Chapter 71

“You sound jealous, Lilac.” Hunter gave her a sweet smile, as if he was happy with the reaction that he got from her.

“Don’t be ridiculous.” Lilac glared at him and then groaned when she sat down, the pain on her back was annoying now.

“Okay...” Hunter drawled the answer, which Lilac tried to ignore. He clearly was not convinced with her answer, but then.. whatever. “Eat slowly.”

Lilac smelled the soup and then drank it slowly after she blew it to cool it off. It was very tasty. Maybe the tastiest food that she had ever eaten. Luna Jasmine always gave her a strict diet and she was not allowed to eat anything that was very savory.

“I can see how good the food is to make you smile like that.” Hunter leaned his back against one of the poles of the bed, as he crossed his arms. After the gloomy look on his face had finally disappeared, you could see his tired eyes.

The alpha had not yet slept a blink, since last night, because he took care of Lilac, making sure she wouldn’t turn her body and lay down on her back, because it would aggravate her wound and disrupt her healing process.

“Yeah, the food is good, at least.” Lilac had to admit it.

“Thank you.”

Lilac raised her head and saw that stupid grin on Hunter’s lips. “You don’t need to take the credit for that.”

“If it is not me, who will take the credit then?” Hunter watched how Lilac’s mind started to think harder and the realization hit her, thus before she could say it, he took the pleasure to admit it first. “I am the one, who cooked that food. I am great, right?”

“You praised yourself too much. I thought an alpha should be a humble person.”

“Who told you that shit? Of course, we need to be humble, to keep our head from being too large for our shoulders, but the other people should know the strength we have. It’s important to keep them in check, so they wouldn’t stomp on our head.

Lilac frowned, but she said nothing about it. In a way, she agreed with that statement, which was weird for her to agree with anything with him after such revelation.

Chapter 71

“Who is that woman?” Lilac finally brought up the topic again, because her curiosity side was killing her. She wanted to know how far the relationship between the two of them, until she had the intention to kill her.

“Grace. I told you she was my childhood friend. We slept together two years ago, I was drunk and she was near me, so it happened and the second time because she kept pestering me and it happened again, but after that, I don’t like how she thought we were exclusive, so I made sure to let her know I have no intention to make her my woman.”

“Don’t tell me because you were looking for me.”

“Bingo.”

“Very touchy.” Lilac was being sarcastic when she said that, but Hunter only smiled.

“I know. I was rather dumb and stupid. I want to say proudly that I saved myself for you, but unfortunately that was not what happened, but at the same time, I couldn’t lie to you. I don’t want to lie to you.”

Lilac sighed deeply. “And then, why she is still thinking that you are into her?”

“She was the last woman I am with.”

“The twenty nine?”

Hunter laughed when Lilac said that in that way, but he nodded. “Yes, the twenty nine.” He stretched out his hand and tucked strands of her hair behind her ear, the fact that Lilac didn’t swat his hand away was a great sign. “After that, with everything that had been going on, I have never been with anyone.

It has been two years, since the last time I was being reckless and now I found you, I don't want anyone else."

Lilac didn't know what to think or feel. Called her naïve, but her heart was softened when she heard that confession. She must have ridiculed herself to think Hunter was genuine, but that was what she saw when he made that statement.

"So, I will be the thirty?"

Hunter shook his head. "You will be my last. You always be my first and now you will be my last."

"Shouldn't we even the score?" Lilac didn't know where she got this idea, but it just dew in her mind and it slipped on her lips. "Shouldn't I be with another twenty nine men first before I am with you?"

Hunter let out a low growl, it sounded very dangerous and filled with rage. "I will be a hypocrite if I don't agree with that, but I don't mind it at all. You can call me that if you want, but if you touched another man, he will be unfortunate enough to not be able to see tomorrow."

"Hunter!" Lilac felt chill down her spine.

"I know you will not do that, Lilac. That's not how you are raised. That's not the things that you believed." Hunter's voice softened when he spoke again. "You will not bring yourself to do that, Lilac. I bet my life on that."

"If you believed I will not do that, why were you very angry?" Lilac mumbled, she shoved the meat into her mouth.

"Because the thought of you really doing that makes me go insane."

"You are hypocrite."

"I am."

Lilac took a deep breath, she didn't want to have this topic anymore. "What happened to Grace?"

“I put her in the dungeon and she will not come out until a few decades.”

“What?” Lilac was surprised. “That punishment is a little bit... too harsh, don't you think?”

“If we have already a ceremony and you become the luna of the pack, what she had done will guarantee her a death sentence on the spot, Lilac.”

Lilac must not remember this, but Hunter remembered everything with every fiber in his being. He might have told Lilac how he owed her his life, but he didn't to detail how he felt at that time. How scared he was that he was going to die if she dropped her or gave up on him.

Lilac was indeed crying because her arms were hurt, but not even once she any indication that she would give up on him. That little girl showed such determination to keep him alive.

gave

But things that Hunter didn't tell her in detail was how scared he was for his life. He was only eleven years old, a child himself and that was his first killing attempt. Even now, he would have that nightmare about what happened in the past.

The only comfort was; Lilac would always be there for him. Held him up.

Yes, he messed up in his teenage years, but there was not even a moment that passed without him thinking about Lilac, especially when she disappeared like a smoke.

Hunter kissed her when she fell asleep in her secret cave one day, as he came and found her curling her little body on the ground. He kissed her lips and swore that he would take responsibility for that and her lips were the only lips he had ever kissed.

