Chapter 150

There was time when he was little when he acted out, he was filled with so much anger because of his contention with his father. Even when he was still very young, Hunter used to but thead with his father, though he respected him, his father always used intimidation to make him behave.

The training little Hunter had to go through was rather extreme, something that only a full grown warrior would be able to do and his father expected him to have the same ability as those battle hardened warriors.

At eleven years old, after the attempt of murder, every time Hunter filled with rage, he would come to the cave behind the waterfall and met that sweet little girl, who had saved his life. His naïve smile and her innocent eyes were the only salvation for him, something that could make him feel better in a matter of second.

Maybe he realized, only this little girl, who really cared about him, she was the only one, who tried to save his life while the other tried to hurt him. Needless to say, the training he had to go through was brutal. It was beyond one could imagine a young kid like him had to go through.

But, with this little girl, he could be a child again, as little Hunter knew, this little girl wouldn't hurt him, neither she would bring him pain.

Therefore, now when Lilac looked so scared of him, Hunter felt a pang in his heart. He tried to gather his wits, but he felt restless. The horror in her eyes bothered him so much.

"Love, I will not hurt you," he said in a very gentle voice, keeping his distance from her because he knew how much she put her guard up against him. He didn't want to provoke her further.

Lilac was still reeling with the horrifying feeling after witnessing Hunter's brutality.

Maybe this was what people always said that you would never understand completely until you witnessed it with your own eyes.

Lilac had known about the brutality of the lycan, but only now she understood the extreme of it and what was more terrifying was; what Hunter had done to Kellan was only a glimpse of what he was capable of doing.

“Love, I am sorry.” Hunter didn’t move from his place. He looked like he was under a great torture and the sadness look in his eyes made Lilac snapped from her fear.

Hunter had never hurt her. He had done everything in his power to protect her. he promised, he swore to her that he would never cause her any pain and he proved it all this time when he always stood by her.

“Lilac...”

The way he called her name was filled with longing and misery, which let Lilac knew how much he cared for her. He was worried with her reaction and this made Lilac loosened up a little bit.

“I will never hurt you, you know that, love...”

Yes, Lilac knew about that too, but it was so hard to undo what she had seen, but at the same time, Lilac felt bad because she caused Hunter to be in distress, somehow she was being very sensitive. Probably because she just learned the truth about her father and also her mother almost at the same time, which made her very emotional and couldn’t think clearly.

Complicated with her own feeling, Lilac started to cry. She was afraid of Hunter, but at the same time she needed him. After she learned what happened to her mother, she needed his comfort...

“Don’t cry.” Hunter approached Lilac carefully and once he was close to her, he hugged her tightly. He felt relief because Lilac didn’t reject him again like before.

It took Lilac a while to gather her thought and calm herself down, as she welcomed Hunter’s touch.

Weirdly, she felt safe in his arms, even though she was afraid of him a moment ago.

it was so weird how thing worked when it came to your loved one.

Along that time, Hunter didn't say anything, he only hugged her, caressed her and kissed her head, offering comfort that he could.

Only after an hour had passed, Lilac wiped her tears and lifted her head. Her eyes were swollen. "I am sorry, I didn't mean to push you away..." she ended up apologizing because the look on Hunter's eyes when she rejected him etched in her mind and as time went by, she regretted her reaction.

She shouldn't have done that.

Hunter was very patient with Lilac. He didn't want her to be very emotional again because it wouldn't be good for her current condition.

"I am sorry, I scared you." Hunter caressed her cheeks. "I will never do it again in

"Do you want to eat something? You have been sleeping throughout the night. You must be hungry."

Now Hunter mentioned about it, Lilac felt her stomach was growling. Crying after a long sleep and traumatic event were not a good combination.

But, what was more embarrassing was when Hunter chuckled when he heard that.

"Let's go find something you can eat," he said happily.

Lilac was a little bit put her guard up with Hunter and he noticed that too, but it went better than the alpha expected. He grabbed her hand and took her out of the bedroom. Fresh air in the morning was good for her.

