-DAMON-

My lips were on Clara's as I pushed her back into the house, Fuck, I wanted to be buried in her so bad. My whole body was shaking with anticipation and this was the first time I had ever wanted to fuck someone so badly.

"Your room" I murmured in between kisses and she pointed at the stairs,

"It's up" She replied and I groaned, I couldn't wait that long.

I pulled away from her slightly and tore open her shirt. She gasped lightly but my lips were immediately on hers before she could say a word.

"I get you another shirt" I muttered as I lifted up her skirt then slammed her back gently against the wall. My hands were fast on her and I wanted to savor the feel on her skin and her taste but I could do all that after I had had my fill of her

I quickly pulled down my pants and underwear then lifted her up slightly and she immediately wrapped her leg around my waist.

"I'm going to be rough, Clara" I growled and she moaned.

"Just fuck... ahh!" She screamed as I slammed into her roughly. My pace immediately quickened up while I grabbed onto her breast and sucked on her taut nipples.

"Yes Damon!" She moaned and I groaned. Fuck, how I have missed that sound.

My thrust became rougher and I was almost afraid that I was hurting her but the way she was moaning and clinging onto me suggested otherwise.

That night, I had fucked Clara on every corner of the house. On the floor, in all the bathrooms, on the table, in the kitchen. Goddess! It was like I couldn't get enough of her. I wanted to be buried in her forever but I couldn't.

Despite her encouraging me to continue, I could see that she was getting tired and her core was starting to hurt because of how sensitive it

I carried her up to her room and had just one round with her before laying down next to her on the bed. We listen to each other's breathing for a while, just enjoying each other's presence.

"Turnaround, I want to see your face I murmured and she immediately turned around before staring down at her.

ore than to suck on them but I needed to let her body rest for a while.

Her nipples were still red and taut and I wanted nothing more

"I should be going" I murmured with no intention of getting up.

"You Should" She replied but her hold on me tightened which made me smile.

"I'll leave later" I replied then snuggled closer to her and she sighed with content and soon after, she fell asleep on my chest. I didn't know! loved this feeling of her in my arms till today.

Before I knew it, I fell asleep as well and was woken up by Clara's groan

"What is it?" questioned without opening my eyes.

"I want to pee but you're crushing me with your weight" She whined and my eyes slowly opened and that was when I noticed I was lying on top of her.

I rolled away from her and she immediately jumped out of bed and ran towards the bathroom while I stared at her cute plump butt.

She came out seconds later with a sigh then groaned as she walked back to the bed.

"I hurt everywhere" She murmured and I chuckled before opening up my arms for her and she immediately climbed into it.

“You asked me not to stop,” I murmured and she sighed.

“I didn’t know the repercussions” She replied then turned her head slightly to glance at the clock and immediately gasped.

“Oh my! I’m so late for work. It’s 11:30” She shrieked and was about to move away but I held her tight.

“You don’t have to go anywhere” I murmured and she frowned.

“I know I’m a Donovan but that doesn’t mean I’ll have to be treated differently. My colleagues already hate me as it is. Besides, my boss can get fed up with me at any point” She murmured and I couldn’t resist placing a kiss on her lips.

“What boss?” I questioned and she furrowed her eyebrows.

“My boss. The manager? You have met her a couple...”

“She’s not your boss” I interjected and she frowned.

“Damon, I’m not in the mood for.

“I bought the place under your name so you’re the Boss, not her” I uttered and she immediately froze as she stared at me with wide eyes.

She was in that position for a minute before letting out a gasp.

“You have got to be kidding me” She muttered and I shook my head.

“I have no times for joke. Now, come here so I can hold you” I murmured with my arms opened but she shook her head then stood up from the bed with made me sigh.

“Let me get this straight. You bought the entire building under my name which means I’m now the owner?” She pointed and I nodded.

“Yeah. I know it’s not a big building but....

“Why would you do that?!” She screeched and I furrowed my eyebrows.

“Because I didn’t want you being bullied anymore. Now you can hire those that respect you and kick out those that don’t. The main reason for this is for everyone to know that they can’t mess with my wife and nothing you say can change anything. The building is yours now, accept it” I murmured then folded my arms and she stared at me for a while before letting out a defeated sigh and falling back into my arms.

“You are impossible” She murmured and I smiled before placing a kiss on the top of her nose.

“But you love me anyway” I uttered absentmindedly and her whole body immediately froze in my arms.

“You need to leave now, Damon” She muttered coldly and was about to pull away from me but I just tightened my arms around her.

“No you don’t get to act that way with me again” I muttered and she sighed.

“Damon...”

“No matter what you say, I’m not going to believe you don’t like me or you can’t stand me because last night and right now proves otherwise. I don’t know what’s going on with you but you can tell me. Is there a reason you were acting that way towards me before?” I questioned softly as I caressed her face while she just stared at me.

“Don’t give me that bullshit, Clara. Don’t make me try and find out myself because it will get bloody then. Tell me” I urged but she just pursed her lips and shook her head.

“I can’t” She murmured then I sighed.

“You give me no choice than to find out for myself then but know that I’m not giving you space again. You’re my wife and if I want to be with you then I’ll be with you“...

I knew there was no use a with the consequences.

“You still won’t tell me what the matter is?” Damon questioned as he snuck up behind me in the bathroom and wrapped his arms around

“I thought you were going to find out?” I and he groaned.

“That’s too much work, why can’t you just tell me?” He whined like a child and I couldn’t help but giggle as I admired how cute he was through the mirror.

“Because there’s nothing wrong” I murmured and he sighed.

“Okay then move back into the mansion with me” He uttered and I hurriedly shook my head.

“I can’t, I don’t want to” I murmured knowing fully well if Alicia learnt of this, she wouldn’t hesitate to tell Damon and everyone else.

“This is what you wanted in the first place, right? You’ll stay over at the mansion and I’ll stay far away. What’s the problem now?” I questioned and he frowned.

“You know what the problem is Clara, things aren’t the same between us as it was in the beginning” He uttered and I sighed. This belongs to .

I uttered and he stared at me with confusion etched on his face.

“What? So you want our relationship to be a secret now? That’s bullshit, Clara. We are fucking married and we have a duty to uphold. Despite whatever is going on between us, I still need you to get the Alpha King’s title” He muttered and I stared at him for a while then slowly pulled my hand out of his grip.

“Your father is more than willing to give you the title now, you’re the one that doesn’t want to take it” I muttered and I scoffed.

“Yes because of your” He screamed

“Why? I didn’t ask you to do that!” I screamed back.