None of those women had the fortune to be kissed by him, just like what Hunter said, it was all physical and there was nothing more, there was nothing less. He didn't want to share such intimate moment with anyone else.

On the fourth day, Lilac finally healed completely and during that time, Hunter would sleep on the couch inside the room. More so, he had to keep his eyes on her, so she wouldn't turn her back in her sleep, as result, Hunter would have a little time to sleep, but he didn't complain about it at all. He dutifully kept his eyes on her.

Lilac had told him not to do that and it looked uncomfortable, but Hunter insisted and he didn't take a rejection very well. Were all alphas like that?

In the end, Lilac didn't say anything, more so, she did not really reject the idea of Hunter to stay in the same room, since she was still scared if the other twenty eight women would try the same thing.

When Lilac voiced out her concern, Hunter only ruffled her hair and told her Grace was already enough for an example for them to back off.

Chapter 72

On the fifth day, Lilac came to the dining hall, because Hunter insisted for her to blend with other people and if she liked, she could find a friend.

She doubted that.

Lilac would feel sick if she found out she befriended one of the twenty eight women that had been with Hunter, but he reassured her, those women were from different town. Still, Lilac still hung up with that fact.

Probably with time, she would accept that, but right now, it was like a wound and it was still fresh.

Thankfully, she found three women, who she could talk to. One of them was Raya, Rye's sister. She was as a kind and outspoken woman, her personality was like the gamma so much, but when the two of them met with each other, they couldn't help, but quarrel. It seemed, having the same personality didn't make you get along well.

“Do you know that sir Kellan has been threatening the alpha?” Rose started. She was the gossip of the group, she always knew what the latest information.

“What is it?” Lena immediately came closer and Lilac couldn’t help, but smiled at her new friends. They were adorable in their own way, which reminded her of Aria. She missed her...

“Who is sir Kellan?” Lilac asked in the midst of their gossip and they stared at her with eyes wide opened, as if Lilac just grew the second head.

“You don’t know?”

“No way.”

“Where have you been?”

Lilac blinked her eyes. Today marked one month of her being in this pack and she got along well with some of the pack members, though there were some of them, who still looked at her with curiosity, as they didn’t believe their alpha would choose an outsider to be the luna, especially when she was a werewolf.

“Sir Kellan is Grace’s father.”

“He is forbade to enter the pack house because he has been asking, demanding the alpha to meet with him, to release her daughter”

“Grace’s mother still stays in the pack house, though, but she keeps crying all the nine, asking the same thing. The alpha might consider to kick her out of the pack house too.”

The three of them talked simultaneously, trying to fill the information that Lilac was lacking.

“Heaven! How could you not know about that?” Lena looked like she was going to have a heart attack, as she dramatically clutched on her chest.

“Did the alpha not say anything about this to you?” Rose became a little bit curious about the relationship between Hunter and Lilac, no, she was always curious.

“Hunter has never mentioned anything about it.” Lilac realized how Hunter had never mentioned anything about Grace anymore. Probably, he could sense how uncomfortable it was for her to be reminded of that night.

“But, you spent all the time with the alpha.” Raya looked surprised.

“As far as I know he will take you anywhere he went,” Lena chimed in.

“What were you talking about when there were only the two of you?” Rose literally leaned forward to hear the answer from Lilac.

However, before she could say anything, Hunter had approached them. “I will take my woman with me, I hope you don’t mind.”

“No, alpha.” All of them shook their head and became very polite.

This was one thing that Lilac noticed, sometime, they looked scared of Hunter.

Belong to the Lycan Alpha by Jikanyotomare Chapter 73

Chapter 73

“Why I feel like they are scared of you?” Lilac glanced over her shoulder to the other three girls.

Probably, it was because Lilac was too comfortable with Hunter, that was why she failed to pick this strange behavior from people around her, or maybe because the way Hunter treated her was very different from how he treated his own pack member.

Whatever it was, only now Lilac noticed it.

“That’s only in your mind,” Hunter replied lightly, as he took her hand. Now, he became a little bit liberal of touching her, because Lilac had been less complaining recently, as she warmed up with the idea of them to be together.

“Really?” Lilac frowned, she was not satisfied with the answer and was very sure that was not the case, but because she had no evidence to say otherwise, she didn't say anything about it anymore. "Where are we going to go?"

"You need to train," Hunter said.

"Train?" Lilac frowned. "What should I train for?"

"So, you can protect yourself," Hunter replied lightly, as he put her on the horseback and then lifted himself up too, sitting behind her and controlled the horse.

"I thought the pack house is safe!? No?!" Lilac was genuinely surprised with what Hunter saying.

Why all of sudden Hunter asked her to be trained? Hunter himself, who said that she was safe now and something like that would never happen again.

"What is it?" Lilac lifted her head, she was a little bit embarrassed by how close the two of them were, but at the same time, it felt very comfortable to lean her back against his chest and felt his heartbeat that was in sync with hers. "Am I in danger? Did the twenty eight women look for me to get their revenge too?"

Hunter laughed, he couldn't decide what he would do with Lilac since she always brought these women in almost every conversation, it seemed, she would hold a grudge against him for a very long time because of what he had told her. If he knew it would be like this, probably he would hold his tongue to let her knew the truth.

Chapter 73

But then, he couldn't imagine to lie to her. He didn't want to start the relationship on a lie, especially when he had chosen her as his woman, someone that he would spend the rest of his time with.

