

Chapter 118 Do You Have Any Evidence

Adrien became more and more embarrassed hearing Celia's words. He said, "Cece, aren't you making things difficult for me? The ring has been sold already. How could it be redeemed so soon? Besides, the Kane Group has just been able to function normally again. Where can I get the money to redeem it?"

Celia scoffed as she thought of the new handbag that Mabel showed off in front of her just now. "You have money to buy expensive handbags for Mabel and Cerissa, but you don't have money to redeem my mother's ring? Do you think you are making a fair point?"

Although Adrien felt ashamed and guilty, he also felt offended by the overbearing attitude of Celia. With a cold face, he raised his voice and said, "The money is mine, so I can spend it however I want. You have no right to say anything about that!"

Celia was even more disappointed in him.

She had never expected that her father would be such a shameless person. He made her feel like he was a stranger to her. She felt extremely disgusted.

"Do you still remember that it was my mother who worked hard with you to build the Kane Group? It was my mother, Jenifer, not Mabel! My mother suffered the same hardships with you!"

The name 'Jenifer' was like a trigger to Adrien as his eyes widened. His face turned red as he shouted angrily, "Don't mention Jenifer in front of me! I'm even angrier when you mention her!"

Do you think your mother was a good and righteous woman? She was nothing more than a slut. I had had enough of her cheating on me! Don't remind me of her again!"

He was so angry that his chest was heaving up and down rapidly.

How could Celia stand her mother being insulted by her own father like this? She gritted her teeth and said coldly, "Don't tarnish my mother's reputation! Do you have any evidence?"

"You have no idea what kind of person your mother was!"

As Adrien's looked at the pretty face of Celia, which was almost the exact replica of that of Jenifer, the memories of her flashed across his mind.

He loved and hated her, just like how he felt about Celia!

If only Celia was his biological daughter, he wouldn't hate Jenifer as much as he did now! He wouldn't be reminded of the unbearable past every time he saw her face. In his opinion, Celia's existence was like the evidence of a shameful past!

"You won't understand even if I tell you the truth anyway." Adrien sighed ambiguously. He didn't say anything more.

Let bygones be bygones. After all, Jenifer was dead. He might as well let those secrets buried into the coffin with her and never be revealed again.

However, Adrien's strange behavior and words stunned Celia. She believed that her beloved mother would never cheat on her father. But why did Adrien say such a thing? She asked him to show her the evidence, but he only answered vaguely as if he didn't want to mention that matter.

His reaction made her feel that something was off!

"What are you guys doing? Are you all dead?" Looking at the busy servants, Mabel shouted, "Hurry up and drive her out!"

The servants put down the things in their hands and were about to follow the instruction, but since Adrien didn't say anything, they didn't dare to act rashly either. They glanced at him time to time, waiting for his approval. After all, it was him who was in charge of the family.

Seeing the aggressive look on Mabel's face, Celia said, "To tell you the truth, the agreement that Mabel has torn up is just a copy. The original one is still in my hand, kept properly.

If you still don't return my ring, I will sue you with the agreement. Since you went back on your words, don't blame me for counterattacking!"

Mabel's face became terrible and she said angrily, "I underestimated you. You bitch, how dare you plot against us?"

"Well, I learned the lesson from you!" Celia continued coldly, "I wouldn't be so cautious if I hadn't been set up by you before."

As she spoke, she looked indifferent, but in her heart, she felt sad somehow.

How come the things between her and her family had come to the point where she even had to take caution and guard against her own father?

Nonetheless, she had no choice. She couldn't possibly trust the man who pushed her to the edge over and over again after all.

"Immediately get her out of here!" Mabel ordered the servants angrily once again.

The servants trembled with fear and rushed towards Celia.

Unexpectedly, Adrien suddenly said at this time, "Stop!"

Before the surprised gazes of the crowd, he slowly turned to Celia and said, "Cece, come with me. Let's have a talk."