“You really want to know why?! Because I don’t want to let you go yet! I’m not ready to face reality again. I’m not ready to give you up!” He screamed and we both went silent as we stared into each other’s eyes that were filled with different emotions.

My heart was reeling with happiness having heard him confess that and I knew it was showing on my face. I took a step forward and wrapped his arms around his waist.

“Just give me time, I’ll try to settle everything and then I’ll ll come back with you” I pleaded and he sighed.

“I can only understand if you tell me what’s going on. Did something happen back at the mansion that’s making you not want to stay there anymore? Talk to me, Clara” He murmured and I grabbed onto his face.

“Maybe one day I’ll tell you but for now just give me time, I’m begging you” I murmured and he stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh then placing a kiss on my lips.

What was supposed to be some minute bath turned into an hour plus because Damon wouldn’t leave me alone and I wasn’t complaining. Sex always felt good with Damon

Soon after we got out of the bathroom and I got ready in the closet while Damon sent one of the guards to bring his luggage from his car. While he waited, he watched me get ready and I was very aware of how his eyes were watching me intently “So Daman” I called out and he raised an eyebrow at me.

“Yes?” He replied and I sighed

So Jasmine wanted to taunt me and showed me a picture of you in the club with another girl on your lap. I won't be mad if you slept with someone else because I was the one who pushed you away but...

“didn't sleep with anyone else, Clara. Heck i haven't been able to sleep with anyone else after I tasted you. I'd admit I went there to get Laid and to get my mind off you but it didn't work” He revealed and I was relieved to hear that he hadn't slept with anyone during our break and also happy to know that he hasn't slept with anyone else since he had me

“I can't be with anyone else besides you for now” I murmured truthfully and he smiled before placing a kiss on my lips.

“Good, same. Now get dressed before I change my mind about any of us going to work and fuck you in this closet” He threatened and squealed then ran away from him as he chuckled.

Soon after, we got in the car after eating breakfast and Damon drove me to my work place. I still couldn't believe I was the owner no

Now I understood why the Manager's attitude towards me was more suffocating than before.

“Why don't you cook dinner for tonight?” Damon uttered as he briefly glanced at me.

“Are you staying for the night?” questioned and he chuckled.

“You don't want me to stay for the night?” He questioned

“do” I replied firmly and he laughed

“I was going to stay anyway so cook dinner, okay? I miss your cooking even though I’ve only tasted it once” He murmured and I grinned, “Okay husband, your wish is my command” uttered and we both laughed. I finally felt free and happy again. I could only wonder how long it would last.

“See you later then” I murmured and was about to open the door when Damon grabbed my hand and pulled me back then placed a kiss on my lips.

“You’ll give me goodbye kisses from now on” He murmured and I chuckled.

As I walked towards the shop, I felt a new sense of authority and pride but as soon as I walked in, I came face to face with Jasmine scowl.

“Wow! Who do you think you are? You’re coming to work in the afternoon just because you’re a Donovan so you think you’re better than us right?!” She screamed, turning everyone’s attention to us.

I let out a sigh and tried walking past her but she grabbed my hand and pulled me back.

“I’m talking to...” I slapped her across the face before she could get her sentence out and she stared at me in shock. I could see her reaction mirrored almost everyone’s in the shop.

“I’ve been tolerating your attitude towards me because I understand that you’re jealous and want to live my life but I won’t tolerate it again. You either respect me or you get out” I muttered through clenched teeth and she scoffed.

“Who do you think you are?!” She yelled.

“I’m the new owner of Urban grind and that means I’m now your boss and as your boss, I’m firing you Jasmine” I muttered and she stared at me in shock.

WE

“But that’s impossible, you...”

“Like you said, I’m a Donovan so nothing is impossible for me. Get your things and get out of my shop now. Don’t let me call security” I threatened and she glared at me with tears in her eyes then huffed before running away crying.

I stood up straight then stared at everyone.

“If you know you are going to disrespect me then you might as well follow her” I muttered, staring pointed at Jasmine’s minions who were looking at anything but me.

When no one made any move to leave, I smiled.

“Then get back to work. I’m terribly sorry for the disturbance, please go back to your coffees and business while we attend to you” i murmured and immediately everyone went back to chatting.

I smiled brightly and was about to walk away when I caught sight of Damon standing at the door.

I turned around and there he was leaning against a wall with a proud smile on his face.

“Now that’s my wife” He uttered and I grinned...

CHAPTER 53

Chapter 53 DAMON- “The equilibrium between the leaders of the east, south and west is almost non-existent. The leaders have begun fighting dominance. How do you provide a solution for this?” My father uttered as he sat in front of my table and I sighed. He has been trying his best to teach me so I’ll accept the Alpha king title earlier and at first I didn’t mind it but it was becoming a pain in the a Especially when I was counting down the hours before I could be with Clara again. “So they are fighting for power?” I questioned and he nodded. tboard the leader of the southern wolves is trying to conquer the west and would move to the east soon” My father uttered and I sighed. “There is one supreme leader and that is us which gives us the power to remove any leader that doesn’t want to abide by the rules of our ancestors. A warning letter should be sent to them and if they still want to fight for dominance then they should be removed with immediate effect and no one from their lineage can assume that position ever” I uttered and he smiled. “Good son but what if they stage a fight against the north which is us?” He questioned and I scoffed. -Staging a war against us is like a death sentence but if they still wish to then they are free to lead the battle myself” I muttered and he stared at me for a while then smiled. “Spoken like a true Donovan. Luca will carry out your orders and your letters will be sent to the leaders” My father uttered and I raised an eyebrow. “They won’t listen to me. I don’t...” Before I could complete my sentence, he placed his seal on my table and my eyes widened. This was the Alpha king’s seal. “Why are you giving me this?” I questioned and he smiled. “Because you have earned it son. I may not agree with most things you do in your personal life but when it comes down to business, you get the work done without emotions. A true Alpha King should be able to pass down true and just orders and you have given me more reason to believe you’re right for the role. Keep the deal, it will be yours anyway. I’ll go attend to your mother now before she gets angry” He muttered then walked out of the room before I could utter a word. Luca, who had been standing beside me, took a seat on the couch with a low whistle. -Your father really wants you to assume the role of the Alpha King” Luca uttered and I sighed. “He’s doing it for selfish reasons. Like he said, he wants to travel the world with my mother and offload all his work on me” I muttered and Luca sighed. “Either way, you’re not going to be able to push it off for too long. He’s going to start getting suspicious” He uttered and I sighed because I knew he was right. “If you want Clara by your side, why can’t you guys just go against the contract and be with one another? Why must you get rid of her?” Luca murmured and I turned to him. “Even if I wanted to keep her, I can’t. The entire wolf race is against me becoming Alpha King but they can’t do anything because they can’t bring me down because I have no weakness but if Clara becomes my weakness and they find out...” “You are afraid they’ll use her against you” He finished and I sighed. “I’m afraid she’ll get hurt and she just wants to live a normal life and I’m going to grant her that. No one deserves to live in a life of fear, especially her. I know how to handle things when I’m on my own, I can’t bring her into this. I have too many enemies and I know my family can take care of themselves but Clara can’t I murmured and at that minute, my phone rang. A smile slowly appeared on her face as I saw the caller ID. Speaking of the devil “Missed me already, little devil?” I murmured into the phone and she sighed.