"You are very cute when you are jealous." Hunter kissed the top of her head, as they walked in the town, people stopped walking and gave a quick respect toward their alpha.

See? These people looked like they were scared of him, or if this couldn't be said as fear, then it must be their utmost respect toward their leader.

“I am not jealous, why should I be jealous with those women? You said it yourself that you didn’t have feeling for them.” No matter how hard Lilac tried, she was really suck at hiding this emotion.

“Okay,” Hunter said, readily agreed with her, which made Lilac pouted. It was not very convincing.

“Why should I train?” Lilac pulled back the topic into the original question. “You said it yourself the pack house is very safe now and I don’t need to worry again.”

“Lilac,” Hunter called her name gently and every time he did this, Lilac felt her stomach churned, she hated to admit that she liked the way her name rolled off his tongue. “Every pack member here will go through training, whether it is woman or man.”

Lilac had heard this, though the number of the lycan was not many, but in term of warrior, they were not lacking because their women could claw your heart out too.

“Even though the pack house is safe, but I will be more at ease if I knew you can protect yourself from anything,” Hunter told her. “There will be a lot of benefit for you if you trained too.”

Lilac furrowed her brows even more deeply when she heard that, she tried to think what kind of benefit that she would get from the training, aside from being able to protect herself. “Do you think I will be able to catch up with the other?”

“I don’t ask you to catch up with the other, but at the very least, you should know the basic movement of how to defend yourself.” All the pack member had been trained since they were only eight years old, so it would be a great effort and time consuming if Lilac was pressured to be on their level.

Yel, when he saw the injuries on Lilac’s back and how Grace beat her up pretty easily when she herself was the worst fighter, Hunter realized he couldn’t stand the thought her was being defenseless.

Chapter 3

Lilac lowered her head, she seemed to think about this seriously. “Who will teach me? You will teach me?”

“Despite how eager I am to teach you, but I don’t think I can have time for that, little one,” Hunter replied, he helped Lilac to get down from the horse when they finally arrived in the training ground. “Someone else will teach you.

This place was very loud and noisy, there were a lot of growling beast before Lilac’s.

eyes,

This place was akin to a stadium with a few rows of seat, which was higher than the row in front of it, while in the middle, you could see a few beasts and a lot of warriors in their human form, trying to hurt each other, or so how Lilac saw this.

“Are you sure. I will train with them?” Lilac gulped down. These lycan were huge! She felt very scared.

“Of course, you are not going to train with them,” Hunter reassured her, as he took her into the indoor stadium. “You

Chapter 74

This was the first time for Lilac to actually be in the training ground, before this, she had never taken any interest to be in the training ground, not even walked. close to the area, because the warriors sometime scared her.

They could be very brute and vicious when they fought and this scared her so much to see them baring their teeth and fangs.

More so, luna Jasmine didn’t see why it was necessary for Lilac to be in the training ground, since her lesson didn’t include how to train herself or even how to learn. about defending yourself.

That was the job of the warriors and her, as the luna of the pack, would be heavily protected. Those warriors required to drop everything and even throw themselves between the danger and their leader anytime, that was what required from them.

Not to mention, luna Jasmine always gave off the vibe as if she looked down on the warriors, as they were nothing, but a mere of bunches people, who existence only. to be a protector and dedicate their lives for the pack, especially to their alpha and luna.

“Is this your first time to be in the training ground?” Hunter asked when he saw how startled she was to hear a loud growl from the fighting out there. Currently, they were inside the building, where women warriors were training.

Some of them were old enough, you could see how experienced they were, some of them were very young and even there were children and to Lilac comfort, she saw her three new friends there. It eased her anxiety a little bit.

“Yes, this is my first time,” Lilac replied, she waved her hand at the three of them, but they nodded at her respectfully, which made her a little bit stunned.

Lilac had noticed how people around her became more reserved and paid their utmost respect whenever Hunter was with her, as if they were afraid to annoy the alpha and unintentionally was being disrespectful toward him.

This was weird in Lilac’s opinion because Hunter was nothing, but kind and understanding with her, something that you shouldn’t be afraid about.

“Really?” Hunter raised his brows, he blinked his eyes in disbelief, as he scrutinized her, looking for the truth. “You are not joking, right? But, at the very least, you must have been in the training ground before, even if it was only for observation

Chapter 74

“No.” Lilac shook her head. She was telling the truth. “It’s not common in my pack for the women to be in the training ground, maybe you have heard about this, but my pack doesn’t have woman warrior, because we believe woman is not as strong as man.”

Hunter frowned, he then corrected her. “Golden Claw pack‘ and ‘that pack.”

“What?” Lilac confused about what he was talking about. “What is that?”

“The way you addressed it is wrong.” Hunter then repeated what he said earlier. “Golden Claw pack‘ and ‘that pack! You are the member of this pack now, the future luna, you don’t mention another pack as yours. This is your pack now.”

Lilac was a little bit stunned because Hunter was very detail with such thing, but thankfully, he didn’t prolong the topic. “Remember that, okay?” he stretched out his hand and caressed her cheek. He used to do this little gesture toward her every time he wanted, especially after he told her about their story in the past, he became even more and more affectionate.

In the beginning, Lilac was a little bit flustered and felt uncomfortable, but as time went by, she craved his touch. It was comforting to think there was someone, who desired you.

She didn’t realize it until now, but Aiden’s infidelity had crushed her self esteem, thus to have someone like Hunter, who didn’t shy to show his affection and his desire for her was something that could mend her wound. It boosted her self confidence too.

