AMALTHEA'S POV

"So? What's the plan now? You were talking to Antonio before I came to you earlier and you were saying something about it's their duty to protect you because you have those powers. Is it about predicting the future?" Augustus asked me as we lay on the beach sand while everyone had already left a few minutes ago.

After playing for hours, everyone was tired as hell and while Augustus wanted to go back to the room too, I wanted to enjoy the view some more. So here we are, lying on the chairs as we looked at each other.

"And before you ask me if I was eavesdropping on your conversation, yes I was," Augustus said, and I rolled my eyes.

"Well, I wasn't going to ask about that. I was just wondering how to reply to your answer," I said and he sighed.

"Does that mean you haven't thought about anything?" Augustus asked me again and I groaned loudly before throwing my legs in the air, making him chuckle.

"Woah, what's with that reaction? If you tell me what this is about, maybe I can help?" He said to me and I looked at him before sighing.

"I have asked Antonio to meet me again once we go back from here. However, I don't want to go back just yet. I want to have one more day of the holiday. It's been so long since I felt happy like this," I said and he smiled before coming to my chair and sitting near me.

"So that's what troubling you? You have so much work to do but you don't want to go back either," he said and I nodded and he chuckled at me before kissing my cheeks.

"You are the strangest girl I have ever met. Let's go inside and wash up. You have been in the water for quite some time," Augustus said, and I nodded before standing with a dejected look on my face.

As he walked in front of me, he stopped at the sliding door of the living room before half turning towards me.

"And yeah, we are staying one more day here," he said before going inside and I widened my eyes before jumping and following him.

"Really?" I asked and he nodded his head.

"I was about to ask you that tonight after the dinner. The doctors said that we should go and meet up with Scarlett one more time before we leave. She would love that. Right now she is going through a weak phase emotionally and mentally because she was on the verge of dying and thus seeing her family and loved ones would boost her," Augustus said and I nodded my head.

"I will meet you after washing up?" Augustus said to me and for some reason, I didn't want to let go of him, not after I know that he loves me so much that he has announced to the world that he belongs to me.

"Come to my room?" I asked and before Augustus could answer something, I heard someone cough from behind us.

"Let's keep it healthy for innocent people, yeah?" Jake said as he passed by us with a sandwich in his mouth and Augustus sighed before picking me in his arms.

"What are you doing?" I asked and he shrugged.

"Going to your room. Do you think someone's teasing is going to stop me from doing what I want or what my love wants me to do? In anything, it's going to provoke me even more," he said and I smiled at him.

As we entered my room, he placed my feet back on the floor before looking at me and placing his forehead on mine.

"Can I ask you for a favour if you don't take it wrong? I know my demand might sound a bit atrocious and too much, but I promise that I am not thinking about anything dirty. I would never touch or do anything to you without your permission. You know I respect you a lot and -"

"What is it?" I asked Augustus, cutting him mid-sentence and he opened his eyes before placing his face in the crook of my neck.

"Let's take a shower together," he said.

"Okay," I said, without even thinking twice.

I don't know what it was. Is it that I trust him a lot and know that he would never do anything to me or is it because I know he respects me a lot? There were so many times when he was about to lose his control and I know how it was taking a toll on him every time we would make out and he was doing his best around me.

Was it because I was also confident or too carefree that I have rejected Blake now?

As if he was shocked by my immediate answer, Augustus looked into my eyes before taking a step away from me.

"Are you sure about it, Amalthea? This is not something to joke about," He said and I looked into his eyes before placing my hand on his cheeks.

"You said you won't touch me without my permission. I am not married to anyone anymore. I am my free soul now. What else do I need to jump into the opportunity to shower together with the hottest man I have laid my eyes on?" I asked and he smiled at me before suddenly hugging me.

"I love you so much, damn it! Why didn't I find you before you got married to that jerk?" He asked me and I grinned.

"Well, maybe because at that time you were under the delusion that werewolves are not as good as Lycans? Remember our first meeting? How arrogant you were when I tried to tell you which way to go?" I asked and he sighed as he looked at me helplessly.

"I was a jerk," he said and I nodded my head.

"Well, I won't deny that. You were indeed a jerk at that time. I was so tempted to hit you in the head and get your senses straight," I said and he sighed.

"I will try my best not to disappoint you ever again," he said before picking me in his arms as he took me to the bathroom.

Standing under the shower, I looked into his eyes as he placed his hand on my stomach, making me close my eyes immediately as a pleasurable shiver ran down my spine.

AMALTHEA'S POV

"Are you still sure about it?" Augustus asked me again and I opened my eyes to look at him.

"If you asked me again, I might change my mind," I said as I stood on my toes and placed my lips on his.

"Why do you trust me so much?" Augustus suddenly asked me and I smiled into the kiss.

"Because it's you," I paused and as if satisfied with my answers, he picked me in his arms, making me wrap my legs around his torso as he pushed me onto the wall, making my back touch the cold tiles.

"Why are you so good with words? Why do you make me lose my mind every time you say something? Don't you know what kind of effects you have on me and my body?" He said as I placed his face in the crook of my neck while he kissed my neck, where my mark was.

I thought he would nibble my skin or suck a little, but I couldn't help but gasp when he intertwined his fingers with my strap and gently slid it down.

Kissing my shoulders softly, he paused as he took off my bra completely.

