Chapter 121 - Book-2 -36

Chapter-36 Teaching Melissa a lesson

The next day, in the morning, Alexander opened his eyes, feeling some weight on his body, smiling contently, knowing who the person was. Last night though they didn't get any action done, he was still able to manage her into sleeping with him in the same room.

"Victoria? It's time to wake up, or at least let me get up. I need to arrange for the announcement to make you the official queen." Alexander said, playing with her hair affectionately.

"Mmmm... Just a few more minutes." Victoria groaned, hugging him tighter.

"Okay. But only a few minutes. After that, you are allowing me to go, okay?" Alexander said before closing his eyes and enjoying the feeling of her.

It wasn't like he didn't want to stay in the bed with his love and hold her tight to himself, but announcing to her the queen was more important right now.

After what felt like an eternity but were only a few minutes, Alexander opened his eyes abruptly when he felt the weight from above his body suddenly vanishing.

It didn't go away gradually like she woke up and left. No. It just vanished. Looking around with his forehead sweating at the thought of her vanishing, he stood before checking the washroom and couldn't help but shout when he couldn't find her anywhere on the balcony either.

"Victoria? Victoria!" Alexander shouted, his mind going haywire.

"What are you calling me for? I just went into my room to take a shower and change. Didn't you asked me to let you go after some minutes?" Victoria said as soon as she appeared in his room again.

Stunned, he looked at her before running towards her and flicking her forehead. Before she could refute and complain, he pulled her into a tight hug.

"Can you please walk like normal beings? I panic when you disappear like this." Alexander said, and Victoria immediately understood the meaning behind his words. Smiling in understanding, she let him hug her and even tightened her arms around him.

"Okay, I'll try to not do that again. Now off to your business. I am going to freshen up and change before meeting Daniel. I still need to talk to him about what happened." Victoria said, and Alexander nodded at her in agreement.

Placing a soft kiss on her temple, Alexander went inside his bathroom, and Victoria walked out of his door, smiling at his childishness.

"Why are you coming from my- our Alpha king's room, Jasmine?" Victoria heard a bitter voice, and remembering how her desires were left unfulfilled because of the interruption from the same voice, she turned around and looked at Melissa sharply.

"Why do you think I am coming out of there? Of course, I woke up and now want to go back to my room. No matter how amazing the sex was, it's not like I'll stick to him like glue.

It was enough when I gave into him since he was begging me." Victoria said with a sweet smile, making Alexander chuckle in the bathroom while showering, who heard her words because of the opened door.

"Our Alpha king came to you and asked you to sleep with him? Ha!! Keep dreaming! He would never do anything with a lowly creature-" Before Melissa could complete her words, Victoria lifted her hands before hanging her in the air away from the railings.

It was in such a position that if she leaves the magic, then Melissa will fall on the ground of the hall from the third floor.

"Jasmine! What the hell?! What are you doing? Are you a witch? Oh my god! Help! Damien! Alpha Damien!" Melissa shouted, and Alexander, who was chuckling in the bathroom enjoying, sighed loudly before wearing a bathrobe that covered more than half of his body perfectly, knowing all too well that Victoria will get super pissed if he came out in just a towel.

"Jasmine, what are you doing?" Alexander said, remembering that he needs to pretend that she was still Jasmine and not Victoria.

"I am just having a little bit of fun. I had told everyone the first day I came here. I don't take disrespect nicely. She was insulting me right now, and I think she needs someone to teach her a lesson so that she can learn how to not mess with people." Victoria said.

"Okay, that's enough. I think you've scared her enough." Alexander said before turning her around and kissing the corner of her lips, making Melissa look at him with wide eyes.

Victoria, who on the other hand, didn't expect such a way of pleading, lost her control on the magic, making Melissa fall, however, she pulled her back just in time before she could hit the ground.

"I like this way of pleading. Handsome, are you sure you are not falling for me?" Victoria asked in Jasmine's style, and Alexander understood what she wanted to say.

She doesn't want him to announce her as the queen until things are solved. Sighing dejectedly, he kissed her temple before going back inside.

Honestly, he understood where she was coming from. She wanted to make sure that everything was alright before they start their happy married life, however, the talk with Azrael yesterday had put him on edge.

Though Azrael didn't say anything about the matter of Victoria and her forms having other mates, she didn't deny them completely either. Which only meant one thing, the possibility was indeed there.

And that was the main reason why he wanted to make her his queen so that whoever mate comes, she won't go away from him because she will be announced as the queen and his rightful wife.

And until the mate is a king himself, he doubts that anyone will try to snatch her away from him.

The plan was simple and sweet, and hopefully, it was worth giving it a shot.

However, he didn't want to burden her either. He knows that their mate bond has broken, and if a new mate will be created for her, then her attraction towards that mate will be equally high, and things will become more complicated for her.

She might not know the truth yet, and thus, she was adamant about having a love-making session with him.

Even he was unsure of what was going to happen.

Maybe they should just listen to Azrael's words and concentrate on enjoying their days while they are still together. That seems to be the best-

"Alex? Alex? What are you thinking so hard? Are you angry with me because I treated your secretary like this?" Victoria asked with a confused expression on her face.

"Of course, not. I was thinking if I should just take up on your offer and mark you." Alexander said nonchalantly, his indifferent words awakening Victoria's body as it immediately reacted to his proposition.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 122 - Book-2 -37 She Misunderstood Rosaline

"Alex! I am going to meet Daniel! Are you coming?" Victoria shouted, standing in the middle of the hall with her head raised to look in the direction of alexander's room.

"Jasmine, uhh... Can we talk?" A soft voice came from Victoria's behind, making her back go stiff.

"I need to go and meet Daniel," Victoria replied, without turning around, already knowing who was the owner of the voice.

"Please, Jasmine. It will take only a few minutes." Rosaline said, holding Victoria's hand now.

Sighing loudly as her amber coloured eyes observed Rosaline, she tried to read what Rosaline was thinking, so that she could get over with this quickly.

Rosaline wasn't a bad lady, or that's what she had always thought. But it doesn't mean that she can ignore the fact that Rosaline tried to hook Alexander with Laila as soon as she was out of the picture.

She can't get over the fact that she almost lost all her energy when she was healing Rosaline, and in return, she betrayed her by hooking her mate with a girl that tried to kill her.

Victoria couldn't let it go, and neither could Jasmine and Carla.

"I don't know what's your connection with Victoria, or if you are Victoria, or maybe you don't even have any relationship with Victoria, but can you tell me what is your mindset and intentions regarding my son?" She asked, directly coming to the point.

"Sorry?" Victoria asked, a little confused.

What was she really trying to ask?

"I mean you look exactly like my son's ex-mate, and if you are not serious about being with him, can you stop being around him? It's affecting his life. He needs to get married and find himself a queen by his side that can rule with him." Rosaline said, more clearly this time.

"By queen, you mean Laila, right?" Victoria asked, looking over Rosaline's shoulder at Laila, who was hiding behind the pillar at some distance while her body positioned in such a manner that clearly indicated that she was eavesdropping on their conversation.

"It doesn't necessarily mean Laila, but- " Rosaline started but was cut off when Victoria laughed mockingly.

"You know, Victoria was a fool to have saved you by risking her life. If it would've been my choice, and I knew were this mean, I wouldn't have batted my eyes and left you dying." Jasmine said, taking over Victoria momentarily, her anger flaring up.

"Sorry?" Rosaline asked, horrified. This was probably the first time someone was talking to her like this, and being the former Queen, she obviously didn't like the disrespect.

Moreover, what confused her more was, how did this Jasmine know about Victoria saving her?

"What I mean is, I have targeted Alex, a.k.a you son, he is on my radar, and I am intending to marry him. So you get how serious I am, don't you?" Victoria said, coming back in power.

"Mom, what are you guys talking about?" Alexander asked as he descended the stairs and walked towards the duo.

"We were" Rosaline started wide-eyed, still confused over what Victoria has said, knowing her son will throw a fit again if he came to know what she was talking about.

"We were talking about our marriage. Your mother wants me to marry you as soon as possible. Right?" Victoria asked with a smirk on her face, knowing that she won't spout anything useless in front of Alexander.

And Rosaline, who thought that she was talking to Jasmine, smiled awkwardly before nodding her head.

"That's awesome, mom. This time I won't stop you from preparing for the marriage. You can start your preparation anytime. I want to make it big." Alex said before pecking Victoria's lips.

