Chapter 101. Su-Hyun's Madness (3)

Please continue reading on

But before anything, I simply lifted my left hand and used the Anti-Magic ring. He spoke that his strength was just 70% than his original one, but I wasn't convinced.

The white light that was spreading out of the ring intermixed with the dark blue flame that ran towards me, and it vanished soon. The fire that Belpegor shot was a little stunned, and it ran towards me aggressively once again.

When I triggered the Anti Magic, the Asmodian was curious of its result and then raised his eyes at it.

"Stupid man. If you thought that you could stop the fire of the Asmodians with human magic, that's impossible. This flame is an eternal immortal one that can be applied by the ones only above the level of duke/ count."

"Shut up. Fuck you. You bastard"

"Bastard! How dare....."

That guy didn't want to listen anymore. No, I didn't want to listen anymore, I hated listening to him. I looked at the fire that was coming close towards me and held the sword in my hand and looked to the front. And then I closed my eyes.

Get up. Rise. Wake up and show the real eternal < Fire > to the person who is not a little bit like me.

I was able to feel the stamp of the ancient maid of honor in my heart as an answer to my inner voice. In addition to that, a collection of pure fire responded to my question, I held the sword in parallel with the power of the Hwajung. Although the others could see it as a simple parallel position, this one was different from the one-sided one, it had ultimate power.

When I moved the position of the sword once, the sound of a fire popping came, the sound reverberated everywhere. The fire that he shot was split so precisely that it was cut in exact half. And, I stood there, with the burning air.

I pulled down my sword immediately. The people who were memorizing the defense orders, the self confident man whose face was smoking Belpegor, all their faces were stunned. And with this on exchange of offence, I was able to understand the strength of the man in front of me.

“It seems like 70 is a bit too much. Fifty? No.... is it 60?”

At my mocking, the Asmodians face distorted for the first time. However, after quickly adjusting his expression, he asked with a not so gentle voice.

“Bloke! What the hell did.....!”

“It is what you see.”

“I don’t believe it! How could you destroy the flame of the Asmodian which is also allowed to the highest ranker of the Asmodians!”

“All that you told is bullshit. The top level Asmodians that you are talking about seem to be blinded like you. But thank you for the good information.”

“Keukk....!”

The Belpegor had a bad temper, and this caused a great deal of blue fire. As I saw he round sphere slowly forming in his right hand, I also lifted the clear crimson flame.

“I’ll make sure that the mouth of yours can’t make anymore fun.”

I looked at Belpegor who was making fun and I opened my mouth with a serious tone.

“Haven’t you already seen that the flame of your proclaimed Asmodians doesn’t work on me? Why don’t you try doing something other than this, how does that sound?”

“Close that mouth of yours!”

At the same time, he moved his hand very strongly once gain. A flame that was ten times the size of a normal soccer ball was coming rushing towards me. If it was like before, I would have rushed to break it, but I didn’t have to fight like that now. I took a deep breath and then concentrated on two feeling about the weapons I had.

The power to cut all, Sword Specialist.

The power to burn everything, Hwajung(火正).

As soon as I confirmed the power, I cut it using my sword without any hesitation.

Pop! Whirll....!

“Doesn’t, this doesn’t make sense.....”

Belpegor stared at the sight that unfolded in front of his eyes, it was like he was struck with something. The flame that he had poured out, would have taken at least half of his strength, and I just cut that bright flame into half.

Finally, the face I wanted to see came out. This was fun. I wanted to step on him. I wanted to rip him open. I wanted to kill him. I tried to hide my recklessness, but the more I tried to hide the more I couldn't hide the excitement. I slowly opened my mouth as I took a breath roughly.

"Do you have anything else to show?"

"What... what did you say."

"Summon the Scraep. Or maybe the Colossus of Destruction... if not."

After I stopped talking, I laughed for a while and laughed.

"Are you ready to flea into the dark side of a fairy tale?"

Belpegor opened his mouth with a confused face as I said his techniques.

"Uh, How! Who, who are you?"

"Whoa. Calm down. What did you do for Lilith to believe and teach you?"

I could see the face of Belpegor turn red at mention of Lilith. It was a place where only the strong men could live. The individuals self-esteem was strong, but they are loyal to the opponent under whom they surrender. Of course, they were very limited.

As I spoke of Lilith, Belpegor just shook his head.

"Yah.... Watch your mouth. You are not the only one who can speak."

"Why? Lilith? Famous as the whore of Marqui. Wasn't anyone aware of the loss of Astorot? Ah. You don't know about it yet?"

This was a fact that I happened to come across in the first time. It was something from a long time ago, but I heard that it was an event that took place before I entered the Hall Plane. And there was nothing like provoking the loyal Lilith of the underworld.

As expected, Belpegor finally broke out, all his wrath at me.

"Kyahng!"

Belpegor cried out loud and lifted his hands to the air. At that moment, I felt that the air where he stood changed drastically, an ominous aura wrapped around him. And the people in the back who were staying still, well, they had an uneasy look.

I turned towards the party and opened my mouth.

“An Hyun, Yoo-Jung wait in your place. And the wizards and the priests use all the defensive spells you know to protect the party.”

“Kim Su-Hyun! What the hell are you talking!”

Vivian yelled at me. The faces of all the people were the same. All of my life could be torn down but I chose to not say anything. Vivian was still in the back and was able to open my mouth.

“I don’t have anything else to say. I don’t know about any other person, but I can handle this guy. You guys stay in the back.”

While I was talking, the opponents movements were getting stronger. As I turned my head, Belpegor’s hair rose high. It seemed like he was prepared for performing a great magic after a long time. This magic was definitely a colossus of destruction. This guy really is nothing much than a idiotic jerk.

“Kim Su-Hyun! Are you kidding? No matter how advanced....”

Vivian still continued to speak. But right now I couldn’t afford to take care of the other people.

“Shut up and step back!”

“Ho.... How....”

Because of my shout, Vivian stepped back with a wounded face. But there was no time to be sweet with her.

I also stood in the posture and held onto the sword. From now on, the technique that I would be deploying is a kind of ability that is classified as player ability. Unlike, the past, I had magic ability, so the power was different now. I literally pulled high the magic.

The Colossus of destruction was a grand magic. I don’t know about how it would affect me, but the ones behind me would all die in the after effects of it. Even I had to take out the card that could resist his magic. In the first time, I wasn’t able to use the ability with magic, but it was a different case now.

“It is a technique developed to deal with < Her >... I didn’t realize I was going to use this already.”

I muttered bitterly and then stepped in the ground.

He couldn't admit it. The great Asmodian was afraid of a single human being? It is impossible. But, the thing was actually happening now.

He was forced to take out the technique as fear arose in him. There was a huge crowd of people in the back preparing for a big magic with incomplete bodies, but their effect would be certain.

The human in front of his eye may be able to extinguish the fire of the Asmodian with some kind of trickery, but it was only doable. In front of the hundreds of meteor flame shower the human beings will certainly turn into a handful of ash. He thought of not taking down the female human beings, but none of them were comparable to that of Lilith.

The heart was feeling burdensome but he was planning on enduring it. The order is completed. Now all he had to do now was shoot down that cheeky human being in the front. Then he checked down the human in front of him from the head to the bottom.

"Hohuk."

An unfamiliar sense cried in the whole body of his. He almost canceled the order that he had summoned. The feeling of death and disappearance for a long time. The long awaited sharpness was ringing in his whole body. He was going to die. And he had to avoid it.

"I..... die?"

'I'm going to die in the hands of a human?'

He shouted out loudly. It was good to shake of the instinctive struggle and the fear that dominate the inside of the body. He was able to get the courage to act out, he waved out both his hands. A small scale meteor shower, for the Asmodians. The name was....

"Ahh ahahaha!!! The Colossus of Destruction!!!"

He didn't have any other ideas. With only the thought of annihilating the human in front of him and regain the dignity that he had lost sooner or later. However, he couldn't help but admit the origin of these kinds of thoughts because of survival.

At that moment, the man in the front put his leg into the earth. The floor around him was cracked. But that was only for a few moment. He swallowed my spit as I watched the earth change again. What? What was it?

He heard the sound of the ceiling crashing and that was because of the meteor shower that he was going to lead. Then I smiled at the conversion. Stupid human. It would be the downfall of the human as he provided time for the Asmodian. When he turned back, he saw that the colossus of destruction was pushing through the ceiling. And then he felt relieved. There would be definite penalties for performing an incomplete magic with incomplete bodies, as the damage was definite. He didn't think till that extent, just the thought of being alive was there. It was then.

The silent guy in the front took out his sword and threw it into the air. At the same time, a clear crimson flame surrounded the sword. When he saw the flame, he felt anxious once again. For some reason, he felt that the moment it touched the spell, everything would be over. At that moment, a strange vibration came around.

Kukukuku.....

Something strange was coming out of the earth. And the moment when that energy combined with the crimson flame, he did nothing but be astonished.

The sword was burning in the crimson light, and it was increasing. Literally, fire and sword (Fire sword). One, two, four, twelve, sixteen, thirty... the swords gradually increased in the number, they filled the surrounding area and they couldn't be counted anymore.

“Ha....”

In his mouth only saliva was flowing. He just bowed down his head. As soon as he saw Su-Hyun laugh his whole body felt troubled. Why? Why did that human hate the Asmodian so much? The flow of magic into the colossus of destruction was almost cut off, he barely managed to hold it.

He didn't like it from the beginning. He had endless hostility from the moment that he had seen the Asmodian. And I sounded like he knew something. The Asmodian was more and more full with the magic, and the climax was near.

The human's face was relieved. It looked like he was going to beat me. The Asmodian could see a smile make its way onto the face of the human. With his arms folded, the human removed his right hand from the fold and stretched his fingers.

And with the sound of his finger tips, it could be seen that the swords that were hanging around him were heading towards the direction of the Asmodian. The Asmodian felt like he wanted to avoid it the very moment, but he regained his heart after watching the meteor go past him.

Numerous meteors fired. And a lot of fire swords were also shot.

They just watched as the two storms that resembled the heavy rain seemed to collide.

I covered my mouth by pressing the lips close to the other. And before I could make my heart hard, two giant rain storms collided with each other without a single stop.

Kukukuku.....!

A magnificent sound was ringing all around. I looked at his face, his face was relaxed and his arms were folded. On the contrary, I was too troubled that I swallowed my saliva. I was curious to see if I had won or lost, but my pride didn't allow me to act like I was curious. No matter what, the Colossus of Destruction was my best skill. If it didn't work, I might be able to see Lilith anymore. I poured the magic more into my attack. I could see that the meteor showers were overwhelming.

And....

“Huahahahahah!”

I screamed in pain. Every time I was hit with the shot, my insides shook with the huge impact. Why on earth? How? I thought, but I was barely able to hold onto my body. I have seen my magic overwhelm the human being, so I thought that I will be able to hold on a little longer... that was what I thought.

“Kuek!”

I lifted my head and wondered about what had happened.

The scene where the meteor shower and the swords hit each other like a heavy rain was very spectacular. However, this was not the time to appreciate this.

The overwhelming figure was completely false. My meteors exploded immediately upon reaching the swords and then they disappeared. Nonetheless, the sword of fire (Fire Swords) endured the explosion and they pushed forward to me, and occupied the space around me. No, they didn't occupy. Rather, they took the positions of my meteors.

At that moment, blood poured out from me. At the same time, the whole body of mine began to lose its strength. I didn't know how he did this. But why now....!

I was already planning ahead to take care of my body damage in an instant, that was what I wanted to do. And the attack that came to me sooner than my plan made my mind go into a haywire. The moment when I was having a nervous breakdown, a thought that I never knew I could get crossed my mind. And the result of it made me turn even darker.

Hwarrrrrrrr....!

