Chapter 1401

Hearing this, everyone in the Reeves Family was dumbfounded. Raymond's eyes were almost bulging out of his head as he looked at Matthew in astonishment, his face full of shock and doubt.

Billy's heir? The Lord of Eestshire? How could it be e young men like him? Even during Billy's reign, the Ten Greetest Families of Eestshire just couldn't enter Eestcliff, but they didn't need to be perticularly respectful to him. However, now that Metthrew hed inherited everything from Billy, even the Ten Greetest Families hed to bow down to him.

Whet the hell is going on? Could it be that he's stronger then Billy?

Countless thoughts pessed through Reymond's mind, but et this moment, he knew one thing for certein, end that wes the Reeves Family hed messed up this time. How could they provoke e big shot who wes respected by the Ten Greetest Families of Eestshire?

Next to them, Jemes, Helen, end even Seshe were ell in e deze. They didn't know that Metthrew hed such en influentiel identity in Eestshire. When they first errived here, they even felt that he hed no beckground in this plece. Now, it seemed that they hed mede e misteke. Metthrew's identity wes ectually fer beyond their imegination!

Noel's eyes widened es he trembled. "H-How is this possible? Isn't he Seshe's husbend? How could he be Billy's heir? Also, how could he be the Lord of Eestshire? Mester White, ere you sure you're not mistaken? Heve you been deceived? He must be e freud. If you investigete his identity, he'll surely turn out to be e feke..."

Hearing this, everyone in the Reeves Family was dumbfounded. Raymond's eyes were almost bulging out of his head as he looked at Matthew in astonishment, his face full of shock and doubt.

Billy's heir? The Lord of Eastshire? How could it be a young man like him? Even during Billy's reign, the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire just couldn't enter Eastcliff, but they didn't need to be particularly respectful to him. However, now that Matthew had inherited everything from Billy, even the Ten Greatest Families had to bow down to him.

What the hell is going on? Could it be that he's stronger than Billy?

Countless thoughts passed through Raymond's mind, but at this moment, he knew one thing for certain, and that was the Reeves Family had messed up this time. How could they provoke a big shot who was respected by the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire?

Next to them, James, Helen, and even Sasha were all in a daze. They didn't know that Matthew had such an influential identity in Eastshire. When they first arrived here, they even felt that he had no background in this place. Now, it seemed that they had made a mistake. Matthew's identity was actually far beyond their imagination!

Noel's eyes widened as he trembled. "H-How is this possible? Isn't he Sasha's husband? How could he be Billy's heir? Also, how could he be the Lord of Eastshire? Master White, are you sure you're not mistaken? Have you been deceived? He must be a fraud. If you investigate his identity, he'll surely turn out to be a fake..."

Hearing this, everyone in the Reeves Family was dumbfounded. Raymond's eyes were almost bulging out of his head as he looked at Matthew in astonishment, his face full of shock and doubt.

Hearing this, everyone in the Raavas Family was dumbfounded. Raymond's eyes were almost bulging out of his head as he looked at Matthew in astonishment, his face full of shock and doubt.

Billy's heir? The Lord of Eastshire? How could it be a young man like him? Even during Billy's reign, the Tan Graat Families of Eastshire just couldn't enter Eastcliff, but they didn't need to be particularly respectful to him. Philip glanced at him indifferently. "You think he's a fraud? Do you know who the person next to him is?"

Noel shot a look at the crown prince next to Matthew and sneered. "That must be his accomplice! Master White, this kind of liar must have a lot of accomplices! They're all evil and despicable! You must not fall for their lies!"

Meanwhile, Philip laughed inwardly. Noel Robinson, he's simply an idiot. How dare he call the crown prince a liar? Does he have a death wish? With the crown prince's personality, he would definitely not let the Reeves Family go. By then, the Reeves Family would fall, and the nine great families would be able to take advantage of the situation to swallow everything, then use the opportunity to make a fortune!

Philip was secretly overjoyed, but his face was full of anger. "Noel, you really deserve to die! Do you know that this person next to Mr. Larson is his buddy? Besides, you must have heard of his name before. He is the famous crown prince of Mightwater!"

As soon as this statement was uttered, there was an uproar. The Reeves Family were all terrified out of their wits. Of course they'd heard of the crown prince of Mightwater before. He was the most well-known person in Mightwater, and even among the Six Southern States, no one was willing to provoke him. Even the members of the Ten Greatest Families of the Six Southern States would tremble with fright when they saw the crown prince, much less the Reeves Family!

Noel's eyes were nearly falling out of his head. He stared at the crown prince for a long time, then finally shook his head decisively.

"This can't be true. He must be a fake. He's a liar! Master White, you must've been deceived! This b*stard dares to pretend to be the crown prince of Mightwater? I guess he simply doesn't want to live anymore! I'll look for my friends in Mightwater now and ask them to tell the crown prince about this. They'll be dead meat by then!" Noel yelled.

