Chapter 281: The Giant Wheel in the Distance

In the early morning, more construction materials were sent to the civil air defense project, including a large number of alloy sheets.

If someone asks, the Master Craftsman will say these plates to reinforce the civil air defense project.

Fortunately, no one has this leisure to ask.

Now all the equipment in the civil air defense project has been emptied, and in the future it will become an excellent warehouse for building materials.

The construction of the underground has been busy until 7:30 in the morning. When the employees came to work at the company, Ye Qing gave the work to the Master Craftsman.

After listening to the work of several managers, they face the construction site and rest in the mechanical engineering chair.

In the southeast corner of Zhongyun City, there is a fourth-largest international port in Jiangnan Province, located beside the boundless sea.

Zhongyun Port was a small port primarily intended for berthing passenger ships and fishing boats 30 years ago. After 30 years of development, there were four renowned national container companies with 327 berths and a 370,000 square meter public warehouse. It's a very large port.

A Panamax container ship is parked at the berth 91.

The freighter of the Yuantong Shipping Group consists of two container cranes that hoist one standard container.

At the entrance of the port, ten heavy-duty trucks carrying the Mechanical Colossus Type I were connected in a row. Waiting in line for the goods to exit the inspection.

After submitting a full set of export documents, the goods are inspected and completed. The Mechanical Colossus Type I entered the No. 91 berth and landed on the front deck of the freighter under the Yuantong Shipping Group.

"Sun Manager, I remember there were two such strange machines last time, and they took the other freighters of our group and exported them to Nigeria."

A man wearing a bright green jacket and holding an electronic manifest querier, while slightly plunging into the information, asked with emotion: "Nigeria, I heard there was some discomfort over."

"It is said that the Nsukka area, at the junction with the Anute area, found a large diamond mine. Now the warlords in the two places, in order to compete for the ownership of this diamond mine, are recruiting and liaising with international arms dealers."

"Anut area?" Sun's manager of Huaxing Heavy Industry's export trade suddenly remembered: "Our group's copper mine in Nigeria is in the Anute area. The last two mining equipments exported in the past Especially easy to use, our boss did not exported ten units in the past."

"Our group has sent more than 70 colleagues there, it is the local security company hired to maintain the safety of the mining area."

"It's all black guys with AK in their hands. According to their colleagues over there, these guys have United American desert combat uniforms and boots. Since they were hired, there has been no local theft in the mining area."

"What kind of American desert combat clothing is exported to Luohe by domestic clothing trade companies?" The man on board laughed dumbly and said: "Don't mention Anut, even the whole warlord of Nigeria, these clothes, boots, walkie-talkies, helmet and sunglasses are all products of our domestic manufacturers."

"The security company you said is 100% open by the warlords in the Anut area."

"It seems that the details are not clear to me." Manager Sun is faintly worried. Although the minerals are everywhere in Africa, it seems that the stones extracted from the mountains can be shipped out of the country for sale.

But in Africa, there are more famous things besides minerals and diamonds.

The war!

On that continent, except for a few countries with better economies. The rest of the place is simply synonymous with war. All warlords, armed groups, and gunshots sound more frequently than car horns.

"Don't think too much, the warlords can't hit you in the head either, and they won't hit you." The checker who checked the order, screamed: "What do they fight for the site, not for money?"

"Money is the friend of people all over the world. They want to turn minerals into money. Can't they count on us?"

"Even if your warlords are connected by other forces, you can't change your security company and continue to pay the security fee."

"The rules there have been fixed for decades. The more powerful warlords, the more they must maintain this rule. Offending a businessman is tantamount to offending all, and later there are ghost merchants doing business with them? They are waiting to take Bows and arrows, wear tree bark to fight."

"The real thing that comes out of the matter is that the local soldiers who have no brains are brave. These people naturally have warlords to clean them up."

"Moreover, our China is in that land, and the influence is much larger than that of a large number of European and American countries."

Sun Jing ideally thought, it is true.

"Then you have to take care of these mechanical giants, these are the treasures of our general Li."

"To ensure that even the lacquer can't be removed and safely arrive in the country of Nigeria."

.....

Nigeria.

Western Africa, a resource-exporting country with an Atlantic coastline, was listed on the list of the world's least developed countries as early as 30 years ago.

Although the domestic mineral resources are abundant, most of the mineral income is controlled by the warlords. And the ruling group and the income of the residents there is still in a very difficult state.

Port Harcourt is the only port in Nigeria is a large port that can berth over fifty thousand tons of large vessels and has container lifting equipment.

There is no doubt that Port Harcourt is also from the hands of China.

Built ten years ago, the Nigeria government did not spend a penny only to pay for a large aluminum mine.

The large port of the mining rights of 99 years.

A bulk cargo ship under the Yuantong Shipping Group is docked at the berth, allowing a large ore conveyor. Which is constantly flowing into the cabin, delivering a high-quality copper mine with a golden size.

Nearly 20,000 tons of copper ore have been installed in the bulk of the bulk carrier.

These copper mines were collected from the Anute area, 300 kilometers away. Since the entry of the Bronze Age from the Stone Age, copper has been well known and used.

Especially in the period of rapid development of modern industry, copper is the core hardware of electricity.

It is a pity that there is a shortage of copper in China. At present, copper deposits with proven reserves are mostly inferior copper mines with low copper content or many metal associated ore.

If you don't buy it, 70% of the copper mines mined in the entire Nigeria country will be shipped to China.

In particular, the copper mine in the Anute area has always been famous for its high grade and low sulphide content.

Now these mouth-watering copper mines call Ye Qing's eyes.

A total of 33,000 tons.

When the night is over, the copper mine is fully loaded and the bulk carrier will sail and sail. And the copper mine will be sent to Ye Qing.

Chapter 282: Underground

Ye Qing was awakened by a soft knock on the door. After watching the time, he found he slept for three hours.

"Please come in." Ye Qing blinked and adjusted the mechanical engineering chair into a sitting position.

Pushing the door in, the sales manager Kong Tao. Ye Qing saw him holding hot tea in one hand and holding a document in one hand.

"Boss, lunch at the cafeteria is ready."

"And this is our sales department, just sorted out the product sales form for this month."

"Ok?"

Ye Qing drank the hot tea: "These things are just right to check with the finance side. If there is no mistake, you don't have to take it to me."

"Checked, just..." Kong Tao took out two forms and placed them in front of Ye Qing's office: "According to our sales department, sales of mechanical engineering chairs this month have decreased by 10% compared with last month."

"So much?"

"What caused the investigation?"

"It's not the reason for our company. The reputation of these two products has been very good." Kong Tao frowned and said: "According to the analysis, our two products market is gradually saturated."

"In fact, from the statistics of the first two months, the sales of mechanical engineering chairs in the domestic market have gradually shown a steady downward trend."

"Fortunately, the high-end engineering chair market in foreign countries has gradually opened up. Recently, some foreign trade companies can order hundreds of mechanical engineering chairs to export to overseas. ["Love to go to the small." said the net w w w. Ai Qu]"

Kong Tao is in the company and belongs to older employees.

He is mature, highly educated and proficient in three foreign languages.

As the saying goes, it is not a good soldier who does not want to be a general. In the prospective company of Monster Heavy Industry.

It is the thinking of most people to work hard, create a higher performance for the company and strive for further progress.

The performance of the sales department naturally wants more product sales.

The performance of the two consecutive months has declined.

let Kong Tao feels very depressed inside, even if this responsibility is not with him.

"I remember that the domestic mechanical engineering chair has sold more than 20,000 pieces." Ye Qing smiled and comforted him, saying: "if you want to spend eighty-eight thousand Yuan more. There are only a few local heroes who buy a chair."

"Domestic sales are gradually declining, which is something that manpower can't change."

"In addition to the new products to be launched soon, the Heavy Monster will gradually choose to focus on market development abroad."

Said here, Ye Qing got up and let Kong Tao go to the canteen for lunch with him.

On the way, Ye Qing added: "You and the network department of the Propaganda Department will unite together, and then transfer some English-speaking employees from the company. Whenever you are okay, go to major video websites and forums abroad, and upload some performance videos of mechanical engineering chairs. English subtitles."

"Generally, the developed countries, there are certainly many local tyrants who like to pursue the quality of life."

Kong Tao nodded and agreed with the proposal.

Now is the Internet Society, and the hearts of netizens are very strange. They don't trust advertising, but they can easily believe those mysterious users who seem to experience the experience, and then post pictures and endorsements for the product.

