

chapter 17 - Receiving His Rewards For Doing Good

"Uncle..... Are you not going to follow us home?"

Outside Stomach Empire's building, the trio; James, Lola, and her father were currently standing beside each other.

At this moment, all the excitement previously in Lola's eyes could no longer be seen, instead, her face has long been downcasted.

James glanced below, at this little girl's face, and couldn't help but ruffle her hair lovingly.

"It's okay, I would not be following you today, but hope you haven't forgotten that I will be there on Sunday and Monday?"

James questioned quietly. Unfortunately, this does not seem to brighten her mood a bit, instead, she looked like she would start crying anytime soon.

James could only look helplessly at the middle-aged man whose name he still does not know.

When the man saw this, a small smile instantly formed on his face.

"Lola, be a good girl, okay? Big Brother needs to go and rest home, he has been going around since early today."

The man is also feeling speechless at his daughter this instant.

He does not expect his little daughter to already become this close to James, that she would not even want him to leave.

'Didn't they just meet like last night?'

When the girl heard what her father just said, she couldn't help but enter a deep thought for a while, her face looking very cute, and wanting James to pinch them.

"Uncle..... Are you sure you would come to visit me on Sunday and Monday?"

She suddenly raised her little head and stared unblinkingly at James.

"I promise, you wanna do a pinky swear?"

Lola instantly nodded her head forcefully.

She gave James her hand, and the pinky swear was completed.

It was only after this that the little girl's mood finally lifted a bit.

James called a taxi for them, told the driver where he would take them, he then opened the back door for them.

Lola gave James a final hug before entering, while the armless man bowed 90° to James.

"Although I know thanks alone would not show you I'm grateful I felt, I still need to do this."

"It's okay.... Just see it as someone helping his family member."

James went to the man and helped raise his back.

"It's okay, you can go home."

The man gave James a deep look that was filled with many emotions, and after that, he also boarded the taxi.

"You can call me if there is anything," James said before the car began moving.

"I would be expecting you on Sunday, Uncle....." Lola shouted from within the car while waving furiously at James.

"

'What a loveable girl....'

James finally glanced around.

Seeing that the sky is already becoming dark, he also made up his mind to go back to his hostel first.

'I'm so tired..... What I will do after getting back to the hostel is sleep like a log....'

(Ding.....)

A voice suddenly sounded in his head, almost startling James to death.

Goosebumps began to crawl angrily all over his skin, and his heart palpitate heavily.

[Congratulations to host, he has successfully given out $12,801,000 and has taught defensive and offensive skills, making host receive three packages, would you like to open them?]

James finally sighed in relief when he realized that it was the system that made that sound.

Its voice sounded like a typical system this time around, just like it did every time it wanted to give him his rewards.

James suddenly became stunned for a second.

'System... do you just say I gave out $12,801,000?'

[Yes, host.]

'Did I not give out a house, and paid for school fees?'

[No... host did not give them out, since they do not belongs to the host in the first place.]

James felt that he would become crazy at this instant.

'What sort of reasoning is this?'

'Oh.... Wait a second.... I understand.'

James suddenly sighed in regret.

'Whatever.'

[Would host love to open his package?]

James still found it hard to relate this voice with the shameless and perverted voice he knew.

'Open.'

(Ding....)

[Congratulations to the host, he has successfully received 1000x of the money he gave out and successfully received $12,801,000,000.]

James became dumbfounded when he heard such a ridiculous amount.

(Ding....)

[Congratulations to host, he has successfully received 100x of the skills he taught and successfully gained the legendary skills; Stun Fist, and Chicken dodge, would host like to learn them.]

If James was only dumbfounded when he received the money, he has become speechless at this moment.

'Stun Fist and Chicken Dodge?'

'What are these stupid names?'

'Whatever, I wasn't expecting to receive a reward for the nonsense I taught Lola anyways.'

It was when they were dining that James taught Lola the skill.

He had noticed earlier that her mood seemed complicated when they were going to the bank.

So he could no longer hold back, but ask her the reason, when they were dining.

