Chapter 115 Unsuccessful

115

AMALTHEA'S POV

"Drive faster, god damn it! Is the doctor here or not?" I asked and Augustus looked at me as I was close to losing my mind.

Seeing that the market palce was so crowded and there is no way, Charles could drive faster, I growled angrily before looking at Augustus, helplessly.

"Stop the car," I said and Charles looked at Jake before looking at Augustus.

"Amalthea, what is it? You are scaring me now. You can share it with me. Are you feeling uncomfortable somewhere? The doctor will reach the palace in ten minutes," Augustus said and I shook my head.

"I said stop the car," I said.

If I can't bring the doctor quickly, I can reach there at least, right? Judging from how slow the car is moving, I won't be surprised if Scarlett already falls before we reach there. It is supposed to happen at a time. Or is it already happening?

'Amalthea, please don't panic. I am sure nothing would happen to Scarlett,' Crystal said and I bit my lips.

'That's not the case, Crystal. You and I both know that I have no control over my visions. Everytime I see a vision, something related to that is already happening. I have never stopped something from happening. When I saved Scarlett from the rogue attack, she was already getting bullied like my vision. When I catch rougues or beat any other person, that person is already committing the crime. You and I both know that I won't be able to stop it. I can only control what happens afterwards,' I said and she nodded.

'But this time in your vision you guys were already there. What if it was a segment of the future?' she asked and I shook my head.

'Nothing can be confirmed until I see it myself. Just help me in this, okay? I will never be able to forgive myself if something happened to her even after I knew everything,' I said to her before looking at Charles as she nodded at me.

Pressing his neck from behind as he lost the control of the car, I sighed as Augustus and Jake looked at me horrified, making me jump out of the car. I noticed how many Lycans and werewolves looked at our car, probably shocked because of how it went out of the control and almost hit the shop.

"Miss Amalthea, are you out of your mind?!" Charles shouted and sighed.

I don't have time for all this. I thought before closing my eyes.

"Take over me, Crystal," I said and she nodded before standing from her position, making my hair on my arms and legs stand for a second before I felt slight tingling in my fingers.

I always thought that my turning process was a bit weird as I would always feel a static energy kind of thing flow inside my body whenever I would turn into my wolf, which was unlike all the other wolves, but I think it was all's because I was a werewolf with Siren powers.

Opening my eyes, I looked at the shocked eyes of Augustus, Charles and Jake before turning around and running towards the Lycans Palace.

"Follow her!" I heard Augustus shout behind me before I heard some howls echo behind me.

From the corner of my eyes, I saw a few wolves running behind me, the large midnight Black wolf being the largest one as his amber eyes met mine.

It was Kyle. There was no doubt about it. The way he was looking at me with concern, love and admiration couldn't be missed. However, I didn't had time for any of it right now. I need to go to Scarlett right now.

'Run faster!' I told Crystal and she nodded before jumping towards the forest area as she ran as fast as she could.

Entering the palace area, I looked towards the staircase before relaxing when I didn't see Scarlett on the staircase or on the bottom of the stairs.

Taking a deep breath, I patted my chest before sitting at the side.

"You can give me the control," I said and as soon as Crystal gave the control back to me, I looked towards the stairs before raising my brows when I looked at Scarlett looking at me with a confused look.

"Amalthea, what was it-" Augustus couldn't even complete his sentence when Scarlett screeched.

"Brother, you are back!" She said and I saw the same scene from my vision replaying in front of me.

"Scarlett, be careful. Don't run around like this. Your date is almost due," Augustus said and I looked in horror as I felt like my voice stuck in my throat.

Holding Augustus's hand, I pulled on his sleeve before pointing at Scarlett.

"S-ssto-pp her," I tried to mouth him and he looked at me with squinted brows.

"Amalthea? What is wrong? You have been acting weird since we entered the Lycan's Kingdom. Do you want to speak to me in private?" He asked me, and I bit my lips angrily before walking towards the stairs.

Placing my hand in front of myself, I tried to walk towards the stairs as I saw her wobbling her way downstairs.

Those slippery stairs, her wobbling form, everything was exactly how I had seen in my dreams.

As if some great force was stopping me from going towards the stairs, I practically crawled my way towards before smiling when I finally reached the stairs.

"Scarlett! I order you to stay there. Don't move an inch," I ordered her in my mind while looking at her in the eyes, and as if she was shocked by something, she looked at me with wide eyes.

"I can't stop myself," She screeched.

"Brother, I can't stop my legs," she said and I widened my eyes in realisation.

No matter what I did, it was bound to happen. I can't stop her from moving.

Feeling helpless, I looked at Augustus, who looked like he was stuck in his position as he looked between me and Scarlett with a confused look.

"Can someone tell me what is going on?" He asked and I wanted to speak and tell him everything, but my voice was stuck in my throat.

"Augustus, please save her. Please stop her from descending the stairs. She will fall," I looked at him, trying to convey my message to him through my eyes as no matter how hard I tried, I wasn't able to ascend the stair.

Even standing at the bottom was taking a toll on me as I felt a cut appear on my arm.

"Scarlett! Stop walking! I am coming there," Augustus said and I sighed.

Maybe he understood my words, or even he did not, I just hope he saves her. I thought and was about to smile when the expression on my face froze as I heard Scarlett's scream as her foot slipped on the stairs, making me gulp as I closed my eyes for a second, tears rolling down my cheeks because of my helplessness.