Several employees in the company have studied abroad. As long as they imitate the hearts of foreign netizens, there will be no small gains.

"Right, Xu Ning Gong's [she from the aliens] movie, when is it released?"

Came to the company cafeteria, Ye Qing and several managers sat down to eat.

Although he is one of the investors in this film, there are too many things. Xu Ning Gong told him that it was not for a long time before Ye Qing forgot.

"On October 2nd, the national release, the first is the National Day, the national holiday, the box office is definitely hot."

"Overseas screening is scheduled for the 7th, director Ding for this film, Ye Qing heard the family has been taken out to pave the way, just to be released in the National Day gold file, it will pay no small price."

"There is still one month and three days..."

Ye Qing picked up a fragrant rib and put it in the mouth. It was vague: "The previous propaganda film is absolutely good, and it has laid the foundation for the box office. I think the overseas box office is not bad. Our company is trying to release it in the movie. The audience knows the behemoth. Before the Monster work's LOGO, a new product will be launched."

Several managers turned their heads to chicken glutinous rice, and they looked forward to what kind of new products Ye Qing would introduce compared to the movie.

At noon, Ye Qing has five dishes and one soup. There are more people, and its meal will become fragrant.

When Ye Qing waits until Yang Baiho helps him add a second bowl of rice. On the defense project site, the responsible for the construction of the industrial base secret passage. The exquisite master called.

"Boss, the vertical channel has been excavated to a predetermined depth, and the second construction step can be carried out." The master said whispered.

Ye Qing sighed and said he had finished eating lunch.

Half an hour later, Ye Qing appeared on the defense project site. He put on the rain boots again, went down to the bottom of the pit. With the orange top lighting, he is stepping on the muddy ground and come to the steel chamber in the center of the pit.

In the steel room of 20 square meters, there is a black hole with a diameter of eight meters and welded with alloy steel pipes.

The cave is deep and people with a fear of heights come to the side, dizzy and the thighs are the only ending.

On the side of the alloy-reinforced cave, a high-pressure water pump placed at the bottom and connected to the outside with steel pipes is constantly draining the water from the bottom of the cave.

There is also an air pump of the same structure, which is pumping air into the bottom of the hole.

"Please stay later... Slow down."

"Good boss." The ingenious master standing quietly nodded.

The top crane slowly descended, and the steel basket descended to the ground. Ye Qing regained his nervousness and then stepped into the basket with his feet.

"Hum ~ hum ~"

As the motor runs, the altitude of Ye Qing is gradually reduced.

Negative 40 meters... Negative 50 meters... Negative 90 meters...

Ye Qing's eyes were dark, and his ears gradually became very quiet. He was far away from the hustle and bustle of the city. Away from any light source.

Only the darkness makes the heart tremble, and the scalp numbs dark.

Fortunately, this process was not too long. After one minute, the hanging basket slowly stopped and was attached to the bottom of the cave without hesitation.

Here, the distance from the Zhongyun surface is already 120 meters deep.

Ye Qing immediately took out the mobile phone lighting, and by the way, also put a song of Xu Ning Gong to add some fun to his ears.

The flash shines in a circle, and the bottom of the cave has 30 square meters and the surrounding is covered with muddy soil, which is chocolate-like dark brown.

Angry miners squat in the corner and the big orange eyes are under the lights, giving off a chilling green light.

Ye Qing nodded and pulled out the monster factory phone.

The white mist is diffused, and a streamlined type has a sci-fi track and a multi-function robotic arm. The lord chariot of the high-frequency cutting knife appears at the bottom of the cave.

Chapter 283: Strange sounds in the depths

The white haze is diffuse, and a simplified type of science fiction with a multi-function robotic arm appears. The Lord's chariot of the high-frequency cutting knife is at the bottom of the cave.

All the searchlights on the Lord's Chariot are turned on, illuminating the entire cave.

Ye Qing recruited a Master Craftsman and unfolded a triangular-shaped model drawing on the light of the Lord's chariot.

"I plan to build three floors of the whole industrial base." Ye Qing's Master Craftsman beckoned: "come here and have a look. What kind of support is the best support for the whole building?"

In fact, when the alloy material is used as a whole and concrete is poured, the industrial base will not collapse without any support.

But whether it is in architecture or the industrial sector.

The word "qualified" has never been the pursuit of the industry.

For example, a bullet-proof insert board can resist at close-range shooting that is qualified. But who can guarantee that the bullet hit it must be 7:62 mm caliber?

In case of being hit by a sniper rifle or an anti-equipment rifle?

By the same token, a building is only stable. So, in case of an earthquake or an attack, wouldn't you be blind?

Greed is the biggest driving force for technological progress and the source of the best products.

Therefore, Ye Qing naturally wants to make the industrial base a secret fortress for the impregnable.

The third floor; the first layer is used for the production and research and development of large-scale industrial products, the second layer is used for laboratory-like functions, and the third layer is the refuge floor with complete life security settings, which can independently let Ye Qing live for more than half a year.

The three caves of Rex Rabbit, it is reasonable to say there is a refuge layer, it is best to have a secret escape route.

However, the cost of building that thing is too high. He really wants to be trapped in the ground. Ye Qing calls out angry miners to dig slowly.

The Master Craftsman added eight load-bearing walls to the base, and the bottom refuge layer, according to the most reasonable space, planned equipment placement.

Whether the structure is designed or not, the bottom of the cave should be expanded again.

The central main pillar that takes into account the function of the elevator.

Go all the way to the bottom rock layer. According to the early geological data provided by the Bureau of Land and Resources, the rock formation is 110 meters to 130 meters below the city center.

The lord's chariot was started by Ye Qing, preparing the angry miners to dig together.

Ye Qing is ready to dig into the rock layer, and then the industrial base will regard it as a bearing layer.

This time, Ye Qing personally sat in the lord's chariot.

If the shape is not too weird, the Lord Chariot is definitely one of the most suitable means of transportation for private use.

Waterway amphibious, with independent support equipment, rich retrofit features, and incredible cabin protection glass. Sitting here, even if you accidentally collapsed the cave, Ye Qing can slowly drill to the surface by the Lord's chariot.

The high-frequency cutting blade is activated, and the cutting blade has an amplitude of thousands of times per second. The cutting soil is exactly equal to the cutting air.

Over there, the angry miner turned into a pangolin and the forelimbs madly smashed the dirt, and soon the whole body was drilled into the soil.

The overhead crane is also carrying the soil at a time, with a capacity of 20 tons and a round trip in five minutes.

Focus on work, time is always fast.

When the crane had been carrying thousands of tons of soil, Ye Qing drove the lord chariot and repeated many times the cutting operations.

The high-frequency cutting knife inserted into the soil suddenly came with a different sense of stickiness.

There is something in the soil below!

Ye Qing suddenly came to the spirit and quickly cleaned up the dirt in front.

A dark brown barren stone wall appeared in front of Ye Qing's eyes. The stone wall was uneven, and the mouth was just cut by the cutting knife. At this time, there was a slight water stain.

This knife seems to be cut on a living rock, and the clear water is its blood.

Stopping the high-frequency cutting knife, Ye Qing opened the door of the Lord's chariot and smashed a scorpion outside the slope.

"I came to the boss." The Master Craftsman hurriedly ran into the bottom of the slope and saw the rock at first glance and said: "Boss, this should be the rock layer of the underground."

"How many meters are there from the grounds?"

"133 meters."

"That's right, the rock layer marked on the geological data of the Bureau of Land and Resources is also this depth."

Ye Qing claps his hands. If he thought well: "The rock layer is the most stable bearing layer of all foundations. They have incompressibility, and the foundation is hit here without worrying about the uneven fall of the building."

"If the depth of the rock is set in a certain depth, the building's ability to resist overturning and slipping will be greatly improved."

"Shh ~"

All of a sudden, the Master Craftsman made a squeaking action. Then he took some steps to make Ye Qing's heart hair and gently came to the rock layer at the end.

The master of the master is kneeling on the ground, his ears clinging to the rock layer, and he seems to be listening.

"I... I don't scare me by you!"

Standing 133 meters underground, if you are alone even if the special forces are coming. You will collapse in the dark and dead environment. The master of delicacy has put on a posture of movement and stillness in the stone.

Ye Qing's heart must be pulled out.

"Boss, there is a movement behind the rock." The fine master grinned and said Ye Qing could come and listen.

"What...something?" Ye Qing has jumped into the lord's chariot.

"The sound of water, the sound of flowing water."