“Okay,” Lilac replied, it was a rare occasion for her not to be stubborn. “Then, what should I do here? I have never been in training before.”

Hunter waved his hand and a woman in her early thirty came over to greet the two of them, she bent his body respectfully, something that luna Jasmone would smile upon seeing it.

“She is already here and I want you to proceed the way we have talked before.” Hunter’s voice was calm, but firm.

“Yes, alpha.

Lilac moved closer toward Hunter and whispered to his ear. “You have talked about this before?”

“Yes. But, the real training only happened now because you were still recovering from your wounds before,” he explained to her.

Chapter 74

“Oh..” Lilac blinked her eyes, she didn’t know what to say. Hunter could look easy going and reckless, but as it turned out, he was a planner and he planned everything in detail. This was one thing that Lilac had just noticed too.

“You can go with her,” Hunter said, he nudged her shoulder to get her attention. “This is Rami. She is the best warrior trainer here.”

“I am Lilac,” Lilac introduced herself.

After that, Hunter talked about a few things with a lot of term about fighting that Lilac was not familiar with, while she looked at Raya, Lena and Rose, who looked excited to see her there.

At the very least, Lilac knew the three of them, so she wouldn’t be alone.

“I will go now, I hope you will enjoy your first day training, I will come again to pick you up and after that, we will have lunch together, okay?” Hunter patted her head. “Be good.”

“It sounded like you are talking to a child.” Lilac pouted, though she liked the way he treated her.

Hunter chuckled and Rami looked surprised to see the alpha’s genuine smile. “I will go now.”

And with that, Hunter left after he talked about a few things to Rami.

“Come, follow me. I will teach you basic thing” Rami said.

Chapter 75

Lilac panted heavily after only one hour of training, her body hurt so bad and her joint swelled uncomfortably. She was sitting on the ground covered with sweat and dust, while Mira looked perfectly fine.

“Get up,” Mira said firmly. She was standing in front of Lilac with a stern look on her face.

Lilac lifted her head and gave her a glare. “This is not a basic thing that you tried to teach me...” Lilac retorted harshly. She felt like she was going to die.

“How do you know whether this is a basic thing or not? Have you been trained before? Or probably the werewolves are very weak, so our basic training feels like an advanced one.”

Lilac didn't like the mocking tone that she used. What was the problem with this woman? Why she kept trying to pick up a fight? Wasn't she here to train her? Why it felt like she was torturing her instead?

“I don't know whether it is a basic training or not, but I am sure the other is not going through this harsh treatment in their first day.”

“Most of them went their first day training on the age of eight years old,” Mira replied.

Raya came closer to Lilac and then helped her to stand up. “Are you, okay?” she asked, worried in her expression. “I will escort you back to the pack house.”

“Raya steps aside, don't tangle yourself in this matter,” Mira said her warning. “I told you to step aside! Are you dare to not listen to me?!”

Raya tilted her head and fixed her eyes at Mira, she helped Lilac to stand up and walk past her, but Mira grabbed Lilac's elbow to stop her.

“What the meaning of this? Are you trying to rebel against me?!” Mira yanked Lilac's arm and separated her from Raya. “I told you to stay, your training has not yet done! I will be the one, who decided whether you can leave or not!”

“Mira! You have stepped out of the line!” Raya shouted back against her, she really had her brother's temper in this matter, because she had been quiet in this whole ordeal, but right now, she couldn't do that anymore.

Don't raise your voice against me, Raya! I am the one in charge in this place

Don't raise your voice against me, Rayal I am the one in charge in this place

“The alpha told you to train her a basic training, but what are you doing?!”

“Can’t you see? I trained her in basic training! Everyone knows about that! Just because she is very weak, doesn’t mean it is my fault that she can’t keep up!”

Lilac looked around her and aside from Raya, no one stood up for her, they had their heads hung so low, as if indicating they didn’t want to get involved in this.

matter.

At this point, Lilac started to question herself, whether she was only exaggerated what she was thinking and her body was really weak, until she couldn’t handle this?

“It’s done! I am going to take her back to the pack house!” Raya tried to take Lilac back, but Mira pushed her shoulder away from her, which made her growled viciously. “Enough of this, Mira!”

For a second, the two of them stared at each other viciously, they barred their fangs and were ready to shift into their beast to attack each other, which made the whole situation became even more tensed up.

Mira felt her authority was challenged, so she put Lilac behind her body and faced Raya head on. “You are not going to take her anywhere!”

“If you dare to touch my sister, I am going to rip off your arms.”

The atmosphere was very thick and all of them were occupied by what was going to happen between Raya and Mira, but the thickness cracked when they heard the voice of the gamma. Rye was standing at the door with his arms crossed in front of his chest, his eyes were very cold, he didn’t seem happy to see his sister was being threatened by other people.

“Mira, I don’t think this is what alpha told you to do. I thought you supposed to teach her a basic training?” Rye nodded at Lilac, whose face was so pale, she was still catching up her breath.

“I taught her the basic training if your sister can step out of my business. She ruins my training.” Mira’s cold eyes glared at Rye.

And when her attention was distracted, Raya grabbed Lilac's hand and yanked her back to her side, as she took her to walk toward her brother,

This time, Mira couldn't say anything. It was stupid for Mira if she wanted to challenge the gamma. No matter what, she was not on par with this gamma in fighting.

Mon,

Chapter 75

"You take care of her, I am going to take Lilac back to the pack house," Raya said to her brother and then added. "I don't know what the alpha was thinking to let Mira taught Lilac for the first time."