It was then that she told him the.

James could still remember how speechless he had been when she told him the reason.

Lola told him that she was scared she would not fit in and that she might be bullied by her classmate.

James laughed hard then, that he literally spat his spit all over the food he was eating.

After that, he jokingly told Lola that if ever anybody wants to bully her, she could use her fist against them and if they gang up on her, she could escape.

Who would have thought that the system would take it as him teaching people?

[The skill host taught was understood by the learner.]

James became stunned again when he heard this.

'Don't tell me that she would really do what I meant as jokes?'

Silence....

James immediately began to blame himself when he thought about this.

'What if she gets into trouble because of his nonsense?'

'I must talk her out of it when I get to her on Sunday.'

James finally became relieved after making up his mind.

(Ting ting...)

James' phone vibrated in his pocket.

He took it out and checked its screen, then his heart stopped working for a second.

'How... how many numbers are this?!'

Although he has been expecting this, since the system told him he has received it, when he finally saw the money being credited into his account, he found it hard to believe.

His brain could not register the figures he was seeing, and his hand began to shake as if he was carrying something heavy.

He was not able to think deeply about it earlier because of the second return the system gave him.

"I'm rich...."

James muttered to himself like someone that has lost his mind.

"I'm rich...."

"I'm rich...."

"FUCK!!! I'M FUCKING RICH!!!"

After muttering to himself for a while, he finally screamed at the top of his lungs, shocking the people they were passing by him.

They couldn't help but pause a bit, to see if he was okay, then they continued their walk after they realized that James must have seen something on his phone since he was staring blankly at its screen.

James could not react for a long time at this moment.

He could still remember how excited he had been when he received 70 million dollars yesterday, but today, what he got was over 12 billion dollars.

'Here comes my dream.'

'I can finally buy myself a big mansion, sports car, many high-quality dresses, and many expensive clothes.....'

James began to plan deeply in his mind, his emotion going above cloud 99 at this moment.

'Also... Sarah, can you see..... You left me because I was broke, today, I have over 12 billion dollars, and shares in a restaurant!!'

"Hahaha....."

James began to laugh happily, not caring about all the strange gazes he was receiving.

Thankfully, it was already nighttime, and people were only focused on their destinations now, which was why they had not begun to film James, or else he have brake break the internet again.

'Should I send aunty money first?'

'No... No, she might become scared since she does not know how and where I get the money, I should go home myself.'

James stood like that while planning for almost one hour before he finally reacted.

He checked the time on his phone and was instantly stunned when he realized it was already 6:01 PM.

I should go back to the hostel now, else, I'd get locked outside.

James gave his surrounding which has already become much crowded compared to the morning and noon a final glance.

Looking around, the place has become bright and lively at this moment that one might not know that it's already this night.

The street lights were so bright, that they made the place look like it is still in the day.

James flagged a taxi and told the driver to take him back to school.

.....

"Gruhhhh....."

The first brother who has been seating uncomfortably since earlier finally couldn't control himself anymore.

He stood up and began to pace around.

'If the fourth brother does by nine, we would go report at the police station,' He said with a frown on his face.

The other two brothers that had become startled by their first brother instantly nodded their heads as if they had been waiting for him to say this for a while.

Their emotions have become completely disordered since earlier today, and they couldn't eat anything, other than the breakfast they had before

If they were to know at this moment that James has been busy enjoying himself since morning, they would have go butchered him.

They would have screamed endlessly into his ears and tortured him for countless years before they butcher him.

At this moment, the three brothers, including Ruby that was still feeling restless in her room did not know that they have only been giving themselves emotional stress since and that nothing was wrong with James.

The mastermind, Lean who was behind all this was talking with Gabs at this moment.

"Don't worry fat guy, I will give you a few of my men tomorrow."

Lean who was currently lying on a high bed was talking on his phone with someone, his emotion looking like someone with a psychological problem.

"All I want from you is to film how you trash him tomorrow."

"Yea, high-quality film."

After a while, he hung up his phone, then he began to roll around happily on his huge bed.