AMALTHEA'S POV

"Amalthea, do you want to rest it off? We can stay here if you don't want to go to the beach," Augustus said as I was thinking about what to do next and I looked at him before smiling at him.

"That won't be needed," I said before picking my phone again.

Dialing a number, I waited for him to pick the call as I looked into Augustus's eyes.

"Who are you calling?" Augustus asked me and rather than answering him, I sat on his lap before placing my hand on his chest as he raised his brows at me.

"Hello, Blake. Luna Jade speaking," I said and I felt Augustus going stiff under my hand.

"I will recognise your voice even if you won't say that, Amal," Blake said and I smiled at Augustus.

"I will come back later," Augustus said to me and I shook my head.

"Stay," I said and he sighed before nodding.

"Are you with someone right now?" Blake asked.

"Well, that shouldn't be something you should be worried about. What you should be worried about is why I called you," I said and Blake hummed.

"Right. Why did you call me? Do you want to know how I am running the pack? Do you need some kind of data analysis in our recent pack meetings? Is it about the recent clash with Black Moon pack? Do you need to use the pack's resources for some kind of work or is it -"

"How are things going between you and Linda?" I asked, coming straight to the point.

"Sorry?"

"You heard me. That's exactly what I want to know about," I said and he sighed.

"It's going okay,"

"Well, I heard that Linda will go in heat tomorrow. Since we are still bound to each other with this marriage and bite mark, I am sure you know what kind of pain I will be going through when you'll be mating, I mean having s*x with her, right?" I asked.

"I am very well aware of that, Amalthea. However, believe me, I wouldn't want to hurt you like that. I know it's a bit hard to believe me after everything that happened, but I'll make sure to not fall for the heat and consummate this mate bond. Please trust me, I'll try my best to control my wolf and -"

"Well, that's not what I called you for. I called you to let you know that you can go ahead. She is your mate, Blake. Don't you think you have made her wait for enough? It's been more than three months already. What else do you expect from her? Even if she is understanding, there is a limit to everything. So I want you to go ahead and consummate your bond," I said and as if shocked by my words, he didn't say anything for a good few seconds before taking a deep breath.

"Amalthea, are you drunk? Do you know what you are talking about? Have you lost it? Don't you know what kind of pain you'll go through if I do that? Just so that I calm her heat and pleasure her, you are ready to go through that kind of heat? Have you gone insane?" Blake asked me and I scoffed.

"Just pleasure her? Do you think mating bonds are just for pleasuring? Have you gotten your mind in the gutter these days, Blake? I am trying my best to understand your condition here, so don't make me pity you, yeah?" I said and he sighed.

"I am sorry for speaking about it like that, Amal. You know how much I respect the occasion of mating. Even when I hadn't found my mate, we had decided on it -"

"I am not here to discuss our past, Blake. All I wanted to tell you was this only. Don't hold back because of me. That's the last thing I want you to do," I said as I placed my hand on Augustus's cheeks.

"And what about you? Are you ready to handle that pain? What are you thinking, Amalthea? You are not the type of girl who would go out there and lose just like that. You are the same girl who took 50 whippings from Caleb because you didn't want to bow down, remember?" Blake asked me and I scoffed.

"How can I forget that night. I still have a few marks on my back from that day. They are still healing. Anyway, that's not the point. The point is, _."

"I want to keep you distracted with your mate for a while and see what your dad is upto," I thought in my head before smirking at Augustus as I bent and hugged him, placing my face in the crook of his neck as I smelled his intoxicating scent that started wafting my nostrils.

"The point is?" Blake asked me and I stood from Augustus's lap.

"I am rejecting you, Blake. I should've done it sooner, but at that time I was too hung up on this marriage thing. Maybe I wanted you to suffer too, but I am done with it. I have realised that for us to move on completely, I need you to start it by freeing you from my ties," I said.

"What are you talking about, Amal?" Blake asked and I smiled.

"Rejection, Blake Cohl. I am rejecting this marriage bond with you. According to Clause no. 73 of the marriage contract we signed that was drafted in front of my father, anyone of us can call off the marriage if the other person is found cheating. I didn't want to use it against you until now," I said and I know what was he going to ask next and he indeed didn't disappoint me.

"Are you doing this to get the pack back from me? Is this about it? Is this why you are pretending to be a good human being and asking me to go and mate with my mate? Well, what else was I expecting. I should've known that the girl I know wouldn't do anything until it gains her anything," Blake said and I smirked before raising my brows when Augustus grabbed my other hand and pulled me on his lap again.