And after saying that, she took Lilac back to the pack house, but Rye didn't stay to deal with Mira, as he left the area too to inform Hunter about what had happened, after all, he came here because he was ordered to check on the situation.

"Why she treated me like that?" Lilac asked, she was in pain when she finally cleaned herself up and then sat down on the chair. "Is that really basic training for the lycan? I can't imagine eight years old will train that hard."

Raya didn't answer her immediately, but when she sat down next to her, her answered surprised Lilac. "Yes, we trained that hard, Lilac," she said in honesty.

"No way. How can you survive such brutal training? Even for a child?" Lilac felt her ego was bruised because she couldn't even stand a training for an eight years old.

"Yes, we are trained that way," Raya replied.

Chapter 76

Lilac couldn’t believe what she just learned, apparently, since they were little, they had been going under such harsh training that she couldn’t even imagine.

“I think the alpha is miscalculated your stamina and the fact that you are a werewolf and has not been training your whole life.” Raya tilted her head and stared at Lilac, as if she was scrutinizing her. “You are very delicate even for werewolf.”

Lilac didn’t know whether she should laugh or cry when she heard that. “I will think that as a praise.”

“I am not praising you, but if I can be honest with you, you are really delicate. You must have not yet fought your whole life. Never been in physical altercation too, right?”

“Yes, I think you can say that...” Now Lilac felt bad, as it turned out, the problem was with her. “Will you be fine?”

“What?” Raya poured a glass of water for herself, currently, the two of them were inside Lilac’s bedroom. She stayed to make sure she was fine. “If you are talking about my argumentation with Mira, yes, I am fine. This is not the first time we were butting head.”

“Really? You don’t get along with her?”

“Couldn’t you see you see it already?”

Lilac grimaced.

From what Raya told her, Mira was someone with high pride and a big ego, she used to go overboard with her method of training, but what she did earlier, indeed only the basic one because the alpha had warned her about it beforehand.

“So, it means, I am the one, who overreacted...”

“Don’t be silly, once she saw you can’t handle it, she should know when to stop, but she pushed it through and ignore your discomfort.”

“Thank you, Raya for standing up for me,” Lilac said. she felt bad now.

And not long after that, Hunter entered the room, which made Raya left the room to give the two of them space.

Are you, okay?” Hunter sat down next to her and observed her body.

someone understood her and told her that she was enough, that her effort was enough and she didn’t need to try to please anyone else.

Before, she needed to be on her good behavior because she lived in orphanage and she was expected to do more because the children in the orphanage were literally younger than her, so there were a lot of things she needed to do, she must do because they expected her to do so.

Until the point, where it was a normal thing for her to do all of those crazy works and people didn’t appreciate it because that was what she used to do, while she forced herself to do more, so they could give her a shred of attention and appreciation.

And when she became the future luna of the pack, the responsibility and the expectation became even crazier, not to mention that luna Jasmine was someone that was hard to be satisfied.

“Thank you,” Lilac said, she didn’t realize it, but she started sobbing.

It took for a while, for the two of them to control their emotions and when Lilac was a little bit calm, she asked the first question that came to her mind.

“I will apologize to Mira tomorrow, but I hope you can talk to her to reduce the intensity of the training,” Lilac said, she felt bad because apparently, Mira was not at fault in this matter.

“You don’t need to do that, you will train with me,” Hunter replied lightly he patted her head.

“I thought you are busy.”

“I will always have time for you. Don’t worry.”

“It’s okay, I will...”

But Hunter had cut her words. “Mira is not working as the trainer again. You don’t need to go back.”

Chapter 77

“Why?” Lilac was caught off guard when she heard what Hunter said. “Why she is not working as the trainer again? Don’t tell me...”

“You don’t need to think about this...”

But, Lilac swatted his hand away. “No!” she said sharply. “You can’t do that, if you did this, people will only hate me, I don’t want it.”

“You don’t need to worry, I will handle that...”

“How? How can you control how people thought about me? How can you control what is in the other people’s mind?” Lilac was adamant to know the answer for this. “Tell me, Hunter. Can you control people’s mind?”

“Lilac.”

“I don’t want this, Hunter. I will go to see her and apologize.”

Hunter was speechless, he threw his hands up, indicating that he gave up. "Fine. Fine. I will put her back to her place. You don't need to be angry with me, okay?"

"Really?" Lilac narrowed her eyes because she didn't believe him.

"Yes, promised."

At first, Lilac didn't believe what he was saying, but in the next day when she went to the training ground with Raya, she found Mira was training the other women like usual.

"Do you want to see her?" Raya asked. She went to a small room to change her clothes, ready to train, while Lena and Rose were on spar right now.

"No..." Lilac didn't want to bother her. She had caused trouble for Mira yesterday and actually felt ashamed of it, thus to see her returned to be a trainer was enough, because it meant, Hunter really kept his words. "I will go back."

"I will go with you."

"No need, you are supposed to be in training right now. I don't want you to get into trouble because of me, more so, I can go back to the pack house on my own." Lilac pushed Raya's back lightly because she didn't want to bother her. She felt so bad if she became a burden to people around her.

"What are you talking about? I told you, right? I used to be in argument with Mira this time is not different."

Lilac chuckled nervously, sometime Raya's strong attitude amazed her of how free this woman was and how brave she was. Not because she was a good fighter, but it was needed a courage too to be disliked by other and be fine with that.

