Chapter 51

Lilac was too shock to comprehend her surroundings, she had never seen a pack house this magnificent like this and even more when she realized this place was literally a castle with towers. This was crazy! Who would live in a place like this?!

Lilac was captivated by what she was seeing, she looked around this place and was fascinated by the rock that they used to build this building. It looked sturdy and strong. It almost felt like this pack house showed the stark difference between the werewolf and the lycan.

They were shifter, but for some reason, they were simply different from one another, because while the former believed in soulmate and was gifted with the mate bond, but the latter would choose their own woman, who they would spend the rest of their life with.

Lilac was not sure, which one was better, but surely from what she learned, the lycan would go through fire and water just to be with the mate they had chosen. That was why, there was saying about; love someone like a lycan, which meant; it was a fierce and devoted love.

The cold wind made Lilac shivered when she walked across a garden. It was still early morning and even though the sun had risen, the wind was still cold, because they were so close to the mountain. The air was very refreshing.

“Wait... how can I go back to that bedroom?” Lilac just realized it now, because she was very mesmerized by this place, she forgot that she had gone too far and she was not sure, which corridor she had gone through, because of how big this place was, she was a little bit dizzy when she tried to find her way back, because the corridors looked the same.

All the people that she met gave her a questioning look, because this must be the first time for them to see her here.

“Hm... excuse me.” Lilac tried to be brave and stopped a lady to ask her about where they were now. “May I know where... the alpha’s bedroom?”

Her voice was a little bit unsure, because she only knew Hunter was the alpha, but it would be so weird for her to ask his bedroom, right?

The lady was around forty years old, she looked like in the same age like luna Jasmine, but of course, you couldn’t compare both.

Alpha’s bedroom?” the lady narrowed her eyes, she stared at Lilac up and down. “I have never seen you before. Who are you?”

Chapter 51

This corridor was not too crowded, but at least, there were five people, who stopped walking and openly listening to their conversation, they were waiting for Lilac's answer too, because they had been very curious enough to know who was Lilac and why she was in the pack house.

More so, she was asking about the alpha's bedroom, what she was going to do there?

"Who are you?" That lady asked again with narrowed eyes. "You are not the member of our pack, you are not a lycan."

Little bit

"I..." Lilac was a little bit stumbled with her words because she didn't know what to say to this lady about herself. Would it put her in an awkward situation if she said she was from Golden Claw pack? "I came here with the alpha..."

"You came here with the alpha? The alpha just arrived last night. What do you mean you came here with him?" The lady became even more curious and the spectators came closer to them. They wanted to hear more about this conversation.

Thankfully, right at that time, Darren walked over. He had been looking for Lilac because not long after she had gone, Hunter woke up and couldn't find her.

"Here you are!" Darren said with a sigh of relief, as he approached Lilac.

"Beta Darren," the lady greeted the beta, so did all the people there, they showed him a huge respect and even bend down their body.

"What are you doing here?" Darren simply nodded at them, but his focus was on Lilac,

"L. I looked around, but I think I got lost." Lilac felt relief as well to see the face that she was familiar with.

"Beta Darren, do you know this woman? She is not from our pack. I have never seen her before, the lady immediately said. She was surprised for this mysterious woman to be looked for by the beta.

"Yes, I know her." Darren nodded.

On the other hand, Lilac stared at Darren and then the lady. "I think I will take my leave with the beta."

Who is she?"

Apparently, the lady didn't want to let go of Lalar yet, she wanted to know everything about her and more so what the relation between her and the alpha and why she wanted to go there.

“Don’t worry, she is not an enemy, she is the alpha’s guest. She just arrived last. night.”

What Darren said confirmed what Lilac had told the lady earlier, but still, this was not a satisfying answer for them.

Even so, Darren wouldn’t stay there and entertain them to fill their curiosity, as he opened his arm for Lilac to follow him.

“Come, follow me.” Darren showed the way to Lilac and she didn’t need to be told twice to follow him, because she had been feeling uneasy with the way they stared at her.

After that, Lilac could feel her back was getting so hot, she was sure they were staring at her back right now and the way they fixed their eyes on her made her back felt like it would have a permanent hole.

Lilac hastened her pace, she wanted to get away from their sight as soon as possible.

However, walking around like this with the beta of the pack, didn’t help with her case, because some of them were having the same curiosity.

“Next time, don’t walk around like this again,” Darren warned her. “They are being suspicious because of the war that happened in the last year.”

“Yes.” Lilac felt like she was a toddler, who got reprimanded for being a brat.

Darren glanced at Lilac. “I don’t know what the alpha have planned for you, but I only want to warn you, once they learned where you came from, it will be hard for you to find a friend. All the pack member despises your pack and the other five packs. They disliked the werewolf after what they had put us through during the war.

Lilac frowned. “Isn’t it you and your people, who has attacked our land, because you want to expand your territory?”

Darren raised his brows, both of their eyes met and Lilac could see confusion there. “So, that’s what you and your pack member has been told about the reason of the war last year?” He widened his eyes in disbelief and then burst into laughter.

“What are you laughing about?” Lilac was a little bit offended, because she didn’t find it funny at all, so why he was laughing hysterically like this?

“You don’t know the reason why there were countless people died? No.”

Darren shook his head and then wiped tears from the corner of his eyes. “You are being a fool... Those alphas are the worst.”

“What do you mean?” Lilac became even more confused now, she looked a little bit concerned with this matter, she was afraid she had been told a lie. “If that’s not the reason, so what the true reason?”

She was not sure, whether she could tell, which side was right, but it was always a great thing to do to hear both sides.

“Since it was Hunter, who has taken you to this pack, let him to explain this messy thing to you. I don’t have the patient.” Darren pushed opened the door to Hunter’s bedroom.

Because of their conversation, Lilac didn’t even realize they had arrived, returned to this bedroom again.

“Where did you find her?”

Lilac was startled when she saw Hunter poked his head from the bedroom and then grabbed her hand, he pulled her into his bedroom, in front of so many eyes.

If earlier she felt uncomfortable, because they were staring at her for walking with the gamm a, now their jaw literally dropped to the floor when they watched how she entered the alpha’s bedroom.

