0 6 minutes read

“Ralph, I think we should wait with the announcement. This is Mable’s day, and it got postponed already from your parents’ business trip...”

It was a beautiful Saturday morning, they were scheduled for his brother Dale’s oldest kid’s birthday party. They both cherish the adorable little girl too much and Madison being the sweetest person, she didn’t want Ralph to tell everyone about their dating status on her day.

Though deep down she knows that it was not the only reason. Ralph looked at her as she sipped her morning coffee. They were still lying in bed cozying in each other’s company.

“Talk to me.”

“Ralph...”

“No, Madison...talk to me, there’s something you’re not telling me.”

There was, and she hated that she couldn’t seem to keep a secret from him. Decades of being each other’s closest ones tend to shed her facades and reveal her true feelings.

“I don’t think I’m good enough for your family,” Madison drinks her coffee nervously and waited for Ralph.

She has never told him before, he always thought that she was perfectly fine with his family and her confession startled him.

“Where is this coming from?”

“My family is not perfect, and your mom...” Madison sat up and put her cup on the side table.

“Maddie, spill.”

Ralph was never one to be patient with any explanation. She knows he would eventually find out.

“My parents, they got married when my mother was pregnant with me. And to this day they never get along with each other,”

“Maddie, that’s not...”

“Ralph, please...” she reminded him not to interrupt her.

“... I was really unhappy as a child and never understood why, they were always fighting and you have been my only escape.”

“What does this have to do with us?” Ralph finally asked impatiently, he knows about her family already and was starting to get upset when she would think of his family in such a manner.

“I overheard your mom talked to your dad, about me, my family, about us.” Madison took his hands and rubbed them lovingly.

“...your mom said that they were going to set you up with a woman within their social standings, telling your dad that you have been befriending me then thinking that we were getting too close.”

“Madison, why are you even thinking about this? I’m not even their biological kid? you know this already.” Ralph looked upset then put his cup aside.

“Ralph, you can’t expect me to...”

He took her hands and stopped her words, and slowly kissing her knuckles.

“Maddie, baby I love you. If they can’t be happy for me then I will be happy for us. But don’t tell me to hide my feelings for you from the rest of the world.”

She looked at him smiling and he pulled her in for his sweet loving kisses, which then turned hot in seconds.

The couple finally leaves the apartment just before lunchtime and arrived at Ralph’s parents on time for Mable’s birthday celebration.

“There they are, come here we’ve been waiting for my little brother and his cheeky best friend, come here Madison, it’s been a while.” Dale greeted the young couple with his hug and Mable was running towards Madison with her eyes beaming with happiness as the little girl saw the box of presents that she was carrying.

“Well hello there, so...birthday gift for the birthday girl?” Madison was on her knee leveling herself to the litter girl, while Madison was nodding her head in excitement with her signature megawatt making Madison giggled at her.

The very pink gift box was quickly shredded and she stopped when she was holding on to the pink polaroid camera box.

“I loooove you!” she hugged Madison tightly making everyone laugh.

“Thank you, Maddie, as always you’re spoiling our little b.rat.” Dale caressed Mable’s hair then told Madison and Ralph to join everyone for the cake cutting.

Mable ran to her grandparents, Nancy and Alan. She was showing them the new gift that she got from Madison. Nancy smiled at her granddaughter and put the camera aside telling her to go to her mom and get ready to cut the cake.

Both grandparents looked proud at their little granddaughter, both smiling at Dale’s little family. While Larry and Tyler were busy chatting and flirting with three other women that Madison didn’t recognize.

Everyone was laughing at Dale who was adoring his kid. Amanda was right beside him looking beautifully pregnant while cutting the birthday cake for everyone.

An hour later Madison was feeling like a third wheel when Nancy was introducing Ralph to the three women who were talking to Tyler and Larry.

“Ralph my son, come here I’d like to introduce you to someone,” Nancy said grabbing his arm and taking him to the beautiful brunette.

