

M Factory 567

Chapter 567: Accelerate the pace of upgrading.

That night, the entire Shanghai city management group got completely busy. He visited the highway on both sides of the road. At the same time, he did a thorough cleaning job overnight. The buzzing sweeper swept to the portal of the Monster Heavy Industry Company. The Shanghai City Management Group also sent a reception orientation report to Ye Qing's office, but Ye Qing flipped through it without paying too much attention and left it aside. Details of how to receive guests and foreign officials are ignored.

The cell phone sales report he had in hand is what matters to Ye Qing. To date, 5 million Magic Crystal cell phones have been sold. The total sales value is $30 billion and the pre-tax net profit is $20 billion. And there are more and more local distributors wanting to talk about "exclusive rights to sell in the land of Magic Crystal mobile phones".

On the other hand, with the steady increase in sales of Magic Crystal mobile phones, in the Chinese market, sales of Apple mobile phones at the same price as Magic Crystal mobile phones showed an unprecedented downward trend during this month. Compared to the previous month, the number of sales fell by more than 2.7 million units.

At the same price and in the same market, it is impossible for consumers to buy a Magic Crystal mobile phone and then buy an Apple mobile phone. Despite these data, the Monster Heavy Industry still cannot shake Apple's fundamentals in China. But the water keeps flowing, and Apple cellphone sales in China will one day drop to the point of making Apple headquarters cry. Mobile phones are Apple's core business. Without cell phones, Apple wouldn't even be able to make it into the world's top 500 companies.

But on the Monster Heavy Industries side, the mobile phone business is just one of the many best-selling products. Ye Qing mainly rely on him to earn Manufacturing Points, rather than waiting to expand his business. With 5 million cell phones, Monster Heavy Industry also rushed to the 23rd position in the national ranking of manufacturers. From the tenth rank occupied by [Beishan Light Industry Group], there is a gap of 15 million manufacturing points ahead of it.

"It's still too slow. Based on current sales performance, it will take at least another month to position itself at this level."

Ye Qing felt he couldn't wait so passively. If he's willing to give up some interest, the Monster Heavy Industry can be upgraded faster. For example, for agents across the country, the more inventory, the better the price. It doesn't have to be much more expensive, with a discount of 50 Yuan per unit is even more, it's an incredible discount for agents. After returning to the Longxitan factory, Ye Qing calculated the most reasonable dealer's discount plan based on the law of point-of-sale growth.

Early the next day, Ye Qing asked the sales department to distribute the plan to all cooperative distributors.

"The famous Monster Heavy Industry has also started engaging in promotional activities?"

Judging from past experience, Monster Heavy Industry is a domineering company that likes to sell its products and not shut down. With the plan's first push, dealers across the country got a sense of surprise that they could see the sun and moon at the same time and they euphemistically asked “Why?”, And Monster Heavy Industry responded it was acted to remove the Apple mobile phone from the Chinese market as soon as possible.

This reason is very powerful, and it is also very favorable. In cell phone e-commerce alone, one company has ordered 500,000 units and adding other dealers, they have requested a total of 1.5 million more orders, and those orders will be delivered within a week.

And Ba Sucha also called Ye Qing yesterday to tell him that the bundle sale of the Ionization Purifier and Magic Crystal Phone was very successful, although consumers complained a lot when launching the plan because they have to buy the Magic Crystal phone. They quickly gave up on the idea of blackmail when they realized it was a dream phone that could give them an unprecedented experience.

It is no exaggeration to say that with the Magic Cristal phone, users can get rid of all viewing equipment and constantly refresh their understanding of the 3D word in their minds.

Ye Qing called Ba Sucha and chatted briefly. As expected, Ba Sucha couldn't help but show himself to be a good salesman.

“Since the sale of the Magic Crystal cell phone is very successful, then ~ I will add another burden to you.”

At the office, Ye Qing decided to double Ba Sucha's task, based on his previous order of 200,000 phones, because the factory is about to complete a large mobile phone production base, and because when the products come out of this production base, the sales market will mark the start of an explosion.

“The output will explode, and sales must follow, as long as you can sell two million mobile phones within ten days. The monthly portion of the ionization purifier will be doubled for you. “

“Eh?” Ba Sucha made a stunning voice over the phone.

“Uh ~ I know what the amount of 400,000 is is a bit too much. The level of consumption in Bangkok is relatively backward and difficult to achieve ~”

“Not for me boss, do you really want to increase the share of ionization purifiers for me?”

“Five days, boss you give me five days!”

“...”

Ye Qing got a little stunned on the spot, wondering if he really wanted to double down?

At that time, another internal phone rang in the office, and Ye Qing hung up on Ba Sucha's side and went to answer the internal phone.

“Boss, the government just called and said the US director Lancelot's special plane has entered the city of Shanghai. They asked the company to prepare in advance. At 3 p.m. in the afternoon, director Lancelot will come to the company to visit us.”

