

Chapter 38

With no other choice, those ingredient suppliers could only turn to James and Helen for help, who drove them out instead out of frustration. Back then, the security guards wouldn’t obey Sasha’s words. Now that Sasha had taken down such a large order and was willing to spend 10 million in rewarding them, these guards immediately responded to her commands.

Next, Sasha did not sit back in an idle manner. She gathered the company’s employees for a meeting. At the conference, Sasha fired other members of the Cunningham Family, including Charlie and Lily. Cunningham Pharmaceuticals was now completely controlled by Sasha. After what happened, she was much revered, and all her subordinates supported her.

Although the members of the Cunningham Family were unwilling to accept it, they were left with no choice but to pack up their belongings and leave. That night, Sasha held a celebration banquet. The venue was chosen at Times Hotel, which was suggested by Matthew.

Feeling a little nervous, Sasha knew how high the threshold of booking a hall in the Times Hotel was. A small company like theirs might not even be able to enter the hotel’s first floor. However, as soon as she rang them up, Times Hotel immediately booked the banquet hall on the ninth floor, which was beyond her expectations. According to their manager, Cunningham Pharmaceuticals was now a leading company in the medical industry in Eastcliff, so they were fully qualified to enter the ninth floor.

When the company employees heard the news, they were all excited. It was the famous Times Hotel, after all. Most of the people in the company had never been there. Even if someone was lucky enough to go in, they could only access the first and second floors. Yet, they were holding the banquet on the ninth level, which was a place where only the best of the best of Eastcliff residents could go. This matter was enough for them to show off for a lifetime!

Sasha was also very pleasantly surprised, who thereafter arranged for her employees with preparations for the banquet. While Matthew was busy working, Helen came up to Matthew and said, “Matthew, you should go home. The clothes at home have not been washed yet!”

Matthew was stunned. “Go home?”

“Yes. What’s the problem with that?” Helen glared at him. “This is Sasha’s company’s celebration banquet. What does it have to do with you?”

“Sasha is now the Chairman of the company. She has just signed deals worth 3 billion, and she is now an established business woman in Eastcliff. With her own capabilities, she can even host a banquet on the ninth floor of the Times Hotel. What about you? You’re just a live-in son-in-law who has done nothing worthwhile. You work as a cleaner in the hospital, and you live off Sasha’s earnings. Are you going to attend the banquet to embarrass her?”

Matthew was slightly annoyed. How he wished to tell her the truth. However, at the thought of the tragedy that befell his family, Matthew finally chose to remain silent. He still had to take revenge, so now was not the time to expose his identity. Otherwise, he would be doomed if he was found by his enemy, as he was still not powerful enough. In the end, Matthew left the company alone, for he didn’t want Sasha to get embarrassed. However, instead of going home, he went to the lakeside villa.

His sister, Natalie, was still in a coma. Joseph Harrison had collected nearly all the necessary medicinal ingredients. He was lacking one more element—the rare Thousand-Year Snow Lotus.

Stanley Carlson had already mobilized all his acquaintances to look for the Thousand-Year Snow Lotus. As long as they found it, Matthew could wake Natalie up. All Matthew could do now was administering Natalie with a mini Rejuvenating Pill to maintain her vigor.

After sitting in the small courtyard of the villa for a while, Matthew suddenly received a call from his mother-in-law, Helen. “Matthew… Where are you?” Helen sobbed.

“What’s wrong?” asked a surprised Matthew.

“Sasha… Sasha is gone…”

“What?!” Matthew stood up instantly. “What’s the matter? Where are you guys now?”

“We’re at the Times Hotel. We just realized that she wasn’t here.”

“Wait for me. I’ll be there soon!”