“Mom, please I’m here with Madison.”

“Ralph please, don’t be rude to our new guest.”

The beautiful brunette smiled warmly at him, while he looked at Madison raising his brow knowing that she was walking away from him.

“Ralph it’s okay, I’m just going to get some drinks for us,” Madison said, smiling at him.

He was hesitant but then decided to get it over with. He chatted with the woman for a while, knowing exactly that it was his mom's doing, wanting to set him up with a woman.

"Jeez, see how subtle our mom's pushing the girl to Ralph boy there?" Larry rests his back to the wall opening his conversation as Madison was watching her Ralph being introduced to another woman by his mom.

"Well...she is beautiful," Madison said with a sting in her heart knowing that the woman has the perfect body. She knows his type of women he usually goes for, and the brunette was one of them.

"Not as beautiful as you Madison." Tyler flirted and twirled her just like when they used to play princess and dragons when they were kids. Her laughs were heard throughout the room and Ralph was looking at his oldest brother in pure jealousy.

He was still trying to get out of the nagging conversation that his mom had just dragged him into and his brothers were already flirting with his Madison.

"Okay, nice meeting you...I'm going to get back to my girlfriend and let you girls enjoy the party. Mom, I'll talk to you later." He kissed his mom on the cheek and walk to Madison, he was upset already and they weren't even there that long. While he could hear his mom apologizes to the women for his attitude.

"Madison, can I talk to you?"

She looked at him knowing that he always gets jealous when his brothers flirted with her. Always has been since they were kids.

"Oh no, the prince is here to claim his beautiful princess."

"Guys come on, stop picking on your little brother." She took his hand and let him put it on her waist possessively. The brothers looked at the couple with suspicion.

"Yep, we're officially a couple now," Ralph said smugly to his brothers then take her hand and kissed her knuckles.

"Ralph..." she tried to warn him.

“Woah, congratulations dude. Seriously Maddie this boy has been following you like a lost puppy for years.” Tyler patted Ralph on the shoulder like a proud brother.

But the joy didn't last long, not when their mother came up to them and asked what they were talking about. Though Larry was oblivious to his mother's antics and blurted out about Ralph and Madison's new dating status.

“Owh, I thought you two...well, I didn't expect that...hmm...anyway, I'm going to the kitchen to get more food,” his mother looked upset and Ralph immediately knows that she was not happy with the news.

“Maddie, wait here...let me talk to her,” he kissed her on the lips chastely and she awkwardly smiled in front of his brothers who were looking like they're ready to roast them at any given moment.

“Guys...not now, okay?” Ralph warned them knowingly.

“Dude, go...we got your back. We'll take care of your woman.” Tyler told him in his big brotherly manner.

It was another half an hour, Madison was trying out the new camera with Mable while the women were back to talking to Tyler and Larry when Ralph stormed out of the kitchen looking furious.

“Come Maddie we're done here, Mable baby... we'll visit you again later this week in the coffee shop okay? Madison and I have to leave right now.”

“Uncle Ralph...is everything okay?” the little girl asked looking confused.

“Everything will be just fine Mable, Amanda... I'm sorry, but tell everyone we enjoyed the party, okay?” Madison kissed the little girl and hugged Amanda while Ralph talked briefly with Dale who already looked upset.

Madison didn't know what happened, but she was sure that it had upsets Ralph to the point that he needed to storm out on his mother.

They were finally in his car and on their way back to their apartment when she asked.

“Ralph?”

“Not now baby, I just...not now...”

Madison decided to play it cool and let Ralph talk when he decided to talk. But she was getting annoyed as he was still silent when they reached her place.

“I need some time alone,” Ralph said as he walked her to her apartment and he headed back to his.

And it was in the middle of the night when he slipped into her bed and spooned her from behind.

“I’m sorry about today,” he whispered making her sighed and turned back to face him.

“I hate the fact that you handle your problems by staying away from me.” She snuggled in closer to him and takes in his warmth.