“Yes” Her confirmation made my heart skip a beat. I loved the fact that she was so open about her feelings. “Do you want me to pick you up? I’m done with work now” I murmured and Luca eyes widened before he glanced down at the tons of work on my desk “No, Jason and Job volunteered to take me home” She uttered and I frowned. “If you dare get into their car, I’ll burn down their house. Wait for me, I’m on my way” I ended the call before she could say anything and stood up from my chair, “You need to review those papers today, Alpha. You...” “Bring them to Clara’s house. I’ll do it there” I murmured and his eyes widened. “Wait, you’re staying over at her house? Didn’t you guys just settle yesterday?” He questioned and I raised an eyebrow. “So? Do as I say” I muttered before picking up my phone and walking out of the office. I got out of the company and got into my car. “Where to sir?” The driver questioned. “My wife’s shop” I uttered and immediately started the car and drove away. Soon after, we got to the shop and I found Clara standing outside. She was frowning down at her phone and I really wondered why. As if she felt my eyes on her, she raised up her head and a beautiful smile immediately adorned her face. She immediately came running towards the car before it stopped. "You took forever, I almost went with Jason and Job" She teased and I frowned. "You really want me to hurt those two, don't you?" I muttered with a deadpan expression and she giggled then turned around and got into the car. "Let's go home?" She questioned and I shook my head. "That isn't home" I muttered and she rolled her eyes. "Let's go" She murmured and I nodded at the driver who immediately started the car and drove.

away. "Why were you frowning at your phone carer?" I questioned and she shook her head with a smile. "Don't worry about it" She murmured then moved closer to me and I wrapped my arms around her with a frown There was definitely something she was hiding and I was going to get to the bottom of it..

CHAPTER 54

Chapter 54

-CLARA-

We got the house and I immediately got out of the car with Damon following suit. I rounded the car then interlocked my arm with us...

"Would you help me cook dinner?" I questioned and he scoffed.

"If you want food poisoning then sure" He muttered sarcastically and I rolled my eyes.

"Oh come on, I'll teach you and be there with you" I murmured and he sighed as I dragged him into the house.

We went upstairs to change out of our work clothes and went down for business. My casual clothes was an old faded blue shirt with a pair of shorts while Damian's was in a very high standard sweats. Come to think of it, I have never seen Damian in anything casual before...IN could call this one casual.

My eyes trailed down on him and I couldn't help but salivate over how hot he looked in gray sweats. Goddess, how could someone be so sexy in sweats?

"Clara" He called out my name, snapping me out of my trance and I turned to him with wide eyes then cleared my throat.

"We should get started on dinner" I muttered then turned around and hurriedly walked into the kitchen. I heard his chuckle behind me before he walked in as well.

"What would you like to eat?" I questioned then glanced up at him and sucked in my breath when I saw the desire in his eyes.

“You, any day, any time” He murmured while staring intensely into my eyes and I had to force myself to look away. If we had sex now, I’d be too tired to cook.

“Maybe later but for now...” I trailed off as I walked towards the cupboard to see what we had.

“How about Pasta or Lasagna? We also...” I sucked in my breath as soon as he pressed his body against my back side. I hadn’t even heard him move.

-We

We can eat food later, I want you now” He murmured and groaned as my body was already reacting to his.

“I won’t be able to cook afterwards” I murmured then bit my lower lip as he placed a sloppy kiss on my neck.

“I’ll be quick” He muttered and I resisted the urge to scoff. Damon was anything but quick.

He spun around and before I could argue, he pressed his lips to mine and lifted me off the floor.

Timmediately wrapped my legs around his waist and gave in to his kiss. How could I fight such sweet pleasure?

He placed me on the kitchen counter and I gasped when he pulled away from the kiss and captured my already hardened nipples in his mouth through my shirt.

“I can smell your arousal, baby” He murmured then groaned before biting down gently on my nipple and I cried out.

He dug his fingers into my underwear and moaned when he touched d my clit.

“Da...Ahh!” I cried out as he began pumping his fingers in and out of me.

“Fuck you’re so wet baby” He murmured and my whole body shook as he rubbed my clit with his thumb while still pumping into me.

Chapter 54

“Oh fuck! Oh Damon!” I screamed and he groaned then pulled away.

I turned to him with a glare and he chuckled before picking me up from the counter and taking me out of the kitchen.

“Where are we going?” questioned with a frown and he kissed my lips.

“I can’t eat you out on the kitchen counter so I’m taking you up to the room” And he was damn true to his words.

I writhed and begged him not to stop his sweet pleasure while I squirted more than I’ve ever before and I felt embarrassed at first but the look in Damon’s eyes made me feel so wanted.

He climbed on top of me minutes later and thrust into me. I let out a loud dragged out moan then dug my fingers into his back as his pace quickened.

He placed his head at the side of face and muttered all kinds of sweet nothings into my ear but what made this more pleasurable was how he kept moaning and his whole body was slightly shaking above me due to pleasure.

I couldn’t even count at this point at how many times I had before Damon finally stilled above me and groaned as he exploded his seed Inside me.

“Fuck, you’re going to be the death of me” He murmured as he buried his fingers into my hair and I felt myself come again as I felt his seed leaking out of me.

We stayed in that position for a while just listening to each other’s breathing.

“I won’t be able to cook again and you were not quick” I pointed out and he chuckled before placing a kiss on my lips.

“That doesn’t matter. Do you want a home made meal or should we order out?” He questioned as he gently pulled out of me and laid beside me.

“How about we go out for dinner? What do you think? It’s nothing fancy, we can go to the pizza place down the street and I bet you it’s amazing” I murmured and he furrowed his eyebrows.

“I’ve never h ad pizza before” He revealed and my eyes widened in shock.

“You must be joking” I uttered and he shook his head.