However, when they were on their way to the kitchen, they met Raya.

“Lilac, are you okay?” Raya asked after she greeted the alpha. “I heard you fainted yesterday.”

“I am fine,” Lilac said timidly.

“There is no need for that, Raya.” Hunter stopped her before Lilac could answer her offer. He took her hand and walked away.

Lilac

gave Raya an apologetic look, while she simply waved her hand and smile, as if saying; she understood.

Here, Lilac felt it again. The way Hunter was with her and other people was very different, as if he was two different people, or maybe three; the loving one, the aloof one and the cruel one.

“Why are you staring at me, love?” Hunter glanced at Lilac with a soft smile on the corner of his lips.

“Why do you treat your pack member coldly?” Lilac asked curiously, she started to feel more comfortable with him again. What happened earlier might be because she was too shock after hearing what happened to her mother, thus seeing Hunter’s brutal side didn’t go well with her already messed up mind.

“Me?” Hunter raised his brows. “I didn’t.”

Lilac pursed her lips. “You did.”

Even now, Lilac didn’t want to talk about what Kellan had told her, she was not ready to bring up the topic and Hunter didn’t pressure her to know what the of her sudden broke down and what Kellan had said to her.

“I act like usual,” Hunter didn’t even know if he acted differently.

“No. I feel like you are more intimidating whenever you are with your pack member. It feels like whenever you were around, they didn’t even dare to raise their head and look at you.” Lilac tried to describe it, but she did a poor job and Hunter chuckled. “Why are you laughing.”

“I am their alpha, Lilac. Of course, the way I with them will be very different with the way I am with you.” Hunter opened the door to the kitchen and two women greeted him politely. “All of you can leave.”

The two of them immediately left the kitchen without saying anything and nodded politely at Lilac.

“See? The way you speak with them, you are rather cold and very intimidating.”

Lilac pointed that out, which Hunter thought about it for a while and agreed.

"I don't have any obligation to be nice with them." Hunter pulled a chair and let her sit down. He kissed her forehead and then started to cook. "I only need to be nice with you."

"You are still an alpha even when you are with me."

"No. I am Hunter. Not an alpha when I am with you."

In another word, what he showed people and the way he treated them was how an alpha should act. An alpha was a leader of the pack, it was understandable if they had to be more strict and firm with their act.

However, Hunter was not a strict alpha or a ruler of the pack when he was with Lilac. He became himself and the person he became was someone, who loved this woman dearly.

"Do you want to eat something? Are you... craving for a certain dish?" There were a lot of things Hunter wanted to talk with Lilac, but then it was not the right time. For he wanted to feed her first.

now,

Lilac gave some thought. "Meat."

It didn't take long for Hunter to cook the meat Lilac wanted and serve it for her. She looked surprised by how well he could cook.

"Literally, I can do anything," Hunter said smugly and Lilac scrunched her nose when she heard that before laughing with him. Her fear toward him felt like a silly thing now.

After that, both of them enjoyed their meal and once they were done, Hunter took her to meet with the healer. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Abigail looked surprised and then immediately checked Lilac's condition. She could sigh in relief when both her and the baby were alright. It seemed, Lilac's healing ability started to take care of her body.

Werewolf was not as strong as lycan, thus their healing ability was rather slow.

"She and the baby are fine," Abigail informed the alpha and Lilac caught her word.

"Baby?" Lilac furrowed her brows. "What do you mean?"

“That’s...” Abigail was flustered. She looked at the alpha and realized that he had not yet told her about it. “Oh, that’s because...” she couldn’t finish her words, because she didn’t know what to say.

“You can leave, Abigail,” Hunter said, saving her from the situation.

“Yes, alpha. I am sorry...”

The healer immediately left the room, leaving only the two of them inside.

“Hunter... what she meant with...” Lilac furrowed her brows and then touched her flat stomach. “Is that true? I am pregnant?” She was in disbelief.

“I didn’t mean to let you know about this pregnancy in this way, but yes, we are pregnant, Lilac.” Hunter said softly, he waited for Lilac’s reaction. “Are you fine with this?”