"Don't look at me like that," I said as I looked at the look of amazement in his eyes.

This wasn't his first time seeing me like this, but for some reason, the look he was giving me was so fresh that I wanted to break his promise of doing anything and just help his hand on my body.

"What look? Do you find it irresistible? Because from what I am feeling, you are getting quite aroused right now, aren't you?" He said as he pulled off the strings of my lower bikini before gently putting me down and taking it off.

Commented [Ma1]:

Standing naked in front of him, I was tempted to hide myself or just turn around because of how he was observing me. It wasn't a dirty look or the look of lust. It was different. Like someone looking at a masterpiece in awe. He was looking at me like he was proud of what he has discovered today and for some reason, this look of awe was turning me on more than his usual gaze filled with desire.

"I am leaving if you are going to keep looking at me like that. It's making me uncomfortable," I said as he turned me around and took a deep breath.

"It's my first time looking at the scars on your back so clearly," Augustus said, and I bit my lips.

"These are the scars of my proud nature. When Blake had asked me to apologise to his mate so that I don't have to take twenty whippings for attacking her, I was arrogant enough to take fifty. Stupid, right?" I asked with a chuckle and he turned me around before placing his forehead on mine.

"If I had found you soon, you wouldn't have to go through this pain," he said with a pained voice and it irked me how a strong man like Augustus thought something like that.

From what angle was it his fault? Is he stupid? I was the one who fell in love with that unreliable scum, not even thinking about anything else so how can he blame himself for that?

"Can you tell me why you think it's your fault? As far as I remember, you are not the one who forced any stupid decision that I took," I said and rather than answering me, he sighed before hugging me even tighter.

"If only, you made my life better and bearable by being there for me. I didn't know what I was going to do once I was done with my revenge plan, but you gave new meaning to my life. Happiness? I didn't even know if I deserved any of that because how my parents might've died because of me, but you turned me selfish. You turned me so selfish, that now I want you to love me with all you have and give me everything I desire. I have become selfish and needy when it comes to you, Augustus," I said as I pushed him a bit to look into his eyes to let him know how serious I was this time.

"Since we are talking about old wounds, can you tell me about yours too? Earlier when we used to get intimate and I felt intrigued, I always stopped myself from asking this question, but from where did you get this large scar on your back? It must've been painful, no?" I asked as I trailed my finger down his scar and I felt him getting stiff.

"I -I -" Augustus stuttered and I sighed.

It's obvious that he is having a tough time opening up about the memories from the past and not wanting to pry too much, I sighed before placing my hand on his cheeks.

"You don't have to force yourself, you know. You can take your time opening up to me. Loving me doesn't mean you have to do things that make you uncomfortable. Maybe someday you will be able to find enough courage when the memory won't be hurting anymore," I said and he looked into my eyes before nodding.

"Let's shower quickly, yeah? We were in the water for quite some time today," I said and he nodded before taking off his shorts and I told myself not to look down and show any kind of off expression on my face but the curiosity got the best of me and I stared at his d*ck openly with my mouth agape, not sure what to say anymore.

"Like what you see?" He asked me and I looked at him with wide eyes, making him chuckle.

"Come on, don't look at it like it's something weird," He said and I nodded.

"I didn't expect it to be this big either," I said and he chuckled again.

"Well, I am taking that as a compliment," he said before turning me around and hugging me from behind, his body touching mine, making me more conscious of how we both were naked in each other's arms for the first time.

Was it taking a leap in our relationship?

"It was when I was eight years old," Augustus said and I was about to ask him what he meant by that when he spoke again.

"I got this scar when I was hit by a rogue werewolf from behind. I was eight years old at that time. I didn't think I would survive at that time. I was strong as a Lycan, but I was still an amateur in front of trained rogue witches. That's why I was so shocked and angry when I came to know Scarlett was attacked by a rogue and I was so adamant about finding the girl named Thea. You have no idea how thankful I was to you, for protecting her," Augustus said and I smiled at him.

"It was nothing. I saved her because she was pregnant at that time. As you know, I bore a deep hatred towards Lycans all my life because of what happened with my mother -"

"Do you know how I was saved when I was on the verge of dying?" He said, cutting me off mid-sentence before his body shuddered and he hugged me even tighter.

I wanted to tell him that it was okay and that he doesn't need to force himself to tell me all these things, but a piece of me wanted to know the whole truth too. That's why I just stood there, waiting for him to finish what he wanted to say.

"It was a little girl who was playing in those forests at that time. She saw the rogue attacking me and she saved me by coming in front of me. I still remember how she shouted to the rogue witch to leave me alone. But of course, she was just a kid and nothing in front of that rogue witch. When that rogue witch tried to attack me, that girl came in front of me and saved me. She was only five years old at that time," Augustus said as he turned me around and looked straight into my eyes.

"Do you by any chance know any such she-wolf? Since she took the blow for me, her lower abdomen was hit brutally and she bled a lot. I am sure it left a scar too. Didn't it, Amalthea Jade?" He asked me and I felt the world around me going into chaos as some foreign images that I have never felt or seen before started rushing to my head, making me take a step back from Augustus as I looked at him with disbelief.

"A-are you telling me it was you I saved when I was five years old and how I got myself in this mess?" I asked and seeing Augustus nodding at me, I felt heat rushing to my head.

"Hello, dear saviour," Augustus said and I felt darkness taking over me.