"You scared me, dog." Ye Qing constantly smoothed the beating heart, jumped out of the car again, and motioned to Master Craftsman not to speak.

Stopping communication, it seems that the whole world is silent, and Ye Qing listens calmly and listens.

"Dong Dong ~ Dong Dong ~ Dong Dong ~"

The first sound printed into the eardrum is the strong beating of the heart, followed by an imperceptible but real noise of water flow.

Ye Qing also learned from the Master Craftsman, lying on the rock.

The more vivid sound of the water is singing as if under the rock, there is a dark river hidden by unknown people.

"No!" Ye Qing holds his head, how can there be a dark river in the underground?

The Master Craftsman of this problem can't answer. He is invincible in the field of industrial processing, and his knowledge of geography is even whiter than Ye Qing.

Although Ye Qing went to university, he did not major in geography. He also knew that underground rivers usually existed only in mountainous areas. In the plain area, because of the small difference in terrain, it is unable to meet the requirements of underground dark river flow. So, it is difficult to form a dark river.

It may not be the underground dark river. Ye Qing remembers going to school. Geography teachers once said that during the evolution of the earth in the billions of years, there have been many cracks, gaps, and reservoirs in the rock layer.

A large amount of groundwater in the space of these rocks is a very pure natural source of water, as long as it is not present in minerals or coal seams.

Chapter 284: Dont have a hole in the sky

The water that now appears in this rock, in addition to the underground dark river, may also be the water in the natural void of the rock.

No wonder that the rock will slowly pick up the water stains.

Ye Qing decided to cut the rock and explore what was hidden inside.

After all, Ye Qing wants to build an underground industrial base here. If the size of the water layer below is too large, Ye Qing will change the design.

Let the Masters Craftsmen also sit on the co-pilot of the Lord's Chariot. Ye Qing controls the multi-function boom and slowly rotates a coin with a high-speed rotary drill bit to the rock layer.

Some groundwater layers, because of the pressure, ruin the shell, causing groundwater blowout.

Coin roughs drill bit, even if there is a phenomenon of groundwater blowout, it is not a concern to worry about.

After the drill bit fell into the half-meter deep rock, Ye Qing pulled out the drill bit and found that it did not spray groundwater.

Turning off the machine, the sound of the water flowing underneath is more obvious.

The Lord's chariot made a hole at an oblique angle. Now it's twenty meters away from the main support column. Ye Qing called the angry miner to work with him to clean up the rock.

Half an hour later, more than twenty square meters of rock layers were cleared.

In order to prevent the collapse of the top. Ye Qing also deliberately purchased several cheap mechanical types of equipment from the monster factory to serve as a temporary support column.

Ye Qing starts the high-frequency cutting knife, and controls it along the taupe rock, neatly cutting out the circle that just fits the lord's chariot.

Cut the round stone cover into four pieces and transport it to the outside. Ye Qing and the Masters Craftsmen together stunned and looked at the bottom, and the scene was illuminated by the light.

Hidden but beautiful place!

It is true there is a different world!

Appeared in front of Ye Qing's eyes, it is a five-meter-wide, crystal-clear, underground river with extremely fine sand.

The flow of the dark river is slow, and no one knows where it goes.

Ye Qing's high-hanging heart finally fell. This dark river is only five meters wide and hidden in the rock layer. It will not affect the construction of the main support column 20 meters away.

In order to explore the scale and direction of this dark river. Ye Qing took out the mobile phone of the monster factory, and remotely let the lord chariot slam the sound and drilled into the dark river.

The water jet propeller reversed, and the Lord's chariot walked less than two kilometers and fell into a pathless place.

The dark river squats upwards and becomes narrower. According to the returned picture, Ye Qing can see that at the end of the light, the dark river has become many small tributaries.

This shows that the source of this dark river flow is the formation of many groundwater tributaries. Unlike high-altitude mountainous areas. Those underground rivers are often made up of surface streams and under the influence of the drop. They cross the mountains and rush.

It was just raining the first two days, and the rain and groundwater slowly infiltrated and gathered here. If it is changed to a dry and rainy season, this dark river will mostly suffocate and become a natural rock passage.

Ye Qing controls the Lord's chariot to move forward and back, then move forward.

The panoramic camera passed back the picture that made Ye Qing shocked. As the distance became farther and farther, the position became deeper and deeper. This year, Ye Qing doesn't know how many years of natural dark rivers existed, and Ye Qing thoroughly showed what is the magic of nature.

In the quiet river channel, it is covered with dusty sand and walks a kilometer forward, when the lord chariot is at a depth of 200 meters.

A huge gap in the rock layer was finally unveiled for the first time by humans.

The area here is amazing, the rock is soaked, and after all the immersion of groundwater for thousands of years. It turns into grayish-white.

The water is pure enough to not exist, even if it is more than 20 meters away from the fine sand layer underneath, it can still be seen clearly.

After counting the passage, the Lord's chariot followed a circle and found four similar dark river passages.

The widest dark river channel was selected and the lord chariot was driven along four kilometers before the road was cut off.

This... This is the greatest reward that the gods have given to the warriors who have been here for hundreds of millions of years.

Originally, Ye Qing was still worried about the lack of escape routes.

Who knows he sent him a big gift bag or a VIP spree.

The dark river under his feet swayed from west to east, and after reaching the huge rock layer. There were several similar dark river passages that could accommodate the passage of the Lord's chariot.

As long as Ye Qing find a winding river course towards the East, and he digs and transforms it in the end. A pure natural escape channel will be fresh.

Ye Qing can stand in the invincible country. Regardless of the ability of his enemy, he can not have the technology and skills to build a submarine for a depth of 100 meters.

If there are aquatic monsters to recruit in the future, the huge rock gap will be their perfect home.

The Lord's chariot was recalled and summoned at Ye Qing's feet. He was nervous and inspiring, carrying data glasses and riding in with a three-dimensional camera to ride in.

Take a three-dimensional model of the entire rock void!

When he went there to experience it, Ye Qing's senses were strongly impacted. The cold and the darkness coexisted, and the huge gap filled with pure water was like a place where there was no earth but a strange place in people's imagination.

The strange rock shape exudes endless desolation and long-lasting taste.

After conquering space and conquering the world's deepest trenches. How can he think of it, under the bustling city, still harbor such a strange place?

.....

The night sky is vast, and the ground is dimly lit.

Ye Qing returned to the ground by a crane and it was already two o'clock in the middle of the night.

The first thing to drive back to Longxitan, Ye Qing is to import the 3D drawings there into the computer.

Ye Qing, who was completely shocked, was not sleepy. He planned the technical facilities of the underground industrial base on the drawings.

He found a huge gap in the rock layer, in addition to the necessary escape channels, have a fall also helped Ye Qing solve several major problems.

Where a large amount of pure water is stored there, then Ye Qing can fully obtain sufficient oxygen and hydrogen through electrolysis technology. Using positive and negative direct current, electrolyzed water.

With water and oxygen, underground industrial bases can still operate for a long time in the event of power outages.

And power generation!

Energy is conserved, and it is a very ridiculous idea to expect to electrolyze water and get hydrogen and oxygen to generate electricity from fuel.

Therefore, Ye Qing plans a set of perpetual motion machines that do not require fuel to generate electricity.

The seemingly least likely idea is the easiest to implement, as long as you use your brain.

The problem of several generator sets, the Lord's chariot is called out, and it is enough to turn it. Even if the angry miners come, it is the gold coin.

Chapter 285: Damage to the Mechanical Colossus Type I.

In an excited state, it is not always easy to fall asleep.

Planning for two hours on the drawings, Ye Qing returned to the rest-room on the side of the office.

The sky was just bright, and Ye Qing was fascinated.

Accurately, it was frozen and awake. Ye Qing only covered with a thin layer of silk blanket. When the sea breeze was blown in the morning, he almost thought that someone had turned the air conditioner into sixteen degrees.

He looked over the weather forecast of the mobile phone. Today, the temperature is only fifteen to twenty-three degrees.

He switched the air conditioner into the warmth and continued to sleep. At 9 o'clock in the morning, Ye Qing got up and went to the closet to find a jacket.

Today, in addition to the long sleeves, he has to wear a jacket for morning and evening wear. Just a few sets of designer suits hanging in the closet, the rest of the jackets are the old ones bought in the previous two years.

It's not that Ye Qing is fond of the new and loathes the old. Half a year ago, his most expensive jacket didn't break. Now the cufflinks on a suit are no less than three thousand Yuan.