But after Lilac reassurance, Raya finally gave in and let her to go back to the pack house on her own. Actually, Lilac had a promise to Hunter that they would start their training, but it was still two hours from now and Hunter was currently busy.

So, Lilac thought, she wanted to look around on her own. The training ground was still intimidating in her eye's more so with how vicious these people fought against each other, as if they were very serious to take down one another and wanted to kill each other in their spar.

How they could train like this?

"Hahh..." Lilac sighed deeply, as it turned out, she was really weak. She couldn't even stand the sight of these people fighting.

"What are you sighing about?"

Stunned, Lilac immediately turned around only to see Mira was standing behind her. How long she had been standing there?

"Come, sit down here. Mira sat down and patted the space next to her, as she watched the male warriors were fighting viciously.

Leaving with no other options, Lilac sat down next to Mira, she felt a little bit awkward after what had transpired between them.

"I appreciated that you have talked to alpha Hunter to give me back my position, even though I happened to lose it because of you," Mira started the conversation and Lilac didn't know whether she had to be grateful for that or what. It didn't sound like she really thanked her genuinely. More so, what she said was right.

"I am sorry about that," Lilac said. She sighed deeply and watched those warriors were training brutally. Blood splattered on the ground and there was no one who bothered with the sight, as if it was something common. Was this a usual sight to see? "I know, your method yesterday was the bare minimum, but it is me, who couldn't keep up with it."

Mira glanced at Lilac and then chuckled. She didn't like to hear that, she felt like she was being mocked. In the past, luna Jasmine always taught her not to apologize, even if she was wrong, because you couldn't give an apology to anyone especially someone lower than you and as the luna, the only person that deserved your apology was only your mate.

However, deep down, Lilac did not agree with that.

“I appreciate your apology,” Mira said. “But, I need to say it that you are really suck and I don’t think you can be a good match with the alpha.”

Lilac lowered her head, she looked trouble. “I know. I don’t think I am.

“Just like I had expected. This whole idea about taking you as his woman must be his decision alone without your input, am I right?” Mira asked her bluntly.

It was weird to have this conversation with the person, whom yesterday happened to be on the list of the worst people she didn’t want to meet, but right now they were talking casually, as if they were friend.

“What do you want to say?” Lilac narrowed her eyes, she felt uncomfortable to be talking about this topic and wondered how they could end up talking about this.

“I only want to say that Grace is a better suit for the alpha,” Mira replied lightly, she shrugged her shoulders nonchalantly, as if there was nothing wrong with what she said. “She is strong and confidence, more over, she is not an outsider.” Mira glanced at Lilac. “I mean no offense, but we have a hard time to accept you, Lilac.”

Belong to the Lycan Alpha by Jikanyotomare Chapter 78

Chapter 78

This was the only lycan pack in this entire realm, so it was understandable if the other shifters tried to get away from them because they were a little bit different and more intimidating with their strength and figure.

therefore, this unfamiliarity made them was ostracized by the rest of the pack in this continent, which caused the lycan to only trust their own people and look down on the other shifters, who treated them poorly because they were stronger than them.

“I know. I can understand that,” Lilac said in light tone. She tried not to take offense in this matter. “But, if you want to complain about this, you should know I have no say in this matter and no matter what my opinion, in the end, it will be Hunter, who will decide the woman he wanted.”

“Hunter, huh?” Mira scoffed and Lilac just realized her mishap for calling Hunter by only his name. “Both of you seem very close. A mere warrior and a lowborn will be scared enough to talk with the alpha, but you can actually call him by only his name, as if you are on the same level.” Mira glanced at Lilac. “Well, I can say you are already on the same level like him, don’t you think? Since he acknowledged you as his woman, it means, you are his equal.”

“I don’t like the way you talk to me,” Lilac said bluntly. This female warrior clearly looked down on her and Luna Jasmine’s tutelage that had run in her veins couldn’t accept that. “I can understand if you don’t like me, but I don’t understand why you keep trying to talk bad about me when I did nothing to you, but try to understand.”

Mira stared at Lilac for a while and then sighed deeply before she got up. “You have those werewolves attitude and I really don’t like it.”

“What do you mean with that?”

“You people are arrogance.”

“That’s so rich coming from you.”

“We always say things bluntly, but you people always try to think that you are above us and act wise. Just like what you are doing right now.”

“What am I doing right now?” Lilac didn’t feel like she was doing something wrong, but why it was a fault in Mira’s eyes?

“If you are angry, be angry, if you are upset, show it and if you want to mock me do it. You don’t need to keep your image by holding yourself back and act benevolent. You, werewolf, always think you are above us.”

After saying that Mira turned around, but before she left, Lilac spoke. “Maybe the problem is not me and my people, who acted benevolent and try to think we are above you, but have you ever thought that maybe you, lycan, who always thought us because you are a minor and you try to play it as if we bully your kind.”

beneath us

Mira immediately turned her body around, she was clearly angry and growled viciously at Lilac.

“What happened here?”

It was Darren, who approached them. The beta had been observing the two of them when he trained the other warriors and only came when he saw how uncomfortable and upset Lilac was. He had no grudge against Lilac and knew the true reason why Hunter wanted her to be his woman.

He and Rye had heard about their story in the past and he thought it was very understandable with Hunter's obsession with Lilac, even before he found her, he had shown such tendency too.

Therefore, they were not really surprised when he heard Hunter wanted to make her his woman. That was his dream after all.

"Nothing," Mira said and then left them there. She returned to the indoor training ground, while Darren approached Lilac.