"Yup, she can do that. I like grand things. I want every alpha and luna out there, invited to our marriage. Everyone should attend the marriage of their Alpha king and see who their queen is." Victoria smiled, her gaze flickering to Laila, who was standing there with clenched fists.

Ha...If this didn't make her day today, she doesn't know what will,

"Of course, we will make it big, baby. As you wish, everyone will be called." Alex said before he looked at his mother.

"How about the first week of next month? You will be able to prepare a lot till then, no? Let's tell dad about it later. I know he will be happy for us. He is really fond of you." Alex said before nuzzling his face in the crook of Victoria's neck lovingly.

Victoria, on the other hand, smirked at Rosaline's shocked face before placing her hand on top of Alexander's head that was still in the crook of her neck.

"No one is more fond of me than you," Victoria said, teasing Laila some more.

"Of course, sweetheart. I love you Vi- Jasmine," Alex said, making Victoria chuckle at his slip-up.

"Let's not waste more time. The sooner we complete our work, the more we will be able to spend more quality time with each other. Let's go and meet Daniel, yeah?" Victoria said, still smiling proudly at Rosaline and Laila.

"Mmm... Your scent and presence are so distracting that I can't even get a hold of me." Alexander said, hugging her close.

"Hey, stop. We are standing in front of your mother." Victoria said, faking her shyness.

"That's okay. My mother will be happy seeing me this happy with my love." Alex said, making Victoria chuckle.

"Of course, she will. Right?" Victoria asked, and though Rosaline didn't like this new arrogant Jasmine, but because her son was standing there, she complied with her and said a small yes before she turned around and left.

"Aunty, what is going on? You should've asked Alex about leaving her. What were you doing standing there? Did you agree to their marriage just like that? I am sure she is playing with him and nothing more. " Laila said with squinted brows.

"I couldn't say anything in front of Alexander, but you are right. She is indeed conniving." Rosaline said her jaw ticking as she saw Jasmine leaving hand in hand with her son.

"Aunty, you can clearly see that the girl is not good for him. You know me for soo long. I am the best candidate to become the queen, I mean Alex's wife." Laila said, making Rosaline turn around and look at this girl before she nodded absentmindedly and went towards her room.

Perfect candidate? She knew Laila was after the crown only because she knew that Laila is clear with the fact that Alex will never love her like a wife. And for her to show this enthusiasm about this marriage, it was all about the crown.

The only candidate that was suitable to become her son's wife was none other than Victoria. She was a gem that they lost, and now her son was trying to replace that gem with this silver called Jasmine that might turn poisonous for him.

Remembering Jasmine's words about how Victoria was a fool to save her, Rosaline opened the drawer of her nightstand and took out the only photo of her with Victoria.

If only she could tell her the truth. That day after Victoria was declared dead, she was probably one of the person's that cried soo much for her loss, for she not only lost her daughter-in-law, a queen, her son's mate, but also her daughter.

Though she doesn't tell and shows that to anyone, she still loves Victoria and misses her. That day when they almost lost their son, she was preparing for the marriage of Alex and Victoria because she had contacted a witch, and she said that Alex will be meeting his mate soon.

However, who would've thought that rather than Victoria coming back, Alex would almost lose his life.

Maybe that was what she meant. That her son will be meeting his mate soon in heaven. That was the reason why she stopped talking and thinking about Victoria, but it didn't mean she doesn't miss her.

It doesn't help now when Alex has brought back Victoria's lookalike. A few days back when Jasmine entered the mansion, for a moment she thought it was Victoria only, however, when the girl didn't even bother to talk to her and disrespected everyone, she knew that this girl can't be Victoria.

Even today, her behaviour was so rude.

Sighing loudly, she roamed her hand at the photo frame of Victoria before smiling sadly.

If only one of her wish could come true then she would ask Victoria to come back.

Everyone blames her for thinking too much into things and always trying to book up Alex, but she was doing all of this because the kingdom needs a queen as she has been hearing many rumours going around about the king being mateless. A king who is mateless for this long is considered a weak king, and that was the last thing she wanted for her son.

"Why did you leave us, my daughter? If I could, I would happily trade my life for you." Rosaline said loudly, unknown to her, Victoria who had tried to enter her mind, heard her words crystal clear.

Her eyes watering at what she heard.

Maybe she had taken Rosaline's good intentions towards the kingdom as hatred towards her.

Sighing loudly, she looked at Alex, who was talking on the phone to someone about some vampire attacks in the vicinity of a pack that was a few hundred kilometres away from here.

'I just hope that everything gets okay as soon as possible.' she thought before hugging Alexander, who looked at her with a confused gaze while talking on the phone but hugged her nonetheless.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 123 - Book-2 -38 Not One Or Two Mates, She Has Three Mates!!

Chapter-38 Not one or two mates, she has three mates.

In the fire ring of the Blood redwood forests, Azrael sat in the middle of an opening to perform her spell that she had been trying to perform away from all the witches. The spell she was performing was one of the hardest and scared spells that were to be performed alone without the disturbance from anything. If she as much as gets a little bit distracted for a few seconds, then the spell would fire back at her and might even threaten her life.

And what place can be better than the place that was banned for witches to perform their spell?

It was true. The sacred redwood forests were banned for witches to perform any spell because they were called the forests of the gods of the species, and thus, no creature was allowed to enter here unless a solid reason is there.

She was breaking a law by performing this spell here, but for the happiness of her granddaughter, she knew that she needed to perform this spell. She needs to know about Victoria's second mate that might hinder her life more. If possible, she would try to tell her second mate to get away from her, or would at least try her best to stop them from meeting once she knows who the second mate is.

Slicing her wrist, she let her blood drip into the fire before she chanted the spells. The deeper she was going into the spell, the more blood was it demanding, and it was clear that this second mate that she is trying to find was no easy person.

Closing her eyes, she felt her body draining as the blood in the fire dried immediately, asking for more blood from her.

However, before she could add more blood to the fire, she felt her body being pulled into another dimension, which clearly meant that someone was calling to her, someone who knew she was performing the spell for him.

That Victoria's second mate was calling to her.

Now it was clear to her that he was a witch, and for him to pull her like this, he was a strong witch. Probably stronger than her.

"Azrael, what a pleasant surprise!" Azrael heard as soon as she entered the den that she had been finding for so long.

The one for which she had been performing the spell for the last 12 hours.

Turning around, she looked at the person sitting at the end of the den with his head low, the darkness of the ice cave completely hiding his face.

His face might be hidden, but how can she forget the voice. The voice that haunted her dreams. The voice that had challenged her once. The witch-king of the dark world.

"Neptune?" She asked.

"The one and only." Daniel Neptune said before standing and showing his glowing face to her.

"How could-" Azrael started, but thinking that she might be just thinking too much into things, she stopped before changing her words.

"Why did you call me here?"

"Pretending that we don't know anything, are we? Why do you think I've called you here, old lady? Don't you know that?" He asked with a proud smirk on his face, his face contorting into a cold mocking smile.

"You...you are the second mate of Victoria?" Azrael asked, her legs shaking as she fell to the ground in shock.

"Aww... Looks like your old bones are not able to support your body anymore. Should I put a strength spell on you?" Daniel laughed coldly, his eyes blazing a fire that Azrael knew meant nothing but trouble.

"Why? You must have done something for it to happen like that. Why are you intending on disturbing and spoiling her life?" Azrael asked, ignoring his last question.

"Azrael, this was decided 600 years ago when I was left mateless. I am spoiling her life? Are you sure?"

You only think about her because she is the heroine stuck between soo many men, right? But have you ever thought about the feelings of the men surrounding her?

And no, I am not talking about Victoria. She is just a kid. I am talking about Carla, let's not even talk about Jasmine, whom you guys had prisoned for so long.." Daniel said before punching the ice wall around him.

"600 years ago, what was my fault? My fault was that I fell in love with a wolf. A strong wolf called Carla. Right? I could've gotten away with it if I have found my mate, but what happened? I never found my mate, Jasmine. Why? Because she was locked in the prison of the witch world. The essence of Madeline, right? Do you think I won't be able to figure that she is the witch essence of Madeline who tried to destroy the world thousand years ago?"

The wolf, who was supposed to bear me my mate, didn't even bother with the fact before taking her life." Daniel Neptune paused before smiling mockingly.