This is not a problem of not loading, but money is not spent on moldy mold?

He was counting on where to buy a few jackets, and the phone rang.

The number is Xiao Jun, the chief designer of the Chronicle Studio. Ye Qing connected the phone and made a fuss: "Mr. Xiao is early!"

"Mr. Ye, your building shape design has been done!"

The designer Xiao Jun's voice was a little excited: "We made a 1:500 building model and sent it to the building wind tunnel laboratory since two days ago. The data came out yesterday afternoon, and the building's shape can successfully break the wind vortex regardless of the angle and avoid the resonance in the building."

"That said, I am very talented in architectural design?"

"This..." Xiao Jun, the designer, said: "there are still some design talents of Mr. Ye. It's just that in order to have an aesthetic feeling, the building still suffers some losses in the aspect of wind resistance."

The shape is not compact enough, regardless of the cost of high strength, it is natural that there is no need to compromise too much to the wind resistance.

"Mr. Ye, this week, our studio will begin to work overtime to design the support structure of the building. The complete building drawings include construction, structure, facilities, electrical, fire, and outdoor pipe network, it will take two months."

With the support structure drawings, all pile foundation construction of the foundation can be carried out.

The construction of the foundation took a long time. When the foundation was partially completed, the complete set of drawings of the building could almost come out.

These few messages also made Ye Qing feel happy.

"Mr. Ye, I will let the staff send the drawings to you later." Designer Xiao Jun laughed twice: "Yes, Mr. Ye, do you have time in the afternoon?"

"On my side... I have an industrial problem. I would like to ask you."

Ye Qing said that if there is time and the problem is not serious, he would just say it on the phone.

"It's not clear on the phone. I'll take my things to Zhongyun in the afternoon and ask you face to face."

Thinking about it, Ye Qing asked him not to come.

Just as the weather is getting colder, Ye Qing plans to buy some autumn clothes. And the magic is still in the sea, almost all the luxury brands in the world, and the latest styles.

Today, he went to Shanghai's top luxury store to make a big purchase.

For the industrial problems encountered by the designer Xiao Jun, Ye Qing asked the Master Craftsman to see it.

When Xiao Jun heard Ye Qing say that he wanted to go to Shanghai. Xiao Jun, the designer, applauded the phone and told him that he owed to guest him to eat at noon at the most delicious restaurant in Shanghai.

Hanging up the phone, Ye Qing purses his lips and thought for a few seconds, then called Bai Dour.

Whether it's food or luxury shopping, it's a bit boring for a big man to go. If he calls up Bai Dour, Ye Qing believes that her opinions on clothing matching must be higher than her own.

"What!..."

"Ye Big Brother ..." she heard Ye Qing wants to ask her to eat food and go shopping, and she squatted like a sheep. The voice revealed some small grievances: "I went to the city of Heba in Huizhou at 7:00 in the morning to go there to shoot food. The show will be back soon tomorrow."

"Okay!" Ye Qing sighed. "So I will go shopping alone."

This sigh hurts Bai Dour. If she knows how to drive, I'm not sure she drops the guy who's already asked for the camera and asks the driver to sit in the back and turn to Zhongyun.

Do you want to say that the male and female IQ in love is negative?

This has not yet reached the steps of male and female friends. She has already felt that she can't accompany Ye Qing to go shopping, and she feels full of embarrassment.

"Ye Big Brother, when you go shopping to buy clothes, we come to the video." She quickly came up with a way to make up for it: "This way I can give you a reference on the video side."

"When I arrive, what do you think is good, I will buy one!"

Ye Qing plans to go to Shanghai at ten o'clock, and Xiao Jun, the chief designer of the Chronicle Studio and the Master Craftsmen will work hard.

Ye Qing just put on a coat and go out of the door, he first drove to the company, ready to listen to the manager's report.

A pure black Rolls Royce phantom, almost arrived at the same time with Ye Qing arrived downstairs.

The phantom flashed the headlights to Ye Qing, and Ye Qing also flashed at it.

Ye Qing recognized this car. He is the chairman of Huaxing Heavy Industry, Li Huaxing, the constellation driver.

When Ye Qing got off the car, the Rolls-Royce door also opened, and Li Huaxing, wearing a brown casual jacket, quickly got off.

The two men with strong gas fields, who also walked down from the luxury cars, instantly harvested all the sights of nearby pedestrians.

If it is hard to be cruelly divided, then the young Ye Qing will be paid more attention.

"Chairman Li, what thing trouble you, you come here in person?"

"Ah ~ ah ~ ah ~"

Li Huaxing's face was tangled and annoyed. While walking towards Ye Qing, he said, "I have trouble, Nigeria has troubles."

"Half a month ago, I ordered three Mechanical Colossus Type I from the Monster Heavy Industry?"

"Now the other ten are also drifting in the sea. In ten days, they will also arrive in Nigeria to participate in copper mining."

"The three Mechanical Colossus Type I, one is broken."

"It's completely broken." Going to Ye Qing, Li Huaxing sighed and shook his head: "I blame me. I shouldn't be soft in the first place."

Ye Qing is completely confused. What? the Mechanical Colossus Type I is totally broken? Blame him, Li Huaxing?

Chapter 286: The Monsters Going Abroad.

"The Mechanical Colossus Type I smashed a rocket?" Ye Qing's eyes are wide open.

At the beginning of the design, the Mechanical Colossus Type I has considered the impact, vibration, wading, dustproof, antifreeze and so on under almost all natural conditions and in complex environments.

But never considered rocket attacks!

After decades of warfare with rockets, rockets have developed into a powerful weapon.

Especially against armored targets.

With the hollow charge warhead, the power of the front-end metal jet is extremely terrifying, and the armored vehicle in front of it is not much better than the paper paste.

With a series of armor-piercing warheads, you can even break more than half of the active tank side and rear armor.

Modern tanks are compound armor, plus reactive armor.

The Mechanical Colossus Type I re-alloy, can't go to the tank than the hardness, because this is completely two design ideas.

"The rocket hit the right arm of the Mechanical Colossus Type I and hit a big hole in the bowl." Li Huaxing asked the driver to take a tablet and release the picture inside and watched Ye Qing.

There is a total of five pictures. I saw a smoked fire scorpion on the middle arm of the immature of the Mechanical Colossus Type I, surrounded by broken holes with fire-cut burning marks.

Inside the broken port, the hydraulic rod and the mechanical transmission structure, the melted metal jet completely penetrates into the sieve. Even the thick alloy casing on the back was almost pierced.

This is the hollow charge warhead. In geotechnical engineering, a similar structure of charge is used to drill the rock.

"President Lee, Nigeria looks like it is very unsafe. You can dig a ditch, and you can be attacked by rockets."

If this happens in China, I am afraid it has become an international headline.

But Nigeria, it seems to be a trivial little thing.

"Each warlord control area, or government-controlled area, as long as the local security company is hired, the law and order are still guaranteed." Li Huaxing sighed: "This year the business is difficult to do, mining ore smelting copper mine is a steady profit. Buying and selling, don't do it."

"This time, it was mainly they who opened the canal to the edge of the Nsukka area."

"I've already talked to general Mopu in the Enugu area by phone. I can borrow the equipment later. I can find the driver myself. We won't go there at all."

"It's just that the Mechanical Colossus Type I has been damaged. We have no technical repairs. We can only ask for help."

"The middle section of the robotic arm needs to be replaced." Ye Qing looked at the picture and meditated: "Simple welding and replacement of parts have no meaning. High-temperature metal jets have already ruined the overall strength of the metal."

"We can transport the mechanical arm parts by air, and just our workers, can you replace them yourself?"

"No, seventeen non-standard tools are required for the replacement of the arm, and the hydraulic rod and the connecting rod inside the table need to be reset."

At present, Ye Qing is training the company's workers to adapt the technology of the Mechanical Colossus Type I, but the training has just begun. The replacement of the Mechanical Colossus Type I robotic arm must be guided by the monsters.

This difficulty is definitely known to Li Huaxing, who is a mechanical engineer.

Otherwise, he will not come in person and tell Ye Qing the news. The purpose of his coming is also to invite a technician to fly to Nigeria.

"I will send a technician to the future, but his life safety must be guaranteed."

"There will be no problems. The copper mine area is located in the hinterland of the Enugu area. The entrance and exit are also guarded by the security personnel of the mining area." Li Huaxing slammed the chest.

The flight is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Ye Qing is ready to send a Master Craftsman in the future. Anyway, there are ID cards and account books that are faked and exchanged. There is no problem in handling passports abroad.

