as I called out to the twins behind her staring at me with wide eyes. She turned around and I heard her groan but I ignored her. "Yes Sir, Good day sir" They greeted each other at the same time. "What happened to my wife? I need details" I muttered and could see Clara shaking her head at them but the look in my eyes probably showed them that I was in the mood for games. "One of our colleagues Jasmine threw juice on her" One of the red gaur's uttered and heard her sigh defeatedly. "Take me to her now" I muttered and Clara turned to me with wide eyes. "Why? Can you just leave? Why do you want to see her?" She questioned and I turned to her. "Do you prefer I find her myself? I can assure you, it will be worse I muttered and heard the twins gulp. "Damon..." "Thist is way sir" One of the twins uttered and she turned to glare at him disapprovingly but I could sense that they didn't seem to like Jasmine very much. Good for them, I still didn't want them near my wife. The twins led me to their little picnic ground and as soon as the group saw me, they got to their feet immediately. 13 11:41 Tue, 2 Jul M Chapter 47 "Mr Donovan, It's a pleasure to..." One of them began. "Are you "Ye... yes Jasmine?" | Interjected and she glanced back at Clara, fear already evident in her face. "Damon that's enough" She pleaded and I turned to her, "It's because you're so weak that's why it's easy to take advantage of you. You keep letting filth like them walk over you. You're Clara Donovan now and my wife is not going to be walked on. Kneel before my wife and beg or I'll start taking everything from you one by one till you're left with nothing but your name" I threatened and seeing the seriousness on my face, she fell to her knees in front of Clara immediately. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do that. Please forgive..." "Halt, start again and this time, Blondy over there should record. Go" I ordered and the blond girl immediately brought out her phone to record and by this time, a small crowd had already gathered. "I'm... I'm sorry, Clara..." "Mrs Donovan, be respectful" I muttered through clenched teeth and the girl nodded shakily. "I'm sorry Mrs Donovan, it will never happen again. I'm really sorry" She murmured and I nodded. "Good. Make you post that online unless I'll come for you too" I threatened the blond one and she immediately nodded. I turned around and took Clara's hand before leading her away, I could hear Jasmine crying behind me but that didn't concern me. I was holding Clara's hand again. I dragged her into my car and was about to force her in when she pulled away. "I came here with a car and I'm going to leave with that car" She uttered and I immediately mind linked the driver to drive away and he did. "He's gone" I pointed out as she stared at the speeding car in shock before turning to me with a frown. "My house isn't far from here, I'll walk" She murmured then turned around and started walking down the street. Just then, we heard a loud thunder clap and immediately rain started falling. "Shit! Clara got in the car, you're going to catch a cold" I muttered but she didn't turn around and just kept walking. "Clara... Damnit" I got into my car and turned it around and began driving slowly next to her. This is from .

I questioned and she shook her head without turning to me. "I don't..." I grabbed her hand, spun her around and slammed my lips on hers. My arms immediately wrapped around her waist and I pulled her close. I wanted skin contact, Damnit! I pulled away from her and placed my forehead on hers. "Are you still going to be stubborn?" I questioned. "I don't want to..." I slammed my lips on hers again, I bit her lower lip and she gasped, granting me access into my mouth and I savored her taste for as long as I could before she forcefully pulled away. "Are you still going to be stubborn? I can continue kissing you and never get tired" I murmured and she sighed. "You're a jerk" She murmured softly this time around and I smiled. As I got into the car, I tried my best to stop my heart from racing so fast. I tried my best not to touch my lips as it felt like I could still feel his lips on mine. Oh how I had missed that.

When I saw him earlier, my first thought was to run up to him and hug him while crying on his chest. I missed him so much but I couldn't do that. Even though Alicia wasn't here, I couldn't risk it.

"You'll stop working there" Damon suddenly said, turning my attention to him.

"What? No" I muttered with wide eyes.

"I didn't ask you, Clara" He murmured and I glared at him.