"Let's not talk about me. What happened to Ashton? The vampire king who also fell in love with Carla? He became so mad for the love of her that he thought killing himself was a better option than watching her become someone other. And all of that happened when Damien was not even her mate. All of that because she fell in love with Damien and still is.

Do you think we didn't figure that Carla was the wolf essence of Madeline? Hahaha....but you made it all easy." He continued before walking closer to Azrael where she was sitting with a shocked expression on her face.

"We all will get our love this time. Be it Jasmine, Victoria, or Carla. We all are going to get our love back." Daniel said with a mocking laugh.

"You can't do this to her! She is not Madeline! It is Victoria we are talking about! It's not her fault that she is born a hybrid." Azrael shouted, her falling hot tears, creating a small fire on the ice slab.

"Of course, it isn't her fault. It's just that history is repeating itself. I know that she is not Madeline, who killed her mate with her bare hands so that she could rule the world alone. She is victoria. But don't worry, unlike Madeline who was a greedy human with enormous powers, Victoria is just a soft-hearted girl with a little bit of sarcasm. She will be able to handle all of us, and let's see who she chooses in the end." Daniel Neptune said.

"Please leave her alone, Neptune. Can't you see that she is just a weak human?" Azrael said, wanting to make him agree to her anyhow.

"She is not weak, Azrael. She is stronger, much stronger than you give her the credit for. Don't worry, Azrael. We won't put soo much pressure on her. Just enough that she'll be able to handle it. You are worrying about me here, what will you do with her third mate, who hasn't even made his presence known. What will you do when he will come?" Neptune said before bending closer to her.

"Don't worry. You'll meet him soon. He has already started planning for her. Regarding me annoying her and entering her life forcefully, don't worry, old lady. She'll be the one calling for me. Do you think a person who is born to satisfy three kings will remain happy with just one mate?" Daniel laughed pleasantly this time.

"I don't know what is going through your head. But from what I can see, she will be killed even before you all get to her. Your story will just end like how Carla's did. She died in the sorrow of her love, but this time you all will feel the sorrow of her.

Christopher is going to get her, and he is hellbent on killing this hybrid Victoria after what happened with Madeline." Azrael laughed coldly.

"She won't die. I know of it. You won't let it happen because of your guilty conscience. I don't think you need me to tell you, who is the person responsible for such fate of Victoria." Daniel laughed before his turquoise eyes blazed blue, and she was thrown back in the redwoods forest.

He was right. How can she forget about her sins? How can she forget about who was the reason for Victoria's sufferings till now?

But one thing was clear to her now. And that was, though Victoria was the proven hybrid descendent of Madeline, she won't die the death of Madeline. Why? Because, unlike Madeline, Victoria will never be able to kill her mate or mates in her case.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 124 - Book-2 -39 Daniel Neptune Meets Victoria For The First Time.

"Sweetheart, Can you wait here for a minute? I need to attend this video call urgently. I'll be quick." Alexander said before pecking her lips softly.

"Mm... Sure." Victoria smiled, looking at her man that was looking as dashing as ever in his working mode.

With his sleeves rolled up to his elbows, and two buttons undone, that were showing a bit of his white chest, he looked like a model out of the magazine, ready to shoot, making her feel a bit edgy as her heart was filled with a weird giddiness.

Supporting her face on her palm, she looked a lot at Alexander as he talked to some Alphas over the video call. His knitted brows and his fingers pinching the bridge of his nose were making him more handsome than he already was.

"I understand that don't worry, I'll look into this matter right away. No, you don't need to fear it. If things turn tragic we will send the army from the royal palace." Alexander said in a serious tone, his gaze fixated on the screen, however, his squinted brows indicated he was troubled by something.

Victoria, on the other hand, looked at him with her bright hazel eyes, feeling shy for no particular reason. This wasn't the first time she was looking at him like this, then why was she feeling so shy today was beyond her understanding.

'Geez! Can you get a little less mushy? You are acting like a fangirl for god's sake! You make me cringe.' She heard Jasmine gush in her mind, making Victoria roll her eyes at her.

'What are you cringing for? He is my love. There is nothing wrong in getting mushy for him.' Victoria reasoned before she went back to staring at her love.

Looking at his serious face and chiseled jaw, she was feeling a strange sensation rising inside her. Something wild and frustrating that she has never felt before. The more she was looking at Alexander, the more the feeling was intensifying. She felt like, she wanted to rip that shirt out from his body and roam her nails on that white sturdy chest.

His hands and flexing biceps that looked like they were about to rip the shirt was making her uncomfortable as all she wanted right now was his strong calloused hands to roam her body and pleasure her.

'Woah! Calm down, girl.' Jasmine commented again.

By now, Victoria was at least clear about what she was feeling for him. She was feeling aroused by looking at him, and knowing that it was no good when they were amidst so many problems, she sighed and stood to leave the place.

Walking towards the garden, she looked at the red roses that had white ice on them, making them appear more beautiful than they already were and she couldn't help but smile at the beautiful site.

Walking some steps, she paused in between as if it was then that she noticed something wrong with the situation.

'Wait, white ice?' She thought, however, before she could even ponder more about it, her body felt numb, and she fell beside the roses. Feeling a strange kind of halo surrounding her, she looked around herself with dazed eyes as she felt being submerged into a strange turquoise air that was making her a bit dizzy. Giggling at the air, she looked at the strange green colour clouds that were appearing near her.

Was this some kind of dream?

Gazing up, as she felt the scent of roses wafting her senses and covering her, she tried to stand, feeling confused as to why she was suddenly feeling so powerless.

As she tried to stand, taking the support of the bench, something caught her eyes, or should she say, someone, caught her eyes.

There standing at the end of the rose garden was a man. A man dressed neatly in a pair of blue ripped pants and a white t-shirt that suited him well. If anything, it was after a long time she found a man handsome.

The man was extremely good-looking with his turquoise eyes that felt like boring into hers.

"Hello?" She asked, unsure if the man was true or just her illusion.

Waiting for a while when she didn't receive a response, she shook her head before concentrating on standing again.

"Hello, meine Geliebte." She suddenly heard the man say, making her jump in her place.

What did the man say just now? She thought confused before she took a few steps forward.

Since she had Jasmine, Carla, and Alexander, who was not too far from her, she was confident that nothing would happen to her, and thus, she decided it was better to check who it was to see if he wasn't a new enemy.

His handsome face was too good to be true, and honestly, this was the first time she was feeling that a man was handsome after she has met Alexander, which unnerved her more.

"Who are you?" Victoria asked as she looked at the man whose face she was finally able to see. And to say he was breathtaking would be an understatement, he looked like a Greek god. A cold Greek god.

"Who am I, is not of importance, Meine Geliebte. Your question should be, why am I here." He said, making Victoria confused.

'er ist meine Liebe.' She heard Jasmine say to her, but the foreign language was a little bit hard for her to understand.

Ignoring her inner voice at the moment, she looked at the man closely to check if she has seen the person ever before.

'Nope. I don't think I've seen this handsome species before.' Victoria thought, mentally slapping herself for thinking like this.

"Why are you here?" She asked after taking a deep breath.

"I am here to train you, meine Geliebte." He said with a soft smile on his face.

"Train me?"

"Yes. To train you to become better and fight your grandfather Christopher elegantly. You have powers, but it'll be of no use if you can't use them. You are like a warrior with loaded ammunition but zero knowledge on how to use it."

"Hey, you are insulting me now," Victoria said before pouting, feeling a strange sense of calm and familiarity with him.

"I am not insulting you, meine Geliebte, I am just telling you the facts. I want to train you in your powers, so that you can take your stand in front of your grandfather. Would you like to take my help?" He asked before pausing.

"My bad, you must be confused about who I am, right? I am called Daniel Neptune. I am the king of the dark witches. You can call me Neptune. We don't want you to confuse me with that brother of yours now, do we?" He said, and she didn't know why, but the more she talked to him, the more enchanted she felt.

"Neptune." She said, feeling a strange kind of sensation in her body as the name rolled out of her mouth. It felt like the name was a kind of a sacred spell in itself that felt like a drug.

"You'll eventually know about me when the right time comes. Till then, you are not allowed to tell anybody about me. Okay? You want to defeat your grandfather and live happily with your mate, right?" Neptune asked, making Victoria nod her head.