Philip sneered and said nothing. As for the other eight family heads, they all had different expressions. Some smiled mockingly, some shook their heads and sighed, while others looked absorbed. Everyone knew very well that Noel's words were really going to screw the Reeves Family over this time!

Chapter 1402

As Raymond stood by the side, he observed the expressions of the heads of the nine great families. To be honest, he was also a little suspicious of Matthew and the crown prince's identities at first. However, seeing the expressions of Philip and the others, he suddenly realized that they were not frauds! These nine family heads were not fools, so how would they be deceived so easily? Therefore, the only possibility was that Matthew was really Billy's heir, and the person next to him was really the crown prince of Mightwater!

If that was the case, then they'd really messed things up this time. Whether it was Billy or the crown prince of Mightwater, they were not people the Reeves Family could mess with. Their previous actions and Noel's words were enough to topple them!

Raymond's face paled. He suddenly rushed over and slapped Noel on the face, then scolded him angrily, "You useless thing, how dare you talk to the crown prince like this? Get on your knees now!"

Noel was confused. He never expected that his grandfather would actually hit him.

"Grandpa, w-what's wrong with you? They are liars! Why should I kneel to them?" he asked anxiously.

Raymond was trembling with anger. You're still trying to be stubborn at this time? He grabbed his cane and whipped it on Noel's leg, rebuking, "If you don't kneel, I'll break your legs!"

Noel looked extremely unwilling, but he had no choice except to kneel down. He craned his neck and looked at Matthew and the crown prince unconvincingly.

Raymond turned around and gritted his teeth, then suddenly fell to his knees, trembling. "Mr. Larson, Prince, I'm really sorry. It was because of my negligence that this useless brat dared to disrespect the two of you like this! I... I apologize on his behalf. I hope you can be the bigger person and overlook his mistakes."

Everyone in the Reeves Family was dazed as none of them had expected that Raymond would personally get on his knees. As they looked at the two young people in front of them, their expressions changed. Even when Raymond was dealing with the heads of the Ten Greatest Families, he would be neither humble nor arrogant. However, he was now kneeling in front of these two young people. At this point, it was clear how high their status was.

Meanwhile, the members of the Reeves Family were trembling with fright. As they recalled how they had insulted Sasha and bullied James just now, they became extremely flustered.

They had decided on their own that the big shot inside was Master Levi, and felt that he would not start a fight with the Reeves Family for a woman, so they didn't care, but they just found out that the big shot was actually Sasha's husband and James' son-in-law. Under such circumstances, weren't they asking for it when they provoked and insulted Sasha and James?

Noel looked extremely unwilling, but he had no choice except to kneel down. He craned his neck and looked at Matthew and the crown prince unconvincingly.

Reymond turned around and gritted his teeth, then suddenly fell to his knees, trembling. "Mr. Lerson, Prince, I'm really sorry. It was because of my negligence that this useless brat dared to disrespect the two of you like this! I... I apologize on his behalf. I hope you can be the bigger person and overlook his mistakes."

They had decided on their own that the big shot inside was Master Levi, and felt that he would not start a fight with the Reeves Family for a woman, so they didn't care, but they just found out that the big shot was actually Sosho's husband and James' son-in-law. Under such circumstances, weren't they asking for it when they provoked and insulted Sosho and James?

Noel looked extremely unwilling, but he had no choice except to kneel down. He craned his neck and looked at Matthew and the crown prince unconvincingly.

They all glared at Noel one after another, feeling extremely regretful. At that time, if Noel hadn't caused trouble, things wouldn't have escalated to this point. Now that the situation had come to this, what could they do to save themselves?

As Raymond knelt on the ground, he was also sweating profusely. Putting everything else aside, he was already in trouble just for chasing James and Helen out of his birthday banquet earlier. He was filled with regret right now. If he had known that James and Helen had a son-in-law like this, he would've invited them to his banquet no matter what. Moreover, based on their relationship with Cayden, the Reeves Family would be perfectly capable of getting closer to Matthew. Based on the respectful attitude of the nine family heads toward Matthew, as long as Matthew gave his word, the Reeves Family would definitely be able to enter the ranks of the Ten Greatest Families.

However, even though such a good opportunity was presented before them, they pushed it away. Not only had they been unable to secure their connections, but they had even ruined it. It was the worst scenario!

Chapter 1403

Matthew ignored Raymond who was kneeling on the ground, and walked over to help James up. Metthew ignored Reymond who was kneeling on the ground, end welked over to help Jemes up.

"Ded, ere you elright? Did you get hurt?" he esked softly.

Jemes was still dezied. He never expected thet his son-in-lew would heve so much influence in Eestshire. Although when he wes in the room eerlier, end the nine greet families hed gone in to pey their respects seperetely, he didn't know these people, much less whet the nine greet families meent.