And after wearing the camouflage overalls, the Master Craftsman is a cold-looking young male, which is in line with the technician image.

The passport is handled by Li Huaxing, and it takes four days to travel.

After saying goodbye to Li Huaxing, Ye Qing went to the company to listen to the managers reporting their works, and let the giants work hard. And to carry the Master Craftsmen to Shanghai.

Ye Qing is so busy that he doesn't even have time to drive. He is sitting in the back seat, using the monster factory mobile phone to control the lord's chariot, and expanding the underground base space with the angry miners.

Because of the close proximity to the gap between the rock layers, the groundwater here is very permeable, the groundwater penetration is very strong. As space expands, angry miners follow monkeys rolling in the mud, and the drainage pumps are increased to three.

At 11 o'clock noon, the underground industrial base carried out the first 20-meter-long, four-meter wide alloy outer wall welding work.

The upper chamber is 22 meters high and 20 meters from the outer wall of the alloy. The angry miners can transport five pieces at a time.

During the time of waiting for reaching in Shanghai City, the alloy façade with high rust performance has been welded by the Lord's chariot by 13 pieces.

This is just a meal, designer Xiao Jun sat in an Audi waiting for Ye Qing at the exit of the expressway.

"Ha ha ~ Zhongyun's man is tired. He must be hungry." With a pigtail, Xiao Jun, who has a very artistic style came up with a warm and shook hands enthusiastically: "if you want to ask me about your problems, let's not talk about them. I'll take you to a restaurant. It's too delicious here."

"You don't believe it. It's just the most common variety of grass chicken. It tastes like that." When it comes to the delicious food at noon, Xiao Jun is not free to swallow his saliva. Don't laugh at me for a pair. Mr. Ye. wait for me to eat. After that, you also have a pretty expression with a grin.

Xiao Jun in the Audi took the lead in front and passed through the dazzling viaduct. I didn't know how many crazy traffic lights passed by and finally got into the alley of the imitation of the Republic of China.

[To the restaurant].

This is a red brick small ocean building, imitation of the bluestone road, the signboard at the door is also very nostalgic, but also very beach style.

"There are some places where the foreign license plate is restricted, and they have a little roundabout." When he got off the car, Xiao Jun called Ye Qing to go to the restaurant. He was embarrassed and said with a smile: "The time has been delayed, but the late arrival is also good. We can't make an appointment here. We don't have to wait too long."

Through the glass, Ye Qing was scared by the pressure inside the black on his head.

This is also called the line that does not have to wait too long?

Inside the door, it is not the most common restaurant hall, but to walk along the side channel.

The passages are lined with tall carved wooden frames, and the shelves are layered with antique, old yellow clay altars.

This time, Ye Qing is really scared!

The old yellow clay altar is not wine, not the old altar pickles, but a rooster that only looks out of the jar and reveals his head.

These cocks look so curious and funny, they don't have any feathers in their necks, and the shiny cocks are shaking.

"Whoa, whoa, whoa, whoa"

Two or three hundred cocks were all looking at each other.

When Xiao Jun and Ye Qing saw the aisle, they twitched like a rattle, and they were drunk.

"Why don't they grow chicken feathers?"

Chapter 287: The temperament designer.

"Why don't they have feathers?" Ye Qing asked like all the people who came here for the first time. A repeated question in the restaurant.

Pheasant is also the meaning of chicken in ancient Chinese, and it is very suitable for this name.

But give Ye Qing another ten years, and he also did not expect there will be this kind of bright chicken without long feathers.

"Ha ha ~"

Ye Qing looked confused and made Xiao Jun laugh very proudly, and vanity was completely satisfied.

"Because this jar chicken is the biggest sign of this restaurant, it is natural to be different."

"This cock was carefully raised in the mountains when he was young. When he was about to be slaughtered, he put it in the jar and soaked it in secret sesame oil."

"You can soak the chicken feathers in a day, then dump the sesame oil and move here. For a whole week, you only feed the spring water mixed with wine."

"Chicken is an ordinary chicken, but the way it is grown is extremely cumbersome."

Xiao Jun's recollected look: "The signature dish in this restaurant, I haven't known how many times I have eaten it, but I'm not tired of it."

Ye Qing did not hold back, took out the phone and took a few photos of them without the chicken feathers, and then sent the phone to the pocket.

Through the corridor and into the interior of the restaurant, Ye Qing and Xiao Jun waited for twenty minutes for finding a seat.

Ye Qing saw a circle of guests at the table, and all the dishes were ordered.

"Two jar chickens, seasonal fried vegetables, two portions, crab powder tofu, squirreelfish, and a bottle of black stone." Xiao Jun is familiar with the menu and doesn't look at it.

"Okay, please wait a moment." The waiter smiled and wrote down the menu.

A jar chicken is eighty-eight Yuan. The price of this meal is about three thousand Yuan. It's not expensive, but it is obviously not cheap for two people to eat for three thousand Yuan. The most important thing in this place is the five-star hotel is not better at all, this place has its own characteristics. No matter how good a five-star hotel is, there are so many hotels all over the country.

Taking advantage of the chef was preparing the dishes. Xiao Jun came over with some mysterious sorrow and said that after eating, he would take Ye Qing to a place.

Usually, a business partner at the dinner table, in this tone. Whispered that he would go to a certain place after dinner.

That is usually a good place, and only where men go.

Unfortunately, Xiao Jun is not such a person. He told Ye Qing that the place to go is related to the problem of helping Ye Qing.

Originally, Xiao Jun was preparing to bring the materials to Zhongyun. Now Ye Qing came to Shanghai and went directly to the location of the naturally more intuitive problem.

Ten minutes later, two gold-plated porcelain jars were sent by the waiter in the dining table.

The shape of the porcelain jar is quite chic. It is divided into upper and lower layers. The upper layer is a small dish like a steamer. The inside is neatly placed with a layer of crispy chicken. The bottom layer is milky white, with several large bones. A thick soup made with supplementary ingredients.

A scent that allows the population to taste the taste of the buds, spread out from the porcelain jar.

Xiao Jun swept his mouth with his tongue, and Ye Qing couldn't help but take a long breath and gave positive praise.

The black stone door Kumon was also opened. Xiao Jun gave Ye Qing a cup full of wine, saying the Shikumen wine with the jar chicken is the most delicious.

"Oh, I see you have a little pigtail, I thought you usually drink coffee and smoke cigars in a Shanghai-style on a daily basis." Ye Qing takes a piece of chicken with crispy skin and placed it in the mouth and bitten down. He feels it is not chicken at all, but a different flavor composed of fresh and juicy.

It also has a touch of wine and a scent that makes people feel slightly numb.

Two kinds of vegetables and crabmeat tofu are also delicious, but they are worse than the last time they tasted in Jinxi.

After a few glasses of wine, Xiao Jun's words gradually increased.

The industrial base often determines the height of the building. The two have their own connections. Xiao Jun talked while eating and seized the opportunity to ask Ye Qing about some metal materials.

His question is also quite new. For example, he asked if the metal can be plated, can it be plated with metal on the ground?

And now the building decoration likes to use the plaster line to make the flower shape. Can it be done with metal lines, like the chrome-plated bright strip of the car?

As a leading architect in China, Xiao Jun's questions are an impact on the traditional decoration field.

"As long as you don't care about the cost, do what you say, there is not much technical problem." A plate of chicken was eaten by Ye Qing, and the small dish was removed. Ye Qing began to taste the soup again.

The chicken soup is delicious, and the bones inside are equally crisp. Ye Qing accidentally bits a piece of bone and feels like eating crisp bone.

No matter how brittle the bones are, they are also bones.

Ye Qing discards the bone that has been cut in two and continues to solve Xiao Jun's puzzles. At the same time, he still silently resolved the various ideas put forward by Xiao Jun.

Needless to say, these ideas can be applied to the Monster Heavy Industry Building.

Just chatting and chatting...

Ye Qing's eyes slowly shifted to the bone of the chicken that was cut into half.

Ye Qing was puzzled and then turned into a fit of hidden anger.

This meal is Xiaojun's invitation. Ye Qing naturally wants to save some face to Xiao Jun. Even if he finds something, he can't say it and will see it immediately.

Ye Qing didn't know that the chicken was eaten before, and now the chicken soup in the porcelain jar, Ye Qing will definitely not touch again.