Kissing the my neck, he nibbled it softly.

"Stay," Augustus said to me and I smiled at him.

"Well, you don't need to worry about that, Blake. I am not asking for my pack just yet. Run it smoothly and as you want. If I come to know that something happened and you neglected your duties as the alpha, I might think about it. But until then, the pack is yours," I said before taking a deep breath.

"I really didn't want to do it on the phone, but given how I am far away from the pack and Linda will go in heat tomorrow, which only leaves me with 12 hours, I will have to do it like this only," I said before placing my head on Augustus's chest.

"I, Amalthea Jade, daughter of the Matthew and Thea Jade, the rightful Luna of the Callisto pack and the moon's daughter hereby announces that I reject this marriage with Blake Cohl and rejects the mark bond we formed. I hereby declare that I don't have any relationship with Blake Cohl apart from being the pack member of Callisto pack. The marriage contract is nullified starting this moment," I said and I Waited for Blake to react.

However, when he didn't react for a few seconds, I was about to ask him what he was thinking when he took a deep shaky breath.

"I didn't know this was going to be this hard. Even after all the time we have been apart, I never thought this day would come and it will be like this," Blake said.

"I, Blake Cohl, the alpha of the Callisto pack, accepts the rejection and is ready to bear the consequences of the nullification of the Marriage contract," Blake said and I closed my eyes as I felt a stinging pain in my neck.

However, I hadn't expected Augustus to immediately lift my head and kiss my neck, making me press my lips together as I tried hard not to moan, not knowing whether it was from the pain or the pleasure.

"Have a great time with your mate," I said before ending the call as the phone slipped off my hand.

Augustus picked me in his arms gently before placing me on the bed as he gently laid me down before hugging me.

"Don't worry. I am here till you get through it," Augustus said as he hugged me tighter, making me hum in response.

AMALTHEA'S POV

"Are you feeling okay?" Augustus asked me after a few minutes and I looked up before nodding.

"I am all fine and free. Do you know what it means?" I asked and he shook his head.

"It means, I can do anything without having anyone judge me or say anything about me. I am not a married woman any more. I won't call myself a divorcee either since I never consummate my wedding for even a minute," I said to him as I sat straight and he sat along with me before looking me in the eyes, his gaze flickering to my body and then to my eyes again and again.

"I agree with you. You can do anything you want now. So what do you want to do?" He asked me with a meaningful gaze and I smirked inside my head.

"Well, I don't know what I am going to do in future but right now I am going to call Antonio," I said and he squinted his brows.

"Antonio? Are you sure that's who you want to talk to right now?" He asked me as he shuffled closer to me with a Predatory look in his eyes.

Coming over me as I backed down on the bed until I was almost lying right below him with my head on the head board, I looked into his eyes that were turning dark with each passing second.

I followed his line of sight and realized he was looking at my neck and I raised my brows.

"Is it gone?" I asked and he nodded.

"It is. And I think I am going to put a really beautiful mark on you," Augustus said, his words shocking me.

"What do you mean?" I asked and rather than answering me, he captured my lips in a passionate kiss, his tongue licking my lower lip as he sought entrance.

Parting my lips slightly, I let him kiss me as he wanted before I placed my hands in his hair, bringing him further down as I arched my back to meet his chest.

The sensation alone made me gulp as my throat went dry.

"What I mean is exactly what you heard, my sweetheart. I am going to mark you and give you a beautiful mark. Of course it would be after you allow me too," Augustus said as he sighed before laying beside me, making my chest heave up and down as I calmed my heartbeat.

"Do you want-" before I could complete my sentence, a knock reverberated on the door and I sighed before sighing and wearing my shrug.

"I'll check," Augustus said before going towards the door, barely opening it.

"It's others. Do you want to come and have some fun at the beach?" Augustus said and I nodded.

"I would love to," I said and he sighed as if he was disappointed with my answer before turning around again.

"You heard her. We will be there after some time," Augustus said before closing the door and then standing and gazing at me.

"Woah? What's wrong? I thought you wanted to enjoy the beach together," I said and he shook his head.

"We need to get you out of this outfit," he said and I knew what he meant by saying that, but for some reason, I felt a bit naughty as I stood from the bed before walking towards him.