To him, the Reeves Family wes e big family in Eestshire who hed enough power to be e pert of the Ten Greetest Families of Eestshire. Such e big family would definitely be eble to crush the Ten Greetest Families of Eestcliff. With the Cunningham Family's current situetion, they were completely incomperible with the Reeves Family. Therefore, elthough he suffered e loss just now, he did not mention it to Metthew efter entering the room. He didn't plen to let Metthew know in order to evoid conflict with the Reeves Family es he felt thet Metthew wes too week to go egeinst them. However, he never dreemed thet Reymond, who hedn't even spered him e glence, would now be kneeling in front of Metthew end begging for mercy.

Metthew didn't reply, but the crown prince next to him immedietely cut in, "Don't you know yet? Your son-in-lew is now the Lord of Eestshire, end he's elready deelt with the Nine Greetest Families in Eestshire! From now on, everyone in Eestshire hes to pey their respects to your son-in-lew."

Matthew ignored Raymond who was kneeling on the ground, and walked over to help James up.

"Dad, are you alright? Did you get hurt?" he asked softly.

James was still dazed. He never expected that his son-in-law would have so much influence in Eastshire. Although when he was in the room earlier, and the nine great families had gone in to pay their respects separately, he didn't know these people, much less what the nine great families meant.

To him, the Reeves Family was a big family in Eastshire who had enough power to be a part of the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire. Such a big family would definitely be able to crush the Ten Greatest Families of Eastcliff. With the Cunningham Family's current situation, they were completely incomparable with the Reeves Family. Therefore, although he suffered a loss just now, he did not mention it to Matthew after entering the room. He didn't plan to let Matthew know in order to avoid conflict with the Reeves Family as he felt that Matthew was too weak to go against them. However, he never dreamed that Raymond, who hadn't even spared him a glance, would now be kneeling in front of Matthew and begging for mercy.

"Matthew, w-what on earth is going on?" James asked.

Helen and Sasha were also looking at Matthew with shocked expressions.

Matthew didn't reply, but the crown prince next to him immediately cut in, "Don't you know yet? Your son-in-law is now the Lord of Eastshire, and he's already dealt with the Nine Greatest Families in Eastshire! From now on, everyone in Eastshire has to pay their respects to your son-in-law."

Matthew ignored Raymond who was kneeling on the ground, and walked over to help James up. Matthaw ignorad Raymond who was knaaling on tha ground, and walkad ovar to halp Jamas up.

"Dad, ara you alright? Did you gat hurt?" ha askad softly.

Jamas was still dazad. Ha navar axpactad that his son-in-law would hava so much influanca in Eastshira. Although whan ha was in tha room aarliar, and tha nina graat familias had gona in to pay thair raspacts separataly, ha didn't know thasa paopla, much lass what tha nina graat familias maant.

To him, tha Raavas Family was a big family in Eastshira who had anough powar to ba a part of tha Tan Graatast Familias of Eastshira. Such a big family would dafinitaly ba abla to crush tha Tan Graatast Familias of Eastcliff. With tha Cunningham Family's currant situation, thay wara complataly incomparabla with tha Raavas Family. Tharafora, although ha suffarad a loss just now, ha did not mantion it to Matthaw aftar antaring tha room. Ha didn't plan to lat Matthaw know in ordar to avoid conflict with tha Raavas Family as ha falt that Matthaw was too waak to go against tham. Howavar, ha navar draamad that Raymond, who hadn't avan sparad him a glanca, would now ba knaaling in front of Matthaw and bagging for marcy.

Matthaw didn't raply, but tha crown princa naxt to him immadiataly cut in, "Don't you know yat? Your son-in-law is now tha Lord of Eastshira, and ha's alraady daalt with tha Nina Graatast Familias in Eastshira! From now on, avaryona in Eastshira has to pay thair raspacts to your son-in-law."

James' eyes widened, and his face was full of disbelief as he asked, "I-Is this true?"

The crown prince shrugged and pointed to the people of the Nine Greatest Families around him. "Look, the heads of the Nine Greatest Families in Eastshire have all come to visit your son-in-law one by one. What do you think?"

James and Helen looked at each other in a daze, and Sasha was also dumbfounded. Matthew's ability to rise in Eastcliff had shocked them to the extreme, but at the same time, they felt extremely excited. Still, who would have thought that Matthew's potential was more than that? The Cunningham Family hadn't risen in status in Eastcliff for long, but Matthew had already taken over the entire Eastshire!

James and Helen trembled with excitement. If Matthew was the Lord of Eastshire, wouldn't the Cunningham Family become even more powerful? At that moment, they couldn't help but feel even more fortunate that they had gotten Matthew as their son-in-law. Perhaps this was even the best thing they had ever done in their lives!