Lilac was shocked. She felt like there were a lot of surprise that had happened in nowadays, which left her speechless.

But of course, among all the surprises she had received recently, this one was the happiest.

“Of course,” Lilac said in small voice. “Of course, I am happy.” She literally threw herself at him and hugged him so tightly. “I am very happy!”

Lilac loved to have family of her own, she loved to think that one day she would meet with her mate and they started to have family, because she had none at that time.

She always looked at the other children, whom walked with their parent with envy, because she wanted a family like that too.

Therefore, when she found out about Aiden’s betrayal and how the person that she thought she would spend the rest of her life with would start family with another woman, it broke her completely.

But right now, it was different. She had Hunter and they were going to have their own family. Her little happy family.

“I will arrange for the ceremony to happen in three days,” Hunter said, kissing her neck.

Chapter 152

The news about the ceremony to cement Lilac’s position in this pack was already a huge shock for them, but then another news hit them hard when they heard the alpha and the luna were pregnant and they were going to have the ceremony within three days.

All of them were overjoyed, but there was not a small number of people, who was being sceptical that the alpha would finally settle down with someone. After all, the alpha had never been serious with every woman she was with.

But then, they should have noticed that Lilac was different. The alpha treated her very differently from the previous women he was with. Not to mention she was having his child.

Within three days, everyone was busy, there were a lot of things for them to do and talk about. Everyone gave them congratulation to their future luna, but some of them were still trying to keep distance from Lilac.

Lilac herself didn’t mind that, because she knew that she couldn’t force them to like her. Everything took times and she believed in the process.

And right now, she was surrounded by people that cared about her genuinely.

“You look so pretty!” Raya cooed, as she entered the room and found Lilac with Lena and Rose. The four of them became very close and they were the people, who supported Lilac and helped her during this time to prepare her ceremony. Of course, the entire pack also helped. be held by alpha Hunter

After all, this was the first biggest ceremony that after so many years.

“See? I told you, right? This tiara is so beautiful! It fits her greatly!” Lena added. She looked satisfied with her choice, because Lilac kept saying she wanted to keep it lowkey, but the two of them didn’t agree with her. This was her ceremony, she had to go all out and made everyone couldn’t take their eyes off her.

“Where have you been?” Rose asked, as she brushed Lilac’s long hair lightly. “I have been looking for you, but I couldn’t find you anywhere.”

“I was with Abigail,” Raya replied. “I got some prescription from her.”

“Are you sick?” Lilac asked, she turned to face Raya. It was not common for a shifter to get sick, moreover Raya looked fine.

Chapter 152

“No, it’s not for me.” Raya said, she waved her hands. “There is no need to think much about this. Let’s go out, if we let the alpha waited for long. I am afraid, he would charge inside this bedroom.”

Lena and Rose giggled to hear that comment, while Lilac blushed.

Currently, they were staying inside a tent near the river, the ceremony itself would be held at night under the moonlight and Lilac would put her mark on the alpha to seal their union.

It was only Lilac who would do it, because Hunter had done that long before this moment. Marking your partner was a crucial thing for shifter, whether you were werewolf or lycan.

And it was only the lycan, who would allow their woman to mark them back, which showed they were equal and both of them felt the pain of it and also pleasure for knowing your other half was yours forever, while werewolf only had to mark their woman without receiving the same thing back.

Therefore, Lilac was extremely nervous to do this, because this was not even a tradition in her pack. She didn’t have any idea what to do.

Even though three of her friends kept saying everything would be alright and she only needed to sink her teeth on Hunter's neck, but then they had never had done it too themselves.

However, all of Lilac's anxiety slightly faded away when she saw Hunter was waiting for her. He smiled reassured her that everything would be alright.

once her feet

In this ceremony, Lilac required to take off her shoes and bare touched the cold ground, she felt so much better, this was a refreshing feeling, especially when the cold night wind brushed her cheeks and played with her hair, she only needed to put her focus on her mate and nothing else matter.

