

Chapter 106

“COME HERE.”

Alina's legs were like jelly on the ground. She could not move her legs in fear.

She looked down and did not dare to glance at him. There were many thoughts that came to her mind. Different things were hunting her heart.? She did not want to go to the man who misunderstood her and tried to kill her.

Alina clenched her dress when she felt him stand up from the couch. He slowly came near to her.

Alina stepped back and her back pressed against the door.

She could not dare to turn around and opened the door to leave the room.

She was numb when he came close to her. His breath touched her cheeks. The smell of wine came to her nose and she wrinkled her nose.

She felt his gaze on her. So she got all the courage and looked up at him.

His eyes were telling her that he was drunk. Alina said,

“Y-You are drunk.”

Aaron chuckled when he heard that.

“Do you think some gulp of wine or a few bottles of alcohol could make me drunk?”

Alina was silent. She now believed that he was purely drunk. She was thinking to handle him but before she could apply any idea she felt his hand on her throat.

He grabbed her throat and pressed hard just as he did on the day when his father died.

Allina felt almost breathless. She grabbed his hand and tried to rescue her from his hold but he did not leave her throat.

He looked into her eyes and glared at her.

“Did you think you could rescue them from here? From me? No darling. Not after killing me dad. What you did was something unforgivable. I can’t let you leave like that. You know that.”

Alina also looked into her eyes. She saw him bent his head to her chest area and k!ssed on her showing cleavage.

Alina was stunned. She could not react because after that Aaron left her throat and immediately ripped her cloth into pieces.

Alina screamed in fear. Aaron did not care for her scream and started to k!ss on her bossoms. He grabbed one and kneaded hard.

“AAAHHH.” Alina screamed.

He was like a madman. Alina was shocked by his behavior. He touched his h!p and pulled her close to his body.

“P-Please leave me.” Alina requested him with her glossy eyes.

Aaron smirked at her. “Running away from the death penalty, did you think you can run away from King Aaron?”

Alina shook her head. “N-No. I didn’t do anything.”

Aaron glared at her and lifted her into his arms. Ava pushed him. “Leave me.”

Aaron threw her to the bed. “Leave you? Then what? Where will you go? To that lover of yours?”

Aaron slowly opened the rope of his night robe. His tone chest came to Alina’s eyes. She wanted to cry. She could understand what he wanted to do with her.

She sat up and tried to move back but he grabbed her ankle and pulled her close to him.

He climbed on her and put his weight over her. Alina pressed on his chest to move him from her body. Aaron glared at her hands and pinned them over her head.

“You always have problems with me but you were happily standing with that true b***d when he touched your waist.”

“H-He didn’t try to harm me.”

“Because you didn’t kill his father. If you did, he would not make you his slave killed you immediately for what I didn’t do with you. Because I wanted you to die every day.”

He tore the last two pieces from her body. Alina was shocked. “D-Don’t do this with me please.”

Aaron did not reply to him as if some kind of evil possessed him.

He bit and sucked her collarbone then moved down to her bosoms. He bit them, sucked them, and came down to her belly.

He did not let her talk, she was just gasping from time to time.

But she did not stop struggling. She wanted to stop all of this.

He did not love him but only took her. He wanted to destroy her totally.

“A-Aaron please stop thi- AAAAH”

Alina could not complete before a slap heard in the room.

He slapped her bottom. A tear ran down from Alina's eyes.

“Dare to stop me again. I will kill you right here right now.” Aaron warned her.

Alina bit her lips. She did not dare to talk.

His hand roamed around her whole body. It stopped in her core.

He let go of her hands. Alina thought Aaron would let her go from his room. But she was so wrong.

She saw him put off his pants.

“No, please. I am begging you, Aaron.”

She did not lose her virginity like that. She was a pure woman who did not have a boyfriend before. She spent most of her time in her life in working hard.

She believed this man who was her mate but he also mistook her.

When she was in Rick's pack, Rick never tried to take her chastity. She did not have any type of relationship with him.

She wanted her first time to be gentle with love, not like that.

"Why? You are behaving like you are innocent. Don't make me a fool. Tell me how many nights you spent with that Rick?"

Alina grabbed his hand. "I didn't do anything like this."

Aaron snatched his hand from her hold. "You said and I would believe you, right?" He said and snickered at her.

He grabbed her thighs and parted them apart.

"Women like you are unashamed. You know how to seduce men with an innocent face. All you want is a higher position. That is why the moon goddess did not give a powerful rank. Because she knew you would misuse it later."

He said and set himself in the middle of her legs.

Alina lost her battle. She looked at him sadly. She knew no matter how much she tried to understand, this man would merely believe in her.

“You are a slave. So you have to bear this. I made you a slave because I did not want to harm my future Luna. Now only you would endure all the pain and releases of mine. Day or night, you have to serve me yourself.

Your life is now in my hands. Pleasing me is only your duty. If you can not fulfill my desire then you will have to take punishment. If you still don't want to do that then I have your parents who are still alive. I will put them in my dungeon. This time no Lucas would help any of you again.”

When Alina heard about her parents, her eyes widened. “D-Don't do anything to t-them.”

“Now you feel bad about your parents? What about mine? You didn't care when you killed my dad.”

“I didn't kill him.”

Aaron avoided her words. She wanted to stop him before that Aaron pushed himself inside her.

“Aaaahhhh!” Alina cried in pain. He pushed inside so hard that she felt something ripped inside her. She felt pain as if she would die.

Aaron began to thrust roughly. He groaned. He felt her so tight. He came to her face. But Alina moved away her face.

“I will not kiss you. A woman like you does not deserve my kiss.”

He kept thrusting as if he was waiting for it for a long time.

Aaron felt uncomfortable when he sat up and saw blood. He frowned and looked at her immediately.

He was shocked that she was a pure virgin. But how was that possible?

He believed that she was a brazen woman. He thought she slept with Alpha Rick and tried to seduce him. He thought she was her old lover. When he went to her room in the Blue Moon pack, she called out Alpha Rick's name. From then on, it was in his mind that she slept with him.

He looked at Alina. She was crying while looking at the ceiling.

There was an emotion rushing over his heart. His eyes turned red. He went close to her lips and kissed her. He started to thrust again.

Alina was stunned by his reaction. He just told her that she did not deserve his kiss and now he had changed his mind so soon.

Alina thought she was a product to him. He was just using her like one and then threw her like dust.

He left her lips and went to her neck. To her surprise, he started to leave an open mouth kiss there.

Ava was confused about his mood change. But she was not aware of what was going to happen.

Suddenly she felt a piercing on her neck. Her lips parted and her eyes enlarged.

She tried to push him hard but he did not move a little bit.

She felt him digging his canines into her neck to seal her as his.

HE MARKED HER!
