

Chapter 243

Sasha cracked up. “That’s right! Liam, the fact that they released Matthew goes to show that he’s not the murderer. What do you have to say now?”

Tightening his jaw, Liam said in defiance, “T-They haven’t found these evidence when they released you! These evidence w-were uncovered just now.”

“Really?” Matthew sniggered. “If that’s the case, then call the police on me now!”

Liam was speechless. He was simply telling tales; these were not the evidence the police got at all!

When she saw the look on his face, Sasha giggled. “Why are you quiet now, Liam? Call the police if you have the evidence. What is holding you back? Are you afraid to verify the tale you just made up? If you’re not calling the police, then I will! You’re spreading rumors and slandering others. Do you know what crime that is?”

The look on his face changed instantly as he blurted, “I-I remembered it wrongly. This isn’t the news from the police. T-This is the information from the Jacksons, but these evidence are absolutely true!”

Sasha snorted and questioned him, “Information from the Jacksons? Can you believe anything they say?”

“As one of the Ten Greatest Families of Easteliff, their words carry the weight worth more than a thousand gold. Will they spout nonsense?” he spat angrily.

With that, Sasha simply snorted indifferently as a reply, which angered him as he shouted, “You don’t trust me, do you? Fine, I dare you to make a bet with me! You’re the loser if Matthew is the one who did it, but if you lose, you’ll have to hand over Wellness Herbary to me! How about that? Do you have the guts?”

Matthew knitted his brows at the sight of Liam who got all fired up, still coveting after Wellness Herbary at this time.

“Why would I be afraid?” Sasha burst out furiously. “I’m telling you, Liam, if it’s Matthew who did it, not only Wellness Herbary, but I can even hand over the entire Cunningham Pharmaceuticals to you!”

Matthew’s heart filled with warmth as he stared at her. Even in critical moments, she never left his side and supported him! Meanwhile, Liam was overjoyed because he felt that he was sure to win!

Then, Matthew asked him instead, “Liam, what happens if you lose?”

“If I lose?” Liam jeered.

“Since you want to make a bet, then you’ll have to make it clear. Without telling what you will do if you lose, then how can you make a bet with someone?”

Glaring at him angrily, Liam chided, “This is a bet I made with Sasha. What has this got to do with you?”

“She’s my wife, of course I can’t watch in vain if someone tries to fool her!”

Gritting his teeth, Liam hissed, “Fine, so tell me what you want.”

“That’s simple!” Matthew chortled. “If you lose, just kneel in front of us and kowtow in apology to us three times!”

“Larson, are you insulting him?” Demi lashed out at him.

Instantly, Matthew slammed the table and shouted, “Your husband wants to take away Wellness Herbary worth tens of millions with just one word, and yet he didn’t want to fork out anything. So who’s being insulting now? Demi Cunningham, do you really take everyone else as an idiot? You want to snatch away Wellness Herbary with just one word?”

Demi was dumbfounded as she had never seen him lose his temper so greatly before. On the other hand, Liam hurriedly stopped her with his hand, smiling from ear to ear. Kowtow in apology was nothing because he was confident that Matthew would be proven to be the murderer. Basically, he didn’t have to do anything and still be able to make a windfall!

“Fine, it’s a deal! Since James and Helen are here, how about if we let them be the witness?” Liam suggested with a sneer.

Catching each other’s eyes, James and Helen then nodded slowly.

“Liam, remember what you said today!” Sasha warned, sniggering.

With a conceited face, he promised, “I won’t take back anything I said and I’ll do it since I’ve already spoken it. Unfortunately for you, it’s destined that I won’t lose!”