“I know baby, I love you. I’m sorry if I upset you.”

“We’re still so young Ralph, we have many years ahead of us. You never know what would happen...”

“Madison don’t go there,”

“I won’t if you stop keeping things to yourself.” She slithered her hand under his t-shirt feeling his abs tracing up to his muscled chest.

That night she didn’t want to think about anything else, she wanted him. She didn’t want to think about his mother, his family, and her family. That night all she wanted was him.

“Mm...mm...I like the way you’re trying to convince me.” He smirked and replied huskily.

“Right, so...why don’t you stay and let me take all your worries away?”

“Stop talking and more se.xy moves baby,”

His words made her smile and bit her lip. Then she pushed Ralph flat to the bed and gets on top of him.

“Woah, baby....”

“Sshh...let me do this for you,” Madison said cheekily while taking off his t-shirt and start kissing his naked chest.

He was about to take off her flimsy top when she took his hands and put them on each side of his head.

“I said, let me do this for you...”

Her words gave him the double meaning and it just made him twitched.

“Let’s forget about everything, tonight there will be only us.” She lowered herself down and kissed him passionately, with heated desire making both of them moaned.

“I’m liking where this is going,” he said without taking off his eyes from his beautiful girlfriend who was taking off her top while straddling him sexually.

Madison could feel him getting hard as she grinds him slowly, lowering and flattening her body to his, feeling her nipples to his hard chest, while kissing him deeper and weaving her fingers to his.

“Mmm... I can’t wait to have you inside me... ride you hard...”

“Fvckkk...”

“We will Ralphy,” she whispered while her hand trail down between his legs and started stroking his length from his sweatpants.

He couldn’t take it anymore and started caressing her body with his free hand.

“Ralph baby, you are making me do this.”

He didn’t understand what she was saying until she reached under her bed and took out a set of handcuffs then smirked at him.

“Madison...you are making me so damn hard,”

“Mmm...I can't wait to taste you,” she said while licking his ear, then cuffing him at the same time.

Ralph didn't even realize that she had him cuffed to her bed, while she was seductively whispering sexy words in his ear.

“Fvck!” he cursed and rattled the cuffs wanting to feel her with his hands.

“All in good time baby, now that I have you cuffed to my bed...” she hooks her fingers seductively to the waist of his sweatpants and pulls it down in one single motion. He groaned when his very erect dick greeted her with his tip leaking with his precum.

“Oh fvck...”

She smiled at him wickedly and started licking his tip while hearing the cuffs rattled as he was too eager to take control of the situation.

“Deeper Maddie, please,”

Madison followed his instruction to the dot and please him until he was moaning her name louder.

She could feel herself getting wet from his sexy grunts and that was when she gets to undress and back to straddling him. Ralph noticed that she was finally good with him going bare, but that time she was on top and he couldn't control himself as best as he could if he was on top.

“Maddie, condom. I can't...control myself,”

But she didn't say anything back, not when she was so horny for her Ralph. And she was quick to lower herself and let him stretched her insides and touch the deeper side of her.

“Ralph, you feel so good...” she moaned while her hands were supporting her body and holding onto his arms at the same time.

She was fvcking him hard, and fast and he was struggling to hold himself. She was back to kissing his delectable lips, letting her tits touch his chest and the friction was driving him closer to the edge.

“Baby, I'm going to come, you need to...slow down,”

“Hold it...I’m so close, let me...oh...”

She kept moving gyrating her hips trying to get herself to climax, his groans, the rattling of the cuffs, his deep shallow breaths, all were taking her too fast to impossible for her, all while knowing the consequences she must’ve been so crazy but she couldn’t help herself.

And in that one tiny moment, she lost control of everything and only look at his handsome face, his adoring expression, and she climaxed completely feeling that he was twitching inside her.

The kiss that they shared the moment she climaxed had heightened the very sexual intimacy between them, and she could feel it when he burst inside her as he thrust hard from under her.