"Good. Then I'll come tomorrow again. Till then, don't think much about me, meine Geliebte." Neptune said before he bent and leaned towards her.

"Tell Jasmine, ich liebe dich." He whispered into her ears before placing a feather-like kiss on the corner of her cheeks, making her eyes go wide, however, before she could even refute and say something, the man disappeared, and all the halo she was feeling disappeared along with him.

"You know, I regret doing work with you around me." She heard Alexander's voice, making her jump in her place.

"What do you mean?" She couldn't help but ask, her mind still focused on that beautiful man.

"Did you thought I didn't notice the way you were looking at me? That predatory look in your eyes that you were throwing my way was so tempting that I couldn't even focus on the meeting. I could practically smell your arousal, Victoria" He groaned before nuzzling his face in the crook of her neck and placing a small kiss on her jawline, making her blush at his last words.

"I am sorry, I-" Victoria started but was cut off by Alexander placing his lips on top of hers.

"It's not your fault, sweetheart. The blood moon is coming near, and that's why you are feeling so attracted towards me. Though I will take it as my handsome face doing that job, however, it's the truth too." Alexander said.

"What about it?" Victoria asked confused.

"Have you forgotten about it? Blood moon, the day I'll be able to mark you and make you mine completely. The day that will complete our second step to mating." Alexander smiled happily.

"But, I am not your mate anymore. Will that work? The third step I mean." Victoria asked, and Alexander, who had been smiling in excitement, paused immediately.

It was something that he hadn't thought about.

She was not his mate anymore, then does that mean all the earlier steps went null?

"You are right. Since you are not my mate anymore, it won't work. And I'll have to start the process all over again. Since I have already declared about you being my mate, how about we start with the second step?" Alexander asked cunningly, making Victoria blush scarlet red when she remembered the night of two years ago when they had made love to each other for the first and last time.

"Shut up! Okay? Let's go and meet Daniel now." Victoria said, her mind going back to the guy called Daniel Neptune, who she met today only, but has successfully invaded her mind space.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 125 - Book-2 -40

Book-2 Chapter-40 Calling out Emerald

In the heavenly place where gods and goddesses of the bright world lived, three gods were having an intense conversation when they saw what was happening on the Earth. what was happening with Victoria and around her to be particular.

To them, it was funny of course, for they were the ones who had planned all of this from the very beginning.

"What are you smiling at, Moon goddess?" The goddess of witches, Ava, asked the moon goddess, who was the goddess of werewolves.

"I am smiling at how the fate of this girl Victoria is turning into. It was indeed a rule made by me that a mate is someone who is the fated partner of the other half and they are bound to live happily ever after, and those who fail to accept their mate will live in the sorrow of their mate, but I would've never known that I will be regretting my decision someday." Moon goddess spoke, a mild frown etched on her face.

"So are you regretting your decision to create mates now?" Alaric, the god of vampires asked with a meaningful smile on his face. He was always against the idea anyways. He always believed in love and that such a pure thing called love should not be forced and bound under a natural spell called mate.

"Not exactly. However, I never expected this girl to have such a twisted fate. We had indeed created her as just a test case of whether a hybrid will be able to live in this world and we can allow mating in crossbreeds or not, but I had never thought that it will result in such a twisted destiny. Are we somehow repeating history?" Moon goddess paused before she roamed her band over a crystal ball that showed Victoria hugging Alexander in the rose garden.

"At the beginning, I thought it was fun to watch how they were entangling with each other and fighting their problems, but now I don't think I have the heart to watch further. She has already suffered so much because of the greed of Patrick, and now she will be suffering again with her three mates and Christopher. She is a good soul, and I don't want her to turn into another Madeline." Moon goddess said thoughtfully.

"Moon goddess, I think age is getting to you. If you've forgotten, then it was you who had poured all the powers in that one girl through Azrael." God Alaric paused before he continued,

"If you are feeling so bad about her, then why don't you pull out her powers and leave her as a human alone? Neptune will get Jasmine, Ashton will get Carla, and Alexander and Damien will get Victoria. No matter how hard they try, but Damien is not Carla's mate, and he will never get her as a mate." God Alaric suggested, and goddess Ava looked at Moon goddess for any reaction.

"That's where you are mistaken, God Alaric. There is one more part of Victoria that is yet to be shown to the world. Jasmine is Daniel Neptune's mate, Carla is Damien's mate, Victoria loves Alexander, but there is one more essence left within her. Have you forgotten Emerald? The vampire essence of Madeline?" Moon goddess said, making Alaric and Ava widen their eyes.

Just how much twisted has she made the life of this simple human girl? If they didn't know about her nature, they would've thought that she was playing games with Victoria.

"It is easy to put different souls and power into a body when the child is just a zygote, but to call them out? You can't call them out even when it is a one-year-old child, let alone from a body of a 21 years old girl. I can't do that." She said, making Ava look at her with scrutinizing eyes.

"You are hiding something more, aren't you? There is indeed a way to do that, but you are unwilling to do it. Right?" Ava asked, probing the moon goddess to say more.

"There is indeed a way. And that way is the prophecy. I can see it happening. The sacrifice of three souls. I am not sure what it actually is because it was created by my great father, but whatever it is, even as gods we can't interrupt in it." Moon goddess said with a loud sigh.

"Honestly, I think it's fun. Let's see if the hybrid can survive this or not." God Alaric smiled.

"She will be. If you've forgotten, then her second mate is Daniel Neptune. The witch-king of the dark witches who have access to even the dark books prohibited from the white world witches. He will try and do anything in his power to get his mate and only his mate alone.

So either everyone will be getting their own mates, or only Jasmine will be left alive. Last time, 600 years ago, he was weak because he was young, but now he is a king. He won't leave her this time." Ava said, and everyone looked at her with an interesting look.

Looks like the game is taking a nice turn.

Meanwhile, in the pearly Canines town, Victoria knocked on Daniel's door with a soft smile plastered on her face.

She waited for some time to let him open the door, however when he didn't, she moved towards the window of the house.

"Mmmm...ahhh...faster...faster, Dan." She heard a female voice from inside the house, and she couldn't help but turn red as she looked at Alexander, who had a similar expression on his face.

Placing his hands over her ears, he guided her away from Daniel's house to the nearby cafe.

"Well, that was weird," Alexander said, breaking off the awkward silence.

"Umm..yeah..it was. I never thought that.." Victoria trailed off, confused as to what to say.

This was the first time, she has heard a female close to Daniel, and she didn't know why, but she was having a bad feeling about it. But it could be just an illusion since things aren't exactly going how she has planned.

"What are you thinking so much for, sweetheart? You should be happy that he is with someone. All you should think about right now is how to arrange our marriage, and before that, where would you like to get marked?" Alexander said, making her blush hard as she hugged him embarrassed.

As they sat close to each other, it wasn't long before Daniel entered the cafe with a blonde girl tagging behind him.

"Alex, Jasmine." He said with a vibrant smile on his face before nodding at both of them.

Nodding at Daniel, as her eyes were fixated on the girl standing behind Daniel, Victoria looked at Alexander, who shrugged his shoulders in response. She didn't know why but she felt like, the girl was kind of glaring at her?

"Jasmine, uh...I want you to meet someone. This is...this is my mate, Vanessa." Daniel said, and Victoria shot up from her seat, with her eyes as wide as soccer.

"What do you mean by mate?" Victoria asked.

"Mate as in lover, Jasmine. By now, you should already be clear with what a mate is." Daniel chuckled.

"Hi, Jasmine, I've heard a lot about you," Vanessa said, her eyes darkening as she extended her hand for Victoria to shake.

Extending her hand, Victoria was about to shake her hand when Vanessa lost her balance and fell on the chair, her hand accidentally scratching across the table, and a little blood oozed out of her wound.

"Hey, are you okay?" Daniel asked hurriedly, and even Alexander helped Vanessa up, which annoyed Victoria.

She was annoyed, not because everyone was helping Vanessa, but because she didn't know why but her eyes were fixated on the little wound Vanessa had. It felt like something was calling out to her, and she had a sudden urge to smell and lick that wound.

It was healing quickly, but the blood droplets on the ground and the side of the table were something she was not able to ignore.

"I am sorry about this. I shouldn't be clumsy like this in front of the queen." Vanessa said, looking directly at Victoria, who for some reason felt that she had a much deeper meaning behind her words.