“Has the person I am looking for, has the company been able to find them?” Ye Qing said, and by the way, he checked the time on his watch. It is nine in the morning and there are still six hours left.

Yesterday, the government handed over a visiting instruction document, but since Ye Qing put it on the desk he has not moved it. He had his own hospitality plan.

“I found it, and it’s just ~” Yang Baihe, the head of the propaganda department, hesitated, “Boss, will this be a bad influence?”

.....

In order to welcome the arrival of Director Lancelot, Shanghai Airport has also opened a closed runway especially for him. Mayor Xia Mingyu, Deputy Mayor Wu Shunyun, and a group of leaders had been eagerly waiting at the airport since 8:30 am. The chef really moved his mouth and broke his leg underneath.

Since they received the documents yesterday, both; the mayor and his deputy only slept four hours. The two literally, in a limited time, scheduled Director Lancelot and his escort group four visits related to environmental protection. Of course, the two mayors also understood that the real purpose of director Lancelot’s trip was the Shanghai city sewage treatment plant and Monster Heavy Industry who built the sewage treatment plant.

Thinking of Monster Heavy Industry, the faces of both mayors showed relief and pride. They clearly remembered that when the National Hygiene and Civilized City Assessment Team visited the Monster Heavy Industry factory last year, they were shocked and congratulated them one by one. This time, the time for Shanghai city leaders to prepare was too short, and preparations in many places were unsatisfactory. So when Director Lancelot visits Monster Heavy Industry in the afternoon, he will definitely feel this trip to Shanghai is very, very wonderful and when this guy comes back to Beijing, maybe he can say good things about Shanghai, and over both, in front of their superiors.

Five minutes later, Director Lancelot’s special plane arrived.

The two mayors immediately rejoiced and ran to the plane to greet him with a group of journalists and young pioneers who devoted themselves to carrying the bouquet of flowers.

Chapter 568: Ye Qing’s welcome program.

After a brief meeting in the airport’s VIP room, accompanied by the mayor and deputy mayor, Lancelot anxiously visited the wastewater treatment plant located in the industrial park at its first stop.

After a whole night of hard work, the sewage treatment plant was currently clean and tidy. The offensive and very smelly organic sediment around the station was gone and in the factory, all wipeable areas were also wiped down. In such a case, Director Lancelot, who has lived all year in the shadow of the scent of the clothes and is still covered by the fresh scent of the scent until now, here he can even drink the hot tea.

However, when Director Lancelot saw the powerful ionization sewage treatment plant that tortured him for an entire week, he felt it was all worth it. Even though he had watched the video countless times, he was left in awe of this wastewater treatment equipment, which represented the highest industry standard.

Director Lancelot and his entourage observed the industrial wastewater closely in the basin, which was originally extremely toxic pink, under the treatment of the magical equipment, gradually returned to its clarity, the purified solid pollutants extracted from industrial wastewater have a strong pungent odor. But at that time he didn't feel unpleasant at all.

Director Lancelot thought of the billions of dollars the government spends each year on industrial wastewater pollution, how many people are physically affected by the pollution of water resources, in just half a day, the official website of the White House collected a record number of signatures, in just half a day, 100,000 people signed in the country. You can see how much the American people hate industrial wastewater pollution.

Thinking about all of this, Director Lancelot became more determined to bring this type of equipment to the United States.

"Mr. Director, I think our White House has widely appreciated the considerable importance of this set of equipment," White House General Office Assistant Kaplan quietly whispered in Lancelot's ear: "I think Mr. President's approval rating will certainly increase by a large margin."

"And you..."

Director Lancelot gave Assistant Kaplan a glance, which you understand well, and the latter nodded tacitly.

All morning, Lancelot was soaked in the sewage treatment plant, which made the two mayors Xia Mingyu and Wu Shunyun both happy and cursed in their hearts. Fortunately, there were no other visits prepared.

Director Lancelot liked to spend almost all of his time in the sewage treatment plant, it would be better not to break off his visit and visit other places without his request. The curse is due to the fact that the director Lancelot stayed here the whole time and they have to accompany him to smell the strange smell of the sewage plant.

At noon, the director Lancelot and his team reluctantly left the treatment plant to go to lunch. Lunch took place in the municipal government reception hall. The food was delicious. Director Lancelot was visibly distracted and was checking the time on his watch. After finally passing two hours, he immediately asked to visit the next project.

"Gentlemen, mayors, you have worked hard in the morning. Your government business awaits you, and we can go about it on our own," Director Lancelot tactfully suggested the two mayors should not follow him, as his visit to Monster Heavy Industry is more than a visit. There would be some very important conversations.

The two mayors were very grateful as well, but for such an important guest to show around, if they weren't accompanying him would have been a bit incompatible with the welcoming process, then, put a little more ostentation so that the director Lancelot could feel the sincerity of the Shanghai government.