The swords that were so pure and literally burning were pushing my magic out and was going to quickly wipe out my existence. As soon as my strength moves out, my body will be crushed and nothing will be left back apart from a handful of ashes. I am in an urgent need to increase to my magic power to a high extent. I wasn't ready to admit that I was about to lose to humans.

I could feel magic all over my body and I focused it onto both of my hands. However, my heart kept telling me to run away even now. This was a fairy tale of darkness. If I was lucky I might be able to save my life. But still, my heart was still holding onto the pride. Even though I knew that I would die if I do this, but I have never abused the power of an Asmodian till this moment.

But as the meteors disappeared the spots were filled with burning swords, and my pride was beginning to fade away.

At this moment I saw the burning swords that were constantly coming forward. I felt that everything around me was dull. It was like I was in the storm itself, and my neck was cold. No way, it was over. Did I burn out all my magic power by the colossus?

"Goodbye."

Finally I heard the cold voice of the human and many more swords came to me. my self-esteem which wanted to stand till the end of the fight, but well, I just had to put a footstep in front of the death. The sword rushed to wards me to dismantle my body and at that moment I closed my eyes and the darkness that was left in the body went up.

.....

.....

.....

"Huk, Huk."

When I opened my eyes, I saw that the ceiling had not collapsed yet. At the same time, the upstairs rumbled. The moment the first strike hit me, I instinctively wanted to escape. I could move through floors but only in the institute, I couldn't get away from there, I was there in the darkness.

"Kulruk....!"

Once again a handful of blood came out from my mouth. I wanted to rest. However, a few of the swords were already into my body. I felt the burning pain in my body, but I got up as I thought that the humans might come close to me again. Clearly, there was a secret space somewhere in the first floor of the institute....

Suk, seuk.

I almost tried to drag my body using my foot. I was able to see the goal as the door opened wide. It wasn't a smooth task. I actually came here to handle the guys that were here before me. I could go into that secret room without anyone finding, I could go to that door that was built before I coming here. It was obviously supposed to be here somewhere.

"Damn!"

I have been stalking the floor for the past ten minutes, and I still have not found it. My heart was hurting now. Those people will come, I need to find quickly, quickly. There was a weird presence in the land area. I ran down to the bottom of the stairs because I thought that I had found it.

Chik, huirk.

"....."

The sound of something still burning. Maybe it was the aftermath. I don't have to worry about it for now.....

"Hu~uh."

"....."

"I never thought that the Noble count of the Asmodian would have to run away, and never did I dream that he would be sweeping the ground. Is he cleaning?"

I hear him say something. Maybe I knew about it already. However, I felt compelled to fight and comfort my inner self. But in the first place, I always felt the need to avoid him.

"Now, doesn't look like you are even good at it."

I slowly turned my head, and there he was, smoking the tobacco gently.

I laughed when I say the guy on the floor. Originally I tried to come out with my power later, but it seemed like my plan was a bust.

"I really didn't think that you would run away because of what happened. Do you like the dark fairy tales? Right now you're doing a good job running away."

“Human.... Why..... how....”

Belpegor breathed a little as he was suffering. I spit out the tobacco that I was biting on, and I moved down. As I approached him, Belpegor saw me and then he was taking a step back by pushing his legs. Suddenly, the lower body went stiff, and began to get wrinkled. The situation brought me so much excitement.

“Ma.... Makom Skuramp so....”

“Whoa”

When I saw that he was going to summon a sword, I ran like a lightning bolt and kicked his hand. The black sword was thrown away, very far. Then Belpegor looked up at with a grim look on his face.

I walked a little close and then got heads close to the other.

“Pray.”

“Kuek.”

“Anyway, you can’t do anything now. Just pray for your life. Then maybe you might live.”

“Kill me.”

I looked at the guy in front of me who spoke firmly, and I opened my eyes a bit more. Belpegor had already given up the hope and then he spoke.

“I will admit, you do have great strength. However, you are still an insect in front those people.... They’ll give me my revenge. You’ll also face the same kind of end like this.”

“Who? The one you re so desperate to meet, Lilith? Or Astrot? Satan? Baal? Asmodus? Lucifer?”

“Kuk.... I don’t know how you know the names of the monsters that live in the Veil. But... keuk!”

While he was still talking, I sat down and hurt him. And I literally fisted his mouth. At the end of the fist, there was a feeling that something had broke, and at the same time, pieces of broken tooth flew outside.

“Whatever. They would be dead in the hands of the humans by now.”

“You! Don’t act so self-righteous! Don’t joke around! They haven’t fallen into the human word yet!”

“You can’t even speak properly and I can’t talk with you like this. Hey fool. Don’t think that the ones that follow you are so great. I saying this because I’ve killed them all once.”

Belpegor looked at my face, his eyes were shaking. The Asmodians were the ones who could lie very easily, and they were also the creatures that could judge if the person speaking was telling the truth or the lie. Of course, it was impossible to lie or cheat against an Asmodian.

“I snat veilies.. (I can’t believe it.)”

But he still shook his head. I mean, it was the first time, that the above mentioned Asmodians actually died. But what I said was actually true. Belpegor, who judged the words that I spoke, was shaking his head as he guessed the truth in it.

I looked at him and then he saw me and opened my mouth.

“It is not a lie. You were under the demon Lilith, right? It was such a great time when I had killed Lilith. She was also one of the few female devils.... I enjoyed it very much. Her body of hers was awesome.”

I was able to see tears come up in the eyes of Belpegor as I mention Lilith. It was true that they were still alive in the second round. But in the first round, I had killed them, all of them. At these facts, Belpegor looked as he knew the truth I wanted to speak but only a sound came out. I looked at him and spoke out with an emotionless voice.

“Do you know what it was like? To be naked in front of the humans and to rub both her hands and beg, please forgive me? she begged me for her life so miserably. And all the other ones were dying.”

“Huahhh!”

“She was definitely the creation of great magic. But it wasn’t okay to accept all the people.... it was alright.”

“Huahhh!!!! Huahhh!!!!”

He screamed and pushed his head against me. I pinched his cheeks slightly and pulled away my hands. Chak! He moved his head with a sharp sound. I lifted Belpegor with his hair.

The face of the man wasn’t so crazy, but I wasn’t any less crazy than him. This was a conversation between a crazy person and crazier person. I pulled the head and then pushed the head hard to the ground.

Kung!

“Why. Why are you getting angry? Those ones are very similar to you!”

“... wha... why the hell do you hate me so much....”

The voice of the man wasn't clear, but I could clearly understand what he was saying. And with a lot of sadness on my face I lifted his head and spoke.

“Do you really have to ask? Really?”

“What do you want to do with.....”

Kung!

I pushed his head down again. He screamed 'kuk'. Screamed and wriggled all this body. I was speaking with a tone that was full of sadness, I had never forgotten those days.

“I remember it very clearly. It began because you started it. Yes. Ever since that day, I wanted to kill you like a crazy person. Yes. There were a few ones who looked at me and laughed then.”

Kung!

“But after being touched by you. And after knowing that she was pregnant with the child of an Asmodian, she decided to give up her life. That bright energetic child gave up her own life.”

Kung!

“I was driven by vengeance and I chased after you. My brother tried to stop, but he could never try to look me in the eye.. That was my first personal goal ever.... But... I was trapped in that men trick of yours. I was held captive by you.”

Thud!

“I couldn't tolerate the insults I had to face. I was caught by you because I was a jerk. But you weren't trying for me. You summoned more men to your side, All the Asmodians that you knew, but they all focused on to my brother who came to rescue me.”

Thud!

“Yeah. So my brother died in the battle. In the meantime, I couldn't save my poor brother. As he threw himself to save the lives of his colleagues, he managed to save me in the end but he lost his life.”

Thud!

“Kyahh...”

I paused for a moment and raised Belpegor using his hair. It seemed like his face was crushed to an extent that it couldn't be recognized anymore. I spit on his face, and then once again.

“But my grief never ended from there. You managed to runaway after he died... When I met him he was like an Asmodian. And, and, and she....”

When I thought if Han Soo-Young, the emotions that I had blocked, the emotion that I had never shown anyone, burst out all at once. Anger, pain, sadness, frustration, despair. All the negative feelings.

“I held on till the end. And I sincerely hope. But I never got what I wanted. Listening to the angels, I realized that I was playing into your hands. Do you know? With what kind of heart I had taken the opportunity. And when I got the opportunity all that was left were the pair of scars.”

That guy had already lost hope. His face was full of blood, and those horns that were long and boasting his confidence, I couldn't see them. But nevertheless he was still alive. I pounded him on the nose again and again.

“Seeing them, keep those people in your mind. Do you know that feeling that I had to bottle up, the guilt that I had been struggling?”

“Keuk.... Keuk...”

“Know. Huh? It was because of you. If it wasn't you...”

Thud!

“You, you, you, you, you, you, you, you, you! You son of a bitch!”

Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud! Thud!

“Ku... Kurk.....”

I pulled his horn out. My breath was rugged this time. However, I felt like I was holding onto something, so I pulled the guy with again with his hair. I opened my voice with a dry voice.

“Thank god. I'm glad to meet you here, I can surely kill you right here, and I appreciate this moment. So, let us finish this. You and my miserable fame from then.”

Belpegor was unable to answer. And I didn't want him to answer too. And. I got up and stepped on his face with my foot.

103. Don't touch our Oppa.

Please continue reading on

I gave a little more strength and pressed on his head more gently. I felt a little more resistance from him, so I gave a little more power, and I felt a crushing sensation from the head of Belpegor. My foot moved to the side a little and the pushed his head down a little, I was able to see my foot reach the floor. After rubbing my foot on the floor and removing it, I was able to see a part of the guy's head.

I left a breath and looked at the scene in front of me for a while, then I bent down and reached down to the chest.

Even though I touched his chest, I couldn't see any movement from Belpegor. There was no breathing. It was completely dead, visually too. I stuck in my hand with a casual face.

Phuk!

The texture of the skin was more hard than that of a human's skin. I opened my mouth with a sarcastic tone as I saw Belpegor.

"I hate horns. It is a little weird... But what, Skraep was being summoned. It can be called as a remaining business. Am I right Belpegor?"

Of course, Belpegor had no answer. I moved my hand inside the chest of his for a while, and then I smiled, I got something in my hand. There it was. I stopped my hand near his heart and pulled it out as hard as I could. But, despite me pulling it out of his heart, his body didn't move at all.

I shed a satisfying smile as I saw a dark sphere in my hands that was filled with dark blue blood.

"HuHu. Surely, this comes out of it too. Anyway, I would like to thank you for the sword and the heart. Okay then, stay well. Belpegor."

After being done with the final greetings, I turned around to leave. And I bumped my ass to the front of the body.

"Its too much. I thanked you and then I said goodbye too, this isn't something that one should avoid."

Silence. I sighed and put my hand back into his cracked chest.

"....."

“Don’t think that you can pretend to be dead. Anyway, I know that you’re still alive?”

At that moment, I could feel the body of Belpegor tremble. And I didn’t miss that movement. Finally, I laughed at the reaction of the guy who was caught, I have him a little of the Hwajung with the hand of mine that was still in his chest.

“If you thought that I would go away like this, I would like to tell you this.”

Hwralk!

The clear flame ignited from inside of the body and then she began to devour the whole body of his. At the same time, I could see dark smoke flowing out of his body. and I saw this and then laughed.

“HaHaHa. You bastard. The things that you guys need are in my palms. Ha Ha Ha.”

Keuahh. Keuahhh.

When I spoke about the unjust, he cried out a little, a little resentful cry, but I was just merely enjoying this. in a moment the whole body of Belpegor was scorched, and th flames moved to the air and the smoke too.

Kiyah... Kiyahhh.... .