"I'm not quitting Damon and you cannot make me" I replied. I was sure after today Jasmine and her friends won't bother me again so if that's what he was worried about, he had already taken care of that.

pride that coaxed through my veins

I had wanted to be angry when he made Jasmine kneel before me but the overwhelming happiness shocked me. Even though Damon had probably done it for his name and to stop the rumors, it still meant so much to me.

No one, not even Liam or aunt Amelia had gone through such extremes to punish those that offended me but then again, it was Damon, he was always extreme.

"Come work with me. I'll give you your own office and..."

"No" I immediately said and he paused for a while.

"No? You're acting like I'm giving you a choice" He uttered.

"I'm not working with you. You sent me away didn't you? Why do you want me to work with you?" I questioned and he sighed.

"I only sent you a way because you were acting impossible" He replied and I shrugged.

"I don't care and I like being on my own so leave me alone. We are here, stop the car" I murmured as soon as my house came into view.

I could feel Damian's eyes on me for I didn't dare turn towards him.

The car slowly came to a halt in front of the house and I tried opening my door but it was still locked.

I let out a sigh and turned to Damon with a frown.

"Open the..." My eyes widened as he suddenly pressed his lips against mine. I clenched my fist so I won't be tempted to sink my fingers into his hair. Fuck Hoved this, I never wanted it to stop.

"Won't you invite me in, Clara? I am your husband after all" He murmured against my lips and I knew I should be pushing him away before things got too heated and I wouldn't be able to stop myself but I was too tired to fight how I truly felt.

"No, I don't want your

"Why the sudden change, Clara? You were the one who wanted us to act like husband and wife so why are you acting like this?" His voice was soft and I almost gave in and told him everything but this secret could cost me everything and I wasn't ready for that.

He murmured and I could see he meant every

My lips quivered but I held back the tears, I didn't want any of that, I wanted things to go back to the way they were. I wanted to be in his arms again but when he finds out my secret, he'll hate me and would probably reject me then.

I couldn't risk it, I just couldn't risk it.

"Goodnight, Damon" I muttered as coldly as I could and we both stayed quiet for awhile till he pulled away and unlocked my door. I felt his my Aura turn cold and unfamiliar and I knew at that moment, I had lost husband.

"Get out" He muttered and I gave him a curt nod before climbing out of the car, into the rain and Immediately, he zoomed off.

I stood there in the rain for a while, letting my tears get mixed up with the rain as I stared at his car till it disappeared from my sight.

"I'm sorry Damon" I murmured as I cried bitterly.

"Madam you're getting drenched in the rain!" One of the maids yelled as they ran towards me with an umbrella.

I let them lead me into the house and they ran me a warm bath while I just stared into space for what felt like hours as I waited.

Was this all really worth it? Maybe I should just call Damon and tell him the truth?

I reached out for my phone and was about to dial his number when I paused. If I told him, he was going to hate me more than he probably did now. I couldn't risk then.

My tears fell on my screen as I began to cry again. This aching in my heart found only be caused by one thing. Love.

Along the line I had fallen in love with my husband, I had fallen in love with my mate. I tried denying it for so long but what was the use now? I had lost him already. This is from .

"Madam, your bath is really. Please come so you don't catch a fever" One of the maids said and I sighed.

As soon as I stood up from the bench in the kitchen, I stumbled on my feet and my head suddenly felt dizzy.

"Madam, are you okay?" One of the maids questioned but before I could answer, I fell to the ground with a loud thud and my head suddenly began to ring “Madam!” The maids yelled as they ran towards me and tried help me up.

“We need to take her to the hospital now!” One of them yelled but I shook my head.