No one ever entered the alpha’s bedroom, aside from his beta and gamm a, not even Grace, because he hated it when there was someone else there.

Who was this woman?!

Darren clicked his tongue when he watched the reaction from people around him. He knew the words would spread far and wide and surely Grace would hear about

And once it happened, the drama would begin.

He only hoped, he wouldn’t get caught in the wild fire,

Lilac entered the room awkwardly, as she stared at her surroundings and then found Hunter was sitting on the edge of the bed, now she was awake enough and the shock from finding out she was sleeping on the same room and bed with Hunter again, had worn out, she was in awe with this room.

This bedroom was dominated with the color of grey, which gave you a cold impression, as if the owner of this room had this cold and an unpredictable personality, which suit Hunter very well, because you would hardly understand the alpha of the lycan.

He had this warm and cold personalities, which could switch with a flick of your fingers.

“Where have you been?” Hunter asked, as he lifted his head to look at her. He frowned disapprovingly because Lilac had disappeared without telling him anything.

“I wanted to see this place, so I walked for a while.” Lilac stood four steps away from Hunter, as if she tried to avoid him, as if she could do that here in his territory, in his own pack house.

Hunter narrowed his eyes. “I can walk with you.”

“You were sleeping.”

“You can wake me up.”

Lilac frowned. “I am fine walking alone.”

Hunter rubbed his face roughly. “Next time wake me up if you want to walk in the early morning.”

“What do you mean with that?” Lilac’s frown deepened when she heard what he said. “Why should I walk to your bedroom first if I want to walk in the morning?”

“You don’t need to walk into my room, because you will sleep here.”

“No way!” Lilac protested. “If I slept here, where will you sleep?”

Hunter stood up and approached Lilac, he ruffled her hair when he walked past her and took the towel to go to the bathroom. “Of course, here. This is my bedroom for two decades, why should I sleep somewhere else?”

Lilac’s jaw dropped, the audacity of this man was very baffling! She then decided to voice out her grievances, as she opened the bathroom’s door in frustration, but what she saw made her blush and screamed.

Chapter 52

Hunter was stark naked when Lilac opened the door. This was the first time for her to see a man naked and this shocked her so much when she trailed down her eyes. down there. She couldn’t believe what she saw.

On the other hand, after Hunter’s initial shock for Lilac to open the door all of sudden, a playful smirk etched on his lips. “What is this? Do you want to join me?”

Lilac immediately snapped out of her shock and slammed the door. “P e r v e r t!” She growled and then went to the sofa to curl herself. She kept shaking her head to get rid of the image, but she couldn’t do that. She couldn’t unsee what she already saw and red color crept from her cheeks to the tip of her ears down to her neck.

Meanwhile, Hunter was laughing to see Lilac’s expression and how she accused him as a p e r v e r t. Shouldn’t she be the p e r v e r t one? She was the one, who opened the door without knocking and took advantage of his vulnerable state. If Hunter was not mistaken, Lilac was ogling at him for a few moment there.

She was really taking an advantage of him.

And finally, Hunter was done taking a bath, he actually walked out of the bathroom with only a towel hanging so low around his hips, as if a simple wind could blow it away.

This man was really insufferable!

“Can’t you put some clothes?” Lilac hugged herself on the sofa, she tried to look everywhere, but him. Yet, she couldn’t reign her curiosity and kept stealing a glance at him and that damn towel around his hips.

“That’s my intention,” Hunter said lightly, as he went to the walk in closet and disappeared for a while, which allowed Lilac to breathe in relief, but then he returned again only with that towel. “Can you give me that cloak?”

“Put your clothes first and then walk here to take it by yourself!” Lilac was annoyed, knowing so damn well how he was teasing her right now.

“Why can’t you help me with this simple small favor?” Hunter frowned, but his eyes were smiling to see how Lilac looked very frustrated.

And after some back and forth argumentation, Lilac reluctantly took the cloak for Hunter and handed it to him.

Chapter 52

“You don’t need a cloak, right? The weather is warm enough,” Lilac protested and her heart skipped a beat when Hunter touched her fingers, he must have done it intentionally.

As if she was being electrocuted, Lilac jumped away from him.

“I want my own bedroom.”

“There is no empty bedroom here.”

“Liar!” Lilac scoffed. “I saw a few empty bedrooms in this magnificent place, don’t you lie to me.”

“Those bedrooms are very small. You can’t live there.” Hunter glanced at Lilac, who had her back against him and he was smiling happily to see how embarrassed she was.

“I have lived in smaller bedroom than that and I am fine with it!” Lilac felt she was in danger if she had to spend another night on the same bed like this alpha.

“Don’t be ridiculous. I have told you that I will not let you live in a small bedroom. like that. That’s not what you deserved.”

“And what do you think I deserved?” Lilac had been living without any expectation, until the smallest kindness meant the world for her, therefore, she didn't know what she expected and what she deserved to have. If she really had something to desire about.

This time when Hunter finally emerged from the walk in closet, he had dressed appropriately and he took the cloak with him, he draped it on her shoulders, which startled Lilac. She turned around and found his complicated gaze was on her.

"I will show you what you deserve, Lilac and you deserve nothing less than this."

Lilac was confused, she couldn't understand why Hunter looked a little bit angry, but then she didn't have time to ask when he took her hand and both of them walked out of the bedroom.

"Where are we going?" Lilac asked, confused. She looked around at the people, who stared at them with this surprise look on their faces. "Where will you take me?"

Lilac tightened the cloak around her body because the weather was still cold and she found this cloak was very comfortable, it soaked with Hunter's masculine scent, which made Lilac wanted to breathe deeply.

There were so many pairs of eyes that stared at her with questioning look, they wanted to know what the alpha was going to do with this girl that they had never seen before.

However, the funny thing was; Lilac wanted to know the same thing too. What Hunter wanted to do with her?

But now when they walked past a few doors, Lilac realized where he was going to take her.

The alpha was taking her to the dining hall, where all the people gathered together to enjoy their breakfast.

But, why Hunter wanted to take her there? Lilac couldn't understand, more so, so, she had not yet taken a bath or even change her dress.

"If you want to take me out, at least, let me to take a bath first, you know..."

Lilac was desperate to get away from him, but his grip was simply too tight for her.