"I am not the queen, well, not yet. And you don't need to be so formal. You are my brother's mate. Though I've forgotten about Victoria, it doesn't mean I don't consider him as a brother." Victoria said, talking like Jasmine should.

"I am not talking about Victoria, Jasmine." Vanessa leaned towards Victoria in a motion of hugging her and whispered in her ears.

"I am talking about Emerald, the Queen of vampires. In nome di Dio Alaric, Ordino a Emerald di svegliarsi (In the name of god Alaric, I order emerald to wake up.)" She whispered before she took out a small pouch from her back pocket and dropped it on the ground, resulting in the powder pouring over, and an exotic smell wafted through Victoria's nose, making her teeth hurt.

Feeling a sudden pain shot in her body, she pushed Vanessa away from her, looking at her with confusion and anger.

"Jasmine, What the-" Daniel started but stopped when he looked at Jasmine. "Jasmine... Your eyes..." Daniel suddenly said as he stumbled backward.

Hearing his words, Alexander, who was busy on his phone because of a message about some vampires entering Pearly Canines, looked up, his eyes shooting when he saw it for himself.

Victoria's eyes were turning red?

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter-41 Her Vampire mate

"Lord, we have reached the outskirts of the Pearly Canines. What are your next orders? Do we enter or wait for king Alexander to come here and greet us?" A substitute who was driving the car asked his lord, who was sitting in the back seat with his shades on.

"We go. I can feel that Vanessa has done her work. She is awakened." The Lord said with a smirk on his face.

"As you say, lord." The driver said before he started driving the car inside the pearly Canines.

Since Pearly Canines was a place for royal werewolves, almost everyone could smell the people from new species entering the Kingdom grounds.

"Hey, aren't they vampires?"

"Yes, they are. I can smell them."

"What are they doing here?"

"I don't know either. My husband works in the palace, but no mention of vampires coming here was heard."

"Tell all the kids to go inside the house."

"I wonder if they are here to create some trouble."

"I think we should tell our king Alexander about it."

The whisperings started as the cars started to pass them one by one.

"They are funny." The Lord commented, smiling at the people, whose hushed whispers he was clearly able to hear because of his vampire hearing before closing his eyes.

In the guest chambers of the royal palace, Victoria woke up, feeling her whole mouth hurting and her body aching.

She felt like she has drunk a few tanks of liquor and now has a killing hangover. It was almost the same feeling one would get after being run down by a heavy truck.

"Mmm..." She groaned when she found herself unable to open her eyes.

"You are awake, il Mio Amore (my love)." She heard a man's voice, and even though she was not being able to open her eyes, it felt like a part within her was reacting to this voice.

It felt like recognition, but no matter how much she tried to remember the source of the voice, she couldn't pinpoint who it was.

After what felt like an eternity but we're only a few seconds, she finally forced her eyes open after struggling for so long.

Blinking her eyes to correct her blurry vision, she looked at the man standing in front of her. Or should she say two men in front of her?

"Alexander." She said, and Alexander immediately went to her side and scooped her in his arms.

"I am here, don't worry. How are you feeling now, sweetheart?" He asked, his voice filled with love, however, from his tense shoulders, Victoria knew something wasn't right.

"What happened? What happened to me, Alexander? I feel like... like a bulldozer ran over me" She said, and as much as Alexander wanted to stay and explain it to her, he knew, he won't be able to explain such a drastic thing to her without breaking something and scaring her more than she already was.

Ashton, who was standing in the corner of the room and watching their sweet interaction, chuckled at her funny description of awakening and transformation. This was first even for him, and he couldn't help but find her funny.

"He will explain that to you, sweetheart," Alexander said before he kissed her temple and exited the room with a frown on his face.

If anything, he wanted to kill someone right now and didn't know how to control his anger anymore.

Shifting to his wolf hunter to ease his building tensions, he ran out of the house to run and calm his nerves because he was assured that being Victoria's vampire mate, Ashton won't hurt her.

An hour ago~~

"Daniel, you stay with your mate. I will be bringing her back to the mansion. Maybe her powers are reacting again." Alexander said to Daniel, who nodded stiffly and let Alexander take Victoria out from the cafe towards the mansion.

As he was rushing towards the palace, he felt a nudge to his mind link and couldn't help but open it hurriedly since he knew that it must be something important for someone to nudge him.

"Alpha king, some vampires have entered the kingdom. They look from the Royal kingdom. They are driving towards the palace." Sean said, and Alexander immediately halted in his steps.

"Mmmm.." Victoria groaned, making him shift his gaze back to her.

Right now taking her to the royal chamber was more important. He can deal with the vampires later. If the royals are coming in a few numbers towards the palace, then either they are here to say something, negotiate or maybe propose.

Reaching inside the royal chambers, he placed Victoria on the bed before calling the doctor and asking her to tend to her.

"What happened to her?" He asked impatiently.

"I...I am sorry Alpha. I am not sure what has happened to her." The doctor said, making him groan in frustration.

"I am giving you ten minutes-" before he could complete his sentence, he was interrupted by Theodore knocking on the door.

"Dad, not right now. Something happened to Victoria and-" he started but was cut off by Theodore.

"Lord of vampires, Ashton is here. It's regarding Victoria." Theodore said before leaving, and as reluctant as he was to leave her alone, Alexander nodded at the doctor to continue her check-up before he followed his father.

From Sean's message earlier, he knew that the royals were coming, but he didn't know that they were here for Victoria. Now, what would a vampire king want from Victoria?

Reaching the hallways, Alexander looked at Ashton, his wolf getting a bit edgy.

"I hope we can make this quick. My mate is-" Alexander started but was cut off by Ashton, who stood and smiled at him.

"Can you take me to her? I would like to meet her." Ashton said with a smirk on his face.

"How dare you even ask that? No, of course not. You cannot meet my mate. She is not in the right condition. Besides, I would never trust a leech-like you near her after what troubles you've been creating in the werewolf species." Alexander said nonchalantly, his tone dead serious.

"I am not talking about meeting your love, Victoria, King Alexander. I am talking about meeting my mate, Emerald. As far as I know, she has been awakened." Ashton said with a calm face, not at all taking his words to heart.

"She is not emerald. She is Victoria." Alexander specified before he turned around, wanting to check up on his love and see if the doctor found out something.

"You are highly mistaken, alpha king. I am sure you wouldn't have missed the red eyes and her extended fangs today, right?" Ashton said, stopping Alexander dead in his tracks.

"Whether you accept it or not. But Victoria has my mate Emerald within her, just like Jasmine and Carla. Emerald is my mate. And if you haven't been notified, then let me tell you, I am not her only mate. There is this mate of Jasmine too, who is a powerful witch." Ashton said, and as much as Alexander wanted to deny the fact, he turned around, looking at Ashton horrified.

"How can this be possible? How can a single soul has soo many mates?" Alexander asked confused.

"This is something, we all are confused about. It's not a technical thing that we can call a glitch. I am sure that Jasmine's mate, who is a strong witch will try to find the solution soon because even I won't want to share my mate with anyone." Ashton said, making Alexander nod, who somehow felt like from the moment Victoria has come back, rather than becoming his, she has only been drifting away slowly.

And the mere thought of her living him was like an arrow in his chest.

"However, till this matter is solved, Victoria, or Jasmine, or Emerald, or Carla, I hope we can maintain some distance from them because though the body belongs to Victoria, which is your love, not all of her belongs to you," Ashton said as he followed Alexander to where Victoria was lying unconscious in pain, making him clench his fists.

Present time ~~~~

"Who are you? And why do I feel a connection towards you?" Victoria asked, feeling a bit edgy now that Alexander has left her alone. And from his angry face, she was sure that it was something bad.

"Well, I am Ashton, Emerald. The lord of the vampires, and as to why you feel such a deep connection to me is because I am your mate." Ashton said, and just like that, her world shook once again.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 127 - Book-2 -42 The Real History Of Hybrid

Chapter-42

"Nelson, let's go today. I think it's the right time to meet our daughter. She needs us, Nelson. Besides, if father wanted to attack her, he would've already done when the throne cracked.

However, he has not attacked her till now, which only one thing that he is waiting for some big day for it to happen. And I think I know what day he is thinking about.

Victoria will turn 22 in the coming month. Maybe he will try to kill her on that day. We still have 20 days before that happens. Let's go and meet her today. Okay?" Martha asked Nelson, who nodded at his wife.

