Chapter 12 - Another Misunderstanding

Just as it reached James' turn to be attended to, the cashier instantly sat up straight.

"Good day sir!"

She gave James a praiseful glance as she recollected what he did yesterday.

She could still remember clearly how shocked she had been yesterday when she saw James give a meal card worth $200,000 to a father and daughter duo. Where would one see such people in this world?

Her eyes began to shine with bright light as she stared at him

'Didn't I take that from you?'

"Okay, great, how would I locate them?"

"Thanks...."

"Lady, would you wake up?"

He could not understand why she would stare at him openly like this. 'Perhaps she has fallen in love with my handsome and charismatic self.'

Seeing this young girl that is busy gawking at himself, James suddenly felt a bunch of

James instantly blushed slightly when he heard that, he couldn't help but retort in his mind;

"Hello," James greeted awkwardly and waved his hand in front of the daydreaming girl. "I would like to confirm if those people I brought here yesterday are still here, or had arrived?" "Yes sir... yes sir they are on the second floor."

The girl turned to face a computer on her desk and typed on it for some seconds before turning to face James again.

She watched James leave dreamily, different thoughts running amok inside her head.

"They are in the sixth room by the left on the second floor," she said respectfully to James.

Someone called out, snapping the cashier back to present.

After reaching the room described by the cashier, James knocked gently on the door twice

She hurriedly apologized in embarrassment and resumed back to her work.

Just as he was about to knock again, the door was cracked open, and a tiny head popped out from within the crack.

He couldn't understand why this man loved kneeling to others like this.

"Please stand up sir, you are making me embarrassed, okay."

"Sir, please let me stay like this for a while, please!"

He could only stare at the card with fear.

James automatically ignored that.

She opened the door widely so that James could come in, and closed it again after he did. Walking into the room, James saw the armless man standing, while glancing toward the

The moment he spotted James, the middle-aged man unexpectedly knelt heavily on the floor, stunning James.

James walked towards the man whose eyes has began to ooze out tears at this moment.

His voice sounded raspy, and his eyes were filled with hope. James could only helplessly leave the man alone, as he knew that that was what he want.

James did not know that the man who saw how the cashier reacted when he gave him the meal card yesterday couldn't help but ask the cashier the worth of the card he was given

He had become stunned for a long time after he heard the card's worth, and he couldn't react

The man instantly wanted to reject it after he finally came back to his senses, but James has throughout the night, scared he would lose it or someone who knew its worth would steal it. He thought he was only given the card so that he and his daughter could have a meal, and it would be collected later.

He knew he would not be able to realize such a huge amount of money even if he was to sell

Thinking there is no way he would be given the card completely, that James would definitely be collecting it back in the future, the man began to treat it so carefully, that it stayed on him

He could only keep it carefully deep on him. James stood by the side awkwardly, waiting for the man to stand up.

After a while when James finally couldn't take it anymore, he spoke out.

"Sir, will you stand up already, you're making me feel embarrassed."

He had never thought his appreciative gesture would turn out to make his and his daughter's life savior uncomfortable.

Not wanting to make James feel uncomfortable anymore, the middle-aged man finally

He realized at that moment that James is not someone who would help and wait for the

The moment the armless man heard the awkwardness and helplessness in James' voice, he

The moment the girl heard James' question, her eyes instantly became huge and round

He knew the girl must have felt grateful in her way, with the way she responded.

James gave the little girl a playful smile and questioned softly.

He finally turned to the middle-aged man again.

She began to nod her head furiously, also she seemed to be salivating.

James only smiled slightly at this, but deep inside, he was feeling a sense of Joy descend over him.

He suddenly felt that his head would split at this moment when he realized he does not know

He does not understand what James was talking about.

He turned to look at the little girl who is currently busy staring out curiously through the seethrough wall. "What is your dream in life?"

I want us to have a house. I want me and my daddy to eat our fill every day.

'For this girl, I must help them." After making up his mind, James pressed a small button on the table.

At this moment, the school platform has exploded.

The moment the video came out, it instantly entered the top spot.

A girl suddenly rushed into her classroom while breathing heavily.

She clicked it once and gave it to the person near her.

Someone questioned uncertainly. "I think so...."

While these people were getting stunned when they saw this, many people were also

It was only James' friends and class monitor that got scared by the videos.

He only finally smiled a bit when the girl said her last wish.

I want to go to school.

"Hun...."

The girl instantly turned to look at James when she realized she was being questioned, her eyes dimmed a bit. "I want my daddy's hand to grow back.

James couldn't help but wonder in his mind what the girl has gone through to make her have wishes like this.

James looked at the man and saw that his eyes has become completely red at this moment.

He realized that the man is only barely controlling himself with all he could from tearing up

'I must help this family,' James swore to himself with conviction on his face.

I also want to buy sweets for uncle, to thank him for giving me delicious meals yesterday."

Without pausing a bit, the girl counted with her fingers, making James become extremely

"I will give you most of your wishes, but before that, we should make one of the first wishes become a reality." Just as James finished saying this, the door to their room was knocked.

The girls' eyes began to shine when they heard what he was saying while the boys were only nodding affirmatively to him. After a while, the camera suddenly shows James' face, making everybody stunned.

Everybody instantly stood up and walked towards the person, to check what was going on.

The video began and started with Lean's face, which looked handsome and elegant.