I stared at this for a while and crossed my hands. Who would be coming to Mule? The treatment of Belpegor today will be a great help for me to achieve my ultimate goal of returning to my position in the Hall Plane.

Soon later, I felt refreshed and the Hwajung slowly faded away and then the traces of the flame were gone. Belpegor, the villain of the first round, was completely destroyed and so was the soul of the Asmodians. I wasn’t sure so I activated the 3rd eye and thoroughly explore the place. And no matter how long I waited, no information came up and I smiled at this.

At that moment, I sat down. After a successful revenge, I could feel the emotions inside me rise. Who said that revenge is futile? Revenge is sweet and its refreshing. A feeling of happiness filled my body after a long time.

When I was relieved of the tension that was pent up in my whole body, I felt relieved and then my body was filled with dizziness. The cost of using Hwajung along with magic came to exhaust all my physical power. the reaction from my body was because of magic that I drew and the fight I had to put up on the third floor. My potential hadn’t fallen down nor did my mental strength, this was because of the feeling of vengeance that had accumulated over the years.

“Ha~ah.”

But it was okay. It felt good. My mood was very pleasant now, and I could feel myself breathing. I wanted to sleep like this, but I had the heart of Belpegor in my right hand. I put it in my hand and then held out his sword in the other so that I could break it.

Hirk! Chik!

“There.”

Then, as if I was waiting for something, I could feel something coming and going in my palm of the one I was holding on the sword. This was because of the slave that he had summoned before, but couldn't do it. It was Scrupp. I spoke with a ridiculous voice but not moving the sword.

“Keke. Do you think it is too soon to change the owner? No matter, Belpegor died...”

Woo, Woong.

I realized that he had understood my words, and I felt that the sword Scrupp understood my words as it was vibrating. This is fun. Anyway, I decided to take care of this matter because this was very useful sword, in all of the Hall Plane. Maybe it read my mind and my thought to destroy it, it kept wiggling.

“I get it, I get it. However, I don't think that I'll be using it, but just hold on until I find you a good Master.”

I muttered at the troubled sword and then he stopped vibrating. I will live and so will the sword. It wasn't strange to have a sword, but there were a few swords who have the will to choose their owner. I just nodded my head and it wasn't a bad thing either, so I just put Scrupp inside.

The only thing that shined was the old ceiling. I felt like I didn't want to stand up. The members of the party will all be waiting for me on the third floor. I don't know for sure. The kids might have been searching for me. But I I didn't want to raise my body, I just wanted to sleep.

It wasn't just drowsiness. I was crying for a rest because of the aftermath of the reaction the body had faced. I have dealt with Belpegor, so I've completely attacked all the things of the Institutes of Ruins. As I lay down and turned my head, I saw the rooms in the first floor that we came in the very beginning.

Before being bombarded with my skills in the third floor, Belpegor fled away. However, since I knew that, I ran after him, and he was inside the institute, so I started to track through the detection. And before I came down to pursue his, the party who were in the shield their eyes were wide.

< Tracking alone. While everyone if wait here. >

They were screaming at me, but I couldn't afford to stay back and explain to them, so I just flew to the stairs. I was able to confirm that there was a guy on the ground floor because of the detection using my 3rd eye. As soon as he came down, he was trying to get into the rooms in the first floor, trying to run away to somewhere. So I guessed that there would be a secret passage there. I had to check it out before I leave.

I also remembered the things I was supposed to do. Somehow, there were urgent things that had to be done. As soon as I returned to Mule, I was going to put in my application for the clan. It was a little earlier. Suddenly the face of Jung Ha Yeon flashed into my head. She was not the person I wanted to talk to at the moment. I laughed at this unflattering thought that came to me.

After all, I decided to take a break. This was a natural thing to do anyway, but this wasn't something to worry about. And most of all, my body condition currently was like a cotton swab that was soaked in water. Finally, I thought that I should distribute a few of the ability points to physical strength in the near future. And as I closed my eyes, I felt a dark light gradually fall into my head.

How long had it been? Well, it was hard to know as I was sleeping. Because this was a forced sleep, my body was stunned. I couldn't feel the dizziness everywhere and my head didn't hurt either, so I slowly opened my eyes. And all I could see was a dark field of vision.

Even though I blinked my eyes once more, the vision was still dark. At the same time, I was struck by something soft on my head, its identity was still unknown. I wanted to know what it was. I wanted to know what it was that was on my head.

But for some reason, I wasn't feeling bad, so I touched the thing again. I took a great deal of breath as I could feel I was alive. And something rubbed on my forehead. That was it.

"Hmm..!"

I moaned in a strange manner, and I once again felt the soft thing on my head and I moved.

Finally someone unfolded this thing that was making me blind, and touch came onto the forehead. As the air touched me, I felt spirited. At that time my sight met with the one who took care of the things, it was a very clean looking woman, she was Jung Ha Yeon.

I met her eyes for a while, and then tried to assess the current situation. Once the party thought that they had lost, they would have come to search for me. My body was like a stone, and my head on Jung Ha Yeon's knee as a pillow. It was all good for now.

I didn't understand two things, one being why did Jung Ha Yeon have to be the one in here even when there were no others to be beside me. And why was it that her thigh was cut a little.

To get these questions answered, I opened my mouth.

"Hello."

"...."

"I hope your heads alright."

When I hear a different tone in my voice, for some reason I felt comfortable, and Jung Ha Yeon took a deep breath and opened her lips.

"I'll tell you in advance."

Jung Ha Yeon's voice was so pure. She moved her head back and forth. I interpreted it as a sign that she did it because she stayed still for a long time.

"It is not my place to tell you this Mr. Su-Hyun. I just wanted to let you know what you have gotten yourself into."

I pondered on the words of the player Jung Ha Yeon.

"Well. Wouldn't it be nice to get the dizziness of my face though?"

"No matter how hard I try to it seems to keep coming back. I kept doing it again and again continuously, but it seems like I'm not able to remove it. I tried for 7 times and decided to give up on the 8th one. Congratulations. The 8th time was a success."

".... Sorry. I never meant it to be intentional. By the way... uh."

Her voice sounded like a sharp one and I couldn't get myself to speak anymore. I immediately apologized and got my self to stand up hurriedly. However, lacking all the strength my whole body fell down. It seemed like the world was in a 90 degree angle and I wasn't able to balance myself. In the end, I had to go back to the same position that I had woke up in.

Flutter.

My body down so Jung Ha Yeon came and held, and unintentionally my hands reached to her back. Once again the back of my head hurt and I felt like words were coming out of my mouth. And her chest, felt like it was a bigger size than most of the women.

"..... things like this."

“I believed that your body was fine until you got yourself up. But with what just happened now, I can’t trust your body yet.”

Her tone was a pointy, but for some reason I couldn’t feel anger coming from her. I barely managed to get by butt on the floor with her help and then sat there. I wanted to say, “Well there was no need for you to give your knees as a pillow in the first place.” but I stopped myself as I might come out arrogantly.

And her perception was unexpectedly sharp.

“I’ll give you another explanation. it is true that I chose to take care of Mr. Su-Hyun by my own wish. It was because I found no other way.”

“Why so?”

“I was too nervous to give up to An Sol and Yoo-Jung.”

Jung Ha Yeon smiled a little once she was done speaking. Once of the advantage while speaking to her is that there would be no reason to keep a close watch on her. Just like Kim Han-Byul.

And the situation was the same. She and I shared a story o the Doran Doran, but it was nothing more than a ridiculous story. These were the words that she was saying before getting into the main point. Once she was able to get herself around the topic, it was notable that her attitude changed.

Anyway, her actions seemed sincere, so I understood and began to accept the possible situations.

I scratched my head once or twice and then looked around the room. They seemed to have taken me into the room on the first floor. Which meant that we haven’t gotten out of the ruins yet. I was afraid that we would’ve returned and I would find myself in Mule. It is a pity that I couldn’t see where the secret room was.

However, I still couldn’t see the other players. I turned around to the direction Jung Ha Yeon and opened my mouth.

“The other players?”

“3rd floor. I couldn’t see anything other than ashes the first time, I wasn’t sure they could handle such a sight.”

At her crystal clear answer, I raised my body once again only to sense my power draining. But unlike the first try, I managed to move to a certain degree. And I felt that the gaze of Jung Ha Yeon turn hot as she saw me move.

“..... I’m coming.”

“Well, they could. Miss An Sol could use treatment orders almost at a good level.”

“Haah.”

I took a deep breath and checked my body. I don’t know for how long I had fallen down, but I realized it couldn’t be much late either.

As I moved my body around and checked a little more of my surroundings, I could hear several footsteps. As I heard the footsteps getting closer and closer, I reflexively moved to the initial position of sitting.

I turned my head and gazed Jung Ha Yeon. She looked at me like she always did. However, her eyes contained a certain depth that I couldn’t comprehend just yet.

104. Don’t touch our Oppa (2)

Please continue reading on

The moment the kids and Shin Sang Yong entered, the polite atmosphere between me and Jung Ha Yeon instantly sunk. As if nothing had happened between me and her since the beginning. Though I did like that attitude of hers, it was clear that I had a few things to solve.

The kids looked at me after they entered the room and initially it was sigh of relief. I smiled at the kids who looked for my health and I nodded saying that I was okay. But this atmosphere would be there only for a while.

The faces of the children around me were all awkward the next instant. The kids were not fools either. The ability I showed during the fight with the Asmodian was certainly beyond the standard that they knew. And such abilities cannot be seen in a player of 0 yrs in the arena.

There had been an insignificant amount of time, but the person who had spoken for the first time since the silence, as expected, was the female player. I waited to he question, I wanted to know what she had inside.

“Is there anything that you would like to say to the party?”

At that question from her, I closed my eyes and debated. I didn’t want to answer in an ambiguous manner. I would be a burden to not tell them about the exploration and how I knew about it, but that was it. I could never tell something like, I saw the end of the Hall Plane and that I had got the Zero Code, and chose to come back for some reason.

The children all looked at me, but they had a little uneasiness in their faces. I saw it and then opened my mouth and spoke with a audible voice.

“There is.”

“Then please speak.”

I nodded my head for a moment. I would be stupid if I chose to say something that they couldn't get believe. I wondered what I was supposed to say. at her words, I nodded my head once again and saw her.

“I don't know how to answer that question, it is a little cumbersome.”

Jung Ha Yeon frowned at my question. Once I spoke there was silence once again, no one spoke, Jung Ha Yeon who was also silent asked the question.

“If thot is so. Then will you accept that there are a thing or two that you have been hiding from us?”

“That is right.”

I admitted it. At that moment, I could see that the members of the party were looking at each other with embarrassed faces. But I kept my attitude. I was able to instill my perception into the party when I came to this place, I would rather accept a few of my mistakes. As such, it would be more effective to communicate and then back out with my dignified attitude than to be cornered.

Jung Ha Yeon closed her eyes after hearing my answer immediately. She kept her eyes closed and choose to speak.

“I don't know what your intentions were. Nor can I guess them. but, having those kinds of things blocked inside isn't a good thing.”

“.....”

“I'll tell you my thoughts briefly. When I first saw you, I could feel a lot of affinity from the player Kin Su-Hyun. However, I cannot saw the same now. But..... it is my honest feeling that I want to continue this only after I know the truth.”

“I also feel the same.”

Jung Ha Yeon felt a little relieved at my answer, so she cleared her voice and then spoke in a courteous manner.

“If you think the same, then please speak. No.... I'll ask you the question. I want you please answer all the questions without leaving anything behind.”

“Every player has a secret or two that they hold.”

At my straight forward refusal to her request, Jung Ha Yeon’s eyes shone.

“This and that aren’t the same. I am honestly doubting if you are even a human being or even if you are a player of 0 yrs.”