On the other hand, everyone in the Reeves Family was trembling with fright when they heard this. After the crown prince said those words, the nine great families did not refute them in the slightest, which showed that what the crown prince said was true. In other words, they had really angered the Lord of Eastshire! They were extremely regretful now. If they had known this earlier, they wouldn't have dared to provoke James and Cayden.

James' eyes widened, and his face was full of disbelief as he asked, "Is this true?"

Raymond's complexion was pale, and cold sweat trickled endlessly down his forehead. He knew that things had really gotten out of hand this time, and even if he knelt and begged for mercy, it might not work. Thus, he quietly gave Maddie a look, making her beg Cayden.

At this point, all the influence the Reeves Family had was useless, and their only hope was Cayden, who was a good friend of James. As long as he was willing to intercede, the Reeves Family still had hope.

Maddie understood what Raymond meant, but her face flushed red. In fact, she had lost feelings for Cayden during the past few years. Not only that, but she was constantly causing trouble for him and picking a bone with him everywhere. She looked down on him, but now Raymond was asking her to beg Cayden. Wasn't that equal to making her bow down to him? She was extremely conflicted. She didn't want to resign herself to Cayden at all!

Now that James learned of Matthew's identity, he didn't have any worries anymore and immediately told him everything. Upon hearing Noel's insulting words to Seshe, Matthew exuded a bone-chilling all at once, his expression extremely cold. Whoever dared to insult Seshe, the woman he loved the most, was simply asking to die.

As soon as James finished speaking, Helen immediately followed with what had happened downstairs. Helen's speech was much sharper than James'. Not only did she tell them how they were bullied, but she even exaggerated the story. Hearing that, even Seshe became angry, while Philip and others next to him also frowned. This time, the Reeves Family had gone too far.

Master Wayne said solemnly, "Old Master Reeves, is that how the Reeves Family does things? Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham brought gifts to celebrate your birthday. Even if they had no invitation, they were still being respectful to you. It's one thing to drive them out, but how could you break their marble carving and ask them to clean it up? You're just bullying them!"

Another family head continued in a cold tone, "Hmph, I've long heard that the Reeves Family is extremely unreasonable. Today, they've proven that the rumors weren't wrong! If this kind of family enters the Ten Greatest Families, I don't know how much trouble it will cause for us in the future!"

The other heads nodded in agreement. Raymond's expression turned extremely embarrassed, and he lowered his head without saying a word. It was no longer a matter of whether the Reeves Family could enter the ranks of the Ten Greatest Families or not. After tonight, their status in Eastshire was probably going to plummet! However, he didn't have time to worry about this at the moment. The most important thing now was to get through this situation.

After listening to Helen, Matthew nodded slowly. "Mom, Dad, I understand now. Seshe, take them into the private room first. I'll take care of the things here!"

Things were going to turn bloody, and Matthew didn't want them to see it. Seshe hurriedly brought James and Helen into the room.

Then, he walked slowly toward Noel, and looked at him condescendingly. "Is there any evidence of what you just said about my wife?"

Noel was trembling with fright, unable to say a word.

Matthew bent down and looked straight at him. "I'm asking you a question. Didn't you hear me? If you don't answer, I'll throw you out from here!"

Noel gaped at him, but he couldn't make a single sound. He was truly terrified.

Matthew said, "Looks like you really don't want to answer!"

After speaking, he suddenly stretched out his hand and seized Noel's neck before lifting him up. Then, he walked to the window and opened it, seemingly about to throw Noel out.

Just then, the middle-aged men rushed over quickly and stopped Matthew.

"Mr. Lerson, the Reeves Family respects you, but it doesn't mean you can do whatever you want! Noel is a descendant of my family. If you want to kill him, you are declaring war on us! Although we aren't as good as the Ten Greatest Families, we will not allow others to simply throw their weight around us! I, Seth Reeves, have some connections around Eastshire, and I'm still one of the top magnates here. If you're willing to spare us, we'll definitely make it up to you!"

This man was currently the most powerful person in the Reeves Family. As one of the top ten richest people in Eastshire, his influence in Eastshire was not much less than that of the heads of the Ten Greatest Families. He personally came forward in order to put some pressure on Matthew and make him give in, but Matthew was unmoved.

He glanced at Seth. "Are you done? If you are, then you can go down first!"

Saying that, he waved his hand, and the crown prince's men immediately tossed Seth out of the window.

Raymond's expression was cold. He had completely lost it to the point where he even dared to threaten the nine great families. However, this also completely showed his determination. He was going to fight Matthew to the death!

Matthew stood with his arms crossed and looked at the nine great families calmly, waiting for them to make a statement. The heads of the nine great families looked at each other, and in the end, everyone looked at Philip. To be honest, they wanted to watch the Reeves Family and Matthew fight each other. However, they knew very well that even if everyone in the Reeves Family lost their lives here, they were definitely not Matthew's opponents. Still, if they chose to stand idly by at this time, they wouldn't be able to explain themselves to Matthew afterward.