“I’ve never had a burger as well. I’ve never ordered out but Luca does but I just never had the urge to taste what he buys everything. I’m a picky eater” He uttered and I was stunned for a while. I was just finding out my husband was a picky eater.

because you made it for me” He uttered and even though he has said it before, his words didn’t fail to make my heart swell

I leaned closer and placed a kiss on the tip of his nose.

“I’d like to share at least one first experience with you so we are going out to eat pizza and if we see burgers, we’ll buy that too” I murmured then slowly stood up and hurriedly jumped out of bed before he could grab me and go for round two again.

We had our baths separately then we had to change outfits so Damon wore a black shirt and black pants and goddess, he looked magnificent,

“Fake husband” My woll reminded me and I rolled my eyes. There was nothing fake about the feelings we were showing each other now and that was all that matters.

Damon urged me to wear one of his shirts and even wanted me to wear his pants but that was where I drew the line.

I took his shirt and wore it with a pair of bum shorts and sandals.

“How do I look?” I questioned as I turned to face me. He gave me a black shirt so it almost looked like we were matching.

His eyes trailed down my body and his eyes lit up with approval.

Do you know why I didn't want to get you your own clothes then?” He questioned as he outstretched his hand towards me and immediately took it.

“Why?” I questioned softly as he pulled me towards him.

“Because I loved seeing you in my clothes. I've never liked seeing anyone in my clothes till you” He revealed and my eyes widened.

“But we didn't like each other then” I murmured and he stared at me for a while then placed a kiss on my forehead.

“Let's go before the shop closes” He murmured then dragged me out of the room.

We hadn't even gone that far down the stairs when I heard Delilah's laugh. Belongs © to .

“I can see you both are finally done banging your brains out. Make your room or better yet, this whole house sound proof. I'm sure everyone could hear” She called out from the living room and I was sure my face was as red as a tomato.

*She's not coming with us” Damon grumbled and I chuckled. We walked into the living room and the smile immediately dropped from my face when I saw Alicia sitting down next to Delilah.

Alicia stared straight at me with a smile but I could see the anger in her eyes and I knew I had messed up. Delilah noticed my eyes on Alicia and cleared her throat.

“Oh Alicia...she said she wanted to apologize for how she treated you before so I brought her with me. I hope you don't mind, Clara?” Delilah questioned turning my attention to her.

“Yes, do you mind, Clara? I didn't expect Damon to be here. Weren't you guys fighting?” She questioned and instinctively, I yanked my hand out of Damon's and he definitely noticed but didn't say anything and just grabbed my hand and interlocked our fingers again.

"She minds, get her out of here Delilah. You should have asked her first" He scolded and Delilah frowned.

"I messaged her but she didn't reply because she was busy with you" Delilah tried defending herself but Damon was right. She should have called me now my cover was blown. Alicia knew everything and it won't be long but she told everyone my secret.

I was officially done for..

Chapter 55 -DAMON- use and I didn't even even know what to say. The car ride down to the pizza shop was quiet. Clara hadn't said a word since she got out of the house and I briefly glanced at her and the worry on her face made me frown. What could possibly be going on? "Did Alicia do something to you?" I questioned and she gasped before turning to me with wide eyes. "No... why would you ask that? She..." "I'm not an idiot, Clara. I saw the way your mood dimmed immediately you saw her. What did she do to you?" I questioned and she stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh. "She didn't do anything. Fm... I'm not just comfortable with her around" She murmured and I hummed. I knew there was more to it but urging for answers might just make Clara close off to me again and I didn't want that, not when the night has been going so well I grabbed onto her hand and gave it a little squeeze. "Don't let her dampen your mood and besides she's not here, it's just you and me I murmured and she stared at me for a while then smiled. "You are right, it's just you and me so I can relax" She muttered and tried pulling out her hand from my hold but I held onto it tightly and even interlocked our fingers. She glanced up at me and smiled and this time, it was genuine. Her fingers tightened around mine and I let out a breath I hadn't known! was holding way this time. Maybe she wasn't going to push me away We got to the pizza shop and the sight of the shop seemed to visibly lift her mood. "You have got to taste the deluxe pizza. It's the best" She uttered as we both climbed out of the car.

I walked over to her and interlocked our fingers again before leading her into the shop. As soon as we walked in, Like always all eyes fell on us and if it was in the past, I would have relished in the attention and would have scanned the room for a potential woman I could spend the night with but that was the last thing on my mind. I was all too aware of Clara's presence beside me and she was all I could think about. We got to the counter and the woman behind it kept staring at me with a dreamy look in her eyes but I ignored her and stared down at Clara. "You said the deluxe pizza right? Anything else?" I questioned softly and she stared up at me with a smile. "Can I get an Oreo milkshake with that?" She questioned and I nodded before turning to the woman who was staring at Clara with a frown. "You heard what my woman said, right?" uttered coldly and she turned to me with wide eyes. "Yes... I'll. I'll get it ready in a few minutes. Would you like a drink too, sir?" She questioned and I shook my head. "My wife and I will share her drink" I murmured and the woman nodded. 1/3 11:45 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 55 "Do a deluxe pizza with Dree milk shake and two straws" She muttered and I shook my head need for two straw. CHAPTER 56

Chapter 56 -CLARA- Damon drove us back to the house in silence and when we got there, he got down from the car first before I could stop him. I let out a sigh as I sat in the car for a second. He was trying to make things difficult again. I climbed out of the car and stomped my way towards him. "Go home" I muttered through clenched teeth and he turned to me with his head tilted. "Will you come with me?" He questioned and I scoffed, "Of course not" I uttered and he nodded: "Then this small little house is home for me now as well" He muttered and was about to turn away when I ran and stood in front of him. "Go home, Damon" I told him and he shook his head. "No" He said simply and I groaned. Why was he so difficult? I had already seen Alicia's message when we were at the pizza shop but I was too scared to open it. If you won't leave then fine, I'll leave instead I muttered then walked past him and began walking down the road. "Clara, stop being unreasonable and come back here" Damon yelled from behind me but I didn't turn, I just kept walking forward. "Why are you acting this way all of a sudden?" He questioned as he marched up to me. "Oh like you care" I muttered and he scoffed. I do care and I sure as hell know you know I care. Goddess, I wish I didn't because this is bt!" He yelled and I halted in my steps then looked up at the sky to stop the tears from flowing down. "We need to kill this relationship, Damon. Just please leave me alone" I murmured and I hadn't known he was standing close to me till he grabbed my arm and spun me around.