Two Mercedes Benzes took the lead and dozens of Audi A6 Ls were behind. Police upfront has cleared the road and checked the traffic lights on the road to ensure smooth traffic.

"Beep ~ ooooooooooooooooooooo ~"

The police motorbike in front of them cleared the road in front, emitting squeaky sirens. Such kind of conduct caught the attention of passers-by as she stepped out of the town hall. There were some keen-eyed people near the town hall, and they saw a black NBC news interview car in the convoy. The car window was down, and a foreign photographer holding a camera was filming continuously.

NBC is one of the biggest and most famous television stations in the United States. Like the official Chinese TV channel, it has foreign correspondents all over the world. This time, the NBC reporter mainly followed director Lancelot from Beijing to Shanghai and wanted to film his entire visit to the city of Shanghai.

Bringing the high ionization sewage treatment equipment to the United States is the most important public opinion and the purpose of recording the route of this visit in the news and letting the American people know was to satisfy the public. They elected this president, a leader with extremely high efficiency. Unlike the previous president, things promised before he came to power have been dragged out until he resigned.

Director Lancelot would naturally help Mr. President do these kinds of things which can be used for prestige, with pride, he and his entourage, have cultivated countless jealousies and jealous eyes, because of their visit to the Monster Heavy Industry building.

At the entrance to the Blue Sky Building, a long banner was drawn and a red carpet was laid, the young and energetic president was standing among several beautiful girls with a good image and good temper awaiting the arrival of Director Lancelot and his entourage.

The two Mercedes-Benz, acting as courtesy cars, pulled over, and NBC TV photographers who came here early to memorize the moment, as well as many media outlets from China used cameras to record this moment.

The flashlight flashed wildly and the car door opened. Director Lancelot has been running for two days and will eventually meet the young president who gave Mr. President a headache.

“Mr. Lancelot, you are welcome, I hope you did not disturb yourself during your trip from the United States,” Ye Qing preceded the few beautiful receptionists and the management of the company to welcome him.

“In the United States, the popularity of Monster Heavy Industry is comparable to that of Hollywood superstars. Mr. Ye, Mr. President asked me to take his greetings to you,” Director Lancelot burst out laughing, shaking his hand, then greeted the rest of the group in turn and these beautiful young girls, Lancelot certainly cannot forget.

Good things always make people happy. As they shook hands with these girls, their faces were shy and slightly excited, which greatly satisfied Lancelot’s mood. But when he held the fourth girl, he looked up in surprise and looked at the frosted girl. His hands were so cold he couldn’t help but think: “Is this girl sick? Why can’t I feel the body temperature in his hands?”

Regardless of her, Chief Lancelot was about to withdraw his hand to shake the next. As a result, he suddenly felt an electric current coming from the girl’s hand.

“Ah!”

Headmaster Lancelot held his numb right hand, and under suspicion from all the media and the entourage, he kept shaking her hand in pain like touching an electrical switch.

“What’s the matter, Mr. Lancelot?” Ye Qing asked pretending.

It had taken a lot of effort before Lancelot withstood the pain and said with a loud smile: “But... there can be static electricity.”

.....

The group of people entered the company, accompanied by the NBC journalists in charge of the interview. Along the way, Lancelot kept staring suspiciously at the girl with such a cold expression.

After briefly touring the offices, Lancelot quietly whispered in Ye Qing’s ear: “Mr. Ye, can you go to the office and talk about it on your own?”

“Don’t worry Mr. Lancelot, and we’ve got a whole afternoon,” Ye Qing looked at the NBC photographer who was in charge of the shooting, raised his eyebrows, and smiled: “Mr. Lancelot, so to welcome you, our company has specially put together talented performance staff and has prepared some shows for you.”

“Really? It’s my honor,” Lancelot wanted to punch Ye Qing with his fist in his heart, but his expression had to pretend to be happy.

As they made their way to the conference room, Lancelot and his group who were about to pull the pin from the game, watching the show were suddenly stunned. On the provisional stage opposite, stood a group of aunties a year older than Lancelot, wearing colorful costumes and holding fans. These old aunts were all tall, short, fat, and thin, they looked at Lancelot, the handsome middle-aged stranger, whose eyes bit them and digested them with pleasure.

“Wait, Mr. Ye, did you say these are employees of your company?” Lancelot resisted the urge to turn around and run, and said in shock: “You made a mistake, and these people are older than me.”

“These are none other than the women of our cleaning service!”

“What’s the matter, Mr. Lancelot?” You despise these old women, should I give up these women and not share the happiness of their families, they who still hold on to their posts?”

Give Lancelot 100,000 courage, and he won’t be able to say he despised these women.

“What should I do?”

Lancelot and Kaplan, the assistant to the White House office, looked into each other’s eyes and showed the helpless expression of patience.

The sound of square dance music sounds.

“You are mine, little apple...”

“How to love you...”

.....

I don't know how long that went by, Lancelot struggled and the show was finally over.