“.....that’s nice. Then, if I answer now, will you believe that everything I say as the truth?”

“That is the way it would be. You said that the request was good. So I know that you will follow it.”

After speaking, Jung Ha Yeon crossed her hands. This story was getting on the track that I had wanted. Everyone else was just gulping on their saliva seeing such a situation unfold in front of them. Soon, Jung Ha Yeon put a thing in front of me. And as I could confirm their identity, I almost lost my cool expression.

“I never though that I would have to use this here, like this. I’m sorry. But you can still choose to confess.... I did hope that you will act like this, there was no other way left. So I hope you forgive me for using this < Revision of Truth >.”

I saw that thing in front of me. It was a rare item. I have been on the Hall Plane for 10 years, and I had never seen it being used. The Revision of Truth. All the gaze of the people moved to the crystal ball, she pushed the crystal ball towards me and explained.

“This was an item that I had got accidentally a year back. Putting the hand of the truth modifier and injecting it with the magic of the player, it will assess the inner emotions. And the assimilated emotions will be transformed in a sort of frequency and that can be seen through the crystal. And this assimilating will be linked to the voice of the player, and the crystal will determine if the player is speaking the truth or the false.”

“This way is.....”

Even though I had an uncomfortable expression on my face, the face of that woman was unshaken. However, I could understand the feelings of Jung Ha Yeon. Once this article was said to be traded at a very high price, but I wasn’t certain of its ability. Somehow, I didn’t see this when we rescued her, she was probably hiding this.

I could assume that she probably made a huge decision to bring this thing out of hiding. In other words, it meant that Jung ha Yeon also had doubts as to what kind of human I was. It could be painful to experience this even once, and I looked like I was going to suffer greatly. And there was no to escape from this.

It was at that moment that I shed a big sigh and tried to grasp the concept of <Truth Modification> around my head.

“Unnie. Stop it.”

It was at that moment that I was about to put my hands on the crystal. A slender hand came from the right and held my hands. The main character of that situation was Yoo-Jung.

“Yoo-Jung ah. Stop.”

“Unnie, you should stop talking.”

Although Ha Yeon spoke out in a little stern voice, Yoo-Jung stood up and looked at her without any hesitation. Both the women’s gazes were burning the air in the room. This was sudden shock as these two women had been good friends.

“This is something for you and me too.”

“What is Unnie? Who are you to do this?”

“.....”

At the strong reply from Yoo-Jung, Jung Ha yeon frowned her face, and it was clearly visible to all. But Yoo-Jung stayed strong on her comment. It was like I was invisible even though I was right in front of them, Yoo-Jung looked at her unnie with eagle eyes. Jung Ha Yeon had uncomfortable-ness rising on her face, and Yoo-Jung fire up on her once again.

“You unnie, and Shin Sang Yong hadn’t been with my oppa for long. I as well as we all are different. We are different. From the beginning we ate together, slept together and even took part in activities together. And you doing stuff like this right now is making me go crazy unnie. I don’t understand why you wouldn’t accept my oppa, but I’m pissed as hell right now.”

I could feel something different from Yoo-Jung from a while ago, and I was able to know the reason for it almost immediately. She kept saying unnie and hyung from the beginning of her reply but her words that followed were as sharp as a knife. Even Jung Ha Yeon noticed it, so she replied with a deep subtle voice.

“You are still young. Or it could be that you still didn’t know what Hall Plane really is. This is a place where people are deceived, or to deceive others. If there is something that is unclear then, well die because of the unclearness. It was because of this attitude of me that I was able to survive until now. Can I tell you something? The Kim Su-Hyun that you believe and follow around....”

“Don’t spout ridiculous words!”

When Yoo-Jung screamed loudly, Jung Ha yeon shut her mouth immediately. Yoo-Jung shook her shoulders as she was angry, and then she spoke with a very sharp tone.

“Okay. I don’t know much, but at least I know my oppa much better than what I know about you.”

“You....”

“I’m not finished yet. Oppa cheated on us, you say? What the hell did he cheat for? My oppa sacrificed for us, he would never cheat on us. No, even if he did cheat, I don’t think it would be considered as cheating. There is always a reason for my oppa to act the way that he does.”

Jung Ha Yeon wasn’t able to control herself anymore. She kept trying hard to control her expressions, but she had no luck in doing that, her lips were spread to one side, she seemed to be getting angry.

“Okay then. You may feel at ease thinking like that. But that is you’re own personal thought. Do the other kids here also think in the same manner?”

“What did you say?”

Yoo-Jung opened her eyes very big and turned her head towards An Hyun and An Sol.

“Yah. An Hyun, An Sol. Tell what your thoughts are. Do you guys think that our oppa has deceived us?”

At the question from Yoo-Jung, An Hyun and An Sol looked at each other and they both had flustered faces. The two didn’t answer right away. Looking at the sight of the two - lingering kids, Yoo-Jung said “Huh”. And seeing this Jung Ha Yeon spoke in a low voice to Yoo-Jung.

“You cannot see this as a bad idea. Yes, as you said I’m not qualified enough to judge or understand Mr. Su-Hyun. But though you don’t need to hear me out, I get it that you have a different opinion. You have the right to know. And as you said, from the beginning you guys were completely dependent on Mr. Su-Hyun. So I took the initiative to know more. And I do believe.... Huh. No.”

She was about to say something more but she cut back on her words. An Hyun and An Sol were still confused and Shin Sang Yong just closed his eyes. And Vivian was staring Jung Ha Yeon with sharp eyes.

At this point anyone would step down from the argument, but Yoo-Jung being Yoo-Jung she didn’t. She looked as if she didn’t understand it and then rolled her eyes. And there weren’t any specific words that came out of her mouth, and I wanted to hear Yoo-Jung speak up.

Soon after, her eyes went towards An Hyun and An Sol.

“You guys are just listening to this? Aren’t you guys angry? Not even a single bit?”

“Lee, Lee Yoo-Jung. Just calm down for now. It isn’t that we don’t believe in hyung. But, lets hear it from hyung first. It isn’t wrong to listen.”

“Ye, yes. Even I believe in oppa too.”

An Hyun and An Sol opened their mouth after a little stuttering, and that just made Yoo-Jung get more angry than she already was.

“Calm? You think I can calm down? Wow, this is worthless.”

“.....”

Seeing this kind of behavior from them Yoo-Jung got more frustrated, it looked like she was going to get sore throat from all the shouting. An Sol tried to comfort Yoo-Jung who was feeling very troubled, but Yoo-Jung didn’t calm down. She broke out as that frustration was getting the best of her.

“From the Rite of Passage oppa had only thought about you and Sol, never about himself.”

“.....”

An these words, An Sol just bowed down her head. An Hyun opened his mouth in a clam tone trying to hold as much calmness as he could.

“It isn’t that.... lets just talk about this first....”

“Talk? What is there to hear. Who helped us with the zombies that came out from the forest? Who saved us from the boss monster and who told us to go away to safety? Who was the person who rejected the Golden Lion Clan’s offer and came to work with us!!!”

At all this yelling from Yoo-Jung, the whole room went serene. However, Yoo-Jung had no intention to stop, as she opened her mouth once again.

“Who was the one who always took the lead in fighting the monsters and protecting us? Who was the one who bought us new equipment and clothes every time and made sure to get rid of the old ones? For us to move around freely and comfortably, do you the person who made it possible? It is our oppa! Su-Hyun oppa!”

An Hyun and An Sol were just staring at Yoo-Jung with blank face. She started to cry, she was still a young kid. And when I saw her, I just admired her. She thought of me in such a nice manner.

I didn't know that she cherished me such an extent, An Hyun and An Sol weren't the same as her. I was curious as to know why those two were just staying still, maybe they wanted to know what my story was. This time Yoo-Jung didn't overreact more than necessary.

But in a way I wasn't able to understand this side of Yoo-Jung after all this time. Even though the situation was a little grim, she wanted to protect me, she wanted to protect me so much that I was so heartwarming for me.

There was a heavy silence because of all the yelling from Yoo-Jung. But. Before long Yoo-Jung turned her head towards Jung Ha Yeon.

"Unnie you are the same. What do you think would have happened to you and Shin sang Yong if oppa hadn't been there? What the hell is wrong with you? It was a nice thing. He was trying to protect us all.... To that kind of person... you....."

As she was speaking Yoo-jung glanced at < Revision of Truth >.

"That...."

It was difficult to read the emotion of Jung Ha Yeon in that moment. They were all pushed into a storm of thoughts because of Yoo-Jung. I was very happy with Yoo-Jung. Well, I would have never thought that this situation would arise, but this wasn't such a bad scenario either.

Now that all this would be sorted out, I needed to come put. It was going to be necessary to tell the truth, at least a part of it. So I gazed at the < Revision of Truth > silently.

At the same time I had activated the 3rd eye.

106. Don't touch our Oppa (3)

Please continue reading on

Even if it was the < Revision of Truth >, it couldn't hide from the third eye. I rubbed on my knees for a moment and then bent down my head. After analyzing what needed to be done, I wanted to put an end to the things that I was hearing. I immediately put my hand on the < Revision of Truth >.

All the people who saw my actions became surprised. And Yoo-Jung especially, she hit her face with her hand, and she bit on her lip to stop her tears from flowing down. I looked back at Yoo-Jung and the kids and then opened my mouth with a very calm voice.

"Yoo-Jung ah, I know how you think of me, and that is all I need."

"..... oppa."

"Yoo-jung ah, Don't cry."

At my warm voice, Yoo-Jung nodded her head once and then she wiped her eyes with her hands.

"In case you guys believe me, I also believe you guys. And it is true that I had hid a few things from you, but there was a reason why had to do it. And well..... I was going to confess it to you guys sooner or later."

I deliberately emphasized the words " to you ". And that was it, In a single moment all I wanted to say was done, and there was a light of relief on the faces of the children. I was actually upset with the kids, and I turned my sight away and stalked.

"Player Jung Ha Yeon. If this is really the best way to do this, then I will put my magic power into it without any hesitation."

"..... that's nice."

“But there is something you need to do.”

I paused for a moment and stared at her cold face. Jung Ha Yeon’s gaze was wavering and her eyes were shaking. Now I knew about her too. I don’t know with what through Jung Ha Yeon had taken this out, nor did she know why I had accepted to take the test.

After a moment of silence, I spoke with a low voice.

“To balance this situation. And I did put my hand on the crystal that is in front of me while the kids were watching. I understand that player Jung Ha Yeon has a few question to ask. But personally, I don’t think you can pull this off. I want you to try and understand what kind of feelings I am experiencing right now.”

“..... I’ll keep it in my mind.”

“And I too have a condition.”

“Is it a veto?”

At her question, I shook my head.

“The reason I put my hand on this < Revision of Truth > is not because I wanted to solve the curiosity that you personally have, but to solve the doubts and curiosity of the members of the party. Therefore, I don’t want you to ask me questions out of your personal curiosity.”

I started laying a safe ground. If Jung Ha Yeon was clever enough, she will understand what I just said. So if they didn’t like it, then they could just ignore it. I liked her, so I was fine with her driving these kind of activities. And I knew that she had an eye on me too. And we both knew that we had an eye on each other. And Jung ha Yeon brought out < Revision of Truth >. For now I just closed my eyes.

However, I had drawn a line for her questioning. And seeing her ability from the past, I clearly knew that I had an advantage over her. So when one translates what I said into a brief manner, “Don’t be afraid.” Well, she immediately answered my warning.

“You said not to go beyond the general questions. I’ll keep that in mind.”

After Jung Ha Yeon accepted it, she nodded her head slightly. And then I infused the magic power of mine.

Wo, Woong....