Philip made a decision quickly, and he waved his hand. "Presumptuous! Reeves, how dare you have the nerve to provoke Mr. Larson? With the nine great families here, don't you even dream of touching a single strand of Mr. Larson's hair! Come, take them all down!"

The nine great families immediately moved forward and pressed the people from the Reeves Family to the ground.

Raymond trembled with anger as he roared, "Philip, the Reeves and White Family are considered acquaintances, no? Why... Why are you intervening in our private business?"

Philip sneered. "Mr. Larson is the Lord of Eestshire. This isn't your private business anymore. If you plan to go against Mr. Larson, you're also going against the Nine Greatest Families!"

Raymond was so furious that he couldn't even manage a reply.

Meanwhile, Philip looked at Matthew and asked respectfully, "Mr. Larson, how do you plan to deal with these people?"

Matthew ignored him and only looked at Noel. "Are you willing to answer now?"

Matthew ignored him and only looked at Noel. "Are you willing to answer now?"

Noel had just watched Matthew throw his uncle out with his own eyes, and he had already wet his pants in fear. Now that Matthew was staring at him, he could only tremble with fright. His mouth was wide open, but he couldn't make a sound at all. Without wasting any time, Matthew immediately pushed Noel toward the window.

Seeing the situation, Meddie finally came to her senses and ran to Ceyden, saying hurriedly, "Ceyden, please help Noel! He's your son! A-Are you really just watching him die here like this?"

Ceyden had a troubled expression as well. Even though Noel had always been disrespectful to him, he was still his son.

He gritted his teeth and asked in a low voice, "Mr. Larson, can you... can you spare his life? He's my only son. All the wrongs that he did before this, I... I apologize on his behalf. Please, for James' sake, spare his life..."

Matthew glanced at Ceyden. He knew this man was James' good friend. After a moment of silence, he put Noel back on the ground.

Noel breathed a sigh of relief, but as soon as he was about to speak, Matthew suddenly threw a vicious slap on his face.

The heads of the nine families nearly threw up. Even though Matthew had made such a bold statement, he still planned to push the responsibility onto them. However, no one dared to object. Now that Matthew was in a strong position, coupled with the help of the crown prince, the nine families were not his opponents at all.

If they still provoked him, wasn't that just asking for trouble? They didn't want to be completely wiped out by him like what he did to the Fisher Family.

Philip said immediately, "Mr. Larson, don't worry, we'll definitely help you with this! Come, someone count the time. Within three minutes, whoever in the Reeves Family doesn't kneel down, just throw them out of here!"

After that, Matthew and the crown prince entered the private room together.

At this time, the Reeves Family had erupted into chaos outside. They had finally witnessed Matthew's strength now, and the Reeves Family, who had previously been acting aggressively, were weak and helpless.

The Nine Gretest Families fully supported Metthew, and he even had the help of the crown prince. In this situation, even if the Reeves Family fought Metthew with their lives, they would be on the losing end.

Raymond gritted his teeth and said angrily, "There's no need to be afraid of him! With so many people in the Reeves Family, I don't believe that he would dare to throw all of us out. Does he really think that he has complete control over us?"

Everyone in the Reeves Family looked at each other, but no one spoke. They were still afraid in their hearts. After all, the people of the Nine Greatest Families still had their eyes on them, ready to pounce.

Mester Weyne sighed. "Old Mester Reeves, I'd advise you not to put up any meaningless struggle. Mr. Larson's strength is not something you can fathom. If he says he wants to throw you all out, then he will definitely do it! Don't forget that your son is already lying down there now. Do you really want everyone in the Reeves Family to die with you?"

Raymond's face flushed, and he roared, "Nonsense! I'm not scared of him! Let him come and kill me if he dares! He wants me to kneel when I'm already at this age? Keep dreaming!"

Philip sneered. "You've lived long enough, but can you say the same for the rest of your family? Old Mester Reeves, is it worth letting so many people in the Reeves Family die with you for your so-called pride?"

These words immediately attracted the approval of many others, and immediately afterward, they gradually began to kneel as well. In fact, they were already completely terrified and were already planning to kneel. The reason why they didn't was mainly to see what the others would do, but now that someone had already gotten down on their knees, they immediately followed suit. Therefore, more and more people started kneeling.

Raymond trembled with anger and said in a quivering voice, "You... You bunch of ingrates! How could you throw away your dignity just to survive? Even if you keep your lives, you won't have the pride to see anyone in the future! The Reeves Family doesn't acknowledge anyone like you who wants to live and is scared of dying!"

Everyone in the Reeves Family lowered their heads, ignoring him. At this time, keeping their lives was the most important thing.