Lilac was wearing black color, this color was the lycan pack's color with her dress embroidered with their insignia on her back. The dress was beautiful and it was stitched with golden thread, giving off a regal aura for her.

Thankfully, she was not showing yet, because the dress was rather tight around the upper part. The tiara on her head shimmered under the moonlight and this gave off an ethereal look on her.

Everyone was in awed on how great Lilac could manage to pull this complicated dress. The black color didn't give her a gloomy look, instead it emphasized her beauty,

Chapter 152

Some of the pack member might not agree for her to be the luna of the pack, since she was a werewolf and they had never had a woman outside of their pack to be the luna before, but everyone had to agree on this; Lilac looked beautifully stunning right now. It took their breath away to see her waltzed toward the alpha. She carried herself very well.

And for the last part, it was thanked to luna Jasmine for all of her lesson. Lilac couldn't deny it that the luna had molded her into someone she was right now.

"You look so beautiful," Hunter said, he didn't only say it, but his eyes told her that she was beautiful. Lilac had never felt this way before and she was almost crying because of how happy she was right now.

"Thank you."

The sacred ceremony went well, everyone looked very happy and the night was magically, but miles away from the lycan pack, there was a certain alpha, who just received this news and currently, he was throwing everything that he could reach. His roar filled the room and everyone was trying to avoid him, lest they were being punished for even being exist.

That was how bad Aiden was right now.

“How could she move on so fast?! Did she cheat on me while I was away?!” Aiden had turned crazy right now, he co even think logical the moment he heard about the ceremony and how Lilac would put her mark on the lycan.

“My son, there is no way she would have done that, they didn’t meet with each other until the party that we threw to mark our peace treaty.” Luna Jasmine tried to comfort her son. She was having a great headache with the fact Aiden would face trial, but then this news came and her son spiraled out of control.

“How could she go through with that barbaric tradition?! Was she being forced!?” Aiden glowered.

It seemed, no matter what luna Jasmine said, Aidan was having none of it, he looked insane.

“We need to help her to get out of that pack!” Aiden rushed toward the door, but luna Jasmine immediately went to stop him.

“You can’t do that, you can’t even leave the pack house or else you are going to lose your case in the trial! The other alphas will not happy with this!”

“I. DON’T. CARE!”

Chapter 153

Outside of the door, Ruby was holding Azel in her arms. She heard everything that Aiden said about wanting to go to the lycan pack and get Lilac back. He didn't even shy to admit that he wanted that woman back in his life even though she was already someone else's woman.

He always said Lilac was his mate and the rejection didn't mean anything. This was what happened if you couldn't accept the rejection, slowly, you would go into a madness, where you couldn't even think logically.

Two of the servants stared at Ruby, they didn't dare to say anything, but they understood this was a conversation she shouldn't have listened.

"Luna Ruby..." one of the servants talked, but Ruby already turned on her heels and then left. Azel was sleeping in her arms.

These two servants were the people that Luna Jasmine appointed to help her with Azel, but Ruby was no longer that naïve girl, who would believe that right away.

Ruby and her two servants went back to Azel's nursery room, which was right next to the Luna's bedroom.

"Do you like this? You can take this." Ruby asked, she showed the two servants two rings that she got from the present of Azel's celebration in the other day. She fished out the rings from her pocket and watched the greediness in their eyes, though their lips said different things.

"No, Luna, those rings are very beautiful, but we can't accept it."

The two servants were girls from the orphanage, the same orphanage that Lilac came from and the two of them were siblings.

"You don't need to be bothered, this is only gifts. I have a lot." Ruby approached them and gave the rings to each of them, who refused at first, but then they pocketed the rings after a little bit more persuasion.

This was only small movement, but she knew she had to start to do something and gather her own people, or else, she would only have miserable days ahead of hers.

“You can leave, this is already very late at night.” Ruby didn’t ask anything from them after she gave the/rings, or at least, not yet. She dismissed them and then went to her own bedroom.

Ruby hated Lilac. She hated her for having someone like Hunter by her side, someone, who would go extra length to make her happy and when she compared that lycan alpha to Aiden, she felt very sorry to herself.