"I am sorry for that, but without taking a bath, you still look define." Hunter winked at Lilac, which made her rolled her eyes dramatically.

And when the guards opened the door to the dining hall, once again, Lilac was in awe to see the whole thing inside this dining hall. Everything was screaming luxury, they even had all the variety of food.

Lilac could easily say that this dining hall was four times better and larger than the one they had back in the pack house.

Because she was busy staring at the whole thing, she didn't even realize when Hunter took her to the head of the table.

He clinked his glass to get all the people's attention and somehow, all the conversation died out and this huge dining room fell into silence.

Chapter 53

Lilac was stiffened when all of their attention fell on Hunter, which in extent, to her as well. She wanted to make this alpha to sit down and stop whatever he was going to do, but she couldn't do that, because it wouldn't look good on her.

Luna Jasmine's tutelage worked on her this time, as she immediately regained her composure and stood straight, carrying herself with confidence, despite how the strong beating of her heart and how her stomach was currently doing summersault.

"I will not take your time for long and let your food gets cold," Hunter started. Lilac really wanted to reply that he really didn't need to make them wait at all, if he s k i p p e d this part, but of course, she wouldn't say it.

More so, she was a little bit curious what this alpha was going to say. How he would introduce her to his pack member. They didn't do s l a v e, right? Or would he introduce her as a prisoner?

"She is Lilac and from today onward, she will be part of our pack," Hunter said, his voice echoed throughout the wall, which welcomed by clamor from people, as they hit the table rowdily. It seemed, this was the custom here. Well, that was not bad to be introduced as the part of the member of the pack. However, Lilac concluded things too fast, because Hunter had not yet done with his speck. Once the clamor died down, he continued again with most shocking introduction.

"She will be my woman and you must respect her the way she deserved it!" This time, Hunter used his alpha's voice to emphasize that, indicating he meant every word of it and this was equal to a direct order.

There was no clamor this time, but whispers, as they looked at each other with question in their eyes about their alpha's decision to make this stranger to be his woman.

But, it was not only them, who were dumbfounded, but Lilac as well, because she didn't even imagine that was what Hunter was going to say.

His woman?! What was that mean?!

At this time, she really needed to thank Luna Jasmine for what she had taught her all this time, because she wouldn't be able to contain herself from interrogating

Hunter right there and then, and probably humiliated herself and the alpha as well with her outburst.

He must be kidding her.

Lilac just rejected her destined mate and now the alpha wanted her to be...

what? His woman? Lilac had never heard such term before. What did it mean to be his woman?

"Now you can continue to enjoy your breakfast!" Hunter sat down and pulled Lilac to sit down next to him.

However, after such announcement, how could they enjoy their breakfast, some of them stole a glance or two toward Lilac's direction, but most of them openly stared at her, as if she would grow her second head.

Yet, among these people, there was a certain pair of eyes that stared at her with so much hatred, but after the overwhelming announcement and the confusion that plagued her mind, Lilac didn't realize the hatred that came from a certain direction in this dining hall.

"No way... there is no way... impossible," Aiden talked to himself, he kept muttering these words over and over again, which made Ruby felt confused and scared of him.

You

"What happened, Aiden? What do mean with 'im? What is impossible?" Ruby wanted to come closer to him, but she was afraid, he would slap her again, the last time when she touched him without his permission, he had slapped her so hard, her lip was bleeding.

She didn't know that he was capable of doing this. He was very gentle and not even once he raised his hand or voice at her.

That was why, she loved him and despite knowing he already had his own mate back in his pack, she still wanted him.

However, this was not the man she fell in love with. He had turned into someone else completely, as if they were two different people.

Or maybe, it was his true color?

Aiden? Is there something that I can help you with?" Rubby asked, she kept her distance from him, she didn't want him to hurt her baby, because this baby was

"Leave me alone!" Aiden growled, he stood up and then left the bedroom, but not before he cursed at her. "The sight of you make me sick! Meeting you I the worse thing has ever happened to me!"

After that, he slammed the door very harshly, until dust fell from it roof..

Rubby felt her heart was being stabbed so ruthlessly to hear what he said.

She fell to the ground and then cried her heart out, not even once Aiden treated her right and after Lilac rejected him, he became more and more mad with her, blaming her for being pregnant and for coming here.

It was Aiden himself, who asked her to come, because he couldn't bear the thought of having his firstborn to be born out of his pack, which Rubby accepted it gladly.

But right now, he didn't even care with the baby in her stomach and once he told her that he wished she didn't have that child, because this unborn baby had ruined his life.

"What are you crying for?"

Rubby immediately swallowed back her cries when she heard this sharp tone, she was very familiar with this sarcastic word and without even seeing who it was, she knew it must be luna Jasmine.

"Get up, I don't have much time for this. We will go for our next lesson. Now I have to regretfully accept you as the future luna of the pack, you need to learn what Lilac has learned in this past year." Luna Jasmine beckoned Rubby with her fingers.

Chapter 54

"Why are you very cruel with me? I have never offended you," Rubby said between her so b s, she stood up and tried to straighten her back. She wanted to fight back, but she knew it was a lost battle for her. There was no way she could have an upper hand in this matter against the luna.

Rubby cried pitifully, she really wanted to know why the luna was being very cruel with her when she didn't do anything wrong, aside from following what Aiden asked her to do. He asked her to return to his pack with their firstborn and she did that.

But, why she was the only one at fault here? When Aiden couldn't handle the rejection and the fact, he was no longer be able to see Lilac anymore. Wasn't she his mate now?

"Oh, stop with your tears, you know what you are into when you chose to seduce my son," luna Jasmine said with disdainful look in her eyes. "Don't tell me that you don't know about it."

"I didn't seduce him! We love each other!" Rubby was screaming at the luna, which made her filled with rage and slapped her across her face so hard, she almost fell to the ground, which made Rubby terrified.

However, luna Jasmine held her elbow before that could happen, since it would hurt the baby in her stomach. No matter what, even though she hated it, but the baby was still her son's flesh and blood. She couldn't bring herself to hurt her son's child.