And she didn’t pull back but kept on moving her hips, rocking herself slowly as they were both coming down from their climax. She was kissing him deeper with so much feeling she didn’t know had that much for him.

“I love you,” she whispered in between her kisses.

“I love you more,” he said then hearing the cuffs rattled

It took her another couple of moments until she took off the cuffs and let him pull her into his embrace.

“Thank you, baby, I needed that. More than I realized.”

She didn’t say anything but excused herself telling him she needs to go to the bathroom.

But her tears fall the second she saw herself in the bathroom mirror. She couldn’t believe she let herself go far with him. She quickly cleans herself while repeatedly wiping her tears.

“Madison?”

“I’ll be right out,”

“Baby, are you okay?” Ralph asked worriedly hearing her shaky voice from the other side of the door.

And he couldn't stand it any longer when he finally opens the door and finds her all teary while still looking beautifully n.aked.

"Madison? hey, baby, I got you. Please don't cry, I know you look beautiful crying too but I like seeing you without the we.t substance."

She finally laughs at his words, while her tears were still trailing down her cheeks.

"Oh, Maddie...still beautiful baby, laughing and crying suits you just well." He pulled her flat to his c.hest knowing her worries already.

"I got you, my love, I got you."

Lusting For Ralph Chapter 28 - Tips

0 6 minutes read

That same day another college student was feeling the same possessive feel towards his partner.

Though Brian wanted to know if he's the dad. He needs her to know that he'd be there for her no matter what. He was looking at her peacefully sleeping next to him, then he slowly gets out of bed and decided to make her breakfast in bed.

But she was up before he was finished with the cheese omelet.

"Morning," she greeted him and takes a seat on the breakfast bar while watching half-n.aked Brian making breakfast in just his varsity sweatpants.

"Morning," he chastely k!ssed her l!ps and gave her the steaming hot milk, and added one shot of espresso from his expensive-looking coffee machine.

"Thank you," she smiled sweetly at him.

"So I figured I'd try and put cheese on all of your menus...you know for your morning sickness thing?"

She took his hand and k!ssed it, thanking him once again for being there for her.

“Aww...don't go mushy on me, now eat. Then we'll go to the doctor's office and take my paternity test.”

Kendra froze and looked at him.

“What am I not subtle enough? babe, I need you to know that I'll be there for you whether I'm the dad or not. This is for you, not for me.”

“Brian,”

She was shocked by his statement and not knowing anything about his wealthy parents. But she knows his kind of people won't deal well with gold-digging b!tch that they'd think she'd be.

“...I can't, your parents. I'm...”

“Kendra, let me worry about them. You have your parents to worry about. When are you going to tell them?” he asked while spooning her the omelet giving her a taste of the cheesy goodness.

She takes the spoon and ate the cheesy omelet which surprisingly tasted very good.

“Wow, this is good...”

“Youtube,” he smirked and eat his omelet while explaining to her about the cooking channel that he has been watching.

“So?” he waited for her answer while drinking his coffee.

“I don't know, I'm still adjusting with the news. I'm going back today, I have homework and I need to shower...” she was finishing her breakfast and drinking down her coffee.

“Just pack your stuff, move in with me.”

“Move in with me,” he said taking her hand in his and k!ssed it, then he cupped her cheek and k!ssed her l!ps softly.

“Come let's shower then I'll help you pack your stuff.”

She was going to say no when he swiftly picked her up and carried her to his large shower.

“Brian!” she screams and laughs when he turned on the shower while they were still wearing their clothes.

But the laughter died when he was back to kissing her. His hands were trailing the side of her body, she was holding on to him while trying to breathe as the water poured from the shower.

“Brian...”

He turned off the shower then peeled off her wet clothes and did the same to his pants. She was kissed deeper as he was squeezing her ass pulling her flat to his erection.

He groaned when she kissed him back vigorously. He wanted her, he wanted all of her. And that was when he pushed her to the shower wall and kneel then started licking her.