He stared into my eyes and as if seeing all the emotions running through them, his face softened. "Tell me what the problem is" He murmured softly as he grabbed onto my face but I pulled away immediately and took a step back. "Go home. Don't come visit me again" I murmured then hurriedly ran past him and into the house. I locked the door behind me and watched him. He stood there for a while then turned around and walked towards his car. Seconds later, I stood by the door for a while as tears rolled down my cheeks. Why did things have to be this way? Should I just tell him and get it over with? What if Alicia had already told his parents my secret? Would they hate me? As these thoughts ran through my head, I suddenly got a call from Alicia. I stared at the phone for a while, allowing it to ring before picking up and pressing it to my ear. "I'll let you off the hook this time because I'm not a devil and I don't want anyone to know your disgusting secret but if you so much as come in contact with Damon again, I'll let the show world know and I fg mean it" After saying all that, she immediately ended the call and I stood there for what felt like hours just thinking about Damon and the last few hours we had spent together. 1/3 Chapter 56 I was so attached to him now that I didn't even know what to do without him anymore. I let out a sigh and sluggishly went up to my bed and forced myself to sleep. Maybe by tomorrow, I will feel better. I couldn't help but wish I didn't have these strong feelings for Damon. If we had just stuck to the original plan I hadn't wanted to know how he tasted then this would have been an easy task and nobody would have gotten hurt. I won't be hurting this way. "Oh goddess, can't I just be happy for once?" I murmured into nothingness then cried myself to sleep. The next morning, I was viciously woken up to the sound of my phone ringing. I let out a groan and this belongs to .

I grabbed onto my phone to see that Delilah had given me twenty missed calls. "What the..." I trailed off as I quickly dialed her number despite the sleep in my eyes "Delilah, what..." Damon was involved in an a disappeared. involved in an accident last night. He's in the hospitall" She screamed into my ear and any form of sleep immediately Before my brain could register it, I was already out of bed and putting on my coat. "What hospital?" I questioned as I ran out of the room with wide eyes. She told me and I immediately hung up. "We are going to my husband, Be as fast as you can be ordered the driver as I climbed into the car. It was still very early in the morning so the sun hadn't risen yet. I fidgeted in my seat and kept biting my nails out of anxiety. Was it because of me? Was it because I drove him away? Oh goddess please! We got to the hospital which was in the pack and I didn't even wait for the driver to park the car before jumping out of it "Be careful madam!" The driver and guards yelled but I wasn't listening. I needed to see my husband. I walked into the office and didn't even need to say anything before I was led towards Damon's ward which was a separate ward for only the Donovans I barged i into the room and everyone immediately turned to me including Damon who looked perfectly fine but was laying on the bed. "Damon" I called out his name as I ran to his side and he scoffed. "So I see only my death can bring you back to me, huh?" He murmured and I frowned before punching his chest. "You fg scared me! I thought you were seriously hurt or something but you look perfectly fine" I muttered as tears threatened to escape my eyes. "I asked Delilah to make it seem that way so you'd come" He murmured and that's when the tears came streaming down before I could stop it. "Everyone out, I want to be with my wife" He murmured as he grabbed onto my hand and pulled me closer to him. As soon as everyone was gone, he placed me on his lap and pressed a kiss on my lips. "Will you tell me what the matter with you is now?" He questioned softly and I shook my head. 2/3 "You'll hate me if if you f find out. "Why is she here? Carry that witch out of here!" She screamed then suddenly barged into the room with a deathly look in her eyes as she stared at me. I tried walking toward Alicia but Damon held onto me tightly.. "Are you insane, Alicia? How dare you?!" Damon boomed so loudly, his parents and everyone rushed into the room while Delilah was trying to hold Alicia back. "That girl is deceiving you, Damon. She's..." "Enough! Get her out of here" Damon ordered and Luca immediately rushed forward and tried holding onto Alicia. "Alicia, let's talk about this..." I began as I walked towards her and when I was close enough, she slapped me across the face. Everyone immediately went silent until Damon's loud growl was heard. Before I could react, Damon was out of bed and had Alicia pinned against a wall with his fingers wrapped around her neck. "How dare you hit my wife?" Damon muttered through clenched teeth. "That's because you don't know her secret. She's..." I immediately rushed towards them before she could complete her sentence. "Alicia, please, I'm begging you! Don't!" I pleaded as I ran towards her but the sinister look in her eyes told me that it was over for me. She was going to let everyone know my secret. "Clara is Barren, she can never give you a child not an heir" She muttered and everyone went quiet before slowly turning to me and my knees immediately gave in and I fell to the ground while shaking with fear. "What?" Damon questioned softly and I immediately grabbed onto his leg. "I can explain, please Damon let me explain" I pleaded and he let go of Alicia's neck before turning to me and the hurt in his eyes broke me. "You can't give me an heir?" He questioned softly and my hands tightened on his leg. "Damon please let me explain" I pleaded and his eyes suddenly turned cold and in a blink of an eye, he suddenly looked so unfamiliar before my eyes. "You had all the chances to explain but you didn't and now, I don't want to listen anymore. Get her out of here, Luca and get the fg divorce papers ready".... 11:46 Tue, 2 Ju

Chapter 57 -DAMON- "Are you really serious about the divorce? Luca questioned as he stormed into my office hours later: After I asked him to take Clara home, I stormed into my office because I didn't want to be or see anyone. I was feeling all kinds of emotions at that moment but the most evident one was anger and hurt. I was hurt by the fact that she hadn't told me and was angry at the fact that she was barren. "Yes, I have no use for her anymore. My father is going to make me Alpha King regardless and she can't give me an heir so why be with her?" I muttered and he scoffed. "Are you hearing yourself? Do you think she isn't hurt by the fact that she can't give you a child?" He uttered and I scoffed. "And is that my fg problem? She should have told me" I muttered. "She was afraid to tell you because of your fg reaction, Look at how you're reacting now, her fears were valid. I know it's a sad fact that she can't give you an Heir but the way you're acting isn't right, Damon" He reasoned but I was too blinded by anger to see reason in his words. Instead, he just made me angrier. "Get out before I make you regret the day you met me. I didn't ask for your opinion or anyone else's. Get out" I muttered through clenched teeth and he stared at me for a while before letting out a sigh and walking out of the office. As soon as he was gone, I picked up a vase and threw it at the wall and it shattered to the floor. Was I the bad guy for acting this way? She knew the base of our contract with one another. She was meant to produce an heir for me but she knew all along that she couldn't birth a child and yet agreed to the marriage? She deceived me! As if on cue, my phone rang and a frown appeared on my face when I saw Clara's name appear on the screen.