Yet, luna Jasmine couldn't contain her anger for this woman. She was a slut! She had ruined his son's life and all of her plan! She had spent so much time and energy to make Lilac to be the perfect mate for Aiden, to be the perfect luna for this pack, but everything had gone the drain when this little slut stepped in the pack and ruined everything that she had worked hard for.

"Stop crying and follow me," luna Jasmine said sternly. "I am not going to tell you. twice! I am going to make you regret to enter this pack!"

"What do you mean with 'my woman?? What is that mean?"

Once Lilac closed the door to Hunter's bedroom, she couldn't help, but exploded, attacking him with a lot of question out of frustration. How could she not frustrated with the man before her eyes, who tried to act innocent? What he was actually thinking?

"It's mean you are my woman, can't you understand that simple word?"

Hunter asked with that stupid innocent smile plastered on his lips, he looked at Lilac as if she had lost her mind for not understanding that.

"Stop giving me that stupid look!" Lilac became very frustrated now because Hunter kept teasing her. This was not funny at all. "I don't want to be your woman."

"First of all, that's not up to you, when I said you are my woman, then you are the one and lastly, I don't have stupid look, okay? What you said earlier to me can be counted as an insult to an alpha, you can get punishment for that, so make sure to keep it in your mind whenever you have this temptation to insult me, understood?"

Lilac was utterly speechless now. He didn't address anything in his long speech.

She closed her eyes and took a deep breath to control her emotion, the method that Luna Jasmine had taught her, but at this point, it was very hard for her to keep her cool.

"Can you please, explain to me what do you mean with 'my woman'? Because I don't get it at all. There is no such term in my pack." Lilac followed Hunter to the walk in closet, where he undressed himself without any hesitation, which made Lilac turned her body around immediately. "If you want to change your clothes, you should tell me! How can you undress yourself so freely when there is a woman in your bedroom?"

Lilac hated it, but she could feel it when blush crept on her cheeks. Why she was blushing for no reason at all?

"You don't need to turn around, you know. I only change my clothes. You can see me if you liked." Hunter prepared himself for Lilac's st and surely, she didn't disappoint him.

"Why do you think I want to see your body at all? I am not interested to see you naked, so stopped thinking of unnecessary thing!" Lilac stammered a little bit with her rambling, until Hunter patted her shoulder and she jolted in shocked.

"Let's go. I will take you somewhere." Hunter beckoned her with his fingers. am not a dog! Don't call me like that!" Lilac protested, but she followed him anyway.

You are not a dog, you are more like a cat in my opinion." Hunter shrugged his shoulders and took her hand when they walked out of the bedroom, in which Lilac swatted it away.

Chapter 54

"Don't hold me." Lilac glared. "You have not yet explained what do you mean with what you are saying."

"I will, but later."

"You keep saying the same thing. Will it be a whole day conversation when you decided to tell me everything that you have been hiding from me?"

"We will spend the rest of our life together, why it's only a day?"

"Don't say something like that! You make it sound like we are a mate or something."

"We don't do mate here. I told you about it before." Hunter didn't accept rejection, so he took Lilac's hand again and held it tighter, so she couldn't let it go again. He acted childishly right now.

“Where do you want to take me?” Lilac asked, she was still wearing her pajamas and his cloak. “I have not yet taken a bath!”
“You still look pretty, though.”

Belong to the Lycan Alpha by Jikanyotomare Chapter 55

Chapter 55

Lilac really didn't buy it when Hunter said she was pretty. “I knew I am pretty, but what is the point of being pretty when you were smelly?”

All of sudden, after what Lilac said, Hunter bent his body and then smelled her. It happened very sudden and she didn't have time to react to that. Lilac was actually petrified when she felt his warm breath against her neck and how his skin touched her cheek when he sniffed her, so close, she felt like her face was going to get burned.

“No. You are not. You smell nice. Sweet even,” Hunter said in low voice, as if he was whispering something to her and this gesture was very intimate. People who saw them would think he was going to kiss her or something. What he was doing was very provocative.

“What are you doing?!” Lilac hissed, she facepalmed Hunter and pushed his face away from her before she could do something even more embarrassing because of how nervous she was.

However, the culprit simply laughed at her reaction, this was as he had expected. He liked how she got mad at him and became very frustrated. He thought, it was a very bad habit, but he couldn't find a way to stop himself. It was very addicted.

“I help you. Now, you can rest assure, because you don't smell bad at all.”

Lilac couldn't find a word to retort that, because she was busy to calm her heart down. Why she was very flustered upon what Hunter did to her? She should be very angry because this man was trying to take advantage of her and tease her over and over again, but she was being timid instead.

In the middle of their bickering, Rye, the gamma, approached them and told Hunter there was something important that he needed to report to him.

“Can I have a moment with him, please?” Rye asked, he smiled at Lilac and greeted her politely. This must be the first time they met with each other, because it couldn't be counted as a meeting when she was unconscious and Rye didn't attend her introduction this morning. “I promise I will bring him back to you in less than ten minutes.”

But, of course, the word about Lilac was being the alpha's woman had spread so wide and far, it spread like a wildfire and this was what Rye was going to tell the alpha.

"Don't worry, you can have him for ten decades if you want, Lilac said, being Chapter 55 generous with Rye, which made the gamma laugh. He liked her sense of sarcasm.

"I bet you will miss me if I have to leave you that long," Hunter said lightly, he didn't feel offended at all after what Lilac said to him..

"You wish."

And with that, Rye whisked the alpha away, leaving Lilac in the corridor alone. After she realized she was alone and had to wait for Hunter to return, she started to feel awkward, especially when people stared at her.

No matter what, this was her first day in this pack, she must look like a stranger for them, especially after what Hunter told everyone this morning.

Lilac was sure, if she had to wait for long time, for Hunter and Rye finished their discussion, there must be one or two women started coming closer to her, wanting to confirm what the meaning behind the words that the alpha said in this morning, because in their eyes, it didn't make sense at all.

And Lilac's intuition was proven right, because less than three minutes she was alone, two women came approaching her and greeted her politely.

However, no matter what, they couldn't hide the curiosity in their eyes.

Their polite greetings and how nice they were trying to engage in conversation with Lilac, was not able to conceal their true intention and eventually, they asked the question that Lilac had been waiting for.