When I infused the < Revision of Truth >, the crystal began to vibrate and then a bluish glow rose from it. The bluish glow spread towards my body too, and I could see tiny flames rising in the crystal ball.

Maybe, if I spoke the truth, the crystal wouldn't show any change, but in case I say a lie, the color of the flame will change depending on the degree of the lie. I swallowed on my saliva and relaxed my mind.

The process to break the < Revision of Truth > is not simple. This was basically a simple procedure for the crystal, it was that it judges whether the said things were true or false. Which meant that the said words shouldn't contain a speck of lie, the words that are spoken should be sincere. Therefore, I need to tame the words accordingly, to say the truth. However, it was ironic for such things to work.

Jung Ha Yeon shook head as if she was trying to shake something off, and then looked at the < Revision of Truth > and opened her beautiful lips.

"Tell me your name."

"Kim Su-Hyun."

"What year?"

"Year 0."

"Is player Kim Su-Hyun the same year as us?"

"That is right."

There were quick questions and quick answers. However, this was just the first round. Questions to ask shortly before the main questions were asked. Jung Ha Yeon was looking at the crystal ball very intently and the flame was unchanged.

She paused for a moment and then resumed to asking the questions with that calm voice of hers.

"Player Kim Su-Hyun has something to hide from us. First, I want to know the reason why they were hid."

"After entering the Hall plane, I thought that it would be better to hide my power for the time being."

"Why?"

"I didn't want to be noticed. If the news was out that a new player had a hidden ability then many of the other players would have looked at me with a bad eye."

"Is that the only reason?"

“I just wanted to build up my strength. I didn’t want to get involved in the troubles right from the beginning.”

Jung Ha Yeon nodded her head like she understood it. Kim Han-Byul also obtained a secret class at the beginning, and for some reason she chose not to inform the members because of player protection. My reason wasn’t exactly the same, but I also hid my power and strength for a similar reason. At that time, I was wary for checkups and didn’t want unnecessary attention from the early days.

“Good to know. So can you tell us what it is that you are hiding?”

“... I could let you know. But from now on, the things that I’ll tell you, will be the player information.”

I stopped talking for a while. After a short breath I opened my mouth.

“Instead of telling you my information. After I do it, I expect Jung Ha Yeon and Shin Sang Yong to pay the same corresponding price. Of course, the kids and Vivian are an exception.”

“Sounds good. I’ll accept it. But only if the information is considered to be true and the information worth while.”

“This, this is confirmation.”

Jung Ha Yeon nodded without hesitation. I heard the answer from both of them. That couldn’t be possible, but if by any chance they chose to break the promise...

I cleaned up my throat and then revealed one of my secrets to the crowd in a ridiculous tone.

“Then I’ll tell you. Firstly, Player Kim Su-Hyun has a secret class.”

“Ah....!”

Secret class. The effect that this word had brought was amazing. All of the people in the room gazed at me with astonishment in their eyes, and I could see their eyes shake a little bit. This was something that I had predicted. I ignored my surroundings and then waited for the next question that she would ask.

“I, I wonder, what quality of, no what category of class is it.”

“Combat class. And once again, if you ask a question with personal curiosity, then I will forcibly put your hands on the < Revision of Truth >.”

At my decisive words, Jung Ha Yeon's expression turned bitter. But the beating around the bush didn't end. I wanted worthy questions from the beginning but they didn't come yet. It looked like I had to wait.

After a certain amount of time had passed, the atmosphere around us settled down, Jung Ha Yeon quickly confirmed the truth with a crystal ball. She sighed as the color hadn't changed.

"Certainly the things that you have said are true, so far. And when you say secret class, this is the answer to the questions that I have asked previously too. I was convinced.... But."

Jung Ha Yeon regained her calmness, and her eyes were shining.

"Even then, you're a player with 0 year. Does a 0 year catch an Asmodian? That can't possibly happen. I would like to ask you for an explanation in that part."

"Wait."

I was just about to answer, when Vivian raised her hand. She looked around with a distant face and then opened her mouth after pointing to me.

"I want to go over that part of it."

"Then do it quick."

At Jung Ha Yeon's quick reply, Vivian turned her head to me.

"Earlier when we went to the 3rd floor, I found a very interesting thing. I and Shin sang Yong were able to find traces of the magical enchantment of the great Asmodian there. It was still strong to."

"I didn't see it, but I could feel the traces of it when I was there."

Shin Sang Yong and Vivian responded with a small time difference, though the question was asked.

"It could happen. It could be from when the Asmodian wanted to escape from the institute. When the ceiling was blown, I could have been because of that."

"I was with you then. And I also agree with the words of the Master. Though the Asmodians are powerful, but the summoning was incomplete in the first place. In addition, this could be hard to see as the Asmodian as a perfect upper class one."

When they both came to defend me, Jung Ha Yeon's face lost its expression. And I was barely able to hide my smile that was coming on. They actually helped me. I didn't think that this could happen, but this was getting better and better.

But there was still a loop. When I thought, I lifted my left hand slowly and slowly increased the magic power. and clear sparks bloomed at the question of Belpegor, and all the eyes concentrated on me.

"This...."

I opened my mouth for a moment after giving them a chance to appreciate the fireworks.

"You might have seen this on the third floor today. This force is not the power of a simple flame. It is a separate flame from my secret class. And I will tell you in advance. I haven't obtained this one in any unclean manner. It is the power that the angels know about, and the power that I got through them."

This wasn't false. There can be no questions about the TANAY rating of the Angels in any kind of setting, so my privileges cannot be judged as false.

I don't think that Jung Ha Yeon who was in front of me was buying my story, but it was natural for her to think that my words were false as we have been through a lot of contradiction in this journey. Now, there was nothing else that Jung Ha yeon could ask me to verify with the < Revision of truth >.now she had to accept my conditions. So, from now, there were two things that had to be done.

The power of < Revision of Truth > wasn't infinite. Rather, it isn't supposed be this long. As such, I needed a stone to divert it, like the time when we were heading to the Alchemists dungeon. I recalled the fact that I played with the minds of the kids in the Dark Forest to convince them into the expedition. And the kids knew that they were forced inside the dungeon.

However, my act at that time can be considered as acting rather than a lie. I needed to waste as much time as I could so the time period of the crystal would end. All I needed was to send her a mouthwatering bait. And that bait was nothing other than the Hwajung.

"Can it be that the power of that fire be the reason of the strength of player Kim Su-Hyun?"

"Of course, the secret class is strong enough, but I appreciate this for its strength. This fire isn't a simple fire, it is a fire with tremendous strength. If you have seen I today, you would've guessed that this fire has he ability to even burn out the spell of the devil."

At my explanation Jung Ha Yeon looked at the crystal ball. Judging this fact, she immediately went for the next question.

“I see. I wonder how you were able to get such strong power... but you said that you went through a legitimate process, so I won't say anything regarding that. I get it. But you said that you know the angels?”

“Yeah.”

“Secret class, and the current level of Player Kim Su-Hyun is very powerful. Of course, there could be exceptions in a few cases, but angels, well basically the angels treat all the players equally.”

Nope.

“Then angels haven't said anything about you using that power? No, this doesn't seem to be related at all.”

I smiled in the inside as I saw Jung Ha Yeon bite the bait that I threw.

“There is a relation. But...”

I intentionally stopped speaking. Curiosity found its way onto the face of Jung Ha Yeon's face as I stopped speaking. I was sure that I would put this woman to shame.

She is certainly smart, very clever. I was delighted to see her poking around in different categories to just get the answers that she wanted to hear, but I felt so sorry for her. This was a situation that I couldn't avoid, she was rubbing this in my face without knowing it.

Even so, she was only a 2nd year player. I had a gap of 10 years of being in this Hall plane and she never couldn't close this gap.

The questions that she was asking were all moving in the direction that I wanted.

However, only half the time was done for the crystal. As long as the other half is still left, it wasn't safe to let my guard down. I opened my mouth with a low voice.

“I would like to tell you more about this things..... the angels also know about this. the angel that was in charge of me, opposed me from using this power, she was even against me from accepting thus power.”

“Then how did the power....”

Jung Ha Yeon was trying to say something until she bit her lip. I'm sure that even the angels are curious as to how I accepted this prohibited power. However, the confirmation of the truth was completed the moment I spoke about it, and since the flame didn't change, I can be considered that I got the power in a legitimate process.

Jung Ha Yeon's lips were open. She then closed them to gulp down on her saliva, and she spoke.

“Then do you know the reason why the angels have opposed you from accepting it? If this is a legitimately gotten power, then there will be a valid reason for them to oppose. Angels have a role in advising the players on how they are supposed to act in the Hall Plane.”

She asked the definite question. It all starts now.

“That.... that's not a big deal.”

At the same time, the crystal ball that I put my hands the first time, its flame rose. All the people confirmed that it the change of < Revision of Truth > stared at me with strange faces. I was looking at the floor and avoided looking into the eyes of Jung Ha Yeon, and this was all a part of my plan.

Of course, I could have said “I seriously don't want to talk about it” or “I don't want to answer that question.” But even if I said that the flame of the < Revision of Truth > might change, it was a possibility. Truthfully I was asking Jung Ha Yeon a question, it was possible for two of them to turn out as lies.

As expected, seeing the change in the flame, Jung Ha Yeon's eyes went thinner. She looked at me like I was some caught fish.

“The < Revision of Truth > changed, you lied.”

“.... There was a reason.’

“You were fine with me asking this question in the first place. If you don't want, then let me know. Don't make me anymore disappointed than what I am. If not...”

“.....”

Silence. After looking at my face, Jung Ha Yeon stopped her words in the middle and bite on lip for a moment.

“I can not forget the favor that Mr. Su-Hyun had did for us on the first day. How could anyone forget the benefactor who saved their life? After that day, the kids and the leader of the caravan were amazing to me, it would be right to say you were the ideal caravan leader. You said you had an offer from the Golden Lion Clan? I also go t the offer. And I quit it later. But when I saw Mr. Su-Hyun and the kids, my heart used beat with happiness. It felt like a family, a family that no one could find on the Hall Plane.”

Once again she changed the manner she addressed me from player Su-Hyun to Mr. Su-Hyun. I waited for her next words to come.

“I was excited and looking for ward to it. But..... is this how my excitement is going to turn to? Was it a vain for me to get excited?”

Now, it looked like she was talking to me with a little grudge. But I decided to take roll around the questions once again.

“This power....”

I opened my mouth and then closed it after saying that once word. And I spoke out those words. the power of Hwajung certainly had its own shares of damages. That was something that I couldn't deny. I felt troubled when I thought of Hwajung. I was able o hold on to its power for now, but it is hard to tell how the things might change in the future if I continue to use it.

I knew. It would b the right decision to invest my remaining points into increasing my resistance. But however, to have 101 in the ability was literally amazing. For a whole decade, there were only two players who managed to get 101 for the ability. There names aren't even worth being mentioned.

If I invest my 8 points to my current abilities, I could raise both my magic and agility to 101 points. And once the ability increases the, the reaction speed of the body will get bigger too. Lee Song-eun raised the physical strength, though the agility and magic would have been the right choice. I felt suffocated and sick the very moment, so I took a deep breath.

I was lost in thoughts. Why was I thinking so hard about these now?

When I raised my eyes with a feeling sorry, my eyes met with Jung Ha Yeon's. It seemed like she knew the distress expression and sighed and spoke a little.

“It was nice that you held on for so long..... it was really nice to see. Your hands off the < Revision of Truth >.”

At her sudden withdrawal declaration I opened my mouth.

“This force is so powerful that it isn't something a human could manage.”

As I stopped her words in the middle she was a little hesitant to speak. And when I stopped speaking, we were only surrounded with silence. She tilted her head and then spoke out.

“It does not make any sense. A power that humans can’t handle.... Ah....?”