She called me several times but I didn't pick up, I just watched it ring till she finally gave up. "This is fd up" I muttered to myself as I leaned back on the chair. I didn't know when I fell asleep that night and was abruptly woken up by vigorous knocking on the door the next morning. "Who the k is it? I muttered irritably, angry at the fact that even in my dreams, she was all I could think about and her face when I said I wanted a divorce was haunting me. "Everyone has gathered in the living room, they want to discuss what happened last night. Your father is requesting your presence" Luca uttered from behind the door and I scoffed. "What the hell do they want to discuss? That I overreacted?" I muttered and he stayed quiet for a while before letting out a sigh. "You'll only find out when you get there" He uttered and I sat there for a while then sighed before standing up. I walked out of the office and from a distance, I could hear them conversing with one another over the matter. As soon as I walked into the living room, everyone went quiet as they turned to 1/2 me "What is this meeting about? If you're all

She lied to you just so you could marry her" My mother uttered and I paused. I had expected such words from anyone else except her. Everyone else seemed to agree with her words except Delilah and Luca who had frowns on their faces. "We agree with your mother and believe it's best if you find yourself another wife at least just so you can get an heir. You need a blood heir, Damon" My father added and before I could say a word, Delilah abruptly stood up from the couch with a groan. "Listen to yourselves! Can't you see Clara is the one suffering the most here? Mother you know the greatest joy for a woman is having kids and yet, you were the first to condemn her Delilah muttered and my mother frowned. "She deceived your brother..." "She loves him, Mother and I know everyone here knows she meant to harm. All Clara wants is a family, a home. It's not her fault she's barren. She called me last night and was crying her heart out to me and asking me not to hate her and yet you call her a gold digger? I've never been more disappointed in all of you, especially you, mother" Delilah uttered, earning a growl from father. "You watch your tongue young lady" He scolded but Delilah ignored him as she walked up to me. "She was so scared to tell you because of how you'd react and you proved her right with your attitude. If you want to divorce her and find another wife then please do because I don't want someone like her to stay in a home like this where she's not wanted anymore" Delilah uttered then walked out of the room without looking back and we were all silent for a while as everyone let her words sink in. "I'll do whatever I see fit and I've said this several times without number, do not meddle in my personal life. If I decided to take another wife or to be with Clara then it's my fucking choice. No one gets to dictate for me. If you'll excuse me" I muttered then turned around and walked away. As soon as I was out of the room, Luca caught up with me and walked beside me. "Are you going to visit Clara? Have you changed your mind?" He questioned and I paused in my steps before turning to him. "Pushing my feelings aside for Clara, I have a duty to uphold for this pack and the entire wolf race. Chapter 58

Ever since that day, everything changed for me. The maids began to give me attitude, everyone treated me like an outcast in that house and I couldn't even set my foot outside without being bombarded by paparazzi.

Apparently, Alicia had uploaded a video of her exposing me to the internet and saying all kinds of nasty things that weren't even true then at the end, she added the voice recording of Damon asking for a divorce before storming out and everyone instantly made me the bad guy.

This was exactly what i thought would happen and that was why I was so scared.

This just shows how little I mean to everyone” I murmured to myself as the cold shower rained down on me. I tried not to cry since I've been crying for days now but the tears came streaming down freely.

After a while, I got out of the shower and sluggishly tied a towel around my chest before stepping out of the bathroom.

then, my phone began to ring and I ran towards it immediately, thinking it was Damon but it wasn't which left me disappointed.

Just th

I've been trying to call Damon since that night but he doesn't pick my call nor reply to my text. This belongs to .

I let out a sigh as I picked up the call and placed it against my ear.

“Hello Aunt Amelia” I murmured and she sighed.

I downy cheeks. Aunt Amelia could always read me no matter

“He still hasp't spoken to you?” She questioned softly and a lone tear slid downy ch what and I was so grateful for her because despite everything, she was always there for me.

She had been angry when she heard my secret because I hadn't told her but she quickly understood that I didn't want to out of fear of losing her.

“No” i murmured softly and she sighed.

“That's it, I'm coming to take you away from there even if it's just for a while. You're being isolated and I don't like it. We'll go on a vacation to lighten the mood. I'm sure my husband wouldn't mind being alone for a week. I don't like seeing you like this” Aunt Amelia uttered and took a deep breath to stop myself from crying again.

“Okay aunt Amelia. Can we go tomorrow? I'll really need a break from everything I murmured.

“Of course dear, I’ll have it arranged. Be strong, okay? Pack sexy stuff because you’re beautiful and any man would be happy to have you as their wife” After saying that, we exchanged goodbyes then ended the call.

I was instantly met with silence and reality began to settle back in, I was alone.

Just then, I heard a knock on the front door which made me freeze. When the knocking got frequent, I quickly open it

I was met face to face with Delilah and I couldn’t hide the shock on my face.

“Deli...” Before I could complete my sentence, she wrapped her arms around me and hugged me tightly.

“You look horrible” She pointed out and I sighed. Helt horrible.

You need a makeover and you need to get out of this depressing house. As a matter of fact, why were you the one that answered the door? Where are the maids? Butler?” She questioned and I frowned

“They all stopped respecting or attending to me ever since they found out Damon was planning on divorcing me” I muttered and she stared at me in shock.

“What!” She screamed so loud that I could have sworn I felt the floor rumble.

“Oh I’m going to teach every single one of them a lesson they’ll never forget. How dare they?” She screeched but before she could run off, I grabbed her hand.

“Please just leave them alone. I’m okay. They have no reason to respect me if I’m not a Donovan anymore” i murmured and she scoffed.

“But you’re still a Donovan as long as you haven’t signed any divorce papers. Besides, I don’t think Damon is going along with that threat”

She uttered and before I could say a word, we heard another knock on the door.

I glanced at Delilah before opening the door and I gasped when I saw Luca. I looked behind him and frowned when I didn’t see any sign of

I took the file from him with shaky hands and just like I had thought, it was the divorce papers.

“What?! Is Damon crazy?! He really wants to divorce her?!” Delilah screamed in anger while I closed my eyes and let my tears fall on the file.

“He’s just acting out of anger. You know the way your brother is and besides, I don’t think he really wants you to sign it...”

“I’ll sign it” I interjected and they both went quiet.

“Clara...” Luca started but I shook my head at him. Any word uttered now would break me so I didn’t want to hear anything.

“Pen please” I managed to say while holding back tears and he sighed before handing me the pen. I took out the papers and he pointed at where I was to sign and when my eyes landed on Damon’s signature, I couldn’t hold back the tears.