"What is your relationship with the alpha? How do you know him?" Ophelia, one of the women asked, she had those beautiful green eyes with shoulder length brown hair, her curiosity emanated from her body.

"I met with him when he came to my pack.." Lilac said, she had thought about it when they asked her, but it was too sudden and she didn't think the real story would be appropriate for them to know.

"And why the alpha wanted you to be his woman?" Daria, the other woman chimed in since the elephant in the room had been mentioned, they became even more blunt with their curiosity.

This was the stark difference between the werewolf and the lycan. While the former: was rather reserved with their approach and held back with their curiosity, the latter was rather blunt and straightforward with what they thought and felt, as they voiced out their opinion.

Chapter 55

“About that...” Lilac grimaced and then glanced at Hunter, who seemingly had done talking with Rye. “You need to ask the alpha about it.”

The two of them stared at each other and gave her a look, as if Lilac was asking something impossible and immediately waved her goodbye when they sensed the alpha walked toward them. They nodded at the alpha politely and scurried away.

They looked scared of Hunter if Lilac could say.

“Having new friends already?” Hunter asked, he didn’t even hesitate when he grabbed Lilac’s hand and continued to walk away.

“I can’t say that I am already being a friend with them.” Lilac tried to pull her hand away from his grip, but he tightened it. Realizing she was only wasting her time for being stubborn for not wanting to be held by him, Lilac gave up and let him do whatever he wanted with her hand.

“I told you that you will like it here.” Hunter hummed a song that Lilac didn’t even recognize.

“Where will you take me?” Lilac felt bored to ask Hunter this question over and over again, since he didn’t give her any clue or explanation.

And as if Hunter could read what was in Lilac’s mind, he voiced out her grievances. “Don’t you feel bored to ask the same question?”

“Yes, I am!” Lilac hissed. “If you knew it, why don’t you answer me?”

Hunter laughed to see her small face scrunched annoyingly. She couldn’t understand why he loved to tease her because it was not funny at all.

“Can’t you guess? Give me your best guess and maybe the answer will be one of those.”

“Why don’t we not waste our time with you just answer the question?” Lilac retorted.

“Where the fun part then if I simply answered it for you.”

“I don’t think this is fun at all.” Lilac looked around her, Hunter took her inside the forest and in the distance, she could hear the sound of the waterfall, based on how the sound was gradually clearer, she was sure they were heading toward that waterfall.

However, she couldn’t tell why this man was adamant to take her here.

“You want to kill me?” Lilac blurted out her answer and Hunter laughed so hard, his voice echoed in this forest, scared the birds that perched on the branches.

“Did you really just say that?” Hunter grinned to see Lilac’s unhappy expression. "You are very interesting. See? This is not my lost to get you out from that hellish pack. You can entertain me for the rest of our life."

"Don't say it as if I have to be stuck with you for the rest of my life, that's terrifying"

"What is so terrifying about it?" Hunter stopped walking and this made Lilac did. the same too, because he was still holding her hand. "Technically speaking, you will stuck with me for the rest of your life, since you will stay in my pack, became part of my pack until the day you grew old and die, you will be buried here too."

Lilac grimaced, she just arrived at this pack last night and here Hunter was talking about a lifetime in this pack and also the death.

"Cane we not go ahead with that scary thing?" Lilac pursed her lips. "So, where are we going now? If you didn't come here to kill me, then maybe you take me here to show me something."

"You are right!" Hunter leaned over and kissed her forehead, which made Lilac pushed him away.

"What is that for?!" She was angry, but blushing at the same time, her heart was thumping wildly and she was annoyed with herself with how her body reacted to his brazen move.

She should slap him, right? But, why she didn't do that? Instead, she glared at him, as if it meant anything.

"Because you have guessed it right!"

"I told you don't ever do that again!"

"Okay. I am sorry, next time I will ask for your permission." Hunter raised both of his hands, indicating he understood and for her to stop being hostile with him.

Seizing the chance, he didn't hold her hand, Lilac walked away from him toward the sound of the waterfall. "Then youcan interpret that as never." Because if it was up to her, she would never let him did that.

However, no one really knew what the future held, right?

"Heaven..." Lilac held her breath to see the breathtaking scenery before her eyes once she emerged from the lines of the trees that surrounded this place. Right before her eyes, there were a magnificent waterfall, with water that torrent down from up the mountain down to create a beautiful lake. She watched this beautiful sight in awe, because in her pack, there was no view like this. They barely had a river that sustained the whole pack needs for water, let alone to have such amount of water and when drought came, they would have a hard time to find water.

“Beautiful, isn’t it?” Hunter glanced at Lilac. He loved to tease her, but the sight of her when she was being mesmerized like this was his favorite.

“Yes, it is.” Lilac even forgot about how annoying Hunter was a moment ago when she answered his question. “It is very beautiful.”

Hunter stared at Lilac. He was slightly frowning. “Aside from beautiful, is there something that you remember about this waterfall?”

Chapter 56

“Hm?” Lilac blinked her eyes and finally could get out from the spell and looked at Hunter. “What do you mean?”

“This scenery. Does it bring back an old memory?” Hunter asked again, he walked closer to Lilac, his expression was serious, which made Lilac was a little bit taken aback, because he rarely gave her this kind of look ever since they met.

“An old memory?” Lilac frowned. “What do you mean with an old memory?” Hunter took Lilac’s hand and then brought her close to the lake that was created by waterfall. It seemed, this lake was the headwaters that created smaller rivers.

“Come here.” Hunter then went into the lake, which made Lilac protested because she didn’t want to wet herself, which was too late, because Hunter had pulled her down to the water as well.

“Hunter! What are you doing?!” Lilac was surprised the water was actually warm enough to her skin.

“Calm down, I want you to remember something.”

“What should I remember?”

“Something important.”

Lilac wanted to argue with him again, but in the end, she clamped her mouth, because Hunter didn’t leave any room for argumentation. He kept holding her hand and taking her close to the waterfall.

“What are you doing?”

Hunter helped her to climb the rock and only then, Lilac realized there was an area like a cave behind the waterfall.

“Don’t you remember this too?”

Lilac frowned upon hearing his question. “I am not sure what should I remember. I assure you that this is my first time to be in this place.” And Lilac could vouch for that. She didn’t remember why Hunter kept asking the question, as if she had been.

here before.