Meanwhile, in the royal chamber of Alexander's mansion, Victoria sat quietly looking at Ashton as if he was some kind of alien. She has been sitting in the same position with the same expression on her face since Ashton told her that he was her third mate.

"Honestly, I don't understand anything. Since I have turned 18, these weird things keep happening to me that even don't make sense to me anymore." Victoria said before a streak of tear fell from her eyes.

"First, I was a telepathic girl, and no one loved me. They would run away from me like I was some kind of monster. Then my adoptive parents died, and I came to know that my biological parents were alive and had deliberately sent me off.

When I came here, I came to know I wasn't only telepathic, but I had witch powers too. Then, I met Alexander, and slowly I came to know that I wasn't only a witch, I was a werewolf too, and not just any wolf, a legendary wolf, and the only hybrid in the world that even her grandfather wants to kill. Then came a greedy witch into the picture, who wanted to trade me off and performed a spell on me. In that sacrifice spell, to save my mate from it, I took the spell, and lost my child.

After that, my witch powers took over me and controlled me for two years.

Then I came here, and I came to know that my mate was alive, but the mate bond has been broken, and we are still in the mess of my grandfather wanting to kill me.

Now today, you sent a girl who awakened the vampire side of mine called Emerald. Now I am a vampire too." Victoria paused to wipe her tears before speaking again.

"Just fuckin' wow! Is this some kind of joke or what? I have not even smiled that much in my life compared to the tears I have shed. It feels like someone is playing a sick joke with me and testing different things with me. The witch didn't do much good, let's add the werewolf. Oh no.. it is getting boring, let's add the vampire too. And now let's make her suffer among three men who want her and are her mate." Victoria shouted, venting out all her anger, frustration, irritation, and humiliation.

Alexander, who was back from his run and was about to open the gate, paused in his actions when he heard Victoria's words.

Taking a deep breath, he leaned on the sidewall, feeling guilty of his actions earlier.

He was angry at Victoria, angry at his fate, and more than that he was angry at her hybrid self.

But now that he heard her words of frustration, he couldn't help but feel bad about it.

Everyone was acting selfishly along with her. Everyone wants their mate back, wants to be loved, wants to be with her, but nobody thinks about what she must be feeling. A girl who was living a normal life all these years is suddenly asked to entangle with the supernatural species, and not that alone, she is also expected to love three men at once.

She didn't choose to be a hybrid, neither did she chose to have soo many mates, yet she was the one whose feelings were played the most.

"I understand your frustration, Victoria. Honestly, from what I and your other mate have studied about you and your powers, you are not the first hybrid in this world." Ashton said before walking towards her.

Victoria, who saw him coming towards her, shifted back involuntarily, making him sigh.

"I know that you won't accept me as your mate. Not until Emerald is in full control. But you can at least take me as your friend? If I wanted to hurt you, then I would've done it long ago and called my Emerald out. But I want to make it work for all of us. So rather than being afraid of me, can you trust me a little?" Ashton asked, making Victoria squint her brows before she nodded slightly. The fear, still evident in her eyes.

With a soft smile plastered on his face, he scooted closer to Victoria before pulling her in a hug, his smile becoming wider.

"Thank you for trusting me." He said before continuing his story again,

"As I was saying, you were not the first hybrid. Around 1500 years ago, one more hybrid was created accidentally. She was a result of the negligence of gods. She was called Madeline. To say she was a heavenly beauty on earth would be an understatement, she was a god of beauty herself. Gifted with the powers of a witch, vampire, and Werewolf, she was the only hybrid of that time.

At that time because of some issues in the species, a war was going to happen. However, because of her birth, everything stopped. With her innocent face, everyone thought that she brought peace to the world.

But only those who truly knew her understood how wrong everyone was." Ashton said, making Victoria look up from his chest, not understanding why he was telling her this mystical story.

"She was a devil. Worse than the species of the dark world. Even though she was the most powered woman in the world, she was more greedy. Greedy and hungry for more power. She wanted to surpass gods and rule over both bright and dark world species. And for that, she killed Sebastian, the only person who was supposed to love her and bring the good out of her, Sebastian, her mate.

When the only person that could've brought the love from her died, all the gods became apprehensive. They started finding ways to kill this Madeline.

And Madeline, on the other hand, started wiping the human race from the world. My grandfather told me, it was truly a mess.

After searching for a while, the gods finally came with a solution of killing her. And that was segregation. Segregating the powers out of her body forcefully would lead her to become either human or her death. Do you know what those powers were called?" Ashton asked, and Victoria, who was concentrating on the story widened her eyes at the realization.

"Were those, Jasmine, Carla, and Emerald?" She asked stunned.

"Yes. The gods of all the powers, Moon Goddess, Ariana, who was the goddess of the witch at that time, and Shane, who was the god of vampires, appeared and called out their respective species powers out from her.

The result was, all the powers when pulled out were locked in the different dungeons so that they could forget Madeline and forget about her evil ways. Madeline, who was barred from all her powers, didn't die because of the effects of the spell, however, she was so hungry for power that she thought living without her powers was meaningless, and thus, she killed herself.

Carla was freed 600 years ago because of her patient and calm behavior. When you were born through the mistake again, the powers Jasmine and Emerald were released, but no one had thought that the gods will play that nasty game again, and all the powers will conjoin inside you." Ashton completed, and Alexander, who was sitting out of the room and was also hearing his explanation, took a deep breath before standing again.

"So, does that make me Madeline? Will I be the cause of the death of my loved ones?" Victoria asked as fear crept inside her heart.

"No, mi amore, you can't hurt a fly even if you want, let alone your loved ones. Though, I can't guarantee the same about your powers. Now, I think you should take a rest so that you'll be ready for the training. Neptune has talked to you about it, hadn't he?" Ashton asked, making her nod her head.

"Good. Now, rest. The information is too much, and you and your powers, who will gain recognition of their past, need time to get over this. Sleep." Ashton said before laying her in the bed and then bending to kiss her forehead.

Exiting the room after looking at Victoria one last time, Ashton smirked when he saw Alexander standing there.

"You could've come inside you know. It's bad to eavesdrop." Ashton commented, making Alexander roll his eyes as he followed him back in the hall.

"So about the thing, you said that you will help her, what is it about? And is it true that gods are playing a nasty game as you've said?" Alexander asked, his king's attitude taking place since he was talking to another king.

"Or why would they try to create a hybrid with four different personalities? If a person has two powers, then also it is a hybrid. I am sure they were tired and wanted some fun in their life.

Regarding this mate thing, I think we all need to help each other." Ashton said, making Alexander nod.

He would do everything to get his love. She has done and suffered enough. Now it was time for her to stay back and watch how they fight the gods for her.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter-43

It has been a few hours since Alexander and Ashton left her alone, and all Victoria could think about was how fucked up her life has become. The constant fear of what will happen next or what problems will appear in her life was clawing her?

They assured her that they will find a way for them to get their mates back and for her to live happily ever after, but could she trust them on this?

Standing in front of the large mirror, she looked at her reflection, smiling ironically at how beautiful she was.

A beauty that could not be defined in words.

She was not this beautiful yesterday when she had checked herself in the full-length mirror after taking a bath, but she was beautiful now. The only reason she could find for her enhanced beauty was the presence of Emerald that she was yet to meet.

"Emerald, welcome to the twisted world of Victoria," Victoria said, roaming her fingers on the mirror at her reflection.

Once she said those words, it wasn't long before she felt her fangs elongating. Touching her fangs, dazed, she smiled when the sharp thing cut her finger, and a little blood oozed out from her finger before it was healed again.

"It's a pleasure to be in the body of a Hybrid again." She heard a velvety soft voice in her mind, and from the strangeness of the voice, she knew it was emerald talking to her.

Smiling at her reflection as if nodding at Emerald, she turned around and sat on the bed, gazing at the ceiling expressionlessly.

Last time she thought that her death would solve all the problems, but now that she has heard the full story from Ashton, she knew that killing herself was not even close to a solution.

She will die, the powers will be segregated again, but in the future, the same thing will happen again.

She has already suffered so much in her life that she didn't want anyone else to suffer like this, and thus, she knew that she needs to find a permanent solution to this problem.

Closing her eyes, she laid back in the bed, her head swirling around the possibilities that she could use to solve this matter for once and all.