The joy that Xiao Jun envisioned did not notice the subtle expression changes on Ye Qing's face. He sipped a bit of soup and sipped a lot of soup from time to time, saying it was a big supplement.

Ye Qing waits until Xiao Jun is quite satisfied, drink the milky white soup almost for a while. Xiao Jun noticed that Ye Qing's soup was almost no diminishing.

"I also tasted a few soups, and the taste is very good." Ye Qing smiled: "I just don't like soup on weekdays."

"By the way, Lao Xiao." After several drinks, Ye Qing changed his name: "how many times have you come to this shop?"

"There are no fifty times, and there are thirty-five times. These chicken soups contain ginseng Liaoshen, sea cucumber and western red flowers (saffron). When people are old, they like to tonify their blood and raise their essence." Xiao Jun didn't understand the meaning of Ye Qing very well. He said with a smile, "every time I come, I will order the chicken in the jar of the signature dish."

"Multiple supplements are not necessarily good things. You shouldn't come to this store in the future." Ye Qing is afraid Xiao Jun can't accept this result, but he doesn't tell him the truth.

"why?"

From the words of Ye Qing, Xiao Jun noticed a trace of uneasiness. He put down his glass and chopsticks to listen.

After hesitating for a while, Ye Qing leaned into Xiao Jun's ear and told Xiao Jun what he found.

"This...this...this..." Xiao Jun stunned for a long time and finally passed the soul. The expression on his face quickly changed from red to iron blue: "waiter!"

No one answered the first time, and Xiao Jun immediately raised the volume and called a young girl.

"Go and call your manager or boss." Xiao Jun sounds cold.

The young waiter smiled and said: "Mr. Please ask, is the service on our side, do you feel unsatisfactory?"

"You want me to repeat the words?" Xiao Jun's eyes have been all angry.

The waiter who had touched the nose was stunned. Perhaps she felt Xiao Jun was somewhat unreasonable. When she called the manager, she still looked back at Xiao Jun.

A minute later, the manager in black uniform came.

"Gentleman, I am the manager of the restaurant. What can I help?"

Xiao Jun stands up and doesn't say a word. He directly holds the porcelain jar and falls it to the ground.

"Wow!"

The porcelain jar, like the manager's incredible retina, was split into countless pieces. And the residual soup splashed the manager.

The noisy hall suddenly solidified, and the diners who were dining next to them turned their heads one by one and looked at this side with frozen expression.

No one expected that the little old man who looked quite literary, his temper was as violent as his shrew and fell off the plate without warning.

Chapter 288: The answer is on the bone.

The restaurant is a restaurant that specializes in nostalgic consumption and has achieved great success.

An altar chicken is eighty-eight Yuan, which is much more expensive than the famous roast duck in China and abroad. People who can come here to eat, not to say it is expensive, at least in society can be considered successful. Only those with small assets can consume it.

The reservation is not accepted here, and the decoration in the store is also very popular.

Of course, the customers who come here are all very self-cultivating.

A more gentle and gentle uncle, no matter what he was wearing or his temperament was very different. Somehow dropped the plate inexplicably on this occasion.

The guests whispered one by one, and they were excited.

"Gentleman, why can't we negotiate, why should we lose our temper? Here is a food stall, what can scare you in the dish?" There was a faint disdain in the young manager's eyes.

"Negotiation?" Xiao Jun smirked, pointing at the chicken bones on the dinner table, loudly: "I have eaten dozens of times in your shop, and you talk to me about negotiation?"

"Well, you tell me. Your jar chicken here, the heavy metal is seriously exceeded, how are you going to negotiate with me?"

Heavy metals are seriously exceeding the standard?

When these words were passed to the diners' ears, they were as good as throwing their atomic bombs apart from their skulls.

The rich man pursues a healthy, he does not eat greasily, does not eat fried, does not eat a barbecue, does not drink, is for a healthy body.

The more wealthy people, the higher their pursuit of quality of life.

They came here to eat nearly a thousand chickens. In addition to the taste, the picture shows the original ecological stocking on the mountain and added several nourishing ingredients.

Both delicious and healthy, someone told them now. This kind of jar chicken that they regard as precious, the heavy metal inside is seriously exceeded.

"Manager, you explain it to me clearly." A bald man stood up and looked very angry: "I have been eating jar chicken from your home, and I have been eating it for four years. I also count on my health."

"The result is Lao Tzeu is bald. I said how inexplicably bald, it must be a problem with your chicken."

"You!" The manager jumped up angrily and asked Xiao Jun, "you said that the heavy metals in our jar chicken were seriously over the standard. What' proof do you have?"

"Certificate?" Xiao Jun snorted: "Take the chicken to the laboratory for testing, and the evidence is not coming?"

"Others said my heavy metal here is seriously exceeded, I have to go to the laboratory for testing."

A businessman and rich men in the sturdy shopping mall across the eyebrows strode:

"Then, others said I used gutter oil, industrial salt, pesticide residues exceeding the standard of vegetables, unclean drinking water."

"Is it not that when we go to the pheasant restaurant, we have to take the materials to the lab again and again?"

"Boss ~ boss ~" The man stops here. The manager and the waiter immediately retracted to the back of him, just as they find the backbone.

The diners who are watching the activity are hesitant at the moment.

Psychologically, most of his people are willing to believe that the heavy metal of the jar chicken is seriously exceeded. To believe this, does it mean that their bodies have been damaged?

However, the seeds of mustard are now completely planted today.

There was no satisfactory solution to this incident. The diners must have a flaw in their hearts. Later, the signature dishes of the restaurant will probably have doubts about the problem and will surely spread.

The self-introduction, the boss named Jiang Song, also understands this problem.

Jiang song touched his forehead: "In regards to this customer, I think you are very familiar with each other. You must be an old customer here. You said that there was something wrong with the jar chicken here. Can you tell me from where do you come to this conclusion?"

"Yeah, brother, you are going to say it quickly." The bald man said anxiously: "I have a problem; I have to sue this restaurant. I'm not sure my baldness is the result of eating a jar of chicken."

"When the people of industry and commerce and quality inspection come, it will naturally come to the fore." Xiao Jun naturally can't figure out why, but he is very sure that these chickens have problems.

"If that proves we are innocent?" Jiang Song asked: "Our jar chickens have been stocked on Damming Mountain since childhood, growing up on their own locusts and never feeding any feed."

"A lot of you have gone to Damming Mountain to play. We went to the ecological breeding base of the restaurant, and those who have been there will believe and understand what I say."

"After the rooster is put into the jar, it will be placed in the corridor. Everyone knows what he feeds every day, is it clear?"

"You don't even have a basis for judgment. Isn't this filthy to our restaurant?"

"I see this gentleman has drunk too much."

"Yeah, where did you judge it?" The diners at the side agreed with what Jiang Song said. The ecological breeding base in the restaurant is near the scenic spot, where hens and eggs are stocked, which are highly sought after by those who pursue green food. Tourists are welcome.

"Don't you really drink too much?"

"I have been to the ecological breeding base. Last month, my wife bought two hundred original grass eggs, and the eggs are bright in color. It doesn't look like a problem."

"If there is no basis, there will be problems with the jar chicken that is filthy to the leeks. This behavior is not good at all."

"Yes, come up with the basis?"

The diners become the grass on the wall. If they think there is any reason, they will fall to the other side.

Xiao Jun's face is hot. He doesn't know and doesn't plan to answer. He directly takes out his mobile phone and prepares to make a complaint call.

Just look at the boss's winning picture. Xiao Jun is really afraid. Even if the Bureau of Industry and Commerce sends people to come here, they can also reconcile the matter with the past.

If they are prepared in advance, it is not difficult to achieve this.

"I told him that the jar chicken here is over the standard in heavy metal eyes." Ye Qing stood up.

Originally, Ye Qing wanted to persuade Xiao Jun to take care of others. After he left, he would call the complaint or contact the metal laboratory to issue an inspection report.

Seeing that Xiao Jun was defeated by the boss's high-spirited words, Ye Qing naturally had to find a place for Xiao Jun.

"And who are you?" The cheeky Jiang Song turned thick and has no limit and said confidently, "if you don't speak to me clearly today, I reserve the right to investigate your slander to the pheasant restaurant."

"Hey, you have a big tone." Xiao Jun smiled, Ye Qing also smiled.

"Who I am is not important, what matters is my next words."

"Metals with a density greater than 4.5 grams per cubic centimeter are called heavy metals."

"Micro-metals are indispensable nutrients for the human body, but excessive amounts of heavy metals in the human body can interact strongly with organs and harm organs."