"Yeah? You want me to get out of this outfit?" I asked as I trailed my finger on his chest and he growled at me before pouncing on my finger as if he wanted to bite it and I chuckled.

"Not so soon, lover boy," I said before unlocking the door and exiting it.

"Let's go. They must be waiting for us," I said and he nodded before following me out.

"I still want to hide your body with my tshirt," he cooed in my ears and I turned around before winking at him.

"I bet," I said before running away from him.

Walking down the beach, I looked at everyone's happy smile before laughing myself.

"Let's enjoy this holiday," I shouted and everyone hollered along with me.

Running towards the water, I squealed when Charles pushed me in the water.

"You!" I shouted at him.

"What? You are going to ask your lover to get even with me?" Charles challenged and I snarled at him before running towards him and jumping on his back, making him fall down.

"What the hell? You look so thin, but you are definitely a wild pig," He groaned as I rubbed some sand in his hair.

"Are you not going to leave me?" Charles groaned and I nodded.

"I am still not done," I said before standing and grabbing both his legs.

Pulling him all the way to the water as he groaned while everyone laughed at him, I squeaked when I lost footing.

However, before I could fall, I felt two string arms holding me in place.

"I will never let you fall," Augustus whispered in my ears and I felt a blush creep up my cheeks.

"Mr Dominic, don't you think you should be helping your beta right now?" Charles groaned and I pulled him even further in the water before rolling him in the sea.

"Do you like it?" I asked and he snarled at me.

"You seriously are nasty when it comes to revenge," He said to me and I shrugged before looking at Augustus, who had a calm smile on his face that I rarely see.

"King Augustus! Watch out!" I heard a female Lycan and before I could know they started hitting us with water with their water guns.

"Augustus, are you seriously going to stand there and do nothing? Attack then for me!" I said while pointing at them and all of them screamed when Augustus picked the spare water gun.

"You dare to hit my woman. Now you'll see the wrath of this Lycan in love," He growled in a funny way and I chuckled when everyone started running here and there, making me chuckle.

As I ran away from people who were trying to hit me, I saw Ashton sitting at some distance and building a sand castle.

As cute as it looked, I had never pegged Ashton to be someone who would love to build a sandcastle.

Rushing towards him, I sat beside him before looking at his castle.

"Why are you not playing with others?" I asked and he shrugged.

"I don't know. It's a bit hard. I have been quiet for so long that suddenly getting into conversations looks a bit uncomfortable to me. It's nerve wrecking. The emotions like what should I say, what if they find me stupid or what is they don't like what I have to say or if I will end up offending someone or I might hurt them or will they get scared of me because of my scar and will I come too awkward, are too overwhelming," Ashton said before taking a deep breath.

"And it's also because I like quiet. Maybe it's because I have been quiet for so long? Anyway, I have never built a sand castle before. I heard everyone has built one. They were talking about it yesterday in the training centre. Won't it look too awkward if I invite them to build one with me? It's embarrassing," he said as he scratched the back of his head and I took a deep breath before scratching my head myself.

"I want you to join us. You have never built sand castles before? I get it. But right now, I want you to interact with everyone. What are they going to think of me or if they are going to be scared of me? Let's leave this question for them to figure out, yeah?" I asked him as I stood and extended my hand for him to take.

"Will it be really fine?" He asked me and he shrugged.

"Do you think it's easy for me? I am the only she-wolf in this group. All of you are Lycans. At least these people know you. What about me? Aren't you going to help me a little by becoming someone like me? A little awkward and shy like me?" I asked and he looked into my eyes for a few seconds before smiling, making my heart melt at his innocent smile.

He really looks like a kid who was forced to grow up and take on the responsibilities.

'And? Aren't you the same?' Crystal asked me and I shook my head.

'Since I have been out in this world, I have stopped comparing my situations with everyone. What he went through is completely different from me and what I went through is something on a different level. Since we don't have the same kind of wounds, how can we compare if they have the same kind of pain? Won't it be unfair to both of us? All we need is someone who can understand and motivate us, because the process of healing depends completely on how we want to be healed,' I asked and she smiled.

'You are indeed growing, Amalthea. And I am proud of whatever you did today. You deserve all the happiness in the world. It might sting and hurt a little in the beginning, but in the end all the efforts are going to be worth it,' Crystal said and I smiled at her.

'I bet,' I said before holding Ashton's hand and running back to where everyone was playing.