I signed the papers then handed it to Luca before cleaning my eyes.

“I’ll be out of here tomorrow and I’ll be out of this pack” I muttered and they both stared at me in shock.

“Clara, you...” Delilah began but I shook my head at her and she stopped mid sentence.

“It’s okay. I’d like to be alone now, I hope you don’t mind” I murmured and she stared at me for a while before wiping away her tears.

“Okay but wherever you’re going. I’ll go with you and you can’t say no. I’ll get my bags ready and be here tomorrow” She uttered then walked out of the door before I could argue and I sighed before turning to Luca who still had a frown on his face.

“He doesn’t mean this, he’s just angry and he tends to act on anger before realizing what he has done. I’ll talk some sense into him and...”

“Luca, there’s no need for that. I’ve always known I was nothing but a contract to him and I broke that contract by lying to him so it’s my fault and I don’t blame him. I’m the one that caught feelings, it’s not his fault. Can I be alone now please?” I pleaded before I broke down and he sighed before turning around and walking away.

I closed the door behind him and ran up to my room before breaking down. I cried so hard that I felt like I could barely breathe anymore How could Damon do this?.

I

"I guess I meant nothing to him. Everything was just a lie" I murmured to myself as I hit my chest because of how painfully it was aching. Why was my life so miserable? Why did I always end up abandoned?

I fell asleep on the ground while crying and woke up late at night and was immediately greeted by silence and darkness.

I let out a sigh then groaned as I stood up from the floor and immediately began packing my things. I shot Aunt Amelia a message so she'd be here earlier so I could leave here as soon as I could

I was about to rip up my luggage when I heard the front door being forcefully opened then closed with a bang.

I furrowed my eyebrows and went down to see what it was but froze when I saw a masked huge man standing in front of the door with several weapons in his hand.

"Mrs Donovan, it's nice to finally meet you. I'm sorry our meeting is going to be short" He muttered and my heart began to race.

I was about to release my wolf when he shot my arm with something that instantly weakened me.

"Don't make this harder than it has to be. I'll just kill you and be on my way" He muttered and I suddenly couldn't speak because of fear. "Don't even dare scream because no one is here. You are all alone, we are all alone" He uttered as he took slow steps towards me.

I glanced around frantically and reached forward for a rod before sticking it into his stomach.

"Ughh! Damnit!" He screamed out in pain and as he struggled with the rod, I used all my strength to run up the stairs as fast as I could,

There was only one thing on my mind, I needed to call Damon.

Even though my vision was already getting dizzy, I reached out for my phone and dialed his number several times but he didn't pick up so accepting my fate, I opted for a voice record and the only thing I could say was;

"I regret meeting you" I murmured as tears rolled down my cheeks and at that moment, the man barged into the room and grabbed me forcefully by the hair.

“You bitch!” He screamed and I yelled out in pain before sending the recording and immediately, he grabbed the phone and smashed it to the floor “Doesn’t matter if you send a thousand recordings, you’ll be dead before anyone gets here anyway“..

Heck, she’s the first girl I’ve ever seen you obsess over and you’re just willing to throw her away because she can’t give you a child?” He questioned and I groaned.

“I don’t love her, it’s this fucking mate bond...”

“Are you still going with that excuse? You love her, Damon. You’re obsessed with her if I might add and this attitude you putting up is driving her away. I’m your friend and I want what’s best for you, she’s what’s best for you so don’t push her away because of this minor issue” He murmured and I frowned.

“The deed is done, she signed it which means she doesn’t want this relationship anymore. I can’t impose on her...”

“Oh my goddess, are you just dumb or you’re just trying to get on my fucking nerves? You know what? Do whatever you want, I don’t care anymore. Don’t come to me when she has totally given up on you and has moved on. Reject the poor girl and let her be free from you” He muttered and I clenched my list.

“Watch your tone, Luca” I muttered and he stared at me for a while then scoffed.

“You know what? I’ll mind my business from now on. Do whatever you like” He muttered then walked out of the room and I didn’t stop him because I knew he was right. Heck, Luca was always right but I was stubborn.

“How could she just sign it like that huh?” I muttered then scoffed before grabbing the file and glaring at her signature.

“Why can’t I be mad? Don’t I have the right? I murmured as I stared at the file then sighed while massaging my temples.

Fine, I was going to cave but not now. Right now, I was going to try to get Clara out of my mind and focus on work. I haven’t spoken to my parents or anyone after the meeting and they haven’t tried to contact me either.

After what Delilah said, I knew my mother instantly felt bad.

“Time to focus” I muttered then sighed as I stared back at the file. I haven’t been able to get anything done since this whole incident occurred because each day, I had to fight myself from running to Clara.

I shouldn’t...I couldn’t be so soft with her. She needed to understand the severity of her actions and the only way she’d understand was if I gave her space. Sure, the divorce papers were a little extreme but I hadn’t expected her to sign them.

I grabbed him by the neck and dug my claws into his neck before smashing his head against the wall. I hit his head several times on the wall before dragging it along the wall, leaving a long trail of blood behind before punching him on the jaw several times.

He fell to the ground and began begging for mercy but I couldn't hear anything. I could see his mouth moving but all I could hear was the ringing in my ear. I reached out for the knife and slit his mouth from ear to ear before pulling out his tongue and smashing his teeth with my fist.

I wanted him to feel the worst pain possible for touching my wife. No one dared touch my wife!

I slit his throat painfully slow with the knife and was about to skin him alive when Someone pulled me away from him.

"Now is not the time for this. We need to get Clara to the hospital" Luca yelled as loud as he found and his voice immediately brought me back to reality.

I dropped the knife on the ground then turned to where Clara had been and saw Delilah holding her in her arms as she cried.

I rushed towards them and carried Clara into my arms before running out of the house.

"It's going to be okay, my love. Just fucking stay with me" I murmured as I got into the back seat while Luca got into the driver seat and Delilah took the passenger seat.

"Til drive as fast as I can" He murmured but I was listening to him. I was staring down at my wife whose skin was already getting cold and her lips were turning white. The only thing that gave me hope that she was alive was the faint beating of her heart and I held onto that hope tighter than anything in this world.

I pulled her close to me and let the tears fall freely down my cheeks. I have never been so scared in my life.