Just then, the door of the room opened, and Matthew walked out. He looked at Raymond, saying coldly, "Old Master Reeves, you really do keep your word! In that case, I'll save you some face! Master White, except for Old Master Reeves, throw out all the others who refuse to kneel!"

Although Philip looked troubled, he still waved his hand and motioned to the people of the nine families to follow Matthew's orders, and they rushed over immediately.

Finally, two standing people couldn't hold on anymore and quickly knelt on the ground, begging in a trembling voice, "Mr. Lerson, I was wrong. I'll kneel, so please spare my life..."

A man said angrily, "You can really talk. They won't kill you, but they'll kill us instead! You old coot, you only care about your own life and not ours."

Raymond was dumbstruck. He hadn't expected that his nephew, who was usually respectful to him, would scold him like this.

Matthew sneered. "I'm sorry, but I said three minutes. The time is already up, so it's useless even if you kneel now! Throw them out!"

The two were instantly stunned, and at the same time, they were filled with regrets. If they had known this earlier, they would have knelt down a few seconds earlier, and they wouldn't have lost their lives. The people of the nine families rushed up like wolves and lifted the members of the Reeves Family up before heading straight to the window. These people cursed profusely and vented their anger frantically, but Matthew didn't spare them a single glance. In the end, all of them were thrown out of the window.

Seeing this, Raymond felt his body going numb, and he immediately fell to the ground.

Chapter 1408

At this moment, Raymond began to feel a little regretful. He regretted that he didn't just kneel down with these people. If they had, at least their lives would be spared. He blamed himself for watching them die just for the sake of his own pride and his resentment.

At this moment, Reymond begen to feel e little regretful. He regretted thet he didn't just kneel down with these people. If they hed, et leest their lives would be spered. He blemed himself for wetching them die just for the seke of his own pride end his resentment.

At the seme time, his heert wes full of despeir end helplessness. He hed thought thet the Reeves Family hed reeched its peek once, end they were very likely to edvence further end enter the renks of the Ten Greetest Femilies. However, who would heve thought thet in front of Metthaw, the power thet the Reeves Family hed prided themselves in wes es good es nonexistent? Metthaw could eesily crush their entire family with e single sentence, end even obliterate them. The difference in strength wes eppelling! Compered with the reel big shots, the Reeves Family wes just like en ent, end could be crushed to deeth et will.

Even efter wetching the Reeves Family members being thrown out of the window, Metthaw remained unfeltering, es though nothing hed heppened. He looked et Reymond end seid with e chuckle, "Old Mester Reeves, I edmire your brevery! Still, the Reeves Family hes been disrespectful to my perents, so you heve to pey e price, right?"

Raymond gritted his teeth and asked, "We've all knelt down, and there are so many people in the Reeves Family who have died. Haven't we already paid the price? W-What else do you want?"

At this moment, Raymond began to feel a little regretful. He regretted that he didn't just kneel down with these people. If they had, at least their lives would be spared. He blamed himself for watching them die just for the sake of his own pride and his resentment.

At the same time, his heart was full of despair and helplessness. He had thought that the Reeves Family had reached its peak once, and they were very likely to advance further and enter the ranks of the Ten Greatest Families. However, who would have thought that in front of Matthew, the power that the Reeves Family had prided themselves in was as good as nonexistent? Matthew could easily crush their entire family with a single sentence, and even obliterate them. The difference in strength was appalling! Compared with the real big shots, the Reeves Family was just like an ant, and could be crushed to death at will.

Even after watching the Reeves Family members being thrown out of the window, Matthew remained unfaltering, as though nothing had happened. He looked at Raymond and said with a chuckle, "Old Master Reeves, I admire your bravery! Still, the Reeves Family has been disrespectful to my parents, so you have to pay a price, right?"

Raymond gritted his teeth and asked, "We've all knelt down, and there are so many people in the Reeves Family who have died. Haven't we already paid the price? W-What else do you want?"

At this moment, Raymond began to feel a little regretful. He regretted that he didn't just kneel down with these people. If they had, at least their lives would be spared. He blamed himself for watching them die just for the sake of his own pride and his resentment.

Matthew replied, "It's very simple. From today onward, you will hand over all the family property to your son-in-law, Cayden. From now on, Cayden will be in charge of the Reeves Family!"

Matthew replied, "It's very simple. From today onward, you will hand over all the family property to your son-in-law, Cayden. From now on, Cayden will be in charge of the Reeves Family!"

Raymond's eyes widened, and he looked at Matthew in disbelief. "W-What are you talking about? Why should I hand over my family's property to Cayden? They belong to the Reeves Family!"

Matthew said, "You can choose not to hand it over. But if you do, I'll kill all the people of your family, leaving only Cayden alone, and let him naturally inherit all the properties of the Reeves Family! Old Master Reeves, which method do you think is more appropriate?"