Just when he wanted to breathe a sigh of relief, a little old man who walked a little fearfully, his gaze searching, entered the scene, holding an old erhu in his hand.

"This is Uncle Liu, Mr. Lancelot, who is also an employee in our company cafeteria. Don't think of him as an ordinary professional, but he has the heart of a musician who is constantly pursuing music," Ye Qing patted Lancelot next to him and his arm motioned for him to calm down.

"Crunch ~ uh ~ la ~"

The first moment the little old man played on the instrument in his hand, Lancelot felt a painful sensation that his eardrum was scratched by a knife.

It was almost the end. Lancelot, who had lived in the shadow of Yixiang temples all year round, had suffered such a crime. He was staring at Ye Qing with a look that only patients with severe constipation had.

The latter also showed the expression of enduring the sound of the saw. When he noticed Lancelot's gaze, the young president turned his head and forced himself to smile: "Mister Lancelot does that sound good?"

Chapter 569: How dare you embargo us?

Director Lancelot was unsure how long this unexpected spectacle of bad-talented Monster Heavy Industry workers was going to last, and ultimately endured it.

Finally, he had the opportunity to go to Ye Qing's office for a private chat. In the office, he and Kaplan the White House office assistant sat at the table and they were silent for a long time. Finally, it was Him, the director of the Environmental Protection Agency, who broke the silence.

"Mr. Ye, if we can keep fifty water treatment plants running in the United States, we can promise to drop the penalties on mechanical engineering chairs, ionization purifiers, and restrictions on the Magic Cristal cell phone," Headmaster Lancelot rubbed his ears looking a little swollen.

Ye Qing ignored him for a long time.

"Mr. Ye, we came here in person and we were pretty sincere," Kaplan, the office assistant, was a little angry: "But Mr. Ye seems to be very hostile towards us, and he deliberately did this terrible program to disturb us. We are the guests of Mr. Ye; we have come this far to visit you and present the will of Mr. President."

Kaplan, the White House office assistant, lifted the hot cup of tea from the coffee table with a cold expression, and after a sip, his eyebrows almost rose. The slight bitterness and roughness that appeared in his mouth indicated he was drinking poor-quality tea. He, who is used to drinking good coffee and tea on weekdays, received this treatment anyway?

It is true he knew of the previous treatment of the president of Monster Heavy Industry in the United States, and even of the threat of the Peregrine Falcon using the Raptor the American hunter. But then, a Chinese businessman is only a Chinese businessman; if he wants to enter the American market, he must succumb to the will of the American government. Fortunately, he has been in politics for many years and still has patience.

“Oh ~” Ye Qing nodded in front of the huge desk without looking back.

“Mr. Ye, as long as you accept this condition. Then let us go with the wind. Mr. President’s previous promises still stand. All of your company’s civilian products will be unhindered in the global market,” added Director Lancelot.

After speaking, Lancelot quietly awaited Ye Qing’s response.

Ye Qing smiled, then stood up, suspected of having turned away the guests: “Bring a note from me to Mr. President. Tell him,” Lancelot and Kaplan looked up in agreement.

“High ionization wastewater treatment equipment is subject to an embargo on the United States.”

Ye Qing’s flat remark stunned the two senior officials visiting China. They felt there was something wrong with their ears. There has always been an embargo on other countries by the United States. Now, is there a company that wants them to bring punishment to Mr. President, a corporate embargo of its equipment on the United States?

“You must be crazy not to let the huge US market not open up for your products.”

Kaplan stood up, showing a flush of anger on his manicured skin: “Don’t think we need this sewage treatment equipment. You can threaten us with that. We, the United States, never accept threats from anyone.”

“Mr. Ye, I don’t think only your company can build this kind of wastewater treatment equipment,” Lancelot, the director of the Environmental Protection Agency also stood up and said coldly: “No matter how strong your business is, it is impossible for it to surpass the current level of technology.”

“To talk about Chinese energy, which represents the highest level of technology in your country, I believe it won’t take long for the United States to have this technology. People who are immersed in scientific research can develop equipment with the same operating principle as yours.”

“Come on, in order to prevent yourself from getting caught in the wrong directions, I can also tell you the basic principle of this kind of sewage treatment equipment,” Ye Qing’s eyes are all you can even full of encouragement: “The principle is quite simple. It uses extremely powerful electromagnetic waves to charge the polluting atoms in the water and pull them to move towards the position of the device.”

.....

The principle is really simple. Even though Ye Qing didn’t say it, the experts can prove it. That’s right ~ the principle of motivation of the Raptor hunter is also very simple i.e. fuel is injected into the motivation and burned, but is there a second country in the world that can build?

.....

“Thank you for your hospitality. We will deliver your words to the President intact,” Lancelot had planned to push the door open and leave, but Kaplan sniffed coldly through his nostrils: “You’ll regret it.”