From the table, Ye Qing picked up the broken chicken leg bone and looked around in a circle: "Why did I conclude that the heavy metal of the jar chicken is seriously exceeding the standard?"

"The answer lies in this seemingly unremarkable bone."

Chapter 289: Refining heavy metals

The answer is on the bones?

The diners stopped eating and stood up. They picked up the chicken bones from the table and slammed them into two halves. They watched the broken bones of the chicken.

"In the field of industrial processing, occupational diseases are not uncommon." Ye Qing said that and the entire dining hall was silent.

Occupational disease?

"Is there any lead poisoning?" Ye Qing recalled: "I have seen a zinc product limited liability company that uses zinc slag from a lead smelter to produce zinc oxide."

"Because the boss saved the cost. The emission treatment process was omitted, causing workers to inhale lead-containing exhaust gas for a long time. And there was a group lead poisoning incident."

"Lead is a kind of heavy metal. When the lead content in the body exceeds the standard, a gray-blue 'lead line' will appear on the gum. This is a form in which the bone absorbs lead."

"The same reason, whether it is animals or people, as long as the body's heavy metals exceed the standard. Will appear on the bones and organs."

"Common heavy metals are copper, lead, nickel, and mercury. In metal powder metallurgy, these metals are also the most widely used. The body absorbs a lot of nickel, and the bone tissue is obviously affected and becomes brittle. The color is bright, some like jade mineral powder, and it will be slightly grainy by hand milling."

"More serious, even the skin and the respiratory organs will be affected."

As explained by Ye Qing, the diners suddenly used their hands to grind the bones.

As true as Ye Qing said, the bone marrow in the fracture has a distinct graininess and the color is not right.

"You...you..." Jiang Song, who had a businessman and a sigh of money on his face, was a little angry at the moment: "Colored, you are dirty. The chicken bones are crisp because we fed them for a week. The spring water of the wine is wiped with secret sesame oil."

"You said that heavy metal nickel was seriously exceeding the standard. Is your eye being an inspection device?"

"Can I understand that heavy metals exceed the standard when I do catering?" Jiang Song walked back and forth with his hands on his back: "To detect heavy metals, you must use professional equipment. Just by a word from you? What more should science do? What more should the laboratory do?"

Both sides have good reasons. Several diners have quietly chosen to call the consumer complaint hotline. So, the quality inspection and industry and commerce sent people to deal with it.

Jiang Song pointed to the jar that had just been sent to the neighboring table and had not moved the chopsticks: "Unless you can find the nickel for me."

"If I find out, what are you going to do, boss Jiang?"

Ye Qing's eyes became serious. In the beginning, he had a conjecture that he might not have known about the pheasant restaurant. Ye Qing wanted Jiang Song to complain later and save some face for them.

Now, from the virtue of the owner of this store, he is 100% aware of the heavy metal in the jar.

"Find nickel?" Jiang Song looked at Ye Qing with a slightly cautious look, does Ye Qing carry leafs green with him.

A mobile phone, not even a wallet. There is no briefcase or instrument metal box.

Excessive levels of heavy metals, also known as metal trace elements exceeded the standard. If you want to check whether the elements in the body exceed the standard. You must collect blood and send it to a professional testing agency to use the instrument to detect the judgment.

These metal elements are invisible to the naked eye and cannot be touched.

There are no instruments, saying that these nickel elements are found?

Jiang Song glanced at the table again, and the bottle of black stone that was empty.

"If you find out, I'll close the door and pay for it. I offered to shut down the shop. " Jiang Song pretended to be outraged by his trampled personality: "what if you can't find it?"

"If I can't find it, I'll pay you a go to the e-guest house."

"A gentleman's word makes a whip." The boss didn't say a word, and the manager couldn't help it. One is worth 30 million Yuan, and one is too boastful to make a draft.

But let him pay a reputational loss fee later. Certainly no problem.

Jiang Song smiled and nodded, very generously made a gesture of, please.

The diners were all coming together, the bet was too exciting, and the way to make a bet was too bizarre.

If the jar is empty, how can Ye Qing find out the nickel?

When David Copperfield came, he had to catch the two eyes!

"Is there a chicken liver in the kitchen?" Ye Qing's eyes are calm, and everything in the store is calm.

Visitors who had several good things immediately ran into the kitchen and found a copy of the dark brown chicken liver in a stainless steel tray.

Ye Qing is doing experiments for the food safety of diners. They naturally have to support him and participate in the whole process so as to eliminate the possibility of the shopkeepers to do something.

Someone on the table next to the pot of dried shrimps, Ye Qing removed the pot above and asked some tin foil to wrap the chicken liver. Put the stainless steel tray and tin foil chicken liver on a beautifully shaped alcohol stove.

One of the guests who did not work hard and ordered a few pots of grass and shrimps took the initiative to hold up three alcohol stoves.

Those who are either in suits in fashion, are watching Ye Qing with their innocent and confused eyes.

Grilled chicken liver?

If it is not Ye Qing's saying that the chickens are overweight, they will be happy to wait a few minutes before preparing some spices.

"The liver is an important organ of biological metabolism. Heavy metals exceed the standard, and a large quantity of heavy metal elements are deposited in the liver."

The tin foil chicken liver quickly emerged as a cloud of smoke, and Ye Qing stepped back a few steps. He calmly said: "Chicken liver is an organic matter, and nickel is an inorganic substance with a melting point of 1455 degrees."

"High temperatures will turn the chicken liver into ashes, but the nickel left in it will not change its properties."

The diners seemed to understand and nodded. As the four alcohol stoves exerted their strength, the smoke from the tin foil gradually darkened and was inhaled by the top ventilation system.

When the stainless steel tray becomes red, and there is no smoke in the tin foil. Ye Qing extinguished the alcohol stove and opened the tin foil bag with chopsticks.

A group of charcoal-like things appeared in front of people. Ye Qing pours these charcoals into a transparent glass and add the pure water and gently stir it with chopsticks.

The inside of the glass was as dark as a whole bottle of ink, and Ye Qing did not return. He said to the diners to bring the clock on the bar.

"What do you want to do?" The waiter stepped forward and ended up with a paunchy diner snapped a few red tickets directly on the bar.

Jiang Song's face was overcast, and he didn't say a word.

When the wall clock arrives. Ye Qing takes out the second battery. Then hardly remove the outer casing of the electronic movement and take out the thin copper coil inside and a thin steel shaft used to adjust the time.

In the surprised eyes of others, Ye Qing began to wind copper coils on the thin steel shaft regularly.

It is not a simple single-layer electromagnet coil, but a multi-layer winding with stronger electromagnetic attraction.

"Nickel, iron, and cobalt, which belong to the eighth group of elements, have similar magnetoelectricity and are ferromagnetic substances."

"So nickel can be sucked up by the electromagnet."

"It turns out!" "The people next to each other suddenly realized."

"I can't count on my hands-on ability. This little brother must be a technician in the factory."

"Quickly, put it in and suck it up."

Ye Qing looked at the focus, and after stirring the electromagnet, he quietly stirred for a few minutes. In this process, Jiang Song is slowly falling into a huge abyss of deep tension. Fearing inside, and sweating by his head.

He wanted to slap up Ye Qing and break the glass of dark black liquid.

However, the sixty or seventy diners had already surrounded him and formed a natural protective layer.

When Ye Qing put the coil of the electromagnet connected to the battery into the bottom of the glass and gently swayed, the diners stop talking together.

They hate not being able to plunge into the glass and see what is going on.

"Let's open a little, let's open a little."

Several uniformed industrial and commercial law enforcement officers came in from the passage.

The crowds in a circle let them almost think something has happened here.

The law enforcement officers who led the team immediately asked about the situation.

The crowd vividly told the law enforcement officers about what had just happened, and even they all showed curiosity and excitement, and carefully rushed to Ye Qing.

When the electromagnetic coil was gently lifted by Ye Qing, all the crowds on the scene were blown up.

They saw the original electromagnetic coil of brass color, which has been completely covered by a layer of silver-gray metallic luster.

This layer of metal is very uniform and very very thin and seems to be plated on copper wire.

What is the metal extracted from the chicken liver?

They explain heavy metals have exceeded the standard to make people feel awkward!

"I depend on your mother!" The man who doubted he was bald was the man who ate the chicken. He was so mad he kicked his feet to the table and chair behind him with red eyes. If his friend hadn't stopped him, he would have used the thick bottom of the Shikumen wine bottle to give Jiang Song a cruel head a slap attack.