“However, it is also true that the power is currently sleeping in my body.”

Her gaze naturally went towards the crystal ball. At that moment, I saw surprise coming to my face.

“No way....!”

“... phew. Ok. This power isn’t something that could not be handled by humans.”

She rolled her eyes and opened her mouth. She lifted her right hand and then suddenly closed her mouth. She wasn’t able to conceal the surprise that found its way to the face. It was obvious that she was over her head, so she might’ve guessed that she needs to get back to the topic.

I really didn’t want to talk, but I was the one that initiated to conversation.

“Yeah. The power that is residing in my body is like a double edged sword. When I activate its ability, I can experience great power. But along with it comes tremendous risk. You would’ve realized when you saw me, this power takes away my power every time I use it. I was nearly losing my mind of the shock.”

All the people of the party were staring at me with surprised faces. But this wasn’t end, there was a need to say a lot more.

“The objection of the angel was that someday it would harm my life. But I.... I had no choice but to accept this power for myself. It was like that.”

Of course, I took it because of Hell. There was no other flame that was capable of handling the beings of the Hell.

Jung Ha Yeon stared at me with a blank face and then her gaze dropped to the < Revision of Truth>. The flame inside the crystal went back to the blue flame that it initially had. And once I looked at the crystal, I smiled to myself.

I sneakily looked at the expressions of the other people too. They all fell for my bait, that was a sure thing. Now all I had to do was waste the time and end this.

I could hear the kids were mumbling to themselves, but I chose to just ignore them. I was only looking at those pretty eyes of Jung Ha Yeon. And she avoided my gaze. First time she shook of the gaze. Surely, I was able to make her flutter.

At that moment, I had no choice but to turn my head in the direction of the hand that pulling on my collar.

“Oppa....”

Suddenly, Sol was looking at me, her lips were shaking and she looked at me in a strange manner. So did the kids and Vivian, I had no idea why they were looking at me like that. and there was Shin Sang Yong who opened his mouth like a fool. Looking at these people like that, it felt nice.

And then I smiled with the sad face and nodded my head, and I saw that drops of tears were hanging on Sol’s eyes. I was surprised at this act of Sol. She wasn’t able to say anything more after what she heard.

“Ha...”

At that time, Jung ah Yeon who was in front of me was holding her head with both her hands. Maybe she was confused. It was like she wanted to say something like “ I can’t believe it ”, but < Revision of Truth > proved my point to be correct.

“That is fine..... But..... How.... If that was true.... No, okay, it is true.....”

She was muttering as if she lost her mind, no word in connection to the next. So, she said that she withdrew from the Golden Lion Clan.... What had she been through in there? I was curious about it, and I kept seeing her shaking her head.

However, I decided to postpone my curiosity to later time. Now a series of important stuff were going on.

I noticed that Jung Ha Yeon had lost her calmness, she was holding her head with her hands. She closed her eyes and so were her lips, closed tight. She was lost in her thoughts. She looked like she was sorting out her thoughts and analyzing the facts.

Time went passing on. And none of the people moved from there. Well, it wasn’t a bad situation for me. And. After a while, I could see that her eyes had opened and the hands came back to landing on the room’s floor.

Her face looked tired, unlike a few seconds back. She caught my eyes and then immediately opened her mouth with a lifeless voice. But the voice contained the same seriousness as before.

“If you don’t mind, there is one thing that I want to ask.”

“I don’t think I have minded anything from the moment that you took out the < Revision of Truth >. And it still looks like the < Revision of Truth > has maintained its flame. I don’t think there is anything else that might change.”

When I shot her with an unpleasant look, Jung Ha Yeon's face hardened. And all that said were true. In addition, I did gave out personal information. If Jung Ha Yeon didn't pay me the same corresponding price, then I can bring her down with my tact.

"..... that's okay. So far, Mr. Su-Hyun's words were all true. I don't know what you are going through Mr. Su-Hyun... Sorry. I'm really sorry."

"You can't take back the words that you've already said."

"Okay. I've already said a lot. And I still have a lot of questions. But I don't think I'm qualified for it anymore. Still. It isn't about that information. But I still have another question. It is a general question and it is also out of personal curiosity. And if you answer, I'll remove the crystal by myself."

A general question out of personal curiosity. So I juts accepted her request by nodding my head.

"Please ask me. I'll see what I can do about that question."

"Mr. Su-Hyun."

As soon as I gave her the permission, Jung Ha Yeon immediately opened her mouth.

"..... why were you sacrificing yourself like that?"

".....!"

At that moment, it felt like I could see Kim Han-Byul's face in Jung Ha yeon's. All the conversation that I had with Kim Han-Byul in the cabin came rushing into my mind.

< Please stop. Why is oppa doing all this?>

<And why do you try to hide it?>

<Is there any person who oppa can rely on?>

Kim Han-Byul left me after saying that. and if my guess was right, the questions that I was listening now were the same ones.

That topic didn't end yet, as I needed to answer Jung Ha Yeon.

"The more you use it, the more your body damages. Then you shouldn't o around abusing it. And the Asmodian a while before..... it is definite that you did it alone. If there was such a thing, then couldn't we fight together? Did you have to use it and do it alone by yourself, just to secure our lives?"

“Of course, I know why you wanted to put yourself first. But this is Hall Plane. Mr. Su-Hyun don't you know what Hall Plane is like? So why does the person act the same around the kids as well as us? What kind of purpose do you have to sacrifice yourself for us two? Please just.... answer me....”

She spoke in a desperate phone, and I just stayed silent. But I smiling in the back of my mind. I was relieved that this question was asked. This was the question, that I was expecting her to ask.

Everyone looked at me with shining eyes, I actually enjoyed this attention and then I slowly opened my mouth.

I could hear her voice get louder and louder. I closed my eyes for a moment and took a deep breath. It might look like I'm breathing, but I was organizing my thoughts so that my feelings wouldn't show. I took a breath and I started speaking in resentful tone.

“I have lost people who were precious to me.”

I had a lot of concerns about this thing. I know that speaking this will remind her of Jung Ji Yeon. Right now, it was time for me to answer her question, and it seemed like the duration of the < Revision of Truth > was going to end soon, I could feel it under my hand.

“I can't even express how sad I felt. After experiencing that, and from the moment that I had come into this fucking Hall Plane. I always have those memories with me, and because of that I accepted the power even though I might die, so that I could become strong.”

“.....”

“What I wanted was to build up strength, even if it would harm my life... I wanted to live by my words. My ultimate goal was two things. Survival and return. I have the slightest hope that I might get rid of the Hall Plane and return back to the Earth again, but what is the use of it, if I'm the only one that is going back.”

I stopped my head and then turned my head and looked at the kids. The faces of An Sol, Yoo-Jung and An Hyun. The kids were intently listening on my words, and looked very bright. Of course, the kids weren't the precious things to me.

What I said right now is just an ambiguous statement but it did have some sincerity in it. I turned my gaze once again.

“I didn’t want the precious precious ones to die. I want all of us to live through this together and go back to Earth together too. Even if it requires me to sacrifice. I don’t mind sacrificing myself, if the I can save the precious ones.”

“Hyung.....”

“Oppa.....”

“Oppa.....”

The light of < Revision of Truth > was still lit. It still had a soft light in it. I couldn’t help it. This question reminded me of my brother Kim Yoo-Hyun and Han So-Young. And the < Revision of Truth > considered this as the truth as it did contain some sincerity.

That was the truth, but the people in the room, they were thinking that the precious people were the kids. Especially the kids, they displayed a series of mixed emotions when they heard me speak, their eyes were all blurry. But I’ll never let them regret following me.

Jung Ha yeon, Shin Sang Yong and Vivian too were staring at me with a very admirable expression. And the < Revision of Truth > proved that my words were truth. This is over. However, the crystal ball was still maintained lit. I guess I thought that I would end too quickly than its original rate, so I just turned my head.

At that time, Shin Sang Yong who was silent through all this spoke up for the first time.

“Miss Ha Yeon. Please stop now.”

“What, ha.....?”

“The questions that you have asked till now are enough. So let’s stop it now. And leader.”

Shin Sang Yong abruptly stopped his words, and he sat down. And then put his head on the floor and knees close to the ground. When the head touched the ground a “tak” sound was heard.

“Leader. I’m so sorry. I’m sorry that I doubted you for a while. So when Miss Ha Yeon pulled out the < Revision of Truth >, I was unable to stop her. But after hearing the truth from the leader.... I realize that I was stupid.”

“It is nice that the misunderstandings are cleared.”

“I was a benefactor, my life was saved by you. Nevertheless, I was unable to erase the doubts that were on my mind. I’m really sorry.”

“That was why we had cleared up those things and talked about them today. And, please stand up now. I don’t like seeing people like that.”

I opened my mouth with a melancholic voice, at this Shin sang Yong pressed his head into his hands as he was feeling a lot of regret. Behind him was Jung Ha Yeon who had a similar expression but was staring at me. Beginning with Shin Sang Yong, she looked at all the faces that were in the room, and her gaze briefly stopped at Vivian at that moment I could see the woman’s eyes were shining.

“Su.....!”

“Kids.”

I swiftly turned my body in the direction of the kids and watched them and called them in a very soft voice. Jung Ha yeon was about to say something right before I called the kids. And the question she asked a while back was the last question, so the atmosphere was going to change from here. Shin sang Yong, who always thought good of her also spoke to her in an angry voice. If she spoke out anything else, all the kids would definitely get angry at her.

All the kids were drowning in the guilt. I opened my mouth with a calm voice a voice that I didn’t speak with Jung Ha Yeon.

“If there is anything that you wonder, ask now. It is like there is still some time left.”

At my question, An Hyun and Yoo-Jung immediately shook their head. No way, even if they didn’t have any question, there was still some time left. No one came forward, and they spoke to me in a embarrassed tone.

“Hyung. All the doubts were solved. And I didn’t doubt you in the first place. on the other hand..... sorry. And thank you hyung.”

“Me too. See. I knew it. Our oppa to cheat, cheat my ass..... I’m sorry for our oppa....”

I sighed as I watched Yoo-Jung come out. And I looked over at Vivian and Shin sang Yong who were there too, so I turned to An Sol. And she..... from awhile back she just a faint look in the eye.

I somehow felt a little danger in that situation. And I turned my head to Vivian.

“.....Oppa.....”

“Oh, oh?”

“I have something to ask you....”

Don't. You don't have to. She said that she had something to say, but she broke out crying right away. In addition, the other people were curious about the question of Sol's, and I didn't reject it. Sol, accepted my silence as a positive affirmation, and opened her mouth.

“Oppa.... What do you think of me.....?”

“Kuek Kuek!”

An Hyun just listened to the question silently and bite down on his lip. Haha. What do I think, Huh? I think that she is child who constantly cry or breaks down..... However, I couldn't respond in the same manner.

“.....”

Sol was very energetic now, her both hand interlinked with each other, and the cheeks were flushed red. When I tried to open my mouth, those thoughts were like lumps in the throat, and something unexpected happened.

“What does he think. You always act like a child and then suddenly cry at situations. Why do you want to trouble oppa by asking such questions?”

“Yes. Su Hyun is with a troubled face now. There are two things, the one that could be done and those that shouldn't. And time and place should e considered when doing those things.”

Yoo-Jung and Vivian were talking to her like they passing the sword back and forth for attacks. I nodded as they were right, but the tone that they were speaking was more than the needed. At the rejection of the female players, An Sol pouted.

“Uh, I haven't asked you unnies.”

“Where are you getting this from.....”

“Stop.”

I just stayed down, while Yoo-Jung just raised he body from the ground and was screaming. Things were getting strange, but I was able to avoid this crisis by the help of these two women. And when I opened my mouth, I gathered the attention of everyone.