But, at the same time in the lycan pack, it didn’t even cross Lilac’s mind about Ruby’s existence, because right now she had a great task at her hand.

This was the last part of the ceremony, where she had to mark Hunter in front of the other pack member, under the moonlight, in the river.

Right now, Hunter was already in the middle of the river, he took off his clothes and only wore his pants, the soft light of the moon fell on his chest and he looked ethereal.

For Lilac, she would go to him. She had changed her dress into a simple white dress and then deep herself into the river that reached her waist, while the pack members were standing around the river, each of them was holding a candle.

The water was surprisingly not as cold as she thought and each step she took, she felt her heart was beating harder.

Would her heart burst the moment she reached him. What would happen then? Baby... please, help your mother to get through tonight. Lilac prayed. She touched her stomach subconsciously, but her subtle gesture didn’t go unnoticed by Hunter and this made his eyes turned warm.

He was going to have the woman that he wanted and she would be his forever. This woman, who had saved his life years ago was going to be the mother of his child, she was going to be the only woman for him right now, the only person he was growing old with and raising their child.

They would start this little family. It was his dream, so did she.

Hunter stretched out his hand when Lilac was close enough and pulled her closer, he could feel how cold her hand was and the anxiety in her beautiful eyes. The moon and the stars reflected in her eyes when she stared at him.

“Are you ready?” Hunter asked in small voice, which only the two of them, who could hear that.

“I am not sure,” Lilac replied in the same tone. She grimaced when she glanced at his neck. “I might hurt you.”

“Don’t worry, you will never hurt me.” If the pain came from her, Hunter was more than willing to accept it.

“It will be very painful.” Lilac frowned. She remembered how painful it was.

Of course, Hunter was aware of that, therefore, he marked her while giving her the pleasure. Some of the man did that to alleviate the pain from their mate, because if they had done it during a ceremony like this, there was no way the pleasure part would exist.

“Or should you give me the pain and pleasure too like I did to you?” Hunter teased her and this made Lilac blushed.

“There are so many people here!” Lilac hissed fiercely.

“I am not serious, Lilac. You are very tensed.” Hunter pecked on her lips and chuckled.

The sight of their alpha was being playful came as surprise for the pack member, because it had never happened before. How could be the alpha being very relax and comfortable with the woman he just met less than a year?

They couldn’t comprehend this.

“Do it, I will be able to hold it.” Hunter pushed Lilac’s head, until her lips touched his neck and he gasped. He wanted her lips all over him, not only on his neck, but he had to press down those thoughts and focus on this moment.

No matter how he lusted over his mate, there was no way he would degrade her by doing something in front of hundred pair of eyes.

Hunter wrapped his arms around her waist and caressed her back to soothe her nervousness.

Lilac was flustered, it should be her, who did the soothing, but Hunter did it for her instead. “I am sorry in advance if I hurt you.”

“Even if you hurt me, you don’t need to be sorry. My life belongs to you. I am yours and that will never change.” Hunter squeezed her body, he wanted to hug her like this forever.

With that, Lilac calmed herself down and started to sink her teeth to make her mark on his neck, he could feel Hunter’s body tensed up when she went too deep and could taste his blood.

And when she thought she needed to stop and it was enough, Hunter pressed her head gently and let her sink her teeth even deeper, sealed the fate between them, marked him as hers, just like how he marked her as his.

Lilac could feel how Hunter's body tensed up when she sunk her teeth. She tasted his blood and knew that she hurt her, but at the same time, she felt how intimate they were right now and how strong her feeling toward him.

As if Hunter said the color of the sky was white, she would believe it without a second thought. This strong feeling made her heart burst with love and euphoric. She felt like she could do anything if it was with him.

Was this how you felt when you marked someone? This feeling was very intense! Was this how Hunter felt when he marked her?

That was why the bond between mate was very strong, especially the alpha and the luna.