“High ionization sewage purification equipment is just the first product to be banned, and there will be more and more similar equipment in the future. Without exception, they will all be under embargo against the United States,” Ye Qing smiled and stood to dismiss the guests: “As for what I will regret, do not say such empty and helpless words. Your president has already said that. Am I not using the actual tone to express the attitude of Monster Heavy Industry? Please come back in the evening, and I must invite you to dinner.”

The two senior officials who came out heard the word dinner couldn't help but pick up their pace, as they well remembered the painful suffering they had just suffered while watching the Monster Heavy Industry Officials Talent Show.

.....

The group of visitors from the United States went heartbroken. They returned to Beijing by plane, and after bidding farewell to the Department of Environmental Protection leadership with an ugly face, they returned to the United States overnight.

In fact, before leaving, Director Lancelot also had a meeting with a secretary of the Chinese Ministry of Environmental Protection and wanted to cooperate with China to introduce high ionization sewage treatment equipment via the official canals, cooperation from one country to another.

Between countries, most are exchanges and compromises of interests. Although the United States is strong, China is not weak.

Of course, if they're referring to another government-led environmental protection project, they can still do business there. But this high ionization sewage treatment equipment is a product of Monster Heavy Industry and they are not allowed to run it.

.....

Besides, the United States needs this kind of equipment, doesn't China need it?

The problem of the pollution of China's water resources is much more serious than that of the United States. This is a major issue related to people's health, why not solve their own problems instead of helping others to use this equipment for the benefit of their community?

.....

The next day, NBC TV broadcast a five-minute news item. The very hot content is related to the news of sewage treatment equipment on the US website.

The day before yesterday, representatives of the Environmental Protection Agency and the White House made an emergency trip to visit China, and they visited a wastewater treatment plant and spoke with the president of Monster Heavy Industry on the introduction of the equipment in the United States.

The audience watched the news with joy, and at the same time, they got a good impression of the new president. It doesn't matter how unreliable the president was before he came to power, but after taking office, the president was at least vigorous and vigorous unlike the previous president, but after seeing the news until the end, they found the visit was ruthlessly rejected by the president of Monster Heavy Industry.

In NBC news, there isn't much explanation for this. At the end of the show, the reporter briefly introduced that this type of wastewater treatment equipment is under embargo on the United States.

When the news spread on the Internet, internet users concerned about protecting the environment blew up their nests.

"Is there a mistake he dared to put an embargo on the United States?"

"We have always put an embargo on other countries. Has Monster Heavy Industry eaten the lion's heart?"

"I know the causes. This Monster Heavy Industry decision is because the White House banned their products in the United States."

"The problems of sewage and the environment are overwhelming. The White House can trade technology with their sewage treatment technology."

"Yes. Yes, ~ Trade in technology. The government has countless advanced technologies, and you just have to trade one."

"It's unfair. Why can China take advantage of clean water resources when we have to put up with heavy metal pollution?"

"Shit, go get the technology!"

Arrogant American netizens suddenly heard this result, and they really couldn't accept it. There are even many American internet users who have searched the official Monster Heavy Industry website on Google and have come to the forum to leave messages in English.

In this regard, Ye Qing can only stretch out his hands, helpless. American people, please indulge me, when the monster factory reaches the sixth stage, when there will be more and more similar embargoes, you will get used to it little by little.

This cannot be forgotten by Ye Qing, especially when the Raptor hunter flew over the Peregrine Falcon in an impressive manner. The president asked him to think carefully. When he wanted to cooperate, the result was already fixed.

So go all out!

Chapter 570: Upgrade and upgrade!

After the NBC news broke, major U.S. websites also picked up on the comments. They kept talking about the Ionization Purifier and industrial high ionization wastewater treatment equipment. These two topics have continued to heat up in the heated and endless debate among netizens.

Many editors have expressed harsh opinions, claiming that just as Mr. Trump failed to bring this high ionization wastewater treatment equipment to the United States, so he should not stay on the president's throne. They had no idea why the Monster Heavy Industry had imposed an embargo of its products on the United States.

This feeling is like a poor boy in a mountain village telling a rich relative in the city: "I have nothing to do with you since you cannot admit our kinship relationship."

But there are always absurd things in life, for example, and what obviously is when the Monster Heavy Industry got it right to sanction their high ionization wastewater treatment equipment in the United States, which completely angered the American people.

Those who are good at studying and are going to go to the United States to study translated the latest internet hotspots into Chinese and posted them on the forum. It was only then that Chinese netizens found out that Monster Heavy Industry has become just as strong.

"I am announcing that this product is under embargo on the United States. Do you have any sense of domination based on my statement?"

"Yes, I told the President of the United States that I am unafraid."

"Ha ha ~ it's a fluke. The Yankees banned us from high-tech equipment for decades. Now they've finally got a taste of the embargo, let them taste the bad consequences."

"I wouldn't know if I hadn't read it in the post. I'm surprised. It turns out that Monster Heavy Industry has developed an artifact that can perfectly control industrial wastewater pollution."