As her mind started to drift far away in the space of her mind, she saw an immensely beautiful lady standing in a white gown. Her back was facing Victoria, but from her posture, she knew that the lady was beautiful.

She was weird.

Not because she was wearing a white gown or because she was very beautiful, but because she has large golden wings.

Was she some kind of angel? Well, that was indeed the last thing she was yet to see.

Honestly, she has seen so many changes in herself that she won't be surprised if someone comes and tells her that she has the essence of an angel too.

Rolling her eyes at her own sarcasm, she looked ahead and walked further in the clouds.

"Hello, who are you?" Victoria asked, feeling a bit edgy when the lady didn't turn around even after she spoke to her.

"Hello?" Victoria asked again, widening her eyes when she suddenly saw her right in front of her eyes.

"Well, hello, Victoria." The lady said, her eyes boring into Victoria's, giving her a creepy vibe.

"How do you-" Victoria started but felt tongue-tied suddenly.

"-Know that you are Victoria? I know everything, girl. I see that after soo many years, these gods finally decided to test these multiple powers again. It was a failure on me, but are they sure it will be a successful thing with you?

You are such a dumb girl, Victoria. God has gifted you with soo many powers. You can practically make your own army and make all the species of the bright world and dark world bow down to you, but rather than doing that, here you are entangled between those mates of yours and this stupid love.

If I were you, I would kill all three of them and become the Queen and Ruler of all the three species." The lady said, more like hissed in her ears.

Kill her mates? Why does she feel like she has heard of this thing before too?

"Ma-Madeline?" Victoria asked, her eyes widening when she saw the white gown of the lady turning black and her feathers turning a dirty shade of dark grey and blue.

"The one and only, sweetheart. You know, they did wrong to me. First, they made me, tested me, and when the war stopped because of me, and I wanted something for myself, they snatched everything from me. Was that fair?

But it's okay. I knew I will be given a chance someday, and this is my chance. I will take over your body and will tell them who's the boss. I am not the innocent Madeline who came in their trap." Madeline laughed, gripping Victoria's neck in a tight hold.

"You are not innocent, Madeline. You deserved to die in the first place."
Victoria said, clawing on Madeline's hands for her to leave her neck.

"What? I deserved to die! You bitch! I will tell you who deserves to die. Your wussy weak soul is not supposed to live in this strong body with soo many powers anyways. Only a strong personality like me should enjoy the powers of soo many species. Let me tell the world how to rule the world." Madeline said before she lifted Victoria in the air and then slammed her on the ground, her hand pressing on Victoria's neck.

Victoria, on the other hand, who felt short of breath, tried to muster all the energy she could and kicked Madeline away from her body before rolling and taking deep breaths.

"You!" Madeline shouted and got back on her body to drain the life out of her, making her gasp for air as her face starts to become pale.

'Victoria!'

'Damn it! Why isn't she waking up!'

'Something is wrong with her.'

'It looks like she is struggling with something.'

'Why is she shaking soo much?'

'Appears a nightmare to me.'

'Victoria wake up!'

'For god's sake, Jasmine! Open your eyes!'

'Emerald, wake up love.'

'Victoria, my child, sorry mom is late. Please wake up and forgive me.'

The last voice caught her attention as she concentrated on getting out of her mind, trying her best to not let Madeline get her way with her.

"Haha... I'll let you go today, but you are warned, Victoria. I'll take your place sooner or later. I'll be waiting for you to close your eyes and sleep again so that I can help you go in a long deep forever sleep." Madeline laughed in mockery.

After what felt like an eternity but was some time, she sat abruptly, gasping for air.

She was so afraid that she didn't see who the person near her was and grabbed his hand before stuffing her face in his chest as she hugged him tightly and sobbed.

Daniel Neptune, who was trying to treat her and wake her, stood there frozen when she hugged him like this. It was like a dream come true for him. This was the first time she was hugging him in all these years, and he couldn't help but feel happy about it.

"Sshhh....it's okay. It was a bad dream." He said, his heart feeling a slight pain when he felt her sobbing.

Alexander and Ashton, on the other hand, who felt jealous of Neptune, and wanted to console her, looked at each other before shaking their heads and sighing. Now was not the time to get jealous.

"Now, tell me what happened?" Neptune said, scooting down to her level and looking in her scared eyes.

Opening her eyes as she gazed at familiar turquoise eyes, she felt her mind going in a strange halo again, her fear lessening now. Maybe it was some kind of spell he was doing for her to calm down, but whatever it was, it was working very efficiently on her.

After taking a few breaths, she calmed when Neptune placed his hand on her cheek.

"I...I saw Madeline. She is here." Victoria paused before continuing, "She tried to kill me and take my place." She finished, hugging Neptune tightly again as she felt sacred at the thought of it only.

Neptune, who wasn't good at this hugging and consoling thing since this was his first time hugging someone, looked at Alexander and Ashton awkwardly, who though was jealous, still wanted to laugh at his awkwardness.

"Here, give her to me," Alexander said before he took the shaking form of Victoria from Neptune's hand and picked her in his arms before placing her softly on his lap, letting her hug him.

After he was sure that Victoria was not that scared, Neptune stood up before smiling,

"I think I found the solution to this problem. And it's called Madeline." Neptune said, making everyone look at him with squinted brows.

Chapter 129 - Book-2 -44 Don't Let Her Sleep

Book-2 Chapter-44

After Victoria finally calmed down with Alexander's constant pestering, Alexander finally heaved a sigh of relief, and Daniel Neptune went out of the room to think about his new idea more properly and see if it was really feasible given Victoria's condition right now.

"Can you look after her while I attend to her parents? Regarding what she said, make sure that she doesn't sleep. You can do that, right?" Alexander said after he laid Victoria back on the bed.

“I’ll be in the hall with everyone. Call me if you need anything or if she starts panicking again.” Alexander said after Ashton nodded his head at him. He wanted to be with Victoria and keep consoling her, however, he also knew that he needs to attend to her parents that have come and meet him for the first time.

Earlier when they were trying to wake Victoria up and she wasn’t waking, Victoria’s mom has appeared out of nowhere and called her, and only then did Victoria came out of her trance state. He was yet to welcome her and thank her for what she did even after knowing she was her mom. From what Chris had told him, Victoria's father has also come, and he is yet to meet him. So he needs to go there and welcome them gracefully despite their current scenario.

“Don’t worry, Alexander. She is my mate too.” Ashton said with an amused look on his face before he went near Victoria and took her hand in his.

Nodding his head at Ashton one last time, Alexander went out of the room, closing the door behind him.

Reaching the hall, he gazed at the couple sitting in the middle of the sofa and couldn’t help but widened his eyes when his eyes landed on Nelson, who sat there with a calm look on his face.

“How is she?” Martha immediately asked when she saw Alexander descending the stairs and coming towards them.

“She is stable now.” alexander said, his eyes shifting to Nelson now and then.

“You can ask what you want to, son,” Nelson said after some time when he noticed his gaze on him.

“Weren’t you also an Alpha king? I can feel it from your vibes.” Alexander asked, feeling confused because he surely remembered that he doesn’t have anyone with the name Nelson in his family ancestral lineage.

“That’s true. I was a former Alpha king and once the ruler of the throne. However, after I fell in love with Martha, I had to give up on the throne so that I could be with her.” Nelson said smilingly, not a trace of sorrow in his voice or his face.

“Can you tell me about it?” He asked, curious for no reason in particular.

“Well, it happened around 800 years ago. I was the Alpha king just like you. When Martha came into our kingdom for the annual species meet that used to be conducted at our time, I fell in love with her, and unexpectedly she was my mate too. For most of the witches, the mating rule doesn’t apply to them. It’s a matter of pure luck for witches to have a mate and actually get to stay with them because most of the witches are not even sure if they have a mate or not for their whole life, and not every witch can perform the infamous tough mate spell that is one of the hardest spells known.” Nelson said, looking at Martha before he continued.

“Long story short, when my father and her father came to know about her inter-species mate relationship, they couldn’t deny the eternal mate bond, however, a condition was put in front of me if I wanted to be with her. That condition was to give up the throne. That time my brother came forward and decided to help me as he took over the throne in my place. However, I wasn’t the only one who sacrificed his kingdom for love. Martha also sacrificed her title of the princess of the witch kingdom, and that’s the reason why Victoria is the princess of the witch kingdom but is also accepted by the King’s throne.” Nelson explained, making Alexander nod and smile at their love for each other.