Lilac couldn't be more grateful that Aiden didn't mark her before he left for war, because with the intensity of this feeling, she was sure, she wouldn't be able to give up on him no matter how much he hurt her. This feeling was very strong, but at the same time, it was very scary.

Lilac was not sure how long she bit Hunter, but she knew it was done and pushed him away slightly to see his face. She wanted to see how much she had hurt him.

And she was shock when she saw how pale Hunter was, blood trickled down from his neck, but there was this satisfying smile on his lips.

She was about to apologize to him, but then he kissed her roughly. He didn't want to hear her apology, because right now, he swore that he was the happiest creature

Hunter put his hand on the back of her head and plunged his tongue into his mouth, swallowed whatever words she was going to say to him, because he didn't want to hear any of it.

He kissed her roughly to the point, Lilac was no longer care about the people around her, as she gave up all of her sense to focus on his touch, how close they were and how happy she was. The sound of people cheering for them faded away on the back of her mind when she reciprocated his kiss.

It felt like fire had been lit up and now she wanted both of them to be burned in this flame of affection.

How much she loved this man couldn't be described into word.

Her breathing became heavy and she felt dizzy, as she breathed heavily when Hunter pulled away and grinned at her.

"Breath, love..." he said softly.

Aiden remembered the feeling of being complete, as if he had finished a heavy task and then all of the burden on his shoulders had been lifted up.

He had never felt this kind of happiness and fulfilment in his entire life until he laid his eyes on Lilac for the first time.

She was one of the orphan girl, skinny and was very timid, but her beautiful eyes captivated him, as if there was something inside those beautiful eyes that drew him closer to her. Something magical when he touched her and felt this spark, tempting him to touch her further.

Aiden still remembered how his heart burst into incredible happiness when he said the word. Mate.

Yes. He found his mate two years ago only a few weeks before he had to lead his warriors to war in order to fight the lycan.

He remembered how she stared at him in disbelief and how her lips quirked into a smile, she looked relief.

He remembered how she tried not to cry when she sent him off for war. He remembered how she hugged him very tightly and he comforted her by saying he would be back for her and then they could together again.

He remembered how he waited his time to come home to her.

However, Aiden didn't remember when he started to forget that feeling and fall for Ruby. Being away from his mate for so long and was in a warzone with countless people died everyday had numbed his feeling and made him forgot about the happiness he felt when he was with her.

And then came Ruby.

Aiden knew how foolish he was to think he could make things right by bringing Ruby back to the pack, thinking he would be a father and he couldn't let his firstborn to be born out of the pack.

He forgot how much he craved for Lilac's presence, as he was thinking he did the right thing to take responsibility for what he had done.

He shouldn't have done that. He shouldn't have brought Ruby to the pack.

If she stayed away from him and he left her in her village. Lilac would still by his side and he wouldn't be this miserable.

Only after he saw her again and the pain in her eyes that he realized what he had lost. Especially when she rejected him. He couldn't accept that. He didn't want her to leave. He wanted her.

"Ugh!" Aiden opened his eyes with a great headache and heavy heart. He felt like his body had weighed a ton and he could barely move.

"You are awake now?"

Aiden was familiar with his voice and tried to open his eyes to see his father, the former alpha of the pack. Alpha James.

Because Aiden was under trial, alpha James took his position again, since a position of an alpha shouldn't be left empty.

"What are you doing here, father?" Aiden groaned, he raised his hand to cover his eyes from the light of the sun. It was already morning and he didn't know when exactly he passed out and dream about her.

Aiden didn't want to wake up and continue his dream again.

At the very least, in his dream, he had her. They were happy together.

"Get up!" alpha James said sternly. "Get your act together! This is not how I raised my son!"

Alpha James had enough with his son, he wanted him to get his act together. Their pack was in a great danger because of him, not only that, he endangered himself too by allowing his impulsivity got the better of him.

Right now, Aiden was not the proud son he had. The son, who managed to bring peace to the one year war with the lycan by killing their alpha. That was not the brave son he knew.

He could understand if he was having some regret for letting go Lilac and made a bad decision, but after everything had been done and said, also there was a child, his firstborn that added to the equivalent, of course, it was time to move on!