"I can't lose you, Clara. I don't want to lose you",

CHAPTER 60

Chapter 60 -DAMON- I held onto Clara's hand as they rushed! she was losing more blood. rushed her towards the emergency ward on a stretcher. My whole body was covered with her blood and as They pushed her into the ward and two male nurses held me back. "I'm sorry sir, you can't go in there" One of them uttered and I grabbed him by the neck as I glared down at him. "She's my wife and I have to be next to her" I muttered through clenched teeth then let go of his neck and was about to run in when Luca held me back "You are only going to make things worse. The doctors wouldn't be able to help her if you're there breathing down their necks!" Luca muttered but his words didn't calm me down. If I was near her, she would wake up. She had to. "Let go of me Luca" I commanded in a threatening tone and he sighed. "Let them help her, Damon. You can't do anything so let them do their job" He murmured before slowly letting go of me and I frowned. He was right, he was always right.. I let out a sigh then moved away from the door and the nurses immediately bowed their heads before running back in. "She's going to be okay?" I murmured softly and couldn't even recognize my voice at that moment. It was so thick with emotions. "We can only hope but Clara is a strong girl!" He murmured then led me towards a chair and we both sat down. Delilah was seated across from me with Clara's blood all over her body. She sat there, staring into space with silent tears running down her cheeks. She had exhausted herself from crying loudly all the way here. I turned away from her as I looked at the floor and for the first time in my life, I prayed. I prayed for my wife's life and promised to be a better husband this time around. "Have you identified the man?" I questioned after a while and Luca sighed. "You practically mutilated his face so it was kind of hard finding his identity but Luckily we have the best tech team" He muttered and I turned to glare at him. "Did you g find out who he is or not?" I questioned through clenched teeth and he gulped then nodded. going to deal with that later, for "We did. He's from the Lakeview pack, one of the southern packs" He uttered and I clenched my fist. I was going to now all I could think about was Clara. Hours went by and the Doctors or nurses refused to say a word and the more they ran about with bloody bandages and clothes, the more began to panic "I need to know what's going on" I muttered as I clenched and unclenched my fist. Luca was about to say something when I saw my parents with Alicia running towards us. "I heard what happened. Is she okay? My mother questioned with wide eyes and Delilah scoffed but didn't say anything but her reaction sent across her message. 11:48 Tue, 2 Jul Chapter 60 66% My mother frowned then let out a sigh as she walked over and sat down next to me but she didn't say nothing, none of them did and I was really grateful for that. I didn't know what I would do if any one of the talked down on Clara. At that moment, The Doctor walked out of the emergency ward and I got up immediately and walked over to him. "My wife, how is she?" I questioned immediately and he sighed. "There was a lot of blood and the wounds on her body were deep and it isn't healing quickly because she was stabbed and sliced with silver. Some of her bones are broken and I think she took a blow to her throat so she won't be able to talk properly when she wakes up. She's a strong woman and reacted well to treatment. I've done all I can and now, we just have to wait for her to own all © content.

wake up. Unfortunately, I'm sorry to say that the baby she was carrying didn't survive the attack" The Doctor muttered and at first I didn't hear what he said because a lot of things were running through my head but as soon as his words dawned on me, I froze with my eyes wide. A baby?" My mother was the one who asked with a soft voice and the doctor nodded slowly. "Yes, a baby. She was one month pregnant" The doctor announced and everyone gasped while I stared at him in shock. All along, she was pregnant? "Are... are you sure? She's supposed to be barren. She... she said she couldn't have any children? Why is she pregnant?!" With each sentence, my voice got louder till I was clinging onto the Doctors shoulders. How could she be pregnant?! "...that piece of information is wrong because Mrs Donovan's womb is perfectly fine" The Doctor hurriedly said and I froze before slowly turning to Alicia who was as pale as a ghost. "Explain!" I screamed and she instantly fell to the ground as she shook with fear. "I went to her old pack to gather whatever I could on her and I... I met this woman. She was the one who told me Clara was barren" Alicia uttered and I clenched my fist and was about to walk up to her when Delilah stood in front of me and slapped Alicia across the face. "I won't allow my brother touch a witch like you. You did this because of your obsession with him huh?!" She screamed before landing another slap on Alicia's face while we all stood there watching her as she poured her anger into the sleep. *Because of you, my best friend is fighting for her life inside that room and doesn't even know that's she's pregnant" Delilah screamed then landed another slap that made Alicia fall flat on her back. "Clara also believed she was Barren... that wasn't my doing" Alicia managed to say and I frowned. She was right. Why had Clara thought she was Barren? Delilah was about pounce on Alicia again but Luca held her back. "Let me go!" Delilah screamed but Luca held onto her tightly. "If you don't let Delilah finish her, I will and I'll be much more brutal about it" I threatened Luca but before he could say anything. My mother jumped in front of me. "I know what she did was was wrong but she's still your cousin. You can't kill her" My mother uttered and I scoffed. "I can't? You want to bet? I can kill you if need be so who is she that I can't kill?" I muttered and my words shocked my mother and I knew they all I knew I wasn't joking. They might be my family and I might be attached to them on a certain level but I could kill them if they ever betrayed me. "Damon, you're being unreasonable" My mother exclaimed and I scoffed. "I'm being unreasonable? I just fg lost my y child that i wasn't aware and neglected my wife all because I thought she was barren! She called me before she was attacked! I was the first person she called and I couldn't even save her! So pardon me for wanting to kill the person 2/3 11:48 Tue, 2 Jul 66% that started this all in the first place. If the hadn't said anything, I would be with Clara and our child wouldn't have died!" I screamed and couldn't stop the team from rolling down my cheeks. My mother's face immediately softened as tears rolled down her cheeks as well. "You need to understand that we are all at fault here. You can't just blame Alicia, she didn't force you to stay away from Clara. She didn't force you to neglect her and if you hadn't, your child wouldn't have di..." Before my father found complete his sentence, I landed a punch on eyes turned bright red hi che He flashed his red eyes back at me then snarled and was about to pounce on me when we all heard a soft voice. "Who's child" i abruptly turned towards the voice and my eyes widened when I saw A frail looking Clara leaning against the wall as she with wide eyes. I could barely recognize her voice because of her shaky and hoarse it sounded. began. walked towards her but she held up her hand to stop me. "Who's child died?" She managed to scream as loud as she could before her legs gave out and she fell to the ground and I immediately rushed up to her, She weakly tried to push me away but when she realized it was fatal, she stopped and began to wail in my arms while I clung onto her for As much as I didn't want to admit it, my father was right, I wasn't forced to stay away from her. I stayed away because I was being stubborn 1 to blame for the ver going to forgive myself but selfishly, I hoped Clara wouldn't hate me for how I treated her sight, I held her tighter