She was holding onto his shoulder, while he holds her thighs and devours her deeper. Kendra was moaning his name, she was taken closer to her climax and he kept on sucking and licking her until she finally shattered.

Then he got up and licked her nipples, making her bite her lip and let out another moan when he picked her up and thrusts his hard dick into her. Kendra's back rests on the shower wall as he holds her body and thrusts her hard and deep.

Kendra pulled him down for his hot sexy kisses. She loved the fact that he has a big physique and can lift her without even breaking a sweat.

“Babe, I'm so fucking hard for you.”

“Brian, more...” she was holding him closer, wanting him deeper and he was moving and thrusting harder while her legs wrapped tighter around his waist.

“Move in with me...” he groaned while she clenched him tighter.

“Move in with me...” he was stroking her insides with his thick dick slowly, and it was driving her insane.

“Brian, please...”

“Move in with me...” he kept on teasing her licking her just under her ear, whispering his words sexually until she couldn't take it anymore and give him her yes.

“Yes, Brian...yes!”

She could feel him smirked and he finally thrusts faster then deeper, holding her body until they both climax seconds apart.

He let her down slowly and grabbed her when her legs tremble from the sheer intensity of her climax. His cum was trailing between her legs and he was liking the view.

“You're going to be one hot momma.”

He pulled her in for another kiss, he couldn't seem to get enough of her and she was kissing him back with an equal to passion.

“You're going to be one manipulative partner aren't you?”

“Baby daddy sounds sexier, don't you think?”

“Brian...” she pouted adorably, obviously not wanting to go near that discussion.

“Brian!!” but then she laughs when he turned on the shower and poured the cold water making her pushed herself flat to him as she seeks for his warmth.

The new couple exited his posh serviced apartment just before lunch where they decided to pack up her essential stuff and be back for the rest of her stuff next weekend.

The doctor's appointment was made and she went to another hospital and did the paternity test with him. The procedure was the same, but the difference was that time Brian was truly there for her. He was asking questions about her pregnancy with the doctor while she was once again being hormonal and teary all through the examination.

And Brian kissed her hair while whispering that she's going to be a great mother throughout the ultrasound where all she did was cry as they hear the baby's heartbeat.

They were having their lunch when her parents called her saying that they're at her apartment. She panicked and told them that she was on her way there.

"Hey, everything is going to be okay. Maybe this is best? I'll be there with you. Kendra, you can do this."

She wiped her tears and nodded thinking he's right. She needs to rip the band-aid and get it over with. It was her fault and she needs to face it like an adult.

But her bravado died out when her dad looked at Brian with scrutiny and her mom was the first to ask about him.

"Who is this man? why is he here with you?"

"Hello mom, dad..." she greeted her parents but was holding onto Brian's hand tighter.

"I'm her boyfriend Brian Harrison." He decided to leave it at that and give Kendra the chance to talk.

"We put you up in college to study not to play house." Her dad was the first to talk down on her, she was teary while Brian let her hand go and started rubbing her back silently telling her that he was there for her.

"Get your hands off of her, Kendra..." her mom was pulling her away from Brian but she stood her ground and dropped the bomb.

"I'm pregnant."

Not Kendra nor Brian see it coming but the slap was heard so loud in the suddenly quiet room.

Her mother was held by her dad, her handprint was pink against Kendra's wet cheek.

"We will no longer support you. You have chosen your path. May God forgive your sins, this is not how we raised you to be, you are no longer welcome in our house."

Brian could feel her crumble as she didn't say anything, he was holding her weight. He didn't want her to give her parents the satisfaction of abandoning their child when she needed them the most.

She sobbed the moment her apartment door was closed and her parents left her for good.

“You will be just fine, I’m here for you.” Brian chanted the words over and over again, she takes a deep breath trying to cope with the situation while deep down she was devastated.

She was struggling on the inside, her feelings were all over the place and all she wants to do is drown in her sadness but Brian was not letting her.