"Everything is good?" Darren asked, he sat down on the seat where Mira was sitting before and took off his clothes, because he was sweating really hard. For the lycan. this gesture was normal, but for werewolf, which Mira saw as a reserved creature. what Darren did was rather unaccepted.

Lilac lowered her sight and tried to avoid to see at Darren's direction.

"Yes, it's fine."

"What were you talking about?"

"There is nothing important."

"But, you look upset," Darren pointed it out and Lilac couldn't say otherwise because she was indeed upset.

"Are you waiting for Hunter?" Darren had heard what happened yesterday and thought Hunter was crazy to ask her to train, but the alpha was adamant that L had to know a basic skill how to protect herself. "I thought it still two hours fre now."

"Yes, he told me we will have a training today, but I came here earlier."

Darren didn't ask much and then silence cascaded down between them, which made the two of them became a little bit uncomfortable because they didn't use to be alone with one another.

"I see you are close with Rye's sister."

"Yes, she is a nice girl. I like her."

"Yeah, but she can be a handful too." Darren leaned his back and stared down at the ground, where hundred of warriors, either in their beast form or human form. fought against each other in sparing.

"She is a good friend."

"Yeah."

And then another awkward silence.

"Do you want to train with me? Warming up for a while before Hunter is here?"

"Eh?" Lilac was surprised with his suggestion, she turned her head and immediately looked away when she watched his broad chest and six packs.

Just like what she had seen, all the warriors had a great body, as if they were built of muscles. “No, you don’t need to accompany me, you are busy, you can go back to your warrior.”

Lilac really wanted to be left alone, instead of being with Darren in this awkward situation.

Yet, the beta had stood up and then nodded his head. “Come here, let’s warm up.”

But, I don’t agree?!

Belong to the Lycan Alpha by Jikanyotomare Chapter 79

Chapter 79

“Now I can see why it was the right thing for Raya to step in and save you yesterday.” Darren touched his chin, as he stared at Lilac, who had fallen to the ground, panting heavily, because she couldn’t breath properly after what Darren so called warming up.

This was not even a warming up for Lilac! She was burning already.

“No... I can’t...” Lilac fell on her back and then stared at the blue sky from the gap between the leaves. This area was a little bit away from the stadium, where they called as training ground, but she still could hear the noise and loud growls from there.

Actually, this place was quite nice with a lot of trees and the leaves canopied this area, where she trained with Darren.

“Hm...” Darren was deep in thought, his eyes fixed on Lilac’s body, but she couldn’t care less about that at this point. He could stare as he liked, Lilac needed her time to catch up her breathing. “I think I know why you are very weak and can’t stand a physical activity too much.”

“I know I am weak. I am born like this.” What else the reason aside from this?

“No, I think there is more into it,” Darren said, he was thinking about it more carefully again, but this time, he approached Lilac, who was still laying on the ground and spoke sternly with her. “Shift into your beast.”

“What? Why?” Lilac furrowed her brows. “I don’t have the energy to shift into my beast.”

Shifting into your beast required a lot of energy, because your beast side was usually used as your defense and attack, in fighting mode, thus if you didn’t have enough energy, you wouldn’t be able to sustain that form for long.

“Just shift. Let’s see how long you can sustain that form.”

Lilac groaned. She felt so tired and wanted to go back to the pack house and - rested, but she still needed to meet with Hunter after this, because like what Darren said, it was only a 'warming up, the real training she would get with Hunter.

The thought of it alone made Lilac felt her bones grew weary. She wanted to sleep.

'Shift."

10:41 Mon, 1 Jan D

Chapter 79

Darren took a step back and gave Lilac space to shift into her beast, in which she did and shifted into her beautiful honey- brown beast.

However, it didn't last for long, because after that, she shifted back into her human form, panting heavily and shook her head. "I can't. I can't stay in my beast for long..."

In this rate, Lilac couldn't even lift her fingers, because she was thoroughly exhausted, let alone to think she was still having a real training with Hunter.

That was simply impossible to do.

"What do you think, Hunter?" Darren asked.

Hunter?

Lilac frowned and then lifted her head to follow Darren's line of sight to find Hunter was leaning his back against one of the trees, his eyes fell on Lilac, who was draining from her energy.

Since when he was there?

Lilac didn't have any idea. This was ahead of their appointed time and more so, why he didn't say anything? Lilac must have been dog tired to even be able to recognize Hunter's presence and smell his scent in the air.

"I will take her back to the pack house," Hunter said and then approached Lilac. He bent his body and carried her in his arms. "I will appreciate it if you don't try to pull this again."

Usually, Lilac would ask Hunter to put her down, because it was embarrassing to be carried like this, but this time, she snuggled against him. She had no energy to walk back to the pack house, even if she had to crawl.

"I only want to help."

"There is no need for you to help."

Lilac could hear how cold Hunter was and the last thing she saw was his angry face when he glared at Darren, who lowered his head, like a child being reprimanded by their mother.

After that, everything went black, she was not sure how long she was in the dark, but the first thing that she noticed was two people, who was talking with each other.

“Why she has not yet woken up? Are you sure she is alright?” Hunter asked the healer, his tone was not friendly at all, he had this cold aura that surrounded him.

“I am sure, alpha, she will be fine. Actually, it is a good thing that she is sleeping because she needs to rest after such an intense exercise.”

Exercise? That’s what they called her training? Lilac felt very embarrassed, she couldn’t imagine what kind of rumor that would be spread if they learned she fainted during training after she made a fuss the other day with Mira. All the people would know by now how weak she was and it was not something she was happy about.

