

Belong to the Lycan Alpha

Chapter 112

The first thing that came into Aiden's mind when he saw Ruby was bleeding was to come to Hunter's entourage, he saw it before that he brought a healer with him. More so, it was faster to approach Hunter than to return to his own pack, since it would take at least a day worth of journey.

By the time they arrived at the pack, Aiden didn't even want to imagine what could happen to his child and... Ruby. He was scared if he was being honest with himself.

After all, he was wrecked by guilty feeling, since he realized it was his action that caused this. Even though he was too proud to admit it and was still dislike the baby and the woman, who carried his child, since it was not Lilac.

"Can you let the healer to see my mate?" Aiden said, he tried to act calm, but the sound of Ruby was crying was really disturbing.

Aiden explained everything to Hunter and literally ask for his help, despite how heated their conversation earlier and how he had cursed the alpha, but he didn't have any other choice, or else, he was going to lose his firstborn.

His mind was really twisted, because he was not only changed it a few times, but he didn't really know what he truly felt at this moment.

"You bring your heavily pregnant mate with you in this long journey, but you don't take any precaution by bringing along your own healer?" Hunter scoffed, he was in disbelief by how reckless this man was.

Even if he didn't like the woman, but the baby was still his.

Hunter brought his healer with him because Lilac just healed from her injuries, though she was perfectly fine, but he didn't want to take the risk.

This was only a small matter, but Hunter took all precaution for Lilac, just in case something happened and she started to feel uncomfortable and yet, this stupid alpha didn't even bring a healer with him.

If Hunter were in Aiden's shoes, he wouldn't even bring Lilac at all, since this long journey could be very tiring for a pregnant woman.

Ever since the beginning, Ruby came along for a guise so Aiden could ask for Hunter to bring Lilac, who would have thought that not even Aiden could talk with Lilac, but the woman didn't even care about his existence. He held no significant in her eyes.

"How will you pay me for this favor?" Hunter asked with a smirk. He couldn't care less about the pregnant woman inside the carriage. If he could take benefit from this, so be it. After all, that woman was not his responsibility.

"Alpha Hunter! Don't you think you are being too much for asking such thing at time like this?!" he roared angrily, though there was nothing for him to be angry about, since it was not even his business to begin with.

However, the five other representative from different pack had been very dissatisfied with the way Aiden handled thing, more so they could hear their fighting before all of this happened.

For Aiden to ask for a favor from the alpha lycan, it would put them into disadvantage and it was proven now. The alpha asked for more because he knew he could provide the help that Aiden needed.

"If you want to find someone to be blamed, blame him, because it was not me, who forgot to bring a healer on a long journey with a pregnant woman," Hunter replied curtly. "If there is no benefit for me whatsoever, you will only waste my time."

Hunter turned around and left Aiden and the rest of the people-dry, because he didn't want to deal with them and wanted to go back to his pack as soon as possible.

No, actually, Hunter only wanted to return to the carriage because Lilac was there and indulge himself with his luna.

The coachmen must have a hard time to control the carriage, since it was shaking so badly earlier. Not to mention the smell of his after lovemaking, people could tell what was going on inside the carriage.

Even Aiden in the feat of his rage, he still could smell the faint scent of it. He balled his fists tightly.

“What happened?” Lilac asked once Hunter got on the carriage, she had been staring through the window, but she didn’t have any idea what they were talking about, since Hunter created a far perimeter from their carriage, thus she couldn’t hear what they were discussing about.

“Nothing,” Hunter said and then proceeded to tell Lilac what was actually going on because he had been teasing her relentlessly earlier, he didn’t want to upset her even more.

“Hunter, is that alright?” Lilac asked. She looked worried. She disliked the two of them for causing her so much pain of the betrayal, but then they were talking about an innocent baby and someone’s life.

No matter how Lilac despised them so much, there was no way, she would let her hatred ran so wild and caused the life of two people.

“Hunter, I think we need to help them...” Lilac said, she couldn’t help, but Hunter’s decision didn’t work well with her conscience,

Hunter smiled to she her like this, he kissed the tip of her nose and spoke very gently. “Don’t worry, he will cave in soon.”

And true to his words, not long after a warrior came knocking on the door of their carriage.

“Alpha Aiden agreed to listen to what you want in order for you to led him our healer,” the warrior informed Hunter about the decision that Aiden had mad.

“Tell him to come here and talk to me directly,” Hunter said with light tone, as if he didn’t really consider this matter as urgent, neither important.

“Yes, alpha,” said the warrior.

“See? I told you right?” Hunter kissed her lips. “He is very predictable.”

“What do you want from him?”