Brian, the se.xual partner,

The baby daddy wanna be,

Until one day he decided otherwise.

Madison was still upset with herself, and Ralph finally opens up to her about the conversation he had with his mom. Somehow he knows she needed a distraction, and at that moment he could only think about the fight that he had with his mom.

“She was really upset with me, telling me that she has high hopes for me. Wanting me to finish college then work for my dad and obviously settled down with the women of our social standings...that’s her words...”

“What? fvck no! I want you. I will settle down with you.”

They were about to go to campus though both were not feeling it, the argument was taking place over breakfast and she didn’t know what he had expected from her.

“I told you already, Ralph. Your mom wanted you to have women with the perfect background. Look, she’s doing this because she loves you.”

She took her plate to the sink when she decided that she was finished with her breakfast.

“And you’re letting her control my life, does it mean that you don’t love me?”

He was getting irritated and drank his coffee to wash down his breakfast.

“Ralph, I’m doomed for happiness, you should know this about me already.”

“Well maybe so am I! and we should be miserable together.”

Ralph was being persistent and they were back to arguing like a married old couple already. Up until they go their separate ways and went to their classes.

Though at the end of her day she didn’t expect that Kendra would sit next to her, thinking what the hell she’d want from her.

“I’m sorry about the baby drama.”

Madison smiled back, trying to be polite in the most possible way she could.

“Hey, it’s okay. You’re...wait, what happened, who did that to you?” Madison pointed the bruise at her exposed wrist to which Kendra covered it back nervously with her long sleeve.

“My mom, she’s upset with my pregnancy. She’s...”

“Hey, look...do you want to skip class? you looked like you can use a cup of coffee.” Madison said touching her hand looking a bit concerned. The class hasn’t started yet, they still have time to sneak out of class.

“I...”

Madison has always been the nicest, and Kendra knows that’s why Ralph loves her so much.

“Come on, you won’t be focussing on the lecture anyway.” Madison got up and nudged Kendra to go with her.

They finally settled in a coffee shop across campus. And Madison ordered her some decaf while getting a nonfat latte for herself.

“Can I get you something to eat? do you have anything you can’t...you know with the morning sickness?”

Madison knows random facts from watching too many youtube channels and morning sickness was one of them.

“I’ll take a cheesecake, thank you Madison,” Kendra said still feeling a bit awkward talking to the woman who she hated not long ago.

Madison was back with their order moments later and then started nibbling on her brownies while she waited for Kendra to relax.

“Look Maddie, I’m sorry I’ve been such a b!tch between you and Ralph.”

“Why don’t we put that in the past, okay?” Madison was truly worried for her.

“You said your mom is upset, did she hurt you anywhere else? do you need to get checked by a doctor?”

“I’m fine Maddie, Brian was there.”

The mention of his name made her quiet, Madison was not sure if Kendra knows about her and Brian’s issue on the one supposedly drunken night.

“He said, he’d be there for me. I don’t know, I’m just hoping for the best. We went to take a paternity test, we’re still waiting for the result.” She shrugged but then starting to get teary and Madison rubbed her hand trying to comfort her.

“Everything will be okay, I know we’re not the best of friends. But please let me know if I can help you with anything. My parents aren’t the best too, and I know it can be very depressing when you don’t have the support from your closest ones.”

The two women kept on talking, mostly about Kendra and her plans with her pregnancy which was none. But she talks about Brian, and it seems that she needed someone to talk to.

“We should keep in touch,” Madison said as she saw Brian walking towards them, both men had called their woman and they were meeting their men at the cafe.

But Kendra left her in all awkwardness with Brian, saying she needs to go to the bathroom.

“She does that, a lot.” Brian trying to lighten up the tension between them, telling her it was because of the pregnancy.

“Yeah, I’ve noticed.” She smiled coldly at him, clearly still remember what he did that night.

“Look, thank you. She really needed this, and...I’m sorry for being such a jerk. You know what? don’t...you don’t have to forgive me. I’m just glad Ralph was there to beat me up.”