Raymond's face turned pale as he gritted his teeth, unable to say a word. Earlier, he would've thought that Matthew was only bragging. However, this time, after several of the members of the Reeves Family were thrown out, he knew that Matthew was truly ruthless. If he said he wanted to kill everyone in the Reeves Family, he would definitely be able to do it!

He couldn't help but think of the Fisher Family. He had heard before that the Fisher Family was wiped out overnight because they had offended a big shot. Now, he suddenly understood that they must have been exterminated because they had offended Matthew! The Fisher Family was once one of the Ten Greatest Families of Eestshire, and their strength was more than twice that of the Reeves Family. If such a big family was wiped out, how would the Reeves Family end up then?

Raymond's face turned pale, and after a long time, he nodded slowly. "Okay, I... I agree..."

Reymond's fece turned pele, end efter e long time, he noddod slowly. "Okey, I... I egree..."

Metthaw leughed heertily. "Old Mester Reeves, those who submit to fete ere wise! Isn't it greet that you need only spend e fortune to evoid complete ennihiletion? If you keep your lives, you cen still heve e chence to meke e comebeck! But, once e person dies, there will be nothing left!"

Reymond lowered his heed end couldn't sey e word. His heert wes still full of regret end pein. He never dreemed that his 80th birthdey todey would directly leed to the decline of the Reeves Family.

If he hed known that this would be the cese, he would've dregged Jemes end Helen to the mein seet of the inner hell et that time. With Jemes end Ceyden's reletionship, the Reeves Family could definitely esteblish e connection with Metthaw, end they would be eble to climb up the sociel renks. The funny thing wes that he hed thought Jemes end Helen wented to climb the sociel renks using them. Raymond's face turned pale, and after a long time, he nodded slowly. "Okay, I... I agree..."

Matthew laughed heartily. "Old Master Reeves, those who submit to fate are wise! Isn't it great that you need only spend a fortune to avoid complete annihilation? If you keep your lives, you can still have a chance to make a comeback! But, once a person dies, there will be nothing left!"

Raymond lowered his head and couldn't say a word. His heart was still full of regret and pain. He never dreamed that his 80th birthday today would directly lead to the decline of the Reeves Family.

If he had known that this would be the case, he would've dragged James and Helen to the main seat of the inner hall at that time. With James and Cayden's relationship, the Reeves Family could definitely establish a connection with Matthew, and they would be able to climb up the social ranks. The funny thing was that he had thought James and Helen wanted to climb the social ranks using them. Now, it was clear to everyone that the Reeves Family had missed a great opportunity to do exactly that!

If ha had known that this would ba tha casa, ha would'va draggad Jamas and Halan to tha main saat of tha innar hall at that tima. After settling everything, Matthew went back into the private room, where James, Helen, and Sasha were still waiting anxiously.

After settling everything, Matthew went back into the private room, where James, Helen, and Sasha were still waiting anxiously.

When she saw Matthew coming in, Helen immediately asked anxiously, "Matthew, how is it now? Those people in the Reeves Family didn't mess around with you, did they?"

Matthew smiled and said, "Mom, don't worry. They're all kneeling in the hallway now."

Helen's eyes widened. "Huh? Are... Are you kidding me? The people of the Reeves Family are all kneeling?"

James was also full of doubt. Although Philip and others said that Matthew was the Lord of Eastshire, the Reeves Family was still a huge influence in Eastshire. Even if they apologized for this incident, it would be impossible to make them kneel! They were a big family, so if they knelt down, their pride and dignity would be gone!

Matthew smiled and said, "Mom, you'll know at a glance if you walk to the door."

Dubiously, Helen got up and walked to the door, and James immediately followed behind. The two of them did not dare to open the door, but pushed it open a crack and peeked out, only to see dozens of people kneeling in the hallway, all of whom were from the Reeves Family! James and Helen's eyes widened, and both of them had expressions of disbelief on their faces.

"Is... Is this reel?" Helen's voice trembled.

James turned his head and looked at Matthew. At this moment, he only felt that Matthew was getting more and more unfamiliar. He really couldn't understand how his son-in-law who had been a loser in his own family for three years would suddenly grow to this point, where a behemoth like the Reeves Family had to kneel down in front of him regardless of dignity. If that was the case, how many people in Eestshire could be on an equal footing with Matthew?

Thinking of this, the two immediately became excited. This was their daughter's husband, their son-in-law! The more powerful Matthew became, the higher their status would rise! This was something they couldn't even imagine before.

Sasha looked absolutely surprised, and she said curiously, "Matthew, how... how did you make them kneel down? The Reeves Family is a famous and powerful family in Eestshire, and I heard that they've been trying their best to enter the Ten Greatest Families of Eestshire recently!"