“That also explains why Victoria is a hybrid. It’s because she has the blood and genes of two most powerful people.” Alexander concluded while looking at them to see if he had guessed right or not.

“This, we can’t say anything about it. If you don’t mind, we would like to meet our daughter. It’s been around twenty-one years since we last saw her. Our appearance in her dream two years ago was just an illusion that I had created for her.” Martha said, making Nelson nod. Excitement to meet their daughter visible on their faces.

“Why have you both come today when you didn’t come to meet her in these twenty-one years?” Daniel Neptune suddenly appeared in the hall and asked.

“Sorry?” Nelson asked, confused as to what he was trying to say.

“What I mean is, you didn’t come to meet her in these twenty-one years because you were afraid that Christopher might find out where Victoria is, so why did you come today?” Aren’t you afraid anymore that he will find out your trail and might come and harm Victoria?” He explained, making Nelson sigh at his question.

“Actually, he already knows that she is alive and is in the werewolf kingdom because of her little naughtiness when she sat on the werewolf king’s throne. When a person of different species sits on the throne of the other species and is accepted, then a large crack is formed on the species throne to which it belongs, and that was exactly what happened in Victoria’s case. This happened for the first time, but Christopher being such an old witch immediately understood what did it meant. The large crack with the werewolf symbol made it all clear to him.” Nelson explained, making Neptune close his eyes in frustration.

How could he miss on such an important incident? He thought before looking towards the room where Victoria was. He agreed with her father on one thing. She was indeed very naive and naught for her own good.

“You guys will go after meeting her, right? I think I have an idea how can we buy some more time.” Daniel said after thinking for a long time.

MY PERSONAL LYCAN KING

Chapter 130 - Book-2 -45 Laila Found Her Mate!

Chapter-45 Laila found her mate.

“Sweetheart, can you tell me what exactly Madeline said to you?” Ashton asked Victoria after some time. Neptune had asked him to do so that they could understand the severity of the condition.

“I... I...” Victoria started, her heart racing only by the thought of Madeline, however, seeing her troubled face like this, Ashton placed his finger on top of her lips, to stop her from saying anything else.

“It’s okay. We will talk about this matter later. Let’s talk about something else for now, okay, my queen?” He asked, making her nod her head before she squinted her brows at what he said.

“I am not your queen.” She said, making Ashton roll his eyes at her headstrong attitude. Well, how many times will he have to make her understand this?

“Of course, you are. You are my queen with Emerald inside you.” He said before pausing.

“Victoria, honestly, we all are trying our best to find a way so that we all can get our mates without harming you, and we won’t have to share our mate with anyone else either. However, in any situation, even hypothetically, if we are not able to accomplish what we are looking for, then what will you do? Will you be able to live your life as a girl for three men?” Ashton asked, already knowing that her answer will be a definite no, given how she loved Alexander so much. However, the words that she uttered next were beyond his expectations, making him raise his eyes in pure shock and happiness.

“Honestly, I am not sure. Can I live with three men? Of course, not. I will never be able to live with all three of you under the same roof. However, as a mate of three men, I do have responsibilities towards everyone. Do you know, when a power of mine is in control, then they can shut off the other three personalities, and the other three personalities won’t even know what the power is doing? For example, in your case, if I let Emerald take over me and she shuts us off, then we won’t even know what is going between you and Emerald.” Victoria said, making Ashton look at her curiously.

“Though this sounds a bit easy, it is as hard as it can be. After the sacrifice spell, when Jasmine took over me to heal me, she didn’t let me come back in control for almost two years, and if I hadn’t seen Alexander, then I don’t think I would have any will to come back either.” Victoria explained.

“However, regarding my answer. Will I accept all of you as my mate? Yes, I would, because you are not my mates, but the mates of the powers and essence that lives inside me. Though I might consider them as just my powers, I know that they once had a presence of their own. So, I will try my best to cope up with this mate thing, even if I would have to give it my all. If I am a mate to one, then I am a mate to all. When I didn’t know of truth, I was reckless, but now I won’t act like this anymore. However, if you ask me that if I will be able to love you and accept you wholeheartedly like how I accept Alexander? Then it’s a clear no because no one will ever be able to take his place in my heart.” Victoria said, however, her answer was clear to Ashton, and he couldn’t feel any luckier to have his mate with a girl as wonderful as Victoria was.

She was ten times better than Madeline, if not a hundred times.

At least now he won’t have to worry about Victoria trying to kill Emerald or Jasmine just because she wants to live with her love Alexander.

“Thank you, Victoria. This is the best support you can provide us, however, I will make sure that we find a solution for sure. We won’t let our love remain unrequited for another 600 years, at least not Daniel Neptune for sure.”

Ashton said, making her chuckle.

Victoria was smiling for the first time since Ashton came and saw her, and Ashton couldn’t help but feel attracted to her, and thus, without thinking much into things, he involuntarily leaned forward and kissed the corner of her lips, catching her off-guard in the action.

“I think you should rest now. You are such an amazing girl, Victoria. At least now I know why Alexander is head over heels for you even when you are not his mate anymore. However, given your bond, it won’t be long when you both will have your mate bond.” Ashton said before ruffling her hair lovingly.

Laila, who wasn’t in the mansion after the talk with Rosaline and didn’t know what was going on with Victoria and others regarding her three mates thing or her parents coming to meet her, knocked on the door, knowing that Victoria was resting in this room before pushing it open, however, when she saw Victoria in arms of other men, she rushed towards them before separating the two.

“What do you think you both are doing?” Laila shouted before she almost pushed Ashton away from Victoria.

Being a vampire king, Ashton was immediately able to sense the discomfort that Victoria started feeling immediately after the girl came into the room, and it didn’t help when she tried to push him away, turning him angrier than he already was. She was disrespecting a king in front of his mate, which was the last thing any Vampire would be able to bear with.

“Emerald, don’t be scared. I am here to protect you from all the kinds of danger, and as long as I am here, no one can touch you or harm you.” Ashton said, confusing Laila, who looked at them with shock and confusion. Why was a man consoling Victoria like this?

There were so many things that she didn't understand about the situation. What had happened in this one week? Why was Victoria, who didn't even like anyone touching her, in the arms of another man when Alexander was just downstairs? And why was Alexander not doing anything about it? How did he even allow this vampire in the room with Victoria alone? Why did he call her Emerald? The questions kept on coming one after another, and she looked at Victoria with a gaze of confusion and animosity.

"Don't look at my mate like that, you dog! You are surely courting death today by imposing harm on my mate." Ashton growled before pinning her to the wall as he gripped her neck in a tight hold, ready to snap it in two.

Wait. What did he call her? His mate? What the hell was going on? Laila thought, turning to look at Victoria before coughing loud as she tried to get herself free from his tight hold.

Victoria, on the other hand, who was too stunned to react to the situation, looked at Ashton before she hurried towards him.

"Ashton, leave her alone. I am not afraid of her. She can't harm me. Calm down, okay?" Victoria started, but to no avail did Ashton calm down, and seeing no way out of the situation, she ducked under his arm before standing between Laila and him as she placed her hand on his cheeks, forcing him to look at her,

"Please calm down, my love," Emerald said, Victoria allowing her to take over him momentarily.

Felling the love from his mate, Ashton immediately calmed down before breathing heavily to control his anger.

What the fuck?! Laila's mind was going haywire with confusion and shock.

“I wasn’t here to harm you, Victoria. I was here to say sorry. Sorry for all the things I did to you. However, I assure you that I won’t be coming in your and Alexander’s path anymore. I found my mate.” Laila said, making Victoria look at her in amazement.

“Frist, let’s calm down, and then we can talk about it, okay?” Victoria said, rolling her eyes when Ashton growled again as Laila tried to get close to Victoria.

“Mine!” Ashton growled before pushing Victoria behind himself, making her roll her eyes again as, at the same time, Alexander entered the room, pinning Laila by her neck when he sensed the thick tension in the room. And seeing how Laila was the only person in the room, who might try to harm Victoria, he pinned her to the wall before sending her flying to the other side of the room.

“Guys, Stop. She is not here to harm me.” Victoria started, but when no one listened to her, she closed her eyes before concentrating. Opening her eyes with a hint of all the powers, she shouted aloud, making everyone immediately stop.

“I said, stop!!” Her loud voice breaking the windows in the room as all the furniture started flowing into the air.