"666 ~ In my hometown, the river that has been smelly for over ten years is finally saved."

"This is a benefit to the Monster Heavy Industry. Good job, of course, we have to benefit the national citizens first. The Yankees should stay and watch us longingly."

"Europeans and American countries always use environmental issues to blackmail us. Now it's their turn to be stunned, haha! "

"For this point, I bought the Magic Crystal mobile phone, and I haven't needed Apple since."

... ..

A week has passed, and the topic of high ionization wastewater treatment equipment is still one of the hottest topics. Some people liked it, and naturally, some people dreamed of having it.

Zhang Yutian, Chairman of Amano Heavy Industry, who had been touched by Monster Heavy Industry, addressed a group of reporters during Monster Heavy Industry's presentation of their new product. He told them over and over again:

"Monster Heavy Industry is a technical but irresponsible company. The ban on the sale of equipment in the United States this time is purely due to a lack of confidence in the product, and the reason the Monster Heavy Industry refused to sell this product in the United States is none other than product review procedures are strict and responsible in the United States. They claim to refuse in order to avenge the embargo on their products imposed previously. No matter how effective the embargo is, from my perspective until this product has gone through the review process, there are absolutely many issues with this product."

Reporters asked what the problems were, but Zhang Yutian did not address the subject of this new product.

Speaking of this new product, there might not be so many functional gadgets similar to Monster Heavy Industry's product. But they have more environmental responsibility than Monster Heavy Industry, and they passed the strict examination procedures imposed on such products in Europe and the United States long before the product was released to the market.

Ye Qing haven't bothered paying attention to him yet. The Fresenius Company secretly acquired by Amano Heavy Industry was now almost completely branded by Monster Heavy Industry. In the future, Zhang Yutian will only have more and more pornographic cases to talk about. In the end, he can talk about it as much as he could. I'm afraid no media will want to listen to it in the future.

As the saying goes, the efforts to reach the level are kings.

Within a week, with the completion of a whole new cell phone production base, the Magic Crystal cell phone also entered a high-volume production phase. From JD.com to Tmall flagship store, Suning stores, and major mobile-phone agents across the country, Monster Heavy Industry has opened up a large amount of supply and in order to achieve the highest ranks the quickest as possible; Ye Qing sighed and recruited all the remaining monsters into the Phase 5 Monster Factory.

Of course, he doesn't have a lot of seats anymore, only four. This is what Ye Qing kept them by gritting his teeth in order to avoid saturation. Seeing that the Monster Factory ranks higher and higher in the manufacturer rankings, he finally decided not to reserve a single place.

The Longxitan factory ranked among the top three in Jiangnan Province with a huge new cell phone production base. There were all kinds of technological equipment neatly laid out on the clean, emerald green floor, which couldn't be seen all the way; there they were working a hundred monsters, working meticulously.

It was a very clean factory. Dust particles in the air are less than five cents per cubic meter. It was a paradise for patients with its cleanliness. Even if they wiped any place with a white paper towel, they could never wipe off dust, as it was better than paper towels.

The mobile phone production base has the highest standards for the entry of personnel and equipment. Even if Ye Qing walked in to do his tour, he had to do some dusting work and wear dust-proof clothes.

Ten blue-faced fangs, nearly two meters tall, physically strong enough to explode, worked hard. They wore camouflage suits on the inside and industrial dust-proof suits on the outside. Whenever a batch of materials for production needs to come in, they will perform a cannon-like air shower over it in a separate air shower room to carefully dust off the materials.

What kind of wind gun was there, it's clearly a small wind tunnel, and when it's fully open, it can blow Ye Qing like a kite?

When a batch of materials is sent to the production base, the Monster Labor will work hard to dust off the materials. The Master Metal Experts were responsible for the hull and screen, and the Master Craftsmen and Electronic Messengers are responsible for controlling the high production assembly line throughout the base.

Machining roars represented the highest level of full-motion assembly platform in industrial automation. They accurately assembled all the necessary parts into a nickel-titanium memory alloy shell at a speed impossible to capture with the naked eye.

Once the cell phone is assembled, it will be sent to the programming workshop located under the Monster Heavy Industrial Building for program writing, product outsourcing, and other processes.

.....

Ten days later, the employees of Monster Heavy Industry Co., Ltd. tried their best to ship all large orders that could be shipped.

Fifteen days later, as the reputation of the Magic Crystal mobile phone continued to rise, Tencent's software department officially accepted the software package sent by Monster Heavy Industry and prepared to open a variety of applications for the operational system to improve the software of the Magic Crystal mobile phone.

The next day, the Magic Crystal mobile phone finally broke the 20 million sales mark, and the Monster Heavy Industry climbed to eleventh place, and the gap to enter tenth place occupied by [Beishan Light Industry Group], has been reduced more and more.