Chapter 49 68% -DAMON- “Madam Clara fainted yesterday” Luca reported and I paused, my pen dangling over the documents I was signing as I turned to him. “What?” “The men I had placed to watch her said she had stood in the rain for some minutes when you left” Luca reported and I clenched my fist. “They hadn’t thought to cover her with an umbrella earlier?” I questioned and he sighed. The maids covered her with an umbrella and took her inside some minutes later. Before she fainted, she had asked them not to take her to the hospital Luca revealed and I frowned. “Why?” asked and he stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh. “She didn’t want you finding out” He replied and I scoffed. So she was willing to risk her health just so she didn’t have to see me again? “When she woke up, they tried convincing her to go to the hospital but she re...” “That’s enough. I don’t want to hear anymore about her” i muttered, shutting him up and he frowned. “Aren’t you going to see how she’s doing?” He questioned and I tilted my head at him. “Why?” “Because she’s your wife” He replied and I scoffed. She made it pretty clear yesterday that she wanted nothing to do with me and I was ready to return the same energy. I didn’t reply to Luca and after some minutes, he got the message and left. For the next few weeks, I threw myself in work, for the company and for the pack. I was grateful I had a lot to do so I didn’t have to think of Clara that much during the day but during the night, she was all I could think about. Heck I couldn’t even remember all the times I jerked off by just remembering her smell, her touch, her kisses, her moans. I wasn’t proud of it but there was nothing I could do. I followed some of my colleagues to a bar to try and lay off some steam and maybe finally be able to take my mind off Clara but every female that came near me disgusted me. I couldn’t seem to digest the idea of touching another woman other than Clara and it was killing me. I was a man, I needed to get laid but the only woman my body craved didn’t want me. Soon after, I stopped forcing myself to go to the clubs and just drowned myself with tons of work. I even traveled out of the country for a business meeting in the east and despite the fact I was the one who promised not to contact Clára unless it was necessary, I couldn’t even count how many times I almost dialed her number or sent her a text. My parents and sister weren’t making it any easier for me. My father wouldn’t get off my back on how I needed an heir and I needed to make Clara my Luna immediately while my mother just wanted me to bring Clara back and felt like I was being a horrible husband. Ever since Delilah came back, she had been on my case and even packed her bags to go live with Clara for a while after finding out she was sick and I didn’t go and visit her. How do I tell them that I wasn't at fault? It was hard for me too. My life was slowly going back to the way it was before Clara and I met and 1/3 11:42 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 49 didn't know why I hated it. I didn't know how it felt without Clara in my life before but now that I knew I just couldn't go back to my old life. I let out a sigh as I placed my tea cup on the table and turned away from the great view outside my room, I was on another business trip in Paris and I had a clear view of the Eiffel tower from my room window and even from here, I could see couples giggling and chatting as they walked around. Paris was the city of love for a reason and I couldn't help but wish... I internally slapped myself because I could finish that thought. I needed to stop thinking of her. "Alpha, the meeting starts in 20 mins. We need to leave" Luca's voice sounded from the other side of the door and I sighed before sluggishly getting up from the Chair. I wore my suit, carried my bag and phone before walking out of the room.

Luca immediately took everything from my hand and handed it to the guards before telling me about my schedule for today and I pretty much zoned out. It was great that I had a lot to do but I was tired and needed to rest. "What about the Alpha Leader of the west? Are we meeting him today?" I suddenly asked Luca and he nodded slowly. "That's where we are headed to now sir. I just said... anyway we have a meeting with the Alpha Leader first then we have a meeting with the Alpha of this country. He wants to strike a deal with you" Luca uttered and I nodded slowly. A guard opened the door for me and I climbed in at the same time Luca got into the driver seat. "We are headed to the meeting spot now, Alpha" He reported before starting the car and at that minute, my phone rang I considered ignoring it till I saw the caller id and I froze. Clara? Clara was calling me? Why? I contemplated ignoring it to see if she would call again and when the ringing stopped, I instantly began to regret it. What if she didn't call back? What if... The phone began ringing again and this time, I didn't hesitate to pick up. I didn't say anything into the phone but I could hear her soft breathing and a few other voices in the background. She must be at work. "What do you..." I paused my sentence as my eyes widened. She was crying. Why was she crying? "Clara? Are you okay?" I questioned and couldn't keep the concern out of my voice, I saw Luca glance briefly at me through the rear view mirror but my main focus was on the call. "I... I don't know" She murmured then sniffled and I frowned. What happened? Weruh again by those girls? "I..." "I miss you Damon. I can't take it anymore, I miss you" She revealed and I instantly, froze while my heart thumped loudly. "What?" I questioned in shock and she sighed. Belongs © to .