Madison looked at him and was about to say her words when Ralph entered the cafe and looked furious in seconds.

“Why are you sitting at the same table as her? Do you need more beatings?”

“Dude, sorry...I’m waiting for,”

“Ralph? Brian?” Kendra interrupted from behind them and both men were silent in seconds.

“It’s okay Kendra, just testosterone.” Madison chimed in from behind Ralph who was a bit shocked by the people he was seeing.

Madison didn’t tell him anything about her meeting the odd couple at the cafe, he wasn’t prepared when he saw Brian sitting in front of her.

“...so call me, we can set another meetup.” Maddie hugged the still slim-looking pregnant woman in front of her.

“Thank you, Maddie, I appreciate this, Ralph I’m sorry...”

“Hey, come on cheer up.” Madison hugged her again and they finally parted moments later.

“So you two best friends now?” Ralph asked her as they both walked to his car.

“Ralph it’s been a long day, and hearing about her life just made mine bearable.” Madison sighed as she gets into the passenger seat.

“She was sitting beside me in my last class and I saw the bruise on her wrist, and no...it was not from Brian. It’s from her mom’s, yep she was also slapped and cut from her family. Now she’s living with Brian, and both are currently waiting for the paternity test result.”

“Oh wow...” Ralph was speechless as he drives his car into the late afternoon traffic.

“Yep...so, whatever happens with us I’m just going to be grateful.” She took his hand and kissed it and Ralph looks at her with a relieved expression on his face making her laugh then the couple was back to the happy state of their relationship.

Both didn’t realize that their life was still going to be rocked with more uncertainties.

Weeks passed as Madison let go of her worries, and the situation was back to normal aside from the constant call that he got from his mom.

The holidays were coming and Ralph was expected to be back home, while Madison was not enthusiastic to go back to her mom.

“Maybe we should skip the family holidays and have our holiday.” Ralph pulled her to his chest while his hand slithered under her tights, she was just back from her morning runs while he was just back from the local gym.

The former campus player was at a point where he was syncing his workout schedule to her morning run just so they could spend more time together.

He couldn’t get enough of her and with the holidays coming, his brothers were saying that they were expected to have a family trip where his mom was going all out on being the matchmaker for her boys.

“Larry said mom was taking us to a family trip and he has his suspicion that we were going to be introduced to some...I believe his words were future wives.”

Ralph kept on talking while his fingers reached between her legs and started stroking her.

“Ralph...” she scolded him but moaning seconds later, Madison could never resist his touches.

“I always love looking at you in tights, your a.ss is too se.xy for my eyes.”

His other hand was squeezing her a.ss making her moan his name again.

“I’m still sweaty, I need to shower.” She said while trying to get away from him.

“But I’m still talking,” he was being deviously cheeky when he added his se.xy k!sses into the mix and within moments she was a goner.

He picked her up and carried her to his shower, then without warning he turned the shower on and she was wet in her tights.

“You looked se.xy as hell, I could look at you all day.”

Madison was pushed to the shower wall and he was admiring her drenched tights which latched se.xily onto her body.

She moaned when he lowered her top and l!cked her t!ts while both hands clutching her a.ss on each side. The former campus playboy was pressing his hardening d!ck to her body.

Madison’s hands roamed his body once she takes off his drenched t-shirt. He gr0aned when it was her turn to push him to the shower wall and started stroking his d!ck through his wet sweatpants.

“Maddie, oh fvck...” he cursed the moment she pulled down his pants and started lathering his n.aked body sensually.

Moments later she was str!pping herself n.aked and k!ssing him, pulling his n.aked body flat to hers. The sl!ckness, the hot shower, the passion, all entangled into a steamy shower encounter which made them leave wet trails straight back to his bed.

He caged her under him within seconds and she was praising his name the moment he was between her legs. His thrusts were hard and deep, and she was grasping to the sheets when he took her legs to his chest pushing himself deeper into her.