When the gap was over 10,000 points, Ye Qing did not go into the company and stayed in the Longxitan factory, waiting for that moment to come.

In the sixth stage, three hundred and twenty monsters can be recruited, and new dark technology can be introduced at the same time, and the Lord's Battleship can be upgraded again.

The immense joy and strong expectation for the upgrade made the previously calm Ye Qing heart that had fallen from his peers extremely excited. For this he deliberately chose to climb to the top of the barren mountain above the underground base, overlooking the entire Longxitan factory and the beautiful natural bay with blue waves and green water, to calm his excitement.

Ten thousand.

Seven thousand.

Four thousand...

In the fifth stage, the monster factory introduced the legendary hero Tianjin, and then in the sixth stage, what will it give?

When the industrial index finally had only one position difference, then "ding ~" the Monster Heavy Industry took the tenth manufacturing rank already occupied by the Beishan Light Industry Group. Ye Qing's breathing had become faster and he looked at the Monster Factory cell phone.

At that moment, the original interface of Longxi Beach thumbnails instantly changed. The interface turned hazy, like a spiral nest in the flying, spinning Blue Ocean.

"Congratulations!"

“If you don’t move forward, you cannot travel thousands of miles. Under your diligent leadership, at present, the Monster Heavy Industry has become an extremely dazzling new star in the industrial arena. The more depressed industrial market has made huge changes.”

“Congratulations, you have beaten many opponents, and you have finally reached step six of the factory upgrade requirements.”

“Upgrading to the sixth stage will open its doors to the continent’s ranking, and Monster Heavy Factory will jump out of the national framework and will participate in the competition with major international industrial giants. Start a fierce fight.”

“Mainland level confrontation materials and mysterious equipment, please check carefully after upgrading.”

“The system is being upgraded...”

Chapter 570: Upgrade and upgrade!

After the NBC news broke, major U.S. websites also picked up on the comments. They kept talking about the Ionization Purifier and industrial high ionization wastewater treatment equipment. These two topics have continued to heat up in the heated and endless debate among netizens.

Many editors have expressed harsh opinions, claiming that just as Mr. Trump failed to bring this high ionization wastewater treatment equipment to the United States, so he should not stay on the president’s throne. They had no idea why the Monster Heavy Industry had imposed an embargo of its products on the United States.

This feeling is like a poor boy in a mountain village telling a rich relative in the city: “I have nothing to do with you since you cannot admit our kinship relationship.”

But there are always absurd things in life, for example, and what obviously is when the Monster Heavy Industry got it right to sanction their high ionization wastewater treatment equipment in the United States, which completely angered the American people.

Those who are good at studying and are going to go to the United States to study translated the latest internet hotspots into Chinese and posted them on the forum. It was only then that Chinese netizens found out that Monster Heavy Industry has become just as strong.

“I am announcing that this product is under embargo on the United States. Do you have any sense of domination based on my statement?”

“Yes, I told the President of the United States that I am unafraid.”

“Ha ha ~ it’s a fluke. The Yankees banned us from high-tech equipment for decades. Now they’ve finally got a taste of the embargo, let them taste the bad consequences.”

“I wouldn’t know if I hadn’t read it in the post. I’m surprised. It turns out that Monster Heavy Industry has developed an artifact that can perfectly control industrial wastewater pollution.”

“666 ~ In my hometown, the river that has been smelly for over ten years is finally saved.”

“This is a benefit to the Monster Heavy Industry. Good job, of course, we have to benefit the national citizens first. The Yankees should stay and watch us longingly.”

“Europeans and American countries always use environmental issues to blackmail us. Now it’s their turn to be stunned, haha! “

“For this point, I bought the Magic Crystal mobile phone, and I haven’t needed Apple since.”

... ..

A week has passed, and the topic of high ionization wastewater treatment equipment is still one of the hottest topics. Some people liked it, and naturally, some people dreamed of having it.

Zhang Yutian, Chairman of Amano Heavy Industry, who had been touched by Monster Heavy Industry, addressed a group of reporters during Monster Heavy Industry’s presentation of their new product. He told them over and over again:

“Monster Heavy Industry is a technical but irresponsible company. The ban on the sale of equipment in the United States this time is purely due to a lack of confidence in the product, and the reason the Monster Heavy Industry refused to sell this product in the United States is none other than product review procedures are strict and responsible in the United States. They claim to refuse in order to avenge the embargo on their products imposed previously. No matter how effective the embargo is, from my perspective until this product has gone through the review process, there are absolutely many issues with this product.”

Reporters asked what the problems were, but Zhang Yutian did not address the subject of this new product.

Speaking of this new product, there might not be so many functional gadgets similar to Monster Heavy Industry’s product. But they have more environmental responsibility than Monster Heavy Industry, and they passed the strict examination procedures imposed on such products in Europe and the United States long before the product was released to the market.