“It’s okay, if you don’t remember,” Hunter said, a smile on his face, which didn’t reach his eyes at all. “Do you want to go deeper?”

“What inside?”

Hunter shrugged his shoulders. “A few snakes, monsters and spiders. If we are lucky, we can find some corpses.”

Lilac rolled her eyes. “And what makes you think I will enjoy such sight?”

“I don’t know. Because it is hard to please you, then maybe it is because you have such peculiar taste,” Hunter said lightly.

He talked whatever crossed his mind and Lilac wondered how he could be a good alpha for his people. How his people respected him when he was very reckless like this?

“How nice you are to think I will enjoy such...”

Lilac was surprised when Hunter finished her words, he knew what she was going to say. Suddenly, Hunter leaned over and stole a kiss from her lips, which made Lilac shrieked and raised her hand to slap him for what he was doing.

However, Hunter caught her wrist right in time and pushed her back against the wall. The jarring sound of the waterfall seemed to fade away when Lilac stared into Hunter’s deep eyes. He looked very scary in such dimly lit cave.

Despite that, there was something inside of her that was drawn to his charm. He looked dangerous, but at the same time, it made her wondered about the man before her. She was akin to a moth that was drawn to the fire.

There were so many question that roamed around her mind right now, as she was unable to comprehend what exactly the reason he wanted her in the first place, what kind of story he had, what the answer for all of her question when he simply replied to her with ‘later.

“You really don’t remember anything?” Hunter asked. His voice was hoarse, he talked in low voice, but somehow, Lilac could hear him just fine. She stared at his lips and she knew what he was saying.

Lilac should be mad for what he had done and how compromising their position. right now, as his body pressed against hers tightly. Her breathing became uneven, but there was something that held her back from lashing out. Her curiosity.

“What is it?” Lilac narrowed her eyes, trying to see Hunter more clearly under the lack of light.

“Do you really not remember anything?”

“What should I remember?” Lilac frowned. She tried to search in her memories, but she didn’t even know what she was looking for. What she needed to remember of?

“This...” Hunter said in the most gentle voice that Lilac had ever heard. She didn’t think he could say a word in such tender tone.

Lilac’s body trembled when she felt his fingers caressing her jawline and he rubbed his nose against hers.

“I want Hunter spoke again tenderly, his lips were only a you to remember this... breathe away from her, but this time, Lilac didn’t push him away, as if she was being charmed by him.

“What?” Lilac gulped down groggily when his fingers caressed her neck and his lips touched the tip of her fingers.

“What happened to you before you went to the orphanage in the Golden Claw pack,” Hunter asked, he rested his forehead against her shoulder and his hand on her waist, trapped Lilac between the hard rock and his body.

“Huh?” Lilac blinked her eyes, for a moment, her mind was clearer than before. “I don’t remember.

Without Hunter asked her to remember that, she had been trying for years to remember her life before the orphanage, but she couldn’t recall anything before that. Her first memory was the orphanage and before that, there was nothing

She couldn’t remember anything from her early life in this realm. She wanted to know what happened to her too.

“Lilac...” Hunter whispered her name, but at the same time, Lilac felt her heart skip a beat when his voice echoed in this cave. Something flashed in her mind.

The way he called her, the sadness and longing in his voice.... she didn’t remember this place, not at all, but she remembered this feeling, this voice... Lilac heard it, someone called her in such sad tone before, but she couldn’t recall, when or where, or even who had called her.

“Lilac... my Lilac...” Hunter lifted his head slightly, he traced his lips against her collarbones and then up to her neck, to her chin and then her slightly ajar lips.

For some reason, somehow, Lilac didn’t know what to do, but she didn’t want to push him away too. She didn't want him to stop. This was crazy, but her head was muddled, as if there was this cloud that messed up with her mind. "My Lilac..."

My Lilac...

Someone had called her with such sad tone before, his voice echoed like this moment, which made her felt very sad.

But, who was that?

Lilac felt his warm and wet tongue invaded her mouth, as she tried to breath and hold herself back, telling herself how wrong it was and yet, she still couldn't stop herself.

It didn't take long for her to kiss him back. All the rationality was thrown out of the window. She couldn't think clearly when his hands were on her and without her realizing it, Lilac had wrapped her arms around his neck possessively, as if she didn't want to let him go.

But, a second later, Hunter withdrew from her, he took a step back, which made Lilac flustered.

At first, Lilac couldn't understand why Hunter moved away from her, did she do something wrong? But then, a smirk appeared on the corner of his lips.

"Was that mean I get your permission?"

With that question, Lilac immediately realized how foolish she was for what she had done earlier. She let him to do whatever with her and now he smirked victoriously at her.

Lilac felt embarrassed and humiliated. She had insulted herself for letting things. escalated. She felt very embarrassed, she felt like crying.

Couldn't bear the sight of Hunter any longer, Lilac rushed toward the entrance of this hidden cave, she shifted into her beast and moved as fast as she could. She had not yet shifted into her beast for so long, so it was very liberating to be able to do

SO.

Not to mention this forest was very large and there were so many trees that allowed Lilac to shake off Hunter from chasing her down.

The last thing, she heard was his voice in the distance, sounded very distress because he couldn't find her.

Good for him. She wanted him to be more distress than that because of what he had done to her. She couldn't care less with that jerk of an alpha.

He brought her here to humiliate her, to take revenge on her pack. That must be the true reason why he was very adamant to take her back to his pack. Because by taking her back, he could upset Aiden, who had killed his father.

That must be it.

“What the hell you have done, Hunter?” Rye shifted into his human form when he approached Hunter, who just did the same.

They had been searching for Lilac from noon to night, but they couldn't find her at all. From the look of it, she went too deep into the forest and the problem was, this forest was part of the mountain, which it transpired from north to east, this was a very vast land to cover if you want to search every inch of it.

They couldn't be sure how long they would be able to find her, more so, the night didn't seem to be on their side, the gloomy clouds hanged very low, which indicating the rain would pour down soon.

In that case, they would lose the last trace of her scent if there was any that left. This was not something that comforting at all. It would only make their search harder.

unter had

“Why would you say something like that to her?” Rye just learned why been adamant to take Lilac back, as it turned out, she was ‘that girl’ and now everything did make sense.