"Pat!" I don't know who it is. I slapped Jiang Song in the face from behind.

"Hey!" No one knows who it was, and a slap from behind shot on Jiang Song's face.

In the dining hall, it immediately became a mess. Everyone wanted to go to Jiang Song's feet to kick him. Just now, his words were even worse than the traitor who sold China.

Ye Qing asks for Xiao Jun to leave. When some people try to let him, go out of the crowd, the bald man panted and squeezed.

He held Ye Qing's hands and thanked him constantly: "fortunately, my little brother, you have revealed the black heart trick of this shop. I come to eat it all the time. Maybe I can have an occupational disease someday."

"By the way, why is the heavy metal in this chicken over standard?" Some people are puzzled: "I have been to the breeding base several times, and I really don't feed."

"Chickens have no teeth, so they like to eat stones to participate in the grinding and digestion of food." Ye Qing kept shaking hands: "Maybe the chickens fed with nickel-containing foodstuffs or nickel-containing waste from the factory."

"The more harmful the substance, the easier it is to create delicious food. The crayfish is not the dirtier it is, it is the better. I have also heard the example of using industrial salt to make grilled fish, and the result is an extremely hot business."

"I know the example of grilled fish. Said there is a delicious grilled fish in the West Lake. At 11 o'clock in the evening, the guests are full of seats, and there is a row of seats outside. Several police officers from the inspection department came here. When they have eaten, it was delicious. They wondered why it was delicious."

"They packed a test that was brought back to the laboratory, and the results showed a lot of industrial salt..."

"Little brother, do you know the industrial knowledge so much, must be the metal inspection department or the senior technician in the factory?"

Ye Qing takes a look at his body. He casually wears a coat of several hundred Yuan from last year.

"Ha ha ~ Mr. Ye, they said that you are a technician." Xiao Junxiao's eyebrows are not eyebrows, and his nose is not a nose.

Outside the shop's window, a top-class luxury car that shines in the sun with a charming metallic luster slowly opens the door near the restaurant.

Some people in the crowd immediately recognized the origin of this luxury car. The door opened, only the King Kong-class suits that can only be seen in the movie got off the car and helped Ye Qing to open the back seat.

Chapter 290: Shopping Tour.

The most intuitive embodiment of a person's social status is often the tiny details of life.

Just in the dining hall, Ye Qing was concentrating on his work, and the diners mistakenly thought he was a factory worker or a skilled technician in the lab.

It seems that the technician in their eyes is obviously the male lead in an idol drama.

Young and strong hands-on ability.

Don't say that repairing a household appliance means that a certain home appliance component is broken, and people will take it to the workbench to make one.

The man was particularly charming when he was focusing on his work. They saw Ye Qing nodded slightly, and when he stooped into Lagonda, some young girls in the diners, their eyes were unified and brought with affection.

The men broke away from the cloak of Sven, and the group of Jiang Song was on the wall.

Originally Ye Qing wanted to eat a half-scented body, and he almost ate it as a half-length.

The more you care about the way of health, the people who care about the quality of life. When it is found that being seriously deceived and jeopardizing your own health, the more unimaginable anger will erupt.

If the law enforcement officers are trying to interfere in the side, Jiang Song is likely to go to the nursing bed to sleep for a while.

When Ye Qing and Xiao Jun arrived at their destination, Jiang Song, the boss controlled by law enforcement officers, and the two managers, under the iron evidence, gave the truth about the heavy metal exceeding the standard.

The jar chicken is the home of Jiang Song, a signature dish that has been inherited for hundreds of years.

The early jar chicken did not need to use this kind of technique. Its taste is said to be better than the current jar chicken.

However, Jiang Song's father is a retired man who is not doing business. He did not learn the skills to his son and let the jar chicken break his inheritance.

The restaurant is a restaurant opened by Jiang Song's father and has been in business for decades. When the jar chicken was first launched as a special dish, the response was not too warm.

It's expensive, and because of the method, the taste is not too good.

It was not until Jiang Song went to the mountain village to collect the chickens. He found that the pheasant raised by a farmer was very delicious. The jar chicken made of this pheasant, it is enough to give a little taste.

It is not difficult to get rid of delicious food. Jiang Song observed the pheasant was raised of the proximity to the village metal smelter, and it loved to eat metal slag that was discarded outside the factory.

This is a factory specializing in smelting nickel ore. Jiang Song's gourd painting and scooping. So that the grass chickens have been eating the nickel mines that have been crushed into slag since childhood. Whether it is meat or soup, it is the taste of the pheasant raised by the farmer.

From this kind of sin, Jiang Song has been born for a few years and has increased the scale of turf breeding by dozens of times and built ecological farming.

Until the greasy stuff inside was cracked by Ye Qing.

"The more I think about it, the more scared I am. When I finish this thing, I have to go to the hospital to measure trace elements." Out of the underground parking lot, Xiao Jun felt uncomfortable and seemed to be numb in the bones.

Ye Qing did not speak, but held his chin and looked around like he looked at an artwork.

What is this?

This is one of the earliest commercial districts in China on the edge of Jingling Road and is also a famous shopping paradise in China.

Ye Qing thought that Xiao Jun would take himself to a remote, dusty construction site.

The result followed him to the east and around the west. The more the scenery around the window, the more prosperous, and finally they got here.

Jinling Road is a pedestrian street with vehicles banned. Xiao Jun took the car with Ye Qing and parked the car in a nearby hotel underground parking lot. He also told Ye Qing that the question he wanted to ask was in the vicinity of a shopping mall built by the Swedish company Staffin Group.

"Is it a metal or a mechanical problem?" Ye Qing asked casually.

"Mechanical aspects." Xiao Jun took a few breathing and then snorted: "The shopping center, our studio is responsible for the design. Now the shopping center is completed, Sweden's Starfanning Group. But arbitrarily, take a negative The windmill building in the middle of the shopping mall was replaced by a precision machine."

"There is a problem with the precision machinery now. They are in a hurry to find the reason in Sweden, but they have problems with the design of our studio."

"There is a problem with precision machinery. Which is naturally a flaw in mechanical design."

Ye Qing smiled a little and said: "Most people think that Swiss watches are famous, but behind them are the powerful fields of precision machinery manufacturing. They can find a watchmaker to solve the mechanical problem. How can they blame you for that? "

"Because they have kept the turntables and wind bearings of the windmills, we can't say that our mechanical parts can't be done now. But they can't say where they can't do it for a while. I'm in the clouds of the building."

"I originally wanted to bring the design drawings and models to the past. Now that you are here, you can definitely get it done in threes and twos minutes."

In the field of the machinery industry, Xiao Jun has no reservations about ye Qing.

"You go with our chief engineer, just that I am missing some autumn clothes, I go shopping, you are busy?"

The chief engineer of Monster Heavy Industries?

Xiao Jun just looked at the Master Craftsman beside him. Before Xiao Jun estimated it, the little old man who looked thin and short was Ye Qing's personal butler.

People can't look good. Xiao Jun left with the Master Craftsman.

"Today, I also want to thoroughly understand what is the shopping method of the desert local tyrants." A pure black Centurion credit card was turned between his fingers by Ye Qing.

This is the centurion credit card jointly issued by China Industrial and Commercial Bank. In view of Ye Qing's action of repaying the full amount of the credit card once more. Ye Qing's Centurion in his hand has increased to 50 million credit lines.

Taking a breath of extravagant air, Ye Qing led the hard work of serving as a bag and bodyguard and stepped on the entrance to Jinling Road.

Jinling Road is a treasure trove of merchants and a famous shopping paradise abroad. Here, luxury brands are gathered together, as well as the famous gold cave in Hang Lung Plaza.

Change the loser to come over, a circle of a stroll down the bank card less a few million is not a problem at all.

While walking, Ye Qing took the headphones and called Bai Dour.

I took a ride in the city of Heba, Huizhou, and I just recorded a local special food show.

The phone hangs quickly and becomes a video pass.

Ye Qing held a circle of his mobile phone and let him guess what it was.

"Jinling Road, I have seen Xiao Yangsheng fried signboard."

Giggle giggling.

"Yes, I will take you to Hang Lung Plaza and tell me what to look at." Ye Qing held the mobile phone and walked toward Jinling West Road.

On the way, Ye Qing and Bai Dour discussed the autumn, wearing a jacket or a windbreaker, or a single layer of fur.

When Ye Qing walked to Hang Lung Plaza, he made a happy decision and bought a few pieces for each style.
