Chapter 165

"Young man, don't make you unable to stay in the medical industry in order to curry favor with the leaders." Zhang Fan is young and a little doctor. He doesn't look like Ouyang and the director of surgery. They need identity scruples, and he has the strength to do this operation. Therefore, the old man often said that he couldn't help Zhang Fan, so he began to frighten Zhang Fan.

"Doctor Zhang said surgery! Have quality, don't go up to the outline! It's not good to buckle someone's hat! " Ouyang held his breath for a long time and finally spit out a little. Although Zhang Fan was named, everyone present knew who Ouyang was talking about. Ouyang had to endure the operation because he had to rely on Lao Chang. Now Zhang Fan speaks in this tone, she will understand that Zhang Fan is sure!

Lao Chang suddenly felt as if something was wrong, but he couldn't find anything wrong " You have the ability to say this, which means you can do it! " Old often disdained to say.

Zhang FanJie said a few words to vent his anger for his colleagues and Ouyang. There's no need to entangle with him. Zhang Fan said to Ouyang and the crowd, "Dean, director, if the patient's routine examination is OK, prepare for eradication tomorrow. This operation takes a little longer. It's too late to do it now. "

"Are you sure?" Ouyang asked again.

"Yes, the inventor of this technique is my teacher!" Zhang Fan said.

"Ha ha!" When everyone else was surprised, Lao Chang was directly joked by Zhang Fan. Everyone turned to look at Lao Chang again, because Lao Chang's laughter was too harsh.

"Blow! Then blow. You don't know who invented this technique. Why don't you say Qiu is always your master, ouch! Laugh to death! " Lao Chang really feels funny. Because academician Lu hasn't brought a graduate student for many years, if Zhang Fan is really a disciple of academician Lu, how can he also be a doctor, and can academician's disciples come to the border regional hospital!

Zhang Fan looked at Lao Chang and ignored him. He continued to say to Ouyang: "when I was studying in youth medicine, Lao Lu and they just introduced this operation into the clinic. I was lucky to have done several." Zhang Fan really bragged about this. At that time, Lu Lao and they really just introduced this operation into the clinic, but Zhang Fan just arrived at Qingniao at that time and was still in the Department of liver and orthopedics.

Later, after the orthopedic department was upgraded, it was pointed out that general surgery. Although he hasn't done it in reality, Zhang Fan has practiced it no less than 100 times in the system.

He said this also to ease Ouyang's heart, otherwise Ouyang really didn't dare to let Zhang Fan do the operation.

"This is no time to joke!" Ouyang said positively.

"No!"

"If I'm not sure, I really can't do it. I can apply for transfer." Ouyang said again that she was a little worried about Zhang Fan's rashness because she could not even experts from provincial hospitals.

"You'd better transfer to another hospital. Don't just listen to others, you think you have become an expert. Young man, you should be down-to-earth. After all, you are a regional hospital. "

The amount of upgrading general surgery is already large. Zhang Fan certainly doesn't want to miss it. Moreover, the higher the difficulty of the operation, the greater the challenge. Zhang Fan is more interested and has a sharp weapon to kill his heart. Zhang Fan is also an ordinary person. The blessing of the system makes him have no sense of superiority. That's false. Just because he didn't know whether the system would disappear or whether there would be problems, Zhang fancai deliberately suppressed and deliberately grasped all the opportunities for surgery. The insecurity brought by the system is actually greater than the sense of superiority. It can also be used to describe Zhang Fan's mood in the past two years.

His own strength has not reached the point of going into the world. Zhang fan can only stay here to refuel and work hard to practice. If he goes to the super hospital now, he suddenly has no system one day and his own strength is not enough, what can Zhang Fan do? He knows his own things. He is also an ordinary person. There is a layer of smart people in the world. Extraordinary people are like crucian carp crossing the river. Without system, Zhang Fan is not even a talent.

Now you can only practice your internal skills with the blessing of the system. When one day, one's own strength reaches a certain level, where can't the world go?

"Are you sure?" Ouyang can't see that others despise her. In those years, Lao Huang suppressed internal medicine. She developed her heart under pressure, so that the inner frontier of the heart of tea vegetable city can rank in the top three. Now Lao Chang can't say a regional hospital on the left and you can't on the right, and Ouyang's anger can't be suppressed.

"Really." Zhang Fan's tone is firm.

Ouyang looked at Zhang Fan deeply, and Zhang Fan's eyes were firm. "Improve the examination and inform. The medical technology department should improve the examination of patients even if they work overtime. You go to talk with your family members, sign the operation consent, and operate on time at 8 o'clock tomorrow. All departments are linked, and all directors are on standby and fully cooperate." After giving the order to the director of the medical office, Ouyang left without looking at Lao Chang.

Although worried, she's happy! The man who used to leave won't go either. He wants to see how the cowhide is broken. If the operation fails tomorrow, he doesn't mind making things big.

In the president's office, the vice president of surgery, the director of the medical department, the director of general surgery and the director of liver and gallbladder are all there, and Zhang Fan is also there.

"Have you really had this operation? What is the success rate?" Zhao Jun, the director of liver and gallbladder, asked.

"I have made two, all of them successful." Zhang Fan didn't dare to blow more. If he said more, others wouldn't believe it! After all, the amount of this operation is not large, not the appendix!

"I read the literature. When Lu introduced this operation into the clinic, the first patient was older than our current patient. The difficulty is relatively higher. Are you sure you can do it?"

"OK!"

Both of them are masters of general surgery. They know the difficulty of the operation very well. So I repeatedly confirmed with Zhang Fan. Ouyang has now made up his mind. Zhang Fan operated on the soldiers for the first time and the old doctors in our hospital for the second time, which has made Ouyang trust Zhang Fan very much.

Since Zhang Fan is very sure, Ouyang is also willing to show off. "Has Professor Chang gone?" Ouyang asked the director of the medical office.

"No!"

"Properly arrange accommodation. He has no quality, but we have!" Then he said to the vice president, "contact the director of the hepatobiliary Oncology Department of Dida as soon as possible and let him fly to the hospital. The visit fee will be doubled."

"OK."

Then Ouyang specially explained to Zhang Fan: "you'll be the main knife tomorrow and have a good rest today. It's not that you're worried. After all, the operation is not small. We should be well prepared. Success is the best! If it's difficult, Professor Chang doesn't have to count on it! "

"Dean, I know! This is also my protection. " Zhang Fan said. It's hard to say whether to protect or not, but Zhang Fan must say it. This is a style of life. Good words warm people's hearts~
