Chapter 108

“Hm?” Lilac didn’t understand what Hunter meant by saying ‘I can show you better’, since she was asking him to tell her about what kind of discussion he had with Aiden, but nevertheless, she was already curious enough and was excited for Hunter to spill the tea. “What do you want to show me?”

There was this mischievousness that flickered in Hunter’s eyes when he heard that, but then he really showed her what the condition he wanted.

At first, it started with light kisses on her cheeks, lips and earlobe, which made Lilac frowned, but she let him do whatever he wanted, because it was not weird for him to be very touchy. Somehow, this man looked like he couldn’t get his hands off her.

Despite being a little bit confused with the way Hunter was acting, Lilac immediately realized what he meant by showing her what he wanted, because it just clicked in her mind about what he actually wanted when he put his palm over her chest and squeezed her breast lightly.

“Hunter!” Lilac gasped, she tried to push him away, but instead, he pushed her down until the two of them lay on the makeshift bed inside the carriage, he hovered her, his hooded eyes fixed on her blushing face. “You are pervert!” Lilac hissed, but her voice sounded so weak to be said as she rejected his advance.

“Hm...” Hunter intoned, but he didn’t stop with his advances and started to kiss her neck and caressed her body lightly. He called her name seductively, as he nibbled on her earlobe and made his mate shudder, until her complain turned into a moan, Lilac really couldn’t comprehend, how could this man so affectionate with her.

She thought, something like this would only happen when there was this bond between you, but then her concept was proven wrong, because the man that supposed to have bond with her had actually betrayed her, while this man had chosen her, not because of the concept of mate bond, but pure because of his own volition.

He had waited for her for a long time. He remembered her and went to extra miles to get her back the moment he learned her whereabouts.

Well, the twenty nine women were really a sore topic, but after he met her, he swore with his own life to treat her well.

Lilac wanted to believe that. She couldn't afford to have her heart broken again for the second times, because it felt extremely awful.

Hunter kissed her, nibbled on her skin and caressed her, he licked her and pleased her until Lilac didn't even realize when he actually undressed her, because a moment later, she found herself was already naked and Hunter's hooded eyes were on her bare skin, this made her self conscious and tried to hide herself.

But the alpha growled because she disrupted him when he was appreciating the beautiful sight in front of him.

"Don't hide yourself, Lilac, you are very beautiful," Hunter said in hoarse voice, he said that in such feeling that made Lilac also felt beautiful and comfortable with herself.

Lilac bit her lip, which drove Hunter crazy, as he started to kiss her again, this time he didn't do it carefully, if anything, he did it very roughly, as he was barely able to contain himself. He wanted to let himself lost in her, he wanted to be crazy, but when Lilac gasped, he stopped.

"Did I hurt you?" Hunter asked, his body was trembling and Lilac could see how this man was trying his best to get control over himself, since he didn't want to hurt her. How beautiful and considerate he was to think of her when he could simply force himself and Lilac wouldn't have able to say anything, if he really did that.

“N- no...” Lilac said, it was not really hurt, but she was still not used with the way Hunter wanted her. She could feel it how much he wanted her and that made her shudder. How could someone become so obsessed with her?

“Can... we continue?” Hunter asked, despite the uncomfortable feeling that he felt, he didn’t want this to be a bad experience for her.

He wanted to ravish her and eat her whole, but if she told him to stop, he would no matter how hard it was for him to do so.

Thankfully, Lilac smiled and didn’t put him through that kind of hell, as she stretched out her arms and pulled him closer for a kiss.

Hunter couldn’t hold himself anymore, as he positioned himself between her legs and swallowed her moan when he entered her. He thrust into her gently, letting her to be more comfortable with his size and stretched for him.

Only when she became more relax, he kept the pace...

“Hunter...” Lilac called his name. Her moan was swallowed and it didn’t take long for her body to shudder and she found her release, she felt like her body had shattered into pieces, but Hunter had not yet done with her.

After Lilac’s body stopped shuddering, the alpha growled and flipped her body, so she gave her back to him. Alerted, Lilac looked at Hunter over her shoulder, but she cried when she felt he entered her again from behind. He held her waist to steady her as she was on her elbows and knees.

“Ah!” Lilac moved along with him, as she felt something started to build inside of her. This was too intense and her body felt very hot, especially when she was about to get her second climax and Hunter bit her shoulder. The pain and pleasure mixed together, Lilac was not sure whether she could take it and when she got her released, she felt like her whole body combusted.

The feeling lasted for a long time and she could feel Hunter's body also shuddered, he came inside of her and she felt this warm feeling between her legs.