“Because that's what I said at that time, that's what I did.” Hunter rubbed his face. roughly in frustration.

“And you thought, she will remember if you reenact what happened?” Rye really wanted to hit Hunter's head, only if he didn't strike him back and became mad for what he did, but please... what made him to think that was alright to do so? He really gotten on his nerves. “I always admired you, Hunter, but this moment doesn't count at all. You are being a jerk.

“Thank you, but I don't need your lecture. I want you to find her right away. It is going to rain.” Hunter growled at the sky, as if by doing so, he could prevent the rain from pouring down.

Now he thought about it, Rye was right, he was being a fool to think that was alright for him to say what he had done. No wonder Lilac misunderstood his intention.

“Don't push your luck, you can be ended up in the deepest of the forest without no way back,” Darren said when Rye looked like he was going to retort Hunter. "Open your eyes wide."

Rye rolled his eyes. "He really needs to learn how to treat a woman."

"Before you give an advise, you better look yourself in the mirror," Darren said sharply and then shifted into his beast and dashed away, leaving Rye's protest behind him.

"What? What is wrong with me?! Hey!" Rye shifted into his beast too, attempted to give Darren an earful complain, but the beta simply shut down his mind link and left him speechless.

The night grew deeper and the rain started pouring down, erasing any traces of Lilac, which made the alpha grew even more anxious. He deployed all of the warriors to search for the entire mountain and forest, not to leave a single rock untuned, but even so, it would still be hard for them to Lilac, because the land that they had to cover was too vast.

"Why all of those people outside?" Grace asked Deane, her personal maid.

"They have been outside since noon."

Grace had been staying at her bedroom because she was punished not to step out for what she had done to the alpha.

That's why she didn't hear, neither she had an idea about the arrival of Lilac. No one told her about it. To be precise, no one dare to inform her about the woman in the alpha's chamber, that was what they called Lilac.

"What happened?" Grace tilted her head, observing the change on Deane's expression.

Her personal maid was the same age like her, but she was being rather unfortunate to be born with low status.

"The alpha deployed all the warrior to search for someone," Deane finally spoke, she didn't dare to lie, neither she had the courage to deflect the question.

"Someone? A thief?" Grace frowned. "Who is that until Hunter deployed all of his warrior?" Who was that very important until Hunter made such big move?

"It is..." Deane looked hesitated to say it. "It is a woman named Lilac, she just arrived in the pack, yesterday," she informed her.

“What woman?” Grace narrowed her eyes when she heard that.

Ever since she was little, Grace has fixed her eyes on Hunter and as she grew up, it was always be her dream to be the luna of the pack, to be Hunter’s woman. To stand by his side as his equal.

However, after Hunter realized how crazy she could be, he started to avoid her. That was went Grace went ballistic, which resulted for her to be locked inside her Toom.

“It’s the woman that alpha brought back from the Golden Claw pack,” Deane replied, but even Grace could tell there was more into the story.

Grace came closer to Deane, she was very close, until the young maid trembled, as she could feel the danger that rolled off her body.

“And why Hunter brought back such woman?” Grace asked. She blinked her eyes. innocently, but in truth, there was nothing innocent about her, only malice.

Deane stammered when she was about to answer that, but then she fell to the ground, kneeling in front of Grace when she screamed on her face. She yelled very loud, until Deane felt her heart skipped a beat and her ears rang painfully.

“The alpha introduced her as his woman, he introduced her this morning in the dining hall that she is his woman. He used his alpha’s voice to emphasize that.” Deane felt bad for Grace, but after a harsh slap she got because of the information she let her knew, she only felt very pity and grateful the alpha didn’t have any interest with a woman like Grace.

“His woman, you said?!” Grace growled dangerously.

A harsh slap landed on Deane’s face, which made the poor maid shrieked in pain. She immediately tried to move away from Grace’s reach before she could get to her again.

“What do you mean with his woman?! He has no woman, but me!” Grace snarled angrily and this made Deane trembled in fear when she approached her angrily and grabbed her collar. She slapped her face very hard and she repeated her action over and over again.

Deane cried for Grace to stop assaulting her, but she didn't care. She couldn't fight her back because it would only aggravate her even more.

People only thought Grace was very infatuated with Hunter, but no one knew the extend of her craziness toward the alpha.

They were merely thinking Grace had a short relationship with the alpha, because there was time Hunter paid attention to her, but then he cut it off and Grace couldn't accept that, which was why, she acted a little bit possessive, because she couldn't forget about him yet.

However, they didn't even have any idea fifty percent of her obsession toward Hunter.

Deane was not sure how many times she received Grace's harsh slaps, until Reena entered the room and stopped the assault.

Deane was crying so hard and her face had turned very red, swollen even, as blood gushed out from the corner of her lips.

"Grace! What have you done?!" Reena pulled her daughter away from the maid and reprimanded her harshly. "Stop this!"

Grace tried to retaliate, but the moment she saw her mother, she began to cry and hug her. "Mother... tell me it's not true... tell me it's not true..."

"What is it?" Reena hugged her daughter tightly, she caressed her back to soothe her sadness.

"She said Hunter claimed someone else as his woman. Tell me it's not true..." Grace said pitifully between her sobs.

Reena glared at Deane and told her to leave the room, which she gladly did it without wasting another second, she closed the door behind her.

“Tell me that’s not true, mother. Tell me that Hunter doesn’t abandon me, he will not do that to me, right?” Grace asked her mother pitifully and this pained Reena’s heart to see her daughter was in so much pain because of the alpha.

“It’s okay, my love. Mother will take care of this, okay?” Reena said in reassuring voice, she wiped Grace’s tears and kissed both of her cheeks. “I will ask your father to clarify this with the alpha, okay?”

Grace nodded. “Why I can’t go out still? I want to go out and see Hunter. I have been enough punished.”

Reena frowned with this. “I don’t know honey, but I don’t think you can go out yet. Because your father has not yet lifted the punishment. But I can assure you he will eventually, okay?” She kissed her daughter’s face again. “I will talk with your father about this, okay love?”

Grace was not happy, but she agreed with her mother anyway, since there was nothing she could do to refute that.