“Sol is very naïve and innocent. I'm surprised with her at times. And.... That quality of hers does not fit the world of Hall Plane. That is the truth.”

“Hey....”

“However, Sol is a priest. So I always....pay attention to all the possibilities that Sol might get.”

“But..... I wasn’t able to get much help from the words of Unnie..... They said that..... I always cry.....”

I knew that very well. But I just shook my head and said.

“For the profession of a priest the character of Sol is very suitable. I always thought that Sol was the best priest. No, if you can keep up the good work, then you will definitely develop a lot more later.”

Yes. She will turn into a Brilliance Priest later. She will be really useful then, I need to keep it easy for her till then. I smiled and then grabbed the crystal ball and raised it. And the flame of < Revision of Truth > was still the same color.

An Sol’s face turned bright and so did the face of An Hyun. At that moment, I saw the flame of < Revision of Truth > was burning very slowly.

“Ah...”

I turned my head to the front . There she was Jung Ha Yeon who looked at the crystal in my hand with a terrified face. The flame continued to diminish and then there was nothing but a spot of flicker, and soon the crystal began to crack.

Chak, chak, kachik!

It cracked in an instant, right in front of me, and it fell off the air and turned into a handful of ashes. Jung Ha Yeon just stared at the falling crystal powder. As soon as all the powder scattered, she lifted her eyes and stared at me with a complicated expression.

I sighed greatly, as it broke off at a very nice timing. She changed her expression and her facial expression and I spoke to her in a casual tone.

“Then..... did you unravel any truth from those questions?”

“.... Yes”

Although it was a little late, she finally answered the word “Yes”. It was difficult to answer with my hands on the < Revision of Truth >, and at last it was all done. And they did know a few astonishing things too.

Anyway, I had a great feeling that I did a great work. I dealt with Belpegor who was a little cheeky, and today turned out to be the best day. However, there was still another pleasant thing to do.

“Then, am I back to being the captain of the caravan?”

“Yes you are.”

Shin Sang Yong answered very clearly and then I raised my body from the ground that I had been sitting on.

“We have been resting for a lot longer than we are supposed to, so we should move. Everybody get up.”

All the people got up in an instant from their spots. Jung Ha Yeon sighed and got up from her place slowly. I approached her and whispered in a quiet voice.

“After going back to Mule we will settle this. So until then....”

“..... I understand. And I’m very sorry.”

I got confirmation from her, and then I turned away. Yoo-Jung rushed to me with a smile that was the most pleasant.

“Oppa. Are we going back to Mule now? if we leave now, will we be able to arrive there by tomorrow?”

“No. if you include today it will take about three days to return.”

“Huh? Why?”

“It is a little late now. And night seems to be coming in, so lets stay in the institute. That is all I could gather for now.”

At my words, all the people gathered their gazes to me with round eyes. And I pointed outside the room.

“I found a secret passage when I was fighting Belpegor.”

“Secret passage?”

“Yes. When I found him on the 1st floor, he was searching the ground like a crazy person. There seems to be a door that leads to a basement somewhere in the floor. Not definite, but that all I could guess. There could be a bigger treasure in the secret place.”

At my words, the kids were persuaded. However, An Sol was the only exception. She came close to me and grabbed my sleeve with her hands.

“Oppa.... Can’t we just go to Mule right away?..... I’m worried about your body.”

I gently touched the head of An Sol. She caught my hand and didn't let go.

"It would be such a waste if we just go back after coming all this way. I'm alright... I was planning to take rest once I leave to Mule anyway."

"..... really?"

"Yes. So lets go now. It isn't hard to move. All the tough ones are done. Get it?"

"Yes."

I gently stroked Sol's hair as she was listening to my words. All of a sudden everyone were getting their equipments up. And I checked all the faces of the members. And I smiled as we began to move to visit that location.

As expected, I was able to find out the door that Belpegor was searching for. The door had a simple structure, and it seemed like it went into the underground just like that time in the dungeon. If I wasn't able to find it, then I would've activated the 3rd to search it. It is literally impossible to fool the 3rd eye.

When I opened that door, I could see a stairway that was leading down. Before entering, I thoroughly checked the basement with detection. After confirming that there were no dangerous things in there, I immediately moved down.

"Light."

When we were getting down the stairs Jung Ha Yeon immediately invoked the spell 'light'. The secret room that was in the darkness, revealed itself to us in that very moment as the sphere of light generated.

"Whoa.."

I could hear An Hyun's shocked response. As I saw this secret room, I felt hat this was a little smaller when compared to the rooms on the first floor. There were wooden boxes and then wooden caskets in the room. Apart from them, there were old beds, tables, and a few dishes that were scattered on the table. It was hard to imagine that this room would have a special purpose down here.

I go close to the bed and then rolled the sheet over. I saw old bones that were lying there. I looked at those bones and then covered them with the sheets again. I turned around, after looking at the members I opened my mouth.

“This room, is the last room. I don’t know what this room has, but don’t miss out on any details, and look into everything that is in this room, look carefully.”

Once my commands were done, the kids scattered themselves all over the room. It seemed like they were excited that this was the last one for this expedition, and were excited for the things that might come out of here. And then I looked at Shin Sang Yong, Vivian and Jung Ha Yeon who were moving slowly, and then activated the 3rd eye to sense everything.

“.....”

After a while. It felt like I didn’t need to sense anything. I bent my back and pushed my hands under the bed. And I moved hands under the bed in a big circular motion, and I could feel several things with my hand. It was a little dark down there. Anyway, I thought that I got one, and then pulled it out with my hand.

After I saw the items that I had pulled out with my hands, I cheered inwards. At first I was flustered at the fact that I actually came close to these things, my mind was doing summersaults. I haven’t checked the information yet, but I could guess these things as the things that I had expected them to be.

There were four items that I have managed to pull out. One was a lance that was thicker than a normal lance, it was elongated and black, black Lance. A square luxurious looking suit case with medicines. A piece of old book which looked like it could get destroyed by a single touch. And gloves.

I glimpsed at the gloves once. The gloves were blue-black colored leather gloves, and there was a chain around it, and it was embroidered beautifully on the whole surface, and the a chain. The chain was a bit of an error but it didn’t matter much.

Maybe there was another one down the bed. I looked down under the bed once more. But, I couldn’t see the other one.

“Ha.... Just break everything! They are old anyway!”

“That’s a good idea.”

At the back Yoo-Jung and An Hyun were talking about the boxes, and I heard the sound of the box being broken. As they weren’t opening, they were rushing to break it down.

The 3rd eye was on for quite a while. I see the dusty stuff in front of my eyes. And my anticipation as to the identity of them hadn’t died down. These items were likely to be used as artifacts.

As I kept on looking at them, I tried to analyze them with the third eye. And the information about the items soon began to appear.

< Spear of Raven >

< A black lance made of steel (85.6%), mithril (12.7%) and adamantium (1.6%). The performance of this lance is good, and this was made by a skillful blacksmith with the ancient talent. Though it is made of steel as the main material, the mithril spreads throughout the lance and increases the mana rate greatly. In addition, the intensity of attack is raised by the small amount of adamantium that is in its centre. It is a practical lance, that has high sharpness and agility although it does not have any magic in it. However, this lance hold the power of < lance's craftsmen>. If the record of the Master of lance is found, more power will be gained.>

<Medicines>

< It is a medicines made up of many ingredients. If a player with stamina less than 70 points or less take it, they can aim to increase the physical stamina by a small amount (1 point~ 2 points).>

<Record of Ancient LanceMan>

< It is a record of n ancient famous lance maker. The enlightenment technique, and the know-how are all recorded. If he can find the lance, then he can gain more points from it.>

<Reduction of Glove>

< It is a glove that only has one at the moment. It is a left handed glove, and it reduces the weight of the object by one-fifth when being lifted. If the other glove is also found, and the pair is completed, the weight can be reduced to 1/6, and a small amount of points (2) will be increased to the strength.>

“Haa..”

“At last I found one pouch! Oppa! Oppa! I did..... Oppa what are you doing?”

I heard the voice of Yoo-Jung who was calling me from behind, but I couldn't afford to answer her in the middle of this. It was almost over... it wasn't a trouble to answer. Anyway, I thought of seeing the book of the ancient lance craftsmen after going back to Mule.

After the Chimera Alchemist, this couldn't be considered as a tough job to do. Suddenly, the time when I took the book from Vivian came to my mind. Just like that time, I held the book in my hand with joy and overflowing emotions. I tried to endure it, but the smile was coming onto my lips and then I stood up.

“Oppa? Oppa? What the hell are thos~e?”

As soon as Yoo-Jung came near, I reached for her hand and pulled her close. Yoo-Jung was surprised at first, but soon she smiled. She buried her head in my shoulder and looked at the things that were lying near my foot.

“It seems like we have a jackpot down there. HaHaHa.”

“This lance? Wow. An Hyun will receive it I guess.”

I tried to push Yoo-Jung away, but she pushed herself against me harder, and refused to move away.

“Yah. Take you head away from me.”

“Shii. Yeah right. I didn’t know this before. But I know now why Sol keeps on trying to hold onto you. This feels so good.”

At those words I could do nothing but sigh.

Anyway, choosing the 3rd as a special ability was really a very good thing. Dungeons, exploration, and the rarest classes that are so hard to find all come out in an exploration when I use this.

Of course, I knew that situations could get lucky too. However, the important thing now was that I found two rare classes. Things that I haven’t thought of were coming to me. this could encourage An Hyun a lot, he was loyal to the party and to me and this was a rare class.

I relaxed my nervous heart and then reached out to the black lance with my hand. The dust that had accumulated, was stuck to that cold black metal. The moment I touched it a great deal of power flowed into my body, and this time the systems messages of the Hall Plane and not of the 3rd eye popped up.

< Congratulations. You have found a rare class. Once you have possessed the lance of darkness, you can evolve into an EnergySpearman once you take its power.>

< The lance makers can be seen as the upper line in the makers. They have their own sires and ingenuity, and can utilize the energy inside the body more effectively and even maximize the effects. The way to train is also included in the record of the Master. Those who posses the skills of handling a lance is recommended.>

< Currently, Kim Su-Hyun’s secret class is the Sword Master. You have acquired the needed books, but judging your unique, special and latent abilities, the overall efficiency is not more than 40%. However, you can recover 2% of the decreased points in the strength 94 and resistance 98. And in the special ability EX rank Sword Master, 20% can be recovered. The player Kim Su-Hyun can develop the ability without any weapon. However, there will be an inevitable response of not being able to handle the sword.>

Also, it is not recommended to acquire the power of the lance, since all the special and latent abilities have opened up.>

The room wasn't so wide, but the search that the 7 people of the party were doing, was taking very long. Soon after, all the people were done doing their search.

"Hyung. Its worthless."

"Oppa. I have a pouch....hae?"

An Hyun rested his hands and took a deep breath, and An Sol was waving a pendent to me, and then she saw me and Yoo-Jung close to each other and went away. I immediately pushed Yoo-Jung away from me.

"Woo. I too couldn't find anything."

"I, I too couldn't find anything, like the Master."

Vivian and Shin Sang Yong just answered me with a blank face and empty hands. And Jung Ha Yeon, who was in charge of the drawers, extended a sparkling long chain.

"I found a necklace. And I feel some magical energy."

Jung Ha yeon and An Sol passed me the things that they have found. I pu them on the floor along with the items that I found. They all looked at the things that I found, except for Yoo-Jung.

"I think we need to settle for now, but..... lets start with the important ones."

"An important task? I just want to go back to the city quickly..."

And when I looked at Vivian she immediately changed her words.

"Wow. I'm very curious, what are those items.. I wonder~ I wonder~!"

"..... An Hyun. Come here."

"Yes."