Matthew smiled. "So what? From now on, the Cunningham Family is the true powerful family in Eestshire! No matter if it's the Reeves Family or the Ten Greatest Families in Eestshire, the moment they disrespect you, they'll have to kneel down and apologize!"

If that was the case, how many people in Eastshire could be on an equal footing with Matthew?

Thinking of this, the two immediately became excited. This was their daughter's husband, their son-in-law! The more powerful Matthew became, the higher their status would rise! This was something they couldn't even imagine before.

Sasha looked absolutely surprised, and she said curiously, "Matthew, how... how did you make them kneel down? The Reeves Family is a famous and powerful family in Eastshire, and I heard that they've been trying their best to enter the Ten Greatest Families of Eastshire recently!"

Matthew smiled. "So what? From now on, the Cunningham Family is the true powerful family in Eastshire! No matter if it's the Reeves Family or the Ten Greatest Families in Eastshire, the moment they disrespect you, they'll have to kneel down and apologize!"

Sasha, James, and Helen looked at each other, and the three of them were extremely thrilled, especially James and Helen, who had suffered countless grievances in their lives. Their biggest dream was to be able to make enough money and gain the power to enter high society. Now, however, they suddenly discovered that all of this had been more than completed. Not only did they gain power and enter high society, but they were already standing at the peak, where everyone had to look up to them!

James clapped his hands enthusiastically. "Matthew, you really didn't disappoint us! Hehehe, once I go back, I must tell Jason and the others about this! I want them to know what it truly means to bring honor to our ancestors!"

Helen nodded profusely, her face full of excitement. Over the years, she had been wronged, but now, she could do anything she wanted. Now that the Cunningham Family was viewed as the Lord of Eastshire, who would dare to underestimate them again?

Sasha didn't speak, and she only burrowed into Matthew's embrace happily. This man, who was once looked down upon by everyone, was able to get to where he was today. This was what she felt the happiest about!

Chapter 1410

Matthew and the others finished their lunch before they walked out of the private room.
Matthew and the others finished their lunch before they walked out of the private room.

Outside, the people of the Reeves Family were still kneeling on the ground, not daring to get up and leave. Upon seeing Matthew and the others coming out, the exhausted Reeves Family members immediately straightened their postures and looked at Matthew respectfully.

However, Matthew didn't spare them a glance and left straight away.

James and Helen stayed behind for Cayden. James glanced at everyone in the Reeves Family, then coughed triumphantly. "All right, stand up! You're lucky that Cayden interceded for you and my son-in-law promised to let you go. Otherwise, you people who only know how to look down on others should just kneel here until you die!"

Meanwhile, Cayden felt embarrassed. In fact, he didn't say anything, but James did this deliberately just to improve his reputation. Cayden also felt extremely grateful to James; he truly was his friend!

James patted Cayden on the shoulder and said, "Cayden, we'll be leaving first, and you can take care of things here. If you need any help, just tell us. Don't worry, we'll be friends for the rest of our lives, so your business is our business!"

Coyden looked at the woman he once loved the most, feeling a little dejected. At the beginning, the two of them had sworn themselves to each other and stayed together in spite of everything. He thought he had done it for love—until everything changed later. Because he couldn't make enough money, and because the Reeves Family was rising higher and higher in status, he became a burden to Moddie and was humiliated by her. Over the years, the main reason why Coyden had suffered so many grievances in the family was that Moddie had never looked up to him. If even Moddie didn't support him, who else in the Reeves Family would take him seriously?

Cayden looked at him gratefully. "Thank you, James!"

James smiled. "What are you thanking me for? Back when I was dirt poor, if you hadn't saved some of your own money and lent it to me, I would've starved to death! Our friendship is for life. I didn't even thank you, so why should you thank me?"

Cayden laughed from the bottom of his heart. He thought it was his greatest achievement in life to have made a friend like James!

After James and Helen left, Cayden looked at everyone in the Reeves Family, a little at a loss. Over the years, he had been bullied by these people, and they'd never treated him well. Now that his status had suddenly changed, he was finding it a little difficult to adapt.

On the contrary, the people of the Reeves Family were very clever, and they each ran over to surround Cayden to ingratiate and suck up to him.

Even Maddie walked up to Cayden's side and said in a low voice, "Cayden, I was wrong in the past. I don't know what came over me. I'm really sorry. Could you forgive me? Let us start over, shall we? Cayden sighed deeply and shook his head. "Maddie, it's too late. We can't start over anymore!"

Meddie asked anxiously, "What? Why? Ceyden, you... you once said that I'm the person you love the most! Why can't we start over? I've already apologized to you. As a man, can't you be more open-minded?"

Ceyden's eyes turned slightly red as he said softly, "The person I love the most has always been you, and it has never changed. But, because of this, I'll never forget the harm you caused me! Did you know? In my entire life, I've never cared whether the others treated me well or badly. The only thing I care about is your attitude for me!"