"Wait for me, I'm coming" I muttered before ending the call and turning to Luca. "Turn the car around and head to the airport now. Tell them to get the jet ready immediately" I murmured and Luca sighed. "But sir, this meeting..." "My wife is more important and I need to get to her as soon as possible. She wants me" I

Chapter 50 -CLARA- 68% The last few weeks have been torture. e. After I fainted, I hadn't wanted to go to the hospital so Damon wouldn't think I was doing it to get his attention but I wouldn't lie that I hoped... no I wished and prayed that he'd come visit me and make sure I was okay but he didn't, he never showed up. Luca came to visit me but bore no news or message from Damon so that was a bummer. I acted sick for a while to see if Damon would come but he never did. The only person that made the last few weeks bearable was Delilah. She had come to stay with me claiming she couldn't stand her brother because she found out he drove me out. Her taking my side surprised me because I knew Damon was like a hero in her eyes. She moved into my room even though there were two other rooms in the house and made me go out with her every weekend. We'd go out to clubs and have the time of our lives or go shopping but each time we came back, all I could think about was Damon and what he had said the last time we saw. Somehow, it felt like he really meant what he said and it was tall taking a toll on me. I shook off the thought as I got ready for work while Delilah whined behind me. "I don't know why you have to go to work, you have money already. Even though you and my brother are having this break from one another, he'll still get you whatever you want" She uttered and I sighed. "Well I don't like depending on anyone. One day he may wake up and decide he doesn't want me anymore and takes away everything he has given me till I'm left with nothing and I don't want that" I murmured and I saw her frown through the mirror. "My brother would never do that. Not only because of his damn big ego but he's not that horrible" She uttered and I frowned. "I know he's not a horrible person but I'm just taking repercussions, it's nothing against him. Besides, I love working. It takes my mind off a lot of things" I murmured and by things I meant Damon. "Hmm maybe I should get a job too. Maybe I could work at where you work. So you think I can get a job there?" She questioned and scoffed. sure you can get any kind of job you want" I murmured and her "Everyone fears the name Donovan, Delilah and you're a Donovan. Pretty sure your eyes widened. "Maybe I should follow you to work and see how it is then I might apply" She murmured and I smiled. She was being clingy all of a sudden and I didn't know if it was because she felt sorry for what her brother did or she just genuinely liked my company although I knew for a fact that this last few weeks, I've been a Debby downer because of Damon but she still stayed by my side. *Thank you for being my friend, Delilah. Beside Aunt Amelia, I've never really had a friend before" I murmured and she smiled before getting out from the bed and running towards me. "Me too. People only want to get to know me because of my status or money but you're different" She murmured then threw her arms around me and I tried not to sigh. The reason I had agreed to this whole ordeal with Damon was because of money. I had to wait for Delilah to get ready then she followed me to work. Ever since what Damon did to Jasmine in the park and since everyone online was making fun of her because of the trending video, she kept her distance from me but I could see the glares she threw at me from afar but I ignored them all. 11:42 Tue, 2 Jul

I noticed the way the manager intentionally gave me jobs that didn’t require strength or energy. Almost like she was being careful with me but I didn’t read too much into it because she always treated me differently from the rest since I was a Donovan. Anytime I delivered a meal to a table, Delilah would flash me a smile and a thumbs up. Sometimes she would even clap excitedly and as cute as it was, I didn’t really appreciate the attention her enthusiasm was getting me. I sat down there and was about to close my eyes to take a quick rest when the door opened up. “You must think you’ve won right? Because you disgraced me, huh?