An Hyun came to my side as I called out for him. I lowered myself and picked up the lance and brought it up. An Hyun confirmed that I would probably hand this lance to him, so he smiled. And soon the smile turned into astonishment.

"Hyun-ah. Listen to my words very clearly."

"HuHu. Whatever you say."

I watched An Hyun as his face was shining so brightly, and I laughed.

“Once you grab this lance, you will probably see the messages of the Hall Plane pop up in the air. You have to read them all and then accept them if you like it. The important thing is that you shouldn’t drop the lance in the middle of the confirmation. Got it?”

“Yeah? I’m not sure. Can’t you just do it? But what is it anyway?”

“Urgh. Just remember my words and then read the messages very thoroughly. Then you’ll know what it is.”

“Huh. I can’t wait to tell you what it has. Give it to me hyung.”

I handed the An Hyun the lance. And the moment An Hyun touched the lance, I could see his body get stiff. When I saw that reaction, I smiled a little. I was able to hold it because my magic stamina was more. But that wasn’t the case for An Hyun, it was low for him.

“Oh....oh..”

An Hyun’s eye just stared into the air. And as his expression was changing the people around him started to create a little fuss. I looked at them and I sighed, I signaled them to stay quiet.

“Everybody, quiet. The process of succession for this needs more consciousness than what one can imagine. The more quiet the surroundings are the better it is. just watch it.”

“Succession..... process?”

Asked Yoo-Jung who was right in front of me. I answered with sighing.

“Okay. That Lance is a Rare Class with a Energy Spearman. In other words, the succession refers to the process in which An Hyun will evolve a rare class.”

Please continue reading on

(The chapter for that one day was very long, but pleased read.)

“Rare Class? Energy Spearman?”

Yoo-Jung said the words that I've said and then swallowed as her eyes went big. The response of the other members of the party was the same. In some ways, they were in a nauseous state when I mentioned that I had a secret class. The place that I had in the members was the same before they knew that I had a secret class, and it seemed like the status of An Hyun changed a lot after me mentioning about the class.

"Doesn't make any sense! Why An Hyun....!"

"This, this caravan has a luck goddess right? Really....."

"Shhh."

And I put my index finger on my lip to indicate Yoo-Jung and Shin Sang Yong to stop, and they closed their mouths. And in the meantime, An Hyun's body was trembling like crazy, and his lips were smacking against the other. I thought it could be because the power of the artifact exceeds the magic power that the main body holds.

However, this could be considered as a very good phenomenon. It will be possible for 0 yr player with an undeveloped ability to evolve into a superior class. I could say this because, I saw that my ability increased to some degree < Set degree >, and this wasn't abnormal for people who had less ability than the artifact.

"It isn't a hard thing to do, but the upgrading is an important process. It may be easy for a few and though for the others. If you are curious about it, ask him once the succession process is done. It probably won't take much time."

At my words, all of the party members gulped. Even Yoo-Jung who was right beside me, swallowed and kept looking at him. However, it was pretty obvious that she was envious of the fact that he was getting the rare class ahead of everyone. And I turned towards the direction of An Hyun and patted the swords Scrupp once.

"Eu.....eu.... ah....."

An Hyun did what I asked him to without asking any questions. His whole body was trembling like a tree that was going to fall down, but never let go the black lance in his hand. I was cheering for An Hyun, and I gently put my hand on the shoulder of Yoo-Jung to calm her. I actually felt a little sorry, I was feeling burdensome, especially after what I heard from Yoo-Jung a few minutes back, when she stood up for me. So, in the coming future, I will give her many pretty things to look forward to.

"Huh.... Oppa..."

Yoo-Jung just huffed a word and buried her face in my shoulders. An Sol was currently in a state as to know how her brother was doing. I was stroking the soft hair of Yoo-Jung and made sure to not miss even a single movement of An Hyun's.

Soon, the trembling of his started to shrink down a little, and I noticed it. I seemed like the act was almost done and his breathing was stabilizing. And finally, I saw An Hyun catch the lance and was in a posture, his whole body was covered in gold light.

“It is a success.”

I opened my mouth with a satisfying smile as the gold color light was glowing around his body and then sunk into the skin of his. An Hyun, who witnesses this was still looking into the air with a blank face like he still couldn't believe what just happened. Perhaps he was looking at the Player information, I thought that even I should take a look at the information of his so I activated the third eye.

After : [Strength 61] [Resistance 58] [Vitality 63] [Magic 58] [Luck 61]

I couldn't hide my admiration as I saw the player information of An Hyun. I could say that I really did change a lot this time. The class and the alignment did change this time, but even the special, latent abilities were higher than the past ones.

Originally, An Hyun's alignment was 'neutral', but now it has changed to 'Amity' and 'Moderation', which were more towards goodness. And this will influence the inner tendency of the An Hyun. It wasn't just that.

The stats growth was a total of 14 points, 2p in strength, 1p in resistance, 2 in vitality, and 9p in magic. Two after arriving at Mule, this could be considered as a double in the growth. Of course, the magic power has risen sharply due to rare class, but even then this can be considered remarkable as this was a double-digit rise.

And to be the Master of the lance, and the Hoshin Kangi, and that too in less than six months, it will be great that special ability and the latent one to bloom out. The Hoshin Kangi is in the low rank, but it is still a high level defense ability to defend from both the physical and the magic attacks. This was literally a huge benefit.

I was feeling a bit envious, but I couldn't think of stabbing my own conscience. I could have taken this ability of An Hyun's right then, and then I would've have got another EX rank. But, I decided to abandon that idea, and humbly congratulate the growth of An Hyun.

"Hyung."

"...yeah. Congratulations."

An Hyun was looking at me with a sweaty face. I just laughed brightly and congratulated him. An Hyun was still looking at me with teary eyes. I understood that he was overjoyed, so I was getting close to him to touch his shoulders, but he came running close to me.

"Hyung!!!"

An Hyun had done things like this once or twice, so I was able to anticipate it. So I looked at An Hyun with both my arms open wide and put a foot back for balance.

Just as I thought, he came to me.

“Then, I’m going to settle the total amount if the goods that we have obtained from the institute of the ruins.”

It was probably dark outside. It will be better to avoid going out in the Hall plane. It takes about three days from the ruins to reach the Mule. And being homeless on the way home is unavoidable, and being out alone should be avoided when going back at the night. Rather than now, starting in the early morning would be safe and helpful in many ways. And honestly, my physical condition wasn’t back to the normal state, so I wanted to recover a little.

I decided to organize the items from the institute and then go to sleep. This exploration is such a big hit. Especially when the things that they got before are added, then this could be considered as huge achievement.

Once you calculate the money, the gold were 480, and 8 ruby gems, that would be 100 gold. Therefore a total of 1280 gold will come.

Next, when I saw, there was an equipment, a bracelet that was made of mithril, that helps the mana flow, it belonged to An Hyun. A decorative dagger containing a small amount of mithril that Yoo-Jung had. A cloak named as ‘Block of Fire’ for Vivian. And a ring that increases 1 point, An Sol’s. and I had one anti magic ring that can be used 3 times in a day.

Then the heart of Asmodian, the Count of Asmodians, Belpegor, the sword Scrupp.

Lastly, a black lance from the secret room (rare ability) which increases the physical strength, a record of an ancient lancesmith, a glove of diminution, a pendent and then a necklace that Jung Ha Yeon found.

Jung Ha Yeon restored most of the items, and handed me the pendant and necklace. I have already confirmed the information using my 3rd eye, yet I listened to her speak in a patient manner.

“..... I’m sure about the necklace, but I don’t think that he pendant has any special features. The necklace is a good item. I’m not so sure..... so I’m trying to memorize. Anyway, it seems like this has some kind of magic in it. The necklace can store a total of 2 spells in it. And the moment one wants to shout the magic, the magic will come out immediately without the need to memorize. But a divine spell can’t be saved. But this is a magical item.”

It has a name, ‘glory necklace’. As said by Jung Ha Yeon, it is a necklace with memorize magic, this magic was almost extinct in the Hall Plane. This necklace is a good item, but Jung Ha yeon didn't respond much because this was not comparable to the rare class that An Hyun got.

And the pendant was literally just a pendent. It was completely useless. I wanted to break it down, but I couldn't because of the anxious face of An Sol. I thought of throwing it away later, so I pushed it into the corner.

"Huhuhu."

An Hyun was smiling a lot. And at times I like looking at the boy when he was so happy. He kept thanking me every time that I looked at him. Anyway, it was time to distribute the items that were found now. All of them were looking with anticipated faces.

I first pulled out the gloves and the records to An Hyun.

"An Hyun. Your lance is a little heavy right."

"Hhh. It is a lot heavier than the past one."

As I looked at the guy who was laughing uncontrollably I sighed and threw the gloves and the records to him.

"Earlier, as you may have heard from Jung Ha Yeon, the gloves have the effect of reducing the weight. It doesn't mean that the muscle strength will increase, it just reduces the weight of the object. And the record of the ancient times, it is probably related to the training with the lance. Once back to the city, ask Vivian to decipher it."

"I'm loyal to them!"

I looked at An Hyun, who was gathering the items that I had given to him with a very excited face. It was a bit too much of excitement for me to look at. I saw Shin Sang Yong, who was looking at An Hyun with envious eyes. And then Vivian, who was sitting behind him with a very distant face. At that moment, a thought ran through my mind.

The medicines. To cleanse the spirit of Vivian, the heart of Asmodian, magical harmony, an alchemist. Perhaps.

"Heing!"

"..... please stop now."

While I was in my thoughts, I kicked An Hyun who was teasing the others and shook my head. I could solve one puzzle, but I wasn't so sure of this idea, and it is hard to promise that it would succeed.

I decided to keep the necklace and the pendant for now. originally, I tried to give them to Vivian, but she refused as she used summoning magic. I thought that these would be better for Jung Ha Yeon. But I wasn't going to give it her now. I will think about it after I solve the relationship between me and her once we go back to Mule.

"Sheesh. This was solely..... a room for that guy An Hyun, isn't it?"

As I put the necklace and pendant away, I could hear the voice of Yoo-Jung, complaining. She seemed to be jealous, and was biting down on her lips. I thought of the sword Scrupp, but it wasn't time to hand it over.

The one who handled this sword was a dangerous guy. Even though I'm grateful to have it now, I will pass it only after I think the guy is worthy of it. Still, Yoo-Jung shoulders were shrunk, and seeing this even I felt a little disappointed. Anyway, I thought that id clear her feeling later, because it was her future that I was trying to look after.

As we were in the underground, there was very little risk of being attacked. Usually, An Hyun moved slowly when setting up the camp, but today he was more distracting than anyone else. But seeing at the looks of the other, thoughts were flooding into my mind. Yoo-Jung wasn't her cheerful self and An Hyun wasn't his calmed self, and then he called out.

"Hmm... Vivian? Come here."

"Huh? Why?"

An Hyun rarely called out to Vivian, so when she was called, she tilted her head. An Hyun opened her mouth with a more unorthodox box than before.

"Lets work well on the rare class. Put a sleeping bag right next to mine. And in the middle our hyung who possess the secret class will be in the middle."

At the end of his words, An Sol looked at An Hyun with face that said the expression no. Sol wasn't the only person. Jung Ha Yeon also had flustered faces. I was feeling very embarrassed inside, but still I wanted to enjoy the feeling.

After that, Yoo-Jung decided to fight with An Hyun for a while. They kept bickering and then we decided to have dinner. I decided to fall asleep early because I need to gt up at dawn tomorrow and I had left a little time to relax.

I buried myself in my sleeping bag and beside me I could see Vivian. Tomorrow we will start our journey back to Mule. Finally, I slowly closed my eyes thinking that I need recover and I had a lot to recover.
