

M Road

Chapter 137

The year is coming to an end. I wish you a happy new year, both physically and mentally!

I'd like to report to you the achievements in the past two months. Starting from 80000 words, I don't know what's going on. Suddenly, it's like a spring breeze all night, with a large number of recommended tickets and a large number of collectors. All kinds of recommendations are among the best! It's all your credit! Your record!

The source of this book is you. Without you, there is nothing and nothing. Sometimes the plot of the book is unreasonable. Everyone discusses it. I am reading it. Although I haven't replied one by one, I can always pay attention to it and improve it! Like that zero! Secretly changed, and then was found, pulled out to whip the corpse, and then everyone happily attacked me! If I can make you cry or smile in your spare time or leisure, then I will be successful! Appropriate emotional venting is conducive to physical and mental health!

How can I say this book? In fact, it is a story about an ordinary little people who suddenly had a little luck and then could go on with their heart. The title of the book is smooth, that is, there is a link to the topic, otherwise the reality can't be smooth!

There are all kinds of people in this society. I will code their true colors as much as possible, and then process them slightly to present a slightly exaggerated picture to you!

It's going to be on the shelf, and I won't sell miserably. Everyone should be happy in the new year. There's no need to sell miserably! Readers who like reading will naturally subscribe. The starting point is the first. Welcome to order!

It will be my pride to have you accompany me on the stormy road for two months!

Thank you again for your support all the way. Keep it in mind bit by bit. You can only refuel and write every word and chapter! When there is one more zero and one less zero next time, you can smile! Don't whip the body! It hurts! And I heard that the VIP chapter will not be changed! My scalp is numb. I'm really worried according to your posture. There is one more zero. You can still see that you are still crusading against me in the next two chapters!

VIP was released at 0:00 on the morning of the 1st. It's a mule or a horse. It's going to be pulled out for appearance! Uneasy! I hope you can help me~ The requirements are not high, that is, subscription and monthly ticket.

No more nonsense. Here I wish all book friends:

Farewell to the old and welcome the new. May your family be in good health!

Zang Fusheng, thanks!