And after that, Lilac fell unconscious again. She woke up a few hours later when her stomach was protesting and hunger strike her.

Lilac groaned and stretched her body, but when she turned her body, she bumped. onto something warmth and sturdy.

Sleepily, she opened her eyes and found a chest right before her. It startled Lilac, even more when she heard hunter’s deep voice from above her head.

“Feeling better?” Hunter pulled the blanket to cover her body, but then he leaned over to kiss her forehead before he got off the bed and returned with a glass of water. “Drink this, you will feel better.

Hunter helped Lilac to sit down and drink the water, he held her body and the brought the glass close to her lips, so she wouldn’t choke.

“Slowly, no one will snatch your glass,” Hunter reminded her when she drank the water greedily.

What Hunter said was right, she indeed felt better now. “I don’t want to train anymore...”

Belong to the Lycan Alpha by Jikanyotomare Chapter 80

Chapter 80

“I think I told you before that I don’t want to train anymore, but why do you still bring me here?” Lilac sulked, as she followed Hunter to the outer stadium, where all the warriors were training.

After what happened the last time, Lilac took a complete rest for a week and during that time, Raya, Lena and Rose would come to visit her. She didn’t make a lot of friends still, because she didn’t think she was good at it and more so because they still looked at her with a furrow between their brows.

It was hard to accept her, especially if she would become the future luna of the pack.

But, Lilac didn't mind it at all.

"You are fine now," Hunter pointed it the obvious.

It had been a month since what happened and now Hunter took her here again to train. He had not yet given up with the idea for Lilac to be able to protect herself.

Lilac loved the idea too, but her body simply couldn't keep up with her desire to be capable of protecting herself, as if her whole body was protested whenever she used her energy excessively, even for daily basis.

"You will tire me out soon if you insisted for me to keep training with you," Lilac said helplessly. She had been discouraged and given up with the idea of training, because drained out of your energy was not a nice feeling. She felt very vulnerable.

"The problem with you is because your beast form is too weak, that's why you can't sustain that form for long and this affected your physical ability too."

Hunter ignored Lilac's protest. They were already here, what else she wanted to complain about. "Why did you suppress your beast?"

"Me? Suppressing my beast?" Lilac didn't understand, she stopped walking when Hunter did. This was the same spot, where Darren was 'warming up' with her almost a month ago. "I don't understand."

"How many times. you shift into your beast in a weak?"

"I can go without shifting into my beast for a year."

Hunter widened his eyes in surprised and his voice was very heavy when he spoke

10:41 Mon, 1 Jan

Chapter 80

again. "A year!?" He came closer toward Lilac, but she took a step back out of instinct because right now the alpha lycan was very intimidating. "How can you not shift within a year?!"

Lilac blinked her eyes. "Why I can't?"

"This is the problem..." Hunter clicked his tongue and shook his head, which made. Lilac frowned even deeper.

"What do you mean with problem?"

"You are the problem, Lilac How can you not shift into your beast for a year?"

"I don't understand."

This was another thing that shock Hunter as well, because from the look of it, Lilac was seemingly genuine not to know about this.

With that, Hunter had to explain everything to her about why there was the need to balance between your human side and their beast side for shifters.

“It applies to lycan too, because we are actually the same creature, but we are blessed with more power and strength,” Hunter explained it calmly.

Today, Lilac learned a new thing from Hunter about the balance between their beast form and their human form, something that she had never learned before.

She always thought, she didn’t need to shift into her beast, because a woman didn’t usually use to run in their beast form, their beast form was only to defense and attack, but even that rule only applied to men, since there was no women to be warriors in her pack, therefore, most of werewolves women were physically weak, just like Lilac.

She explained about that perception to Hunter too, which he said how wrong it was.

And today was the first day, she and Hunter ran side by side in their beast form. Hunter’s lycan beast was very huge, it could be said his size was more than twice. hers, which was very intimidating and also fast, but he would slow down his pace whenever Lilac’s beast was too tired and encourage her to move a little bit closer.

There was time when Lilac couldn’t retain her beast form and had to shift back into her human form and it happened during the first time she shifted, but after the third time, she could get a hang of it a little bit longer and after that, she became a little bit more comfortable with her beast.

However, it didn’t take long too, because her energy drained very quickly, in the end, after two hours in her beast form, which was the longer she had shifted, they returned to the spot.

“Hunter, there is news from Golden Claw pack, they wanted the war prisoner to be handed in the end of this week,” Rye informed Hunter once he and Lilac returned from their running.

Just like what Hunter had promised, he would return all the war prisoner to their pack and now, they demanded it after almost three months.

“Arrange the meeting with them. We will give them back in the meeting point.”

Hunter had a lot of things to take care of, so he rather neglected this unimportant matter.

“But, the alpha and the luna wished to see Lilac too, because they wanted to see how she is right now, whether we treated her well or not.” Rye rolled his eyes. clearly, he was trying so hard not to mock these people, who had made this demand.

“Who made this demand? Alpha James and luna Jasmine?” Hunter handed over a waterskin in his hand to Lilac so she could moisten her throat, she was sweating and her hair looked unkempt, while Hunter looked fine and tidy.

“No... apparently, they just had a ceremony for Aiden to be their new alpha, so he and his mate will be the people, who will receive the war prisoners, along with the other alphas and lunas, that’s why in the letter, it mentioned to bring Lilac along”
