

Chapter 25

“I see. You are very famous among men.”

Alina frowned at him and this time she didn't control her expression. She liked the man from the first moment she opened her eyes and saw him. She liked him after knowing what she was dreaming all those nights before coming here. She liked him after so many times he humiliated her. But now it was enough.

She slightly pushed him with both of her hands.

Aaron grabbed her hands and pulled her to another side of the dance floor.

Everyone was giving them a way to leave the dance floor. Everybody was afraid of him. They heard a deep growl which made them tremble in fear.

Beta Lucas and all the officials stood up. “Where is he going?” Gamma George said.

“Wait a minute, where is he taking her? Look at him, he looks angry.” Delta Darren said.

“I think we should leave them alone.” Beta Lucas said.

“What are you saying Lucas? What if she will offend him and he will kill her? ” Theta Cooper said.

“Don’t worry, he will not kill her. Let’s sit and drink. We will talk to him when he is back.”

All of them agreed and continued their drinking.

Alina struggled to move her hands from his hold. But who could win in front of the energy of the Lycan king?

Aaron took her to the open gallery outside the hall room.

Then he let go of her hand. Alina rubbed her hand and looked at him.

“Why did you take me here?”

“Why did you push me on the dance floor?”

“I didn’t want to dance with you, that’s why I pushed you.”

Aaron narrowed his eyes and stepped forward to her. Alina noticed that and took a step behind.

“You were okay in another man’s arms before. You don’t have problems with strangers but you have problems with me?”

“I-I know him okay? He is not a stranger.”

She knew him since her first year at University. He was a famous guy among students, especially female students.

Aaron looked fierce. Alina got scared when she saw he was coming closer to her. She stepped another back and her back hit against the wall behind her. She looked behind her and saw the pillar of the terrace. She looked beside the wall and saw a railing. From there she could see outside the forest.

‘Why did he take me here? Will he kill me here? Will I die tonight? Should I shift and run from here? But what if he would pierce my chest and pull out my heart as he did to that man?’

Alina turned her head back to Aaron. She saw Aaron had already come closer to her.

She looked into his eyes. She felt scared. She again remembered how he killed that man. She remembered how he pierced his claws into the man's neck.

‘Why is he doing this to me? Did I offend him? What should I do? He always insults me. I should run away.’

Alina tried to run but Aaron put both his hands on the pillar beside her head.

Alina looked around and saw it was a big terrace and no one was there. She could see the door of the hall room covered with blinds. Who would come to save her? Everybody saw that the king was going there so nobody would think about coming here.

Alina closed her eyes tight.

“Look at me.” Aaron said with his deep voice.

Alina shook her head.

“I said. Look. At. Me.” He said to her, word by word while gritting his teeth more like ordered her.

Alina slowly opened her eyes. She felt a shiver run down her spine when she looked into his eyes.

“Ki-King Aaron, le-leave me.”

Aaron was staring at her. “After dancing with another man you call me King Aaron from Mate, huh?”

Alina didn’t understand him. He told her he didn’t like her, he told her he felt disgusted with her and now he had a problem that she danced with another man?

“You told me I am not going to be your mate. You will not accept me so-“

“So you start to find a new lover first, and when you see you can’t seduce them, you change your plan. Now you are into Alphas. Not a normal Alpha but a true b***d Alpha.”

Alina got emotional. Tears build in the corner of her eyes. But she tried her best to control her tears.

“Why are you saying th-this?”

“Let me tell you. He won’t accept you either. He only knows how to play with women and you let him touch your body?”

“We-we were just dancing.”

“I saw what type of dance you two were doing.” He said and remembered how Alpha Rick’s hand grabbed her waist and she didn’t resist him from touching her waist. She even put her hands on his shoulder. She was seducing him.

Alina took a deep breath and stopped stuttering

“I don’t know what you are saying. But you told me you will reject me. Now tell me when will you reject me?”

Aaron frowned at her. “You are too eager to be rejected?”

“Yes, I am. I don’t want to live in this pack anymore. This is not my life. I do not belong here. After the rejection, I will go back abroad and will never come again to disturb anyone.”

Hearing that she wanted to leave Aaron felt something in his heart.

Alina continued, “If you don’t care about the mate bond then that will be also fine with me. I will go back after two weeks anyway.”

“Did I give you permission to leave?” He asked.

“If I can come here without your permission then I can go too, my king.”

“Really?” Aaron laughed. It was a dark laugh that made her freeze.

Alina was silent for a moment then asked,

“What do you mean?”

Aaron came close to her face and looked into her eyes.

“You Can’t Go Out Of My Kingdom Without My Permission, Darling.”