What kind of alpha, who would spend all of his time wallowing over someone else's woman?

"Are you going to die like this?!" Alpha James couldn't accept this. The trial would put Aiden in bad situation, especially when he couldn't get the help from the other alphas. He was going to die if they let thing escalated wildly.

However, Aiden didn't seem have any indication he wanted to preserve his life. He didn't have any desire to fight and was very hangover from drinking so much last night.

"Get up!" Alpha James hollered. He was livid. This time, he didn't use his word again and immediately grabbed Aiden by his collar and then dragged him to the bathroom, threw him on the floor and poured cold water on his head.

Right at that time, luna Jasmine entered the bathroom and saw what her mate was doing to her precious son and immediately intervened, she pushed James away and hugged her son.

"What are you doing?! Are you going to hurt him more?! He is already in so much pain! Why are you trying to hurt him again!?" Luna Jasmine glared at him.

This was always something that became the source of their contention recently. Jasmine coddled Aiden so much, no matter what mistake he did.

"If you are going to let him like that, he is going to lose everything! Can't you see how he destroyed himself?!" James had enough with the way Jasmine pampered their son.

Chapter 155

She had been doing this over and over again. Thankfully, Aiden didn't grow up to be a spoiled child, but then it didn't help him to be mature too.

"Can't you be more gentle with him? He has gone through a lot! Why would you want to put him down even more!?" Luna Jasmine kept defending her son and she told James to go out of the room.

James was very disappointed in his son, but he couldn't argue with Jasmine, because he knew her so well, thus he also knew there was no point of arguing with her.

“Are you awake?” Lilac asked Hunter softly when she saw he started to move.

“Hm...” Hunter turned his body around and hugged her tightly, which let their skin glued to each other again and this made the spark between them erupted deliciously.

They were still naked under the blanket and after the ceremony last night, which could be said went smoothly, even though with short preparation, the two of them were thrown into a passionate night.

“Are you, okay?” Hunter opened his eyes, he tried to examine her skin, thankfully there was no sign of what he did to her last night.

Hunter tried to be gentle with her, but he couldn't help himself, but lost his control a little bit in the middle of it.

“I am fine,” Lilac said lazily, she nuzzled his neck and saw her mark, somehow, she was fascinated. It didn't look bad. She liked the concept of it, which she wouldn't have it in her former pack.

“Now, officially you are the luna of the pack.” Hunter caught her lips and kissed them, nibbled on them and bit them. He He

“After this, I am going to announce your pregnancy,” Hunter said firmly. It should have been done before the trial.

“Okay...” Lilac agreed with him.

The trial would be held within two days from now and tomorrow they would go to Golden Claw pack again. Lilac was not thrilled to go back there again.

“Do you want a daughter or a son?” Lilac asked.

“It doesn’t matter if the baby is a son or a daughter, as long as you were the one to give birth to them, I will love them the same.”

Lilac blushed when she heard that, it was not everyday Hunter would say something like that and she loved it to the bit.

However, Lilac and Hunter’s happiness while waiting for the birth of their child was the exact opposite of what Ruby was feeling right now.

In the distance, she could see alpha James walked out of Aiden’s bedroom. He looked very livid. Right now, he was the alpha of the pack again because Aiden was in trial.

Ruby bit her lip, she balled her fists and then walked toward James with baby Azel in her arms. The baby was sleeping and he looked so adorable.

“Did you manage to talk with him, alpha James?” Ruby strike a conversation with Aiden’s father.

Alpha James initially didn’t interact with her so much, especially with the drama upon her arrival, therefore, he was rather surprised when Ruby initiated a conversation first.

“Not really,” Alpha James grumbled. His eyes fixed on Azel. “You need to try to talk with him. He needs to get his act together, or else, the alpha lycan will crush him. I am sure, he would demand the heaviest punishment.”

Ruby moved closer, showing the baby in her arms. “He will not listen to me,” she said with a deep sigh. “Do you want to hold baby Azel, alpha James?”