Meanwhile, the search for Lilac kept going on, until very late at night, but there was no sign of her whatsoever and this started to make Hunter went crazy.

“We can’t find her, alpha,” one of the warriors reported it back to Hunter.

“There is no way she went too deep into the forest. She will not go too far.” Hunter gritted his teeth, he lifted his head to see the night sky. Hell. Where was she right now?!

She must haven’t gone too far into the forest, but they had spent so much time to cover so many grounds as possible, but there was still no sight of her. This was ridiculous!

“Alpha... maybe she fell from the cliff...” One of the warriors suggested, but he immediately clamped his mouth shut when the alpha growled at his suggestion.

Darren patted Hunter’s shoulder to calm himself down. “I think there is a possibility of that.” The beta then asked the warriors to make another group and go down to the cliff, just in case.

Hunter rubbed his face in frustration. His anger mixed with worriedness.

“We will find her, Hunter,” Darren reassured him.

Chapter 60

Lilac was very upset to see where she was going, but when she realized she had gone too far, she returned to the waterfall. It was not hard to go back there when the sound of the water filled the entire forest.

After she saw there was no one there and probably Hunter looked for her somewhere else, she then entered the secret cave and stayed there. She was not sure how long she had stayed inside, because at some point, she fell asleep without even knowing it.

She was very exhausted, physically and mentally, where she didn’t even want to think of anything else. She only wanted to get some quiet time alone for herself. It was not much to ask.

Therefore, without any care for the world, Lilac rested herself inside the secret cave, where Hunter showed her earlier and how he teased her, thinking it was alright to make a joke like that.

It was fun for him, but for Lilac, it was a humiliation because she knew what she did was wrong, but she kept doing it anyway, she was in a vulnerable state, but all Hunter did was laughing at her. Great.

“Hm? It is very dark...” Lilac rubbed her eyes, she tried to see around her, but it was too dark, it alarmed her when she heard the jarring sound echoed against the walls of the cave.

For a moment, she was trying to figure out what happened and where she was... but then, when her mind was clear enough and she remembered the event with Hunter, she visibly relaxed.”

“I think I need to go back to the pack house now. I hope I still remember the way to get there...” Lilac mumbled to herself, as she stood up. She stretched her body and saw a flicker of light that came toward her way.

Someone was coming and Lilac stood there silently, until the fire from the torch illuminated her face and she squinted her eyes because it was too bright and the light upsetting her sight.

There you are...

There was this a low growl, a mix of annoyance, relief and madness, and Lilac immediately recognized his voice. At this point, she thought, she would be able to recognize his voice anywhere.

“Do you know what you have done?” Hunter asked, growling to be precise. “Sleeping?” Lilac asked, the annoyance returned and she couldn’t help, but became a little bit sarcastic with him. More so, she didn’t lie. She had been sleeping the entire time, what else she had done?

She just arrived last night and in such period of time there were a lot of things that happened, she didn’t even have time to take a bath. Now, Lilac remembered how she had not yet taken a bath because Hunter didn’t allow her, she became even more upset.

“Sleeping?” Hunter reiterated the word incredulously, as if Lilac just told him she just grew another pair of arms. “All this time you have been sleeping?” Lilac furrowed her brows. “I don’t need you to insult me again.”

Hunter shook his head. “My apologize if you feel like I am insulting you, that’s not my intention.”

“I doubt that.” Lilac took a deep breath and crossed her arms in front of her chest. She turned her head to look at somewhere else.

Hunter wanted to speak again, but he didn’t think this was the right place to talk about it, more so, they needed to leave this cave.

back to the pack house.” For now, he would drop the matter. They would talk more about it when Lilac was feeling better.

Seeing her upset like this, angry even, was way better than not seeing her at all. He would rather have her mad at him than to not know where she was.

And now when she was already in front of him, all of his worried and his own anger had evaporated. All Hunter felt was relief to see her fine..

“Let’s go back.” Hunter stretched out his hand, but Lilac didn’t want to take it, as she walked ahead of him. She didn’t go too deep into the cave, so she could find her way out of here.

However, what she didn’t expect was the sight before her eyes when she stepped out of the cave. There were at least a thousand people, each of them holding a torch, which the light of it could illuminate the night sky and turned the night into day

Lilac was speechless, she halted in her steps when all of them talked how glad they were to see her fine.

Chapter 60

“Wh- what is this?” Lilac didn’t dare to take another step, as Hunter approached her from behind. “You mobilized your warriors to look for me?”

“Isn’t that obvious?” Hunter asked. He put his hand on her shoulder.

“What?” Lilac felt her tongue became numb. She knew what happened, what she was seeing was enough confirmation what Hunter had done, but why would he do this? This was... too much.

He didn’t need to mobilize his warriors to look for her, right? Why would he do that.

“You are missing, so I look for you.” Hunter stated that as if there was nothing wrong with his decision, but for Lilac it was not common.

gone this far

No one ever had done this kind of thing, in her life, no one had ever go only to look for her.

When she was in the orphanage and she used to run away from there, the eldest wouldn’t even look for her, they would even reprimand her when she returned.

And the same thing happened when she was very frustrated with her lesson with luna Jasmine, the luna didn’t even ask where she had gone and only criticized her childish way to resolve problem by running away.

Hunter took her hand and then helped her to get down from the high rock.

“You don’t need to do this.” Lilac shook her head. She couldn’t believe Hunter would go this far. She was flustered and frustrated.

“I need to do more than this.” Hunter helped her to get down from the rock to the plain land, only then, he let go of her hand, knowing the reason behind Lilac’s anger was because he couldn’t keep his hand on himself. “You are my woman and you have gone missing in the forest that you only visited once when you are with me. That’s my responsibility to find you and bring you back. That’s not even a question.”

Lilac frowned, she was not used with this kind of attention, though her heart was swollen with something warm that she couldn’t explain. No one ever really cared about her wellbeing all this time.

See? Lilac hated it when she wavered like this again. She wanted to stay mad at Hunter, but it was hard when he gave her all the attention and care she had never received before.

Chapter 60

“I will ask someone to bring food for you, you must be hungry.” Hunter draped his cloak over her shoulders to keep her warm.