Ye Qing haven’t bothered paying attention to him yet. The Fresenius Company secretly acquired by Amano Heavy Industry was now almost completely branded by Monster Heavy Industry. In the future, Zhang Yutian will only have more and more pornographic cases to talk about. In the end, he can talk about it as much as he could. I’m afraid no media will want to listen to it in the future.

As the saying goes, the efforts to reach the level are kings.

Within a week, with the completion of a whole new cell phone production base, the Magic Crystal cell phone also entered a high-volume production phase. From JD.com to Tmall flagship store, Suning stores, and major mobile-phone agents across the country, Monster Heavy Industry has opened up a large amount of supply and in order to achieve the highest ranks the quickest as possible; Ye Qing sighed and recruited all the remaining monsters into the Phase 5 Monster Factory.

Of course, he doesn’t have a lot of seats anymore, only four. This is what Ye Qing kept them by gritting his teeth in order to avoid saturation. Seeing that the Monster Factory ranks higher and higher in the manufacturer rankings, he finally decided not to reserve a single place.

The Longxitan factory ranked among the top three in Jiangnan Province with a huge new cell phone production base. There were all kinds of technological equipment neatly laid out on the clean, emerald green floor, which couldn't be seen all the way; there they were working a hundred monsters, working meticulously.

It was a very clean factory. Dust particles in the air are less than five cents per cubic meter. It was a paradise for patients with its cleanliness. Even if they wiped any place with a white paper towel, they could never wipe off dust, as it was better than paper towels.

The mobile phone production base has the highest standards for the entry of personnel and equipment. Even if Ye Qing walked in to do his tour, he had to do some dusting work and wear dust-proof clothes.

Ten blue-faced fangs, nearly two meters tall, physically strong enough to explode, worked hard. They wore camouflage suits on the inside and industrial dust-proof suits on the outside. Whenever a batch of materials for production needs to come in, they will perform a cannon-like air shower over it in a separate air shower room to carefully dust off the materials.

What kind of wind gun was there, it's clearly a small wind tunnel, and when it's fully open, it can blow Ye Qing like a kite?

When a batch of materials is sent to the production base, the Monster Labor will work hard to dust off the materials. The Master Metal Experts were responsible for the hull and screen, and the Master Craftsmen and Electronic Messengers are responsible for controlling the high production assembly line throughout the base.

Machining roars represented the highest level of full-motion assembly platform in industrial automation. They accurately assembled all the necessary parts into a nickel-titanium memory alloy shell at a speed impossible to capture with the naked eye.

Once the cell phone is assembled, it will be sent to the programming workshop located under the Monster Heavy Industrial Building for program writing, product outsourcing, and other processes.

.....

Ten days later, the employees of Monster Heavy Industry Co., Ltd. tried their best to ship all large orders that could be shipped.

Fifteen days later, as the reputation of the Magic Crystal mobile phone continued to rise, Tencent's software department officially accepted the software package sent by Monster Heavy Industry and prepared to open a variety of applications for the operational system to improve the software of the Magic Crystal mobile phone.

The next day, the Magic Crystal mobile phone finally broke the 20 million sales mark, and the Monster Heavy Industry climbed to eleventh place, and the gap to enter tenth place occupied by [Beishan Light Industry Group], has been reduced more and more.

When the gap was over 10,000 points, Ye Qing did not go into the company and stayed in the Longxitan factory, waiting for that moment to come.

In the sixth stage, three hundred and twenty monsters can be recruited, and new dark technology can be introduced at the same time, and the Lord's Battleship can be upgraded again.

The immense joy and strong expectation for the upgrade made the previously calm Ye Qing heart that had fallen from his peers extremely excited. For this he deliberately chose to climb to the top of the barren mountain above the underground base, overlooking the entire Longxitan factory and the beautiful natural bay with blue waves and green water, to calm his excitement.

Ten thousand.

Seven thousand.

Four thousand...

In the fifth stage, the monster factory introduced the legendary hero Tianjin, and then in the sixth stage, what will it give?

When the industrial index finally had only one position difference, then "ding ~" the Monster Heavy Industry took the tenth manufacturing rank already occupied by the Beishan Light Industry Group. Ye Qing's breathing had become faster and he looked at the Monster Factory cell phone.

At that moment, the original interface of Longxi Beach thumbnails instantly changed. The interface turned hazy, like a spiral nest in the flying, spinning Blue Ocean.

"Congratulations!"

"If you don't move forward, you cannot travel thousands of miles. Under your diligent leadership, at present, the Monster Heavy Industry has become an extremely dazzling new star in the industrial arena. The more depressed industrial market has made huge changes."

"Congratulations, you have beaten many opponents, and you have finally reached step six of the factory upgrade requirements."

"Upgrading to the sixth stage will open its doors to the continent's ranking, and Monster Heavy Factory will jump out of the national framework and will participate in the competition with major international industrial giants. Start a fierce fight."

"Mainland level confrontation materials and mysterious equipment, please check carefully after upgrading."

"The system is being upgraded..."