“Ralph, baby...I’m so close, harder...”

The hot young stud groaned and holds her legs possessively and started kissing her calves in such hunger. She melted in his kisses and arched her back in content, while Ralph kept on looking intensely at her. He was calculating his thrusts and kept on giving her pleasure after pleasure until she was high in bliss when she climaxed, screaming out his name in ecstasy.

Then he thrusts a couple of more times until he pulled out and burst on her stomach.

“I love you,”

“I love you more,” he whispered and slumped next to hers after wiping her clean with the damp towel.

Hours later Ralph had an appointment with Walter and Shani, while Madison decided to spend the afternoon having a chat with Kendra at Silvio’s. She was liking her company as they talked more about their parents and school and trying their best not to discuss about their men.

But she didn’t expect to bump into Ralph’s mother as she was about to go home. Brian had picked up Kendra and they parted moments before his mom stepped into the small restaurant.

“Ah, Madison what a nice surprise. Please join me, I’m ordering take-out for Ralph’s dad.”

She awkwardly followed the older woman, Madison was reluctant but didn’t want to make his mom hated her more.

“So, were you leaving? I thought you’re here with Ralph.”

“Yeah and no I’m not here with Ralph, I was just having some coffee with a friend. She just left, Ralph is meeting his friends.”

“I see, well...I guess it’s good then. I’m glad we have the privacy to talk.”

Madison was nervous but sits as his mom waved her hand calling the waiter. She was telling the man her takeaway order, then ordered two cups of coffee for both of them.

“So, how’s your parents?” his mom started the conversation which was heading straight downhill for her.

“They’re fine, my mom is waiting for me to come home for the school holiday.”

“That’s nice. I’m also waiting for Ralph to come home, we’re going to take a family holiday with a couple of our best friends and their children.”

It felt like she skipped a beat, she definitely knows where she was going. Ralph had told her already, but she was not ready when her mom told her the cold hard truth.

Mrs. Richardson paused before she continued with her words.

“I know you and my son have been the best of friends for years and you’ve been there for him when he needed you the most.”

She was biting her lip, hated the fact that his mom still refers to their situation as a best friend while Ralph had clearly stated that they were dating when they last met at Mable’s birthday party.

“...but, he’s meant to reach higher.”

It was like she was being cut off from Ralph’s life completely. His mom has never been mean to her. Yet, she always has her way of manipulating her words and made her feel welcome in his family in front of Ralph or his brothers.

“...Madison, you’re the sweetest friend he could ever have.”

But from an early age, she had known that she could never blend with his kind of people. That was why she always stands in the background and refused every time Ralph or his brothers invited her for dinner or any kind of formal occasion that they’d held every couple of times a year.

“...I hope you understand where I’m going with this?” his mom smiled sweetly at her.

“Yes, but I don’t think Ralph would.”

Madison was telling the truth, she knows Ralph would be pissed off when he finds out that his mom had been talking to her and telling her to back down from his relationship with Ralph.

“Now, my dear Madison. I think you should rip that bandage off. Better do it now, rather than years later he disappointed you for having an affair with his kind of woman. Or, when one day you decided to leave him when the pressure of our society is getting to you?”

“...trust me, my dear, you and my son...it won't last.” She patted her hand and got up after leaving some money to settle their bill.

Madison could only watch as Mrs. Richardson walked casually out of the restaurant with her takeout bags. She looked back at Madison and nodded then was gone from her vision.

The young woman never felt so low in her entire life before, not even when her parents decided to let her know that they were getting a divorce.

That afternoon she decided to take a late afternoon run, trying to clear her mind. She was back sweaty and tired but her mind was clear, and she knows exactly what to do.

She was going to her dad's for the school holiday and distanced herself from Ralph. Maybe they needed a break, maybe she needs to know whether Ralph would relent to his mom's wishes or his love for her was truly undebatable.

Though she was reluctant to give up easily to his mom's, but deep down she also wanted the best for Ralph.
